

No Chance 1216

CHAPTER 1216 NOT AS FIERCE AS BEFORE

Rachel couldn't help but sigh heavily. An unusual sadness was intertwined deep in her eyes.

"I don't know what to do, Liz. I didn't want to hide it from you. I just... couldn't say it aloud. After all, we have grudges between us. I thought we would be enemies for the rest of our lives, but something like this happened. I..."

Rachel didn't know how to finish.

Elisa's hands tapping on the keyboard slowly stopped, and her gaze fell on Rachel.

"What's done is done. The only thing we can do is to see if we missed out on something and be vigilant. Rach, I know you must feel bad, but... you have to find a way to accept it. As for your relationship with him..."

Elisa didn't finish speaking.

These were their private feelings, after all. Elisa couldn't say too much.

Rachel suddenly gritted her teeth. "How can I be with him?! This is just a misunderstanding!"

"Didn't he look for you again?" Elisa gazed at Rachel.

Rachel pursed her lips and said, "He's called me a few times, but I never answered. I don't know how to face him."

Rachel couldn't help but sigh heavily. An unusual sadness was intertwined deep in her eyes. After all, Rachel didn't know what to do after such an awkward thing had happened.

Elisa sighed. "You have to answer and at least hear him out, whether it was a scheme against you or him. Furthermore, such a thing happened between you both. You must find out how this benefits the person behind the scenes and their motives. If it's targeted at you, you have to be on guard. If it's targeting him, you have to be more cautious. Since the other party targeted you, they may do it again."

His enemies might be more troublesome than Rachel's. She needed to be on her guard.

Rachel pursed her lips and kept quiet.

It was evident that she knew what Elisa meant.

However... when she thought about speaking to that man, she felt particularly uneasy.

But... before she could say anything, her cell phone suddenly rang. Rachel immediately said uneasily, "It must be that jerk!"

After that, she gritted her teeth when she saw the caller ID. "Sure enough, it's him!"

Elisa's gaze froze slightly, and she said in a low voice, "Answer it and hear him out."

"But..."

"Your safety is more important." Elisa had a grave expression and didn't want to let Rachel cower.

Rachel hesitated for a moment and finally nodded. "Alright. I'll answer it."

Just like that, Rachel took a breath and picked up but said nothing. She just answered the call.

The other party immediately said, "You finally answered!"

The nervousness in his voice was noticeable. It was different from his usual nonchalance.

"Why are you looking for me?" Rachel's voice was low. Elisa sat at one side and said nothing.

At that moment, Rachel had her loudspeaker on. That way, Elisa could hear and analyze it. It was more direct than Rachel telling Elisa about it.

After that, the other party's voice rang. "I've asked people to investigate what happened that time. I also investigated what happened on your end."

Rachel furrowed her brows and said calmly, "And then."

After what had happened, Rachel seemed to be a lot calmer toward the man. He thought she wasn't as fierce as before.