

No Chance 1217

CHAPTER 1217 GO MAD FROM RAGE!

She was now colder. This attitude made the man feel slightly flustered.

He didn't want her to misunderstand, so he immediately said, "Someone schemed against me. I can't tell you my situation in detail, but no witchcraft happened on your end. Due to an unexpected turn of events, I took the wrong room card and entered the wrong room. The person who was going to lay their hands on you didn't go in."

Rachel's expression suddenly changed. She glanced at Elisa and saw Elisa silent. Rachel asked, "Who is the person who was going to lay their hands on me?"

"It's the person your distant cousin is fooling around with. She had nasty thoughts and wanted to get money out of him, so she deceived you."

Rachel's expression immediately turned nasty!

She knew her cousin was up to no good!

Her cousin had just acted flawlessly!

"Can you find evidence?"

The other party immediately said, "There are audio recordings."

At that moment, even the man didn't notice that he had a fawning tone.

"Can you send me evidence you have on my end?"

"Sure."

"What on earth happened on your side? Was our encounter just a misunderstanding?"

The other party paused. "Yes..." She was now colder. This attitude made the man feel slightly flustered.

"I understand." Rachel wanted to hang up, and the other party clearly noticed it. He immediately said, "Hold on."

Rachel's finger paused as if to give him time.

The other party sighed and said softly, "Although what happened this time was an accident, this is your first time after all..."

Before he could finish speaking, Rachel's expression suddenly changed, and she immediately said, "Let's talk about this next time. I'm going to hang up."

After that, Rachel ended the call. Her deathly pale face seemed to blush slightly. She clearly felt somewhat embarrassed because of this.

Elisa's gaze flickered, and she seemed to understand something.

Through this incident, she could tell that something was strange between them.

But she didn't mention it.

Rachel said, "Even though we don't get along, I know he wasn't lying just now."

Elisa nodded. "Your encounter was a coincidence. It's better than people on his side scheming against you."

"I'm not his weak spot. How could they scheme against me?" Rachel didn't notice the scorn that flashed across her eyes.

Elisa sized Rachel up and kept quiet.

After a few minutes, Rachel's cell phone suddenly rang.

The man had sent her a message.

"He's sent the evidence. There are audio recordings and a few photos."

Elisa nodded. "Play it."

"Alright."

The recorded audio was played.

The man and woman's voices in the recording immediately played.

There were two recordings.

The first was a transaction between two people. The woman said she would introduce the man to a good girl, and he would pay her.

In the second, the man was furious and felt that he had been tricked. He didn't find the so-called room card, and there was no girl. The woman was bickering with him but finally explained and apologized at once when she saw that the man was getting angry.

Rachel gritted her teeth in a fury. "Although we aren't that close, I'm her cousin. Is this what she did to me?! How can she be like that?!"

Rachel was about to go mad from her rage!

Elisa immediately consoled her. "Calm down."

"I can't freaking take it anymore! If not for her, how would I be..."

She couldn't continue speaking.

When Rachel thought of what had happened between her and that man...!
