

No Chance 125

Chapter 125 Busy Forgetting Your Grandma!

Jennifer's eyes flickered. She looked at Albert thinking he would side her, but he didn't. She blurted out a compliant out of resentment, "Fine! It's just an apology. I'll go then!"

After speaking, she went to Elisa's office.

She was unsure but she knocked on Elisa's door anyway.

Elisa looked up and responded, "Come in."

Deep down in Jennifer's heart, she was flustered, but she tried her best to pull herself together before she entered Elisa's office.

Charli was not around, only Elisa was in the office. She was sitting in front of the computer, no idea what she was doing. She looked like her normal self when she realized it was Jennifer, "What's up?"

She sounded neutral and calm. Elisa didn't snub Jennifer for her misconduct against her prior to this.

But Elisa had always been this calm and neutral. She wasn't pretentious.

Jennifer breathed a sigh of relief in her heart. Then, she faltered and said, "I... I'm here to apologize."

Jennifer was already apologizing to her, "I was wrong for belittling you before. I hope you...you would forgive didn't take your words to

to hear Elisa's response,

Elisa looked indifferent, "Is there

She thought Elisa would give her in the air prompted her back to reality. She shook her head awkwardly, "No... no

and carried on with her while. She left the office upon confirming that Elisa really didn't mean to pursue her she got to the door, she was her lips and knew that Elisa didn't shame her in the office. Olivia smiled, "Look! Aren't noddod agreeably, "Now that you mention, I do feel much

...

following two days

agreement with the Helm family and retweeted the announcement. The matter had finally come after sorting out the matter. Although Elisa

Julia's birthday was around the for her. She gave Julia a call on the happily answered the call, "I thought