

No Chance 1301

CHAPTER 1301 IT'S SO UNFAIR!

"Tsk!" Vincent didn't say anything. His thoughts kept circling back to Rachel. Finally, after hesitating, he took out his phone to send a message.

'You little brat! You're mine now! How long do you want to hide from me? Don't tell me you're feeling shy.'

He put down his phone frustratedly after sending the message. His frustrations had built up over time and erupted because his previous texts had all been ignored, as if he was sending them to the deep void. He hadn't gotten even a simple acknowledgment that his text had been read.

Vincent felt helpless.

However!

His phone buzzed soon after he put it down. Vincent's face lit up, and he immediately checked his phone. He earnestly prayed that his wishes would come true this time. That was when he saw that Rachel had replied to him.

His eyes lit up with child-like glee. He was overwhelmed when he said, "Sh*t! She finally replied to me."

He read the text on his phone. 'You're so shameless! Do I belong to you? Please be careful of what you say, and don't bother me anymore!'

Vincent suddenly cheered with excitement. "F*uck! My darling replied to me! I don't even care that she's scolding me; I'm just so happy!"

Gareth looked confused at his friend's sudden outburst.

Jeremy was speechless and didn't know how to respond. Soon after, he looked at Vincent and said, "Are you in such a shameless state already?"

"What do you mean a shameless state? You'll know how I feel when you like someone!" Vincent grunted coldly at him. "You guys may pretend not to understand it now, but I know how you really feel!"

It was evident that his last sentence was targeted towards Gareth.

Gareth gritted his teeth, and his eyebrows snapped together.

He had no intention of hiding his emotions.

Vincent laughed when he saw Gareth's raw emotions that were displayed as plain as day.

Gareth sneered at him, saying, "Even the dogs would feel ashamed of you."

"F*ck!" Vincent barked. He then replied with a forceful grin, "Don't allow me to ever say the same thing back to you. I'm looking forward to that day, Mr. Wickam. I hope you'll never discover that you've already fallen for Elisa. This is the only way to save you from the embarrassment that'll follow."

Seeing how Gareth didn't respond, Vincent continued, "When that time comes, we'll see who's more shameless! I still have a chance of winning her over as she hasn't been hurt by me the way you've hurt Elisa. Eventually, you'll see how much more effort you must put in to get her back. Don't come to me crying and begging at my feet for help later! "

Jeremy chuckled and didn't say anything. He was used to his friends' bickering.

Gareth just glared stonily at him without saying a word further.

Vincent felt euphoric as he started bouncing in his seat. He was already texting Rachel back, and at the same time, he smiled as he looked at Gareth and said, "I'm going to send a message to my darling. I bet that you won't even be able to muster one since Elisa doesn't even bother to look at you! There's no point meeting each other frequently when there is no single interaction between the both of you."

Vincent succeeded in provoking Gareth. Through gritted teeth, he laughed forcefully, saying, "You think Rachel wants to interact with you? You don't even have the chance to see her."

"F*ck!" Vincent's surge of happiness took a turn for the worst as the realization dawned on him. He was right!

What the h*ll? It's so unfair!

Vincent didn't continue to insult Gareth as he felt like he was at a disadvantage.

CHAPTER 1302 YOU MIGHT ACCIDENTALLY REVEAL YOUR IDENTITY

They left after bickering the whole night.

Elisa had already informed the people around her that she would be leaving with Gareth.

They packed everything they needed before leaving. They planned to leave by daylight.

In the dead of night, a man and woman were sitting opposite each other. He was handsome and muscular and looked similar to the people in Zovain.

He held a wine glass filled with half a glass of red wine. He swirled the glass in his hands, the red wine making spirals within.

He had prominent facial features that would charm many ladies. His body proportions were well distributed. If he were in Zovain, he would be on the same level as Gareth and Will in their power, skills, and physical attractiveness.

The lady opposite him looked enchanting from head to toe. She wore a high ponytail, and her face was painted with makeup that strongly accentuated her features.

She laid her eyes on the man and grinned. "I heard that Gareth would be coming and is determined to obtain your desired item. How do you feel about that?"

The man continued twirling his glass with a calm gaze. "He can come if he wants to. What can I do about it?"

"Then what do you plan on doing?" The lady looked at him, curious to know what he was thinking. Seeing how he ignored her, she furrowed her brows and continued probing, "Eden, why can't you tell me your plans so I wouldn't have to be so worried?"

"I didn't know our dignified princess had such a temper. It's quite surprising." The corner of Eden's lips lifted slightly, and his deep, profound eyes glowed with a glint.

Irene's lips turned to a pout. "Are you going to tell me?"

He smirked and replied indifferently, "You can't meddle with this matter, so I suggest you wait and see what happens. I wouldn't know what the outcome is."

"What? Does this mean that you're not confident?" Irene looked at him in disbelief. "Don't tell me you're afraid of Gareth."

"So what if that's the truth?" Eden took a sip of his red wine and placed the glass down. After crossing his long legs, he answered indifferently, "There's no point taunting me with such comments. You should know my temper after working together for so long. Don't ask what you shouldn't ask."

Although he chuckled when he said his last sentence, he was evidently upset.

"You..." Irene was frustrated, but she couldn't refute him. She had to keep her thoughts to herself even though she was confused.

She had no choice but to tolerate him.

After a while, Irene breathed deeply before replying, "I don't want to interfere with your work, but I have to tell you one thing. You have to be careful of Gareth. He's not an easy target, so don't underestimate him."

The man narrowed his eyes. "I am well aware of this. Don't worry."

Eden stopped talking after that.

Irene lost interest as he wasn't willing to share anything with her. She got up to leave when he glanced at her and said, "Don't cause any trouble. You might accidentally reveal your identity."

Chapter 1303 You Need to Wake Up

Nicole furrowed her brows when she saw that series of made-up numbers again. She thought about it and answered the call in the end. She didn't say anything. She would end the call at once if it was a scam call.

But...if it was Linda, Linda would take the initiative to speak.

After that, she heard a voice of an elderly man through a voice changer.

"Today is your grandfather's birthday, so I wanted to congratulate you." Nicole's brows wrinkled tightly.

"So what are you trying to say?"

She felt that there was no need for these formalities.

The other party laughed lightly.

"Ms.Tabor, you must feel very annoyed with what happened at the banquet, right?"

Nicole's expression immediately darkened, and she subconsciously gripped her cell phone tighter. She knows about it! Linda wasn't here today, but she knew about it. It meant that someone on her side was there.

Linda might have some connections to that person, or she might have bribed the servers here.

"What are you trying to say?" Nicole was already in a bad mood.

When she suddenly heard Linda say so, she became more uneasy! But the other party didn't seem to have any intentions of stopping.

Linda smiled and said, "Ms.

Tabor, Gareth only had eyes for Elisa in a public situation.

Don't tell me you don't know how to strike back now? If their relationship continues developing, do you know the consequences?"

The other party had a hoarse voice.

When Linda spoke, she deliberately paused in places and emphasized certain words.

It made Nicole feel more apprehensive.

Nicole took a breath and pressed the bridge of her nose with one hand to restrain her emotions.

She couldn't let this person control her feelings.

Otherwise, this person would lead her astray.

The next moment, she said in a low voice, "If there's nothing else, we don't need to keep talking."

"Since I called you, how can there be nothing else? Do you see me calling you to chat usually?"

Nicole took a breath, but she didn't make a noise. She said nothing else because she had asked twice and received no answer. Since Linda had infiltrated the banquet, Nicole would let her speak.

Nicole wanted to see how Linda would agitate her.

There was still some time before the start of the banquet.

Nicole could continue this call.

Furthermore, the other party must have been keeping track of time.

Nicole waited for Linda to continue her act.

After that, the other party's voice rang again.

"Elisa went out for a meal and movie with Gareth the other day. They even went to Wickam Manor on the way. You know how much Old Mrs. Wickam likes Elisa, right?"

Nicole didn't say anything, as if silently acknowledging it. Or perhaps she couldn't be bothered to say anything.

Linda didn't mind. She smiled and said, "I don't need to tell you about Old Mrs. Wickam's position in the family. Old Mr. Wickam loves her dearly and has always protected her. Everything she says at home is crucial. Even if Old Mr. Wickam opposed Elisa previously and sent out a notice disowning Elisa, look at them now. Elisa and Gareth frequently appear in public together and have repeatedly trended on Twitter. Has the Wickam family dealt with it? Ms. Tabor, you need to wake up. Old Mr. Wickam might not necessarily have high regard for you anymore."

Chapter 1304 Why Must You Arrange Such a Display

Nicole's brows immediately furrowed tightly! She knew Old Mr. Wickam supported her being with Gareth.

But now...

After Linda's warning, Nicole seemed to notice something wasn't right.

Old Mr. Wickam had always been in charge of the family and made decisions.

Although Gareth often made decisions...

With Old Mr. Wickam's status, many people considered him to be in control.

But now...

Gareth and Elisa kept trending on Twitter. It might affect the fall and rise of Wickam Group shares at any time, but Old Mr. Wickam was unconcerned, like he didn't see anything. He didn't deal with it or do anything. So what was Old Mr. Wickam thinking about now? If even Old Mr. Wickam didn't support Nicole now, she didn't know what to do.

Nicole's heart suddenly beat fiercely, and even her temples twitched.

Linda's words really got to her.

Linda smiled.

"Old Mr. Wickam supported Linda and Gareth back then, but look at what happened. He didn't care when he saw the Benett family's downfall. Although the Benett and Tabor families differ, you must know you face the same enemy. I admit that you're much better than Linda. Linda is no match for your strong family background, but Elisa is different. Look at all the fantastic people she has under her control now. Between the two of you, how do you think you're superior?"

Nicole was flabbergasted! She gripped her cell phone tightly. She didn't feel like ending the call with Linda at that moment. She even wanted to retort. But she paused and held back.

After that, Linda smiled.

"If you still won't take the initiative to attack after what has happened recently, do you know how much it will affect you?" Nicole's gaze darkened.

"So, what ideas do you have?"

"I have many ideas.I don't know if you have the nerve to do anything, Ms.Tabor.If you don't, you'll be an outsider your whole life.But if you want to give up on Gareth, you don't have to consider it."

"You're talking nonsense."Nicole was annoyed.

After hearing Linda's meaningless and hurtful words, Nicole wanted to destroy Linda.

Linda suddenly laughed and said calmly, "Quickly go to the banquet.Carefully consider what will happen next and see how Elisa and Gareth interact.I'll call you again late at night.I'm only giving you one chance.If you still hold back and hesitate, we have nothing more to discuss in the future."

After that, Linda ended the call and didn't give Nicole a chance to speak.A sneer was in the corner of Linda's lips.Her eyes were devious as she played with her cell phone.

"I've had enough of a world without justice.I have to see if Nicole really can do anything after this."

After that, she picked up her wine glass on the table and sipped.

Across from her sat a man.It was her helper.

Simply put, it was also the person keeping a close watch over Linda.It was that person's subordinate.

The man glanced at Linda.

"Why must you arrange such a display?"

Linda turned to look at the man.

"Can't you tell that such arrangements will make her irritable and uncomfortable?"

Chapter 1305 Could I Bribe Him?

The man furrowed his brows.

"There's no need to make her angry.What you want to do is difficult, and she might not be willing to cooperate with you.You should be doing it after you have a new identity."

"will they treat me like a biological daughter after I adopt a new identity? My hands will be tied, so it would be better for Nicole to do it.She's capable and smart.If she's willing to play along, it will save us effort and lead to better results."

The man glanced at her coldly and said in a deep voice, "Then you better hide well.Let the servers handle today."

"Of course, I'm confident in your work." Linda smiled effortlessly.

She put her cell phone down and seemed to be in a great mood because there would be a series of wins after this! With Nicole at it, she could command and scheme behind the scenes, then slowly...

When she thought about it, the animosity in her eyes increased.

The man glanced at her indifferently and said calmly, "The boss has agreed to work with Nicole, but you must have things under control. Don't make the boss angry. Otherwise, your consequences will be...Hmph."

The man sneered in the end and didn't say anything else. But his snort expressed his thoughts.

Linda couldn't entirely control her expression. She looked at the man.

"What I'm doing now aligns with the boss' thoughts. Of course, I want to succeed."

"It's up to you to keep within the limits. But if you had any limits, things wouldn't have become as they are now. You have to be prepared."

"You...!"

Linda was suddenly so enraged she couldn't say anything. It was mainly because this person was from the boss' side. She didn't dare to be too arrogant.

Otherwise, she would be in bad shape.

Moreover, she was about to go to a family of the boss' subordinate.

They wouldn't treat her like an average person.

They would only feel like she's inferior and a failure. She wouldn't be in a good situation.

The only thing she could do now was to win the favor of these people.

Otherwise, she would find herself in serious trouble.

Linda took a deep breath and restrained her emotions.

She said softly, "I understand. Don't worry. I've failed once and paid a painful price. I know what to do and how to do it. You don't have to worry."

The man didn't say anything.

Linda took another deep breath and tried her best to stabilize her emotions. But at the next moment, she seemed to have thought of something.

She looked at the man before her with a complicated gaze.

This man is actually...quite handsome. If I spend a night with him...

Could I bribe him? Furthermore, he looks like he has actual power? After some time, she could tell Elisa had a thorny existence for the mysterious person. She felt that with Elisa around, everything that person did would fail. She wasn't sure about the specifics, so she could only wait to see. So the person must have sent someone of more importance to monitor and work with her.

Therefore, if she worked things out with this man, would she have a better way out in the future...? When she thought about it, her gaze seemed to turn more flirtatious.

After that, she slowly got up and walked to the man.

Chapter 1306 He Wasn't Around!

The man was baffled as he suddenly heard her slightly coy voice.

"Oliver..."

Oliver Hugen's expression suddenly froze, and he looked at Linda coldly.

"What are you doing?"

Linda was dumbstruck. Her intentions were clear, and any man would fall for it. But what was he doing? Is he clueless, or does he know but thinks I'm annoying? Since the boss sent someone to watch over me, the boss must not trust me.

Did the boss look for someone trustworthy to monitor me? At that moment, Linda was suddenly unsure and felt a little panicked. But she felt bothered. She was resistant to the fact that her life was being manipulated. It was difficult for her to bear! She took a breath and smiled stiffly at the man.

"It's just the two of us. Why don't we talk about something else?" Oliver suddenly sneered.

"Put away your vile thoughts. It's easy for me to get better women than you."

Linda was flabbergasted. Her face instantly paled and flushed! She never imagined this man would say something so nasty! In any case, she was a beautiful woman with perfect body proportions.

Furthermore, it would be her first time, but he shunned her?! Linda felt extremely humiliated! She wanted to fool around with this person, but he mocked her sarcastically.

Who could take it?! "You... How can you say such things about me?!"

Oliver glanced at her indifferently.

"Put away your thoughts and work properly for the boss so you can be rewarded. Do you think that you can save yourself by seducing me? I despise all women!"

Except for his boss, who was his queen! "You..."

She didn't know what else to say.

What could she do even if she felt agitated? The man before her wasn't fooled at all. She could only use a different way. But she thought it was the best idea between a man and a woman! Oliver couldn't be bothered to look at her anymore. He got up and left.

Linda immediately hit her legs in exasperation! It was mainly because she didn't dare to hit the table. She feared the man would hear her losing her temper if it was too loud.

By hitting herself, it would hurt and she would remember it! At the hotel.

At that moment, Elisa had changed her evening gown.

After carrying her in, Gareth put her down with an icy expression.

Elisa's brows were furrowed. She said softly, "Please go out. I'm going to change."

Gareth glanced at her indifferently, "What happened just now?"

"Four servers deliberately carried many filled wine glasses and bumped into us. I can't tell if it was directed at me or Nicole."

Gareth frowned and said nothing as he turned to walk out.

Ten minutes later.

Nicole had cleaned herself up, and she walked out.

At that moment, Nicole had changed into a new evening gown and resumed her previous elegance and nobility.

However, her gaze subconsciously swept around after she came out.

That man was too radiant, and Nicole could locate him with one glance.

If she couldn't, it meant he wasn't around! As expected, Nicole didn't see the man after looking around.

Instead, she saw Elisa sitting alone on a couch in the corner.

Chapter 1307 What Is the Motive?

Nicole took a breath.

No.

She wouldn't get involved with Elisa this time! This woman was like poison.

Running into her was terrible news. But Nicole glanced around and seemed to have thought of something. She looked around strangely again but still didn't see the man. She waved to her assistant, who was far away. Her assistant came over quickly.

Nicole asked softly, "Isn't Will here?"

"He is, but he seems to have gone upstairs. I don't know if he went to look for the chairman."

Nicole nodded and said nothing.

After a while, the banquet started officially.

Old Mr. Tabor walked down slowly.

Even at seventy years old, he was still in good health. He looked like he was in his fifties and didn't need a cane.

Everyone stopped chatting, and their gazes fell on Old Mr. Tabor.

Two handsome young men stood at both sides. He had a gratified smile in the corner of his mouth.

"Wickam and Darcey, are you seeing this? They're both my grandsons!"

The banquet was silent, so everyone heard it.

Darren immediately scoffed.

"You're trying to snatch my grandson from me? Are you trying to get into a fight?"

Although Old Mr.Tabor used to be in Southdale, his influence in Bayswe was equally great.Old Mr.Darcey snorted coldly.

"It's not that I can't give you my grandson, but you must give me your granddaughter.Come on, Ms.Tabor.Come to the Darcey family today."

"That won't do! They're all mine!"

Old Mr.Tabor immediately furrowed his brows.

"Today is my birthday, so I'm the boss.Everyone has to obey me!"

As he spoke, his gaze fell on Gareth and Will.

He smiled, "What do you think? Don't you two think what I'm saying makes sense?"

Will smiled.

"Yes.It does."

"Haha.Look, Darcey.Your grandson is more sensible than you!"

Old Mr.Darcey rolled his eyes.

"I won't argue with you since it's your birthday today!"

"Haha, let's go.Sit down, everyone.Although it's my birthday today, you mustn't be too restrained."

After that, he walked down and went to his seat.

Old Mr.Wickam and Darcey were naturally at his table.

Those of higher status sat together.

Everyone toasted each other pleasantly, and everything looked serene.

Elisa wasn't arranged to be at their table.

Benett Corporation was indeed unworthy.

Everything went well at the banquet, and nothing else happened.

Nicole and Elisa had been on guard, but no problems occurred from the start until the end.

The two felt it was slightly strange.

What was the other party's motive for the one 'incident' that had happened earlier? What could that person gain by doing such a thing? The banquet ended in a typical fashion.

This time, Elisa wanted to leave first.She didn't want to be involved with Gareth.But she had just taken two steps when a voice suddenly called out to her.She had no choice but to stop.

"Liz."

When she heard the voice, Elisa turned and realized Old Mr. Wickam was looking and waving in her direction.

Elisa was confused, but she walked to Old Mr. Wickam.

The people beside Old Mr. Wickam also gazed at her.

At that moment, Gareth stood beside Old Mr. Wickam and looked at Elisa.

Furthermore, Old Mr. Darcey and Will were also coincidentally there.

Even though Elisa didn't like the current situation, she asked politely, "Is there something I can help you with?"

Chapter 1308 Arguing at the Dinner Banquet Old

Mr. Wickam smiled at Elisa.

"It's so late, and it's dangerous for a girl like you to go home alone. Let Gareth send you home."

Elisa was dumbfounded. She never thought Old Mr. Wickam would say such a thing in front of so many people.

However, before she could say anything, Old Mr. Darcey said, "Hey, Gareth has been out and about the whole day. He has to rest. My dumb brat hasn't done anything the whole day. Let him send you!"

Elisa was flabbergasted. Will looked at Elisa and smiled.

"It would be my honor."

Old Mr. Wickam immediately smiled and shook his head.

"How could I trouble you to send our Liz? This dumb punk didn't do anything today, either. He can send her home. I saw that Will signed a huge contract today and has many projects. How could you tire Will?"

After that, Old Mr. Wickam deliberately turned to look at Gareth with a straight face.

"What are you waiting for?"

Gareth was bewildered.

"How can that be? He's used to doing such things. How can he be tired? Furthermore, since when does Liz belong to your family? Don't trick me, Wickam!"

"When have I tricked you? Liz has been in our family all along. You've forgotten that my wife made it clear during her birthday that Liz is part of our family!"

"Oh, so she was acknowledging Liz as her biological granddaughter."

Old Mr. Darcey instantly nodded understandingly.

"That means that she's siblings with your grandson."

Old Mr.Darcey seemed to have finally found a loophole.He was pleased when he spoke.

Before Old Mr.Darcey could think of anything else, Old Mr.Wickam immediately retorted, "Who said that?! They don't have the same parents!"

Elisa took a slight breath.

Her cheeks were feeling slightly hot since these two people of high status were asking their grandsons to send her home in front of so many people.

When she saw that Old Mr.Darcey was about to say something else, she immediately said, "It's alright.I can go home myself.Moreover, I drove here."

"How can you do that?! It's too late now.What if you bump into delinquents?"

Old Mr.Wickam retorted quickly.It was a far cry from his usual solemn demeanor at home.

At that moment, Elisa was slightly baffled.

Everyone else around them felt that things were happening too quickly.

Didn't Old Mr.Wickam dislike Elisa in the past? But what's going on now? He likes her so much that he's publicly contradicting himself.He doesn't even care that other people are around.

Has Elisa become such a vital presence? After all, the audio recording of Old Mr.Wickam having a high regard for Nicole was spread back then.But now...

The two elderly men didn't mention Nicole at Old Mr.Tabor's birthday banquet.

Instead, they were arguing over Elisa...

Although the dinner banquet ended, people were still around.

Many people subconsciously looked in Old Mr.Tabor's direction.

Sure enough, someone noticed that Old Mr.Tabor had a nasty expression.

Upon looking in Nicole's direction, they realized she wasn't around anymore.

No one knew if she had other things to do or if she felt humiliated by remaining in such a situation.

Elisa's head hurt a little.She didn't care what others thought and immediately said, "It's fine.Thank you both for your concern, but I'm alright.I have something to do, so I'll be leaving."

Chapter 1309 Nothing Else Would Happen

Elisa's footsteps didn't stop.Old Mr.Wickam immediately looked at Gareth.

"It's not safe at night.Quickly send her home.Otherwise, your grandmother will start worrying if she finds out."

Gareth pursed his lips and said nothing as he walked out.

Old Mr.Darcey immediately snorted coldly.

"You're good, Wickam!" Darren smiled at once.

"You said it. In any case, they were husband and wife in the past. No matter what, they are a good match. What do you think, Darcey?"

Old Mr. Darcey smiled insincerely.

"I only know about compatibility."

Since they were divorced, it meant that they were unsuitable for each other.

Old Mr. Darcey didn't say it, but his intentions were clear.

Darren instantly opened his mouth and took a breath. He feigned anger and looked at Old Mr. Darcey.

"Hey, how dare you say such a thing in front of me?! If you can't accept it, let's go out and fight!"

"Let's go. I've been practicing punching and kicking at home daily. No one dares to fight with me. This is a good chance for us to fight."

Will had no interest in standing on the spot and left silently. But the surrounding people who were paying attention to them realized that Will had gone in the direction that Elisa had left.

Many were interested in being onlookers, so they went out in succession.

Because they also wanted to know the results of the two men fighting over one woman.

When Will went out, Elisa and Gareth happened to be standing before Elisa's car.

The door of the driver's seat was open, but Elisa was standing and didn't enter.

The way she was standing was blocking Gareth as if stopping him from going in.

Elisa furrowed her brows and stared at the man in front of her.

But when she opened her mouth to say something, she turned and noticed Will's figure. Her gaze froze.

Gareth noticed it and also looked over. His gaze instantly grew colder.

Will's lips twitched, and his gaze fell on Elisa.

He smiled and said, "It isn't safe for you to leave alone after all."

Gareth looked at Will coldly.

"You don't have to bother about such things, Mr. Darcey."

Elisa was dumbstruck.

Hadn't the elderly men's conversation in the banquet ended? Why were their two grandsons going at it again?! When she felt that Gareth was distracted by Will, she immediately got into the car, shut the door, started the engine, locked the doors, and engaged the gear...

'Whoosh' The car shot out.

Elisa's car was far away from them in the blink of an eye.

The two men looked away in succession.

Will narrowed his eyes.

"It seems things aren't what the rumors say they are."

Gareth's gaze narrowed as well.

"You should know full well whether they are, Mr.Darcey."

Will smiled.

"Yes, I do."

Gareth looked at him coldly and said nothing before he turned to leave.

The onlookers were suddenly slightly disappointed...

Because they feared the two's power, they didn't dare to come forward at all.

Therefore, they stood looking from afar and couldn't hear what the two said at all...

The show ended so quickly.

Many felt it was a pity...

Upon seeing Will leave as well, everyone silently sighed in exasperation.

They knew there was nothing else that would happen.

Almost everyone had left the banquet.

Old Mr.Tabor had initially been in a good mood.

But when it ended, he had a nasty expression because the two elderly men had suddenly started arguing.

Chapter 1310 What if You Succeed?

Nicole was sitting beside him with an awful expression as well.She hung her head and didn't look at anything.

If this was in the past, everyone might have stayed to chat after the birthday banquet ended.

But now...

The atmosphere was highly depressing.

Old Mr.Tabor looked at Nicole.

"You've seen Old Mr.Wickam's attitude.He has no intentions of wanting a marriage union with the Tabor family at all.Don't tell me you still want to persevere?"

Nicole's lashes fluttered slightly. She would be bothered if she couldn't be with Gareth. She didn't want to see Gareth and Elisa get together in the end! Upon seeing her slow to speak, Old Mr. Tabor suddenly felt exasperated.

"You've seen what happened today, and you saw the two of them fight for a woman for their grandsons before me. They didn't even mention you. Girl, can't you tell what's going on?"

Old Mr. Tabor intended for her to marry Gareth in the past, but not anymore. He didn't have such thoughts for a long time.

Gareth had no feelings for Nicole, and Old Mr. Tabor didn't want his granddaughter to suffer.

But... His granddaughter...! Ah...

Old Mr. Tabor was exasperated.

Although marriage was important, she couldn't continue in such a situation.

Gareth had no feelings for Nicole. If this went on, she would only suffer.

Even if Gareth was willing to be with Nicole for profit someday, Old Mr. Tabor might disapprove because his granddaughter would be the one to suffer in unrequited love! Old Mr. Tabor had said it countless times, but Nicole didn't give up, which frustrated him.

He sighed heavily in exasperation.

Nicole's eyes flickered, and she couldn't help but say softly, "Grandpa, I know you're doing it for my own good, but... I can't help my feelings for him. I... I really like him..."

Nicole's voice was slightly weak. She seemed apprehensive in front of Old Mr. Tabor, and she knew how much her grandfather sacrificed and worried for her. She didn't want her family to worry for her, but... but...

Nicole gripped the corner of her clothes tightly and pursed her lips. She couldn't go on.

Old Mr. Tabor sighed in frustration again.

In the end, he got up.

"Ah... Think about it. After what happened today, I hope you can see that he isn't a good match for you. After some time, the obsession in your heart will only grow."

Nicole bit her lips and said nothing because she didn't know what to say.

Old Mr. Tabor didn't say anything either. He returned to his bedroom to rest.

The gazes of Nicole's parents fell on her.

When Nicole's father saw his daughter's internal torment and pain, he got up and patted her shoulder.

"I support your decision no matter what. If you like him, pursue him wholeheartedly."

Nicole instantly raised her head in astonishment and looked at her father. She opened her mouth and said shyly, "Dad... you...? You really support me?"

Nicole's father smiled, and his kind gaze fell on her.

"We often can't control our feelings and who we like. I understand it. You're still young. Whatever it is, you can experience it. Perhaps you will learn how to let go when it hurts. But there's also a possibility. What if you succeed?"
