

No Chance 1321

Chapter 1321A Similar Expression

“Turn around.”

It was an order.

At the same time, this made Gareth aware of the situation.

The middle-aged man’s sudden request made Gareth subconsciously take a step forward and stand in front of Elisa.

Although he didn’t know the casino boss’ intention, Gareth would never let anything happen to Elisa in front of him!

“How may I address you, sir?”

Gareth pursed his lips and tried to change the topic.

Elisa understood his intention but secretly felt it was amusing.

He has never protected me in the past. Why is he defending me now?

“Sir, I’m sorry for how I looked at you just now, but I didn’t have malicious intentions. I was curious about how KKCD’s boss is a middle-aged man.”

Elisa raised her head and looked at the man as she slowly explained.

The middle-aged man heard Elisa’s voice and naturally noticed her.

Surprise flickered across his eyes.

Elisa, who was before him, had a similar expression to that person!

If not for the passage of time, he would have thought that the person had appeared before him.

However, the world was full of extraordinary things.

He couldn’t be sure the two had blood ties just because Elisa looked like that person.

“Don’t you know there’s a saying that goes, ‘Curiosity kills the cat’?” The middle-aged man refuted Elisa indifferently, mainly because of the restlessness that surfaced in his heart.

“I understand. I realize I was wrong. I’m sorry, sir. We didn’t come for any reason other than Ganoderma Caligo.” Elisa simply told the truth at such a stage.

Grandma’s illness would recover and improve if Elisa could use Ganoderma Caligo in her medicine.

This was the actual reason they stepped into KKCD Casino tonight!

Because Gareth had discovered that KKCD Casino’s boss had Ganoderma Caligo and would auction it at the casino in three days. The starting bid was at least one hundred million.

“Heh. You heard the news before the auction started. Since you know about it, you should know that Ganoderma Caligo can bring benefits and profit to people.”

“Can’t you just bid for it at the auction if you want it?” The middle- aged man disagreed with Elisa.

Many people wanted Ganoderma Caligo, but unfortunately, it was rare.

The money they had won in the casino tonight was nothing compared to the benefits of Ganoderma Caligo!

“Sir, we didn’t mean that. You know that there are many underhanded manipulations in auctions. We can bid for it through the normal auction, but we hope you won’t make things difficult for us, sir.” Elisa pursed her lips and implored again.

Gareth immediately said, “We only want you to promise this, sir. We won’t take any of the money we won.”

“Heh. Haven’t you heard the saying?”

“Outsiders like you can’t beat me. No matter how powerful you are, you’re now in my territory.”

The middle-aged man suddenly laughed as if he had just heard a joke.

In other words, he implied that Gareth and Elisa were foolish to have the nerve to discuss terms with him.

“Sir, since we came with a purpose, do you think we would allow something like this to happen?” “Are you threatening me?”

Chapter 1322 You’re Not a Small-Minded Person, Sir

The middle-aged man narrowed his eyes and sneered. The prickly expression on his face was evident.

In all the years that he had established KKCD, this was the first time someone dared to say such a thing in front of him. Gareth and Elisa were kids to him!

“Not exactly threatening, but we came prepared. We won’t return empty-handed,” Gareth said in a deep voice. He wasn’t the least fearful when he met the middle-aged man’s gaze.

The casino didn’t let them take their winnings away and didn’t want to help them. Elisa felt like the man before them wasn’t good news.

“So what will it take for you to let us go, sir? Isn’t it worth it for us to use the money to buy a clean auction from you, sir?”

“We won the money with our actual ability, and we’re having a peaceful discussion. If we start arguing, it will affect your reputation, sir.”

Elisa pursed her lips as she spoke. Her words and reasoning were clear.

This caught the attention of the middle-aged man. His critical gaze was continuously directed at Elisa.

Elisa's words and actions surprised him because they were similar to the woman in his memories. It distracted him slightly.

"Are you teaching our boss how to run a business?"

Mr. North rebuked Elisa angrily, venting his displeasure from losing a few rounds.

"Not really. My friend and I only want to ask for his help. We are determined to win no matter how much the bid is for the Ganoderma Caligo. But please don't make things difficult for us, sir." As Elisa spoke, she nodded sincerely to the middle-aged man as a sign of respect.

The middle-aged man didn't know why, but his heart felt constricted when he saw Elisa's gesture of respect.

This was unlike the woman in his memories.

Because the woman in his memories would never bow to him.

"I can promise not to interfere with you, but it's up to you if you bid for it. There's no such thing as a free lunch."

The middle-aged man said coldly.

His intentions were clear. He would not let them buy Ganoderma Caligo for the money they won.

"We understand. We won't take any of this money. Sir, here's another five million as a little gesture from us. Kindly accept it, sir."

As Gareth spoke, he glanced at Thomas. Thomas offered a cheque of five million on his hands that had been prepared earlier.

The middle-aged man didn't take it. "Since you're not taking the money, what kind of person would I be if I accepted this five million?"

"However, I admire your courage. The three of you had the nerve to barge into my casino. Weren't you afraid I would slash you up and feed you to the dog?"

The middle-aged man sneered. Because of what the middle-aged man said, Elisa subconsciously looked at the dog eating fresh meat.

The dog ate happily, and its sharp fangs were revealed.

Elisa's heart couldn't help but sink when she saw it.

However!

So what if this is a dangerous place? Grandma's illness can't be delayed!

"You established KKCD in Moranta, sir, and developed it until today. You're clearly not a small-minded person. If you don't want to accept this five million, why don't we buy you a meal after the auction, sir? I wonder if you would do us the honor, sir?"

“Are you...”

Elisa smiled gently, and her words were polite. But as soon as she finished speaking, Mr. North took one step forward. Just as he was about to berate her, the middle-aged man extended his hand in Mr. North's direction, indicating for Mr. North to stop.

Chapter 1323 Eating Less for a Few Days Won't Kill You

“Alright.”

The middle-aged man promised Elisa.

“Let's set a time after the auction ends.”

Elisa replied with a smile.

“Okay.”

“We'll take our leave now.”

Gareth nodded to the middle-aged man before he led Elisa out of the casino.

After they left, Mr. North was confused. “Boss, they're challenging our baseline. Are we going to let them leave like this? And Shadow was peculiar. It usually barks non-stop when it sees strangers. Why didn't it make a noise when it saw them today?”

The middle-aged man wouldn't have considered it if Mr. North hadn't brought it up.

Elisa's figure kept appearing in his mind, and he suddenly realized something. Animals like dogs wouldn't go mad with people they often interacted with.

Was it possible that Elisa was related to that woman?

“North, investigate those two people just now. Especially that girl. I want all her information!”

Mr. North was astonished when he heard the middle-aged man's sudden words. “Boss, what's up with the girl? I feel like you were curious about her. Do you have some sort of relationship with her?”

The middle-aged man couldn't help but furrow his brows. “She looks like an old friend of mine. Find out about her as fast as you can!”

“Alright.”

After hearing what the middle-aged man said, Mr. North didn't dare to delay.

At that moment, Gareth and Elisa had walked out of the casino and entered the car.

Elisa was honest with Gareth about what she had noticed. “Gareth, do you remember the masked man and woman sitting across from us while playing cards? They withdrew after three rounds, but they didn't leave. They kept looking at us in the crowd.”

“I know.”

Gareth said indifferently.

“Oh. Good that you know.”

Since he knew others had their eye on them, Gareth would arrange and deal with everything. She didn't need to care.

Elisa stretched. “Let's return to the hotel to rest. Don't disturb me if there's nothing tomorrow. I just want to sleep in.”

“Aren't you going to make me something to eat? I'm not used to the food in Moranta. Are you just going to stare blankly as your efforts go to waste?”

Gareth's series of questions suddenly rendered Elisa speechless.

She rolled her eyes at Gareth. “How did you eat when you went on business trips in the past? Didn't you eat anything? Moreover, eating less for a few days won't kill you.”

She was already compromising for Grandma, but!

It was still essential to keep a distance. Elisa didn't want others to mistakenly think that her relationship with Gareth was back from the dead and they were reconciling.

Gareth's expression instantly darkened.

As for the masked couple, they were sitting in the car at that moment. The vehicle sped quickly along the highway, and they had already removed their masks.

“They deliberately wanted to attract attention and become the casino's public enemy. If my guess is right, they did it for the Ganoderma Caligo that the casino will auction a few days later.”

The man's lips curved. The smile in the corners of his mouth was exceptionally malicious, but it didn't reach his eyes. His dark eyes were endlessly dangerous and cold.

“The auction is only happening a few days later. They're rather amusing for discussing it now.”

The woman had also removed her mask, revealing her stunning and gorgeous face. Her words were filled with disdain for Gareth and Elisa.

Chapter 1324 Couldn't Be Used!

“How do you know they're being comical and not bravely looking for a way? We can never underestimate Gareth and Elisa. They're not so dumb.” The man said coldly with his thin lips as he answered the woman.

The woman suddenly laughed. “Away? If they're dead, what other ways do they have?”

As the woman spoke, a murderous expression streaked across her face.

At the next moment, she explained her plans. “The day of the auction is when Elisa will die. The more fun she has at the auction, the more painful her death will be!”

The woman was determined to succeed in her plans.

“You had better settle down for now! It won’t benefit you if Elisa dies now. Furthermore, why do you think you’ll succeed?” The man frowned, displeased when he heard the woman’s thoughts of killing Elisa.

In his opinion, the auction had to go on. Otherwise, how could they get Ganoderma Caligo for free? The man wanted to hurt and leave Gareth so grieved that Gareth wished he was dead.

The woman turned to look out the window. She didn’t listen to the man. She had her own plans.

Once she set her mind on something, she had to do it.

Moreover, with her ability, how could she fail?

Failure wasn’t an option for her!

“If you want your plan to progress perfectly, don’t act blindly without thinking. Wait until the time is ripe. Then, murdering Gareth and Elisa would be easier than killing an ant.”

The man continued.

But the woman ignored him.

To be accurate, the woman didn’t hear what he said at all.

As for Nicole, she had just gotten off the plane.

As she followed the crowd walking out of the tunnel, she received a few messages from Linda when she turned on her cell phone.

‘Are you really not thinking of going there to take a look?’

‘I feel like you should consider what I said. You can still make it if you want to go. Don’t regret it after the auction ends.’

‘Nicole, can you reply after you read my messages?’

Linda’s tone at the end was noticeably anxious because she hadn’t received any reply from Nicole.

Nicole glanced at the messages and called Linda’s number.

She was slightly impatient. “I’ve arrived in Moranta. Linda Benett, if you were sincere, why didn’t you come with me?”

“Didn’t I tell you before? Our common enemy is Elisa. If you’re unwilling, I will inform my boss. I was just confirming with you.”

“However, I’m still glad you will cooperate with me. Good luck, Nicole. I believe you can do it!” Linda encouraged Nicole.

Nicole was scornful. She didn’t come because she wanted to work with Linda. She just wanted to look at the auction and approach Gareth.

Why must I work with Linda regarding what she wants to do to Elisa? Why don’t I just watch from afar and reap the benefits of the winning side?

“You can steal Elisa’s limelight at this auction. Let me tell you. You just have to...”

“I don’t need you to tell me what to do.”

After that, she hungup on Linda.

Her cold voice was decisive.

She wasn’t willing to cooperate with Linda.

When Linda heard the busy signal on the phone, she felt her chest rise and fall. She couldn’t deny that she was enraged by Nicole’s attitude and words.

She thought Nicole could be her pawn. But now, from the looks of it... she couldn’t use Nicole!

Chapter 1325 Someone Is Causing Trouble Here

After hanging up on Linda, Nicole came to the underground exit of the airport.

She had just hailed a cab when her cell phone rang again.

She assumed it was Linda again.

She answered without glancing at her phone. “Linda Benett, do you not understand English? Are you not done?”

She disliked people who rambled, even more so if it was Linda.

She would even have an impulse to hit Linda if Linda was before her.

But she didn’t know that it wasn’t Linda’s voice on her phone.

It was her good friend, Poppy Wilbank.

“Linda? It’s Lollipop. Isn’t Linda dead?”

Nicole’s gaze froze. “I called you the wrong name. Didn’t I tell you I was going to Moranta? What’s up?”

Nicole’s tightly furrowed brows only relaxed when she heard her best friend’s voice.

But she had been affected by Linda and wasn’t in a good mood.

“I listened to your chatter and realized you’ve been in a bad mood recently, so I got you a table at Stowaway Bar. Enjoy yourself tonight.”

As expected of her good friend, who was so considerate.

“Sure enough, you know me best. I’ll look for you once I’m back.”

“Okay. Have fun, and have a good night.”

Poppy didn’t tell Nicole that other than booking a table for her at Stowaway Bar, Poppy had also booked a particular service!

When all was said and done, Poppy was her best friend and understood her best.

She usually liked to go to places like these in a bad mood to relax.

When the time came, Nicole arrived at Stowaway Bar on time.

Stowaway Bar was in the city center of Moranta. It was decorated lavishly, and there were many people there.

Poppy had booked the best spot for her, a booth on the deck. She could look down at everything in the lounge.

Moreover, snacks and beverages were included.

But she never imagined that three different male models would appear simultaneously.

The server even said, "Hello, pretty lady. This is the special service you ordered!"

The three male models were tall with fair skin.

They wore white shirts with a few open buttons, revealing their muscular chests.

They had great physiques, but they weren't the type she liked.

Nicole wrinkled her brows. "I want a refund. I don't need such a service."

"I'm sorry, pretty lady. The services purchased in advance at our bar can't be refunded."

The other party spoke fluently in a foreign language, which made Nicole more jittery.

"Are you forcefully promoting your services?"

Nicole was already in a lousy mood today because of Linda, and Nicole grew more displeased with such a situation.

"Pretty lady, Stowaway Bar has always had such rules. They can leave if you don't need them, but a refund is impossible."

The server reminded Nicole again with a calm voice as if used to such a situation.

"They can leave. I don't need a refund."

Nicole answered, unconcerned.

"Alright."

The server complied with Nicole since she didn't want a refund.

Without the three male models, Nicole sat in the deck booth, and her gaze fell on the lounge downstairs.

The lounge was lively and noisy. The people on the dancefloor swayed, undisturbed.

Nicole suddenly noticed a man.

He was in golden-brown sportswear as he sat on a genuine leather couch.

When their gazes met, the man raised the glass in his hand toward her.

This startled Nicole. She quickly looked away.

She never thought the man would come over.

The man was very tall and had a handsome appearance.

“Hello, pretty lady.”

The man greeted her and sat across from her in the deck booth.

Chapter 1326 What Are Your Motives?

“This is my table”

Nicole ignored the man hitting on her.

“Can I sit here for a while, pretty lady..

Just as the man was about to continue, a woman’s voice rang from the lounge downstairs. “Can I have a moment’s silence? I’m from the public relations department of Stowaway Bar. Today is Stowaway Bar’s second anniversary. We have an activity to thank new and old customers.”

“What activity? Free pretty ladies or all expenses paid?”

“Our female guests will lose out if we offer free pretty ladies. If we offer pretty ladies to the men, don’t we have to offer handsome men to the women?”

Before the female staff from the public relations department could explain, the guests offstage couldn’t suppress their excitement. They immediately started questioning her.

“We will be playing some interactive games for men and women. There will be first, second, and third place, along with a special prize.”

“Are you interested, pretty lady?”

The man across from Nicole asked her as soon as the public relations staff finished speaking.

Nicole answered indifferently, “No.”

She didn’t look at the man again.

Although the man was dignified and stood tall, he wasn’t the type she liked.

Furthermore, she liked someone else.

But after Nicole said it, the voice of the public relations staff rang downstairs. She held the microphone, and guests gathered quietly before the stage downstairs.

The female public relations staff’s voice was pretty loud and clear.

“The third place will have all their expenses paid for, and the second place will receive two special services from our bar. For the first place, they will receive both these prizes and a gift package worth 4999.”

“What is the special prize?”

The people offstage asked impatiently.

Nicole was also slightly curious about the special prize.

At the next moment, she heard the public relations staff’s voice. “The special prize is a coupon offered collectively by Stowaway Bar and KKCD Casino. The coupon can be used to enter the auction in three days. All expenses at the auction, casino, and Stowaway will be paid. The winner will even receive a twenty percent discount for the auctioned items.”

“Quick, tell us what the game is. What do we have to do?”

When the crowd offstage heard what the special prize entailed, they went crazy.

Nicole’s gaze immediately grew deeper.

She had come to Moranta for the auction in three days. She knew beforehand that Stowaway was affiliated with KKCD Casino. So when Lollipop booked a table for her here, she came without hesitation.

From the looks of it now, Lollipop had booked a table for her at the right time!

“Pretty lady, are you interested in this game? The games are for men and women. You and I can form a team.” The man across from Nicole noticed her deep eyes when she heard the public relations staff explain the special prize.

He noticed that Nicole was very interested in KKCD Casino’s auction.

The game in this activity happened to give him an opportunity.

Nicole came to her senses when she heard the man’s voice and noticed him again.

A smile brimmed in the corner of the man’s mouth, and he seemed very gentle.

“What are your motives?”

From how the man had taken the initiative to approach her and offer himself, Nicole subconsciously felt that his motives weren’t innocent.

“I want you to be my girlfriend. Does that count as my motive?” The man said as he smiled.

Nicole felt baffled.

She had just glanced at the man. Love at first sight? Nicole didn’t believe such a thing existed in the world.

“Stowaway Bar is adding another unique prize to encourage participation in this activity. The winner of the special prize will receive a gold key!”

Chapter 1327 Moved

"D*mn! Stowaway has really invested a lot in tonight! The KKCD Casino boss reportedly sent out gold keys before the casino was built.

There are only three gold keys. It is said that those with the gold key can make a request to the KKCD boss, and he will fulfill it, no matter what it is!"

"Really? Stowaway can't be tricking us and organizing a fake activity, right? The gold key is so precious. Are you really giving it away like this?"

"That's right. If we have the gold key and ask the boss to give us KKCD, the boss can't be so dumb, right?"

The guests offstage didn't believe what the public relations staff said and started to ridicule her.

The female public relations staff glanced at the people beside her.

After a moment, two tall bodyguards carried a display case to the middle of the stage. A gold key was concealed in a glass box on the display case.

"Stowaway has been open for business for two years, and there must be regular customers here. Can our regular customers tell everyone when Stowaway has ever deceived customers?"

"If the gold key can't be used, the special prize winner can look for us. Our bar is willing to compensate for any losses, and the winner will have free lifetime membership and all expenses paid for the rest of their life."

"I'm a regular customer of Stowaway. Stowaway has been organizing activities occasionally for the past two years, and they've always honored the winners' prizes. Furthermore, we came to Stowaway because of its reputation. Besides, the person in charge has spoken so honestly. What reason do we have not to believe her?"

"That's right. It's a game. We're here to have a good time. Come on, those with partners can start. Those who don't can form teams now."

"That's right. Let's do it for the coupon and gold key. Come on, friends!"

The guests offstage were enthusiastic and in high spirits.

Upstairs, Nicole was moved as well.

If the gold key was as the people offstage described it, she had to win it tonight. She would ask the casino's boss to sell her Ganoderma Caligo.

Then, Gareth would look for her because of Ganoderma Caligo.

Then, she could take advantage of him and make requests.

Gareth would promise her anything for his grandmother! "Pretty lady, I see you're interested in the gold key. I know about it. The bosses of Stowaway and the casino are old friends."

The Stowaway boss offered this prize to create buzz for the casino boss' auction.

Although those people are mocking it, there will be a limit to wishes the boss can fulfill."

"Between receiving money in one go or having the safeguard of all- expenses-paid for the rest of their lives, I believe most people will choose the latter because it has more security. Money will run out one day."

"Pretty lady, my name is Aaron Fawler. Nice to meet you."

The man extended his hand to Nicole.

"Are you from Zovain?"

Nicole couldn't deny that she was moved by what the man and the guests downstairs said. She wanted the gold key. But at that moment, she couldn't help but wrinkle her brows at the man telling her his name.

"I'm like you."

"Oh."

"Pretty lady, I know you're interested, and I'm willing to become your partner to help you this time. But I have a condition. If we win, I want your contact information."

She didn't like how he proactively hit on her, but she couldn't deny how dignified he was. Since it was an interactive game between men and women, she wouldn't lose out if she had to come into close contact with such a man.

"Alright."

Nicole agreed in the end because of the gold key that moved her. But the man asked about her name.

"Pretty lady, how should I address you?"

Chapter 1328 I Noticed You from the Start

"Nicole Tabor."

She told the man her name since she had decided to form a team with him to participate in the activity.

"Let's go, Ms. 'labor.'" Aaron smiled and extended his hand to Nicole.

Nicole got up and ignored his hand.

Although she had agreed to form a team with him, they would only have close contact during the activity. She hadn't reached a stage where she could hold the hand of a man she had met for the first time.

Nicole walked in front, while Aaron walked behind her.

Aaron had a deep smile in the corner of his mouth as he watched her figure from the back.

At the end of the day, she was the daughter of the Tabor family. She had a certain arrogance and nobility to her.

However, he was determined to win her over.

They arrived before the stage shortly.

The female public relations staff explained the first game. "The first game is a long jump. The man will be on the left, while the woman will be on the right. Your legs will be tied together, and the champion will be the team that can jump (he furthest."

"All participants have to register here."

The public relations staff pointed in a direction.

Many people wanted to register. Aaron pulled Nicole's hand and pushed those people away, fighting to register first.

He even drew a heart shape between his and Nicole's name.

"A game is a game. Can you not do this?"

"You're my target. What is a man without a purpose? You'll see how I win in a while." Aaron didn't mind Nicole's disdain toward him. He was still determined to win.

"Let's talk about it after you get first place."

Although Nicole aimed for the special prize, she felt she had slim chances because there were so many people. But she had already registered to participate in the activity with the man. The public relations staff deliberately said, "This is the big reward for our second anniversary. Dear customers, since we're being so earnest, you may not quit halfway. You will only rank if you participate until the end. If you quit halfway, you will be blacklisted from Stowaway Bar in the future!"

Nicole had such a thought for a split second, but the public relations staff's words pushed it out of her head.

However, Nicole felt that the bar had many bizarre rules!

She didn't know how the customers could accept these rules and be so enthusiastic.

"Nicole, you didn't know about this, did you? Stowaway is affiliated with KKCD Casino. With KKCD protecting them, Stowaway's customers won't decrease, no matter how strange their rules are. Moreover, as you can see, Stowaway knows how to run a business. As a consumer, who wouldn't want discounts and activities?"

Aaron understood Nicole's thoughts as he spoke slowly.

These words startled Nicole.

She looked at him, perplexed.

"It's surprising, isn't it? I noticed you from the start and am very interested in you. I naturally won't miss any of your emotions."

Aaron was explaining it to her.

Nicole didn't want to pay him any attention. "Don't talk to me about these. We're just partners working together. The most important thing for us right now is to win the games.

1 don't want to talk about anything else."

"Okay."

Aaron was tactful.

Ten minutes later, the first round of games started.

There were a hundred pairs of men and women participating. The game started orderly according to the sequence of registration.

Aaron and Nicole were the first pair to start the game.

Nicole felt that doing the long jump that way was difficult, but she never thought Aaron would hug her waist and lift her up.

She had no other way. She could only lay on him.

Before she could react, Aaron supported her weight and jumped...

Chapter 1329 Do You Have Inside Information?

Nicole felt her heart suspend in midair.

This made her subconsciously hug Aaron tightly.

Aaron was thrilled when he felt Nicole hold on to him.

The result of their jump was six feet.

When the public relations staff announced the result, it caused the guests on the scene to cry out in surprise.

"I think one person can jump six feet. It's amazing that two people can achieve such a result!"

"Aren't the two supposed to jump together? The man carried the woman beside him. Isn't this against the rules?"

"This is an interactive game between men and women. If the man doesn't exert strength, don't tell me the woman is supposed to do it? But it's possible if the woman is strong!"

"With their legs tied together, it must be more laborious for one party. Otherwise, how can the game go on? It depends on how you arrange yourselves."

Everyone had mixed opinions.

But the public relations staff kept calm amid the panic. "This is a game between men and women. Their legs are tied together. As partners, it depends on how you complete the game. Stowaway will acknowledge it regardless of your method if you land on the same line and do not fall."

Therefore, the man had to exert more effort.

Or perhaps it was like someone had said just now. If the woman was strong, she could exert more effort.

Nicole's brows wrinkled rightly.

It's more like a blind date than an interactive game. Why can't we form all-male or female teams? Why does it have to be male and female?

However, Stowaway had a few bizarre rules. Nicole couldn't be bothered to think about it further.

She called a staff member standing at the side. "We were the first to complete the game. Please untie us."

There were ninety-nine more pairs after them.

It would take around an hour for the game to end. Nicole could return to her seat and drink while awaiting the upcoming game results.

After being untied, Nicole returned to her seat.

She looked at Aaron, who had followed her, and her brows wrinkled. "The next game hasn't started. Why did you follow me?"

"You didn't give me your contact information. Where will I look for you when the next game starts if I don't follow you? Aaron's question stopped her in her tracks.

However, Nicole didn't want to interact with Aaron anymore.

He hadn't informed her beforehand that he would pick her up for the long jump.

It was her first time being carried by a man since she was young.

She would have slapped him if not for the game.

"I'm at my seat. You can return to yours. When the next game starts, you can just come and look for me." Nicole was somewhat moody.

Aaron laughed and ignored her. He teased her, "I thought you would give me your contact information."

"Didn't we agree that I'll give it to you after we win?"

From the looks of it, winning was uncertain with so many contestants.

She didn't want to give him her contact information!

"I'm determined to be the champion. Give it to me first..."

"Why? Do you have inside information?"

Aaron's words suddenly made Nicole vigilant.

There are so many people. What makes him so confident?

Furthermore, there were interactive activities between men and women after he started hitting on her.

She couldn't help but feel suspicious.

Aaron snorted in laughter. "If I really had inside information, I could have given you the gold key directly."

Chapter 1330 The Medicine Is Working

It was as though Aaron's words revealed his sincerity, but Nicole knew he was just kidding.

He was just good with his words. The crowd offstage had talked about the origin of the gold key. If Aaron had the gold key, how could he give such a significant object to someone he met for the first time?

"Even if you had it, I wouldn't care for it," Nicole said apathetically. She picked up the wine glass in her hands and sipped the red wine.

Aaron didn't answer, but a sneer streaked across the corner of his mouth.

Don't I care for it? If she doesn't care for it, why would she team up with me and play games to win the gold key?

But Aaron didn't point it out.

He sat across from Nicole. Although she didn't like him, she couldn't lose her grace and chase him away. After all, everyone was all over the place.

After all, he was her current teammate.

It was boring to watch other teams behind them compete.

But she couldn't go too far away. Otherwise, how could they play the other games if they missed out on the second round of games since they were first in line?

"Do you know how to play cards? Let's have a game to see who has the bigger card. Or can I look for a few friends and play Blackjack?"

Aaron seemed to be asking Nicole for her opinion.

Nicole didn't think that he would be pretty knowledgeable. She glanced at the people in line for the game and agreed. "Call your friends over to play."

"Okay."

Aaron immediately made a call after Nicole agreed.

A man walked toward them shortly.

As the three of them were seated. Aaron said, "We usually play truth or dare. Ms. Tabor, it's the first time we're meeting. Let's gamble."

"Mm."

Nicole had no opinions on gambling.

Bur Aaron added, "The loser has to take three shots as punishment."

Nicole was indifferent. After all, she had a good capacity for alcohol.

Nicole won a few rounds at first, and she received a vast money transfer. Bur in the end, her luck was almost running out.

Aaron's friend won most rounds.

Aaron was slightly annoyed, "I called you here to play a game, not to dupe us. If you win the pretty lady's money, how will I get along with her? Doesn't it make us seem like swindlers?"

Nicole wasn't bothered by Aaron's thoughts. Since she had agreed to bet, she was willing to pay.

Furthermore, how could they be cheaters in a game of cards?

However, she felt that the alcohol today differed slightly from the past. She clearly hadn't drunk much, but she started feeling dizzy.

Ultimately, her eyelids fell heavy, and she only wanted to lie on the table and sleep!

"Aaron, see if the long jump game has ended. I'm feeling slightly tipsy..."

Nicole said to Aaron.

Aaron heard Nicole sounding slightly weak. Most importantly, he noticed her reactions.

Mm. The medicine is starting to work.

He went along with what Nicole said. "There aren't many people left. Let's go, Ms. Tabor. Let's go for the next round of games.'

"Alright."

Nicole nodded and got up but seemed to be stepping on cotton. She felt as light as a feather. Thankfully, Aaron was supporting her. Otherwise, she would feel unsteady and plant forwards headfirst!

"Why don't you rest, Ms. Tabor? I'll join the games with someone else. As long as you keep your promise, I will return with the gold key if you give me your contact information."