

No Chance 140

Chapter 140 No Turning Back

Until the end of the video, Elisa remained calm and cool. Meanwhile, Gareth's face was extremely darkened.

Vincent was amused. "Bro, come clean with me. Are you in love with Elisa?"

Gareth was stunned. I'm in love with Elisa?

The next second, he snorted. "That's impossible!"

This woman is reckless and stubborn. Not only did she bring shame to the Wickam family, but she also opposes me all the time. How would I possibly fall for her?

No, this is impossible!

Vincent stared at Gareth speechlessly. Nevertheless, it was obvious from his expression that he assumed Gareth had fallen for Elisa although the latter was proud and refused to admit it.

Gareth remained silent while Vincent lifted his brows and continued, "What about Linda then? Are you going to marry her? Now, Elisa has deemed Linda an enemy, so are you still going to marry her? If you did, the consequence might be dire because the public might criticize Linda for being a home-wrecker."

wouldn't know what was actually going on, but Vincent was a close friend of Gareth, so he knew

"I don't plan to marry her for you already agree to his brows and did not respond. The next second, he threw like you're the real cold glance at Vincent. Perceiving the latter's cheeky look, he knew Vincent was going to continue, so he immediately said, "Get

That means he's going

because Gareth had kicked him out came to inform you of the latest news because we're close friends. Not only did you not that moment, Gareth had already grabbed it! I'll leave now. Take your hand off me!" Vincent go of Vincent. After taking his phone, Vincent snorted and left was left alone in the study room. He was not in the mood to work anymore in such a quiet and lonely environment. Instead, he took up his

...

it was the day for Old