

No Chance 141

Chapter 141 A Shrewd Woman

When the two ladies entered the hall, many guests were already there. Many of them gazed at the entrance to find out who the next guest was so they could immediately curry favor with any big shots that might arrive.

What came into the guests' sight were two young women.

Standing on the left was a lady dressed in a light blue tube gown. The gown had no extravagant decoration but only had a few stripes. She also wore a blue stone necklace. The pendant was not dazzling, but it perfectly complemented the blue gown, causing the guests to fix their gaze on this woman.

Elisa had a good body figure to begin with, and she looked even more charming in this outfit.

Her curly hair cascaded down her back. The butterfly-shaped hair clip on her hair enhanced her elegant and gentle look. The sophisticated aura emanated by Elisa was so unique that one could never replicate it.

guests were already charmed by was meticulously dressed too. She wore a pink gown that was embellished with diamonds. Her straight legs were fair and tender, and her

the guests' eyes

time. I was very confident in my look, but you attracted everyone's attention when I stand beside you.

laughed in spite of herself. "Since when did you learn to deprecate obvious. Look at those men. They just can't take their eyes off you! You didn't even wear any makeup today and you already picked a gown with minimal

you shall witness

"Sure.

Elisa's beauty. As much as the women were green with envy, they were same time, some guests started discussing among themselves. "Why is Elisa Benett here? I can't believe she dares to come given how awkward her identity is currently. Don't tell me she wants to take this divorce back then. She can't take back