Chapter 161 Who Is the Bad Person Here?

Rachel's father was trembling. Sweetie, can you stop scolding Linda?

However, Old Madam Wickam might be happy to see her reprimanding Linda, so I would offend the Wickam family if I stop her now!

Linda shook her head in panic. "No! That's not true! I thought Liz would send something else with the jade bracelet! That's why I gifted a few more. I wasn't trying to one-up Liz!"

Rachel snorted. "Is this what you mean by having the same mind? You are contradicting yourself here!"

Julia felt a surge of fury, but she forced it down and said through gritted teeth. "Since you saved Gareth's life, I won't hold this incident against you. However, if you want me to live for a few more years, you should never come to my birthday banquet again. I will always remember how much you hurt me whenever I see you!"

Linda gasped and stumbled a few steps. She shook her head and began to cry. "No... That's not true. Grandma, I didn't know..."

She kept shaking her head sadly. Meanwhile, Shirley was stunned and did not know what to say.

"You didn't know. Right, you didn't know anything. It is I who misunderstood you. But if you truly care about me, don't ever appear before me again. Please heed my request."
