

No Chance 168

Chapter 168 It Never Rains but It Pours

She was holding on the tree with one hand while hopping on one leg.

She was still trying to find the way back.

Gareth, who backtracked, finally reached Elisa. He was startled to see fear on Elisa's face.

She was always graceful and gentle during their three years of marriage. She was sweet and gorgeous too. She used to be a qualified wife to him.

He had never seen her sneered, being sarcastic, disdainful, or annoyed.

But at that moment, Elisa finally showed her true self.

Elisa could sense someone looking at her. She raised her head with anticipation. She needed someone to make a call to Rachel.

But...

She did not expect the person to be Gareth. He was looking at her as if she was a clown.

Elisa pulled a long face at him.

pours. Why am I

by her appearance. His

her and said softly, "Elisa,

by his teasing,

murderously at

the front and took a deep breath.

looking at the grass in front of her. She hesitated for a while, then

But...

impossible for her to walk with such a significant height difference

just taken her first step out, but unfortunately, she still fell to

as the tree was

her hand out and was preparing to hit

But...

waist by a strong man. Elisa, who was already in shock, looked ground rather than be grabbed on the waist stared icily at Elisa, "You can't even walk properly. What are Elisa was speechless.

don't even need your help if it wasn't for the