

No Chance 172

Chapter 172 Still A Part of The Family

Gareth, "..."

Elisa heard what was said when she walked over. She coughed and sat down.

Julia chuckled, "Gareth, just because the both of you are divorced does not mean that you are allowed to treat Elisa badly. Elisa is practically my own granddaughter! And I love her as such! You need to be good to her! Now go and pick out some designs and have them tailor made for her!"

"Grandma..." Gareth frowned.

He was obviously frustrated.

Monica's expression darkened. Before she could say something, Elisa interjected, "Grandma, I have more than enough clothes. I don't need more."

Julia smiled warmly at Elisa, "My sweet child, of course I know you have more than enough clothes, but he can buy you much better ones!"

She then turned to Gareth and scolded him, "Don't argue with me! You must select at least fifty pieces of on trend quality clothing for me to review! Otherwise, you'll have to answer to me!"

expression darkened like a changed too. They spoke

"Grandma."

"Grandma."

glances and quickly looked my birthday! And therefore, my word is law! Are you going to buy them

"Fine!" Gareth was irritated.

She smiled happily at Elisa, "Are you going refusal disappeared when she old fart, why did you give me so much food? You know I don't eat as much as I frowned, "You didn't have to finish have finished it if you hadn't to respond to that. Finally, he sighed, "I'll cook more often not me! You must keep your promise! Elisa and Gareth too!"

Darren, "..."

Fine! We'll do