

No Chance 173

Chapter 173 I've Succeeded

Elisa turned to Julia when all the guests had left, "Grandma, it's about time for me to go."

Julia was reluctant to see her leave, but she nodded helplessly, "Okay, stay safe."

"I'll come pick you up tomorrow." Elisa could tell that Grandma didn't want her to leave. She smiled sweetly at her.

Julia smiled and nodded her head. Noticing Gareth who was standing like an idiot next to her, she wanted nothing more but to kick him in the butt!

"Hurry up and send Elisa home! Are you going to make a young girl like her go home alone?"

Gareth's face was like a storm cloud. "Grandma!"

Elisa quickly stepped in, "I'm fine, Grandma! There's really no need for him to. My friends are waiting for me outside. I'm going home with them."

"Friends?" Julia asked curiously.

I really

Julia's answer. She hesitated slightly when she remembered that Gareth had bought the of him. It only made sense walked out on the heels with her head held door, waiting for Elisa to appear. Carle smiled widely as she came their at the door and saw Elisa hopping into the car. Through the open window, he saw that no one noticed him, they were to see that they had left the front passenger seat for her. She Carle rolled up her window for in a great mood. "What a wonderful day it is! Seeing that b*tch put sound? Are you guys free tonight? It's been

"I'm cool

slowly, waiting for them to decide

a brow,