

No Chance 180

Chapter 180 He Was at Peace

Elisa washed up. Noticing the purple blue bruises under her eyes, she hid them with concealer so that she looked somewhat presentable.

She was going to Lumineer Temple today. It be inappropriate if she applied heavy makeup.

She drove all the way to the Wickam Manor. She entered the living room to see Julia already dressed, sitting on the couch waiting for her. Elisa smiled when she saw that Julia was in good spirits, "Let's head out, Grandma."

Julia smiled and nodded, "Just a second, dear."

"Was there something else?" Elisa was puzzled.

"I'm waiting for someone." Julia was being secretive.

Before she could wonder any further, she heard a car outside. She turned towards the sound when Julia said excitedly, "Let's go! Let's go right now!"

She stood and tugged on Elisa's hand.

one driving the car. He stayed in the car with no intention of getting out. Elisa's eyes narrowed. She turned to

Since Mr. Bridgewood said

of her son that

"Then he should come with me so that

Elisa, "..."

not know how to completely bought into what she had told her yesterday. She was bringing

What could Elisa say?

get rid of Gareth. More importantly, why didn't Gareth feel annoyed by her still bothering her? Why didn't he just go to work? He had a company to keep him busy and yet he was here, bring his grandmother and his ex-wife to at the thought. Gareth must much better. She was willing to endure

will

into

door shut behind them,

