

No Chance 183

Chapter 183 Unable to Help Herself

She looked at him instinctively with shock in her eyes. "You—"

"If you try to force things, none of them will be happy. I hope you understand this, madam," he explained calmly, but his words were precise and accurate.

She froze upon hearing that. "I—"

To help them get together, I always try to make them meet each other. Could this... be a bad idea? She could not help sighing internally. He is right – if it's a good idea, their relationship wouldn't have worsened over the past three years. It did not get any better at all.

At this instant, she suddenly had no clue what she should do next.
