

No Chance 187

Chapter 187 I Can No Longer Protect You

Elisa's face immediately darkened. Linda revealed her true colors and said so much to me. Clearly, she is not recording the conversation now. Even if she is recording now to lure me to speak, I'm not afraid anyway. So what if it's posted online and everyone hates me? I only live for myself now. Would their vicious comments affect my livelihood?

With that thought in mind, she sneered at Linda. "You know very well why the events happened that night!"

Linda's expression immediately changed after hearing that, but in the next second, she gritted her teeth resentfully. "The man I love the most is Gareth. Why would I set you up with him?"

"That's right. That's never been your plan, but what happened back then was just a mistake, wasn't it?"

Looking at the fury on Linda's face, Elisa was even more sure of her speculation.

her up with other men so that she could no longer be associated with the Benett family. Unbeknownst to her, Gareth was also being furious that she almost lost her mind. However, Linda had to suppress her emotions because Elisa's father was still around, and she was not in control of the Benett family back then. Hence, she could only gulp down her let out a cold snort. "Elisa Benett, I'm not related to whatever that happened in the past. Don't you dare push the blame on me! Do you think others will believe you even if you publicize it? Everyone who

Elisa's veins when she heard

Linda ferociously, sending chills down the latter's spine that instant. However, in they think of me

Since when has it become many tricks today just to tell me that Gareth is yours and that I don't stand a chance with him anymore. Am I right?" With that, Elisa turned around to look at Linda, who was leading the conversation just now, yet the tides suddenly

Elisa suddenly laughed lightly. "Linda, look at how well you put on a show in the past. You were treated as a goddess, and everyone thought of you as a sweet angel. But look at what you did today! You turned off my car camera and even said so many spiteful things! Do you think you still look as