

Get Lost 19

Chapter 19 Are You Trying to Rekindle My Feelings for Him?

Linda pretended not to see them and wrapped her arms around Gareth's shoulders. "Gareth, it was just a trip. I'm fine. I can walk just fine on my own if you put me down." She giggled.

Gareth responded calmly, "Let's get you checked up first."

He left in a hurry with her in his arms without sparing a glance at Will and Elisa just a few feet away.

It was as Elisa had thought, Linda was still the most important person to Gareth.

For some reason, fate always made sure she was there to witness these things happening. Thankfully, she had no more feelings for him.

Previously, when Linda was still unconscious, they would never have these kinds of interactions.

But now that Linda was awake, everything was different. Linda had a presence. Linda and Gareth were in love. If Elisa had stayed obsessed with Gareth like before, Linda would have driven her crazy and she would have died from heartbreak.

Will observed Elisa's reaction. He was surprised when he saw that instead of sadness for this situation, she seemed to only feel disdain. He didn't say anything, and just smiled at her. "I'll send you home."
