Chapter 241 What Is Going On Now?

—Mr. Darcey's Fangirl: No way! I won't allow this! Elisa Benett is a discarded woman. Why would Mr. Darcey want to be with her? He should be with someone much better! Mr. Darcey! Don't marry her! Boohoo...

—Party Girl: What the heck! Goodness! Gareth Wickam's side has just posted, saying that Elisa is a devious woman. Yet, barely anytime passed, and someone already came forward to stand by her. I love a man like that! That's so touching... When will I ever find a man who loves me this much?

—Don't You Dare Escape: Is there something wrong with you all? Why do I find your views so cringy? Isn't the truth obvious? Keyboard warriors, time to shut up!

—Elisa Is My Goddess: If possible, I hope they end up together. I believe Elisa had a difficult life when she was married to Gareth. I believe they faked having a loving marriage. Otherwise, why is their relationship so tense after the divorce? Elisa sacrificed a lot for the Wickam family, but Gareth didn't appreciate them. Now, she needs a man who cherishes her. I give my blessings to Elisa and Will!

—Let's Talk Calmly: That's really shocking! But I support the comment above me. Elisa stopped working as Iris for three years for Gareth's sake. From this, we can see how much she respected the Wickam family and was willing to be a full-time housewife. However, the Wickam family did not appreciate her sacrifice.

—Darren Wickam: I'm sorry for announcing it here, but I thought about it for a long time before posting this. I shall clarify everything here today.

I believe many are curious about the matter between my grandson and Ms. Benett. Many people were confused as to why would such a loving couple suddenly divorce and wondered if their loving marriage was only an act.

They were wrong. My grandson and Ms. Bennett's loving marriage was real. The Wickam family would never be involved in deception.

Elisa's eyes flashed with mockery as she read this. Deception?

Elisa's gaze turned cold. "Let it go?"

No way.

Why should I stay silent and bear this indignity?

"Liz, are you going to fight back?" Rachel instantly became hopeful.

Elisa did not answer but continued reading the post.

—Darren Wickam: I believe everyone understands by now. During Mr. Morris' birthday banquet, Ms. Bennett attended with Mr. Darcey and announced in public that she was divorcing my grandson. It caused Wickam Group to suffer a major blow.

Rachel held the phone and seemed confused. However, before Elisa could reply, Rachel suddenly discovered that Elisa was trending again. She could not help but exclaim, "Babe, you and Will are trending together! You guys shot up to first place."

Elisa had an uncomfortable feeling about it and entered the post immediately.

—Elisa And Will's Fan: Everyone, what do you think of Elisa and Will being together? I love them both. They are outstanding and brilliant! Moreover, Will is handsome, and Elisa is beautiful. They are undoubtedly a good match!

Numerous comments followed that post.

Elisa pursed her lips. "It's not your fault. I will eventually have to face this. But I hope you will stop advising me about Carle. Instead, you should try your best to let him know what I think and advise him to give up."

Rachel sighed helplessly. "I have seen how much you love Gareth after you married him, so I have already advised Carle to give up. However, he..."

Rachel did not continue with the rest of the sentence because she knew Elisa understood what she meant.

Elisa sighed and said, "Let's talk about this another time."

Rachel had no choice but to reply, "Sure."

Since it was not possible to match Elisa with Carle, Rachel had no choice but to give up.

Shocking news! Gareth Wickam spent the night with Ms. Benett.

Although the headline sounded exaggerated and gave people the wrong idea, it was not untrue either.

Linda was hospitalized again.

Elisa narrowed her eyes. She felt Linda’s hospitalization was not as straightforward as it seemed.

Of course, she was not thinking about the present one. Her current hospitalization was undoubtedly fake. Instead, she was thinking about the time Linda was in a coma...

Elisa smirked. It is a good trick, but what if someone exposes her pretense?

If Elisa had not known about her father’s matters, she might not have cared about Linda’s childish pretense.

Linda could play whatever tricks she wanted, and Elisa could not be bothered. Furthermore, Elisa would think she had only herself to blame for failing to get Gareth to stay. She would not blame it on Linda.

Elisa pursed her lips. She got into the car, planning to end things with him.

Will's lips gradually curved into a smile. He closed the door for her and went to the driver's seat.

However, after closing the door, he did not drive straight away but looked at her. When he saw her looking back at him, he smiled and said, "About what happened yesterday, everyone thought I posted it to anger Gareth deliberately. However, I sincerely meant every word I wrote yesterday."

Elisa smirked. She clearly did not believe him. "Mr. Darcey, I'm Gareth's ex-wife and was married before. I'm not a virginal young lady."

"I know." Will sounded sincere. Elisa found no trace of his usually blasé attitude.

Elisa frowned slightly.

Meanwhile, Will's heart trembled for a moment. Although she had held his arm when they attended a banquet together, he wore a suit then. It was not a direct skin contact as this moment.

He had never touched another woman like this. Thus, his heartbeat quickened.

On the other hand, Elisa seemed annoyed. "Mr. Darcey."

She did not have to say anything else. Anyone would know what she meant.

Will did not let her go but looked away. Somehow, he was a little flustered and could not meet her gaze. "I'll send you to your law firm."

She looked at Elisa and asked with concern. "Nothing they said is true, so don't let them get to you. Every famous figure experiences slander from time to time."

Elisa's eyes flashed as she recalled about yesterday. She chuckled and said, "I'm not bothered by them."

"Then, why do you..." Charli could see there was something off about Elisa's mood. Thus, she looked at Elisa closely, not wanting to miss any trace of emotions on her face.

Elisa frowned under her gaze. "Will waited for me below my apartment again. I can't behave too rudely and offend him. However, he thinks I am useful to him in his fight against the Wickam Group and keeps pestering me."

Charli did not hold back her laughter. "Oh, that's what happened."

Elisa glared at her, but Charli smiled. "Babe, tell me. Have you ever considered this matter?"

Elisa and Charli suddenly became quiet.

After a while, Charli sighed helplessly. “Fine, I will support you in whatever you wish to do. But have you considered it properly? Once you get into Benett Corporation, you will be under their full surveillance. It will be difficult for you to do anything.”

“I know, but how can I expect to achieve anything if I don’t enter the lion’s den?” Elisa had a determined expression. Her gaze showed no sign of wavering.

Charli sighed and patted Elisa’s shoulder. “I will support your decision, but you must take good care of yourself.”

Elisa felt warmed by her support. “I will, Charli. I’m sorry for giving you so much trouble all these years. We set up this firm together, but I left you to manage it alone.”

“Don’t say that. You brought profit to our firm. It’s all thanks to you that our law firm became famous. Customers come here because of you. I’m only someone who deals with miscellaneous matters. Maintaining this firm is the least that I can do for you.”

Elisa shook her head in disagreement. She knew Charli was more than capable of handling everything. However, Charli never took part in a case and always acted as Elisa’s assistant.

It was as if all she wanted was to be Elisa’s assistant.
