

No Chance 27

Chapter 27 Just Divorce Me Then!

Bang!

While Elisa was still trying to contain her awkwardness after entering the room, someone flung the door open. The few of them looked toward the entrance simultaneously when they heard the ruckus.

What came into sight was a tall, handsome man dressed in a custom-made suit, which enhanced his inherent elegance.

The man gave off such a hostile aura that no one dared to look straight into his eyes.

Elisa frowned. What brings him here?

Gareth was annoyed when he saw the bouquet beside Elisa.

"I didn't expect you to find yourself a paramour this soon." He sneered.

before he could say anything, Elisa officially divorced yet, but you already can't wait to be with another guy.

up everything to serve you and the family as a wife.

outspoken person and couldn't care less if Gareth was an

anyone who bullied her best

more intense as the tension in the atmosphere up and stood in front of Elisa to protect her. He glared at Gareth and said, "Mr. Wickam, act like a man since you've decided to let go. Otherwise, you'll only embarrass yourself, Mr. President grunted. "Right back at you. I can't believe you're already a home wrecker at this

"Please mind your words. Mr. Wickam. Elisa has finally freed herself from hell. If you're a real man, stop pestering her! Otherwise, I don't think it'll bring any good

Wickam Group can

Carle's arm and it would be no help if he went against the Wickam family. Even if there was a chance see Elisa shaking her head at became extremely sullen when he saw Elisa attempting to defend Carle. He grabbed Elisa's arm and dragged