

No Chance 291

Chapter 291 Linda Making Things Difficult

If it was before, she might not have thought of it. But from Old Madam Wickam's birthday feast, she knew that the sisters' relationship must have cracks. Although Linda meant well on the surface, in reality, she wanted to drive Elisa into a corner.

It was good that Elisa's biological grandmother and her uncle didn't have much affection for her. Even if Elisa was capable, she still had no way to enter the upper level of Benett Corporation. Hmph. Since Linda wanted to promote Lily, of course Lily could do it. The corner of Lily's lips curved, and there was a vicious smile on her face.

There were a few cases that could make Elisa admit defeat. At this time, she had returned to her office and prepared to take out those few cases.

As for Elisa, she was observing the situation around her. Kira waved at Elisa. "Ms. Benett, over here."

Elisa looked toward the voice. She noticed a sweet and cute-looking girl smiling and greeting her. Seeing that there was no one sitting next to her, Elisa made her way over.

usually the one who arranges the seats of new staff was clear, and there weren't any impurities. Elisa liked this girl looked in their direction. There were divorced, this didn't affect her beauty and her sensual figure.

and wanted to speak with her idol, she had no choice in our department. We mainly discuss partnerships. When we discuss certain items, there will be professional staff who go out with the marketing staff for social engagements. The professional staff will speak on the important points, while we oversee speaking about the key focus and thinking of ways to make the other company will evaluate us each month according to our performance. For newcomers, they have to get at least five partnerships in the first month, eight in the

Elisa nodded. "Alright."

must have researched beforehand, Kira smiled again and said, "Then... Ms. Benett, you can get used to the processes for today. I will give you a few recordings for you to listen to live situations, then arrange for you to follow experienced staff members from our

Chapter 292 This Was Actually an Order

There was a sliver of a smile in the corner of Lily's mouth. "Ms. Benett hopes that you can be trained properly so that you won't have any difficulties in the future. Ms. Benett said that this was what was decided upon between the two of you. From now on, I may give you work that is slightly more difficult. I wonder if... you're willing to take up the challenge?"

If it weren't for Linda, they would call Elisa 'Ms. Benett'. But since there were two Ms. Benetts, they called Elisa 'Ms. Elisa' to distinguish the two.

Kira was a little baffled. "But... Ms. Elisa has just arrived today. I just sent her a few recordings."

Lily glanced at Kira. If Lily was promoted to manager, Kira would be the assistant manager. Lily didn't say anything to Kira. She smiled and looked at Elisa. "Ms. Elisa, you're different from the rest. Furthermore, Ms. Benett has different expectations for you. So why don't you think about it and follow the company's standards with an increased difficulty?"

It seemed that Lily was being modest, but in reality, she was making things difficult for Elisa. She was raising Elisa on a pedestal so that Elisa would have no way to refuse.

As for Elisa, she didn't mind difficult partnerships. She could just complete it one at a time.

in the office looked at started to increased difficulty." Kira repeated subconsciously. Her expression was slightly strained and worried as she looked

This was scary!

the first month, eight in the

have many permanent staff, but people were willing to wrack

at Elisa, and there was obvious worry in their

to tell that the tasks awaiting full-time housewife for a few years. Wasn't this the same as being chased away? The company had a point system. Could she even as everyone was watching

suddenly widened her she didn't continue after that. Maybe

Chapter 293 Why Don't You Walk Me Through the Process?

Elisa just smiled. "Ms. Dwyer is right. My cousin wants to train me. If I don't agree, it's like a slap on her face. She's just doing it for my own good. I will try my best."

Everyone was startled. Elisa had no particular intention when she said that, but everyone who heard it understood a deeper meaning.

Linda said that she was doing it for Elisa's own good, so the difficulty was increased, but if it was too difficult, Elisa was a newcomer after all. How could she complete it? And according to the standard point system of their company, after all of her points had been deducted, she had to leave...

How would she have a reputation for returning to Benett Corporation?

She wouldn't even be able to manage Benett Corporation because she wasn't qualified.

Was this a way to keep Elisa far away from Benett Corporation so she couldn't get a piece of the action?

an instant, everyone

while some didn't care since it wasn't happening to

"Open the file and look you," Elisa said and opened the

she saw the two most eye-catching words, god, Wickam Group! Isn't Mr. Wickam personally following up on this?" Kira was in a daze as she filled with shock. "Oh my god! Ms. Benett, with your relationship with Mr. Wickam... how are you going to complete this at Kira subconsciously. "Gareth

Only Elisa said his

they were divorced, they had relations in the past, so she could call him what everyone was more focused on was how the two of them were completely incompatible. In the past, Elisa had even made Gareth pay compensation of tens of billions.

Chapter 294 She Should Look For Gareth

"Fine." Kira nodded helplessly.

She picked up the document and said, "First of all, you'll need to know all the ins and outs of this project, as well as who was in charge of researching it. Talk to him and get an understanding of it before the negotiation. Here."

Kira pointed to a spot on the document where a name and phone number were written.

"Nick Wilkerson was the guy who spearheaded this project. Have a chat with him too. But as for getting Mr. Wickam to sign off on this... You're on your own."

Many of her colleagues had tried to negotiate with him, but they had all failed.

As for how Kira found out that Mr. Wickam was in charge of this program, previously, some of her colleagues had tried to negotiate with him, but they had returned after failing.

Kira then took some time to briefly introduce Elisa to everything. "Thank you." Elisa nodded gratefully.

"Don't worry about it. You're doing all the heavy lifting for us with having to negotiate with Mr. Wickam." Kira sighed and shook her head helplessly. There was no chance of Elisa succeeding.

a time limit for each successfully

Mr. Wickam seen this project
it. Mr. Wickam didn't even want to all spared her a project would have been shelved, and it would have never seen the light of day again, were blatantly making things difficult for personally in charge of this project also showed how much this meant to being set up to fail. All of the people who were staring at her seemed I change some things on the altered. I'm sure to look through the project explaining things to her. She had immediately have a chat with the person in Nick's
up after a few rings. "Hello. Who am I speaking

Chapter 295 Why Didn't Benett Corporation Snatch It?

The irony was not lost on Elisa. In the past, she would call Gareth countless times to find out if he would be home for dinner.

And this time, she would also need to call him to ask if he was free for a meal.

Elisa hesitated before finally picking up her phone to call Gareth's assistant.

Thomas was surprised to see Elisa calling.

Even though Mr. Wickam and her were divorced, he had not erased her number. Thomas suspected that it was because Mr. Wickam was still in denial regarding their relationship.

He did not dare to keep her waiting for long and immediately answered the call.

"Miss Benett?"

Elisa's gentle voice was heard. "Thomas, I'm Elisa Benett calling from the marketing department. There have been some amendments made on the wedding planning project. Do you know when he'll be free to talk about it? Why not catch up over a meal?"

truth was, Mr. Wickam to himself. Instead, he said, "Mr. Wickam is in a meeting right now. I'll let him know as

"Okay."

They both hung up.

ask Ms. Francis for some new assignments to this project. "Even if you ask her for some new ones, I

"Oh, I know. But what if Mr. Wickam keeps the project from progressing? I shouldn't just wait nodded in agreement. She reorganized the assignments she had in hand and said, "I'm just about to go look for Ms. Francis. I'll talk to her on your behalf. Who knows, Elisa nodded her thanks.

Half an hour later.

with four

on top of the one you have right now, this makes five. The rest

"Thank you." Was her conflicted. "I think Ms. Francis might have something against you. Ms. Benett, I gently encouraged as she

don't know if you'll be able to stay

Chapter 296 Tell Her To Give Up

Kira was skeptical. "This... I have not seen these before."

"I'm not surprised you haven't." Elisa chuckled.

Kira's expression changed. "That's strange? Why are these project proposals so similar to one another? No one in their right mind would approve these... My goodness, Elisa. You..."

Kira didn't know what else to say.

All their colleagues' attention was on them.

Elisa opened the remaining two. It was the same. The company they would collaborate with would invest their money into the project while they reap the profits. Elisa felt exasperated.

These were all project proposals that had been rejected. Even though these were all projects that would bring them no loss, anyone could see that Benett Corporation was trying to take advantage of the partnering companies.

These proposals were kept hidden before she arrived. But now that she was here, they were using them to chase her away.

Ah...

was a

spoke out about the ridiculousness of these proposals, Linda suspect otherwise because Linda had difficult it was, Elisa was going to grit her teeth and get it done. If she was successful with all five proposals, no one would doubt again. "Kira, do we do! I completely forgot about it. Here, I'll and was

Kira said softly.

while waiting for Gareth to get back to her. They all found her strange and agreed to let her do whatever she pleased with

she changed

...

Wickam Group.

walked up to him and frowned. His annoyance was plain to see, and she was now working for the marketing department and wanted to know if you were free to catch up

"Marketing department? Isn't

Chapter 297 Elisa Bennett Is Coming!

She heard a snicker. Elisa paused and realized that Gareth must be standing beside Thomas.

Thomas glanced at Gareth. Seeing as Gareth had no intention of speaking to Elisa, Thomas quickly said, "Okay. I understand."

He hung up and turned to Gareth after hesitating slightly. "Mr. Wickam, are you certain that you will not approve Ms. Bennett's project proposal?"

Gareth could not believe the irony of this entire situation. "The proposal was rubbish to start with. I've lost so much money because of Elisa, and now she's responsible for this project? Not approving the proposal is me going lightly on her."

Thomas stayed silent, but Gareth continued on.

"Find out for me why she's returned to Bennett Corporation."

"Yes, sir."

...

Meanwhile, Elisa's phone started to vibrate after she had hung up.

She immediately picked up when she saw that it was Will calling.

Without waiting for her to speak, Will warmly said, "Have you started work at Benett Corporation?"

"Yup."

you up after chuckled, "Aren't you worried that I'll hope." Will smiled and looked at her watch. "There is something. I have here with me a project I'd like to mused, "No one has ever used such is mutually

Elisa's mouth. And it didn't you, I

"I've made some changes to the proposal. If you're free tonight, I'd like to treat you to man would I be to let fine. Let's just decide on a place, and I'll

"Wait there."

Kira stared at her in shock. "Elisa. Is the Mr. Darcey you're talking to, that Mr.

"Yup." Elisa chuckled.

marketing department meant they were responsible for making would take the calls at darted around. While it seemed like Elisa and Will Darcey had quite the

Mr. Darcey really

Chapter 298 A Beautiful Woman for Company

Elisa had arrived at the entrance of the company and saw the incredibly ostentatious Lamborghini along with a certain blue-suited man. She frowned.

Will was watching the entrance. He smiled when he saw her.

Even though Elisa was averse to such flamboyant behavior, she understood the kind of person Will was, and she knew why he was acting this way. She slowly approached him.

After all, they were going to be working together. They should show support towards each other.

Will grinned at her as he opened the passenger door for her. Elisa ducked her head and took the seat, all while under the watchful eye of her colleagues. Shrieks of envy could be heard from some of the women.

"I'm so jealous of Elisa! She had such a sheltered life ever since she was young, and she lived in her own bubble. She married such an impressive man and was doted on by Old Madam Wickam, even to the point of treating her as if she were her own granddaughter. Instead of falling into depression after divorce, she has risen above and beyond what anyone could imagine for her. And now she seems to be growing closer with a more than comparable man to Gareth Wickam! She's a divorcee, and yet a man of his stature is pursuing her. She's an incredible woman! I'm so envious of her."

"Anyone would be!"

Will had taken his place in the driver's seat and started the car. He turned to Elisa and warmly said, "What do you feel like eating tonight?"

"I'm fine with anything." She calmly replied.

of drinking tonight. After all, she that prodding her further would do no good and took her she saw where he was taking

"You..."

to stare

a place that was popular with wildly popular, but there

you book the

been together. This time, it'll just be

Elisa, "..."

They were interrupted?

her to a place that they would making sure that there would be no interruptions now is that he is certain that she would not remarry

you. I'll get the car

noddled and got out of the long for Will to return. The waiter had brought them bread and olive oil

at her. "Do you like Italian

Chapter 299 Pleased

Anyone else who said that would come off incredibly flirtatious, but it sounded flattering coming from him.

Talking to him was comfortable, and he was not offensive.

Elisa arched an eyebrow at him but stayed quiet.

They continued eating and chatting. Will was easy to talk to as he was knowledgeable on just about any topic. There was no lull in their conversation as his interests were broad. And he did not make you feel as if you were dumb for not knowing something.

This was...

Elisa couldn't help but admit to herself that this was one of Will's strong points that Gareth lacked.

When they were done eating, Elisa looked at Will seriously, "Let's start with talking about the issues in this proposal."

"I wouldn't have entertained the idea if it weren't for you." Will smirked and sighed.

Elisa's lip started twitching. She handed him the project proposal.

"To be blunt with you, we will need your company to take care of the capital of this project. But I think you'll understand why after looking at this."

arched an eyebrow had mentioned that he would be an idiot to agree to this. Therefore things as Will took it from her and started and saw billion." Will blurted out. He was Elisa smiled. "Read on."

reeled him in and made but couldn't tell what she was thinking. Instead of reading the rest of the proposal, sure about this was a no go. But I've made some changes narrowed his eyes. He didn't say anything but turned his attention back to the

There were three pages.

he normally would when faced

But...

more he read. It now had his full attention. As if he were looking for anything suspicious or for any loopholes. He seemed Until...

He read it all.

at Elisa. "How much of this proposal did you have to

Chapter 300 A Turnaround

"If I do it, you'll be able to take over Benett Corporation legally."

Benett Corporation was no company to laugh at, but if Gareth or Will were to choose so, they would easily crush them. This was the difference in power between them.

Will was a man of his word. He'd probably do it even better than she ever could to legitimize her takeover.

But this was not what Elisa wanted.

She wanted to do it on her own. She didn't want to owe Will any more than necessary.

She'd never be able to pay him back for all the kindness he had shown her.

And with Grandma and Grandpa still around, she did not want to grow any closer to him.

want to trouble you too much. I owe you too much as

at her. "Don't worry

take a will cost me four billion dollars. This is no small number. It's quite obvious from the proposal that Benett Corporation is trying to profit without putting never see such a ridiculous proposal if it

Will chortled.

added, "If we come to an agreement, I'll be responsible for the follow up. I promise you that the profit will be trying to decipher her here she was, at alone, he could tell that she didn't really care if he refused the proposal or not. It was as if... She had nothing more time

large financial commitment to make. I'd think it's stranger if you were to agree just like that. This proposal will a contract with you? There's no hope for a little advantage then, than competent lawyer. There was no advantage to be had