

No Chance 33

Chapter 33 That's All?

He grabbed Elisa's phone and hung up the call instantly.

Elisa looked at him indignantly. "What's wrong with you?!"

Gareth's gaze was so piercing as if it would penetrate Elisa if she dared to make a move.

"Elisa Benett, I'm warning you one last time. If you dare to mess around with other men, don't blame me for coming after you!"

Linda was stunned. Messing around with other men?

Before this, she thought Gareth was trying to control Elisa due to his dignity. After all, it was understandable if a man couldn't endure his ex-wife getting together with another man immediately after their divorce.

But... Linda had a bad hunch now.

Meanwhile, Elisa wasn't intimidated by Gareth at all. "Go ahead! Now get lost already!"

worriedly and said, "Garry, Elisa is still young, so she might be immature. Please don't lower herself just cold glare at Elisa before walking out of the house, leaving Elisa and Linda in the gazed at Elisa with her eyes filled with

are you waiting for me

wore a faint smile as if

Elisa as she would rather coax Gareth to sleep with door. The night was finally over, and she someone to remove the mischievous look as

...

worried that Elisa was depressed, so she dragged

After buying some household items from the supermarket, Elisa bought some when Elisa didn't bring up the matter from that night. "Hey, we're best friends. Are you going to keep that incident was surprised. "How did you profile and tell it to her friends. Otherwise, the entire company could have been aware of the issues her hand in resentment. "Linda's friend told me about it!

