

No Chance 38

Chapter 38 Don't Be Afraid; I'm Here with You

At that moment, Elisa was already sitting in Will's car.

Rachel was not there because she wanted to be with Carle and Sheena.

Will was driving the car, and Elisa was sitting in the front passenger seat.

Will looked at Elisa with a smile, "Why didn't you wear the dress I prepared for you."

Elisa turned to look at him, "Those dresses don't fit me, so I randomly picked two other dresses from the boutique. I'll return the dresses you prepared for me when I get back. You should give them to your other female companions."

Will had an air of congeniality that made you feel at ease. Although Elisa wasn't familiar with him, she felt very comfortable being with him.

Will frowned, "I don't have any other female companions. You are my only date now."

Elisa smiled and remained silent.

Will was looking for topics along the way to spice up a party, but after all, they actually got each other instantly and were sounding off about whatever they were talking about.

seemed that it didn't take them long to get of guests were invited to Mr. Morris's birthday parked in the guests waiting in line. All the guests went with a female of people stopped when Will arrived. They everyone could recognize his car plate number. They they stopped and looked was gazing at Will when he

in a black suit. Women couldn't help looking him tall and had broad shoulders.

him when he slowly

were gasping with jealousy before Will had even opened around them, let alone a handsome,

Gareth and Will were drop-dead gorgeous and at the peak of a pity that Gareth was happily married. On the contrary, Mr. Darcey was still single. Although it door of the front passenger seat