Chapter 4

to having meat for breakfast. Therefore, she had to accommodate him all these years. Now, she could finally take care of herself and eat the food she liked, which put her in a relaxed mood. That morning, she received a call from Charli saying the person in charge of Darcey Group's legal department was eager to meet her. Thus, Charli helped Elisa arrange a place to meet. Elisa finished breakfast and went out. At the same time, in a car outside the villa, a man dressed in black secretly called someone on the phone. "Boss, she has left the house." "Follow her." Gareth's expression darkened. He never knew Elisa had her own villa. She even urged him to divorce her. This woman... She suddenly behaves like a different person. ... Elisa reached the meeting place and found Corey Wilson seated by the window. She went to him and greeted him with a smile, "Corey, you're here early." Corey looked up in surprise and was shocked to see Elisa. "Elisa?" Elisa smiled as she replied, "You should call me Iris." Her answer made him even more astounded. "Elisa, you..." Corey had always admired how academically gifted she was at school. He didn't expect to find out that she was Iris. Thus, he was unable to hide the excitement in his heart. Soon, both of them got into the main purpose of this meeting and talked about the case. However, Elisa remained unaware of Gareth watching from
