Chapter 401 She Needs to Learn if She's Incapable

Her expression was calm, but worry flickered across her eyes.

If this proposal succeeded, even a fool would know how much profit there would be!

Her father might approve of Elisa doing such a thing for the sake of profit.

When the time came, Elisa would have a great reputation. Would there be a place for Linda to stand?

Wouldn't this help Elisa develop senselessly?

Elisa smiled and didn't say anything.

Norman looked at Linda again. "Linda, you didn't do your job well enough this time. Write a letter of reflection and submit it to me."

Linda was feeling jittery, and she couldn't help but take in a breath before saying, "I understand."

Chapter 402 Why Is Elisa So Lucky!

Elisa's expression was at ease.

She knew that even if the father and daughter compromised and Linda was given a penalty, they wouldn't agree for her to be in charge of the project.

This was normal.

Norman said with a calm expression, "Just as Linda said, Liz doesn't have much experience. If she messes up, Darcey Group definitely wouldn't admit fault. The blame would be shifted to Benett Corporation, and this would greatly affect the reputation of Benett Corporation. That's why we need to look for someone who has enough experience and is capable of working with Darcey Group."

Wyllow narrowed his eyes slightly. "But Mr. Darcey said that the condition for agreeing to the contract is for Elisa to oversee the project. If we change the person in charge, how could they agree?"

Calvin immediately said decisively, "So we need to make this known. We need to screen the person and look for another person to negotiate and communicate with Mr. Darcey. At the same time, Ms. Elisa, you need to let Mr. Darcey know that you're not up to it."

At that moment, Linda looked at Elisa, and her expression was complicated. "Liz, I hope that you can think of the big picture and let Mr. Darcey know."

Elisa's gaze was exceptionally at ease, and she nodded agreeably. "I can go along with this. May I ask if you would like to look for people to discuss this with Mr. Darcey, or if I should make the call first? Forgive me for speaking out of turn, but Mr. Darcey has a very firm attitude. I can call him now in front of everyone and put him on speaker."

"If you can't oversee this project, there's no need to work together."

Everyone was speechless.

Norman and everyone on his side had nasty expressions.

As for those on Elisa's side, there were smiles in the corners of their mouths.

Elisa had already anticipated what Will would say. Furthermore, she had informed him in advance. She spoke again.

"I'm not up to it, Mr. Darcey. I have limited abilities. If I oversee it, I may very possibly mess it up."

"You thought of the proposal. No one is more capable than you. That's why, my princess, please have more confidence in yourself. Have you reported this to your company?"

Elisa's eyes dulled slightly. Before she could say anything, Will said again, "Relay my thoughts to the person in charge at your company. I won't budge for anyone. Without you, there wouldn't be ingenuity when implementing the proposal. It's better not to do it at all."

Norman was dumbstruck.

He had wanted to take the phone from Elisa and speak to Will, but Will had already said such things. What was left for Norman to say? Would he still have his reputation?

Jessie's lips twitched. It was as if the scorn in her eyes was saying that Norman was putting up a meaningless struggle.

This time, no one went against Norman. The meeting ended like that.

Elisa didn't move. She only got up once everyone had left.

Linda immediately followed her, and she pulled Elisa's hand. "I have something to ask you."

Elisa turned to look at her, and Elisa's gaze swept the conference room that was filled with cameras. She smiled. "Here?"

Linda gritted her teeth and grabbed Elisa's arm tightly. She said, "Follow me."

Elisa pulled her arm away and looked at Linda. In a voice that was so soft only the two of them could hear it, she said scornfully, "I have a lot of work to do, Linda. I have yet to close the deal on two out of the five projects that you gave me. You've been suspended, and you can't instruct me to do anything. If there's anything, let's talk after I get off work."

There was nothing but confusion in Linda’s eyes. “What is it?”

“Your suspension this time isn’t a bad thing after all. You can’t make any moves toward Elisa at the moment, but you can dig some holes first.”

Linda was confused. “What holes are there to dig?”

Norman said in a low voice, “Go home and look for your mom. She’ll tell you.”

Linda’s brows wrinkled slightly. “Why are you being so secretive? Alright. I’ll head back.”

...

At that moment, Elisa had already returned to the office.

Everyone looked at her in bewilderment. Kira couldn’t hold back, and she looked at Elisa. “Liz, what was the meeting about?”

Elisa was calm, and she only chuckled. “I’m sorry, Kira. I can’t make it public at the moment. I have to wait for a few days.”

Kira nodded. “Of course. I won’t ask anymore if it can’t be made public. I’ll wait for a few days then. But I have this feeling that you’re close to success.”

Elisa smiled. “I hope that’s the Hearing it, Anita's footsteps stopped. She turned and saw a woman sitting at the side, wearing a mask, and she sized the woman up.

Elisa slowly took off her mask. A gorgeous and memorable face appeared before Anita's eyes.

Anita's gaze dulled a little. The next moment, her lips curved. "Ms. Elisa? What a coincidence."

Elisa put on her mask again and smiled. "How could it be a coincidence? I came for your sake, Ms. Golding."

Anita sized Elisa up and didn't say anything. She wasn't in a rush to leave either.

Elisa smiled. "Why don't we have a chat in the private room?"

Anita slowly took off her sunglasses. There was an indifferent smile in her beautiful eyes. "What do we have to chat about?"

Elisa turned to look at Anita with a half-smile. Seeing the indignant expression in her eyes, Elisa said calmly, "Businesspeople are used to business deals. What do you think, Ms. Golding?"

Anita's brows furrowed tightly, and she gazed at Elisa.

At the same time, there were two people standing, one in front of the other just around the corner. The man at the front pursed his lips tightly and looked to the side a little. He saw Elisa looking at the woman next to her, looking very skillful.

The man's brows furrowed, and the unease in his eyes increased.

The man behind him kept looking at his watch and finally said in exasperation, "You're going to be late for the meeting, Mr. Wickam."

The wrinkle in Gareth's eyes deepened.

In the end, he didn't say a word. He straightened his tie and walked out.

As soon as Elisa raised her eyes, she saw the man who had a cold and noble air all around him. Her gaze dulled.

Chapter 408 Which One Is It?

Since they hadn't reached the stage of partnership, Elisa naturally wouldn't disclose too much. She could only ensure that the proposal wasn't plagiarized and no outsider knew about it at all. That was more than enough.

There was enough confidentiality and potential for development.

After that, Elisa had to meet that person.

When she left, she called Charli.

"Hello, Iris. You finally thought of looking for me."

Elisa immediately spoke in a slightly guilty manner. "I'm sorry, Charli. I've been busy these two days."

"It's fine. I was just kidding. What's up?"

"How much have you investigated about what happened recently?"

"Ah, this woman's fox tail is hidden so well. I can't find anything of use now. The person who made their move toward you has broken away from his dad. And his dad hasn't worked in the Benett family for a few years. Although it is inevitable that some things are connected, the truth isn't clear."

As Charli said it, she cried out in surprise. "I thought of something."

Could it be that...

Just as Thomas was deliberating if he should correct himself, Gareth suddenly said in a low voice, "Go on."

Thomas subconsciously breathed a sigh of relief. He continued at once, "The trail broke off, just like last time. This may have nothing to do with Ms. Linda, or she may have wiped all trace of it clean."

"Where's the person?"

The person Gareth was asking about was evidently the man who had pushed Elisa.

"He's run away. I'm still looking for him in the meantime. His father is in their old home, but..."

"Continue investigating from his father's side."

Gareth wrinkled his brows yet again, and the cold air in the office seemed to be thicker than before.

It seemed to have even passed through the phone, and Linda shivered.

Her expression changed slightly, and she took a breath in before she said, "I've been suspended at work."

Gareth's expression dulled a little.

But the next moment, it was as if he didn't know anything. He tried to make his voice gentler. "What happened?"

Linda's brows wrinkled tightly. From the start, she didn't agree to call Gareth, but her mother forced her to do it. After talking to her for half the day, her mother said that it could make Gareth hate Elisa even more. After that, they could carry out the next step of their perfect plan. But would it really work?!
