The ladies looked at the page with Will's vigorous and bold handwriting.

My dear princess:I know you're a lawyer, so I didn't infringe on your image rights.I produced these photos myself and did not go through anyone.I will also not distribute them.

Do you like them?

"How romantic!"

Rachel had a wistful look in her eyes.

"If any man does this for me, I will marry him"

There was a hint of bitterness in Sheena's eyes.

In actuality, she wished for Elisa and Carle to be together.

However, she loved Carle deeply and could not help but feel a little selfish.She felt a sense of relief that Elisa did not love Carle.She was troubled by the conflicting feelings.

At the same time, she felt she should not be narrow-minded.

Norman rubbed his brow and said solemnly, "Do you think I don't wish to kick her out? The matter has now come to this. What makes you think I have any control over it?"

"The plan has been revealed to the public, and everyone knows what happened. If I refuse to let Elisa participate, everyone will criticize me for being mean and ungrateful.

How are you going to help me then?"

Rose took a deep breath and frowned in frustration, but she did not say anything.

After a pause, she said sternly, "What are we to do now? We can't keep letting Elisa show her skills. If this goes on, I fear she will ruin us. She is clearly suspecting us. If she finds anything, we are all doomed!"

Norman appeared afraid, but he immediately replied in a firm tone, "There's no evidence left. What can she find even if she investigates? Stop scaring me for nothing. She will most certainly attend this collaboration project. I'm still considering whether she should work with Darcey Group or Wickam Group"

Norman furrowed his brow.

"What are you planning to do then?"

"You don't need to trouble yourself over this. I'll figure out a plan."

After saying that, Rose ignored Norman and hung up straight away.

Linda looked at Rose worriedly.

"Mom, what are you going to do?" Rose frowned.

"Other than a threat to her life, do you think there is any better way? If Elisa doesn't die, I believe we will never have peace in our life"

Linda widened her eyes in shock.

"Are...Are you planning to kill her?"

"How is it possible to kill her now?"

Rose had a woeful expression.

"In that case, Liz, tonight..."

it's better for you to return home quickly.Don't worry.We'll take good care of him"

However, there was no response at all.

Elisa sighed dejectedly.

"Are...Are you not willing to forgive me? Is that why you refuse to wake up? Carle, if you wake up, I promise I'll be with you, okay?"

Carle still did not show any reaction as before.

Elisa put on a sad expression and sighed. She sounded despondent as she said, "I knew it...You are not willing to forgive me. Mr. Semoa has approved of us being together. It's my fault for failing to appreciate you and losing you."

The room became silent again.

Elisa remain in her chair and did not move. She was trying to figure out a way to trigger Carle and make him want to wake up.

At the same time, she did not dare to threaten to leave if he did not wake up.

But she could not let Carle continue to remain unconscious.

Thus, she sighed and said, "I understand. I believe you can hear everything I say. In order not to affect your recovery, I'll accompany you for three days. If you still don't wake up after three days, I'll believe you don't wish to see me anymore and are unwilling to forgive me. Then..."

Sheena nodded eagerly.

Elisa saw Sheena pull out her phone and rushed to stop her.

"Mr. Semoa might be with Mrs. Semoa now. She mustn't know about this."

Sheena immediately realized her mistake.

"Yes, yes. I wasn't thinking straight..."

The three of them stood along the corridor and waited for the doctor to come out of the room.

Elisa looked down slightly and thought about Carle's condition. She believed she had a good understanding of it at this point.

What she could do now was to find ways to wake him up.

A while later, the doctors came out of the room.

Elisa sighed and said softly, "I spent a long time with him and told him that I regret my actions and wish to be with him. I've also told him how Mr. Semoa gave us his blessings. So, I have actually said everything I needed to say."

Sheena shook her head. "No, you should go in and spend time with him. Only you can..."

Elisa shook her head. "I'm thinking. If I continue to trigger him, will it backfire?"

Rachel seemed to realize something and nodded in agreement. "Yes, Sheen. I know you miss him very much, so why don't you go in and spend some time with him?"

In actuality, Elisa and Rachel did not know how to persuade Sheena.

Elisa was unable to point out how much Sheena wished to see Carle because it would hurt her feelings. However, she could see how worried Sheena was, so she could only persuade her to see him this way.

Of course, Elisa and Rachel were right to consider that. Elisa was actually worried about Sheena too.

Sheena frowned. "Then... I'll go in and say a little something to cheer him up."

Gareth called Thomas immediately.

“Mr. Wickam.”

“How many people are there?”

“Three. She is with Ms. Gilo and Ms. Markee.”

Gareth’s expression was cold. “How’s Carle’s condition?”

“He is unconscious. If he doesn’t wake up in a month, he will enter a vegetative state. Therefore, they are trying everything to get him to wake up.”

Gareth pursed his lips but did not say anything.

Thomas knew what Gareth wanted to know and told him about the situation in the hospital.

“Ms. Elisa is trying to get Mr. Carle to wake up quickly. Thus, she is using any means she can. Tonight, Ms. Elisa, Ms. Gilo, and Ms. Markee will continue to watch him. Also...”

Gareth remained silent. Thomas breathed in softly and said, “Ms. Elisa is very concerned about the situation in the hospital. Mr. Carle also has some awareness. If you go there, you will...”

Linda's lashes trembled. Even though they were only speaking on the phone, she could sense Gareth's intimidating aura.

She paused for a moment before answering softly, "Yes, I would like to discuss some work matters with you."

Gareth remained silent for some time.

Linda immediately panicked. "Garry..."

"Sure."

Linda breathed a sigh of relief and replied with a smile, "Okay then. I'll see you at the company tomorrow."

Gareth grunted in response and hung up.

"Heh..." Vincent's eyes gleamed with excitement. "This is going to be interesting."

On the other hand, Jeremy looked at Gareth and asked calmly, "What are you planning to do next? Will you proceed with the engagement?"
