

No Chance 50

Chapter 50 As if She Was Her Superior

Elisa blinked her eyes and replied, "I'm a little tired today. Let's talk another day."

Rachel understood her in a split second and said, "Okay then. Have a good rest. Call me if you're bored and I'll accompany you."

"Okay."

Both of them hung up on the phone together.

Will took a glance at Elisa. He remained silent on their way to Elisa's house.

After they arrived, Elisa bade farewell to Will, "Thank you for today."

If it wasn't for Will, her plan wouldn't go on so smoothly.

Will frowned, "The result was of mutual benefit. You don't have to thank me."

Elisa smiled, "You should go to bed earlier too."

Will smiled dotingly at Elisa, "Are you caring for me?"

Elisa was speechless.

and remained silent,

lawyer, so he might need a lot of her help in the future. However, Elisa just wanted to stay away from her heart down on careful consideration, she finally made the

the phone immediately, "My dear

was really guilty, "Grandma, you must have known what happened today.

to apologize to me. If he hadn't been forcing you and flirted with Linda, you wouldn't have announced your divorce

clenched her

hesitated if she should engage in

really sorry

to me,

granddaughter

She couldn't help feeling guilty

are a kind person and I know you're not someone who would commit a murder or crimes. So, grandma will not restrain you. Good girl, just remember to come about to say something, she heard someone talking anxiously. "What are you doing? My daughter, you can't force things that was already meant to Daughter?

didn't have

mother, Monica, was the