Chapter 56 Don't Hold It Against Her

Elisa got up and looked at Gareth. With a smile, she said, "Good bye, Mr. Wickam."

She sounded slightly wistful, as though they were never to meet again.

Nevertheless, he merely let out a cold snort and walked away without sparing her a second glance.

As soon as he walked out of the building, he immediately came to a sudden halt, making Elisa almost bump into him.

When she raised her head, she saw Will leaning against the wall, waiting for her with both his hands in his pockets.

Why is he here? Her eyes flickered.

He smiled at Gareth. "Hi again, Mr. Wickam."

Gareth's face darkened even further as he returned a frosty stare. "Mr. Darcey, it's quite windy today – do take care."

It was a clear reminder to him, but Will did not seem to mind at all.
