

No Chance 57

Chapter 57 Refused to Apologize

"It's all about money for them! Is it that important? I can't wait to see Wickam Group go bankrupt soon! Back when we didn't have a lot of money, we had a much better life. In the past, your grandpa wasn't like that, but everything is different now!"

Elisa's eyes flickered wistfully. "Grandma..."

"Alas, I even lost a perfect granddaughter-in-law. I'm devastated..."

Elisa smiled and replied, "Grandma, I'm your real granddaughter, am I not?"

"Yes, you are right! I don't want them as my family anymore!"

She tried to cheer Julia up before hanging up the phone.

Since a long time ago, she had been hearing such complaints from Julia, that money had completely changed the character of the Wickams, and that she didn't wish for their family to be so affluent.

After this...

as she thought about it, but at this moment, Will turned around to look at her.

immediately returned to her senses and looked at him; he was smiling affectionately as he looked straight we have already accomplished your goal. I will also continue to fight the lawsuit for you. But, the traffic light in front of them just turned red, he slammed his foot on the look at her. "I already told you just now – I have genuine are a prominent figure, Mr. Darcey, while I'm just at a loss for exasperatedly, he explained, "I used to think that you are elegant and smart, but after getting to know you more, now I think refused to let others step on. Because of that, she immediately proceeded to have a

that had just turned green before speaking calmly, "I want to draw a line

He looked at her. "Are you to care for him. I'm just worried that I might be in trouble with all the other women could not help laughing when he heard that. "It won't the cars in front of them had started moving, he shifted the gear again. As the car slowly moved forward, he said

I can't take the risk." Her lips twitched into

