

No Chance 65

Chapter 65 Not Going Away

Elisa paused and turned around to look at her coldly, as if they did not know each other.

Linda's friends frowned, clearly knowing who Elisa was.

Even though everyone was annoyed to see her here, Linda walked to her and said in surprise, "What a coincidence, Elisa. Who are you here with? If we know each other, why don't we have a meal together?"

When Elisa heard that, she could not help letting out a cold snort internally. This is one of her greatest strengths – no matter how much she hates a person she would never show it on her face. Instead, she would put on a graceful and elegant act, making others think of her as a gracious person.

She seemed to be able to tolerate anyone, and her feigned elegance made others think highly of her. In addition to that, due to her upbringing and family status, many people yearned to be her friend. Since she was with Gareth, they couldn't wait to suck up to her.

cold stare. "Is to be thinking about it. "What do you mean, Elisa? Do I that did not like Elisa since the beginning, so she immediately chirped in with annoyance, "Elisa, what do you mean? Linda asked you to join us out of good intentions, yet you replied in such a rude manner. It's smile froze upon hearing that. She quickly turned around to look at Shirley and explained, "It's not what you think. Elisa is just feeling sad right now. I'm sure she'll be fine after a while. I've been close with her since we were young, so please don't misunderstand too kind. You treat her as if she's your sister, but helplessly after hearing that. "You are exaggerating things, Shirley. Of course, I'll put my guard up with strangers, but Elisa is my know you care about your family more than anything else, but some people are simply ungrateful b*tches. Even if you care about her, she betrayed you and hurt you in the end. Aren't you "Don't be like this, guys. Elisa is my her eyes. Even though Linda had been emphasizing that Elisa was her sister, she had never once cleared never realized that she's such a