No Chance Of Remarriage: Get Lost Chapter 921

921 I Can't Take It Anymore!

Will had a gentle smile on the corner of his lips. The eyes on his handsome face were filled with warmth as he looked at her. It was as though the world had stopped entirely at that moment, and she was the only person left.

Elisa raised her eyes slightly and saw the deep affection in his eyes. This gaze made her heart tremble. She had previously seen it in Carle's eyes more than once and was familiar with it. Will was a good actor. Will looked down at her.

"Liz, I still have a long life left. I have a lot of time to slowly reach your heart. Thank you for giving me this chance."

Elisa's brows fluttered slightly. "Ah! How romantic! Ah, Mr. Darcey is so handsome! I want to marry him! I really want to! I can't take it anymore!"

Many people were still discussing excitedly and were about to fall apart out of envy. When can I meet such a fantastic man? I would be happy with a man that is a tenth of Mr. Darcey. Just as everyone was discussing fervently, someone suddenly asked.

"Hold on. They've left. With this sea of flowers, how will we go out?" In an instant, many people froze and stopped. They hadn't left the company's doors yet! This is the sea of flowers that Mr. Darcey decorated. Should we keep it the way it is? What should we do...?Someone subconsciously saw James, who had just walked out at that moment. There was a smile on the corners of James' lips. He had clearly witnessed the scene.

Elisa's expression changed slightly. She didn't say a word.

She really didn't want to discuss this situation and topic further. If she did, she would get upset at what came next.

Will was still driving.

He was the same as usual. The topic had come up, but he stopped and changed the direction of the conversation instead. It didn't make Elisa get sick of him.

Soon, the two arrived at their destination. After they ordered food, it signaled the start of their official topic of conversation.

Will didn't rush her. Elisa could talk about it when she wanted. This was the freedom he gave her.

Will had such a personality. Although it burdened him, he could restrain himself with ease. He terrified everyone at the right moments, but now, he felt like a gentleman from an aristocratic family.

He was handsome, gentle, and sincere.

This naturally made girls like him, but... Will repeatedly tried and failed with Elisa.

Will was rational, but he was still surprised. He was astonished by how outstanding Elisa was.

He looked at her. At that moment, he didn't know what to say.

If he was an outsider, he might have felt closer to her every time he discovered a new identity of hers, but now...

He felt more distant from her every time she revealed a new identity.

After all, she wasn't willing to talk about herself. It only created barriers.

In the end, Will said softly, "Do you want me to take the initiative to look for Benett Corporation regarding company matters?"

"No." Elisa looked at him and answered softly, "I will tell the company my identity on my own accord and that I want to work with Darcey Group. Furthermore, I plan on asking for my shares back. The partnership with you is a bargaining chip of sorts."

Gareth put his phone down coldly. 'Bang.' It was deafening.

Mr. Wickam was rarely so irritable.

He wouldn't usually throw things around to vent his anger unless... he was livid.

Thomas scratched the tip of his nose. That's right. Mr. Wickam doesn't care. He slammed his phone down by accident.

Thomas hung his head and decided to wait a while more. He could leave if Gareth didn't have further instructions.

But...

After a short while, he suddenly heard Gareth's frosty voice. "Get Elisa to come here right now. Make her solve the problems in the partnership project with Benett Corporation."

It would be perfect if Mr. Wickam were involved.

But as they followed Will's car to Wickam Group, the media made various connections. They frantically tapped away on their keyboards for tomorrow's articles.

Elisa got out of the car when they arrived. Will also got out and smiled as he looked at her. "Do your work. I'll wait for you here."

Elisa immediately said, "No need."

"Hmm?" Will narrowed his eyes. "Do you want Gareth to send you back later?"

Elisa frowned slightly and said, "I won't get into his car. Moreover, I'm not sure how long it'll take. You can leave first."

The corners of Will's lips curved. His handsome almond-shaped eyes stared at her. "Do you think I'll Elisa furrowed her brows. "Will Darcey."

Chapter 927 All She Did Was Push Him Away

There was a heavy and somber air in the office. Elisa was slightly uncomfortable with such an atmosphere but walked to Gareth's desk and stared at him. "What's wrong with the project?"

Gareth's face was dark and ice-cold. He didn't glance at Elisa as his right hand clicked on the mouse. The dark computer screen lit up, and Elisa saw the data table through the glass reflection behind Gareth, but it wasn't clear.

"Come and take a look yourself."

Gareth's voice was cold. He sat in his chair and didn't move aside.

Elisa could clearly tell that there was a problem with the project. She wrinkled her brows slightly. Elisa had worked hard on the project's research. Now that it was in operation, she couldn't allow problems to occur!

She walked to computer at once, and was on Gareth's left. The two were very close, and Elisa was focused on the computer screen.

Gareth's body stiffened instantly when her faint scent attacked his nasal cavity, and his expression darkened.

Elisa looked at the data on the computer earnestly. She had only read two lines when she suddenly felt something around her waist. Before she could struggle, she was sitting on Gareth's lap!

Elisa's expression changed abruptly, and she struggled at once, but Gareth was powerful. He didn't give her a chance to get up at all. He wrapped her into his arms, and her sweet scent grew sharper.

Elisa knew she couldn't break free, so she stopped struggling. It was also because she felt tired.

She looked at Gareth disbelievingly. How can he say such a thing?!

Her gaze instantly made Gareth feel slightly uneasy.

After a moment's pause, she shook her head. "How did you become like this, Gareth Wickam?"

There was nothing but coldness in Gareth's eyes.

"Are you really compromising yourself like this for profit? Wickam Group is huge today because of you. Aren't you satisfied? Why are you controlling me? Are you still the arrogant and noble Gareth?"

Gareth found it hard to breathe.

"Do you think all I care about is profit?!"

Elisa suddenly sneered aloud. "Isn't this what you said? You thought I was suitable."

"Liz... I know that you don't like the stupid Gareth any more. You're still young and should marry again to have someone to rely on."

Gareth's expression clearly darkened, and his gaze was sharper than it had been.

But on the phone, Julia wouldn't know. She continued saying anxiously, "But the Darcey fellow won't do. He's too fickle, and he's tormented too many girls. I'm afraid that he's not sincere! Liz, you must find someone you can entrust the rest of your life to, not someone like the Darcey fellow."

Although Julia hoped Elisa could continue being her granddaughter-in-law, Gareth failed to live up to expectations!

Under such circumstances, Julia could only help Liz pick other eligible young men so she wouldn't be deceived.

Elisa pursed her lips. Out of the corner of her eye, she saw Gareth's dark face and how he looked like he would erupt at any moment. She said softly, "Don't worry, Grandma. Such a thing won't happen."

Gareth didn't let her go. He looked at her coldly. "What motive do you have this time?"

Elisa furrowed her brows. She finally said, "It won't hurt you, and it has nothing to do with you."

Gareth laughed in his rage. "You can choose not to say. I want to see how much time you can waste with me."

Elisa was dumbfounded.

She suddenly looked at Gareth disbelievingly. "Are you kidding me?"

Does he mean he'll keep hugging me and won't let go if I don't tell him?

Upon seeing him silent, Elisa laughed in her rage. "When did you become a thug? Is this what you're capable of, Gareth Wickam? Where did your nobility and arrogance go?"

Gareth sneered. "Birds of a feather flock together. What nobility do I have left with you around?"
