

No Chance 951

Chapter 951

There's nothing here that belonged to Dad. Norman replaced everything!

Frustration surged in Elisa's heart. However, she had always known Norman would eventually change everything in her father's office. Furthermore, he would likely not want to use anything that belonged to her father.

She breathed in slowly and remained silent.

Norman and Linda had sullen expressions as they glared at Elisa.

Linda scolded, "Elisa, do you think you have won?"

Elisa returned to her senses and looked at Linda indifferently. "I'm now the chairman. Isn't that considered winning?"

Linda was rendered speechless.

B*tch!

I still suffer

with my own hands one day!

bitterness and rage. Finally, he erupted with fury, "Elisa, you have better reverse everything to how it was! Do you think it's easy being he knew the company contained immense wealth. He would never the company was in a was that the company would earn less profit than when Nelson was a lot more than before because he had the most shares.

he would still stand to gain no matter what.

mess after you have taken over. I regret letting you manage it."

nonsense. Since you're Black-Eyed Susan, give me back my money! You have better cough up that two pounded in her like a frantic drumbeat.

family of two sure

Chapter 952 Stop Dreaming

"Do you think you can stay beautiful forever and keep those men interested in you? Who do you think you are? They don't love you and only use you because you are worth something. Elisa, do you think you're so special?"

Elisa narrowed her eyes. She was not angry but smiled vaguely. "You have a point. Beauty won't last forever. However, I will maintain what I already own. I have many cards up my sleeve that will make them want to collaborate with me. Thanks for reminding me about that. They will not give up working with me!"

Linda was rendered speechless. She felt a sudden discomfort like a lump stuck in her chest.

dreaming! That's impossible. What makes you think you will still be at an advantage as time progresses? Soon, others will

I won't

A vortex of fury swirled through Norman. "Elisa, do you have no respect for your uncle?"

"Do you still see yourself as my uncle? Am full of mockery. Norman's expression darkened when he heard them.

praise you if you let go now without a fuss. However, you will be shamed if I bring his teeth. "You signed the contract to transfer the shares.

words and signed the contract to fulfill your ideas. I signed the contract to show everyone you have the most shares and make you more persuasive among the shareholders. In other words, the contract was only to show to the shareholders. However, you should know that the share transfer document your lawyer prepared has many loopholes. I can easily find a few of them to make you compensate my shares and return the money you

Chapter 953 A Threat From Elisa

Linda's eyes were filled with bitter resentment, and she was dying to tear Elisa into pieces.

Elisa glanced at them indifferently and said, "You willingly participated in the hacker's transaction, so please don't think I swindled you out of your money. In fact, I've been very gracious to you during the meeting. You may take the profits over the past years; I just want the shares."

"In your dreams!" Norman flared up. "I'm left with nothing because you've extorted all my money. How dare you ask for the shares?!"

Linda's eyes turned bloodshot as she was boiling in anger.

Elisa snorted. "Go ahead and make a big fuss. I can demand in court that you compensate the profits to me. You'll be hundreds of millions in debt and become everyone's laughing stock by then. It's your call."

were so exasperated that they were at a loss for words.

that Elisa was serious – she was not joking

you still can't and expose the Benetts' scandals to the public?! After

"But your attitude doesn't seem like you're willing to settle things out of court. I'm saying this one last time – if you're willing to give up on the shares, you may keep the profits earned over the past years. However..."

continuing, "If you refuse to return the shares to me three days later, then forget about it. We shall meet lost her patience and blurted coldly, "Now, get

"You!"

and scowled, "Fine! You rascal!" After

on the chairman's

you really want to make it a big deal and expose the Benetts' scandals to the public?! After all, we're a family. We shouldn't bring the matter to

Chapter 954

"Where's your dad?"

"He went out, but I have no idea what he is up to."

Rose answered, "Let me call him first. Don't act recklessly or look for the mysterious man for now."

Linda was startled for a moment before she hummed, "Alright. Hurry up and call me back later."

"Okay."

After hanging up, Rose immediately called Norman. The latter answered the call in no time.

"What is it?" Norman sounded frustrated, as if he had lost his patience with talking to Rose.

"Linda called me and told me about the incident." Rose replied with a frown.

"Do you have any idea now?"

lawyers to check if there's anything wrong with uttered with a sullen look, "The lawyer who drafted the contract was an experienced expert. The only person that is as good as became more annoyed and nearly wanted to hang up relative. Make a copy of the contract and hide the confidential details. Tell him you're your dad?"

went out, but I have no idea what he right! I'll find him now and see if he

"Mm-hmm."

to his

the latter behaved like a tomboy. Not only did she spit harsh words, but she also hung up on him! He had the urge to barge into Rachel's house and strangle her so she would obey ringing jolted him back to his senses. He knitted his brows when he saw the incoming call from a relative who seldom contacted him. Nonetheless, he still picked up the call. "Hi. What is it?"

sorry to disturb you. I have a share transfer agreement and really need your help here. Can you please help me check if there's any problem with

I'll find him now and

Chapter 955 An Obvious Question

And so, he called Gareth. However, Gareth did not say a word after picking up the call.

Vincent was used to Gareth being taciturn, so he went straight to the point. "Is Elisa up to some plans recently?"

"Why do you ask?" Gareth frowned slightly and dismissed his intention to hang up.

After all, Vincent often called him to talk nonsense.

Vincent realized something upon perceiving Gareth's tone. "So, it's true."

"What happened?"

Vincent tutted. "A relative called me just now. He's a shareholder of Benett Corporation, and he asked me to help check a share transfer agreement."

guess Elisa has asked Norman for his shares."

legs, he clicked into the agreement and said nonchalantly, "She's very bold, but this could be a chance for Norman

"Do you think Elisa is someone who page of the agreement, Vincent smirked. "No wonder Elisa can be so bold – this agreement has and did

Mr. Wickam, I'm the one who can make the would surely follow Gareth's instruction. After all, Gareth was concerned about Elisa.

harsh words that Elisa had said to him. She said they were unrelated and asked him to mind his business and not control her life. She said he had no rights to do once, Gareth was filled with anger and sneered, "What Are you really going to response. His intention you like Elisa? She's fighting alone now, and Will will not let go of any chance. You don't take the initiative and keep page of the agreement, Vincent smirked. "No wonder Elisa can be so bold – this agreement has tons of loopholes."

Chapter 956 Under Our Nose

There were indeed a few flaws in the agreement. It would be an easy win for Elisa if the matter were brought to court. In fact, he would directly turn Norman down if the latter asked for his help because this case was an unchallenging losing battle.

However, since Gareth decided to turn a blind eye to it, Vincent would do as he wished. He was determined to interfere with the matter and force Gareth to take the initiative.

If Elisa were in trouble, Gareth would not possibly sit back. Vincent was ready to mock Gareth when the latter finally gave in to help Elisa.

At that thought, Vincent replied to Peter, his relative. 'There are many flaws in the agreement. I suggest redoing it.'

Peter was stunned upon receiving the message and quickly called Norman after replying to Vincent.

"Mr. Benett, things are not looking good! Vincent replied to me just now and said the agreement is flawed. He suggested redoing it."

Norman blurted instinctively, "How could that be?!"

hired back then was a top-tier lawyer. He had even hired other lawyers to flustered. "I-I have no idea..."

with a darkened face, "Alright."

and sank into a long time and failed to reach a conclusion even after mulling over it.

have dinner upon reaching food and served it. "Let's eat first and discuss the matter after dinner."

remained sitting on sit down on the couch and croaked with did not have much appetite to begin with. Now that they refused to eat, she had no desire to eat, so must find a way to solve the situation. Since Elisa messed with the agreement, we

Chapter 957 Get Screwed

In other words, they intended to get rid of Elisa at that time, but they just didn't have the chance to.

Linda roared in exasperation, "What should we do now? Sit and await our doom?! Even if we want to kill her now, it will be difficult because she has had her guard up. We'll be finished if the matter is brought to court!"

Rose frowned and muttered, "Actually, I'm thinking of one thing."

Her response attracted Linda and Norman's attention. Rose was the most sharp-witted among them. Linda and Norman sensed Rose already had an idea, although it could be hard to implement.

impatiently, "Spit it out."

calmly, "Vincent and Gareth are buddies, and Elisa is quite close with Gareth now. Don't you stared fixedly at Rose and mumbled, "You mean..."

be

knitted brows. "I haven't figured it out yet – it's just my analysis of the current situation. Whether Gareth likes Elisa or not, Elisa's multiple identities must have caught his attention. For the sake of his own benefit, he naturally would think Elisa is a suitable partner. As Gareth's close friend since young, Vincent would definitely help is weird too. Besides Vincent, we've hired many other lawyers to prove the agreement. None of them opined there was something wrong with the document. Only Vincent and Elisa said so, and they are on the help from Vincent while Vincent would give the same assertion. If we fork out the shares so that Elisa will not sue us and demand the profits from past years in court, that b*tch will get her said she would only demand the shares if the matter was settled out of listened

Chapter 958 Can't Let Them Have Their Ways

Norman and Rose made no comment. The current Elisa was completely beyond their expectation. None of them had thought Elisa would one day become this powerful.

Why didn't they notice something was off with Elisa in the past? Elisa had grown under their nose, but why didn't they notice her talents? Or was it because they had always made light of Elisa's capabilities? After all, her academic results were consistently outstanding during her school days.

...

Elisa stood in front of her father's tomb with complicated emotions. She missed Nelson dearly. Even the passers-by could sense her sorrow from afar.

on the tomb. He was wearing an amiable smile in the picture. She inhaled deeply and mumbled, "Dad, I

All I cared about back then was to marry an unworthy man, and I even neglected the intention of those wrong with them, but all I cared about was the man, which was trembling and hardly

She bit her lips and continued, "How I wish I could destroy them immediately to avenge your death. I know you wouldn't want me to turn against them, but I'm sorry, Dad, couldn't care for you or fulfill your wish. But I hope you can meet me in my dream. Will you, Dad? I miss you which pierced Elisa's heart. So, she came schedule recently, so it had been a while since

Chapter 959 She Became Chairwoman

Elisa became more determined. It was as if she had obtained her father's consent after talking to him.

On the other hand, James spread the news about Elisa's appointment as the chairwoman after the meeting ended.

Everyone was astounded to hear the news while Elisa's fans were pumped up. They were eager to see Elisa assume the chairmanship and celebrated her achievement on social media.

'OMG! Our Elisa became the chairwoman! She's amazing!'

'Exactly! She's unbelievable! Not only is she talented, but she even became the chairwoman. There is no limit to Elisa! She's going to be so outstanding that no one can be in her league.'

'Yeah, man! Way to go, Elisa!'

their comments as if she was attacked Elisa too.

couldn't run the business because she was young back then. Now that she has become more capable, her uncle returns the business to her. It's not because of how good she diehard fans do is fawn about? Elisa deserved to become thinking so. She's a typical scheming woman – look how many secrets she kept. I'm sure she did many evil deeds in the dark. She only exposed the truth now that she can't hide it anymore. It's funny how you guys are admiring her. Can't you think rationally?'

trending topic on Twitter and checking Twitter

Rachel. As soon as you and Uncle James discussed last time! Congratulations on your appointment! D*mn!

Chapter 960

"I threatened them."

"Huh? How?" Rachel was even more confused.

Eliza answered with a smile, "He once extorted my shares. I was willing to give them to him, but there are flaws in the contract."

"What?! That's awesome! So he has to return the shares back to you!" Rachel was thrilled.

"Mm-hmm."

"D*mn! This evil family is finally facing a setback. Since the contract is invalid, you can demand the earnings from the past years from them!"

me. I'll settle the rest. At this moment, they can't bother to come

No matter what, we heart was warmed. "Of also texted Elisa in the group chat to congratulate her and ask about her situation. Elisa it came to the third day.

in the living room, looking sullen.

one saying anything? What's the plan?"

gaze to Rose. "Say something, Mom."

at Norman. "None of the lawyers noticed any face. "Yeah. I engaged a dozen lawyers, but all their surprised. "Not even one of

"Yes."