

No Chance 96

Chapter 96 Are You Wisteria?

Everyone in the room fell into a ponderous silence upon Mr. Zill's request.

Wisteria's skills were so astounding that everyone remembered how brilliant she was because the runner up only arrived at the final line a few minutes after she crossed it – the longest gap between contestants they've ever seen!

She would have beaten the runner up even if she went another round.

The only reason the runner up won the competition the next year was because of Wisteria's absence.

If she was there, no one else could win the competition.

Silence clung to the room for a long time as Mr. Zill contemplated his colleagues.

guess everyone knows how amazing Wisteria is, three years! She might not be physically compatible for competitions and had retired. Do you think we can invite her?" Mr. Zeller confidence shining through. "Money is reason anyone would do anything on this earth

this may be the best option we

a

My grandson was an avid racing fan, but had to stop racing after an accident that ruined his leg. Wisteria came to comfort him and left her contact details. My grandson called me some time ago, and he is an honest boy. He said that although she appears cold, she is actually very kind. I believe she would accept our proposal if we

the table with his fingers as he

now. Let her propose her others in the room took a deep breath as they felt that it was an unusual proposal, however, who were they to refute Mr. Wickam after he had agreed to dialed his grandson's number to get Wisteria's number. Once he got her number, he called