Chapter 97 Intersecting Lines

Mr. Zill could not hide his joy. Meanwhile, the others were astounded by Mr. Zill's good fortune.

"Hello! Hello! I am Mr. Zill, a manager from Wickam Group. We would like to invite you to compete in a racing competition on our behalf."

"I can't make it."

Mr. Zill and his colleagues' jaws dropped.

How could she reject Wickam Group so blatantly? Surely, she understood that Wickam Group held her and the competition in high regard!

To prevent her from hanging up on the call, Mr. Zill quickly offered a response. "Miss Caine, give us a moment. Is there anything I could help you with? Wickam Group will give our best to support you if you compete on our behalf. You will also be able to propose your price!"
