

Read Novel No Longer Your Luna By A. Vitiosis Chapter 19

Chapter 19 Will Amethyst Be The Alpha? Part 2

Everyone gasps in complete shock, the whispers suddenly filling the silence and bouncing off the walls. To their knowledge, the alpha and luna lost their child when she was born.

Kaden raises his hand again and they comply.

“Yes, the alpha and luna had a child, to our knowledge the baby died during childbirth. But that wasn’t true. To protect her from the dangers that threatened her life, they had to make a tough decision and give her up”

That simply truth struck a chord in everyone. Imaging their beloved alpha and luna having to give up the chance to raise their child, it simply wasn’t fair.

Kaden’s deep voice flooded through my mind. “Come to me”

Swallowing the lump in my throat, I find his eyes on me, a clear blue sky that offered protection. He nods in assurance and that’s all the encouragement I need to get out of his chair. Holding my head up high as I round the table, climbing the golden steps onto the middle of the stage.

Taking my position next to him, the spotlight blinding me for a few minutes, the sound of my rapid beating heart filling my ears.

“When she first arrived, it was for her own safety that we kept her true heritage a secret. She has spent the last five years getting to know everyone and training in order to be worthy of this role. I have watched her overcome many obstacles and I couldn’t be prouder and more certain that she will be an amazing leader to us all” he smiles at me.

His words hit me in the heart, the crippling anxiety that was going to make me pass out on stage slowly begins to dissipate.

Kaden believes in me.

“That’s why, as of today, I renounce my temporary role as alpha” Kaden declares.

Everyone is speechless and while I expect everyone to feel resentment towards me, I didn’t expect Kaden to feel proud to hand over the title. Declaring his devotion as my beta is one thing but watching his demeanour and sincerity in his eyes, he truly means it.

“Ladies and gentlemen, I give you the true alpha of the Blood Moon pack; Amethyst Phoenix” extending his hands in my direction.

I wasn't surprised by the silence, the lack of applause or the growing whispers. I will admit, it is embarrassing to have the spotlight on you and gain this sort of reaction.

“You got this Phoenix, you rose from the ashes and now you can show them your wings, the brave warrior that you are” Kaden mind-links with absolute certainty in my abilities.

Once I get behind the mic, the light even more blinding but I direct my attention towards Blaze, Sage and Callen. They all have that same expression of pride.

“You got this purple” Blaze mind-links, throwing me a wink.

My family believes in me.

Being centre stage didn't matter, thousands scrutinizing me. I was ready because my family, these five people are my strength.

“This probably wasn't what you expected would happen today” I say, finding my voice.

“Yes, I am Amethyst Phoenix, the daughter to Jeremy and Sofia Phoenix. You might be judging me right now, saying she hasn't earned the right to walk in their shoes and you know.