No Way Back Chapter 101-Henry smiled self deprecatingly.

Did Jane have to be so heartless?

Did Jane really want to completely remove all traces of Henry from her world?

However, Henry could only passively endure all of this silently.

Even when Henry recalled everything he had done with Queen, his heart ached so much that it was about to tear apart

After all, Henry was the eleventh hacker on the Darknet.

Using familiar software, Henry searched for posts about Queen on the Darknet.

Henry couldn't hack into Queen's account, nor would he do so.

This would only make Jane hate Henry even more.

Henry knew that this was a move.

However, Henry just wanted to look for news about Jane through other people's posts.

A lot of people just send posts to express their feelings.

They either adored Queen or mocked Henry.

Henry flipped through these posts quickly as if he were crazy

In the end, when Henry saw a certain message, he suddenly froze, and his pupils constricted

It was a post by someone called Conqueror two hours ago.

I got a new skill!]

It was a program

At first glance, it looked ordinary.

However, Henry knew clearly this was Jane's programming habit!

Back then, Jane took Henry as her apprentice and taught Henry simpler and more effective programming techniques.

It was one of these techniques

This was a habit unique to Jane

It was also a habit unique to Henry as Jane's apprentice.

Without Jane's teachings, it was impossible for someone to know about this habit.

"No! That's impossible How long has it been? it's impossible for Jane to accept another apprentice.....

"It must be a coincidence "

Henry could only comfort him

However, Henry could not help but investigate the identity of Conqueror in the end

Henry wanted to see who this person r

How did this person know about the

However, Henry found nothing

All traces of Conqueror had been hidden.

only Jane and Henry had?

Even though Henry was the eleventh hacker on the Darknet, he could not find anything about Conqueror

At this moment, Henry's face was extremely pale.

No number of lies could cover it up

Someone was able to do this, plus Conqueror knew Jane's special habit

The person who could shelter Conqueror, remove all traces for him, and solve all the details was Jane!

It was just like how Jane protected Henry and cleaned up all his troubles back then.

"Jane, why?

"How long has it been? You clearly hated me so much back then. You were so sad and cold....

“But you actually found a new apprentice so quickly. Then what am I for you?”

“In the past, you told me that you would only accept me as your apprentice in this lifetime, and you couldn’t find a better apprentice than me... “Have you forgotten everything between us in the past three years? Is it all fake? You can’t forget what you said before we became enemies... Henry suddenly had an impulse

He wanted to rush out of the hospital and ask Jane about it

Jane couldn’t do this to Henry

Henry’s heart hurt so much when he saw Jane treat him like this

A life worse than death could no longer describe the current torture that Henry was enduring

The next day. Jane got up and felt refreshed.

Perhaps it was because Jane had found her original intention.

Luckily, the nightmare didn’t disturb Jane last night

Jane held the painting that she had spent two hours on last night and packed it. Jane the Porsche Cayenne straight to the University of Oricle.

After making an appointment with Mr. Lance, Jane handed the painting to him.

Lance opened the painting eagerly.

As soon as Lance saw this painting, he held his breath instantly.

Lance did not come back to his senses for a long time.

“Oh my god! Jane, when I saw the first version of the painting, I already felt that it was amazing enough and no one couldn’t surpass it anymore.

“I didn’t expect your revised version to be several times more excellent than the first version!

“I think this painting can directly be the champion. Let’s just need to wait to see whether it can break out of the siege in a world-level competition!”

“Thank you for your compliment, Mr. Lance.”

After saying a few words, Jane rushed to class and bade farewell to Lance

Lance was still admiring the Jane painting, however, at this moment, his cell phone rang.

It was Madelyn.

“Hello? Madelyn, what’s the matter?”

“Mr. Lance, I’m sorry. My eldest brother has been hospitalized recently. I’ve been taking care of him in the hospital. I’ve already drawn the painting that will be recommended to participate in the domestic university painting competition. I hope you can take a look and see if there is something that needs to be improved, Mr. Lance...”

“It’s fine, Madelyn. Take good care of Mr. Fowler. We already have another candidate and plan to recommend Jane to participate in this competition.”

“What did you say?”

Madelyn’s smile instantly froze, and she even cried out uncontrollably.

Realizing that she had lost her composure, Madelyn quickly explained, “Ah! No, Mr. Lance. I wanted to recommend me...”

a little surprised. You clearly said that you

“Madelyn, I’m sorry. I know this will hurt you a lot, but you’ve seen Jane’s work. If I recommend Jane to participate, no one in the country would be a match for her. Moreover, Jane might very well win the championship on the world stage

‘This is a chance to bring glory to the country and let Jane walk onto the international stage to be famous among the world at the same time. You should understand”

Lance could understand Madelyn’s anger and dissatisfaction.

After all, Lance had promised Madelyn that he would recommend Madelyn to participate in this competition.

With Madelyn’s talent, spirituality, and painting skills, it was not difficult for her to get a good ranking, gave her credit for her curriculum vitae, and bring her glory.

Because Lance felt guilty, he didn’t blame Madelyn.

However, Lance did not regret his choice at all.

Madelyn was completely incomparable to Jane.

It was like the difference between and mud.

An ordinary person could never be compared to a genius.

“Okay. I understand. Thank you, Mr. Lance.”

Madelyn managed to hold back her anger and say those words.

After hanging up, Madelyn took off her shoes and knocked on the bathroom door hard.

Madelyn was so angry that her tears fell like pearls.

Jane!

The Janel

It was because of Jane again!

It was not enough for Jane to gradually affect the Fowler family and steal their attention from Madelyn.

Even the glory, which Madelyn was determined to win, and the professor’s admiration were already easily snatched away Madelyn was really unlucky to have met Jane in this life.

Why didn’t Jane, the bitch, just go to hell?

As long as Jane died, the world would be peaceful, and the Fowler family would be able to return to the happy days of the past.

By that time, Madelyn did not have to be like this, corrupted by jealousy and about to go crazy!

When Madelyn thought of this, her eyes became colder and colder. She finally made up her mind and wanted to kill Jane.

Madelyn dialed a certain number.

“Hello? It’s me. You can do the thing we talked about before.

“No matter how much it costs, I just want the valuable information that can deal with Jane!”

At first, Madelyn could not bear to spend so much money.

Because the person was indeed very capable.

It would take a lot of money to get such a person to help her.

Madelyn had been in the Fowler family for so many years and had savings,

Just the money that the Fowlers and the people related to the Fowler family had given Madelyn, as well as her usual pocket money, was far beyond the imagination of the average person.

Madelyn acted very well on the surface, but she was actually quite extravagant in spending money in secret.

The Fowlers doted on Madelyn very much and prepared all the seasonal limited editions of clothes, bags, and jewelry of big brands for Madelyn every year.

And yet, with such a rich family, there was almost no one who could not become greedy

Therefore, Madelyn did not save much money over the years.

with the person's offering price, Madelyn really didn't want to accept it.

This would probably cost 90% of Madelyn's savings.

Moreover, even if the person's savings.

Originally, Madelyn was st find any bad news about Jane, he wouldn't return the money

Thesitating, but now, she could not hesitate anymore.

Madelyn had to find the evidence that could kill Jane as soon as possible.

Otherwise, everything that belonged to Madelyn would be gradually devoured and taken away by Jane.

Henry stayed at Cloveheart Hospital under observation for a day.

After the doctor confirmed that he was fine, Henry was finally discharged.

Regarding Henry's coma, Jack and the others tacitly did not reveal anything to their other sons

Even regarding the lawsuit between Jane and Jack, Jack and Anna found various excuses and cooperated with Peter to think of ways to minimize the impact.

Therefore, the other sons were still busy with their own matters overseas and were not in a hurry to rush back

Otherwise, if they had seen anything that had happened to the Fowler family, they would have been very worried.

After sending Henry home, Jack and Anna had to rush to Fowler Corporation.

Recently, in order to take care of the unconscious Henry and manage the Fowler Corporation, Jack and Anna were very busy.

After all, the Fowler Corporation could not be without a leader.

Besides, the Fowler Corporation had just suffered a heavy blow and needed to restore its credibility and stabilize its forces, "I'm sorry, Dad, Mom. If it weren't for me..."

"Alright, Henry, we're a family. Let's not talk about this. Rest well."

With that, Jack opened his mouth,

Jack tentatively looked at Henry's pale face and wanted to ask what had happened between Henry and Jane.

Jack wanted to know Henry had become like this.

However, Anna quickly pulled Jack back and shook her head.

If Jack wanted to ask, he had to wait until Henry was in better spirits,

In Henry's current state, it was not proper for them to talk about these matters.

Jack and Anna left.

"Henry, actually, I've prepared a welcome party for you..."

Madelyn looked at Henry ingratiatingly.

However, Henry ignored Madelyn and looked at Peter. "Peter, I'm a little tired now and want to rest. Could you send me back to my bedroom?" Peter was slightly stunned.

"Okay."

Madelyn was left standing awkwardly on the spot like a clown, and she was trembling all over.

It was impossible.

How could Henry (gnore Madelyn's words?

In the past, no matter how busy and tired Henry was, as long as Madelyn spoke, Henry would smile and pat Madelyn's head dotingly, replying to her sincerely.

However, this time, Henry had changed.

Madelyn could directly feel the change in Henry

Henry deliberately distanced himself from Madelyn and paid more attention to Jane, just like Peter

It was all because of that Jane!

No Way Back Chapter 102-Peter and Henry didn't know Madelyn's jealousy, rage, and resentment.

Peter sent Henry back to his bedroom.

'Henry, rest first...'

"Peter, could you stay and talk to me?"

They looked at each other, and Peter saw the same grief in Henry's eyes.

This was an emotion that only biological brothers could understand.

At the same time, the reason for their grief was because of one person, and it was Jane, their biological sister.

Peter was amazed by Jane's excellent talent.

Henry was in pain because of Jane.

No matter what the reason was, Peter and Henry were both in the same mood.

They regretted and felt guilty.

All kinds of negative emotions were completely entangled.

Peter closed the door and sat on Henry's bed.

They looked at each other for a long time, speechless.

“Henry, what exactly happened between you and Jane? I remember you used to  Jane very much, Peter could not help but ask.

Actually, Peter’s words were not quite right.

With Henry’s personality, he almost wished he could kill Jane at that time.

What Peter said just now could not describe Henry’s hatred for Jane.

“Peter, the things I’ve experienced in the past few days have made me fall from heaven to *. I originally thought that everything would develop well, but I didn’t expect to fall into an even more terrifying abyss...

Henry smiled self-deprecatingly.

Seeing Henry in so much pain, Peter was sorry. The curiosity in Peter’s heart was temporarily suppressed, and he comforted Henry. “Henry, if you don’t want to say it, you don’t have to. I won’t force you. Just say it when you want to.”

“No, Peter, because you’re just like me. In the past, I’ve never understood why you feel guilty about our enemy, Jane.

“Even if Jane’s related to us by blood, she’s still an enemy who betrayed the Fowler family in the end. You her as much as I did back then. “However, recently, I finally understood, but it was too late.”

If Henry did not say it out, he would go crazy.

Henry had been holding these things back and enduring them.

When Henry woke up in a coma and recalled everything, his heart was in so much pain that it was about to explode.

Henry had managed to make it through the difficult day and was back to the Fowler family now, but his heart was still aching.

There was no longer the pain that was tearing his entire body apart, however, such slow torture was worse than death,

Henry recalled Jane cutting ties with him and saying that she wanted Henry to *****.

When Henry saw that Jane had found another apprentice who could perfectly replace Henry in the blink of an eye, past vows, interactions, and words appeared in his mind.

It was like an invisible knife stabbing crazily into the depths of Henry’s soul, pulling it out and stabbing it again and again!

So, this was what it meant to kill without using any force!

If Henry did not confide in Peter, the pain would only worsen.

It made Henry want to commit suicide to get rid of this guilt and despair.

After Henry told Peter the whole story, the depression in his heart finally dissipated a little.

Even if it was just a little, it was a comfort to Henry.

Peter was completely shocked and looked at Henry in disbelief.

It took Peter a long time to accept this fact

“Henry, I really didn’t expect you actually have such an identity and even became Jane’s apprentice...”

“My God! This is simply a huge joke that fate has played on us.”

“That’s right. When I met my master happily, I discovered that my master was actually Jane, whom I wished I could kill, I felt that God was deliberately toying with me, punishing me, and wanting me to suffer a fate worse than death.

“Now, I’ve really received my punishment. I regret it so much. Actually, I want to go to work today. I don’t want our family to worry. I want to numb myself with work. But I don’t have the strength....

“I’m tired. I just want to rest, sleep, and forget all this pain.”

After saying that, Henry closed his eyes and revealed extreme fatigue on his face.

Seeing this, Peter could only pat Henry’s shoulder.

“Henry, actually, I also...”

Peter told Henry about his entanglement with Jane.

After Henry heard this, his mood became even heavier.

The entire bedroom was filled with a suffocating atmosphere.

“Henry, is your guilt toward Jane purely because she’s your master?”

"I can't lie to you about that. If Jane wasn't Queen, I'm afraid I wouldn't forgive Jane until my death and would only think about how to her." Therefore, in the face of Jane's accusations, Henry had no room to refute them.

"Then what we have done is really too to Jane.

"Henry, Jane's our biological sister and our parents biological daughter! We... What have we done..."

Peter spoke his real thought.

Peter had said this to himself and Jane before.

However, Peter had never told his family.

Because Peter felt that it was impossible for his family to understand why he felt guilty.

The Fowlers thought that they had done well enough. They had given Jane a rich life and never given up on looking for Jane. They even brought Jane back to the Fowler family and gave her the position of the real daughter of the Fowler family.

What was there still for Jane to be dissatisfied about?

Peter had thought the same at first.

They were partial to Madelyn and discriminated against Jane, bullying and mistreating Jane fearlessly.

They thought that Jane was just a wandering beggar who came to ask for money, and they had no feelings toward Jane at all.

If Jane was really just an ordinary girl, she would not have so much encumbrance.

Peter still wouldn't look Jane in the eye even until now.

This should not be the feeling of a biological brother to a sister who had been missing for nineteen years and who needed the care of her family. "That's right. We're really too
***** ..."

Henry had already realized his mistake.

It was all because they were attracted by Alice's talent that they changed their minds about Jane.

However, they had never treated Jane as their biological sister.

Jane hid all her identities and returned to the Fowler family with a clean background. At that time, Jane must have hoped that they would treat her as their biological sister and protect her in every way possible.

However, what did they really do in the end?

Other than humiliation, hurt, and indifference, there was nothing.

It was already kind of Jane never to forgive the Fowlers for the rest of her life.

With Jane's strength, it wouldn't be difficult for her to take revenge on the Fowler family and crush all of them!

They would have loved to tell Jane that they regretted it very much and wanted to undo the damage they have done to her now.

However, was it too late?

Jane did not know yet the change in Henry and Peter's mentality.

Even if Jane knew, she would only find it *****.

Because in Jane's heart, even though they showed kindness, she would think they were up to no good.

Not to mention that they were just acting and had overflowing sympathy, even though they really regretted it, Jane would not forgive them.

Everything was already too late to make up for the moment one did it.

In Jane's previous life, she had been abused for five years and thrown into a fire. It was a painful experience that was worse than death Jane being once was enough.

She would definitely not be a second time!

When Jane returned to the apartment, she received a message from Andy.

"Janie, the person in charge said that he will arrive in Stormton City in five days. Do you want his contact number? You can choose the time and place."

"Okay. Give it to me, Andy."

Jane was still hesitating whether to contact this scientific research organization.

Now, in order to meet Yale and confirm his identity. Jane had to take the initiative to take this step!

As soon as Andy gave Jane his WeChat ID, she sent him a friend request.

The person in charge's WeChat profile picture was a national flag, and his nickname was Fighting Rabbit.

It was obvious at a glance that the person was a standard patriot.

Fighting Rabbit sent a message. [Is this Queen?]

June replied at once. [Just call me Jane. Since I've already added you on WeChat, I have no intention of hiding my true identity]

Fighting Rabbit was excited. [I didn't expect to be able to work with Queen one day. I'm so excited. To tell you the truth, I'm a fan of yours. I saw you conquer a foreign firewall alone on the Darknet before. It's awesome! Oh, my name is Joel Lopes"]

Jane got straight to the point. [, Joel. Actually, the reason I contacted you is that I am very interested in the person called Yale from your organization. If I join your organization to help you, could you allow me to meet him?]

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 103

No Way Back Chapter 103-When Joel saw the message from Jane, he was slightly taken aback.

Then Joel replied. [I have to report this to the leaders... Queen, why are interested in Mr. Mitchell? Do you know him?]

Jane thought for a while and texted. [He might be the person I have been looking for a long. He is very important to me. As for whether he is really the person I want to find or not, I have to meet him to confirm it first]

Joel hesitated. I can't make the decision on this alone. I have to report it to the leaders.]

Jane understood and texted. [Then I have to trouble you. I heard that you're coming to Stormton City in five days. I'll arrange a meeting place then.]

Joel replied at once. [Okay, I hope you won't be angry, Queen. I'm looking forward to the day I meet you.]

Then, they ended the chat.

Jane narrowed his eyes.

Sure enough, it was not that simple to see Yale.

This was within Jane's expectations.

Although Jane had helped this scientific research organization a lot, in the end, Jane was still Queen on the Darknet, an outsider to the scientific research organization.

Jane's real identity was unclear to them, and they had never come into contact with Jane.

It was impossible for them to let Jane come into contact with the country's protected genius at once.

Jane had to help this organization and gain their trust.

Several days passed in the blink of an eye..

On this day, Joel successfully arrived in Stormton City.

According to the address given by Jane, Joel arrived at Cloudnine Restaurant.

Since Jane was Cloudnine Restaurant's VIP, and Connor had personally instructed the staff, Jane would be treated the best if she came to Cloudnine Restaurant for a meal.

The staff respectfully ushered Joel in and brought him to the table where Jane was.

Jane smiled slightly as she looked at the slightly terrified man whose eyes were flustered in front of her. The man in his early thirties seemed to be in such a high end restaurant for the first time. Jane took the initiative to stand up and extended his hand to Joel.

"Hello, Joel. I am Jane Fowler."

- "Hello, Queen."

This was the first time Joel had seen his idol, and he didn't expect that his idol was such a young and beautiful girl. Joel was so nervous that he could barely speak.

After shaking hands with Jane in trembling, Joel sat down.

Looking at the high-end decorations around him, Joel asked cautiously, "Will it be expensive to have a meal here?"

Jane raised his eyebrows in surprise. "Mr. Lopes, you've never been to this type of restaurant?"

This scientific research organization was very important to Crucsia.

As a member of such a strong scientific research organization, Joel should have been to a restaurant of the same level.

“No To be honest, I’m just a civil servant. I’m not as rich as you thought, Queen.

“Members of the organization are mostly focused on scientific research. This is my first time coming to such a high-end restaurant.” Joel even wanted to cover his face.

It was too embarrassing to say such words in front of his idol.

“I understand.”

Jane considerably stopped asking

Jane snapped her fingers, and the delicacies were delivered to the table soon.

Joel was so nervous that he could just take a sip of wine.

Then, Joel choked and kept coughing.

Seeing how interesting Joel was, Jane couldn’t help but tease him. “Don’t be nervous, Mr. Lopes. This wine is worth thousands of dollars. You have to taste it properly”

“What?”

Joel thought he had misheard.

“It is the chateaumouton rothschild from 1870. There are only twenty bottles left in the world. This one is worth 750 thousand dollars”

Jdel almost dropped the glass

Abottle of wine cost 750 thousand dollars.

A single sip would cost thousands of dollars.

Heavens!

Was this the world of the rich?

Joel could not help but be envious

Joel didn’t even know what to eat

“Mr. Lopes, I treat you with the highest etiquette so that you can feel my sincerity in wanting to cooperate with your scientific research organization.

“Mr. Lopes, you should have investigated my background. I’m a pure blooded citizen of Cruksia. I love this land and my country. “Since the heavens have given me such talent and ability, I think it’s my duty to do my part for the country”

At that, Joel stared blankly at Jane

Jane wasn’t in a hurry to speak and looked at Joel calmly with her eyes that were like the ripples of moonlight in an ancient well “Ah! I’m sorry, Queen, I was a little distracted. Because to be honest, I really didn’t expect you to say something like that just now.” Joel came back to his senses and rubbed the back of his head in embarrassment

“I understand ordinary people wouldn’t say that. But I just want to say what’s on my mind. Otherwise, I wouldn’t have chosen to meet you and work with your organization.”

“I understand, Queen, I believe you. Back then, before Mr. Mitchell came to help, there were many projects in our organization that were difficult to progress. Fortunately, with your help, many things in our organization could progress rapidly.

“Now is the time for the country to develop. Our organization needs a large number of talents. Queen, if you join us, we will be looking forward to

When Jane saw Joel’s frank smile, her gaze couldn’t help but soften.

Perhaps it would not take as long as Jane thought to join this research organization and find out Yale’s true identity.

After dinner, when Jane and Joel parted, she said a few words in the end.

“Joel, I know it’s very difficult for you or your leaders to trust me and let me meet Mr. Mitchell.

“But please think of a way to tell Mr. Mitchell something.

“Could you help me ask him if he has a relative with the surname of Mitchell? That person was probably in his fifties when they were together, and now he’s already sixty years old. He’s an extremely powerful old man with a lightning-like scar on his forehead.”

This was Jane’s only impression of her teacher. Her teacher’s surname was Mitchell, and he had a lightning-like scar on his forehead.

However, Jane didn’t even know if Mitchell was the real surname of her teacher.

As for the indelible lightning like scar, logically speaking, not many people had this scar

With Jane’s strength, she could easily find her teacher.

However, even though Jane was number one on the Darknet hacker rankings, she still couldn't find any traces of her teacher.

"I understand, Queen. I swear I will help you bring these words to Mr Mitchell.

"This way, you can confirm if Mr. Mitchell is the person you're looking for."

"Thank you, Joel, Jane smiled sincerely and spoke gratefully.

For a moment, Jane's smile flashed across Joel's eyes like brilliant fireworks.

Joel's face turned red at once, and heart raced.

"Then I'll go back and report this matter first."

*Please! No matter how Mr. Mitchell will reply, please inform me immediately." "Okay"

After they parted ways, Joel returned to the hotel where he was staying. When Joel had just untied his tie, he called the leader of the organization.

Joel reported the situation of his meeting with Jane today and various details.

On the other end, a man was sitting on the sofa in the research lab, smoking a cigarette. His sideburns were , and his eyes were slightly sunken. However, his gazes were still bright and spirited. Although he was in his sixties, he was well-trained and fit, giving him the appearance of a man in his early fifties:

He was wearing a military uniform, and there were many dazzling medals hanging on his chest. All of these medals were Clarence York's pride "Well done, Joel A talented expert like Queen is a good helper our organization wants, and also an important force for the development of our country

"But we have to make full preparations for this. Even if Queen did help us a lot in the past, it's too risky to admit a hacker of the Darknet into the organization. We have to make sure nothing goes wrong."

Clarence stubbed out his cigarette in the ashtray, and his eyes were dark.

Even though Jane was born and grew up In Cruksia and had even established a firewa save the country's reputation.

that had broken through a foreign information system to

But now, Mr. Mitchell had come to the organization. There were too many important projects and details. Once the information was leaked, the consequences would be unimaginable.

Queen

Queen was a double-edged sword, and it was worth a bet.

Once they won the bet, the positive impact would probably exceed everyone's imagination

Therefore, they had to make sufficient preparations before officially starting this bet.

"I know, Mr. York.

"By the way, Mr. York, Queen asked me to do something. She hopes that we can pass some words for her to Mr. Mitchell." Joel reported this matter to Clarence.

Clarence frowned slightly without leaving a trace. "That's all?"

An old man with the surname of Mitchell who had a lightning-like scar on his forehead?

Who was he?

The old man actually had the same surname as Mr. Mitchell.

This surname was very special.

Was he Mr. Mitchell's relative?

Clarence didn't remember seeing such a person before.

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 104

No Way Back Chapter 104-"Yes, Mr. York. Please. I can tell Queen doesn't mean any harm. She genuinely wants to join our organization and do something for the country
"Although I know that as a contact person, I can't be emotional, you also said that my intuition is very accurate. You can use my judgment as a reference factor."

If he relied solely on his ability, intelligence, and negotiating skills, Joel wasn't qualified to be the organization's contact person. The reason why Clarence was able to defy all opposition and allow Joel to take this position was due to Joel's accurate intuition. As the contact person for the No. 7 Scientific Research Organization of Cruksia, Joel had to face all kinds of people, such as Jane. If Jane wanted to deceive Joel, it was impossible for Joel to see through it.

Just the title of the Darknet's number one hacker alone was enough to prove Jane's ability.

Even Clarence himself was not confident that he could probe Jane's true motive.

If Jane were to disguise herself and pretend to be harmless, it would be impossible for anyone to tell her true intentions only from their conversation

Therefore, intuition was very important and was not inferior to one's personal ability.

"I understand.

"Mr. York, what do you mean?"

Joel was delighted.

Could it be that Clarence agreed?

"Don't talk nonsense. I still have to consider such an important matter. You will stay in Stormton City for the time being and continue to interact with Queen, Give her the mission when the time is right."

"Okay"

After hanging up the phone, Clarence took out another cigarette and lit it.

Clarence took a few deep puffs, exhaled a few smoke rings, and finally stubbed the cigarette out in the ashtray.

Then Clarence left the research lab and headed deeper into the research organization.

He got into the elevator, swiped his IC card, confirmed his iris identity, and disinfected his entire body...

Clarence went through every process orderly.

In the end, Clarence arrived at the lowest level of the base.

This was the center of the No. 7 Scientific Research Organization.

The most important national projects are currently being developed here.

Originally, some projects had been stuck at a certain stage for a long time, but because of the arrival of a genius like Yale, the researchers broke through the original limit and even achieved new things

Every researcher who bumped into Clarence put down their work and bowed to him.

Clarence waved his hand at them and walked straight to a man in a coat

The man was 6 feet 3 inches tall and had neat hair.

His eyelashes were long and thick, and his brows were raised. His skin was fair, and his facial features were well-defined.

He was an extremely handsome man.

His eyes, in particular, were the most attractive.

His originally emotionless eyes emitted a burning light when he was doing research, making people not dare to approach him easily. They were afraid of being burned by the burning light in the man's eyes or affecting him.

It was as if this man with an extremely high IQ in front of them was born for science.

The man didn't even notice Clarence's approach, and he was still focused on his research and lost in a state of self-absorption.

Clarence was in no hurry to disturb him and just watched Yale's research with interest, even though Clarence could not understand it at all. An hour passed just like that.

Yale retracted his gaze and heaved a sigh of relief.

Many numbers danced like gorgeous notes on the computer screen.

Then Yale sent the message.

At this moment, Yale noticed Clarence beside him.

Yale didn't say anything. Instead, he used his eyes to ask Clarence why he came to him.

"Mr. Mitchell, I know you're busy and I'm sorry to disturb you. But there's someone who brought me to tell you something"

After thinking about it, Clarence finally decided to tell Yale what Queen said.

Perhaps Clarence did this to please Queen,

Yule was the country's treasure, and the country would do anything to protect him.

It was impossible for Yale to stay in the No. 7 Scientific Research Organization forever.

If Queen joined, the No. 7 Scientific Research Organization would definitely gain a powerful helper and have a better future.

Although Clarence still had to investigate Queen's loyalty to the country, in fact, in his heart, he was already very much inclined to accept Queen.

Yale was silent for a moment

Then Yale took out a pen and wrote a word on the paper beside him for Clarence to see.

[Speak.]

Very few people knew about this habit of Yale.

Yale did not know how to speak.

No one had ever seen Yale speak.

Yale communicated with anyone by writing.

The doctor did a physical examination on Yale and found that there was nothing wrong with his vocal tract and his hearing was very good. No one could explain why Yale could not speak.

In addition, Yale was a research maniac with an IQ of 260.

Everyone thought that Yale was a cold blooded machine. When he saw other people, he didn't speak and was always expressionless.

It was so terrifying that even the cold aura on Yale's body was tinged with rational abstinence.

Clarence repeated Jane's words.

After listening, Yale, who had always been expressionless and whose eyes would only emit a burning glow when he was doing research, became excited for the first time

Yale quickly picked up a pen and wrote. [Where is she?]

Clarence was shocked "Mr. Mitchell, do you really know her?"

[Tell me quickly. This is very important. I have to see her!]

Yale's originally perfect and beautiful handwriting even became a little distorted in his excitement.

Clarence originally just wanted to give it a try, but he didn't expect that Jane was really related to Mr. Mitchell.

After thinking for a moment, Clarence nodded. "I understand, Mr. Mitchell. I'll arrange for the two of you to meet at the base."

This concerned Yale's safe. In order to ensure that nothing went wrong. Clarence could not let Yale go to Stormton City.

Then, Clarence could only let Jane come to the base.

The next day, when Jane woke up, she received a call from Joel

Joel told Jane about Yale's reply

Jane didn't expect things to develop so quickly.

Besides, from Yale's attitude, it seemed like he really knew where the teacher was Could he be the Yale mentioned by the teacher?

"My leader hopes that you can follow me to the base in Harbor City. By that time, he will arrange a meeting between you and Mr. Mitchell. "Queen, I wonder when you will be free..."

"Now!"

"Huh?"

Joel was a little dumbfounded.

But when Joel arrived at the airport, he saw that Jane had already packed her luggage and was ready to leave.

Jane even bought a plane ticket for Joel,

Joel was a little helpless. "Queen, actually, we don't have to be in such a hurry..."

"Joel, I know it's a little sudden, but Mr. Mitchell is very important to me. Maybe he's the person I've been looking for.

"I've been searching for him for many years, but I haven't found any clues. There were a few times when I was so desperate that I almost gave up.

"Now that I've finally found some hope, it's like a trace of light entering the dark world."

The metaphor was simple.

Joel immediately understood Jane's nervousness.

Because Jane who was in front of Joel had her eyes shining with unprecedented joy, hope, excitement, and other emotions

Joel nodded heavily. "Let's go, Queen!"

The plane to Harbor City set off.

After flying for three hours, Joel and Jane arrived at their destination.

Clarence arranged for a car to pick up Joel and Jane.

A strong man in a suit and sunglasses got out of the car. He looked like a bear and gave off a huge sense of oppression

Jane could smell a faint smell of blood from the man in front of her.

The man was not weak.

Needless to say, he was definitely a soldier who had gone to the battlefield and killed a lot of enemies.

Only then could he cultivate this chilling aura.

Im sorry, Queen, but we need to seize your communication device and search you.

"You have to be blindfolded on the way to the base"

Joel frowned slightly. "Tristin, there's no need to go so far, right?"

Tristin Zoe's hoarse voice was emotionless. "This is Mr. York's instructions. I'm only responsible for carrying out his orders."

"I got it."

Jane did not resist and handed over the communication device to Tristin directly. Then she went through the electronic sensor and took a body search.

After they confirmed that there was nothing unusual, Jane was blindfolded and got into the car.

They *toward the base.

"Queen, I'm sorry. Mr. York didn't tell me beforehand..."

"I know your intentions. After all, I'm here to see Mr. Mitchell. If I'm a bad person and somehow get hold of information that interests Mr. Mitchell, lure him to see me, and then do something evil..."

"If anything happens to Mr. Mitchell, it will be a huge loss to the country. You can't afford it. It's safer by doing so and you can trust me more. This is also what I hope."

No Way Back Chapter 105-When Joel listened to Jane's calm and unresisting words, he was instantly speechless. Queen being so reasonable made Joel appear to be a little overreacting.

Tristin's eyes flashed with admiration as he ***.

It was no wonder that Mr. York had his eyes set on a talent like Queen for a long time.

Just Jane's calmness and clarity of mind were enough to impress Tristin.

Tristin knew very well this was not an act.

They  for about an hour and a half, and the car stopped

Tristin brought Jane out of the car.

"Joel, go ahead and report your work. I'll take Queen on the rest of the way."

"Ah? But I..."

Joel wanted to say something else, but reason overcame emotion.

Joel had to complete his mission, so he could only watch Tristin and Jane leave.

They walked forward for about twenty minutes.

With a sound, the mechanical door opened.

Jane was brought inside by Tristin.

Then came the sound of the elevator coming.

It went down for about a minute, and the elevator stopped.

The door opened.

Jane seemed very calm the entire way

Tristin removed Jane's blindfold.

"I'm sorry, Queen. I'm on a mission. I hope you don't mind."

"I know."

Jane rubbed her arm and walked into the examination room ahead.

Countless red and green rays gathered on Jane.

Inside the examination room, the staff used iris detectors and magnetic resonance imaging to identify Jane and check her for contraband. After confirming that there were no problems, the mechanical door in front opened.

Jane walked in

It was a conference room with a long table, chairs, screens, surveillance cameras, television...

Besides, there was a green bonsai.

The lights were ***.

Just as Jane was sizing up everything, the door in front opened.

Clarence, who was wearing a military uniform, walked in.

Jane could tell at a glance that Clarence was not an ordinary person,

At the same time, Jane quickly flipped through the key information about Clarence in her brain.

Clarence extended his hand to Jane and smiled. "Nice to meet you, Queen,"

Jane held Clarence's hand and said indifferently, "Nice to meet you, Mr. York.

"Looks like you already know my information. Then I don't need to say anything else."

"To be honest, I'm surprised that the legendary number one hacker of the Darknet, Queen, is a nineteen-year-old sophomore.

"And you've been helping our scientific research organization solve problems for two to three years. It means that you were still in high school at that time, right?"

Clarence could not help but praise Jane.

Jane could no longer be called a young talent.

She was indeed a genius.

However, since Clarence had reached this position, he had seen too many geniuses.

Clarence was already used to it

Besides, right now, there was a genius in their base that was almost the same excellent as Jane.

“Mr. York, I really want to have a good chat with you, but now I want to meet Mr. Mitchell first...”

“That’s the most reason I’m here.”

Jane urged anxiously

Yale was really too important to Jane.

Jane had been searching for Yale for so many years and finally found some hope!

“I know, Queen. Mr. Mitchell thinks so too.

“Although I originally wanted you to meet Mr. Mitchell through a video call, Mr. Mitchell insisted on meeting you personally...”

After Clarence finished speaking, he turned around and walked out of the room.

Clarence looked at Yale, who was outside the room, and nodded at him.

“You can go in.”

With that, Clarence went to the surveillance room next door

Clarence reminded everyone to keep an eye on the surveillance video and pay special attention to Jane’s actions.

If there were any abnormalities, they would immediately stop this meeting.

“Mr. York, isn’t this too risky?”

Tristin stood where he was and frowned slightly.

“What if Queen is really hiding her identity and has malicious intentions...”

Clarence rubbed his temples. "I can't help it. I'm starting to regret telling Mr. Mitchell about Queen. Mr. Mitchell insisted on meeting Queen personally to talk to her. He even threatened me with the fact that if I don't let them meet, he won't do research anymore. What can I do?" "What?"

It was like a bolt of lightning striking Tristin's head.

In order to meet Queen, Yale, who had never shown any interest in anything other than research, even used such a threat.

What was their relationship?

At this moment, the surveillance video showed.

Yale walked to the door of the room, placed his hand on the door handle, and slowly opened it.

The hearts of Clarence and the others instantly jumped to their throats.

Jane was the same.

When Jane heard the door open, the nerves in her brain suddenly tightened.

Jane even held her breath.

Excitement, fear, worry, and all kinds of complicated emotions surged into Jane's heart again.

This was the same as how Jane felt when she first returned to the Fowler family back then.

Jane had thought that such feelings would never be born again in her life.

Unexpectedly, Jane could have such feelings again.

When Jane saw the man in the research suit entering the room, there was no special feeling in her heart.

Jane even wondered if she had found the wrong person.

Jane thought that Yale might be a relative of her teacher.

Therefore, Jane felt their brows and outlines might be somewhat similar.

However, Yale did not look like Jane's teacher at all.

The light of hope that had just been ignited dimmed in the blink of an eye.

Yale looked at Jane quietly, and in the end, he took a deep breath.

Yale took out his clipboard and started writing.

[You are indeed the teacher's apprentice.]

Jane was shocked.

When Jane saw Yale's clipboard, she could not help but be stunned.

After a while, Jane realized a possibility and spoke with a trembling voice, 'Are you my senior brother?'

[Yes, I was the teacher's first apprentice. The name, Yale Mitchel, was given to me by the teacher.

[I'm an orphan. I was brought up by the teacher and don't have a name. So, the teacher gave me a name with his surname] Perhaps it was the first time Yale had seen his junior sister, he wrote faster and faster, getting more and more excited.

This was the first time Yale became so talkative.

"My senior brother... Yale..."

Jane muttered in a daze.

This was the first time Jane knew that the teacher had other apprentices.

This was the first time Jane knew that she had a senior brother, and he was a very precious scientist for the country. Yale!

The next second, Jane's eyes turned red.

Jane raised her head and took a deep breath.

"Yale, have you never known of my existence?"

Yes...

[Other than the other senior and junior brothers, after so many years I've been separated from the teacher, I don't know the teacher even took in a female apprentice.]

Jane was pleasantly surprised. "There are other senior and junior brothers? How many?"

[I don't know the exact number. I haven't seen the teacher in many years.

[But the teacher gave us a special surname, Mitchell.

[The teacher traveled the world, adopted many orphans, and taught them. You are very lucky to have a name that belongs to you] "Is that so?"

Jane was a little disappointed.

It seemed that even Yale did not know where the teacher had gone.

This benefactor held the most important position in Jane's life.

But now that Jane knew that the teacher had other apprentices, and she even found her eldest senior brother, she already felt very lucky.

It seemed that when the heavens closed a door for Jane, a window quietly opened.

However, Jane did not yet realize it before, and she was deeply entangled in her family's hatred and could not extricate herself...

After that, Jane chatted a lot with Yale, including the matter of Jane learning from the teacher and what Yale had experienced with the teacher. Actually, Yale knew the teacher no more than Jane.

Jane summarized a few key information.

Firstly, the teacher liked to travel around the world. He had powerful abilities and was even a big shot with influences all over the world. Even Jane could not find any information or the whereabouts of the teacher.

Secondly, the teacher would take in apprentices, and most of them were orphans. The teacher did not give names to people like Jane, who had the name given by her original family. In most cases, the teacher named his apprentices after his surname, Mitchell.

Thirdly, all the teacher's apprentices were not ordinary people. For example, Yale was a genius with an IQ of 260, and Jane had the talent given. by Type Omega blood.

Fourthly, when the teacher felt that his apprentices were powerful enough, he would suddenly disappear without a trace. Besides, the teacher would not give them a chance to find him. As for what his apprentices would do in the future, the teacher would not interfere.

No, it wasn't accurate.

There was still some interference.

When the teacher was teaching Jane and Yale, he never forgot to emphasize his principle.

[Those who have great power are blessed by the heavens. You must be grateful, remember your original intention and duties, and do what you can for the country and its people.]

“Looks like the teacher is really a very mysterious person.

“I think he probably is still alive and well, just like when he adopted us.

“Either he travels the world, or he finds a new apprentice and nurtures him or her carefully”

“I was so worried that I almost went crazy when the teacher left without a word. The teacher is too much.

With that, Jane even wanted to cry

It had been a long time since Jane had such an impulse.

After being reborn, Jane swore never to cry again.

This time, for the teacher who was most important to her, Jane could help but want to cry but she could hold it for a while.

Seeing this, Yale pursed his lips.

Suddenly, Yale took the initiative to approach Jane.

Clarence and Tristin, who were watching everything in the surveillance room, instantly became nervous. “What is Mr. Mitchell trying to do?”

However, Yale reached out, pressed his hand on Jane’s head, and rubbed her head gently.

It was just like when Jane was sad back then, the teacher, who had always been strict, would silently appear in front of Jane, reached out, and gently stroke Jane’s head.

Jane’s tears finally burst out uncontrollably.

Jane threw herself into Yale’s arms and hugged him.

“Yale, I really miss our teacher...

"All these years, I've lost the most important kinship and almost lost myself. I've been living in pain and regret....

"I really want to see our teacher again!"

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 106

No Way Back Chapter 106-It was as if Jane wanted to vent the sadness, anger, and grievances she had accumulated for so many years in her previous life. Jane cried her heart out in Yale's arms.

Ever since Jane was reborn, she had never cried again

*Now, in the arms of Yale, her eldest senior brother, who Jane had finally found with great difficulty, she could finally cry so wantonly. In her previous life, Jane was hopelessly ****.*

In this life, Jane was reborn. She saw through everything and amazed everyone with her excellent talent.

But Jane was not a machine.

She was human, and she had emotions.

Jane was treated by the Fowler family.

It was precisely because they were related by blood, Jane could only counterattack with a powerful stance and hid all the pain in her heart

In order not to repeat the same mistake, to live like a human in this life, and not to be like a dog that wagged its tail for others' pity in her previous life, Jane had to do so.

But every time it was late at night, when Jane saw other people having fun, and she was alone, she would be lost in her thought.

Jane would wonder why her family was a group of demons

She would wonder why other people's families doted on their biological children so much.

She would wonder what kind of feelings parents, who had been persistent in searching for their missing child for more than ten years, had. Were they like Jack and Anna, who had reluctantly brought Jane back to the Fowler family just to not leave any regrets in their lives? They wouldn't

Because in order to find their missing child, parents gave up their entire lives.

They had done everything they could.

They were heartbroken and cried bitterly.

The Fowler family said that they had persisted for so many years to find Jane. Actually, with money and strength, what had Anna suffered in the process?

Most of the time, they spent money to find agencies to help search.

Because they had never suffered and had never experienced such heart-wrenching torture, they acted so high and mighty, acting like they were completely giving Jane charity

Instead, they blamed Jane for her not being able to endure it

In the face of all grievances, unfaleness, and even abuse, they all said that Jane was too weak to withstand little ordeal and could not compare to Madelyn at all!

Since some things were seen through, Jane became strong.

However, this did not mean that Jane would willingly accept all of this.

Jane would be indignant, too

Jane would think that if only the teacher hadn't left back then.

if the teacher hadn't left, when Jane knew that the Fowler family was a group of demons that would not accept her, she would definitely turn around and left without hesitation.

Jane would not give them a chance to hurt her.

"Mr. Mitchell!"

Clarence and Tristin rushed into the office nervously

However, Yale shot them a look

Yale gently hugged the girl in his arms, allowing her to find a suitable haven, and vented her tears wantonly.

Yale could feel the strong sadness emanating from Jane.

It was like a nightmare that had tortured this girl for too long

This time, Jane was Yale's family, his little junior sister

Even though the two of them had no emotional foundation, they could smell the same aurs from each other.

This feeling was very special.

Seeing that Yale had expressed his intention to stop them, Clarence and Tristin did not dare to go forward. They could only look at Jane and Yale nervously

In fact, Tristin's hand was already on the gun hanging from his waist.

Orice Jane did anything to harm Yale, he would be able to control Jane immediately.

If anything happened to Yale, it would be a huge loss to the country!

Jane quickly composed herself.

Jane lifted her head from Yale's arms and let go of him.

Jane grinned when she met Yale's worried gaze.

Tm sorry. Yale. I was too sad just now. I'm fine now

After Jane cried and vented, her mood was much better

Besides, now, Jane had found someone more important

Yale continued to stroke Jane's head, and then he wrote a few words on the clipboard

I'm here. Don't be afraid]

Jane said gratefully. "Thank you, Yale."

Then, Jane looked at the nervous Clarence and Tristin

"Don't worry I have no ill intentions toward Mr. Mitchell, although I know you won't believe me.

"I really did act inappropriately just now. Im sorry"

Jane bowed and apologized sincerely.

Clarence and Tristin were stunned.

Queen's attitude was so sincere

On the contrary, it seemed that the two of them had overreacted just now

Clarence gestured for Tristin to retract his gesture to counterattack

After all, Queen was a genius who was going to join the No. 7 Scientific Research Organization in the future

They could not afford to offend Jane

Clarence tried to smooth things over.

“Don’t get me wrong, Queen. After all, you know”

“I understand.”

A tense dispute was resolved just like that.

Yale started to write again.

[You get out]

It was rare for Yale to show an unhappy expression.

It was not easy for Yale to meet his junior sister, but these two people were here to disrupt their talk

It was so annoying

We...

Tristin glanced at Clarence inquiringly.

Clarence also hesitated

It was not an easy choice.

If something really happened to Yale, it would be hard for them to explain.

“It doesn’t matter, Yale. Let them stay here. Coincidentally, I have some questions to ask you.

“Yale, you can’t speak?”

This was Jane’s biggest concern.

Yale hesitated for a while and wrote something down.

[I can only talk to the teacher]

Clarence explained from the side, "Queen, we once did a full body checkup on Mr. Mitchell and found that his vocal functions are normal. He can hear our voices and understand words normally. However, for some reason, he can't speak

At that, Jane's heart skipped a beat.

Could it be Yale was the same as Jane who had a special blood type?

Yale had to endure such side effects because he obtained superhuman talent brought by this blood type.

However, Jane wasn't in a hurry to ask Yale about it

After all, Clarence and Tristin were here

If that was the case, this was indescribable privacy

They chatted for a while

Gradually, Clarence and Tristin became less nervous than just now

However, it was a problem that Mr. Mitchell paid so much attention to Jane

They were afraid that Mr. Mitchell would ask to be alone with Jane again

As expected, Yale wrote on the clipboard again.

[You get out. I have something to say to Jane alone.]

"Mr. York..."

Tristin looked at Clarence awkwardly.

Logically speaking, since Jane and Yale did not meet for such a long time, they should give them some time to stay together to chat. The reason why Jane could meet Yale so quickly was both due to Yale's request, and the intention of their No. 7 Scientific Research Organization wanting to curry favor with Jane.

If Jane continued to stay together with Yale, it would cross the line. Clarence felt his scalp go numb, and he didn't know what to do.

Jane could tell that Clarence and the others were in a difficult position, so she took the initiative to say, "Yale, I will come back tomorrow."

Yale expressed his reluctance with his eyes and said his thoughts with his eyes, "Janie, you don't have to care about them..."

Jane smiled and shook her head. "This is the dream that you fight for, Yale. I'm already very happy to be able to meet you. Tomorrow, could you give us more time to meet, Mr. York?"

"Of course."

Queen was so understanding that she helped Clarence resolve his current predicament.

Clarence still didn't agree, it wouldn't make sense.

Even though they didn't think Queen was hostile, and she seemed to be Mr. Mitchell's junior sister, there was always a small possibility. Queen had found out from some sources that Mr. Mitchell had a junior sister and deliberately approached him,

As long as there was such a possibility, Clarence could not allow such a situation to happen.

Yale was too important to the country and the scientific research organization.

If anything were to happen, Clarence would be a sinner for all eternity!

Yale pouted unhappily.

They had never seen Yale with such an expression.

In the past, in the eyes of Clarence and the others, Yale had always been expressionless. Other than when Yale was doing experiments, he was no different from a robot.

Now, because Yale had met his junior sister, Jane, he finally had some human emotions.

"Alright, Yale, I've applied for leave from the school recently, and I'll stay in Harbor City for the time being. We will have a lot of time to have a good chat.

"The point is we've already met. Then we won't let go of each other anymore."

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 107

No Way Back Chapter 107-After Jane finished speaking, she revealed a sunny and reassuring smile.

Jane tiptoed and touched Yale's head just like how Yale had comforted Jane just now.

This was learned from their teacher

In Jane's childhood, she felt uncertain and uneasy about the future.

Every time when Jane cried because the teacher's strict training made her so tired, there was always such a pair of gentle hands rubbing her little head.

It was as if it could crush all her uneasiness, making Jane feel warm and at ease in her heart.

This was a small secret between Vale and Jane.

Only then did Yale nod reluctantly

After they left the base, Tristin's gaze toward Jane changed.

"Queen, let me show you to the lounge at our base."

"That won't be necessary. Mr. York, after you've made the arrangements, ask Joel to give me a time to meet tomorrow. I prefer to be in the city. A cold research base like this isn't my preference."

If not for Yale's existence, Jane would not have come here at all.

Jane only wanted to help the research base complete the project research remotely through Andy as a middleman.

Although Jane intended to contribute to the country's development, she didn't want to be locked up in the base doing research day and night as if she didn't have freedom.

"Okay, I'll drive you out and I'll pick you up on time tomorrow"

"Thank you!"

Jane obediently covered her eyes to cooperate

Tristin for about an hour and arrived in the city.

Jane carried her suitcase and got out of the car. It was a five-star hotel

"I'll be fine on my own."

Tristin nodded silently, and then left

Jane entered the hotel, checked in, and directly booked a room for a month.

After Jane packed her luggage, Andy sent her a WeChat message.

“How is in? Is that Yale the person you want to see?”

“Yes, Andy”

Jane told Andy what had happened.

“Jane, congratulations. I can imagine how happy you were at that time!”

“It’s all thanks to you, Andy. If you hadn’t helped me in this matter, I still wouldn’t know that I had a senior brother. It turns out that my teacher is still living in a corner of this world. Thank you so much...”

“Alright, Janie, I’m tired of talking these words. Do you really want me to be angry? But you’re so beautiful. I love you very much. I don’t want to be angry with you. You’re really a bad woman.”

Jane smiled

After Jane chatted with Andy, night had fallen.

After sending a message to Lila, Jane decided to go for a meal.

Harbor City’s food was famous for its spiciness.

Jane arrived at a barbecue restaurant with the most positive reviews nearby and ordered some spicy barbecues.

Jane took a few photos and shared them with Andy, Lila as well as Hugh

After all, Hugh had helped Jane a lot to find herself.

In Jane’s heart, she no longer resisted Hugh’s approach as much as before.

Instead, Jane felt that even if the two of them could not form a contract, it would be good if they could continue to be friends.

It was a terrifying change of mind

But Jane did not think that this was a bad thing.

Andy and Lila had yet to reply

But Hugh replied to Jane at once. [Are you in Harbor City?]

Jane smiled and replied. [Yes, I’m here to meet a very important person. I found my senior brother today..]

Jane told Hugh what had happened,

Huh joked. [Should I say that I'm jealous?]

Jane couldn't help but roll her eyes. [Hugh, stop joking. That's my senior brother!]

Hugh was still a little unhappy. [But he is a man]

Jane was speechless.

Huh added. [However, I'll try my best not to be jealous.]

After saying that, Hugh also sent a few photos to Jane Jane clicked on them.

There were so many foreigners

It seemed like they were holding a celebratory party.

Jane praised. [Nice photos]

Hugh replied with a smile. [After you found yourself that night, I thought a lot. Maybe I have to change my lifestyle too] With that, Hugh added. [It's for you.]

Jane felt a little embarrassed [Alright, my spicy barb are about to be served. I'll eat first]

On the other side, when Hugh saw Jane feel embarrassed and "Looks like it still can't be in a so hurry.

"I still have a long way to go before I can gain Janis

Although Hugh said so, he couldn't help but smile.

favor."

ve again, his eyes dimmed.

At least compared to the beginning, their relationship had improved by leaps and bounds.

For the sake of Jane, Hugh even specially asked Connor and Robert how to please a woman.

At that time, Shaun and Robert were shocked.

They never imagined that such words would come out of Hugh's mouth.

Indeed, the world was unpredictable. One could really encounter anything after living for a long time.

According to their experience, Connor and Robert warned Hugh that Jane was definitely not a woman who could be conquered.

Jane had her own thoughts and powerful abilities.

When Hugh wanted to move such a woman, if he was too eager for quick success or did something overbearing and imprisoning, it would only have a strong backlash,

All in all, Hugh needed to plan his next move according to the circumstances.

After eating the barbecue, Jane went to the restroom and bumped into a familiar person.

The person was sending a message.

[Dwayne, you're in Harbor City too? I'm in a barbecue restaurant. I'll send you my location....]

Jane did not even notice who the person was

However, when they brushed past each other, the woman stopped in her tracks,

She clearly saw Jane and looked back in disbelief.

The woman looked a closer look and cried out in fear first, "It's you!"

The voice sounded very familiar.

Jane raised an eyebrow and looked at the vulgar woman in front of her who was dressed in branded clothes and had a strong perfume smell. Wasn't it Luna who was forced to kneel by Jane? Jane still kept that video now.

sat her old university.

It was no wonder that recently, Jane heard that Luna was not attending classes a

The hooligans who had interacted with Luna could not meet her even in the bar and the disco where she used to be.

It turned out that Luna came to Harbor City to hide from the scandal.

When Luna saw Jane, she remembered the day she lost a bet to Jane at the amusement park. At that time, Jane grabbed Luna's hair and forced her to bark like a dog.

Luna did not dare to call the police about it. If Jane was fearless and directly posted the video on a foreign website, it would be impossible to get rid of the traces.

Not only would Luna's life be ruined, but she might also be chased out of the Croft family. What was worse, Hugh would personally crush Luna to death

Because Dwayne and Peter did not get the video back, Luna remained in a extremely nervous and panicked state.

Luna was afraid that one day, Jane would suddenly post the video and ruin Luna's reputation.

Luna had already destroyed the surveillance video of the amusement park. She warned those who knew about this matter not to tell anyone about it, and she asked Madelyn and the others to keep it a secret.

For the time being, Luna's family did not yet know about this.

However, this matter would be exposed soon or later.

Jane's existence was a time bomb.

As long as Jane held the video, Luna would have to live in fear.

Luna's hair was falling off in large clumps, and she had dark circles under her eyes. She was haggard, and her thick makeup could not hide it.

If Luna continued to stay in Stormton City, she would go crazy. So, Luna could only find an excuse to apply for leave and go to Harbor City to relax.

It was not easy for Luna to feel less nervous.

However, today, Luna met Jane here again.

Did this demon want to pester Luna and never let go of her for the rest of her life?

Luna stared at Jane in fear and hatred.

Jane only smiled faintly, ignored Luna, and walked into the restroom.

Jane's reaction stunned Luna.

What was Jane trying to do?

What did Jane mean by smiling at Luna?

Even though Luna admitted that Jane was very good looking and looked extremely beautiful when she smiled, Jane's smile just now was a double torture to Luna's mind and body.

Could it be that when Jane bumped into Luna, she remembered the video of Luna's kneeling down and barking like a dog and wanted to post it? Could it be that Jane hadn't posted it before because she might have forgotten it?

Other than this explanation, Luna could not think of anything else.

After all, if Jane wanted to send Luna into the abyss, she only needed to click on the video one day.

Then, Luna would completely be finished,

At this moment, Luna's phone rang.

It instantly made Luna jump up like a frightened bird.

A thin layer of cold sweat appeared on Luna's forehead.

With trembling hands, Luna took out her iPhone with colorful stickers on it.

"Luna, where did you go? You went to the restroom and disappeared for so long. Did anything happen to you?"

There was laughter on the other end of the phone.

It was Luna's bad friends in Harbor City

*They were all a *of and incompetent rich second-generation heirs.

A glint suddenly appeared in Luna's eyes.

Luna glanced at the restroom behind her.

"Fiona, I happen to need your help. This is very important to me. Whether I will live or die depends on you..."

No Way Back Chapter 108-Jane came out of the restroom, and Luna was nowhere to be seen

With Luna's personality, it was very strange for her to not chase Jane to the restroom to ask about the video

Jane was a little surprised, but she did not take this little episode to heart

From Luna's frightened expression, it was clear that she was terrified.

In order to cover up her hair loss, Luna even used a wig

Even the heavy makeup on Luna's face could not hide her haggard face and bloodshot eyes

Jane's plan was quite a success

It seemed that the horror brought by slicing one's flesh one by one was definitely many times heavier than directly beheading him

After Jane finished eating the barbecue, she paid the bill and walked out of the barbecue restaurant

Jane was wondering when Joel would send her a message so that she could meet Yale tomorrow.

At this moment, Jane seemed to have sensed something.

Then, there was a slightly cold smile on Jane's face.

Jane would just treat it as exercise after dinner.

Jane wasn't in a hurry to take out her phone. She put her hands in her pockets and casually picked a direction to walk in

The further Jane walked, the fewer people there were, and the dimmer the streetlights grew.

There were not even surveillance cameras.

Jane walked into a small alley, faced forward, and stood still

Then, Jane turned around and saw a group of people following behind.

Jane maintained her posture with her hands in her pockets. Her expression did not change as she hid in the darkness. Then Jane slightly "What can I do for you?*

Luna walked out from the crowd. When she saw that Jane had expected this, her heart skipped a beat. "Jane, did you already know that we were following you?"

"Of course. With that lame tracking technique, do you think I'm deaf and can't hear your footsteps?"

"You have guts"

Fiona Simon walked to Luna's side and put her arm around Luna's shoulder. In her other hand, Fiona held a lady's steel rod that was specially used for fighting

Since you know that we have our eyes on you, why did you deliberately come to such a place? Are you a fool?*

There's no surveillance camera or any people. No one can save you even if you scream your lungs out."

After saying that, Fiona snapped her fingers.

Then, a few more men with malicious intentions and weapons appeared.

They stared at Jane greedily.

"Fiona, this chick's figure is not bad.

"Her skin is so fair and she's so good-looking. Her long hair must be very comfortable to the touch."

Luna composed herself. "Jane, you can't escape now. Hand over the video at once!"

Jane blinked innocently. "Video? What video?"

"You!"

"Oh, it's that video where you kneel down and bark like a dog

"I'm sorry. A lot of things have happened recently, causing my mind to be a little confused, and I couldn't remember for a moment." Fiona stared at Luna beside her in surprise

"Luna, what's going on? Did you kneel down and bark like a dog? Is it true what she said?"

"No! This woman in front of me forced me to do it!"

Luna was so angry that she gritted her teeth.

If looks could kill, Jane would have died tens of thousands of times by now.

Jane must have said it on purpose. Jane clearly remembered everything! Jane just wanted to embarrass Luna in front of her friends!

“No wonder you refused to tell me what video it was. It’s so shameful. You can even do such an embarrassing thing”

Fiona immediately felt that Luna was not good enough to be her friend. However, Luna relied on the Croft family in Stormton City and had a very outstanding brother, Layne. So, it would do good for Fiona if she did Luna a favor.

Perhaps Fiona would become Luna’s sister-in-law in the future as long as Luna could help make a match for Fiona and Luna’s brother. With this video, Fiona would have something on Luna and could threaten her. Then, Fiona was not afraid that Luna would dare to disobey.

If Fiona could marry into the Croft family, she would have a new life, being able to enter the aristocratic circle and gain a high status and a lot of money. Thinking of it, Fiona ignored Luna’s embarrassed expression, looked at Jane, and said, “But since it was you who forced my friend to do it, and I knew this matter now, you have to hand over the video obediently.”

“I’m sorry. That video is not in my hands now. I’ve already handed it to my friend, I even specially reminded him that if I don’t send a message to him every twelve hours, he needs to help me post the video on the foreign website.

1110/7

“At that time, your reputation will be ruined, Luna. Oh, let me remind you one thing. Hmm, there are only twenty minutes left. If I don’t reply to him, he will post the video.”

“What?”

Luna instantly became anxious

“Jane, how could you give that video to someone else!”

“Also, I have to correct you. What did you mean by forcing you to do it back then? You clearly lost to me in archery and fulfilled the bet. Forcing a piece of trash like you? I, Jane, am not that unclassy!”

At Jane’s words, Luna’s face turned pale.

What should Luna do now? Originally, Luna thought that by telling Fiona and finding someone to block Jane, she could get the video back. Right now, Jane had given the video to someone else. Once the time was up, it would be automatically posted on the Internet. At that time, Luna's life would be ruined

At this time, Fiona smiled.

"Looks like you're quite fearless. No wonder you deliberately walked into such an alley after knowing that we were following you. You're not afraid at all. Jane, are you sure you won't take out your phone to reply to your friend first?"

"Okay, since you don't want, we're going to do something. Guys, undress this woman. Let's make a video and defeat her with her way" Fiona had been dealing with gangsters for so long, and she had experienced a lot of things.

Someone like Luna, who was always fooling around and was so outside, would definitely be at a disadvantage sometimes. Not everyone would be afraid of the Croft family's power, let alone Luna was just a daughter of the second branch of the Croft family!

If Luna encountered some drunkards, probably they would punch her directly without thinking!

Naturally, Fiona knew how to deal with this matter

When Luna heard this, she was delighted.

"That's right. By the way, Fiona, remove this woman's clothes. Let's also take a video and threaten her. I don't believe she won't hand over the video by that time!"

"Come on, you guys!"

When the men who were still hesitating received Fiona and Luna's orders, they immediately approached Jane with obscene expressions "Little girl, don't move. Otherwise, we're afraid of accidentally hurting you"

"It be over soon. We are all very gentle. We'll definitely film you beautifully."

"We might even play with you and leave you an unforgettable night."

with this group of lascivious men approaching. Jane laughed instead. "Sure."

At that moment, the moonlight shone into the alley and landed on Jane, coating Jane with a holy and inviolable glow.

Jane's black hair danced in the wind, and her brows were slightly raised. Her eyes were as calm as water

Jane smiled slightly, as beautiful as a flower.

The lascivious men were all intoxicated by Jane's pretty smile.

Previously, because they were too far away, and it was too dark here, they only knew that Jane was quite pretty.

However, they did not expect her to be so beautiful

Jane was so beautiful that it made their heart burst with joy.

"What are you waiting for? Hurry up to grab her and take off her clothes!"

Fiona was furious when she saw that her lackeys had been charmed by Jane.

Only then did this group of lascivious men regain their rationality

The next second, there was a crack

It was as if the sound of an egg shattering rang out

No one knew what had happened.

The lascivious man who was closest to Jane covered his crotch and knelt on the ground.

He was so painful that his facial features were contorted, and he could not even scream.

*Holy ***!*

Was that sound just now the sound of testes shattering?

The men present instantly tensed up.

It looked like the man was in great pain, Could it be that his testes were really broken, and his happy future life was ruined?

'Since you don't come over, then I'll go over,' Jane said calmly.

Jane took the initiative to walk toward this group of lascivious men,

These lascivious men instantly came back to their senses. "You , how dare you to hurt my buddy!"

They picked up their weapons and were about to attack Jane.

In the end, Jane raised her leg and kicked.

At the same time, a few figures instantly flew out, hitting the wall and the ground.

And then they fell hard, the weapons in their hands falling to the ground, and kept moaning and groaning.

However, Jane did not stop.

One kick after another, Jane stepped hard on their testes.

It was so painful that they couldn't even scream before getting fainted directly.

Then, Jane looked at the stunned Luna and Fiona.

I'm sorry. I'm a vengeful person. They just said that they wanted to take off my clothes, took a video, and played with me.*

"I understand their thoughts. All men love playing, after all. So, I had a good time playing with them just now. I think they will never forget it for the rest of their life.

"As for you two..."

When Jane said, she wore a bloodthirsty smile.

"I thought they would help me with my after-dinner exercises and help with digestion.

"However, in the end, they're all trash. They're too weak."

No Way Back Chapter 109-What do you want?"

Fiona's voice trembled non stop

God, this wasn't a movie

Did such a terrifying woman really exist in this world?

Just like the protagonists in the movies who were highly skilled in martial arts, Jane could send a person flying with only one kick

Although these men didn't learn any martial arts, they were men and hooligans after all.

They fought a lot, and more importantly, they even had weapons.

Jane, who looked like a weak woman without any strength to resist, actually kicked them half to death in a few seconds and crippled them?

"I told you I'm a vengeful person. I like to do what others want to do to me.

"Since you want to strip me naked and take a video, I'll fulfill your wish," Jane said as she approached Fiona

Jane's voice was very soft, but it rang loudly in Luna and Fiona's ears like a death knell, which was very oppressive

Luna was so scared that she could not move or think.

This feeling was just like what she had at the amusement park

Jane grabbed Luna's hair and took a video back then, and Luna did not have the strength to resist at all

At that moment, someone suddenly pushed Luna's back hard.

"Go to hell,"

Luna staggered and pounced toward Jane.

At the same time, Fiona threw the weapon in her hand in the direction of Jane.

Then, Fiona turned around and ran.

Fiona did not expect to meet such a tough guy today. She had miscalculated!

Now, for her, running away was the best option!

The steel rod in Fiona's hand was firmly caught by Jane.

Then Jane kicked Luna, who had pounced on her, to the side.

"It's bad behavior to throw things around."

With that, Jane's figure flashed

Fiona was already running with all her might, however, unexpectedly. Jane was so fast.

Jane reached out and grabbed Fiona's hair.

"Ah! Let go of me!"

Fiona screamed in pain.

The next second, there was a crackle.

The bones in Fiona's right leg were smashed heavily by the steel rod, and it broke instantly.

"Ah!"

Fiona's eyes were bloodshot as she screamed.

The pain spread throughout her body, almost killing Fiona

The next second, Fiona's hair was grabbed by Jane, and stepped on the ground.

ww

Jane threw away the steel pipe in her hand and took out the knife that she had just got from the lascivious man,

After a few clicks, Jane stripped Fiona naked.

Actually, Fiona, who was an and incompetent rich second-generation heir who liked to fool around, was often dressed very little This saved Jane a lot of time.

Jane took out her phone, aimed it at Fiona, and started filming.

"What do you want to do? Don't! Dont..."

Fiona realized something and quickly struggled, covering her face with her hands.

In the end, Jane stepped on Fiona's hand brine directly.

Another cracking sound came out.

Fiona was in so much pain that she started foaming at the mouth.

After filming the video, Jane posted it on the foreign website.

"You're going to be famous now, but you don't have to thank me. It's nothing."

Once Jane finished dealing with Fiona, she looked at Luna, who was clutching her wound and desperately crawling away in the opposite direction from where Jane was Right now, Luna could no longer care about the video or her dignity.

Demon!

Jane was definitely a demon who walked the world in human skin!

Otherwise, there was no way to explain Jane's powerful abilities and various actions

Luna was filled with regret

If Luna had known that Jane was such a terrifying person, at that time, she should not have helped Madelyn and provoked Jane. Instead of helping Madelyn, Luna even dragged herself into a lot of trouble.

While Jane was busy dealing with Fiona and had no time to pay attention to her, Luna had to quickly escape.

If Luna fell into the hands of the demon, Jane, she would die without a burial place.

Unexpectedly. Jane did not catch up and still stood where she was as if she was watching a dying rat making its final struggle silently

When Luna was about to get up and leave Jane's line of sight, Jane shouted, "It's almost time. The video will probably be uploaded to the foreign website.

"I really want to see your father and Aunt Diane's expressions when the time comes. They will definitely be very interesting"

These words were like a binding spell that Jane cast on Luna

Luna's heart instantly sank,

So what if Luna ran away now?

The most lethal video was still in Jane's hand.

As long as Jane did not let Luna off, Luna would not have a good life in this life.

Being chased out of the Croft family and losing wealth was a light punishment.

If Hugh pursued the matter, Luna would become shark food.

Luna immediately crawled back to Jane and cried bitterly, "Jane, I know I was wrong. I won't do it again. I beg you-Please spare me. Just this once, I won't dare to do it again!"

"You won't dare to do it again? I don't think you will obey your words. Luna, I've treated you quite well. Although I filmed a video to record you doing something so embarrassing, I didn't yet post it online. But how did you treat me?"

"When we met in another city, it doesn't matter you didn't greet me. But you even sent someone to follow me and want to take a video of me naked. Are you bullying me? You won't dare to do it again? I think you will dare to do something worse!"

Jane stared at Luna in contempt.

"Also, you don't look like you're begging me. Kneel now!"

Then, Jane directly kicked Luna's knees

Luna's knees hurt, and she fell to her knees uncontrollably.

Luna trembled in front of Jane, and her tears and snot squeezed into a ball.

The dignity and pride of the daughter of the Craft family were gone.

Now, Luna was just a pitiful woman.

"I'm begging you, Jane. You really can't post that video online. Otherwise, my life will be over..."

"I beg you. I can do anything you want, as long as you don't let your friend post the video..."

When Luna realized that she had become food for the spider web and could not move, Luna started kowtowing and begging Jane. Every kowtow produced a heavy sound.

Soon, Luna's forehead was dripping with blood.

"My shoes are dirty from teaching your friend a lesson.

"Luna, help me lick it clean"

Luna stared at Jane in a daze as if she had misheard.

Jane's eyes were cold. "Why? Don't you want to lick it clean for me? Forget it. I'll just post the video..."

"No! I lick it! FE"

In the face of wealth and his dignity, Luna decisively chose the former

Luna really licked Jane's shoes.

Jane could not help but laugh mockingly.

Then, Jane took out her phone and took a video of this comical scene.

In the end, Jane added teasingly, "Luna, you truly have no dignity at all."

*In the face of Jane's humiliation, Luna could no longer fight back. Right now, Luna only wanted to get rid of the demon Jane as soon as possible. Jane, I've already done what you asked me to do. I've already licked your shoes clean. Please, let me go...

"Alright, then I won't post the video of you kneeling and barking like a dog."

"Really?"

Luna was delighted.

This way, Jane would have a chance to survive, and she wouldn't be chased out of the Croft family.

In Luna's heart, licking Jane's shoes clean was nothing.

Jane took the phone and casually operated it a few times.

Jane sent the video of Luna licking Jane's shoes to Luna's father, Raymond, and Luna's mother, Diane.

As the number one hacker of the Darknet, it was not difficult for Jane to get the mobile numbers of Raymond and Diane with virtual numbers.

Then, Jane put her phone back into her pocket and left while humming a tune, ignoring Luna, who was still immersed in happiness and thought that she had gotten rid of her nightmare.

Jane did not feel guilty at all

Instead, she felt the pleasure of revenge.

Jane just used Luna's method to take revenge on Luna.

In Jane's previous life, the things Luna did to Jane were still vivid in Jane's mind.

One of them was that Luna deliberately deceived Jane, saying at a banquet that Jack and Anna wanted Jane to dance.

Jane believed it and really went up to dance. However, little did Jane know that it was a prank game, and she was splashed with a bucket of chicken blood.

Everyone laughed, but Jane was embarrassed.

Jane stood on the stage with a pale face. Like a clown, she was being mocked by everyone and had nowhere to hide.

Seeing that Jane was humiliated in public like that, Jack was so angry that he slapped Jane hard.

Jane fell onto the stage and spat out blood.

Anna watched coldly from the sidelines. Jane's seven brothers ignored Jane and pulled Madelyn away directly.

It was as if they did not know Jane.

At that time, Luna held her stomach and said something smugly to Raymond and Diane. Luna laughed so hard that tears almost fell from her eyes.

To this day, Jane still remembered.

Destroying Luna was not enough.

Toward the humiliation Jane suffered in her previous life, Jane wanted Luna to pay for it with the price of suffering a fate worse than death! At this moment, there was the sound of hurried footsteps.

"Luna, where are you?"

Around the corner, a man bumped into Jane.

"It's you!"

City Since Luna

After all, it could be said that Luna was Dwayne's second younger sister When Dwayne arrived at the location of the barbecue restaurant that Li be seen. They did not reply to Dwayne s messages or pick up his calls, so Dwayne had a bad feeling about this remized that Luna and the others were nowhere to After asking the shopkeeper to check the surveillance video, Dwayne found out the direction they had left in and chased after them. However, in the end, Dwayne bumped into Jane here

The bad feeling came true!

"Jane, where are Luna and the others? What did you do to them? Dwayne spoke nervously

Jane appeared in the direction where Luna left

Dwayne knew how strong Jane's battle power was

If Jane attacked Luna, Luna would not be able to resist at all and would be defeated directly!

"Do I know you? Don't pretend to be familiar with me Get lost

Why was Dwayne so confident? Did he think that Jane had to answer him just because he asked?

Jane was already unhappy to see Luna, the annoying person, but she even met Dwayne, this idiotic piece It was so unlucky!

Jane's eyes were filled with contempt. She put her hands in her pockets and was about to walk past Dwayne Seeing the contempt in Jane's eyes, Dwayne clenched his fists as if a nerve had been stimulated.

"Jane you. How can you talk to me like this? I'm your brother"

Jane originally wanted to ignore Dwayne, however, Dwayne actually dared to say such shameless words.

At that, Jane's eyes suddenly turned cold.

"You can do whatever you want, but you can't spout nonsense. Do you think you're worthy of being my brother? it is so funny!!

Jane turned around and looked at Dwayne. She sized Dwayne up from head to toe.

"Your recovery ability is not bad. The last time I beat you up, you were like a dog on the verge of death. It's only been a few days, and you're already full of vigor..."

When Dwayne heard Jane's words, his expression stiffened. He instantly felt a faint pain from the hidden injuries on his body that had yet to recover, causing him to frown

The last time, Dwayne did not have the strength to resist at all in face of Jane's attack. His every move was seen through by Jane, and he was beaten like a sandbag by Jane. This was the greatest humiliation Dwayne had suffered since he started fighting!

"Jane, don't be smug I was just being careless back then..."

"Really?"

Jane couldn't help but laugh.

The next second, Jane kicked out directly

Jane was so fast that she turned into an afterimage in the air

There was even the sound of air exploding.

Dwayne's heart skipped a beat

He did not expect Jane to make a move at this moment

Dwayne instinctively wanted to dodge Jane's attack, and yet, Jane's kick suddenly stopped

***!

In a moment, Dwayne's heart almost stopped beating

It was a fake move

The next second, Jane punched the right side of Dwayne's face.

Dwayne staggered a few steps back

Half of Dwayne's face was numb, and he could feel a thick taste of blood in his mouth.

Jane was not in a hurry to attack again.

Instead, Jane looked at Dwayne as if she was looking at trash

"Dwayne, you call this you being careless? Trash is trash. What right do you have to make excuses for your incompetence?"

Dwayne explained in a panic, "I just haven't recovered from my injuries, and you ambushed me just now!"

"It's so funny. Could it be that when you're competing your opponent will show mercy because your injuries haven't recovered and give you the championship belt?"

"Ambush? When you are so close to the person you hate the most and can't wait to kill, shouldn't you be fully vigilant to prevent her from suddenly attacking?"

"People like you can only take part in some boring games. If you really go to the battlefield, you'll die countless times."

Jane was amused by Dwayne

It seemed that the World Wrestling Entertainment Tournament in this world was really worthless now

How could someone like Dwayne win the championship belt?

In the face of Jane's humiliation, Dwayne was so angry that he gritted his teeth.

And yet, Dwayne was powerless to refute

Because Jane was right.

What Jane said was the truth.

When Dwayne approached Jane just now, he was vigilant

Even though Jane attacked suddenly, Dwayne was still able to react and confident that he could dodge this attack.

However, Dwayne was still hit by Jane and was in such a sorry state.

Dwayne found excuses for herself weakly.

Dwayne just wanted to find an excuse to comfort his remaining self-esteem.

If not for such an environment...

If it was in the competition arena...

If Dwayne's injuries recovered

If all these ifs were true, Dwayne would definitely be able to defeat Jane.

But they were just all kinds of excuses used to comfort Dwayne.

Dwayne didn't want to accept losing to his younger sister, whom he looked down on so much, with such a gap that was close to despair! Jane ignored Dwayne, the poor man, and left if Jane hadn't heard this piece of trash called himself Jane's brother, which made Jane about to vomit, she really didn't want to waste time on Dwayne.

It would be much nicer than it to stroll around the scenery of Harbor City, eat snacks on the street, drink coffee, and eat delicacies while waiting for Joel's message.

There were so many beautiful things waiting for Jane to do.

As for the Fowler family, if Jane played with trash for too long, she would also *****!

Dwayne could only watch as Jane left.

Dwayne clenched his fists, slowly got up, and made up his mind.

After Dwayne's injuries healed, he would definitely challenge Jane to a fight

No matter what the outcome was, Dwayne would no longer need to find any excuses.

If he lost, so be it. However, Dwayne did not want to lose to Jane without making sufficient preparations!

At this moment, there was a scream.

It was Luna's voice!

Dwayne's heart tightened. He ignored the damage that Jane had dealt and rushed over

"Luna, where are you?"

When Dwayne finally found Luna, Luna was leaning against the wall with a pained expression on her face.

At the same time, many people were still lying on the ground, including Fiona, who had been stripped naked

Dwayne did not have time to ask what had happened. He quickly went to Luna and asked with concern, "Luna, are you alright? This was all done by Jane?"

However, when Dwayne mentioned Jane, Luna could not help but tremble like a mouse that had seen a cat. "Dwayne, don't mention Jane anymore. I don't want to hear this person's name again."

"Okay. I won't mention her anymore. God, your injuries are so serious. I'll send you to the hospital quickly "

"Thank you, Dwayne Please quickly take me away from here."

"Then, what about these people..."

Dwayne glanced at the unconscious hooligans on the ground who seemed to be on the verge of death. "Ignore them. I don't know them."

Actually, Luna and Fiona were always fake friends.

Besides, just now, Fiona even pushed Luna out to attack Jane and wanted to take the chance to escape

Based on Lunas personality, it was already a great kindness that Luna did not kick Fiona a few times when Fiona fainted

After all, Jane had filmed a video of Fiona. It could be said that Fiona's life was already ruined.

Dwayne himself could not leave with so many people, so he could only help Luna leave first.

Once they left the alley, Luna asked, "Dwayne, how did you find this place?"

"When I arrived at the location of the barbecue restaurant that you sent, I realized that you weren't there. I asked the restaurant owner to check the surveillance video and found out that you came this way..."

Dwayne could roughly guess the situation.

It must be that Luna and her friends bumped into Jane and wanted to find Jane to get the video.

With Jane's strength, it was not difficult for her to know that someone was following her. Then, Jane deliberately lured them into that small alley.

The reason why Jane did it was just to retaliate against Luna and the others.

Just as Dwayne was about to call a taxi to take Luna to the hospital, Luna's phone rang.

"It's my mom..."

Luna pursed her lips.

Jane had already promised Luna that she would not expose the video of Luna kneeling and barking like a dog.

Suppressing her pounding heart, Luna answered the phone.

Just as Luna was about to smile and pretend to be fine to greet her mother, an angry shout came out.

"Luna! What the hell did you do? Why is there a video of you licking someone's shoes like a dog?"
