No Way Back Chapter 140-Jane said in a harmless tone.

Jane looked very innocent.

Layne did not need to turn around to know that Jane was actually extremely ***.

Gritting his teeth, Layne suddenly got up. Ignoring the broken glass on his knees, Layne stumbled away. with Madelyn in his arms.

Hugh, Connor, and Robert were there to protect Jane. Even if Layne stayed there, he wouldn't be able to defend Madelyn and himself.

Layne and Madelyn would only be trampled on by Jane even more.

A good man does not fight with a woman!

Layne and Madelyn left.

Only then did Jane feel that the air was much fresher.

Lila hugged Jane happily. "Janie, you did so well at torturing those just now! I was so excited. just watching it!"

If it was someone else, Lila might think that they had gone too far.

But Jane was to deal with an angelic and a , the two most creatures in Lila's opinion.

The way Jane did it was too satisfying.

Even Lila felt that it was not enough.

"Jane, impressive."

Connor and Robert silently gave Jane a thumbs up.

Jane smiled. "It's rare to have you guys backing me up. Madelyn and Layne are looking for trouble again. It's a pity if I don't teach them a good lesson."

Connor and Robert were all speechless.

Was Jane telling the truth?

Jane showed different kinds of abilities.

Even without the support of the three of them, it should be hard if Jane wanted to torture Madelyn and Layne to death.

Instead, it should be a piece of cake.

Hugh leaned to Jane and asked softly, "Is your hand sore?"

There was a cold * intent hidden in Hugh's eyes.

Hugh was tired of the two fleas.

But they were Jane's prey.

As a hunter, Hugh understood the joy of hunting.

It was something that could not be replaced.

"They are fine."

"Shall I rub your hands for you?"

"Oh no, there are so many people watching!"

Jane coughed lightly.

Hugh heard Jane say this.

And Hugh was delighted.

At least Jane didn't reject Hugh outright.

It was shyness.

In other words, things would be different if other people, such as Connor, were not there.

Jane would probably be willing to let Hugh rub her hands.

After this incident, everyone who was eating barbecue on the second floor ran away in fear.

The restaurant's staff came up to clean up the mess on the ground and served Jane and the others in fear.

Lila was a little worried. "Janie, we sure feel good. But if today's big incident is spread..."

"Don't worry. With the three big shots around, it won't spread."

"What's more, the and bootlicker duo won't publicize such an embarrassing matter. They can only it up."

Just Hugh was powerful enough to cover the whole thing.

Needless to say, there were also Connor and Robert. They had enough power to control the entire media.

Even if Madelyn and Layne wanted to fight back.

It was nothing more than throwing an egg at a rock.

In order to protect their current wealth, Layne and Madelyn would never try to offend Hugh and the others.

Lila nodded.

Lila had yet to learn about such a deep connection web.

Lila knew that there were some people in this world that others could never offend.

Those people.

Those people were right beside Lila now.

After dinner.

Jane originally wanted to send Lila back, and she say goodbye to Hugh and the others.

Jane hasn't spoken.

"Ah, Janie, I suddenly remembered that I still have something to do. I'll leave first."

Lila put her palms together, put on an apologetic look, and slipped away.

"Oh, oh, oh! I also remembered that I have something to do, right? Robert."

Connor pulled Robert and insinuated with his eyes.

"That's right. I still have to go back to the office to deal with some matters. Hugh, see you tomorrow."

How could Robert not know about Connor and Lila's intentions? Robert nodded and slipped away.

In an instant, only Jane and Hugh were left.

"I'll send you back."

Hugh spoke.

It was not a question.

It was an affirmative statement.

Connor and the others, the third wheels, were gone. Hugh and Jane were left alone.

It had been a long time.

Hugh wanted to see Jane more and talk to Jane.

"I just ate. I don't want to go back. Let's take a walk."

"I'm just afraid that you don't like this kind of cheap neighborhood. It's noisy and ***."

"As long as you're around, it doesn't matter where we go."

Hugh's words of love were always so serious and straightforward.

It was as if his words came from the bottom of Hugh's heart, and he did not hide it.

Jane was stunned.

The next moment.

Jane's heart warmed.

Was this the feeling of being undoubtedly chosen by someone?

It was a nice feeling.

Once upon a time, Jane had disrespected herself so much that she had forgotten this feeling. Jane was fortunate.

There was a chance for her to get it back.

"There are quite a lot of people. Mr. Croft, don't get lost. With your looks, I won't be surprised that you are eaten alive by other women."

Jane led Hugh through the downtown area to a park..

The park was quiet. There were couples walking around.

Jane and Hugh's appearance in the park attracted everyone's attention..

A handsome man and a beautiful woman were always pleasing to the eye.

The pair of lovers like Jane and Hugh seemed like they should not have appeared in the mortal world. They were like angels who only existed in heaven.

Hugh did not care about the gazes of the surrounding people..

Now, in Hugh's eyes, thousands of beautiful women were inferior to a strand of hair from the person. beside him.

It turned out that this feeling really existed in this world.

A beloved one by one's side.

It was worth more than all the treasures in the world.

Hugh was not interested in anything else at all.

In Hugh's heart, the person beside him was more precious than the entire world.

Hugh said gently, "I didn't expect you to have such a good temper."

"Huh? Are you referring to the incident where I kicked the of the and bootlicker just now?"

Jane stood still and looked back at Hugh.

The night wind blew, and the forest rustled.

The dim street lamp fell on Jane's fair and beautiful face, making her look rather otherworldly.

There were butterflies in the lovers' chests.

"Yes."

"Queen of the Darknet. I heard that she will seek revenge for the smallest grievance and return it a hundredfold."

"I thought cockroaches like them who like to provoke you would be easily trampled to death by you. I didn't expect you to give them so many chances to jump around."

Hugh narrowed his eyes.

Hugh looked puzzled.

If Jane wanted to eliminate the entire Fowler family, it would be a little troublesome.

However, it was easy for Jane to make a certain irksome person disappear.

Not destroying the entire Fowler family was Jane's last bit of leniency toward family relations.

However, Madelyn and Jane were not related by blood.

Not to mention Layne.

Jane should not have shown mercy to the two of them.

Jane smiled.

Jane's red lips curled up slightly.

"Hey, Hugh, do you believe in foresight and the future?"

Jane's voice was very soft.

It was as if Jane was talking about a mysterious thing.

"Since you say so, I'll believe you."

No Way Back Chapter 142-Since Layne refused to say anything, the doctor had to fall silent.

He enjoined Layne to rest well since his injury would probably take a few days to recover, and before that, he couldn't walk normally

Layne panicked at that "A few days? I thought it would only take one or two days! I gotta go back to work. And my parents, what should I say to them? Do something, doctor, get me a solution to recover as soon as possible!"

"If you insist, sir, we can only give you an injection. However, it will affect your health, I'm afraid... So i think you'd better have a good rest now."

Layne didn't respond.

He took a deep breath and restored his peace.

"Alright. How's little doing, then?"

The doctor secretly heaved a sigh of relief, cheering that Layne did not persist willfully.
"Miss Madelyn. is fine, but like you, she needs quiet rest..."

"I see. Come closer. I'll tell you something. You'll pretend..."

He said it under his breath.

Let's get back to Madelyn.

As no one was around, there was finally no need for her to fake tears.

She gripped the phone in her hand tightly.

Her foot had undergone surgery and was bandaged.

The pain came over her in waves.

However, she couldn't say anything about it.

Even though she wanted to exaggerate and make the Fowlers resent Jane and *that
. And it would get Hugh and the others involved.

Even if Madelyn said it, the Fowler family couldn't seek justice for her.

Those were, after all, the three richest families that even the Fowler family did not dare to offend.

She thought of the damage that Hugh had caused her and the scene of Connor and the others gathering around Jane.

Mixed feelings crossed her mind.

They were laughing so happily.

"Are they really that close?" she wondered.

Why?

Why could Jane get the attention of these men so easily?

She was doted on by the Fowler family and had received the most aristocratic education.

Being a peerlessly elegant and beautiful lady, she, not Jane, should be the one surrounded by Hugh, Connor, and Robert.

But why was it Jane?

“God, did you make a mistake?”

The more she thought about it, the more she was overwhelmed by jealousy.

It gradually grew and surged inside her.

Eventually, the waves of jealousy became unstoppable.

The veins on her forehead were bulging.

“Jane Fowler...” she gritted.

“I could forgive anyone, but not you, never!

“Between you and me, only one person will survive in this world.

“And it will be me!

“Go to *! You *!” she thought.

Madelyn’s eyes were filled with desperate coldness and madness.

With trembling hands, she picked up her phone and dialed a number.

Soon, the call was connected.

A playful male voice sounded. “Miss Madelyn, welcome.”

“I want 3 million this time.”

In order to set Jane up at the international competition, Madelyn needed money urgently.

The pocket money given by the Fowler family was far from enough.

And if she was to borrow money from Layne, it would easily arouse suspicion.

To get money quickly in a short period of time, she had to resort to this.

"Of course, Miss Madelyn, as long as you give me some information about the Fowler family, like its recent business moves.

"And then 3 million dollars will be transferred to your card immediately."

"Deal. I'll send you a proposal I recently saw in daddy's study."

After hanging up, Madelyn forwarded the proposal that she had kept for a long time.

And soon, she received a message.

It was from the man.

"Very good, Miss Madelyn. We'll confirm the value of this proposal, and if there is nothing wrong, the money will be transferred to your account tomorrow."

"Okay."

Madelyn's eyes turned cold..

She betrayed the Fowler family and got 3 million dollars.

"Jane Fowler, this time, I will make you ***!"

Without Jane, Madelyn was sure she could easily accumulate 30 million or even 3 billion with her capability.

Jane returned to her apartment.

She was taking a shower with music playing.

All of a sudden, her cell phone rang.

It was Andy.

"Janie, I got a piece of news for you. Madelyn got three million for a proposal of the Fowler family. which is actually worth 20 million."

"Thanks, Andy, help me organize the data. I'll treat you to a meal another day."

"Don't mention it, Janie. When will you visit Rheinsville? I haven't seen you for a long time. I miss you bad."

"Alright, I'll get there with Lila sometime. Get prepared then. It won't be my treat. It's yours. You're the host, isn't it?"

“As long as you come, you can indulge yourselves in whatever you want. Money is not an issue. I got money enough for you two to splurge for more than ten centenaries.”

As the first class lawyer and underground broker of Cruksia, Andy was quite rich.

And what he said was basically the truth.

After hanging up, Jane grinned coldly.

She looked confident and determined.

Her fingertips glided across the water, creating some ripples in the steam.

She thought to herself, “As expected, Madelyn is making her move.

“I knew it. My existence cornered her, and in order to fight against me, she needed a lot of money.”

Jane did not know why in her previous life, Madelyn was doing business with these men.

But as long as she found out Madelyn’s purpose, she could force Madelyn to betray the Fowler family. Money!

This word was the root of all evil!

It had slowly pushed Madelyn and the Fowler family into an abyss.

Jane began to look forward to the ending of the drama.

The Fowler family would be torn apart by Madelyn.

She was still in the dark and did not know the truth.

And when Jane threw the evidence in the Fowlers’ faces, how would they react?

What kind of interesting expressions would they have?

It must be really fun!

Time passed in the blink of an eye.

Jane received a new mission from No. 7 Scientific Research Organization.

Jane glanced at the programming formula and raised her eyebrows. “Is your organization going to start researching the photolithography machine? No wonder the missions I completed for the organization. previously were all basic algorithms for the photolithography machine!"

Since Clarence York was willing to give Jane such a mission closer to the secret center, it meant that the organization trusted Jane more.

"You're a remarkable woman, Queen. Yes, we've been stuck on the lithography machine for a long time.

"For the further prosperity of our country and the development of chips, the lithography machine is necessary.

"The last time, our course was hindered by the chip technology, and we're fed up with it.

"Fortunately, we have Mr. . He actually managed to figure out a solution in just three years."

Clarence kept rambling on.

After spending so many days together, Clarence was not as wary of Jane as before.

At the same time, he was extremely happy that Jane could tell at a glance that the purpose of the programming was to build a lithography machine.

This meant that Jane had sufficient ability to help their organization develop the photolithography machine.

Originally, the country had predicted that the development of the lithography machine would take at least decades.

In terms of such sophisticated high-tech technology, it was impossible for them to catch up with the foreigners in a short time.

However, a game-changer, Yale *suddenly materialized.

And there was Jane to help.

The mission given to Jane was not only completed, but she did it exceptionally outstandingly and perfectly.

Even Mr. kept exclaiming and praising her when he received the data from Jane.

It considerably opened his mind and enabled him to continue his research.

He couldn't help but write a sentence on the clipboard proudly.

"She is an extraordinary genius!"

No Way Back Chapter 143-Clarence was overjoyed when he saw this scene.

Indeed, God was blessing their organization.

They had not only Mr. Mitchell, but Queen.

They were two invaluable assets.

With the help of both of them, what couldn't they achieve?

"Currently, it is still an absolute secret. It can't be leaked, but I believe, with Mr. Mitchell and Queen, the day it's really completed won't be far!

"At that time, you guys will definitely become famous figures in history!"

Jane grinned slightly. This is all thanks to Yale, not me. I only feel fortunate to have the opportunity to serve my country and Yale."

"Don't be modest, Queen. You've done what more than ten of us scientists can't do-the best ten. Only with your assistance can Mr. Mitchell make rapid breakthroughs in his work.

"It's just that..."

So saying, Clarence glanced at Isiah, who was not far away.

Isiah sighed softly. "Let me tell her."

Isiah appeared in the video.

"Girl, we failed."

As Isiah finished speaking, his eyes were filled with remorse and frustration.

His fists were clenched tightly, and his previously cheerful and radiant face turned as livid and lethargic as a frosted eggplant.

"Is that so... Thank you for taking care of Yale,

Jane was not surprised at this result.

She had foreseen it long ago.

Marcy.”

Isiah said with guilt, “Don’t mention it. My medical skills are not good enough. If you are to treat Mr. Mitchell in person, perhaps...”

“There’s no point, Mr. Marcy. Your medical skills are already perfect, and the effects are rather good, but Yale’s disease is too weird to treat. Don’t worry, I won’t give up. I will definitely find a way to cure him. “But Yale... I’m worried that he can’t accept it. He’ll need your company and comfort.”

Jane lowered her eyes.

She felt more guilty than anyone else.

Although Yale had received many treatments.

And he was used to disappointment and failure.

But this time, it was Jane, his last hope, to treat Yale.

When a ray of light pierced through the dark, but failed to clear the darkness and fog, the ray of light became a sin,

It was no less brutal than the darkness.

Nothing was more merciless than the disillusionment felt after the last glimmer of hope was destroyed.

Jane did not regret proposing this scheme for Yale.

After all, there was a risk of failure in any treatment.

In her eyes, even a trace of hope was worth risking her life for.

But...

She failed, and she felt sorry for him.

Seeing Jane like this, Isiah took out a clipboard.

It was written in Yale’s handwriting.

“Janie, I trust you.”

The word was so simple.

But Jane was brought up short by it.

“Mr. Marcy, is this... Yale’s....

“Mr. Mitchell said he knew you would feel guilty, so he wrote this.

“His resilience is far beyond our imagination. In fact, he managed to comfort me after the failure. It’s really a blessing for our country to have an asset like him.”

Isiah said these words withh admiration.

Although Isiah was proficient in traditional medicine, he did not understand research science, nor the scientists.

However, after staying in the base for a long time, he could tell from the attitude of the people around him that Yale was a nice person.

What these people show toward him was heartfelt submission and respect.

If it weren’t that he was an unthinkable talented scientist, it was impossible for these elites to behave like this.

At the same time, Yale was very strong and composed. Isiah had misjudged him.

“Yes...”

Jane smiled with relief.

After turning off the video, he sent a message to Yale.

“Thank you, Yale, for your consolation.”

Yale replied quickly.

“I trust you.”

Again, it was rather simple, so deep with affection.

Jane stretched.

“Alright, I can’t be dispirited anymore.”

She needed to help Yale complete the calculation of the lithography machine.

Soon, the painting competition of the world's university students would begin.

Jane still had a lot of work to do.

"Go for it!" She cheered herself up.

Jane completed the first calculation program.

Someone from the WeChat group of the Red Flag Squad had sent a message.

Ever since the Red Flag Team was officially established, members gradually got to know each other.

Jane gave them her WeChat account.

The group members moved from the Forum to WeChat.

They trusted each other.

Marlon said: "Queen, I've fixed the programming you gave me~"

Shaun: "Marlon, don't try to beat me! Queen, I'm done with the repairing too!"

Liliana :"+1."

Marquise Shane: "+10086."

Jane thought for a moment.

"I'll take a look at your programming homework myself."

"Marlon, last time you said that your team have a base; send me the location. I'll go over and take a look."

Marlon: "Reall? Queen, you mean... we're going to meet offline?"

Jane: "I've already shown my real name and WeChat account. Didn't you guys investigate my background?"

Shaun: "Ahem, Queen, how dare we? To be under your guidance is already a huge blessing for us..."

Jane: "Guys, I'm very grateful for your trust in me, but there's no fault in being too cautious, right? We'll talk after we meet each other."

Marlon: "I'll send you the location immediately!"

Marlon sent the location to Jane.

He checked the time.

It was three o'clock in the afternoon.

They had to move now.

Liliana sent Marlon a private message.

Liliana: "Marlon, about what I told you last time..."

Marlon: "Do you think that Jane might be your uncle's daughter who has been missing for 19 years?" Liliana: "Yes, the name sounds alike... but I'm not sure. I've never investigated Jane. If it's really Jane.... Oh, I really don't know how to face it."

Liliana did not say anything further.

After all, he had heard of many scandals about Jane.

These things included Jane breaking all ties with the Fowler family, backstabbing the Fowler family, suing Jack Fowler, and even beating Dwayne Fowler...

Although Liliana did not interact much with his uncle's family, as relatives, they had more or less heard the rumors.

Marlon: "It's fine~ Queen is Queen. Don't forget why the four of us got together back then. We're Queen's fans. Now, Queen is leading us to serve our country!"

Liliana: "Um, when we meet, I'll definitely get to the bottom of this."

If it was Jane, Liliana didn't know if he should trust her, for he wasn't familiar with her.

If it was Queen, however, he'd believe every single word she said.

He definitely trusted Queen, the person who destroyed the indestructible firewall of foreign countries by herself and brought glory to the country, and who established three principles, safeguarding the security of the innocent.

No Way Back Chapter 144-Marlon and her team arrived at the base first.

This was because they were more familiar with the road conditions.

Marlon and the others were very nervous about Jane's sudden visit.

He even cleaned up the base.

He did not want Jane to think that this place was too and messy.

In fact Marlon and the others had different personalities.

For example, Marlon was heartless in her own studio. She wouldn't do any chores and left everything to the servants.

However, in this base where everyone worked hard together, no one wanted this place to become and messy.

A while later the sound of a car could be heard.

Jane had arrived.

She sent a message to Marlon.

"Queen, wait a minute. I'll get the door for you."

The base door could only be opened by both fingerprint and retinal scans.

Without prior entry, the door could not be opened.

Marlon and the others opened the gate of the base nervously.

He thought about how he would see Jane later.

What kind of woman would she be?

They had each other's image in their hearts.

Eventually. Jane showed herself.

Everyone looked at her.

Marlon and the others were stunned.

Her long hair fluttered in the wind, and she was wearing casual clothes. She gave off a youthful and beautiful feeling, and her fair face was extremely eye-catching even without makeup.

Jane had one hand in her pocket and was wearing *sneakers. Her perfect figure made people whistle. She looked like an ordinary beautiful university student.

At first glance, she looked ordinary, but Jane's eyes that were like ancient wells occasionally revealed a hint of light. She could not be underestimated.

Jane cocked her brows. "What? Are you stunned? Am I that beautiful?"

"Ah... No, Queen, how come you're so young?"

Shaun was the first to voice the question in everyone's mind.

In the hearts of Shaun and the others, to be able to become the number one hacker in the Darknet and break through a country's firewall alone, she had to be at least in her 30s or 40s!

But Jane looked like he was not even 20 years old!

"Of course I'm young. I'm only in my sophomore year. But you guys are quite young, about my age.

"Let me formally introduce myself. I'm Jane, 19 years old, and I'm studying in the University of Oricle and in the sophomore year. I'm doing a Computer Science Major. Hi guys."

Jane reached out her hand to Marlon and the others.

"You... you're really Uncle Jack's daughter! Oh my god!"

Liliana called out belatedly.

Was this world really that small?

The legendary number one hacker of the Darknet, the idol of countless people, was actually related to Liliana?

"Liliana, I'm afraid you've heard a lot of bad things about me from Jack.

"I don't care to explain my personal style. I've always done what I think is right..

"I'm sorry if this got to you."

The reason why she said this to Liliana was because Jane knew that Liliana was not familiar with Jack's family.

That was why she dared to say such a thing.

Nor were they a of who had been played by Madelyn.

Otherwise, Jane would not have come into contact with this team from the beginning.

“No... I believe you, Queen!

“I don’t care who you are, as long as you’re Queen, that’s enough! I’m sorry, Queen, I’m just surprised that the world is so small...”

“To be honest, after investigating the true identities of the four of you, I was also very surprised to meet Liliana in this team.

“Maybe this is fate, but since we’re on the same team, we’re comrades. I don’t want to see unnecessary distrust.

“I don’t want to explain too much. I think if I want you to really trust me, I’ll prove it with my strength in the future!”

Jane could not be bothered to explain to Marlon and the others what she had done in the Fowler family.

It was a memory that Jane could not wait to forget.

Marlon and the others looked at each other.

“That’s right. Queen’s strength is obvious to all. We’re all gathered here because we admire Queen!” “Very well.”

Next, Jane strolled around the base.

There was nothing wrong with the server, internet speed, and equipment.

“It must have cost tens of millions to build this base,” Jane said calmly.

Marlon said nervously, “Hmm... Queen, do you think the base is too small and has too little equipment? If there’s anything else you need, please let us know. We can go find it!”

“There’s no need to be nervous. I think it’s enough. After all, we’re only a five-man team. We’re not like those companies in the movies that have hundreds or thousands of hackers at the drop of a hat.

“Next, let’s talk about the differences between your skills. Then, we’ll begin the first mission of Red Star Team.”

Everyone was stunned. “Now?!”

“Yes! And I won’t interfere with this mission. I’ll rely on the four of you to complete it!”

Jane’s eyes flashed.

She then looked at Marquise.

Marquise was stunned for a moment before lowering his head, not daring to look straight at Jane

Since Jane had said so, even if the four of them were nervous, they could only brace themselves and accept reality

They couldn’t let Queen down and that was the only thing in their minds.

After pointing out the current technical problems of the four-man team, Jane arranged for them to start attacking the intelligence network of an underground organization overseas.

There was no indication of the purpose of the underground organization.

She stood back and observed the cooperation of each member of the four-man team.

Marlon and the others were skilled and had known each other for a long time. They trusted each other.

Every program was done by a specific person. The tasks were done in an orderly manner, and the division of labor was clear.

This kind of trust, cooperation, and teamwork was definitely not something that could be done in one day.

At the same time.

Jane could tell that Marquise was the most talented hacker in the four-man team.

After all, it could be seen from the Darknet leaderboard that Marquise was higher than the others in the four-man team.

However, Marquise’s personality caused him to be a very quiet person and could feel embarrassed easily.

In front of Jane, they did not speak much to express themselves.

Next were Marlon and Shaun. The two of them were chattering non-stop.

They were considered a rather unusual existence among hackers.

Those who were used to being addicted to the online world and wearing virtual masks would become difficult to come into contact with reality over time.

Simply put, they would be suffering from a social communication disorder.

It was different from Marquise's personality which was like that when he was born.

The last one was Liliana.

The only girl in the group of four was also the weakest.

That might be the case, but the gap between her and Marlon and Shaun was very small and negligible.

Liliana gave Jane the impression that she was calm.

Even Marquise would get emotional and impatient.

Liliana was like an iceberg. She had never been impatient when handling matters.

The four of them had their own strengths and weaknesses. Miraculously, they could complement each other's personalities, accommodate each other, and improve rapidly.

Jane nodded in satisfaction.

It was really a gift from the heavens. She had found such a perfect Team!

Time passed bit by bit.

No Way Back Chapter 145-When the intelligence network was completely broken through, Marlon and the others breathed a sight of relief.

They all cried out excitedly.

"Queen, mission accomplished!"

"Very well."

Jane then finished everything off.

Her fingertips danced on the keyboard.

She quickly packed the data and sent it to an account.

"The intelligence network you broke into this time is an underground organization specialized in human trafficking overseas.

"I've already sent the data and information to Interpol. With conclusive evidence and location, we can quickly wipe them out and rescue the innocent victims."

"What?"

Marlon and the others were stunned.

"Queen, why didn't you tell us about this?"

"If I told you, you will definitely be nervous. You will be afraid that if you make a mistake, it will lead to irreparable consequences.

"Isn't the outcome pretty good now? You guys perfectly displayed your strength and conquered the intelligence network, saving countless pitiful people."

"We saved them..."

Marlon and the others looked at each other.

They could feel their hearts beating violently.

Their blood was boiling, evaporating their sweat.

Just now, did they really rely on their own strength to conquer an underground organization and saved many innocent people?

For the first time in their lives.

An indescribable sense of glory and pride arose spontaneously!

"Since ancient times, there have been iron-blooded soldiers who charged forward and won victorious on the battlefield.

"Even if we can't defend our country with our strength like those soldiers, our firm believes are the same.

"That is to defend this country and do what we can to save those who are in deep trouble.

"This is the era of online information, and the technology we've honed is the greatest weapon. It can catch the enemy off guard, attack the center, and dig out information!

"I'm proud to have met you and have this team. You're very skilled! Through the team's cooperation, you saved many people just now. In the future, you can save more people and better protect our country!" Jane was not stingy with her praise for Marlon and the others.

The team just listened to Jane.

Marlon was unknowingly moved to tears.

The others' eyes also turned red.

"Queen, before we met you... although we wanted to contribute to our country, we never dared to come into contact with such things.

"We're not confident in our strength. We're afraid that a mistake will bring harm many people.

"This is the first time, but I believe that with Queen around, this won't be the last time! Queen, please continue to lead us in the future!"

Marlon wiped his tears, sniffled, and sobbed.

The others also looked at Jane firmly.

Unwavering.

Their hearts were as hot as the sun.

They wanted to use their own strengths to save more people!

To protect the country that gave birth to them, exorcise the pests, and become better!

It was not that the Interpol could not do anything about these underground organizations if they did not do these things!

At the very least, it was because of them that these pests were eliminated today and earlier! They would want to quicken the pace by a day or even an hour!

At the very least, more people would be able to obtain the light of hope and be saved from the dark abyss!

Jane's lips curved. "Alright, it's already nine in the evening. You haven't had dinner, right? My treat." After what Jane said.

Everyone realized that they were hungry.

Their stomachs were growling.

They scratched the back of their heads in embarrassment.

They left the base.

Less than two kilometers away was the center of the bustling commercial office building.

Although the base was set up in such a place, it was a little easy to be exposed.

However, there was a huge problem with setting it in the suburbs.

It was just that the Internet was not good and was prone to fluctuations.

The center of a commercial office building like this was the most prosperous place in Stormton City. Network latency and fluctuations were mostly negligible.

The only thing that made Jane uncomfortable was...

Fowler Corporation's headquarters was in the center of this commercial office building.

"Forget it, I wouldn't be so unlucky as to meet someone from Fowler family," thought Jane.

Moreover, it was already so late.

Jane searched for a barbeque shop with a five-point rating on her phone map.

She brought Marlon and the others to their seats.

Marlon and the others were still talking about the various details of conquering the underground organization just now.

Of course, they spoke very softly, hiding key information.

They didn't want others to think that they were a criminal gang and call the police to arrest them. That would be embarrassing.

Even Marquise was moved by the atmosphere and said a few more words.

It made Marlon and the others look at Marquise as if they were looking at something new.

Marquise lowered his head shyly. His ears also turned red.

His messy hair and nerdy black-framed glasses could not affect Marquise's looks.

Jane rested her head on one hand.

She did not participate in the topic that they were talking about.

However, there was a sense of fulfillment in her heart.

She looked at her trustworthy teammates....

Yes, this feeling was really good.

She felt that she was no longer fighting alone.

The job of ordering food was handed to Liliana.

Liliana was the calmest, unlike Marlon and Shaun.

After ordering, she handed the menu to Jane. "Queen, do you think these are suitable?*

Jane nodded and said, "As long as you like it. I eat anything. I'm not picky about food. Waiter."

Not long after ordering, two people walked into the barbeque shop.

"Henry, let me tell you. I came to this barbeque shop with your mother previously. It tastes really good." "People can't live without food. You've been working too hard recently. Although I'm very happy that you can recover, you have to eat your meals on time."

"Eat whatever you want today. Daddy's treating!"

Jack pulled Henry and looked at his son as his heart ached.

In the past few days, Henry had lost a lot of weight.

Holding Henry's arm, Jack could not feel much flesh anymore. He could easily pinch the bones of Henry's arm.

Not to mention the dark circles and fatigue in Henry's eyes.

"Thanks, Dad."

Henry knew that he was in a very bad state.

She didn't want to sleep because she couldn't.

She didn't want to eat because she had no appetite.

The only way to forget the things that had happened recently and drive Henry crazy...

She decided to get to work.

She just worked continuously.

She allowed work to take over everything in life!

She was so busy that she had no time to care about anything else!

Other than overworking his body like this, which was the stupidest way.

Henry couldn't think of any other options.

However, after Jack's repeated pleas tonight, Henry's heart softened.

Even though he had no appetite, he still followed Jack to the barbeque shop.

At least.

Henry didn't want her family to worry about her.

Henry had done too many wrong things to her biological sister, Jane. There was no turning back even if she regretted it.

Unless it was like what Jane said... Only death could make Jane's anger disappear.

At that moment.

Jack and Henry saw Jane's group of five eating roasted meat.

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 146

No Way Back Chapter 146-Jack wondered if he was seeing things.

Why was Jane here?

However...

He had to accept reality.

It was the time when he didn't want to see Jane.

However, he had to bump into Jane now.

This biological daughter had an ill-fated relationship with them!

Henry also saw Jane.

Guilt, evasion, and fear flashed in his eyes.

He recalled the breakup that day.

It was raining heavily.

Jane said that she wanted Henry to die.

This was a coincidental encounter...

Even if he felt extremely guilty towards Jane.

He already knew that he had made a huge mistake.

He wondered whether he still had the chance to beg for Jane's forgiveness.

It was probably impossible.

Jane would be counted as merciful if she didn't make things difficult for Henry when he was down. "Let's go."

Jack took a deep breath.

He knew that Henry's attitude towards Jane had changed.

Just by looking at Henry's current expression, Jack knew...

He felt even sadder.

And this sadness...

It was all because of Jane.

Jack tentatively asked Henry several times why his attitude towards Jane had changed so much. Henry refused to talk about it.

The only thing Jack could do as a father was to bring Henry away from Jane.

This was to prevent Henry from being hurt by Jane.

The next second.

Jack seemed to have seen someone he shouldn't have.

He let go of Henry and strode over.

“Liliana, how come you’re here?”

Liliana, who was chatting with Jane, was slightly stunned.

Hearing Jack’s voice, he looked over in surprise. “Uncle Jack?”

After saying that, Liliana looked at Jane and felt like she was in a difficult position.

He knew that Jane and the Fowler family were not on good terms at all.

It wouldn’t be good if Jack said something that would hurt Jane.

Jane wanted to facepalm herself.

What she was afraid of came true.

How could she meet Jack here... and Henry?

It was already so late, but these two fiends came to eat roasted meat? He had never seen them have such interests before!

“Why are you sitting with Jane?”

Jack had only his niece, Liliana, a limited number of times.

Liliana had grown up overseas. Even though he had returned to Stormton City and found a job as a senior executive,

Jack had asked Liliana to come over for dinner many times, but Liliana had always rejected him.

Knowing that Liliana was afraid of strangers, Jack decided to let her be and secretly observed Liliana’s work status.

Liliana’s development in Stormton City was getting better and better. She had established connections with some wealthy families and had her own channels and resources.

She relied on her own abilities and not Jack. Neither did she rely on her father, Craig.

Liliana was so talented and courageous at a young age. As the eldest uncle, Jack was relieved. He finally had an explanation for his younger brother, Craig.

But what was this scene in front of him?

Jack had tried several times to invite a niece but to no avail. They could only meet through photos or videos.

In the end, she was eating barbecue here with Jack's most hated daughter?

Jack felt as if he had been slapped hard in the face.

It was burning!

Just like how Jane betrayed Jack back then!

Marlon and the others also quietened down.

As the heirs of the wealthiest families in Stormton City, they naturally knew...

This was Fowler Corporation's chairman, Jack Fowler!

Not long ago, it had caused a huge commotion!

"Why? Naturally, it's because our relationship has improved. What? Can't we do that?"

"Or is the chairman of Fowler Corporation going to interfere the rights of his niece?"

Jane retorted mercilessly.

He hated Jack's words.

Why was Liliana sitting with Jane?

Was Jane a bacteria or germ?

Why couldn't Liliana sit with Jane?

The only sin would be sitting with the Fowler family.

Even Liliana would be led astray and become as  as a *! "You!"

Jack gritted his teeth.

"This Jane... After not seeing her for so many days, her was still as sharp as ever! "I really don't know if it was inherited from me or Anna!"

If such was used against an enemy, Jack would be very happy.

However, it was used against himself, her biological father. This made Jack very upset.

"I'm sorry, Uncle Jack. I don't think... this is the time to talk."

Out of respect for his uncle and his father and brother, Liliana spoke in a calm tone.

In other words, she was clearly on Jane's side.

"Very well!"

This feeling was indescribable.

It was as if someone had stabbed Jack in the back!

Henry quickly went forward and pulled Jack. "Dad, forget it. Let's go eat."

"Don't worry, Henry. I'm very calm and sober now."

Jack gave Liliana and Jane a meaningful look before turning to leave.

That look...

Liliana was clear.

Jack was disappointed with Liliana.

However...

Liliana did not regret her choice.

Jane felt a little awkward.

She was wondering whether she should have poured the tea onto Jack's face or not.

Considering the feelings of Marlon and the others, she decided not to do so.

"Sigh!" She regretted her decision and this caused Jane to feel very unhappy.

What right did this , Jack, had to show an expression that Jane was not worthy of being with Liliana?

"!" Jane cursed inwardly.

Jack wanted to pick a spot where Jane could not be seen.

In case that he and Henry lost their appetites.

However, Henry chose a table that could see Jane without getting too close.

Jack squinted his eyes. "Henry, don't tell me you want to look at Jane?"

Henry pursed his thin lips. "Yes... Dad, I want to look at Jane."

It was a rare opportunity.

After meeting Jane by chance, he was able to keep an eye on Jane and was not chased away by Jane's cold words.

This was the only chance.

If they had met in any other way, Henry wouldn't even have the chance to see Jane.

At the same time.

Henry's gaze shifted to Liliana...

There were ripples in his heart.

Jack was at a loss for words.

He did not expect Henry to admit it.

*it!

"What was wrong with Henry?"

Henry and Peter became so concerned about Jane's every move.

Dwayne was beaten up by Jane. Even when Jack returned home, he did not see Dwayne come out of his room.

He had once been such a confident young man.

Jane tried not to pay attention to Jack and Henry's gazes.

She drank Coke, ate barbecue, and chatted with the members of Red Star Team.

However...

Henry and Jack were looking at Jane.

Jane really wanted to go over and dig out the eyes of these two ***.

She would then throw it on the ground and step on it to turn it into sauce, shouting, "What the are you looking at?"

Liliana and the others could tell that Jane was not in a good mood.

It was because of the arrival of Jack and Henry.

Soon, they finished eating and left after saying that they were full.

Jane was the first to slip away.

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 147

No Way Back Chapter 147-The roasted meat tasted good.

The team members were fine.

However, they encountered the Fowlers.

They really ruined everything.

Jane left in a hurry.

Henry lowered her eyes.

There was actually sadness in those eyes of his.

*Jane...

"Do you not want to see me at all?"

"Is there really no chance for us to go back to the past and repair our relationship?"

Jack snorted angrily.

you, Jane, I haven't even complained that you're affecting my mood to eat with Henry.

"You still dare to avoid us like you're avoiding the God of Misfortune! I'm so ***!"

Henry stood up. "Dad, if there's nothing else, you should go back home and get some rest. I still have something to do."

"Henry, you're not going to find Jane, are you?"

This time, Henry did not take a bite of the roast meat at all. He focused all his attention on Jane.

Jack was worried that if Henry went to talk to Jane, with Jane's personality, Henry would definitely be humiliated.

The last time he was hurt by Jane, Henry was hospitalized and collapsed. It was as if his soul had been emptied.

Jack naturally could not let this happen again.

"Even if I want to see Jane, with Jane's current towards me, she probably won't want to see me. "Dad, I want to see someone else. Don't worry, I won't make you worried anymore."

Henry smiled at Jack.

He left in a hurry.

Jack sighed.

Henry had already said so much.

Jack could only choose to believe him.

Liliana didn't drive to the base this time. She took a taxi.

Shaun cocked his brows. "Liliana, do you want me to drive you back? Marlon is giving Marquise a lift back."

"No need, I can take a taxi..."

Liliana had yet to finish speaking.

A figure chased after her.

"Liliana!"

It was Henry.

Liliana had already expected this. He let Marlon and the others leave first.

"Um... Liliana, are you sure you're alright?"

Shaun was a little worried.

Marlon and Marquise also looked at Liliana worriedly.

After all, Queen did not have a good relationship with Fowler family.

As one of the Fowlers, would Liliana be put in a difficult position?

“No matter what, he’s still my relative. He’s not going to murder me, is he? Don’t worry.”

With that, Liliana took the initiative to walk towards Henry.

Seeing Henry, Liliana said calmly, “I haven’t seen you in ages, Henry.”

“Liliana... Are you free? Let’s have a chat.”

“Alright.”

Marlon and the others could only watch helplessly.

Marquise asked, “Should we... tell Queen about this?”

“Forget it. I feel that Queen’s relationship with the Fowler family is very complicated. It’s better not to bother Queen with such a small matter.”

“Since Liliana said that it will be taken care of, let’s believe Liliana!”

After Henry and Liliana arrived at a café that hadn’t closed yet.

“What do you want to drink?”

“Americano, no sugar. Warm, please.”

Henry and Liliana sat on the same table.

They were face-to-face.

For a moment.

Henry clearly had a lot to say.

But he didn’t know where to start.

Instead, Liliana took a sip of Americano and took the initiative to say, “The last time we sat face-to-face. like this was six years ago in Floricia, right?”

“That’s right... Time passed so quickly. During this period... too many things has happened.”

Henry smiled bitterly. “Liliana, how did you know Jane?”

"Is it strange that we know each other? No matter what, Jane is still my cousin."

Liliana did not reveal anything about the base or Red Star Team. Her voice was very calm.

Liliana was 22 years old this year, one year older than Peter. According to seniority, Jane was indeed Liliana's cousin.

Of course, this was only a superficial relationship. In fact, Jane was Liliana's idol plus leader.

"You should know what happened between the Fowler family and Jane. Is there no deeper reason?" asked Henry

He wanted to get an answer.

"No, don't overthink things. Henry, I just have a close relationship with Jane. As for your family... that's a private matter. As a junior, I can't get involved.

"Or did you find me this time because you feel that I was on good terms with Jane and you feel very angry and want to punish me?"

"No, don't get me wrong. I'm happy for you and Jane to be on good terms. At least this way, I can feel less guilty."

Henry's eyes flash.

Liliana was still related to Jane.

This meant that... the blood relationship between Jane and the Fowler family had not been completely severed.

Even though this was Henry's wishful thinking.

But if Henry didn't think so, he wouldn't feel any better.

He could only choose to deceive himself.

"Henry, what exactly happened between Jane and the Fowler family? Wasn't she the daughter you've been looking for for 19 years?"

“Why did Jane cut ties with the Fowler family in less than a month and even sued Uncle Jack in court?” In the past, Liliana had only heard of this matter and did not care.

She felt that this was a private matter of his uncle’s family. Her uncle wouldn’t be happy if others asked, so Liliana could not care less.

Now that it concerned Liliana’s boss and idol, Liliana had to care!

Queen had said that she had a clear conscience about this matter.

In addition, after spending so many days together, with Liliana’s understanding of Jane’s personality, unless the Fowler family was treating her unfairly!

Otherwise, she wouldn’t have been so ruthless!

“That’s right... She’s the biological sister that the Fowler family had been looking for for 19 years.”

Henry was talking to himself quietly.

His expression was filled with sorrow.

Finally, he spread his hands and covered his face.

“It’s our fault... Liliana, I can’t say the exact reason, but Jane is disheartened by the Fowler family. It’s our fault.

“It’s the Fowler family who owes Jane. We’ve finally found her, but we’ve never given her the warmth she deserves.

“Instead, they forced Jane to cut ties with the Fowler family. Now that things have come to this... “We brought this on ourselves.”

Regret.

In short, he was very regretful.

Henry felt the same as Peter.

He dreamed of a second chance.

If he could be reborn.

The day that Jane came back to the Fowler family.

At that time, Jane was filled with hope, excitement, happiness, and so on.

As long as they were willing to show a little kindness and accept Jane, this biological sister who had been missing for 19 years, things would not have come to this!

Things had gotten out of hand.

Neither would they have become like this. They felt like their souls were lost

If happiness didn't leave then suffering wouldn't come.

Liliana's whole body was trembling.

She never expected Henry to admit so directly!

"Then why? Why did you have to be like that on the trending searches and on all the media platforms? You said that it was Q... Jane was unruly and selfish and that's why she cut ties with the Fowler family and was chased away by you!"

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 148

No Way Back Chapter 148-Even Liliana fell for that trending post on social media.

Liliana did not know Jane that well yet.

It was also because she trusted her relatives.

She thought Jack Fowler and his family wouldn't tell such a despicable lie. She figured that Jack wouldn't do such a thing to his biological daughter, who had been missing for 19 years!

If Jane wasn't Queen, Liliana would still be in the dark.

She would still think of Jane as a contemptible person.

She probably wouldn't want to hit Jane.

But she wouldn't be friendly toward Jane when she met Jane either!

Liliana was not the only one.

Most people who saw that trending post would not investigate the truth.

They just believed what the majority said.

How bad must the misunderstanding against Jane be?

Henry was suddenly speechless.

He was the one who arranged for someone to publish that trending post.

The post slandered and defamed Jane.

Jane defended herself excellently and caused Fowler Corporation to suffer heavy losses in the end.

However, there were still many people who did not know the truth.

Seeing Henry like this, Liliana felt an unprecedented disappointment.

“How can you treat Janie like this? Even I can’t stand it anymore, although I’m only a relative.

“All of you should realize how bad your actions are. No wonder Janie cut ties with you. You’re not worthy of being her family!”

Did Uncle Jack and his family know how capable and magnificent Jane was?

If they did not know, then they must be blind!

They were blinded by their ***!

So * that they would give up such precious treasure!

Anyway.

Things turned out pretty well.

Queen was the strongest when she had nothing to worry about!

The so-called kinship would only slow Queen down!

It would never be of any help!

Queen was better off without this kind of corrupted familial love!

“I know... Liliana, we regret what we did. We want an opportunity to make it up to Jane.

“I don’t expect Jane to forgive us and return to the Fowler family, but I want to do something for Jane.

“I’ll do anything as long as I can get rid of the guilt that’s drowning me.”

Henry did not dare to tell Liliana everything that had happened between him and Jane.

If Liliana knew what he had done, everything would be over

Liliana probably would never see Henry again.

Of course, she wouldn't help Henry

The kinship between him and Liliana was his only hope now

It was the only way Henry could think of to keep track of Jane

What Henry told Liliana was a lie.

It was a lie that was as fragile as a bubble

One day, the bubble would burst.

Henry didn't care if Liliana said he was despicable and shameless or if he lied

Henry did not want to cut off the only connection with Jane

However, things did not turn out as he had planned.

"There's no need. Jane is far stronger than you think. She doesn't need Uncle Jack and his family's charity!

"The best thing you can do for Jane is to not bother her?"

Liliana already thought that her uncle's family was hopeless.

Liliana couldn't wait to see the day her uncle's family found out Jane's true identity.

She wondered how surprised they would be. Would their eyes pop out of the sockets?

Jane alone was as powerful as the entire Fowler Corporation

This time, her uncle's family had totally lost the treasure.

With Queen's personality, she would never go back!

After saying what she wanted to say, Liliana was about to leave.

"Liliana, wait"

Henry grabbed Liliana's arm and refused to let her go.

“Henry, there’s no way we can reach an agreement. The heir of Fowler Corporation should be respectful gentleman!

“You’re still my cousin. Don’t force me to fall out with you!”

Liliana’s tone was cold.

Liliana had started to despise her uncle and his family

How could she not be after knowing all the bad things they did to Jane?

Even if Jane wasn’t Queen, she was still the Fowler family’s biological daughter who had been missing for 19 years

What the were Uncle Jack and his family thinking?

When Jack and his family stayed at Liliana’s house, Anna Fowler kept saying how sorry she was toward Jane every day.

Even Liliana’s biological parents persuaded Anna to give up, but Anna would not give up.

Anna wanted to find her biological daughter, who had been missing for so many years, no matter what

She needed to know whether her daughter was alive or dead

Anna said that she was the child’s biological mother. So, even if the world had given up on finding Jane, she wouldn’t give up!

At that time, Liliana believed her

In the end, Anna found Jane, but she didn’t cherish Jane at all, She and her family abused and bullied

Jane however they pleased.

They were all ****!

Liliana couldn’t believe that these people were her blood relatives. She was disgusted! They were ** ***!

She felt like her trust was betrayed!

Henry's heart skipped a beat.

He looked at Liliana's cold gaze.

Intuition told him that Liliana seemed to know that Jane was Queen.

Could it be that the new hacker on the Darknet who used Queen's little trick was Liliana?

Seeing that Henry was still clutching her arm, Liliana picked up the coffee on the table and splashed it on Henry's face.

When the warm coffee splashed on Henry's face, he was pulled back to reality.

Liliana forcefully broke free from Henry.

She left quickly.

Henry was left standing there.

The coffee dripped from his hair and face and soaked his clothes.

His heart sank more deeply than ever.

Even Liliana, who didn't know about the details, was furious when she heard about their misunderstanding and slander against Jane.

Why did he, as Jane's biological brother who was face-to-face with Jane, not feel guilty for doing all those things to Jane back then? He was the family Jane once longed for.

How could he trample on Jane's desire for a family?

A waiter hurriedly came over when he saw the incident. "Sir, are you alright?"

Did this quarrel with his girlfriend?

"I'm fine..."

Henry lowered his head and left the cafe.

His heart was filled with unprecedented despair.

Several days had passed in the blink of an eye.

On this day, Jane specially attended a bidder conference.

She put on her sunglasses and dressed up a little.

Her companion was Marlon.

“Q... Jane, why would you suddenly want to participate in this bidder conference?”

Jane called Marlon to ask for an invitation to the bidder conference. Marlon was shocked.

The Croft family’s power was more than enough for them to obtain an invitation to such a conference.

Jane smiled mysteriously. “It’s fine if you don’t want to go in.”

She asked Marlon for help naturally because they were a team.

Marlon also owed Jane a lot of favors.

It was equally easy to ask Hugh Croft, Connor Luther, or Robert Shane to get her the invitation. However, she would owe them a favor.

Hugh Croft and the others probably wouldn’t care, but Jane would.

It was unpleasant to owe someone a favor.

“Since I’m already here, I will, of course, go in. I want to be Jane Fowler’s escort!”

“Although I may look weak, I am a high-level martial artist!”

Marlon patted his chest confidently.

“I can tell.”

Jane was not flattering him.

She also practiced martial arts.

She could tell that Marlon had some habits unique to martial arts practitioners.

He was sensitive to things even when he was only taking a walk on a usual day.

It was instinctive after practicing martial arts for a long time.

“Marlon, why are you here?”

A voice that annoyed them came from behind.

Jane and Marlon turned around.

It was Diane and Layne Croft.

When Diane saw Jane, she was shocked. “! Why are you here?”

After all, this was a public place.

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 149

No Way Back Chapter 149-Diane still had to pay attention to how she acted.

She had spoken without meaning to just then and did not control her volume.

She had already attracted the attention of many people.

“Marlon, why are you with Jane?”

Layne frowned, though his eyebrows did not leave a crease when he did.

He looked at Marlon with hostility.

There was no other reason.

It was because Layne looked down on this spoiled youngest son of the third branch of the family from the bottom of his heart.

Rumor had it that he dropped out of university without even finishing his ***.

He would either go out to around all day or stay in his room and make a mess.

If not for the Croft family’s support, how would Marlon have had the funds to squander away like this? However...

At a family gathering. Hugh personally talked to Marlon.

He even praised Marlon.

Even Marlon’s parents were shocked for a long time.

One must know that Hugh existed in the Croft family as the most outstanding and most capable one. They had high hopes for him.

Even as relatives, they were jealous of Hugh and afraid of his ability simultaneously.

Hugh rarely took his relatives seriously.

For Marlon to be held in such esteem by Hugh....

No one had expected this!

When Layne saw this happening, he thought that Hugh had gone crazy.

Immediately, he became deeply jealous of Marlon.

Why had Hugh taken a fancy to such a good-for-nothing fellow, who relied on his aging parents and had dropped out of school?!

“Why can’t I be with Jane? Do I need you to care who I’m with?”

Marlon looked at Layne as if he were looking at an ***.

Marlon wasn’t a . Naturally, he knew that Layne looked down on him.

As for the capabilities that Marlon had, he disdained to tell anyone.

He liked the feeling of being low-profile.

This did not mean that Marlon would allow Layne, who looked down on him, to humiliate him!

“You?! Marlon Croft, how dare you talk to me like that!”

“Marlon Croft! What did Uncle teach you? How dare you argue with your elders like this? Apologize!”

Diane and Layne were indeed mother and son.

The apple never fell far from the tree.

They were both so shameless.

“Ignore them, Marlon. Let’s go in.”

Jane pulled Marlon into the bidding office.

“Stop! You owe us an apology!”

How could Diane let Marlon off so easily?

If Diane could see Marlon, an *and incompetent scoundrel, actually daring to talk back to her precious son, who had immense potential and a bright future ahead of him, and still not say anything, she would not be Diane Croft if she did not vent her anger.

In the next second.

Diane received a loud slap to the face.

She looked away. Her face was burning with disbelief.

This slap again...

A familiar pain!

There was no need to think about it!

This Jane Fowler must have hit Diane!

This was the second time! The second time!

And in front of so many people!

Everyone's eyes fell on Diane and Jane..

Even Marlon and Layne did not react at first.

By the time he reacted, Layne immediately hugged the disgraced Diane.

"What are you doing?! Jane Fowler!"

Layne wished he could slap Jane..

Jane didn't just slap Layne's mother.

She also slapped Layne's face.

He never expected... for Jane to be so presumptuous!

How dare he hit Diane in front of so many people!

Did she want to ***?

"Q... Jane, what are you..

Marlon was stunned by Jane's bravery.

Though Marlon had wanted to do this countless times.

Who asked Diane's family to others and look down on him?

However, he only dared to think about it in his heart.

He did not dare to act on the thought.

Jane might have gotten some gratification from that, but what would she do next?

"I slapped her to her up."

Jane said coldly.

Diane kept chattering like a locust behind Jane.

Did he really think that Jane never lost her temper?

"Jane! Fowler!"

Even if the noble blood running in Layne's veins made him unable to lose his rationality on such an OCCASION.

Jane behaved mercilessly towards them time and time again. Layne couldn't take it anymore.

He raised his hand and was about to slap Jane

"Jane"

In a moment of desperation, Marlon wanted to protect Jane

In the end.

Jane kicked Layne's knee.

The wound from when Layne had knelt on the broken glass last time had not fully recovered.

Jane's kick was fast, precise, and ruthless.

She deftly avoided everyone's gaze.

Layne's knees felt like they were about to split open.

An intense pain assaulted him. He lost his balance and knelt on the ground.

Everyone was speechless.

This scene completely exceeded their imaginations.

They originally thought that Layne wanted to fight back for his mother.

Why was he kneeling down to Jane Fowler in the end?

What was going on?

“Oh my, I didn’t expect you to be so polite to me. Come, continue kneeling. I’ll take a photo with my phone...”

“Layne, what’s wrong? Does it hurt somewhere?”

Diane ignored the pain in her face and quickly helped Layne up.

“You , how dare you attack me!”

“You can eat whatever you want, but you can’t say whatever you want. Who saw me attack you? I’m just a weak woman. How could I win against a man like you?”

“It’s fine if you knelt down, but here you are, still lying. How despicable.”

“You?!”

Layne wanted to tear Jane into pieces.

In fact.

Layne had indeed made his move.

Jane said calmly, “Also... Have you forgotten that I have something on you?”

Layne raised his hand.

It stopped in midair again.

Luna’s video!

Layne’s palm gradually clenched into a fist!

The veins on his forehead bulged as he stared at Jane.

“Your gaze makes me very uncomfortable. Layne Croft, if I accidentally revealed that your Luna used to kneel in front of me and bark like a dog, and even licked my shoes...”

“Jane! That’s enough! Stop talking!”

Diane was scared to death and quickly stopped Jane,

She looked around carefully.

Jane controlled her volume very well.

Only the three closest people knew about it.

it, Luna!

She had caused such big trouble, and Diane and Layne had ended up being controlled by others.

They didn’t even dare to make a sound even after being beaten.

However, Luna had disappeared without a trace.

Even Raymond could not find her and had no choice but to return to Stormton City.

Marlon was petrified.

He could not believe what he had just heard from Jane.

Luna... Had that and despotic hooligan girl actually knelt down and barked like a dog at Jane, and even licked Jane’s shoes?

Heavens above!

Though Marlon did think about it from a different angle. If Luna provoked “Queen” recklessly...

Even if she didn’t , she would be skinned alive!

“You’re not going to tell me? Alright...”

Jane met Layne’s murderous gaze.

Her red lips curled into a cold smile.

A slap landed on Layne’s face.

Slap.

The crisp sound of a slap sounded out.

The entire place was dead silent.

“Then... show me some sincerity!”

“In the future, if you see me or my friends, scam far away and don’t come looking for a beating. Otherwise, I’ll beat you up every time I see you!”

No Way Back Chapter 150-After slapping, Jane rubbed her wrist and turned to walk toward the bidding office.

Marlon came back to himself and hurriedly chased after Jane, shouting, “Jane, wait for me.”

Jane and Marlon had left.

Everyone pretended not to see this scene. They avoided Layne and Diane when they walked into the bidding office.

How could anyone in Stormton City not know the Croft family?

Layne Croft was like a new star in Stormton City. It was said that he had flourished recently.

Diane and Layne were slapped by Jane, but they did not dare to fight back.

What a joke.

Diane said, “Layne, let’s go in first.”

Diane felt her face burning.

It was not only because of Jane’s slap.

It was also because of the feeling of being looked down upon by everyone.

Diane had never experienced such an embarrassing ****.

Diane was always a socialite in the upper class and a member of the Croft family. She was a prominent figure among the noblewomen.

But now, Jane slapped Diane and threatened Diane with Luna's video in public. Thinking of these, Diane could not breathe.

Diane felt awful when thinking about all of those.

If Raymond heard of this matter, he would definitely have a long speech with Diane.

A serious expression appeared on Layne's face. He gave others a feeling that he was depressed. Then Layne was dragged inside by Diane.

They ignored the gazes of strangers.

Diane said, "Layne, I didn't expect you to be able to hold it. That  Jane Fowler went too far just now. "For a , I wanted you to slap her back. Look how embarrassing we are now!"

Layne replied, " ... Actually, I almost lost control. However, Jane has something to do with Hugh. "If Jane that video to Hugh and says something bad, Hugh will do everything to destroy our branch.

"Is not the time to pick a fight with Jane and Hugh..."

Diane interrupted, "What? Jane has something to do with Hugh? When did that happen? Why didn't I know about it at all?"

Diane was stunned.

Diane never expected Layne not to slap back because of this reason.

Diane murmured, "Could it be that Hugh has a crush on Jane? Is this blind?"

"Hugh is the head of the Croft family. How can he fall in love with an ordinary person? When I see dad, I'll tell him everything about Hugh!"

Diane was angry. However, she did not lose her sanity.

Diane thought, "But if Jane and Hugh are really in a relationship....

"That will mean Jane can control us easily.

"If so, Jane can even on our heads in the future.

"She got Luna's embarrassing video and used Hugh to suppress Layne."

At this , Diane arose an intension to  Jane.

Diane murmured. "Anna told me she couldn't solve the problem. However, Jane was quiet and did not release the video.

"At that time, I hesitated about if I should find someone to  Jane Fowler.

"Now it seems like I can't let Jane Fowler be alive!"

Layne silently his **.

Layne did not speak a word.

All Layne could feel was the pain from his burning face.

Then, Layne gradually regained his rationality.

Layne thought, "I realized that Jane has too much evidence against the second branch.

"Besides, she has Hugh Croft.

"I have to think of a way to ease the tension between us and Jane.

"We can't be as confrontational as before.

"Sorry, little Maddie. I have to make sacrifices and seduce Jane Fowler. I do this for the sake of our future happiness, little Maddie."

Jane did not care what Layne and Diane were thinking.

Jane thought, "Well, I gave them my slaps.

"I embarrassed them, but they didn't dare to fight back.

"How satisfying!"

Marlon asked, "Queen, what exactly happened among you, Layne Croft, and Layne? Why are they so scared of you?"

Marlon was so curious that he kept asking Jane all kinds of questions. His starry eyes were filled with admiration.

Jane briefly explained what had happened to the Croft family.

Marlon said, ". Queen, you're amazing!"

Marlon gave Jane a thumbs up.

Marlon continued, "The second branch has always been . I always them.

"Thanks, Queen. You kicked their  for me today. Hahaha! I'll tell my family what happened today when I go back home! It's too satisfying!"

The Croft family had a total of four branches.

Victor Croft, who was Marlon's grandpa, was the former leader of the Croft family.

Michael Croft was the head of the first branch.

Raymond Croft was the head of the second branch. Layne and Diane belonged to this branch.

Matthew Croft was the head of the third branch. Marlon was in this branch.

Levi Croft was the head of the fourth branch. Hugh was in this branch.

Levi was the youngest of four brothers.

However, Levi had a genius, Hugh Croft.

At a young age, Hugh took over control of the Croft family from Victor Croft and became D.Y's president.

Hugh was an outstanding one in the Croft family. This enabled his branch to suppress the other three branches.

Michael Croft was the second distinguishing one. After all, as the head of the first branch, Michael had some power.

Then it was the second branch. Raymond had some abilities and raised a "genius" Layne. Raymond had developed these years and took back some power.

The third branch was at the bottom.

This was because Matthew did not like to fight for power. Instead, he liked to travel around with his wife and see the great scenes of the country. Matthew was not utilitarian, so he was not ambitious. Matthew's personality influenced his children. Marlon and the others of this branch were capable. However, they preferred to do things they liked and live a comfortable life.

Therefore, the third branch had no power in the Croft family.

Certainly, the third branch did not care much about power.

It was a privilege for one to be born into the Croft family. Even if the one was a good-for-nothing, he could still enjoy a luxurious life that others envied.

Jane shrugged and replied, "As long as you like it."

Then, Jane placed her hands on the chair behind her.

Jane took a comfortable position to wait for the show to begin.

Soon.

The protagonists came.

It was Jack and Henry.

When Jack arrived at the bidding office, he felt something wrong.

It was as if something had happened before they came.

Jack had not participated in the bidding for a long time because he let Henry take over the company when he retired.

Jack was worried about Henry's , so he stayed by Henry these days.

One night, Henry suddenly ran out to look for Liliana. When he returned, his state was even worse.

Jack asked Henry what happened. However, Henry refused to say a word.

Then Jack called Liliana. To his surprise, Liliana did not answer his call.

Liliana seemed to be by Jane.

Jack saw Layne and Diane in the office.

Jack thought, "I'm not surprised to see them here since this is a big bidder conference in Stormton City."

Jack greeted Diane.

Diane did not look too good, and she did not even hear Jack's greeting.

Jack took a closer look and found Diane's face swelled up.

Jack thought, "Maybe my eyesight is getting worse."

The bidding conference was about to begin.

Jack had no choice but to follow Henry and sit down in the front row.

These seats were marked on the invitation letter, which meant these seats belonged to important guests.

This revealed that the Fowler Corporation had a pivotal position in Stormton City.

The Fowler Corporation was still standing proudly even after what happened previously.

At this , a figure in the dark smirked.

Then Jack felt as if someone was staring at him.
