No Way Back Chapter 151-The man's senses were very sharp.

He swept backward instinctively like a wild beast.

Then.

The feeling of being targeted had disappeared without a trace.

Was it an illusion?

"Mr. Laton, what's wrong?"

The secretary beside him asked Chester softly.

"It's nothing... Cheer up and participate in this bidding meeting."

"I spent 3 million dollars to buy this news. I hope I won't return in disappointment."

Chester put aside the unclear feeling in his heart.

His amber eyes flashed with excitement.

This was only the first step in his expansion!

Everyone looked at Chester.

This was because Chester looked unfamiliar.

They had never seen him before.

However, he had an extremely handsome and outstanding face.

He was 6 feet 3 inches tall, dressed in an expensive high-end suit. He had permed curly hair and amber eyes.

He crossed his legs and supported his chin with one hand as if he was distracted. The shrewd light in his eyes could not be underestimated.

Just by looking at him, one could tell that Chester was not a simple person.

Marlon noticed that Jane's gaze was fixed on Chester. He asked softly, "Queen, is there anything about that man worth your attention?"

"What do you think?"

Jane retracted her probing gaze and asked Marlon in return.

Marlon thought for a moment and said, "That man... is so handsome. This is the first time I've seen a man who's on par with Hugh."

Even though they were so far apart, when Chester turned his head just now, Marlon saw his face clearly.

Other than the word "handsome", Marlon couldn't find any other adjective.

Jane knocked Marlon on the head.

"You *, since when did you judge people by faces? Hugh will *you if he hears you."

Marlon rubbed his swollen forehead.

"Oh my, Queen, I can't help it. This is the first time I've seen this man... Although I've seen very few. people, I don't remember this guy at all.

"But Hugh won't take it to heart. He already said that men who rely on their looks to make a living are the most despicable. He has never relied on his looks to make a living!"

Jane was a little confused.

Would Hugh... say such a thing?

It sounded like it came from that noble and cold man.

But why did Jane subconsciously think that Hugh actually cared about his face when she was with Hugh?

Marlon continued to stare at Chester.

"This guy... The aura he inadvertently exudes can't be underestimated!"

After looking at Chester for a long time, Marlon could also feel it.

After all, he was a man from the Croft family.

"Keep watching."

Jane crossed her arms and spoke with interest.

Jane had already investigated it. In her previous life, the person who used Madelyn to dig up information on the Fowler family was Chester..

She investigated Chester thoroughly.

She knew that Chester was the illegitimate son of the chairman of the Crown Group, which dominated the economic lifeline of Xkasa City.

Chester was extremely outstanding. He had displayed great talent since he was young. At the age of 22, he had already completed his graduate course in finance overseas and returned.

Even though he was an unpresentable illegitimate child, Chairman Laton had taken a fancy to Chester's -talent and ambition. He had given Chester enough resources to allow Chester to grow.

Chester just returned to the country less than three months ago. In order to avoid suspicion, he came to Stormton City and started his business with the first sum of money given by Chairman Laton. Madelyn had been roped in so quickly. Through various means, he won Madelyn's heart successfully. She cooperated with Chester and betrayed the Fowler family.

Apart from the fact that Madelyn needed money, Madelyn was also seduced by Chester's beauty, causing her to be more inclined toward him.

After all, Chester did have a face, temperament, figure, and bewitching methods that could make women go crazy.

In her previous life, Jane died. She did not know if Chester had destroyed the Fowler family in the end. Now that she was reborn, Chester had finally arrived in Stormton City. This was his first collaboration with Madelyn.

Jane had to witness with her own eyes whether Chester had the ability to defeat the Fowler family! Only then would Jane be at ease!

The bidding began.

People started bidding one after another.

These were all inessential.

The piece of land where Madelyn had sold out the plan information could be bid.

Jack made a move.

The lowest bid was 3 million dollars.

Even the Fowler Corporation had made a move.

The others who were interested in this piece of land instantly disappeared.

According to their estimation, this piece of land could be profitable, but the profits were not high.

Instead of fighting with the Fowler Corporation and ending up in an awkward situation, it was better to give the Fowler Corporation a favor.

And yet.

Chester raised his card.

*4.5 million dollars.”

Hiss!

Everyone gasped.

They all looked at the unfamiliar handsome man.

They were not familiar with him, but he could offer 4.5 million dollars and even challenge Fowler Corporation...

This young man was indeed not a kind person!

Jack also glanced at Chester.

His intuition told him that Chester was not an ordinary person.

After discussing with Henry, he raised his sign. “5.25 million dollars.”

Chester raised his card again. “6 million dollars.”

Jack hesitated.

Henry said, “Dad, we’ll go according to the original plan. We’ll pay 7.5 million dollars. We won’t raise it any further.”

“Okay.”

Jack nodded and raised his card. “7.5 million dollars.”

“7.5 million and 30 thousand dollars.”

Chester seemed to have guessed the psychological price of Fowler Corporation.

There was an additional 30 thousand dollars.

In the end, he successfully bought this piece of land.

After achieving their goal, Chester and his secretary stood up and left to prepare the transaction. procedures.

As he walked past Jane, Chester's amber eyes were suddenly fixed on Jane.

There was a hint of suspicion.

In just a short moment, he looked away.

Jack and Henry couldn't get that piece of land, and they didn't find Jane.

They had achieved most of their goals this time. They stood up and left, returning to the company to deal with the rest of the matters.

After all, if they did not get the most important place, the planned proposal was equivalent to being useless. They had to think of a new proposal.

They still had a lot of energy and time to spend. They could not waste any more time in such a place.

Marlon clicked his tongue. "I didn't expect Fowler Corporation to admit defeat so quickly. He offered 30 thousand dollars more just now. If they really want this piece of land, they can continue to increase the price."

For the huge Fowler Corporation, 30 thousand dollars was nothing.

Marlon felt that it was embarrassing to let go of the place they wanted just like that.

This was much more important than 30 thousand dollars.

"According to Fowler Corporation's proposal, they feel that they can earn 15 million dollars by taking over this land, but this is an uncertain factor.

"It's also possible that many unexpected events have happened, causing this piece of land to become scrap. It's a huge loss.

"No one can guarantee a 100% success rate in earning money. If there is, it's a god.

“Using 7.5 million dollars as the psychological base price and not being angry with others is Fowler Corporation’s usual calm way of handling things. Chester took advantage of Fowler Corporation’s ***.

“After all, prestige doesn’t matter. For the development, expansion, and survival of a company, there are many factors that need to be considered. It’s not as simple as you think.”

In a fight with Fowler Corporation, as long as one grasped Fowler Corporation’s  reserve price, it was very easy to obtain what one wanted at the smallest cost.

Therefore, the information provided by Madelyn was extremely important. It allowed Chester to bid unscrupulously and crush Fowler Corporation.

This time...

It was also the first time that Jack and Henry had misjudged Chester and suffered a huge loss!

But it was not the last time!

No Way Back Chapter 152-“I see...”

Marlon touched the back of his head, not fully understanding.

After Marlon and Jane left the bidding office.

Coincidentally.

Chester had also completed the procedures.

The two teams met again.

This time.

Chester took the initiative to greet them.

“Miss Jane Fowler, right?”

Although Jane was disguised, with Chester’s sharp eyes, he still recognized Jane.

“That’s me.”

Jane said calmly, “What can I do for you?”

"This is my business card, Miss Jane Fowler. If there's anything you want to cooperate with, feel free to call me."

Chester handed her a business card.

Jane took it and glanced at it.

X.Y. Group

Ha.

Was it like Hugh's D.Y. Group?

Jane put the business card in her pocket. "Alright, I'll consider it."

Chester pursed his lips, smiled, and left.

The secretary followed beside Chester and asked carefully, "President, why do you want to be related to Jane? She's not important in our plan, right?"

Chester wanted to quickly dig up the first bucket of gold and show it to the Laton family.

Chester chose the most dangerous way that might violate the law.

Through various means, he found out that the Fowler family trusted this adopted daughter Madelyn to the point of indulgence.

Chester came to Stormton City to start a business and only had the 15 million dollars that Chairman. Laton had given him.

He registered a company and defined his future direction.

He started to lure Madelyn.

Chester had already found out the importance of Madelyn in the Fowler family.

As well as Fowler Corporation's style in bidding.

If he could grasp the psychological base price of Fowler Corporation, the probability of successfully obtaining it would reach 95%.

After putting in so much effort and time, he finally got the information from Madelyn.

He got the first proposal.

With Chester's insight....

This proposal was not as simple as the 15 million dollars mentioned by Fowler Corporation!

Chester was confident that he could make a profit of 30 million dollars!

“One more chess piece means one more chance of success. Jane isn't as simple as you think.

I've heard about Jane before I came to Stormton City. If possible, I don't want to become enemies with this woman.”

This was Chester's instinct.

Ever since he was young, this instinct had saved him countless times.

As the illegitimate son of the Laton family, Chester lived an inferior life.

Thanks to that tragic period, Chester was able to quickly grow to his current state.

Chester left.

Jane was still looking at Chester's departing figure.

Marlon hesitated for a moment and could not help but say, “Um... Queen, don't tell me you like him?” “Don't be ***.”

Jane rolled her eyes at Marlon. “Do I look like the kind of person who forgets his friends when he sees someone he likes?”

“No, but Queen, you really pay attention to that man...”

I can understand. That man is indeed very handsome.”

Marlon did not know the relationship between Jane and Hugh.

He made his own judgment.

If Hugh was here, Marlon could be kicked out of ***.

“I advise you not to say such things again for the sake of your life.

“Alright, thank you for today. I have to go now.”

Jane patted Marlon's shoulder and turned to leave.

Jane arrived at the underground parking lot.

Coincidentally.

She met Layne and Diane again.

The corners of Jane's lips curled into a contemptuous smile. She treated the two of them as air and turned the key to Porsche before walking toward it.

Diane gritted her teeth in hatred, but she did not dare to say anything.

She had been slapped by Jane after saying something. It was so embarrassing.

When Jane walked past Layne, Layne suddenly spoke.

"Jane, I think we should talk."

Even Diane was stunned.

She looked at Layne in disbelief.

"Layne, you..."

"Mom, leave it to me. I'll take care of this."

Layne tipped Diane a wink.

And yet.

Jane completely ignored Layne's words and walked straight to her Porsche Cayenne.

Layne dit met expect Jane to be to heartle

She was clearly a ***

In order to snatch Madelyn's qualification for the competition, she slept with the professor

In order to marry into the Croft family and become rich she not only seduced Hugh but also became intimate with Marlon

Why?

Since she wanted to marry the Croft family and have the Cinderella story, wasn't seducing Layne the best choice?

Why would Jane rather use her body to seduce these two men than Layne?

It was fine if she just seduced Hugh

However, Jane would rather seduce Marlon than Layne

It was as if she was saying

In Jane's eyes, Layne could not even compare to Marlon

She embarrassed Layne!

It was awful!

In a moment of desperation, Layne actually blocked Jane's car

"Jane, I really have something very important to tell you!"

"Are you not getting out?"

Jane's eyes gradually turned cold.

She released the brake, stepped on the accelerator, and was about to crash into Layne.

At the critical moment, Diane could not help but shout worriedly, "Son!"

Layne suddenly came back to his senses and immediately pounced to the side.

He rolled on the ground crazily, looking extremely miserable.

Jane did not even look at it. "," she said and Porsche away.

it! This b*tch!"

Layne was so angry that he gritted his teeth.

“Son, are you alright? Gosh, you’re bleeding. Let’s go to the hospital quickly...

“No, Mom. It’s just a small injury. Just disinfect it.”

Layne looked at the wounds on his body.

* Jane...

“I will remember this.

“One day, I will make you willingly submit to me!

“I will prove how wrong your choice is! I, Layne, am an existence even more outstanding than Hugh and Marlon!”

Night fell.

Jane was having a shower.

At this moment.

There was a notification on her phone.

It was from Hugh.

[Do you want to eat something tonight?]

Jane replied, [Sure. Send it over. I’m almost done showering.]

Showering...

Hugh was downstairs in Jane’s apartment.

He pursed his lips tightly.

He thought of Jane taking a bath ***.

Ahem.

Hugh subconsciously had an erection.

His heart, which had always been like an iceberg, was moved.

No matter what, Hugh was a normal man.

In the past, he never had an erection.

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 153

No Way Back Chapter 153-It was because he had never met a woman he wanted to spend the rest of his life with.

Now, he had encountered his own light.

Hugh would inevitably change from a high and mighty god who was not aroused to an ordinary man in the mortal world.

He became a mortal who had emotions and desires and would easily be happy, angry, and sad for the person he loved.

“Boss.”

Life sat in the driver’s seat.

He looked at Hugh through the rearview mirror.

Hmm...

How should he put it?

He felt that Hugh’s expression changed frequently.

This was the first time he had seen such a boss...

Hugh waited in the car for half an hour.

Then, he sent the food to Jane.

“Come in and sit.”

When the two of them met, Jane and Hugh could be said to be good friends.

Hugh felt as relaxed as if he was in his own home.

Or rather...

Only in this place could he feel relaxed.

The size of the space could not be compared to Hugh’s big manor.

But... Jane was here.

It was reassuring.

Jane prepared the food that Hugh had brought over and placed it on a plate. There was also orange meat sprinkled with crushed ice and sour plum powder.

“Let’s try it together. I tried it with this orange last time. It tasted even better!”

“Okay.”

Hugh picked up the fork and took a bite.

“Not bad indeed.”

“It’s so perfunctory. You have to taste the food with your heart. Trust my judgment as a gourmet, okay?”

Jane complained.

Then.

She stabbed a piece of orange meat with a toothpick and handed it to Hugh.

Hugh was slightly stunned.

“What are you waiting for? Open your ***.”

Under Jane’s urging, Hugh subconsciously opened his ***.

Jane stuffed the orange into Hugh’s ***.

After careful mixing, the frozen oranges mixed with ingredients and the high-tech food that was suitable for Type Omega blood brought by Hugh, it actually produced a wonderful chemical reaction.

Hugh was stunned,

“Right? If it’s delicious, eat more. Anyway, I’ve had dinner. There’s plenty here. It’s a pity not to eat it all.”

Jane smiled as if she received major recognition.

Then, she enjoyed the delicious food.

Hugh ate it like this again.

It tasted good.

However, it was not as delicious as before.

The reason...

Hugh knew it very well.

Because Jane didn't feed Hugh that piece of orange meat.

Jane fed it, so Hugh felt that it was so delicious.

It was better than the delicacies he had eaten in his life.

Hugh stared at Jane.

Jane was too embarrassed to enjoy eating.

"Ahem... Um, Hugh, I know that I don't look good when I eat. You don't have to stare at me like that."

"I'm sorry, Janie. You're too beautiful, so I can't help but... be entranced."

Jane was speechless.

Hugh said so seriously.

But Jane was at a loss.

At the same time.

What was the inexplicable rapid thumping in her heart?

A strange feeling welled up in her heart, forcing Jane to lower her head.

"Did what I just said bother you?"

Hugh had never been in a relationship before. When it came to relationships, he was like an ***.

He was a completely different person from the noble emperor who was swift and decisive in the business world and had a lot of talent.

Seeing that Jane suddenly did not speak as if he ignored Hugh, Hugh could not help but feel nervous. So...

After falling in love with someone, he would care so much about his position in her heart.

Many times, he would inadvertently wonder what Jane thought of Hugh.

They had known each other for so long and had experienced many things.

But Hugh's answer was still unclear.

"No, it's just... Hugh. Sometimes I wonder if you really like me, or is it because of the attraction between the blood types?

"When I came into contact with you, I could feel the blood in my body boiling. This is a chemical reaction that only Type Omega blood has.

"The closer we get, the more I can't control the surging urge in my heart. In the beginning, I was embarrassed and afraid of losing control, even though I've gotten used to it now..."

Jane held her cheek and looked at Hugh seriously, speaking sincerely.

As she spoke, Jane did not know how to continue.

Why did she say things like that?

Was Jane trying to confirm something?

She wanted to be sure that Hugh cared and liked her.

Wasn't it just because they had the same blood type and had to rely on each other to live happily for the rest of their lives?

There was a deeper reason...

But what was the reason?

As a spinster who had never been in a relationship in her previous life, Jane was also confused.

When it came to love, Jane was not much better than Hugh.

Both of them were in love.

Jane was the Queen of the Darknet, and Hugh was the King of Stormton City.

When these two worked together, they could even shake the entire world easily...

Now that they were squeezed together in the living room, facing each other, they were like teenagers who had just fallen in love and could not control their hormones.

Those who were familiar with Jane and Hugh would definitely be shocked if they saw it.

They would wonder if pigs could fly.

"I admit, Janie, if it weren't for the fact that the two of us had Type Omega blood and attracted each other, I wouldn't have taken the initiative to approach you.

"But... I can tell you with certainty that in this world, the only person who can stand by your side is me, and it has to be me.

"I'm in love with you, Janie. It doesn't matter if it's because of my blood type or because you make me disregard my own safety and become less like myself. I want to have a home of my own and feel happy.

"About this, no matter how many times you ask, I will tell you firmly! I love you! Janie! As your pursuer, I will not give up!

"Until the day you fall in love with me!"

When Hugh said this, his eyes were as hot as the holy spear of Olympus.

It was as if it could easily tear the sky apart.

It made the world tremble.

This "Holy Spear"... hit Jane hard in the heart along with Hugh's words.

It pierced through the softest part of her heart.

It made Jane's blood boil uncontrollably again.

Even her soul could sense Hugh's feelings.

Hugh pursed his lips.

His deep black eyes seemed to melt the woman in front of him.

It was good to say Hugh was domineering.

Anyway, Hugh could not accept the fact that Jane had another man beside her.

He finally found an opportunity to confide in the person he wanted to confide in the most. Hugh would not regret it, even if it would scare Jane and make her alienate him!

Because this was what Hugh wanted!

Loving her made him incorrigible!

It took Jane a long time to accept the news.

She could not control herself.

Soon, she broke out into a laugh.

“Hugh, I’m happy to hear you say that.”

Jane had to admit it.

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 154

No Way Back Chapter 154-She long had feelings for the man standing in front of her.

After all, he was such a distinguished and outstanding person.

His feelings for her were steadfast and unwavering.

Jane always found it difficult to trust anyone.

His confession tasted like the sweetest poison to her.

She could not resist the temptation.

She recalled that both of them had Type Omega blood. Would it have any impact on their future?

Nevertheless, this question was no longer important.

“Janie, I’m sorry to say this so suddenly. I might have scared you.

“I just want you to understand from the moment I met you, I already liked you.

“You’re a ray of light, illuminating my frozen and pitch-black world.

If a ray of sunlight shone into the darkness and was unable to pull itself back, soon, it would retreat into obscurity.

The ray of light had been tainted by the darkness.

Hugh did not want that to happen.

He might have fallen into the abyss of darkness, his body corrupted and debased.

Still, he would try his best to reach out and grab hold of the ray of light.

“All right, I understand. Hugh. I already said that I’m very happy. Why do you think you’re scaring me?”

“Ahem... thank you for your serious and sincere confession. I am not sure if I want to spend the rest of my life with you. Now you make me look like a flirt who is toying with your affections...”

Before she could finish speaking, Hugh interrupted her. His tone was firm and assertive.

“Janie, I will wait for you until you are willing to accept my affections.”

Before that happened, Hugh would continue to persevere and try to win her heart.

He would not stop trying until he made Jane his.

Hugh did not know much about Jane.

He knew that the matter regarding the Fowler family had left Jane badly scarred. She had herself up ever since.

She did not want to get involved in any kinship in the future.

Hugh had never expected that he could get this far in getting close to Jane.

Jane was so precious to him. John knew better than anyone else in this world how much he treasured her.

She was a rare treasure, the brightest star and the only sunshine that could dispel all darkness.

A glimpse of Jane was only enough to send ripples into his heart, invoking his innermost feelings

Jane looked into Hughs eyes for the first time.

She noticed that his eyes were deep set and black

Initially, it looked like a hollow *****.

Now, its reflection was illuminated with Jane’s silhouette

At least for this moment, there was only Jane in Hugh's eyes.

Jane suddenly asked a strange question. "Hugh, do you know how to dry hair?"
"Huh?"

Hugh did not expect such a question from Jane.

"My hair isn't dry yet. I'm worried that I won't be able to sleep. Help me dry it."

Jane stood up as she clarified her question.

Stunned for a moment, Hugh followed after Jane.

Jane sat at the dressing table and handed the hairdryer to Hugh.

Hugh took the hairdryer and gently blew Jane's hair.

Jane's hair was very soft and smooth to the touch.

There was also the scent of Jane's shampoo around her.

Jane closed her eyes comfortably.

"I've read a few novels in the past on this description. I'm looking forward to this.

"You'll help me comb my hair while I straighten your tie. It will be such a blissful picture.

"Hugh, do you think we look like the male and female protagonists in those ancient novels now? Will this be a sweet ending?"

Hugh's gaze was so gentle, like the still waters in the lake.

His slender and fair fingertips weaved through Jane's hair as the hot wind from the hairdryer blew on her hair, allowing the scent to permeate the room.

"As long as you're willing, we can continue like this forever."

Hugh's answer would never change.

He was just waiting for the day when Jane finally agreed.

"I don't know why I love you, but you are the reason why I don't love others"

Jane closed her eyes in satisfaction.

She placed both her legs on the chair.

Hugging her legs, she tilted her head and propped one side of her face on her knees.

She was like a cat that just had a beautiful dream after a nap.

Hearing that, Hugh's heart skipped a beat.

He did not dare to think too much.

He was afraid he misunderstood Jane's intention and ended up getting hurt.

However, Hugh really wanted draw near to Jane.

He leaned forward.

He kissed Jane's hair.

He then kissed Jane's cheek.

Then he moved to her red lips.

Hugh had left.

After drying Jane's hair, he looked at her and frowned,

He was the head of the Croft family and the president of the DY. Group.

He might be impulsive and had almost crossed the boundary, shattering all his logic.

In the end, Hugh remembered Jane.

Jane's existence forcefully brought Hugh back to his senses.

He stopped himself.

Jane's heart flipped.

She really wanted Hugh to kiss herself that night.

No matter what, Jane was still a lady.

She found it embarrassing to ask for it.

However, Hugh had restrained himself.

What a pity.

Sometimes it was not good for men to be too rational and emotional. However, there was plenty of time. Jane and Hugh could take it slow.

She would not be again and ruin her beautiful life.

She already had something more important than kinship.

In this life, Jane was no longer alone.

“All right. Let’s work overnight and finish up the mission assigned to us.” “Jane, charge!”

Hugh left the apartment.

He got into the car.

Life asked, “Boss, are we going back?”

For a moment, Hugh was quiet.

He took out his phone.

He called Robert and Connor.

Robert was currently attending a banquet.

Connor was already asleep.

The two of them were rudely summoned up by Hugh.

After hanging up the phone, Hugh ordered, “Go to Nightshade Bar.”

“Yes.”

At the bar, Hugh had already drunk a few glasses of the 1982 vintage of Lafite.

Connor and Robert had rushed to the bar,

“Boss, what’s the matter? I was dreaming of kissing my future wife when you interrupted my dream.”

Connor pouted angrily.

“Well, Hugh is never so rash. Something important must have happened. Take a seat, and we can talk about it.”

“Hugh, what happened?”

Robert pulled Connor to sit down and stared curiously at Hugh

Hugh had never been so anxious to gather Robert and Connor together at Nightshade Bar for a discussion.

Hugh was like a monster. Whenever there was a critical situation where no one could complete the task, Hugh was always able to resolve it miraculously and beautifully.

“Nothing. Let’s drink.

“I’ll pay for everything today.”

Connor Robert could not believe their ears.

“Hugh, are you *? Don’t scare me.

Connor swallowed hard. He found it incredulous that Hugh was acting so strangely.

He was frightened.

“What’s wrong? I’m feeling happy, and I want to drink. Can’t I do that?”

Hugh’s thin lips curled up.

He was in love.

Connor and Robert were speechless.

They seemed to have understood everything.

Hugh was not troubled at all.

He wanted to fall in love, and he was no longer single.

That was why he was so happy.

it!

How could Hugh torture them this way?

Both Connor and Robert were single. They were either sleeping soundly in bed or busy with some event.

Hugh had dragged them out to boast about his love life in the middle of the night.

They seethed with anger inwardly, “Jane Fowler, you should take him in hand”

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 155

No Way Back Chapter 155-Jane was unaware of what Connor and Robert were going through. After a night of hard work, she finally completed her mission.

She was in high spirits.

Perhaps it was because of the food Hugh sent.

Or perhaps, there were other reasons.

She was in a beautiful mood.

It was also possible that she was happy because of both reasons.

Jane stretched her limbs lazily and sent the information to Clarence.

She then went onto the bed, intending to catch up on her sleep.

In any case, she had no class the next morning.

Shortly after, Jane was sound asleep. She was dreaming.

She found herself in a pink sea of flowers.

There were pink petals dancing in the sky.

The beautiful place was like a fairyland.

The blue sky and * formed a background that seemed boundaryless.

Jane did not even have time to think ahead.

Just then, a ray of light appeared.

Someone was tearing into space amidst the sunshine.

It was Hugh.

He flew up to Jane.

His handsome face looked very dignified. He smiled affectionately.

Hugh held Jane's hand and pulled her into his arms.

Jane seemed to have lost all her strength.

She allowed herself to move in tandem with Hugh.

As she fell into Hugh's embrace, they resumed kissing.

Soon, the kiss deepened in the dream.

Hugh's lips seemed sweeter than Jane thought they would be.

Her body reacted instinctively.

She wanted to close her eyes and wrap her arms around Hugh's neck.

She was drowned in the dream woven by the pink sea of flowers.

She wished she never had to wake up.

The alarm clock woke Jane up.

Rubbing her hair, she got up and looked at the time.

*it!

It was already two o'clock in the afternoon!

She was going to be late.

Jane had always been a light sleeper.

She had never slept so soundly.

In addition, she was behaving intimately with Hugh in the dream.

Embarrassed, Jane rubbed her forehead furiously.

In both of her lives, she was already so old, yet she was still dreaming of being a princess.

Exasperated, Jane figured she must have been possessed.

Since it was too late to go to work, Jane took the afternoon off again.

Just then, Yale sent her a message.

[Jane, Mr. York forwarded the information you send to me. You've done really well.]

Jane replied, [Hehe, it's my honor to be able to help you.]

Yale texted back, [You're about to participate in the International Students Drawing Competition. Don't take on any new missions for the time being. Rest well and get ready for the battle.]

Jane said, [Don't worry, Yale, I won't let you down. I will definitely win the world championship this time!]

Jane wanted to do it not only for herself but also because Yale pinned all his hopes on her. It was her honor to bring glory to the country.

Yale said, [I believe you can do it, Jane. You are so smart. I'm sure you can do it.]

After chatting with Yale, Jane went on to confirm her next mission with Clarence.

Clarence sent her a text message. [Queen, you completed your mission so quickly this time. It's already very helpful to our research. You should rest for a while first.]

Jane insisted, [Mr. York, don't worry about me. I have a lot of pent-up energy, and I need to expend them. Just send any new mission my way.]

Jane wanted to help Yale's research on the lithographic machine and break up the monopoly. Crucia's power in the international arena would rise exponentially then.

Yale was working hard for the country's glory.

As his junior, Jane could not afford to slack off.

Clarence replied emotionally. [Queen, I'm sorry that we doubted you when you first came to the organization. If...]

[Mr. York, you are right to suspect me. Anyone in your position would do the same.

[It's fine now since all your suspicions have been dispelled. Right now, I just want to be like Yale and do my part for the country. That's all.]

The two of them smiled and made peace.

University of Oricle's freshman welcome party was approaching.

That day, Jane just finished her class.

Lila gave Jane a strawberry-flavored lollipop.

There was a sly smile on Lila's face.

“What’s the matter? Why are you smiling so happily?”

Jane took the lollipop and licked it.

It tasted very sweet.

“Janie, let me tell you something. Madelyn’s speech had been canceled. What pleasant news!”

Lila leaned close to Jane. She almost could not hold back her laughter.

“Huh?”

Jane was surprised.

She had been very busy with her training of late. Besides, she had been very focused on completing her mission.

Jane did not pay much attention to news in the University of Oricle,

In her previous life, Madelyn was the center of attraction at the freshmen welcome party.

During the party, a media company noticed her.

They had good reviews of Madelyn’s performance at large-scale dinners.

Madelyn was good-looking and had a good figure. In addition, she also had the Fowler family backing her up.

The media company lost no time in wooing Madelyn aggressively in hope that she would launch her career with them.

Before Jane died, Madelyn had already broken into the entertainment industry.

She had a few hit series such as “The Zen Girls”, “Girls”, and “Big Eaters”.

She was very popular and was known as one of the four new-generation stars.

Of course, Jane had to admit one thing. Madelyn’s acting skills were indeed top-notch.

In addition, she had several male friends in the entertainment industry as well as the Fowler family's influence.

Even a lousy singer could easily get into the C-list.

Madelyn, an ambitious and talented woman would definitely be able to achieve more.

"Of course, they did not say Madelyn's performance was canceled. The reason why Madelyn's freshman speech was canceled was because of the incident involving the Fowler family. They felt that Madelyn's speech will have an impact on the school.

"Besides, didn't Mr. Lance give you Madelyn's spot in the national drawing competition? You even won the championship. Now you are going to take part in an international competition.

"The school must be trying to up to you. You cut ties with the Fowler family, and things had been strained between the both of you. If you really win the world championship, Madelyn will lose all credibility in Oricle."

The more Lila said, the more excited she became.

She liked to insult Madelyn, that ***.

It felt so gratifying.

"Janie, I believe in you. You will definitely win the world championship!

"Good luck! Destroy that angelic , Madelyn Fowler!"

Lila's eyes were gleaming with pride. She clenched her fists, feeling hopeful for the future.

Jane smiled and did not answer.

The International Students Drawing Competition would be held a week after the freshman welcome party.

The organizers of the international competition planned to hold the competition before Christmas. Jane would travel with Mr. Lance to Meridonia by flight.

This time, she would definitely return with the world championship trophy. She would bring glory to the country. Yale would be so proud of her.

At this moment, Prof. Henderson entered the classroom.

“Jane, I’ve been looking for you for a long time.”

Raising her eyebrows, Jane stood up. “Prof. Henderson, what can I do for you?”

“The freshman welcome party is approaching. The professors have unanimously voted for you to give a speech to the new students as a senior and as an outstanding representative of the University of Oricle.”

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 156

No Way Back Chapter 156-Lila was slightly stunned. “Eh? Professor Henderson, isn’t this job usually for the Student Union President? Why did you choose Janie?”

“Ahem, this year is a little special. Not only did Jane break my programming record, but she also won the national championship.”

“Therefore, it’s normal for everyone to vote for Jane to be the representative. I wonder if Student you will accept it...”

Jane thought for a moment and said, “Yes, sure.”

“That’s great. I’ll report this to the principal.”

After Ian left, Lila held her cheek with an expectant expression. “Janie, I suddenly feel that things have become very interesting. What do you think?”

“Let’s do our thing.”

Jane said calmly.

There was a reason that Jane answered Ian’s request.

Jane wanted to force Madelyn.

Madelyn would become more and more jealous of Jane.

As long as Madelyn developed a strong desire to  Jane. Madelyn would fall into Chester’s sweet talk.

The Fowler family would find out the truth one day.

Things would become more interesting.

Jane went to the toilet.

Coincidentally, Jane ran into Madelyn.

Madelyn was accompanied by two of her best friends.

Jane knew these two girls.

One of them was the daughter of a cosmetics company's CEO, Susan Morine.

The other was the daughter of a CEO of a toy company, Jamie Chase.

The two companies Susan and Jamie's fathers owned were not small-scaled.

Looking at Susan and Jamie's newest designer outfits, it was obvious their families were rich.

Susan and Jamie were dressed extremely fashionably. They had exaggerated expression and was exceptionally gorgeous.

However, Susan and Jamie's family companies paled in comparison to the Fowler Corporation. Madelyn was wearing all the latest limited-edition fashion items.

One piece of Madelyn's clothes worthed more than all of Susan and Jamie's items added up.

Susan and Jamie were Madelyn bootlickers.

For Madelyn, it was better to have more bootlickers. That way, there would be more tools that Madelyn could use!

It was even more convenient to have bootlickers close to her at the University of Oricle.

In Jane's previous life, these two bootlickers had caused a lot of trouble for her.

Jane's lips curled into a cold smile.

Jane did not think that this was a coincidence.

There were no freshman classes on this floor today.

Even if one went to the restroom, one would only be on the 4th floor.

One would not especially run to the 6th floor.

Jane was curious about the game Madelyn wanted to play.

Jane ignored Madelyn and walked to the toilet while humming a tune.

Hatred flashed across Madelyn's eyes.

Yesterday, Madelyn had already received the news.

The scheduled speech for the new student representative was canceled.

There would only be a performance.

Madelyn had different plans at first.

This was supposed to be the starting point of Madelyn's glorious career in the entertainment industry. As the representative of the freshmen, Madelyn was an actress with excellent acting . Countless media companies would discover Madelyn's brilliance, and they would crazily try to sign her. And now, it was all ruined by Jane!

When Jane passed by Madelyn.

"Janie."

Madelyn suddenly spoke.

Madelyn reached out, wanting to pull Jane.

Jane dodged quietly.

"Madelyn, don't call me Janie. I feel nauseous."

"Also, there's no need to act in front of me. I won't fall for your tricks. You should act for someone who is willing to believe you."

Jane had long experienced Madelyn's shamelessness.

Madelyn had been humiliated by Jane so many times, yet Madelyn still dared to approach Jane like this and pretend to be innocent.

Madelyn probably wanted to put on a show for the two bootlickers.

Jane was fine with Madelyn's tricks. However, Jane doubted if Madelyn could take the consequences.

"Jane, you're out of the line! Maddie just wants to reconcile with you!"

"Are what they said real? You, as the real daughter of the Fowler family, can't tolerate an adopted sister? Is that why you made it publically known and cut ties with the Fowler family?"

It was as expected.

Susan and Jamie had been completely by Madelyn.

Seeing Jane say this, Susan and Jamie instantly felt indignant for their best friend.

Susan and Jamie also wanted to please Madelyn.

They wanted to put on a good act so that Madelyn would be happy.

This way, if Susan and Jamie's family companies wanted to collaborate with the Fowler Corporation, Madelyn could pull some strings for them.

Naturally, Susan and Jamie did not know how powerful the people behind Jane were.

Jane had been related to Hugh, Robert, Shaun, and Andy..

If Susan and Jamie knew about this, they would never dare provoke Jane in any way. Jane was about to speak.

"Susan, Jamie, don't say that Janie, you have all the right to me. It's all my fault."

"I shouldn't have lived in this world. I appeared in the Fowler family, made Janie me, and caused the Fowler family to suffer such humiliation."

"Janie, I don't care if you believe me or not. I'm really in pain! I can't sleep every night. I'm thinking about where the happy Fowler family has gone!"

"I want you back, Janie. As long as you are willing to return to the Fowler family, I can really do anything Anything."

Madelyn's eyes turned red as she spoke, and she began to cry crazily again.

Jane was speechless.

Come on.

Couldn't Madelyn change a fresher story?

Even if it was a fairy tale, it got old over time.

Madelyn had said this many times in front of Jane.

Jane was so tired of Madelyn's words.

But Madelyn just couldn't get enough of the same old act.

Jane was  of hearing it.

Jane wanted to vomit.

However, the two bootlickers were immediately benevolent by Madelyn's pitiful appearance.

Susan and Jamie glared at Jane.

"Jane, don't you have a heart? Does it really make you feel good to hurt Maddie like this?"

"Maddie, I told you not to come here to use the restroom. I was afraid we would bump into Jane. Let's go."

If eyes could , Jane would have been by Susan and Jamie.

Something unexpected happened.

"Take care."

Jane left these words and turned around to go to the restroom.

Madelyn and the others were stunned.

What did Jane want to do?

Why did it seem a little out of the ordinary?

Jane was humiliated by them.

Shouldn't Jane be furious?

Madelyn's face darkened.

Madelyn had an idea.

Could it be that Jane had noticed Madelyn's plan?

There was a reason that Madelyn brought her so-called best friends there to wait at the restroom.

Madelyn wanted to see if Jane would come.

There were no surveillance cameras in the female restroom.

It was convenient for Madelyn and the two to cause trouble.

Originally, Madelyn was worried that Jane would not come.

However, Jane did come as Madelyn wished!

Madelyn wanted to use her usual methods to make Jane angry or even push Madelyn. Madelyn would take the opportunity and pretend to fall. Madelyn planned to crack her own head, bleed, and pretend to faint. Then, Susan and Jamie would shout loudly, attracting everyone's attention. Even if there was no evidence, Jane would have no chance to be the senior representative given that Madelyn was hurt so badly by the incident. Then, Jane would lose the opportunity to give a speech at the freshman orientation.

That was right.

Madelyn had such a simple goal. She wanted Jane to take the blame and fail to become the representative!

Because this position originally belonged to Madelyn!

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 157

No Way Back Chapter 157-Madelyn's qualification would not have been snatched away if Jane had not interfered.

She would not have been disqualified from giving a speech.

Madelyn was envious of Jane.

She wished she could Jane with her hands.

This also caused the Fowlers and Layne to Jane, It was two birds with one stone.

Jane did not care about that at all. Madelyn did not even know how to push the situation forward.

In Madelyn's script, Jane should not have reacted like this.

This was unless Jane had noticed Madelyn's motive.

At that thought, Madelyn rushed forward and tried to pull Jane back. "Janie, why are you ignoring me?! beg you...

It was fine even if it was forced.

Madelyn was going to get injured here.

She was going to get the public to talk about Jane.

Then, she would bribe some students to publicize the matter.

That way, she would be able to disqualify Jane from becoming the representative of the freshmen.

And yet.

Jane turned slightly to the side.

She was holding her phone in hand.

She aimed it at Madelyn.

Madelyn stood rooted to the ground in shock.

“Hm? Continue, I’m filming.”

Jane recorded Madelyn’s expression on her phone. “I’m talking to you now. If you want to say something, just say it.”

“... ..”

Madelyn almost forgot.

This was Jane’s favorite method.

Video recording!

Since Jane was prepared in advance.

As expected.

Jane had guessed Madelyn’s motive.

“You said... You said that you’ll do anything as long as I’m willing to forgive you and return to the Fowler family, right?”

“Then, Madelyn Fowler, kneel now and *my shoes clean. I’ll consider it after you do that. How about that?”

“W-what did you say?”

Madelyn trembled and looked at Jane in disbelief.

“Weren’t you willing to do anything? I can return to the Fowler family as per your wish as long as you sacrifice yourself.

When that time comes, you can scam as far away as you wish and disappear from my world. Wouldn’t it be fine as long as the Fowler family is happy?

“However, to prevent you from causing trouble, I have to record a video as evidence to prove that you did it willingly and that I didn’t force you. That’s fair, isn’t it?”

“Hey, Jane, this is obviously a personal attack!”

“Yeah, how can you make Maddie do such an embarrassing thing?”

Susan and Jamie saw the dire situation and immediately jumped out to support Madelyn.

“Don’t make a promise that you cannot keep. What a joke.”

Jane’s lips curled into a contemptuous smile. She turned around and walked into the female toilet.

She closed the door and isolated herself from the world.

Madelyn and the others were left extremely embarrassed.

“All right, Maddie, I told you to ignore Jane. People like her are so vicious,”

“That’s right. I feel so indignant for Maddie! How can there be such a shameless woman in this world? Is she really Mr. Fowler’s biological daughter? Could there have been a problem with the DNA results?” Jamie and Susan also  Jane.

Madelyn’s expression became even uglier when they brought the matter up.

“Why wasn’t it...” she thought.

When Madelyn knew about this news back then.

The first thing she thought of was that the DNA test report was wrong.

She then secretly took Jane and Jack Fowler’s hair for a DNA test.

In the end.

99% match.

They were biologically related.

Otherwise, why would Madelyn be so anxious to chase Jane away?

Unexpectedly, even though she had successfully chased Jane away.

She caused so much trouble in the end.

Jamie suddenly rolled her eyes.

She immediately ran to the sink to get a bucket of water.

Susan widened her eyes. "Jamie, are you thinking of..."

Jamie immediately gestured for her to keep quiet. "Shh! Stop talking! I'm going to teach this bad woman a lesson! Who asked her to Maddie like that!"

"Jamie, don't be like this..."

Though Madelyn tried to dissuade her, she did not step forward to stop her.

She was really mad at Jane.

Even if this plan failed, if she could drench Jane...

She would have gotten her revenge.

Even if Jane pursued the matter.

She would push all the blame onto Jamie.

Anyway, Madelyn had already dissuaded Jamie.

It had nothing to do with her.

Jamie took a bucket of water and effortfully walked to the door of the cubicle where Jane was in Just as she was about to raise the and pour the water into the cubicle before making a run for it Suddenly.

The door was suddenly pushed open.

Bang

Jamie was caught off guard.

The bucket of water splashed onto her instead.

She was completely drenched.

Her hand was also bruised by the door.

Jane stayed in the toilet.

She slowly walked out after everything calmed down.

She looked at the clown-like Madelyn and the others. "Ha!"

She laughed mockingly.

She then left the toilet.

Madelyn and the others stayed behind.

They felt an unprecedented sense of defeat.

It was as if Jane had seen through all their thoughts.

She did not take them seriously at all.

They felt even worse than if Jane was to respond to them directly.

Jane left the toilet and went to the corridor.

Lila Sutton came looking for her.

"Janie, what took you so long? I was afraid you had fallen into the toilet."

"I'm fine. I just solved a small problem. All right, I'm going back to write my speech.

"I'll have to prepare well since I've promised Professor Henderson, right? There's not much time left until the freshmen assembly."

Jane deliberately increased her volume.

Coincidentally.

Madelyn and the others walked out of the toilet.

Her expression turned even darker.

Lila instantly understood what was going on.

"That's right. Janie not only wants to become one of the University of Oricle most famous graduates, but she also wants to become the world champion!

"She has a bright future ahead of her. She's many times better than an angelic who's all talk but no substance!"

Susan was furious when she heard this. She glared at Lila. "You... What are you talking about?" "Strange, did I talk to you? Do I know you well? Don't be in such a hurry to make the connection.

"I haven't even called you out but you are already all up against me. How shameless."

Lila made a face at Susan.

Madelyn ran away.

She cried as she ran.

Her defenses had been crushed this time.

She was so angry that she cried.

She thought, "Jane! Foster!

"You ! Just revel in your smugness now!

"On the day of the World Series, I, Madelyn, will destroy your reputation and make you the laughingstock of the country!"

"Wait for us! Maddie..."

Seeing that Madelyn had run away, Susan and Jamie did not dare to stay any longer and quickly followed behind her.

Lila burst into laughter.

Jane rubbed Lila's head. "All right, stop laughing. Come, help me think of a script."

"Janie, don't harm the innocent. It's not like you don't know my abilities. I'll just wait to see how stunning your finished product is.

"Yeah, though I feel that my trash-talking are getting better and better, I must have learned a lot from Janie. I now know how to use terms like 'snowflake' or 'angelic ***'.

“Why don’t I stop playing e-sports in the future? I’ll learn how to write novels and become a full-time writer... My pen name can be “Infatuating Orange” and I’ll publish novels with strong female leads. Wouldn’t that be nice?”

Jane did not know what to say.

Soon.

It was the day of the freshman welcome party.

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 158

No Way Back Chapter 158-Only freshmen could attend the freshmen welcome party held by the University of Oricle.

The sophomores, juniors, and seniors could only watch the broadcast together with the graduating students, graduates, and doctors.

They could also head outside the assembly hall to bask in the atmosphere if they wanted to.

The assembly hall had already been set up a day in advance, so the staff and student union members were maintaining order at the moment.

There were also delegates who voluntarily went on stage to practice their speeches.

Jane came to the assembly hall after she was notified.

She was confident that she could do her speech well. But with her personality, she had to do her best since she had decided to do it.

Hence, she decided to practice her speech once,

Coincidentally, Peter was on stage giving a speech while Madelyn watched from below the stage.

Peter was a senior and would graduate after finishing his studies this year.

He was the most outstanding student in the whole University of Oricle before Jane overshadowed him with her brilliance.

The school also generously gave Peter a chance to speak on stage.

Of course, there was also the intention of currying favor with Fowler Corporation.

With Peter's original career plan, he planned to enter a famous university overseas to further his studies.

At the same time, he had already passed the international language test and successfully obtained the offer.

Seeing Peter on stage, Jane turned around and left.

Peter saw her and instantly stopped his speech.

He hesitated for a moment. But in the end, he mustered up his courage.

"Maddie, you stay here. I suddenly have something on. I have to go out for a while."

"What? Peter, we're still in the middle of rehearsal..."

Without any explanation, Peter jumped off the podium and chased after Jane.

Madelyn naturally saw everything.

She clenched her fists tightly as her nails dug into her flesh. It hurts! But her heart hurts more!

'Why Peter... Jane was so towards you. Why do you keep caring for her?

"You even distanced yourself from me for Jane Fowler! Did she brainwash you?"

It was gradually turning from autumn into winter.

Jane stuffed her hands into the pockets of her windbreaker and exhaled.

A bail of *mist condensed in the air.

It was already reaching ten degrees.

The coldest temperature in Stormton City had reached three degrees before dawn.

After living for so long, she had never seen it snow in Stormton City.

There was a sound of hurried footsteps.

Peter did not shout Jane's name.

Instead, he went straight to Jane.

Jane looked at Peter coldly and did not speak.

Just like the coldness in the air, it made one's skin turn cold.

It made his heart turn cold.

Peter took a deep breath and mustered his courage,

“Jane, I've already decided... to study abroad. To grow stronger and to better fulfill my dream!”

Jane was perplexed.

So... What does this have to do with her?

Was Peter out of his mind? Did he not know that she had already cut ties with the Fowler family?

Things have already reached this state. Why was Peter so shamelessly speaking such *to her?

“Jane, I admit that I'm not as good as you. But... I'll become better.

“The reason why I stopped you was to say these words. I'm sorry for disturbing you.”

After saying that, Peter left.

He did not stop Jane again.

Peter knew that he had acted like a just now.

He could feel it from Jane's gaze.

She had probably already treated him as a ***.

Whatever. He could not be any worse in Jane's heart.

He did not care about his image.

Peter just wanted to tell Jane what he was thinking.

In the future, anyone who mentioned Peter Fowler would not think of him as Jane's failure of a brother again!

Peter would do his best! He would become a brother who would not embarrass Jane!

What was he afraid of? It was already in the past!

Jane was speechless.

It was rare that she looked at the back of the leaving Peter.

She thought selfishly, 'Could it be that her rebirth had caused many things to change subtly?'

For example, the conceited Peter had actually become a servile **.

Was he *unstable after the blows she gave him?

However, this was none of her business.

Madelyn was still waiting anxiously in the assembly hall.

She was considering if she should follow along to see what Peter had to say to Jane.

-Would it be too late to follow him now...

If she had known, she would have followed him from the start!

Just as Madelyn was letting her imagination run wild...

Peter returned.

Madelyn looked delighted. "Peter, why did you come back so quickly?"

He had only been there for less than five minutes. Nothing should have happened.

"I just did what I should have done. Okay, let's continue the rehearsal."

Peter forced a smile.

There was even a hint of undetectable estrangement.

Who was Madelyn?

She immediately noticed Peter's estrangement.

Madelyn was most sensitive to this kind of feeling.

The smile on her face froze.

Previously, she only felt it intermittently, so she was not sure.

This time, Madelyn no longer had any doubts.

Peter started to distance himself from her because of Jane Fowler!

Just like how he humiliated Jane because of Madelyn back when Jane had just returned to the Fowler family.

Her expression changed quickly.

Madelyn composed herself and did not let Peter see through her.

Deep down, she was about to explode from anger.

Why wasn't the day of the championship here yet?

If that day does not come, Madelyn will not be able to carry out her perfect plan to embarrass Jane in front of the whole world!

Night gradually descended.

The freshmen entered the assembly hall one after another and found their seats.

The school leaders of the University of Oricle were also there

The lights turned on.

Under the gazes of everyone, Jane slowly walked onto the podium as the representative.

For this speech, Jane intentionally changed into a red evening gown.

With red lipstick on, her hair fell casually on her shoulders. Her slightly raised head revealed her fair and delicate swan neck.

Her skin was as smooth as a peeled egg without makeup, tempting one to reach out and caress it. Under her long eyelashes were a pair of eyes as deep as the ocean. Even when facing everyone's stares on such an occasion, she remained calm without a ripple.

Her black high-heels stepped on the floor gracefully, and her slender legs were fair under the lights.

A warm round of applause sounded from below.

Jane could be said to be the most popular person in the entire University of Oricle.

Although, she had just as many criticisms as praises.

People who worshipped Jane would praise her till the skies.

They thought of Jane as a rare genius who had surpassed Peter. She had even won the national championship and a lawsuit against Fowler Corporation's chairman.

People who hated Jane would detest her intensely.

They felt that Jane was hard to get close to and not amicable, that she was a lone wolf and looked down on others because of her talent.

Jane had always been free and unrestrained when handling matters. She did not like to explain to anyone.

In conclusion, there was one sentence that described her.

"I like seeing the look on your face when you detest me yet can't get rid of me."

Jane began her speech.

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 159

No Way Back Chapter 159-Her fluent and clear words were broadcast throughout the assembly hall through the microphone.

Her voice was cold and powerful.

Every word was like a drumbeat that resounded in everyone's hearts.

Jane's voice carried a magical force.

Some Jane and did not want to listen to her speech seriously.

However, as time passed, Jane's voice entered their ears.

It happened gradually.

Even the started to listen attentively.

They could no longer divert their attention.

Jane finished her speech.

Only then did they snap back to reality.

The contents of Jane's speech were still fresh in their minds.

Even the school leaders in the front row praised her.

Jane's speech was consistent with positive values, but it was not boring or put people to sleep.

It was like listening to a fascinating story.

Jane had probably taken a very long time to prepare her speech.

That was why she could perform so well.

And yet, no one knew.

Only Lila knew.

Jane only took half an hour to finish writing her speech draft.

That also included polishing and modifications.

Then she just left her speech draft alone and never touched it again. It was completed.

This was the first time anyone had seen such an outstanding speech that was not given delivered by a student representative.

Lila's eyeballs almost popped out.

She was amazed and wondered what went on inside Jane's head.

How could she write such an outstanding speech so easily?

Honestly! It was infuriating to compare to others.

Jane bowed and left the stage.

It took a while before everyone started applauding loudly.

They were all discussing among themselves.

"Oh my god, Jane Fowler's red evening gown is so beautiful today! Her figure is so good! She can't possibly be human! I'm so envious!"

"I used to think that Jane Fowler could be the school belle. I didn't expect that when she made the effort to dress up this time, she would be so beautiful!"

"A school belle? I think Jane Fowler is more than enough to be the school belle! That charisma. It's not something that any random person can give off!"

Not only is she so beautiful, but she's also talented ! God is so unfair! I it!"

"I want to take off all my clothes and tell Jane Fowler I love her. Bros, do you support me?"

"Be careful, you could get arrested. Also, how can you be so sure of Jane Fowler's orientation? Girls can be very happy together too!"

"Also, Jane Fowler's voice sounds nice! I was engrossed in it just now and was mesmerized for a long time!"

"Looks like the Fowler family really shot themselves in the foot this time. They lost such a brilliant and genius daughter and instead protected that useless adopted daughter. Tsk tsk tsk..."

Everyone chatted on.

And the topic inevitably shifted to Madelyn.

Everyone started to compare Jane to Madelyn on a balance scale.

After all, these two people were opposites.

One was the biological daughter of the Fowler family, who had been missing for 19 years. But after she was found, she cut ties with her family.

The other was the adopted daughter who had been adopted for 18 years and nested herself in another person's family. She had been living a luxurious life since she was young and was given the best education.

The balance scale was completely tipped on Jane's side.

That was to be expected.

The true bloodline was still important!

It did not matter that Jane had been lost for so many years and had never received a top-notch education like Madelyn.

She was still able to outdo everyone with the gifts that she had inherited from her bloodline.

So what if Madelyn, who was not related to the Fowler family by blood, lived a life that countless people dreamed of?

She was still trampled under Jane's feet! She could not compare at all!

Backstage.

Madelyn watched the live broadcast.

She gritted her teeth in jealousy.

She did not even notice that her team member had come to call her. "Maddie, you have to get ready. You've memorized your lines, haven't you?"

"up!"

In her anger, Madelyn completely forgot her pretenses.

Everyone in the backstage room looked at Madelyn in surprise.

Including Peter.

Peter was the student representative for the closing ceremony after the speech by the school leader.

Naturally, he had to stay in the backstage room and wait to be called on stage.

Dressed in a black custom-made suit, Peter looked extraordinary.

After watching the live broadcast of Jane, Peter felt deeply touched and proud. This was Jane Fowler.

Peter Fowler's biological sister.

The Fowler family's biological daughter.

As expected of a descendant of the Fowler family and had inherited the family's outstanding genes. Every generation was better than the last.

Even with so many pairs of eyes staring at her, Jane stood on the stage without any stage fright. The dazzling lights became the backdrop of Jane's red dress and incomparable beauty.

Peter was immersed in his deep pride in Jane.

Then Madelyn suddenly said, “up.”

That made Peter jump.

He looked at Madelyn in shock.

He found it inconceivable.

Those two words were filled with malice and anger. Yet they were uttered by Madelyn, Peter’s innocent and kind sister!

Madelyn instantly regretted it.

it! Because she was so jealous of Jane that she forgot about her surroundings for a moment! Especially the fact that Peter was still here.

She felt Peter’s surprised gaze on her.

Madelyn’s mind raced as she quickly explained to her partner. “I’m sorry. I was thinking about something else just now and accidentally said something wrong,” she said. “I’m really sorry.”

She made all kinds of apologies. Her red eyes and teary eyes instantly aroused a man’s desire to protect her.

The team member, who was a college junior was a little angry after being shouted at for no reason. But he could not help but be moved when he saw Madelyn’s eyes. Instead, he comforted Madelyn and said, “It’s ok.”

Madelyn still had her looks and figure. She also had superb acting skills. She could act pitifully and cry whenever she wanted. And she had the Fowler family’s power.

With all these various factors, Madelyn eventually salvaged the situation.

And yet.

This incident planted a seed of doubt in Peter’s heart.

Peter could not help but wonder.

The viciousness in Madelyn’s tone just now.

Could it be because Madelyn saw Jane perform so well in her speech?

And so Madelyn became jealous?

No. That was impossible.

Madelyn was Peter's younger sister. He had watched her grow up.

Because of the recent events with Jane, Peter did not know how to face Madelyn.

However, Madelyn could not have become a jealous and vicious woman.

She was such an innocent and kind person! Peter, of all people, should know! He told himself to stop thinking about it.

However, it was too late.

The seed of doubt had been planted.

Now, it could no longer be removed.

The seed was just waiting for the day it can take root and sprout.

Thanks to Jane's connections, Lila was allowed to go to the back row to watch.

Lila saw all the freshmen at the University of Oricle immersed in Jane's beauty and wisdom and they could not stop praising Jane.

Lila's chest was almost puffed up to the sky. Her nose was stuck up and her hands were on her hips. She was even happier than the one being praised.

Muahahaha! freshmen. Did they see that? Jane was so outstanding!

Lila felt that it was those students' honor to be able to attend the same university as Jane. When they graduate and step into the workplace, they could brag about it.

The program moved on to the next segment.

It was the freshmen's performance.

Streams of vigorous singing, passionate dancing, and all kinds of programs filled the stage. Everyone clapped and cheered.

Finally.

It was Madelyn's turn to go on stage.

The main theme of this group's performance was different.

It was a musical.

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 160

No Way Back Chapter 160-Musicals had extremely strict performance requirements.

That was only natural.

If the performance was successful, it would cause everyone to cheer.

After all, the song and dance script exuded a “glorious” aura that other types of stage plays could not surpass.

Madelyn stood up against others’ opinions and formed a team.

She had intended to rise to fame instantly on this “glorious” aura

They would gain the admiration of the entire University of Oricle students and the favor of media companies!

She would display her perfect acting skills!

Madelyn had chosen Shakespeare’s “A Midsummer Night’s Dream”.

It was also a familiar theme.

However, as this was the freshman welcome party, time was limited.

It was impossible to finish the three-hour-long “A Midsummer Night’s Dream”.

She could only choose a short and exciting segment of the plot.

Madelyn was the female lead-Hermia.

The stage set changed. Actors in the musical’s costumes appeared one after the other on the stage. They were accompanied by the melodious background music of the cello.

The atmosphere was instantly stirred up..

“I’ll be . Madelyn Fowler is going to attempt the musical ‘A Midsummer Night’s Dream.”

“If Madelyn Fowler can act well in this drama, I’ll think that she still has what it takes to be the Fowler family’s daughter.”

"I have to say, Madelyn Fowler has been preparing for this performance for a long time. My friend went to watch their rehearsal. Madelyn Fowler's performance as the female lead was quite good!"

"It takes a lot of hard work behind the scenes for that one minute on stage. How much effort you put in behind the scenes is clear from your performance on stage."

Everyone was discussing animatedly.

At this moment, Jane had already changed her clothes and was next to Lila.

Lila looked at the performance that had already begun on stage. She held Jane's hand and pouted. "Janie, since you've already delivered your speech, let's not watch anymore. I don't want to see this angelic , Madelyn Fowler, show off!"

"Alright," said Jane. "Then where do you think we should go?"

"Hmm... but I'm looking forward to Madelyn Fowler's performance failing and embarrassing herself." Jane did not reply to that.

She flicked her finger on Lila's forehead instead.

Lila covered her forehead in pain and said, "Hey, that hurts. Janie, you're bullying me."

"Why, you..."

Jane looked flabbergasted.

A musical was extremely difficult.

It required a lot of skill. From the actor's voice, control of what was happening in real-time, acting skills, and physical fitness.

After all, from time to time, the actor had to sing, run, and do all kinds of physically exhausting actions. However, it was unrealistic to expect Madelyn to up.

Because the only thing Madelyn could be praised for was her "acting skills".

In addition, Madelyn wanted to successfully enter the entertainment industry after graduating from college.

This freshman welcome party was the "starting point that Madelyn had been preparing for a long time.

Jane remembered that in her previous life, Madelyn's musical performance was extremely successful. It was well-received and attracted the attention of many media companies.

It established a solid foundation for Madelyn to enter the entertainment industry.

On the stage, Madelyn bit the tip of her tongue lightly to calm her nerves.

She put her body and mind into the performance and immersed herself in the role of Hermia.

"Calm down, Madelyn Fowler," she told herself. "As long as you display your original strength, you will be able to attract everyone's attention."

Madelyn's glory and dignity were taken away by Jane. Madelyn had to take them back with her own hands and strength! She had to get them back one by one!

However, it was not working.

Madelyn wanted to concentrate.

But Jane's face kept flashing across her mind.

Jane's smug and sarcastic face looked down on Madelyn. Jane's scornful face trampled all over Madelyn.

And there was another thing.

In the backstage room earlier, Madelyn accidentally revealed her true nature.

When Peter saw that, his trust in Madelyn began to waver.

Madelyn was quick-witted and used her superb acting skills to salvage the situation.

However, the way Peter looked at Madelyn was clearly more distant.

All kinds of images began to disturb Madelyn's mind.

She tried hard to forget and focus on her acting.

But the more she tried, the more confused she was and the more she could not control herself.

It was as if she had entered a nightmare and could not escape.

"Hermia, you must marry Demetrius, the finest young man in the city."

"I... Father... I'm sorry, I.

Madelyn was fumbling!

She began to stammer!

It was as if she had forgotten her lines!

The older student who played the role of Hermia's father was also stunned.

Madelyn had performed well just now.

Why did she flub her lines now?

And she was so far off from her lines! And stuttering too!

This could be considered a performance disaster.

There was no way to save her.

Such basic mistakes were taboo in musicals!

Madelyn rarely made mistakes during rehearsals and her performances then were spectacular

However, what good would that do?

As long as there was a mistake in the actual performance, it would be a complete failure! Madelyn also realized this, and her face instantly turned pale.

it! At this juncture, Madelyn's heart was in a mess.

She had forgotten what the lines of this scene were.

Her mind went blank.

The student playing the father braced himself and continued acting with Madelyn.

"Why did you refuse to marry Demetrius? He's a real gentleman."

"But... but I don't love him anymore. He... fell in love... I... I fell in love with..."

Madelyn wanted to salvage the situation.

But the more she wanted to, the more flustered she became.

Her lines were completely messed up.

The scene was also in chaos.

She could not remember her lines anymore.

Then it was over.

The performance that came to be known as “the worst freshman welcome party performance in the history of the University of Oricle” had ended.

Madelyn did not even know how she had forced herself to finish acting.

When she bowed, she only felt her face burning.

Many eyes in the audience were focused on Madelyn.

Their eyes were filled with mockery, contempt, and smugness.

She could even hear what everyone in the audience was talking about.

“She’s indeed not the Fowler family’s true daughter. To think that some people still praised her so much. They said that she had acted so well during the rehearsal, but in the end, she still messed it up.” “I think she’s nervous, I’ve seen Madelyn Fowler during rehearsals. She can be said to be the best performer in this team.”

“Come on, stop bragging. A failure is a failure, and you’re still making excuses. It’s hilarious”

“She wanted to compete with Jane Fowler? Tsk, tsk, tsk. She is such a fake. A fake can never replace the real one!”

“Fortunately, she only acted out a small scene that could be completed in ten minutes. If she had acted. out the entire “A Midsummer Night’s Dream” for more than three hours, wouldn’t Madelyn Fowler be *herself?”

“Hahaha! You’re so mean! But I like it!”

“Fortunately, this freshman welcome party is only attended by freshmen and the school leaders.

Otherwise, if members of the Fowler family had come to watch Madelyn Fowler’s performance, they would definitely be embarrassed!”

Madelyn returned to backstage in a daze as if her soul had left her body.

She threw herself at the dressing table.

Her shoulders kept trembling.

She was crying.

It was over.

Everything was over.

Madelyn had been planning this for so long. She was all ready to rise to fame instantly and have the perfect “starting point” for entering the entertainment industry.

It was all ruined!

Ruined!

The expressions of the people on the same team as Madelyn were very ***.

They could not even bring themselves to comfort Madelyn.

Madelyn’s performance just now could be considered on the same level as an epic disaster film.

The others in the team had remembered their lines and had barely managed to follow through with Madelyn’s performance.

However, Madelyn was the female lead and she was so terrible that the other actors in the same team. also became a laughingstock!

Members of the team had already advised Madelyn not to choose such a difficult musical, but Madelyn refused to listen.

Well then. Madelyn was indeed capable during the rehearsal. She acted very well.

But in the end, Madelyn failed during the actual performance!

Everyone hated Madelyn!

How could any of them comfort her?
