

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 181

No Way Back Chapter 181-Connor and Robert both complained in their hearts.

“We know you have a future wife ts it fun to show off in f front of us? Is it that fun to hurt bachelor?

It was the base of the No. 7 Organization.

Yale put down the project in hand for once

He was in the room with Clarence watching Jane’s World Series broadcast.

At this moment, Clarence frowned,

He had obviously noticed the trending topic.

“As a national organization, it’s not appropriate for us to help Queen with this.”

Yale immediately stood up and was about to leave when he heard Clarence’s words.

“Mr. ***, where are you going?”

Yale was still silent.

He took out his drawing board.

I believe Jane. She was slandered]

[I know it’s not good for you to interfere in this matter, so I’ll help Jane myself]

Clarence smiled.

“Mr. ***, I said that it’s not appropriate for No. 7 Scientific Research Organization to help her, but I didn’t say that it’s not appropriate for me to do that. Coincidentally, I know a few big shots in the press. I’ll ask them for help. In my personal capacity, of course.”

Yale pursed his lips and wrote two words. [Thank you.]

“I’m the one who should be thanking you. After owing Queen such a huge favor, there’s finally room for repayment. “But the whole thing about Queen plagiarizing X... It’s a little too tricky because the evidence is too strong.

“I can’t imagine Queen doing such a thing, and I didn’t expect this to happen.”

Yale replied, [I believe in Jane. She definitely has a countermeasure.]

Clarence nodded in agreement. "You're right. Let's trust Queen. There's no way she can't do anything about it."

In the Fowler family.

Peter, Aaron, Quinton, and even Henry who was far away in Estonia, postponed everything to watch the live broadcast.

The moment he found out about the trending post, he believed that it couldn't be Jane.

He used his own method to help Jane salvage public opinion.

Even Dwayne, who had been in the room, gritted his teeth when he saw this scene.

"Jane Fowler, you're the woman who defeated me! I won't allow you to take the blame!"

"You're not only embarrassing yourself and the country by doing this, but you're also embarrassing the Fowler family!"

"If you really plagiarized, how can I, who lost to you, keep my dignity? I don't believe you would do this!"

Dwayne took action and cleared Jane's name in his own way.

Little did he know...

The instigator of all this was Madelyn, their most trusted sister!

Madelyn saw that the popularity had been suppressed and almost couldn't even go on the trending posts. She immediately took out her phone and made a call, cursing

"You *** of good-for-nothings! I spent millions of dollars. Why can't I even increase its popularity? Why is the heat going down?"

"Well... There's nothing we can do. Suddenly, several forces are frantically suppressing the trending post!" "DY. Group, several big shots in the media world, Luther Group, Shane Group, Sutton Group, and even Fowler Corporation have stepped forward to help Jane Fowler! The reason it can still maintain its popularity was, other than us seizing the initiative, the evidence of plagiarism is too strong"

"What did you say?!"

Madelyn's eyes widened.

The veins on her forehead bulged with jealousy.

The phone in her hand began to make unbearable crackling sounds.

Jane Fowler... What right did this ****have?

Hugh, Connor, Robert... even the Fowler family! All of them helped Jane in public relations!

Unforgivable!

This ***who only knew how to sell her body, act pitifully, and deceive others was absolutely unforgivable!

Jane was stealing everything that should have belonged to Madelyn! She was a ***thief and a plagiarist!

This time, she had to send Jane to ***! Otherwise, Madelyn would never have a day of peace!

I'll give you another 3 million dollars. At all costs, maintain the current popularity!

"Many people have already seen evidence of Jane plagiarizing. As long as Jane can't explain this matter, and when the World Series Supervision Council sees it...

"This time! She's destined to embarrass herself in front of the entire world! She's going to be condemned to a cross of ***!"

"Got it!"

On the other side.

The Supervision Council of the World Series had already received all kinds of evidence of Jane's plagiarism.

They informed Jane, who was in the backstage room.

They also informed the five judges.

The three judges were extremely surprised.

Unexpectedly... the monstrous genius that they thought appeared out of nowhere was actually a plagiarist! The contrast was too great!

Originally, they all internally decided on her as the champion!

With this incident, not only would the championship be gone, but even the country she represented would be humiliated!

They all shook their heads helplessly.

With Jane's composition standard and this kind of wild imagination, and such a huge amount of vitality...

It couldn't be plagiarized,

It was more like a style of her own.

What a pity!

This evidence was too plentiful!

There was no room for any further explanation for Jane!

Unless X appeared in person and said that Jane Fowler did not plagiarize his.

But...

Was that even possible?

X had disappeared for so many years, to begin with.

Even if he appeared again, it would be good enough if he did not hit Jane when she was down!

No one would allow themselves to be plagiarized!

"Aha! Look! I told you this contestant's painting looked familiar... Turned out she plagiarized X!"

"Speaking of which, X is a god-like figure on the quadratic element. How dare he plagiarize him... I'm afraid she'll die a horrible death!"

"Does she really think that X has no fans after disappearing for so many years? Now that she has been recognized by his fans and there's so much evidence, she's doomed. She'll be criticized whenever she goes out."

"Marcus, to think you had spoken up for her. In the end, she even plagiarized you. She's really being ungrateful" Jenica was ecstatic.

She couldn't help but mock smugly.

She wanted to return the humiliation she suffered from Jane!

After the review ended, they returned to the competition venue.

Janica decided she must humiliate Jane in front of the global live broadcast cameras!

She needed to let those who didn't know about Jane's true colors see how despicable this contestant from Cruksia was.

She was a plagiarist!

"She didn't plagiarize me."

Marcus spoke coldly.

He swept coldly toward Janica with his brown eyes.

In an instant.

Janica felt a chill in her heart.

She pursed her lips.

"Marcus, what's going on? What does this person from Cruksia have to do with you? She's already caused such a mess, yet you still want to speak up for her? I don't understand! Everyone knows that Jane Fowler plagiarized with such conclusive evidence. Marcus, I know you cherish talents, but Jane Fowler doesn't deserve it!"

Marcus looked away. "I don't have to explain everything to you. You're nobody to me."

Hiss!

Everyone could not help but gasp!

Marcus was indeed ***!

As expected of a super genius who could break the rules!

It was obvious that he did not intend to show any respect to Janica, who could be called a senior!

Janica felt like her heart was about to be torn apart.

It hurt so much that she almost suffocated.

At the same time.

Her jealousy and hatred for Jane grew deeper and deeper!

“Marcus, do you really like Jane Fowler that much?”

“Don’t worry!”

“This ‘Jane Fowler’ that you like...”

“I will make her the laughingstock of the world!”

“And I’ll make her too **to live anymore!” she cursed in her heart.

At this moment...

“Dear judges, there’s news from the contestant Jane Fowler.”

“She said she would go on the stage live around the world to clarify the plagiarism in person!”

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 182

No Way Back Chapter 182-This development was beyond everyone’s expectations.

Only Marcus seemed calm.

He was the first to walk out of the judging room.

It was as if Marcus had known it.

Janica’s pupils trembled crazily

This Jane actually had the guts to testify on the global live broadcast platform?

Facing such irrefutable evidence, it would be good enough that Jane was not scared out of her wits and escaped directly!

Janica wanted to see what Jane could say

“Let’s go!”

At this moment.

Many people in the venue received the trending post of [Jane Fowler’s Plagiarism].

They were all discussing.

“I didn’t expect the work of the representative contestant from Cruksia to be plagiarized...”

“That’s right. To think that I’m quite optimistic about this work winning the world championship.” “This time, not to mention the world championship, even the country is embarrassed by such a huge mistake!”

“I wonder if she’ll be thrown sticks and stones and thrown into jail when she goes back to Cruksia?” “After causing such a huge commotion, I’m afraid the international lawsuit will be inevitable.”

Mr. Lance clenched his fists as he heard that ‘I believe Jane. It’s impossible for her to plagiarize! There must be a reason!’

Except...

Mr. Lance’s words lacked confidence.

It was because X’s style was really too similar to Jane’s.

Even if he was biased toward his students, there was not much Mr. Lance could do in front of such solid evidence.

Andy narrowed his jade-green eyes as if he was conflicted about something.

Suddenly, Andy thought of a possibility and smiled.

“Mr. Lance, don’t worry. You’ll know it when you hear Janie’s explanation.”

“Mr. Andy, you might not know this, but...”

Mr. Lance was about to ask when he saw how trusting Andy was.

At this moment.

The announcement sounded.

“Ladies and gentlemen, there’s an urgent message. The Supervision Council has already heard about the plagiarism of the contestant, Jane Fowler, from Cruksia. It has been a current uproar on the Internet. After asking for the opinion of contestant Jane Fowler, she decided to go on stage and explain this matter to everyone.”

“Ladies and gentlemen...”

It was translated in various languages.

Then...

Jane walked to the stage with the microphone.

Originally, there were not many comments from the various countries during the global live broadcast of this competition.

Not many people were interested in art

Most of them were attracted by the ‘stunt’ of the true colors of the legendary Marcus

However, Jane Fowler’s Plagiarism] became a trending topic and witnessed so much conclusive evidence.

In addition, the one Jane plagiarized was [X], the artist who had been missing for many years but had occupied the pedestal of the foreign quadratic elements.

The combat power of quadratic element players was very strong.

The comments flooded the screen.

[Trash from Cruksia, get out of the competition!]

[Jane Fowler, the plagiarist. ***on you!]

[How dare you plagiarize my god X, ***!]

[Requesting a heavy sentence and imprisonment, preferably for a few hundred years!]

Countless comments about Jane’s personal attacks and insults quickly floated past.

Even if the administrators blacklisted, banned, and set sensitive words, they didn’t help much.

So they just let it be.

With the help that Hugh and the others provided to Jane, the popularity of the news was visibly decreasing in Cruksia. It didn’t have any further impact on Jane.

However, the foreign forums and comments were momentarily overwhelming.

The five judges also came to the stage.

“Contestant Jane Fowler, why did you do that? Don’t you know that plagiarism is impossible to hide in such a major international competition? You’re not only embarrassing yourself this time, but also your country!”

Janica was the first to attack.

The other three judges also looked at Jane with disdain,

With such solid evidence, how could Jane still be able to stand in front of the global live broadcast and defend herself?

Even if Jane was ***, they were not!

Even this world-class competition would be stained by the trash like Jane!

If they had known earlier, they wouldn't have accepted this judging job!

Marcus said, "You **up, Janica. Listen to her first."

There was some anger in his voice.

Janica was so angry that she gritted her teeth hard.

The evidence was so conclusive about Jane's plagiarizing.

However, Marcus still wanted to protect this plagiarist!

Could it be...

Did Marcus really not care? Did he like this woman Jane that much?

What was so good about Jane? She was so young and had a bad character. She was far inferior to a mature and intellectual woman like Janical

Why couldn't he see Janica?

Jane glanced at Marcus with some gratitude.

Jane wasn't interested in this legendary genius at first.

But seeing Marcus in person, this familiar feeling, and Marcus's protection of her...

Jane decided she would make friends with Marcus.

Madelyn watched all of this.

She was enjoying her yogurt smugly

Although Marcus still defended Jane, making Madelyn Fowler very unhappy, it didn't matter,

She was imagining how Jane would kneel on the ground later, crying and begging for forgiveness.

Jane would embarrass herself and the country.

There would no longer be a place for Jane.

Jane was destined to be chased out of the University of Oricle. She would not even be able to return to Cruksia. She would become a homeless cur and live on the streets overseas,

At that time, Madelyn would pay some more money to make Jane disappear completely!

No one would care about the life and death of a plagiarist dog who had embarrassed the country!

Hugh, Connor, Robert... These excellent men would be at Madelyn's disposal!

Just as Madelyn was dreaming...

Jane picked up the microphone,

Her voice was as clear as a flowing stream.

"Regarding the sudden accusation of plagiarism, I have something very important to say in advance. I am X.

Jane said these words in the language of Meridonia and Cruksia respectively.

In an instant.

The venue was so quiet that one could hear the sound of a pin dropping.

Not just in the venue.

Even the comments about Jane gradually disappeared.

Madelyn fell from the chair.

She couldn't believe what she had just heard.

"No... This is impossible! Jane Fowler must be lying!"

"She knows that the plagiarism case has been exposed and her life is over. She can only lie to buy time!"

"After all, X has disappeared for so many years. No one knows if she's missing or dead. As long as she says so, there will be no evidence! It's her only chance of escape!"

"Don't trust her!"

Madelyn typed crazily on the keyboard and sent out a barrage of comments, stating her deduction.

Some of X's diehard fans reacted and echoed Madelyn's guess.

Only Andy whistled and clapped.

Under everyone's gaze, he stood up and looked at Jane.

"I already guessed it. Janie, you... are X."

Jane smiled at Andy.

The camera panned to the two of them.

It was as if they were a match made in heaven.

This time...

Hugh was jealous.

He didn't expect that Andy actually had gone to Meridonia to look for Janie...

**ait!

Hugh shouldn't have been such a good boy! He shouldn't have been so obedient!

When Jane asked him not to come, he did as she asked.

No reward for the obedient!

"You said you're X? Do you have any evidence? X has disappeared for so many years. Besides, you didn't announce this identity beforehand!"

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 183

No Way Back Chapter 183-Janica came back to her senses and immediately questioned Janica was thinking the same thing as Madelyn Because I'm not used to exposing too much of my identity, unlike some people who would show off their results when they just gain a little achievement"

Jane's words implied something, saying that Janica loved to show off. When Janica heard it, her face darkened, and she wished she could tear Jane into pieces. Jane ignored Janica and continued to speak. "If not for this trending post, I wouldn't intend to mention this matter. Anyway, no matter if I am X, I'm determined to win the championship!"

Please wait me for a moment"

In the live broadcast, Jane took out her phone in front of everyone and the cameras and casually logged into website

Then Jane made her phone screen face the cameras. "This is the homepage of my account named X in the girl forum in Meridonia. On the homepage, there are posts I posted at that time, showing my practicing paintings and works.

"This account can prove that I'm X. You can believe me now, right?"

Girl was the largest quadratic element animation and anime discussion base in Meridonia.

Back then, X made a few posts on this forum and became famous in one go, making herself regarded as an idol by countless foreign quadratic element fans,

The posts of those high-quality freehand sketchings of the anime celebrities which were recreated had also become the most necessary post to learn for every newbie who first came into contact with anime!

Jane even showed them the account which had stopped posting for a few years...

Jane was X!

X's true identity expose!

Everyone was silent.

Suddenly, the comments instantly changed.

[Oh my god! X is actually from Cruksia. Impossible... This is absolutely impossible!]

[She even showed us the homepage of the account. How is it impossible? Logging in requires a password, phone verification, and facial recognition. Only X herself can log in to X's account!]

[Jane from Cruksia is my idol... What kind of vicious words did I say to my idol just now? I am going to confess to the priest)

[Count me in! I want to go to church too! I actually said that my idol was a plagiarist and should go to ***. I'm the one who should go to ****]

All of X's ***fans went completely excited.

It wasn't easy for them to find out X's true identity, and they were overjoyed.

They knew that X had not gone missing or ***all these years. She was still alive and well.

At the same time, they felt extremely guilty!

Because they misunderstood X and misunderstood Jane just now!

They were guilty!

Hugh watched the live broadcast and smiled.

Hugh knew it was impossible for his Janie to fight an unprepared battle!

Janie was the best!

Connor was very shocked and sent a message to Hugh at once. [Hugh, you have already known that X was Jane long before?]

Hugh replied calmly. It don't know, but I believe Janie will get through this trouble |

Marquise was shocked too. [***, you two are really telepathic. I'm completely shocked now! How the ****awesome Jane is? She is not an ordinary human at all!]

Hugh was happy [Of course, How can you, ordinary people, understand the woman I love deeply?]

Connor couldn't help but roll his eyes. [***! Hugh, your pride look is so annoying! I'm so angry!]

Marquise sighed helplessly. [I'm so jealous...]

Yale watched the live broadcast with a hint of gentleness in his eyes

Jane was so awesome!

As for the Fowlers, when they saw this scene, their brain could almost stop thinking as if they had been crazy, especially Henry Goodness!

Jane was actually the painting genius, X who had disappeared for a few years!

Moreover, this was only one of Jane's sock puppets!

Apart from it, Jane was also the number one hacker of the Darknet, Queen. This was her other sock puppet...

How much more ability and how many sock puppets Jane had hidden that Henry did not yet know?

Now, Henry was filled with regret

Why did he treat Jane like that back then?

Henry wished he could strangle the **** and heartless version of himself who was like a *** back then!

Aaron, Quinton, Dwayne, Peter, Jack, and Anna all fell silent.

They were all stunned by this sock puppet of Jane's.

They had the same thought as Henry

How much more ability and how many sock puppets Jane had hidden that they did not yet know?

They never seemed to understand Jane.

Or it was rather to say that none of them tried to understand Jane.

With Jane's ability, as long as she revealed just a little, it could completely stun the entire Fowler family and even the entire world.

Then why did Jane have to return to the Fowler family with such a humble and useless attitude back then?

Why did Jane not tell them her true identity honestly?

Madelyn became completely furious.

The plan this time was clearly flawless.

Madelyn had spent nearly 12 million dollars and divulged two proposals from Fowler Corporation.

Madelyn originally thought that she could completely cast Jane a fatal attack this time..

However, all of Madelyn's efforts became in vain without any forebode.

Moreover, Jane had even made a beautiful comeback!

Because of everyone's misunderstanding, more people knew Jane.

As long as there was evidence to counter the plagiarism incident, not only would Jane's popularity not decrease, but it would also soar crazily

Most importantly, everyone had known that Jane was X now.

The ***anti-fans who originally criticized Jane all became her fans now because of this reversal!

The paid posters hired by Madelyn also became completely silent in front of various public relations declarations and the reversal of Jane's identity

This time, it was a crushing defeat for Madelyn! It was truly going for wool and coming home shorn!

Jane was in the limelight.

Seeing the public opinion turn around, Janica was completely dumbfounded.

In a moment of desperation, Janica racked her brain to think of a way to refute Jane and spoke, "No... That's not right

2/3

1444

Jane, I saw your information. You're only 19 years old. When X appeared on the forum a few years ago, you were only 15 years old..."

"That's right. These are my works at 15 years old."

Janica felt she was humiliated hard once again, and her face blushed at once with a burning feeling.

Janica almost lost her mind as she shouted, "No... This is impossible... Your works at fifteen years old? When you were only fifteen years old, how could you draw such powerful works!"

Back then, when Janica saw X's work, she was completely amazed too. She asked around but found nothing.

The masterpieces that had once amazed Janica were actually painted by the person from Cruksia who Janica was so jealous of and despised.

Janica couldn't accept it! She absolutely couldn't accept it!

"This is just like how some people climb up through all kinds of connections in their forties to a position for the big shot in the painting circle which a super genius, Marcus, has easily got in his twenties.

"Miss Janica, even in a battle between big shots, there's a decisive difference in talent. Don't you think so, Mr. Marcus?"

Jane smiled at Marcus.

The intuition told Jane that Marcus had good intentions toward Jane, and he won't be standing on the opposite side of Jane.

Marcus laughed.

It was rare for Marcus to laugh out.

Marcus's handsome smile amazed many people.

"Jane, what you said is right.

"There's one more thing I want to clarify here by the way.

"I saw the trending posts slandering Jane and claiming that Jane plagiarized my work. I took a look and compared our works. It's totally nonsense!

"Jane's work is 100% original. There's no plagiarism involved at all! She's X and also the champion in this competition. in our hearts!"

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 184

No Way Back Chapter 184-After saying that, Marcus glanced at the other four judges.

"I believe no one has any objections to this result, right?"

"Of course not"

Since the matter of Jane plagiarizing had been clarified, all judges did have no objections.

Jane was X.

What was this?

Jane plagiarized herself?

What a joke!

Every painter had their own style of painting.

Jane's style was similar to that of herself. What plagiarism was there to talk about?

Moreover, if this style could continue implemented, everyone would think of X and Jane when they saw this style of painting.

For Jane, it was the strongest evidence that would leave a mark in the history of the world!

The explosive news shocked everyone.

Marcus's words directly confirmed the champion.

Still, no one could question Marcus's words.

If [Jane Fowler's Plagiarism] had not appeared on the trending posts, outsiders like them were still 100% sure that Jane was the world champion. There were no accidents.

If Jane did not win the championship in the end, they would think that the five judges had been bribed and that the competition was shady.

Jenny looked crestfallen, and she was no longer as **as before.

After the plagiarism incident was clarified, the judges gave their scores.

Jane deserved to be the champion.

All five judges gave Jane full marks.

With an overwhelming advantage, Jane who represented Cruksia won the championship on the stage of the World Series, bringing glory to the country!

Mr. Lance heaved a sigh of relief.

Then, Mr. Lance stood up and applauded Jane excitedly.

The World Series this time was full of twists and turns.

However, it ended perfectly in the end!

The contestants had gotten the trophy they wanted!

The champion appeared.

The runner-up and third place were not bad.

However, compared to Jane, they were too inferior and completely reduced to a foil.

When the three contestants stood on the podium, in front of the global live broadcast and the countless spectators who had been attracted over there, Marcus personally awarded the championship trophy to Jane.

Jane took the trophy, lowered her head, and put on the gold medal for the world champion.

Jane picked up the flowers given by Marcus and said softly. "Thank you"

Marcus whispered a string of numbers.

Jane was slightly stunned and subconsciously memorized this string of numbers.

The next second was a photo time of the judges and the winners.

Marcus and Jane stood in the center position, which was such a perfect match.

This photo was as beautiful as a painting and became a historical moment.

At this moment, Yale, who was watching the live broadcast, felt a strange throbbing, and he frowned imperceptibly. Clarence noticed this and asked, "Mr. Mitchell, what's wrong?"

Yale shook his head.

If it was really as Yale felt, it was impossible for Jane not to feel it.

The World Series was over.

The contestants and judges left one after another.

Only the netizens who were still surfing the Internet were still chattering.

Madelyn sat in front of the computer screen in a daze for a while.

In the end, Madelyn really couldn't help it.

"Ah!" Madelyn roared and pushed the computer as well as other things in front of her to the ground.

Such a huge commotion immediately attracted the attention of the brothers who were still at home.

Quinton was the first to rush to Madelyn's bedroom. He knocked on the door worriedly. "Little ***, what's wrong? Why is there suddenly such a big commotion?"

The door opened.

Quinton was stunned when he saw the shattered computer screen in Madelyn's bedroom.

"Little **, are you injured?"

"I'm fine, Quinton. I was worried about Janie very much when watching the live broadcast of her **in the World Series.

"Now that Janie has cleared her name and won the world championship, I'm really too happy for the school, for her, and for the country

"So I accidentally messed up. I'm really sorry. I was too ****."

Madelyn blamed herself, and the excuse was flawless.

Peter and the others who arrived later heard Madelyn's words and instantly relaxed.

"Don't worry, little **. We're all very happy that you're so considerate of Jane.

"Since it's broken, so be it. I'm happy today, so I'll buy you the latest and best one. Just leave the broken computer here. I'll get someone to clean it up later..."

Quinton was happy?

Madelyn's expression was a little stiff, and Peter keenly noticed it

Aaron also said proudly. "I didn't expect Jane to receive such a great honor. It's really making us proud."

Peter lowered his eyes. "Aaron, I'm not trying to dampen your spirits... Although I'm very happy that Jane has achieved so much, she has already cut ties with the Fowler family."

"This doesn't stop us from having a blood relationship with Jane. No matter what, she's still our biological sister. Even if we're far apart, it's impossible to part with this relationship, right?"

When Peter saw that Aaron could say this without any worries, his eyes flashed with envy.

How nice.

If only Peter had never done so many ***things to Jane in Stormton City back then,

If so, Peter could also say the unconvincing fact that Jane was their biological sister without any psychological burden like Aaron.

But now, Peter did not even have the courage or the right to say such an unconvincing fact now.

Dwayne crossed his arms and raised his chin. "No matter what, Jane has defeated me before. If she doesn't even have this ability. I won't believe it!"

Quinton, who had a rather indifferent personality, couldn't help but laugh. "Dwayne, why do you still look so proud even if you lost to Jane?"

"There's nothing I can do about it... After all, Jane is such a super genius. I admit defeat to her."

Dwayne scratched the back of his head in embarrassment.

Or it was rather to say that now, Dwayne had completely untied the knot in his heart.

After all, Jane was now the world champion and the legendary X.

Jane's sock puppet was so awesome, and she was so extraordinary in many aspects. It was not embarrassing for Dwayne to lose to Jane!

Dwayne claimed to be a hardworking genius, but he was still inferior a lot to a true super genius. Dwayne knew very well!

Madelyn's heart was bleeding when she saw the four brothers' pride, smiles, and praise at the mention of Jane, which was completely different from the cold, disgusted, and the look of them eager Jane to **back then.

Henry and the others had been affected by Jane, and now, Jane had obtained so much glory and even exposed her sock puppets.

Even if Henry Fowler and the others were not here, they must still be like Aaron and the others, praising Jane non-stop. They would think that Jane was the biological sister and the biological daughter who had inherited the Fowler family's superior bloodline.

This way, Madelyn would have less and less status in the Fowler family. When Madelyn went out, others would compare Madelyn with Jane and look down on Madelyn, saying that she was indeed a **who was adopted by the Fowler family and her ***bloodline was not worthy of the noble Fowler family!

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 185

No Way Back Chapter 185-Yes I'm actually a fanatical fan of X. When I knew that Janie was X, oh my god, I couldn't believe it at that time

"I really want Janie's autograph, but unfortunately, our relationship is so bad...

In order to regain the brothers' attention, Madelyn deliberately said these words and looked sad.

Madelyn sniffed and her eyes instantly turned red with tears.

Aaron and the others immediately ***their ****and turned around to comfort Madelyn.

"Alright, little Maddie, whether Jane can return to the Fowler family and repair our relationship will depend on fate Listening to Aaron's comfort, Madelyn wiped her tears with the back of her hand and looked at Aaron with teary eyes. "Aaron, Janie is so powerful now... Actually, I know that you must want Janie to return to the Fowler family. This way, Janie can bring the Fowler family a lot of glories.

"However, as for me, I'm just an ordinary person. I'll never be able to compare to Jane who had a noble bloodline and inherited daddy and mommy's talents. I'm really too ***!

"I messed up the performance at the freshman welcome party and became a laughing stock. Something happened at home but I couldn't help at all... Boohoo! I really ***myself for being so useless!"

As she cried, Madelyn couldn't take it anymore and escaped to the bathroom, leaving the brothers left where they were.

Aaron and the others quickly followed, looking at each other.

In the end, they decided to let the gentlest and oldest one among the brothers who were here now, Aaron, comfort Madelyn.

"Alright, little Maddie, stop crying. Our hearts are about to break when we see you cry like this. You don't have to compare yourself to anyone. We didn't think that way at all. Don't pressure yourself.

"You just have to be yourself and be the innocent, kind, romantic, and naive Madelyn. No matter how much Jane achieves, in our hearts, you will always be our sister!"

Aaron spoke his mind, and his gentle voice soothed Madelyn's heart like the spring breeze in March.

Madelyn hid in the bathroom and said intermittently. "Thank you for worrying about me. I'll stay alone for a while. Don't worry. I'll become the naive Madelyn from before!"

"But..."

"Let her calm down first."

At this moment, Jack walked over.

"Dad..."

Under Jack's gaze, everyone agreed to leave in the end.

Aaron and the others returned to their bedrooms first. Only Peter remained.

Jack was confused. "Is there anything else, Peter?"

Peter pursed his lips. "Dad, this time, Jane won the world championship and received so much attention. I'm afraid the public opinion will not be good for Fowler Corporation."

After all, Jane had already cut off all ties with the Fowler family and had even openly fallen out with Fowler Corporation

Even if Jane didn't take this matter to target Fowler Corporation, Peter could already imagine how Fowler Corporation's opponents would create public opinion next and hurt Fowler Corporation.

For example, the Fowler family was blind and chased away the world champion, the super genius, and so on. "This is also a kind of fate, Peter. You don't have to worry about this anymore. Fowler Corporation won't be defeated so easily, not to mention with the help of you, my outstanding sons.

"I'm confident that Fowler Corporation will get through it.

“As for Jane, she has her own path to walk. Back then, I didn’t know if I supported Jane to become the world champion, but when I saw Jane being slandered for plagiarism, I was very angry and anxious.

Now that the truth has been revealed, Jane has brought glory to the country As her father in DNA, I’m sincerely happy and proud of her.”

Jack finally spoke his mind.

This was not related to the hatred between Jack and Jane.

It had even risen to a higher level.

It was a matter of national pride.

Jane was representing Cruksia in the World Series this time. If the plagiarism incident was true, it would not only damage Jane’s reputation, but also the country’s!

As a patriotic entrepreneur, Jack sincerely hoped that Jane could bring glory to Cruksia.

As for the bad public opinion on Fowler Corporation next, Jack would not be defeated so easily.

“Dad, thank you for not hating Jane because of this.” Peter secretly heaved a sigh of relief.

At first, Peter was really worried that Jack and Anna would have a worse impression of Jane because of this. Then, Peter bowed sincerely to Jack.

“***son, do I look like such a petty person? You misunderstood me so badly...”

Jane returned to the hotel where she lived.

Regarding interviews, they were all rejected.

Mr. Lance followed Jane back to the hotel room. He was still talking about his feelings today, as well as countless replies and congratulatory words on his Moments.

Mr. Lance was overwhelmed with emotions, and he was even happier than if he had won the championship. Jane quickly packed her luggage.

“Alright, Mr. Lance, I’m going to pack up and leave. If there are any interviews or other topics, just help me deal with them.”

“What? Jane, you asked me to deal with all this? What if I say something wrong...”

"It's okay. If so, I will forgive you. As long as you don't exaggerate too much, it will be fine. I'm not good at dealing with these. Bye."

Jane dragged her suitcase, put on her sunglasses and mask, and was about to sneak away.

At this moment, two middle-aged men in suits arrived at the door of Jane's room.

"Excuse me, who is Jane Fowler? We are the national staff from Cruksia. We're here on behalf of Cruksia to issue a medal for Jane."

Mr. Lance immediately pointed at Jane. "It's her."

Seeing Jane's dressing up, the two staff members were stunned.

Jane explained, "I am not very good at socializing with strangers. I don't like to be interviewed and want to slip away." "Okay! Then let's start issuing the medal now!"

The staff handed the medal with Jane Fowler's name on the front and the bright red national flag printed on the back

over to Jane

After taking the photos, the staff left.

Jane touched the national medal in her hand and could feel the heat lingering on it.

Jane's heart could not help but surge, and her blood seemed to be boiling.

How should Jane describe her current mood?

This national medal was even more glorious and precious than the countless medals Jane had won in the past! Jane suddenly felt like showing off and did immediately as she thought.

Andy sent a message [Janie, why aren't you down yet? I've been waiting for you in the parking lot for a long time.] [Because I got a gift just now. Look!]

Jane took a photo and sent it to Andy, Hugh, Lila, Yale, and the others.

Andy was very happy [Janie, you are the best!]

Hugh replied at once. [Janie, your glory lives up to its name.)

Lila was very excited. [Ah! My best friend is a world champion and a superstar recognized by the country! I want to be your friend forever and never let go!]

Yale smiled proudly. [Jane, I'm proud of you.]

Finally, Yale sent another message.

[Jane, do you have any special feelings about Marcus? Or did he say anything to you?]

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 186

No Way Back Chapter 186-Jane's heart skipped a beat. Yale, do you also feel that Marcus is very familiar?

I just had a special feeling when I saw him on the live broadcast but I'm not sure...

There are very few people who can make me feel this way. The teacher is one, and so do you. Now, Marcus also gave me such a feeling. I want to know his true identity Yale voiced his feelings.

It's fine, Yale. Marcus told me his cell phone number during the award ceremony. Coincidentally, I also have something to ask him.

'I'll look for Marcus and investigate his true identity. Yale, just wait for my reply Okay Jane, be careful and protect yourself]

After they went to a new hotel, Andy used some tricks to let Jane register without using her identity card.

Jane accompanied Andy to tour Meridonia for the entire night and went to play everywhere.

The next day, Jane got up and washed up.

Jane took out her phone and called Marcus.

Marcus's ringtone was a cheerful Christmas tune.

[Jingle bells, jingle bells, jingle all the way...]

Jane glanced out the window again as she waited for Marcus to pick up.

It looked like it was going to snow

Speaking of which, Christmas was coming

In Previous Christmases, Jane had been spent at Fowler family.

At that time, although the Fowler family hated Jane, they still magnanimously allowed Jane to attend the Christmas family gathering because of their blood ties.

The gifts prepared for Jane were all that Madelyn didn't want after picking

Even so, Jane, who had not given up all hope for the Fowler family at that time, was still grateful to them. Jane kept the gifts like treasures and did not dare to open them.

Jane was thinking too far ahead again.

Who and where was Jane going to spend Christmas with this time?

Just as Jane was deep in thought, the call was answered,

"Is that Jane?"

Marcus had already guessed the identity of the person on the other end of the line.

"How did you know it was me? Is it just because it was an unknown phone call?"

"Because only the people I set up can get through this private number." Realizing that Marcus attached so much importance to her, Jane was a little flattered. At the same time, Jane became more and more concerned about Marcus's true identity. "Marcus, you left this number because you want to be friends with me, right?"

"I called as you wished. Let's meet and talk, okay?"

"Of course. Give me your location and I'll get the driver to pick you up."

"Okay."

After hanging up, Jane went to the next room and told Andy about this.

*Janie, are you sure you want to go over? Although I don't think that Marcus is a bad person, he's too mysterious.

"Don't forget your real sock puppet. You're the Queen of the Darknet. If you go to an unfamiliar territory alone and something happens, it would be very dangerous."

Andy was rather calm and rational. He could see the seriousness of the problem.

"So, I will leave my safety problem to you"

Jane shrugged and gave Andy a trusting look.

"Andy with you around, what am I afraid of? What a joke."

"You... It's my fault for spoiling you too much. So, you have become so fearless now. You have not cared about your safety problem as much as before.

"Janie, cherish your life more. Your beautiful years have yet to begin."

Andy reached out and poked Jane's head helplessly

"Don't worry, Andy. I cherish my life more than anyone else. Only by living can I see you guys every day and live happily and freely.

"I believe that Marcus isn't a bad person. He's just like Yale and gives me a very special feeling....

"Of course, just in case, I've already thought of a backup plan. With you protecting me, I'm full of confidence."

"Since you've said so, I can only agree." Andy sighed helplessly but he was very happy that Jane trusted him so much. Jane sent the location to Marcus.

An hour later, an extended Rolls-Royce appeared at the entrance of the hotel.

Jane got in the car and waved at Andy.

Andy replied to Jane with an OK gesture.

The driver was an old man in his sixties. He wore glasses and exuded a gentlemanly aura.

Judging from his skin color and appearance, he was from Cruksia.

"Miss Jane Fowler, I'm the butler of Marcus. Just call me Jay Jay spoke respectfully

Jane nodded.

The journey was silent.

The car ***to a manor, and the surrounding atmosphere looked quite cold.

Perhaps it was because of the winter.

Winter in Meridonia was very cold.

All the leaves fell, and the trees looked bare.

The last night's snow pressed down the leaves, and the fountain froze into ice.

Jane walked into the villa in the manor under Jay's lead.

It was like a Wetanean-style villa from the last century. Just the decoration gave off a strong sense of history.

After taking off her windbreaker, Jane unzipped her down jacket.

Jane took off her gloves and placed them in her pocket before walking in with her hands in her pockets.

Jane felt much warmer in the villa.

They walked through the front hall, and Jane looked around.

The decoration inside the villa was the same as Marcus's aura and the atmosphere revealed by the entire manor. There were too few things in the villa.

Except for the necessities of life, there was nothing else.

Jay seemed to have seen through Jane's doubts and took the initiative to explain, "Mr. Marcus is often on a business trip around the world because of work. He doesn't spend much time in the manor. At the same time, he doesn't like to buy useless things."

Jane couldn't help but smile. "This habit of his is similar to that of someone I know"

"Miss Jane Fowler, please wait here for a moment. I'll inform Mr. Marcus. He should be resting at this time."

"Okay."

After Jay left, Jane looked around the living room.

Jane's gaze suddenly stopped on a painting.

There was a layer of blue sky and *** in the painting, and the bright red national flag fluttered in the wind, which was fiery red, scorching hot, and had a kind of endless vitality.

Jane could feel how much soul, attention, and energy Marcus had invested in painting this picture.

Like Jane, Marcus was also a patriot.

"You like this painting? Marcus's voice with gentleness came through.

Jane turned around and saw Marcus walking over wrapped in a blanket and he was holding a cup of steaming coffee in his hand.

Marcus took the initiative to explain, "I don't like winter, especially the winter in Meridonia. It's too cold. And I am a little afraid of the cold."

Jane smiled. "I can tell

They sat down on the sofa.

Jay also made a cup of coffee for Jane and brought it to her.

And Jay also prepared some snacks for them.

"Jay used to be a top barista at a public coffee company. After he retired, I hired him as my butler.

"Jay's coffee is the best coffee in the world. No one can compare to him. Try it."

Jay lowered his head respectfully after being praised by Marcus. "Mr. Marcus, you flatter me."

Jane picked up the coffee and took a whiff. The rich smell of the coffee filled the air and was extremely refreshing.

Jane took a sip and instantly felt the bitterness of the coffee melt her taste buds, producing a wonderful chemical reaction.

It was better than the coffee at Revolve Cafe in Stormton City

Jay must be a top barista.

"It does taste good, thank you."

After putting down the cup, Jane looked at Marcus, intending to get straight to the point.

"Marcus, may I ask what your real name is?"

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 187

No Way Back Chapter 187-As she said this, Jane looked steadily at Marcus as if she was trying to find some flaws in Marcus's expression.

"That's true. I haven't introduced myself properly yet. If we want to be friends, it isn't enough only I knew your name, Miss Jane Fowler.

"Marcus is actually my stage name. My real name is Josh Mitchell"

Marcus's surname was actually Mitchell!

Jane's breathing was suddenly a little chaotic.

Could it be that this special feeling....

"Mr. Mitchell, I want to ask you if you once have a very powerful teacher..."

From his looks, Josh should be in his twenties, older than Jane.

Jane couldn't guess what age the teacher at when he took Josh in as the apprentice if Josh was really Jane's senior brother.

So, Jane could only ask like this.

Josh raised his eyebrows. "Well, I do have a powerful teacher, and he is the one who gave me this name."

Jane suddenly slammed the table and jumped up.

Even Jay was shocked.

Jane could not be bothered to apologize and said excitedly. "You are really my senior brother?"

Josh pursed his lips. "Do you have a teacher surnamed Mitchell?"

"Yes! The eldest senior brother and I are his apprentices! Marcus, you..."

"Ahem, my relationship with the teacher might be a little complicated. He's my uncle in terms of seniority.

"We're relatives. Mitchell is my real surname, and my name was given by my uncle.

"Uncle left when he was in his thirties. I haven't seen him much since, and I don't know where he went.

"I heard from the elders that Uncle traveled around the world and accepted many talented orphans as apprentices.

"I've also received Uncle's teachings before. Strictly speaking, I can be considered your senior brother."

Marcus was the teacher's relative!

Jane never expected this.

The legendary Marcus was actually related to the teacher by blood.

This wonderful fate was really impossible to guard against.

Then, Jane was overjoyed.

This meant that Jane could learn more about the teacher

"Then, Josh, I want to ask you for more information about the teacher..."

"I'm sorry, Jane. Even I don't know much about Uncle. After all, I was still young when Uncle left the Mitchell family.

"As for the details, only my parents know it. Unfortunately, they are no longer in this world.

"My father ***of ****two years ago. My mother and my father loved each other all their lives and couldn't accept this *****. A month later, she ***too.

The only one who you can contact among the Mitchell family now is me, Josh Mitchell, who was given birth by my parents late. Many of my relatives have disappeared."

Josh smiled bitterly.

"I'm sorry, Josh. I didn't mean to bring up your sad matters."

"It's fine. I've already walked out of the past. The Mitchell family is a very strange family. Ever since I became a little older, my parents rarely contacted my relatives.

"Even, only when Uncle took the initiative to visit, did I know that he is my relative. I can feel that Uncle is unfathomable."

Next, Josh chatted with Jane about the news he knew about the teacher.

This time, Jane finally knew the teacher's real name, Humphrey Mitchell!

Humphrey Mitchell was the teacher's real name.

"Humphrey Mitchell... Humphrey Mitchell..."

Jane repeated this name again and again, and tears welled up in her eyes.

Unable to hold back her tears any longer, Jane wiped them away casually with the back of her hand.

Josh very considerately handed over a handkerchief. "Jane, are you alright?"

"Yes! I'm fine! This is the first time I know the teacher's real name!"

Jane took the handkerchief to wipe her tears and smiled at Josh. "The teacher is too much. Why does he keep disappearing? Does he know how worried I am?"

"This is just a rumor I've heard. The Mitchell family is estranged from each other due to the teachings left behind by our ancestors.

"Generally speaking, if one inherits the Mitchell family's bloodline and displays a talent that completely surpasses their peers, it's very likely that one will obtain a fate as a jinx.

"Only the strong could change such a fate. Among them, the impacts Uncle causes are the most fatal. Even my grandparents ***because of Uncle.

"My father said that Uncle is the most outstanding genius in the history of the Mitchell family, and no one can compare to him in the Mitchell family"

The teacher was a jinx?

Jane thought of the times when she saw the teacher observing stars, measuring the future, and studying astrology. It turned out that the teacher really knew these things....

Jane still remembered that the teacher had read Jane's fortune a month before he disappeared,

The teacher said that Jane had Type Omega blood and her fate was extremely hard, which was related deeply to the Grape Myrtle Star.

Even if a person with such a magical fate **because of a major mistake, they might be able to turn danger into safety. They would not be destined to ***easily and turn something bleak into something magical.

The teacher reminded Jane to be careful. This calamity was blood-red in color. If Jane did not pass this stage, it was very likely that Jane would ***.

The teacher did not say much about the details. If the teacher said too much, he would have violated some kind of taboo, and even an extraordinary person like the teacher would not be able to escape from the fatal troubles involved in it.

It was better to believe in astrology than not. Sometimes, it was terrifyingly effective.

Jane remembered the teacher's words in her heart back then.

However, Jane did not expect the person who took her life would be her blood-related family.

Jane humiliated herself so much because of her desire for the love of the Fowler family. In the end, Jane failed into a fire and ***without a burial place.

Fortunately, God gave Jane a chance to be reborn and change everything.

The teacher's prophecy was never wrong.

"Could it be that the teacher left the apprentices and never appeared again because he was worried that his fate would hurt us if he spent too much time with us?"

Josh nodded.

"It's very likely. Before Grandpa **, he knew that very few people could change Uncle's fate, so he ordered Uncle to be expelled from the Mitchell family

"Even if Uncle wants to see his younger siblings, he can only visit them once a year.

"Uncle used to come to our home once a year until one time, my father got into a car accident and was sent to the intensive care unit with his life and death unknown. At that time, Uncle happened to be at our home.

"Uncle seemed to have realized something. He packed his things and left immediately. Not long after, my father recovered and left the intensive care unit, and he gradually became better"

Jane lowered her eyes. "So, the teacher didn't leave us because he had but to protect us from being harmed by his fate."

Fortunately, at the very least, the teacher did not provoke an enemy that even he could not defeat.

In order to protect these apprentices, the teacher had to disappear and wander everywhere

“Uncle is a very gentle person. Even though my memory is already blurry, I can still remember the feeling of his broad hands stroking my head.

“Oh, right, Jane, when it comes to fate, it’s not just between you and me.

“Coincidentally, two months ago, I also met one of Uncle’s apprentices, and we have known the real identity of each

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 188

No Way Back Chapter 188-Jane’s breathing almost stopped, and she was so nervous that her brain could barely think.

Surprises hit Jane’s head one after another.

First, Jane discovered Marcus was her Josh, Josh,

Then, Jane learned the teacher’s real name and the reason why the teacher wandered around the world to take in apprentices one after another and suddenly disappear after he found a place for his apprentices to live and activated their talents.

Now, Josh actually told Jane that he found another senior brother!

It was such a big surprise

“Josh, where is this senior brother?”

“Now, he seems to have accepted a tricky mission. He’s not in Meridonia. By the way, he’s a doctor, but not a regular doctor...

“It seems that his treatment method is very unique. He specializes in the underworld, black markets, and mysterious organizations. He’s known as Dr. Black Jackson!”

Jane was slightly stunned. “Dr. Black Jackson?”

Jane had never heard of such a name

It seemed that Jane had only seen such a name when she watched the anime before.

“He said that he would only treat strange illnesses. The rewards are extremely high. The stranger the illness, the more challenging it is for him.

"With his talent in medicine, treating ordinary illnesses can no longer satisfy his needs..."

Strange illness!

Jane's pupils suddenly constricted.

"This is it!"

"Hm? Jane, why are you suddenly so excited?"

"Josh, it's like this..."

Jane told Josh about Yale's strange illness.

"I didn't expect Yale to have such a special illness. If we tell Eden Mitchell about it, he will be very interested.

"In addition, we're all fellow apprentices. He will have to help Yale.

"By the way, Eden prescribed for me, helping me increase my resistance to the cold. He seems to be very proficient in both traditional medicine and modern medicine.

"I have seen many doctors before but all of them failed. Thanks to Eden's help, my resistance to the cold is getting better and better. In the past, I had to turn the temperature up to 86 °F even inside the house."

"That's great! I'll contact Yale immediately!"

Jane took out her phone, made a video call to Yale, and explained the current situation.

When Yale learned that the teacher did not leave because he had to but to protect the apprentices from being harmed by his fate, he heaved a sigh of relief just like Jane.

In short, the teacher was still living well in a corner of this world.

Perhaps the teacher was nurturing outstanding talents like Yale, Jane, and the other apprentices.

The weight in Yale's heart was finally lifted.

Yale could not speak and could only reply through messages.

[Jane, are you planning to stay in Meridonia until Christmas ends before returning to Cruksia?]

"I didn't plan to do so at first, but now that I've finally found Josh and might be able to see the third senior brother, Eden, I plan to spend Christmas in Meridonia."

[Then I'll go too]

Jane looked surprised.

"Will Mr. York agree?"

"Don't worry, Jane. We've always wanted to give Mr. Mitchell a break, but he didn't agree."

"Mr. Mitchell is not a machine, but a human. He needs to rest appropriately. We are all afraid that Mr. Mitchell's **** and physical strength will not be able to withstand the high intensity scientific research."

"Mr. Mitchell is our country's treasure. Only by balancing work and rest can anyone achieve twice the result with half the effort. We can't be happier that Mr. Mitchell is willing to leave the research lab."

"It's good that you agree, Mr. York. It's a deal. Yale, let me know when you arrive in Meridonia. I'll go pick you up."

Then, they hung up.

Josh gave Jane the contact information of the third senior brother, Eden.

"This is Eden's phone number. I tried to call him just now, but there was no signal. I sent him messages, but he didn't reply."

"The person he's treating this time is the boss of a mafia organization. I'm afraid there's a signal jammer around or he's been taken someplace underground."

Jane took the card with Eden's number on it and entered the number into her phone to save it. "How long has Eden been gone this time?"

"It's not long, less than a month. I heard from him that the mafia boss's illness this time is very complicated. It's a kind of illness that he has never seen before. I'm afraid it will take him a long time to treat the boss."

"I understand, Josh, I'll try to find Eden and get in touch with him."

At this moment, Jay walked over with a painting. "Mr. Marcus, according to your instructions, the portrait of Mr. Eden has been sent over."

"Eden's portrait?"

"That's right. I drew this from memory. It's ninety percent like him. You can take a look."

Josh snapped his fingers, and Jay placed the painting on the table.

At the first glance when she saw the person in the portrait, Jane narrowed her eyes.

Eden had a cute and round face which was commonly known as Baby Face, a pair of pure black eyes as flawless as the moonlight, thin lips, a small and delicate nose, and fashionable bangs.

Wearing a suit, Eden stood quietly in front of the window under the sun like a little prince in a fairy tale.

"Til get Jay to pack this painting and send it to the hotel you live. This will help you find Eden."

"Thank you, Josh. But this painting should be your treasure. ..."

Josh suddenly stretched out his fingertips and tapped Jane's lips.

"Since you're Uncle Humphrey's apprentice, and also my nominal junior sister, as your senior brother, it's only right that i dote on you and give you everything you need.

"You don't have to think too much. You just need to accept my kindness to you. After all, I am your senior brother." A blissful smile appeared on Jane's lips.

"How lucky I am. Every senior brother I've met is a very good person. I'm looking forward to meeting Eden more and more!

Josh lowered his eyes to hide the emotions in his eyes. "Speaking of the lucky one, I think it's me."

"Josh, what did you say?"

"It's nothing. Jane, if you feel that you want to repay my kindness, could you model for me? I want to draw a portrait of you. Is that okay?"

Josh hurriedly changed the topic.

"Of course! It's my honor to be a model for Marcus."

"Jane, you just won the world championship. Your talent in painting is not inferior to mine at all!"

After that, Jane acted as a model and Josh began to paint.

It could be said that it was a painting that Josh had spent the longest time drawing in his life.

Josh waved his ink brush repeatedly to outline the elegance of Jane stroke by stroke, her eyelashes, her lips, her eyes as deep and calm as the water in an ancient well, her fair skin as well as her long flowing hair.

It took an hour.

Josh finished polishing and heaved a long sigh of relief.

“Jane, it’s done!”

“Let me see!” Jane leaned over expectantly.

When she saw the beautiful woman in the painting, Jane was stunned and gasped.

Heavens! Was this really Jane?

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 189

No Way Back Chapter 189-The girl in the painting was too stunning, like a “mystery”.

In the fog, only her eyes pierced through it and were as bright as stars

“How’s that?”

It was true that Josh had never been so nervous when he participated in the Picasso Competition.

To Josh, getting two consecutive championships was a matter of course.

He displayed outstanding talent after choosing this profession

And this was the first time Josh was so nervous when he painted a portrait for someone.

He could not even compare to Eden.

Perhaps that was because the woman in front of Josh was Jane!

There seemed to be a kinship between them that he longed for

Jane exclaimed, "Awesome! Josh, your painting skills are perfect!"

"Being able to be your model is one of the luckiest things in my life!"

"Others will definitely be jealous of me when they see this painting... Josh, can you replicate the same portrait for me?" Josh secretly heaved a sigh of relief.

Being praised by Jane made him feel very happy. He was like a child who got candy.

This feeling was even more exciting than winning the world championship!

"Since you like it, I'll give this to you," Josh said.

"Ah? But Josh, you..."

Josh patted his head.

He said, "I've already saved it here. You may not know that as long as it's a painting I've painted once, I can perfectly replicate its details no matter what. I won't forget it."

"We're now reunited, so we can meet anytime and anywhere. For the long rest of our lives, there are still many opportunities for you to be my model."

Jane said, "I also want to see what I can achieve to be your model. Do I have the honor to become a world champion model?"

"Sure!" Josh replied.

After sending off Jane, Jay returned to the villa.

Josh was sitting in the living room, sipping red wine.

"Did you send Jane back?"

"Yeah, Mr. Mitchell,"

Jay wanted to say something but hesitated.

Josh put down the red wine and said calmly, "Jay, if you have something to say, just say it."

Jay lowered his head respectfully. "No, Mr. Mitchell. I just see you are in a good mood... I haven't seen you smile in a long time."

Josh said, "Jay, you should know that I've been alone ever since my parents passed away."

"I'm the only child in the family, and I was born when my parents were old.

"Other than my uncle coming to my house to teach me when I was young, I don't have many relatives or friends. They can't keep up with my thoughts and always keep a respectful distance from me because I was from the Mitchell family.

"But now... I met Jane, and Jane brought me to Yale and Eden.

"I finally feel that I'm not alone anymore. My originally gloomy life seems to have gained a lot of light. There's a meaning to persevere."

Then he thought. 'So, Jane, I'm the one who should thank you

"If I hadn't met you, how could I have such a colorful life?

"You are like a rainbow in my life. Meeting you is the happiest thing in my life."

Jane returned to the hotel with the two paintings

She told Andy what had happened.

"Ah!"

Andy suddenly cried out in pain.

Jane was shocked. "Andy, are you alright?"

Andy said, "I... ***it!

"I'm very happy that you met a new one, but this means that more people will fight with me for your time. Boohoo...

"There is Lila first, and then ***Hugh, that *Shaun, Robert... Now there are two more persons!"

"I feel like our happy journey to Rheinsville will be delayed for a long time again..."

Andy, who was 6 feet 3 inches, was as tall as a vampire noble, But now, he was crying like a six-year-old child that no one wanted, looking extremely aggrieved.

Jane rolled her eyes

Jane thought something had happened to Andy

In the end, it turned out that he was just jealous.

“Holy ***!” Jane shouted inwardly.

Eventually, Jane could only pacify Andy like he was a child.

Then she sent Andy back to his room.

Back in her room, Jane lay motionless on the bed

She was exhausted!

But what could she do? Andy was the good friend she chose herself, so she had to dote on him no matter what. After resting for a while, Jane got up, turned on her computer, and skillfully logged into her hacker software. According to Eden’s phone number and portrait that Josh had given her, she quickly checked the information about Eden’s plane on the software.

She found it!

Eden set off from Meridonia’s airport.

And his destination was Estonia.

Jane thought, “***it. Why is it the same destination as where Henry and Anna are going for business this time? “Well, forget it. Jane, calm down. Eden can’t be related to the Fowler family. He’s going to treat the boss of the gang” In the past, Jane would not have thought too much about it.

It was mainly because after severing ties with the Fowler family, Jane kept feeling that bad luck was haunting her. She always got involved with the Fowler family for no reason.

Especially now that the Fowlers were all lunatics and not at all the same as they were in the previous life, they kept pestering Jane.

Jane found the records of Eden’s arrival in Estonia and ruled out some possibilities with surveillance videos.

Then she realized that Eden had been brought to a place where the signal was blocked, and there were no cameras.

So the lead was cut off.

Jane could only mark that area with red circles,

Jane said to herself, “There’s a military research base left over from the last century at the center...

“The drones can’t detect it because it’s several floors underground. It should be here.”

While studying Eden’s whereabouts, Jane could also observe through the surveillance camera that Eden had left himself a way out.

At least two teams were secretly protecting him and watching his every move

Eden only wanted to challenge the strange illness. He felt that ordinary illnesses could no longer satisfy him.

But he had never thought of sacrificing his life for this “challenge”.

He loved this, but if he died, everything would be gone. Jane smiled.

She logged into the Darknet and found her friend list.

She sent a message to a trusted friend she met during a previous mission on the Darknet. That person lived in Estonia.

She wanted him to find a way to help investigate this abandoned military research base.

It would be best if he could crack the signal jammer.

Then it would give Jane a chance to hack in.

Currently, it was impossible to see when Eden would come out of the military research base.

Moreover, the security system of that place, which was several floors underground, was very strong.

If there was no one to arrange everything in advance in that place, even Jane could not hack into the surveillance cameras of the military research base to see Eden’s situation.

Jane asked the other party to quote..

Soon, the other party replied.

[I’m honored to be able to help you, Queen. I don’t need the money. Just treat it as repayment for you helping me last time.]

Then he added, [I’ll complete this mission. After I crack the signal jammer, I’ll send you a message.]

Jane replied, [Thank you.]

The preparations were complete.

All that was left was to wait.

Several days passed in the blink of an eye.

Snowflakes fell from the sky.

Christmas had arrived.

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 190

No Way Back Chapter 190-People took Christmas very seriously abroad.

It was no less than Cruksia's New Year's Day.

Christmas trees, colored bells, Santa dolls, reindeer... All these were set up in advance on the street. Coupled with the snowflakes falling from the sky, there was a happy and auspicious atmosphere.

Jane and Josh were already waiting at the airport in advance.

Seeing Yale and the others coming out of the airport, Jane revealed a big smile.

She rushed into Yale's arms. "Yale!"

Yale hugged Jane.

He gently patted Jane's head.

Then,

Yale looked at Josh.

The corners of Josh's ***curled into a smile as he took the initiative to extend his hand. "Yale, nice to meet you. I'm Josh."

Yale nodded and shook hands with Josh.

The moment they shook hands, Yale's slightly furrowed brows suddenly relaxed.

He seemed to have confirmed something

He took out his notebook and wrote a sentence.

"It's a pleasure to meet you, Josh."

Yale was followed by Clarence and Tristin.

The three of them were dressed very ordinarily.

Clarence took the initiative to step forward. "Jane, just as we said on the phone earlier. We've arranged the car. This way, please."

"Okay."

Everyone walked out of the airport chatting and laughing.

Jane said, "Let's go to the hotel and help Yale and the others settle down. After they put down their luggage, we can have a homemade turkey and Christmas feast for lunch.

"Because it's Christmas, there's a special event at the largest amusement park here in the afternoon. Yale, are you interested?"

Yale said, "I'll listen to you, Jane."

Tristin was driving. He pursed his lips and looked at Clarence beside him. He lowered his voice and said, "Mr. York, isn't the amusement park too crowded? After all, here is Meridonia. I'm worried that Mr. Mitchell..."

Clarence said, "Just act according to the situation, With the protection of us and the people in the dark, nothing will happen.

"No matter what, Mr. Mitchell is freedom. We can't restrict him."

Since Clarence had decided to agree to Yale coming to Meridonia for a few days of vacation, he naturally made sufficient follow-up preparations.

Regarding Yale's security in Meridonia, Clarence did his best. He discussed with several generals for two full days and even got Jane's suggestion.

He even hired an awesome all-around person to be the commander-in-chief to arrange everything.

Yale was now Crucsia's treasure. Nothing could go wrong!

The country was also willing to mobilize these forces for Yale!

They naturally trusted Jane. As for Josh, after these few days of investigation, he was almost eliminated as a suspect.

As long as they kept an eye on the nearest Josh, Mr. Mitchell's "junior brother" in name, Mr. Mitchell's holiday trip would be safe and sound

After returning to the hotel and settling down Yale and the others, Jane was about to ask Andy to join them for the

Christmas feast

After knocking for a long time, there was no response.

Jane frowned slightly. "Is Andy still sleeping? No way?"

At this moment, a waiter walked over.

He asked in fluent Crucsian, "Excuse me, is this Miss Jane Fowler?"

"That's me, Jane replied.

"This is the envelope that the owner of this room asked me to deliver before he left. Please take it."

After handing Andy's letter to Jane, the waiter left respectfully Jane opened the letter in confusion.

*Janie... Trois says that I left him behind for so many days. He's so busy that he's about to ***. He's protesting, so I'll leave first.

"Have fun with your senior brothers for a few days and have a happy time. I won't bother you guys anymore.

"But remember! This time, I'm the one who's tolerant and magnanimous! When you return to Crucsia, bring Lila to Rheinsville to find me.

"Yours sincerely, Andy" And he also drew a smiling face.

Jane was amused and thought, "Jesus... What century is it now? He's still writing letters. He can just send me a WeChat message."

After eating Jane's specially customized Christmas feast, Jane brought everyone to the largest amusement park in the city Tristin frowned slightly when he looked at the huge traffic "There are too many people, Mr. York..."

"Tristin, have you ever seen Mr. Mitchell smile so happily?"

Clarence's words silenced Tristin.

Tristin looked ahead. Yale was wearing a hat, scarf, sunglasses, and casual clothes.

Beside him were Jane and Josh Yale was definitely in the center position.

He seemed to be saying something and smiled contentedly Tristin silently ***his ***.

Clarence said, "To protect Mr. Mitchell's hard-earned happiness, we should work harder and not let Mr. Mitchell tire himself out.

"Also... Jane is Queen. She won't bring Mr. Mitchell here without any consideration.

"Queen is more concerned about Mr. Mitchell's safety than anyone else, even more so than you and me."

Then he patted Tristin on the shoulder

Jane was having fun with Yale and Josh.

They tried all kinds of roller coasters, the carousel....

They had basically played everything they could.

It was extremely enjoyable.

Eventually, Jane brought Yale and Josh to the arcade in the amusement park

She said, "I heard that many new games were introduced here. Only this place has the first beta version. They haven't been officially released yet.

"Yale, Josh, are you guys interested?"

The corners of Josh's ***curled up. "It's fine, Jane. Go in if you like. We'll accompany you!"

Yale nodded.

Jane said, "Haha! I'll go in then! I'm badly interested in them.

"Lila wants to open an eSports club in the future. She wants to be the boss herself and also wants to design games 11 take a photo to send her and let her have a look first"

Jane scurried in

Yale and Josh looked at each other and revealed dotting gazes before following her in

Jane was their most beloved junior sister, after all. They were willing to do anything thing for her

It was just hard on Clarence and Tristin.

They could not enjoy themselves while playing. They had to constantly observe their surroundings and protect Yale. Coupled with their age and experiences, they were not interested in these things.

Jane entered the arcade, recorded a video, and sent it to Lila.

[Lila, this is the arcade you keep mentioning. I'm just taking a video to show you. You don't have to thank me for it.] Soon, Lila replied.

It was still a voice message.

Jane skillfully lowered her volume and moved the phone away from her ear slightly.

The moment she clicked on that voice message, she heard Lila's roar.

[Ah! Why didn't I have the chance to go overseas with you? Boohoo... I'm so envious!

[Janie, help me test that game named 'Cunning Fighter!

[The developer of 'Cunning Fighter' is from Crusian. Moreover, he recently developed a popular game named 'Crazy Warrior'!

[Although the game is simple and the plot is not complicated, it can bring you a great experience! Try it!]

Jane replied, [Well, okay!]

It had to be said that there were quite a lot of players playing the game "Cunning Fighter".

When Jane opened the game machine, someone immediately sat opposite her and fought her.

Jane could not see the person opposite her because the two machines were separated.

Jane observed the use of the buttons and quickly mastered it with her talent.

She killed her way in the arcade.

Gradually, many people gathered around Jane.

The main reason was that this masked player was too strong!

Coupled with her figure, long hair, and the side profile of her pretty eyes... she was definitely a peerless beauty!

A beautiful gaming expert was an eye-catching existence no matter which country she was in!

At this moment, a man wearing a mask with a ***aprint and a hat with the letters K.O. on it, who was about 6 feet or so tall and dressed in black, sat opposite Jane.

He inserted the coin and pressed the duel button!

Everyone exclaimed.

“It’s King! He’s here!”