No Way Back Chapter 271- Madelyn pretended to cry and fell asleep in Anna's arms last night Anna was forced to sleep with Madelyn at night.

Madelyn also deliberately acted out the nightmares and kept crying, making Anna feel very sorry for her. Anna had to comfort her in all sorts of ways

She had made enough fusses before she let Anna sleep.

Anna had left the room when Madelyn woke up.

She knew that Anna wouldn't tell her what had happened to Aaron even after she made such a fuss.

Madelyn's sixth sense told her. It must be related to that Janel *it! Why was Jane always haunting them? Why did she always appear around Madelyn's people and affect them?

The demon! Why wasn't she dead? Why?

Madelyn did not take it to her heart when she received the message.

After all, it was an unknown number.

Maybe it was phishing software.

If Madelyn replied, it would automatically bind something bad.

On the other side.

Leia stared at her phone.

Madelyn still did not respond...

*it!

Leia couldn't take the initiative to call her either!

She could not figure out what kind of personality the adopted daughter of the Fowler family had.

If she was as sincere, kind, and unpretentious as the rumors said.

And Madelyn informed the Fowler family about Leia's move.

Leia would be finished!

Leia looked again at the explanation message she had sent to Aaron. It was like a stone thrown into the sea.

Leia knew Aaron could no longer believe her and already knew that Leia was deliberately lying and approaching him. She had to leave the place quickly.

The Fowler family's revenge was not something Leia could withstand.

The night fell

At the Nightshade Bar

On the second floor by the river

"Cheers."

Jane and Lila clinked their glasses.

Lila took a sip and felt the dark blue liquid flowing in her *. She could not help but shiver. "Wow! The new wine concocted by the Nightshade Bar looks good and tastes good, too. It's amazing!"

"Indeed. It deserves to be the most popular bar in Stormton City..."

Jane gently swayed her wine glass and held her chin in her other hand as she watched the boats passing by the river. It was such a beautiful sight

"Janie, the school will be off in a few days. Should we go to Rheinsville to see Andy?"

"We kept saying that we would go, but we didn't. Christmas is in next month. It'll be too late if we don't leave now."

"Good idea' I want to see Andy, too!"

"Then, it's settled... and this!"

Lila took out several photos from her bag.

Jane took a look. Two photos were of Jane's works published on the girl forum in the X period.

The other two were the painting of Jane winning the world championship.

"Lila, what is this?"

“Hehe... It’s that my family has become your diehard fans. When they knew that I was coming to see you, they especially took out the photos and wanted your autograph.

“I just found out that my brothers are actually the fanatical fans of your sock puppet X. They was so happy when they found out your true identity but didn’t have the guts to come and meet you. They said that they were afraid of embarrassing themselves in front of you and leaving a bad impression. I’m impressed. You’ve clearly come to my house for dinner so many times...”

Lila rolled her eyes when she thought about the two guys who were so in front of her.

It turned out that there was someone who could deal with these two guys, and she was her best friend!

She was so impressed!

“It’s a piece of cake!”

Jane smiled knowingly and signed her name on the photos.

“Also, Lila, this is for you.”

Jane took out a flash drive from her pocket.

“Janie, what’s in it?”

“It’s my modified game design software. Haven’t you wanted to engage in eSports and the game design industry? With this, you can achieve twice the result with half the effort.

“I’ve recorded the usage method in detail in it. If there’s anything you don’t understand, you’re welcome to ask me. I’ll answer all your questions.”

“Wow! Janie, you’re awesome! You’re my lucky genius!”

Lila’s eyes lit up as she held the flash drive, treating it like a treasure.

She couldn’t help but jump up and kiss Jane hard on her cheek.

Jane blinked at Lila. “Lila, be careful. Don’t fall in love with me. You’ll get hurt.”

“Boohoo! I’m already hurt by the realization that I’m not a boy! If I were a man, I would marry you even if I had to risk my life!”

The more Lila spoke, the sadder she became.

No way!

Lila gulped down the liquid in her glass.

Then she ran to the singing stage with the strength of wine and the pain in her heart.

She took the microphone and started singing.

“You’re getting married! But I’m not the groom!

“Breaking up should be honorable. Don’t apologize to anyone.

“Thank you for the special invitation~ watch the love you want~the guest might be another kind of fate-”

Jane wanted to hold her forehead.

Oh my god.

Ever Lila’s drinking capacity had been improved.

When was the last time Jane saw Lila get drunk?

However, the girl’s voice became very magnetic when she was drunk. It was commonly known as the “Smoky Voice”.

Her singing was several times better than when she was sober.

She just liked to sing casually and did not have any self-control.

Listening to the astonished cheers of the audience.

Jane saw Lila was not too drunk, so she let her vent.

At this moment.

“Layne, wake up.”

“Gosh... Layne, why did you drink so much?”

“Stop him quickly.”

“I tried to stop him, but he slapped me. It hurts! and my face is swollen!”

“The drunk Layne didn’t know what he was doing. It’s better to let him do whatever he wants now.”

Layne reeked of alcohol. His shirt was unbuttoned, and his hair was a mess.

He had inherited the outstanding bloodline of the Croft family. Even though he looked so decadent, he was still handsome. His nearly 6 feet 3 inches in height was more appealing to the women who came to drink.

Not to mention that he was Layne Croft from the second branch of the Croft family!

If it could catch his eye, no matter how successful the company in Stormton City was, it would be like Cinderella turning into a princess overnight!

It was rare to see Layne not cherishing his image so much. He was in a daze and must have been injured! Just when he needed a woman's care.

There was a beautiful woman with a hot figure. It was clearly winter in January, but she was dressed extremely revealingly as if she was not afraid of the cold. She looked around in her colored contacts.

When Layne passed by her, she deliberately let out a cry and "accidentally" splashed the wine on Layne.

Suddenly feeling that his pants were wet, Layne frowned without a trace.

"Oh my god! Sir! Are you alright? I'm sorry... I was so that I accidentally knocked over the wine glass and wet your pants.

"Let me help you wipe it, sir, I can pay for it if it's ruined..."

No Way Back Chapter 272-The woman felt that her plan was working. She quickly took out a tissue and deliberately wiped Layne's thigh. She crazily showed off her impressive figure and soft breasts, hoping to attract Layne's attention.

Even if she could only be Layne's lover and have a romance with him, it would be a supreme gift for her! Being the lover of the Croft family's successor was much better than currying favor with a bald rich man!

And yet.

Layne didn't feel anything.

His gaze was fixed on the woman's fawning face.

It suddenly turned into Madelyn smiling gently at Layne.

Maddie...

Maddie...

Just as Layne was about to speak and hold the little face in front of him that he had admired for so many years. "Sir..."

The woman's heart skipped a beat when she saw Layne's dazed eyes. She felt the wealth and glory had already grown. wings and were waving at her. Just as she was about to hold Layne's outstretched hands.

Suddenly.

In Layne's eyes, the woman's face became Jane's again!

It was clearly her angry and face that he could not wait to get rid of!

Why...

Why did Layne's heart hurt?

"Get lost!"

In order to get rid of the conflicting emotion, Layne suddenly shook his head and slapped the woman's face.

He smudged the thick foundation on the woman's face.

The woman was dumbfounded by his sudden slap.

Covering her burning and swollen face, she stared at Layne in shock.

"Get Lost, you . Do you think Layne likes your tricks?"

"There are countless women who want to seduce Layne. An * like you don't deserve to polish Layne's shoes."

"Do you think you have a chance just because Layne is drunk? **!"

The lackeys following behind Layne mocked her one after another.

The woman was instantly ashamed. She took her bag and ran away without saying anything.

The commotion attracted many people's attention.

Knowing that the Croft family's people were causing trouble, no one dared to act rashly.

Jane also saw the drunk Layne.

She was speechless.

They could even meet here.

It. What kind of luck was that?

Ignore him, ignore him.

Layne sobered up a little.

He scanned his surroundings.

And he fixed his eyes on Jane.

“it... Jane, why do you appear in my mind?

“Get lost! Get lost!”

With a red face and the saliva, Layne screamed drunkenly

99

He couldn't admit it! Absolutely not!

He should have nothing but hatred for Jane.

Why...

How could he be so obsessed with Janie?

Layne loved Madelyn! It had always been Madelyn!

Today, Layne came to the Nightshade Bar to get drunk.

Firstly, it was because of Luna.

No matter how much he Luna for embarrassing the second branch.

Luna was Layne's biological sister! They grew up together!

Layne could not have cut off all kinship so callously as his father, Raymond.

He looked at Luna lying unconscious in the hospital, hooked up to a ventilator and a nutritional supplement, and Diane, who seemed to have become thinner because of worrying about Lune.

Layne's heart was bleeding.

Secondly...

Layne could not completely Jane for some reason!

The woman was clearly the culprit behind all of this!

However, Layne thought about Jane a dozen times more than he did about Madelyn in the past few days!

It would never have happened in the past!

After saying that, Layne rushed over and wanted to send Jane flying from his brain.

The must have drugged him!

her!

"Layne!"

The drunken Layne had a completely unexpected way of doing things.

His lackeys could not stop him at all. They could only watch as Layne ran toward Jane with intent. "Janie!"

Lila, who was half-drunk and half-awake singing on stage, was shocked.

Lila didn't recognize Layne when she saw him rush past.

She thought he was a drunk who was delusional about Jane's beauty.

She really wanted to rush over in the form of light speed and sent Layne flying with a Knight kick.

Jane looked at Layne, who was approaching her aggressively.

She clicked her tongue.

it...

He wanted to cause trouble even when he was drinking.

Jane felt her eyelids twitching when she saw Layne.

It was indeed the case.

She casually picked up the wine bottle on the table.

She hit Layne on the head with it at the speed of lightning.

The entire scene instantly fell silent.

The audience was dumbfounded.

Layne's lackeys were dumbfounded, too.

The woman...

She actually dared to do it in front of everyone...

And she hit the head of a man in the Croft family with a bottle!

mrinal

Layne was dazed by being hit with the wine bottle.

Coupled with the fact that he was already drunk, he staggered and fell backward

There was a sharp pain in his head.

Some warm liquid flowed out of his head

Before Layne could think further....

Jane took another wine bottle.

She stepped on Layne's chest

“! It hurts!”

Layne could not help but growl

He instinctively wanted to struggle.

However, he was totally defenseless against Jane's kick.

It was so heavy!

The next second.

Layne was once again hit on the head by the wine bottle.

Countless pieces of broken glass fell.

Layne fainted directly.

Jane rubbed the sole of her shoe against Layne's face as if she was stepping on a dead animal

Only then did she clap her hands and turn to leave.

She ignored Layne, who was lying on the ground with blood all over his head, not knowing if he was alive or dead. *Janie, are you okay?"

Lila ran to Jane at once.

Jane patted Lila's head. "I'm fine. Warm up my body and clean up the trash. It's not even enough to sober up." Warming up her body...

Clean up the trash....

If Layne had heard Jane say those when he was sober....

He would definitely pass out with anger in an instant.

“! It's Layne again! How dare he plot against Janie and Janie's hands!”

Lila's temper had grown after hanging out with Jane for the past six months.

Her former peacemaker look had disappeared.

She raised her eyebrows, gritted her teeth, and kicked Layne hard several times.

Of course

She kicked Layne's manhood.

It was taught by Jane. If she encountered the men with ulterior motives, it would be useless to practice any self-defense in a short period of time.

The most straightforward way was to kick their manhood hard!

And it made them lose their ability to fight!

It was an indescribable pain in a man's life!

Indeed.

Even the completely unconscious Layne

After being kicked by Lila.

His body twitched a few times.

He subconsciously revealed a pained expression.

He was probably hit in the head twice by Jane.

But they were not even as heavy as lila's kicks.

"What are you doing?"

Layne's friends finally reacted.

They charged at Jane and Lila and roared.

"Layne, are you okay?"

"Oh my god, Layne fainted! He's bleeding so much!"

"Cut the . he've been hit in the head twice with the wine bottles. It'll be odd if he don't bleed!"

Call an ambulance!"

One of them gritted his teeth and glared at Jane and Lila. "You two women are dead meats! You dared to beat Layne. There will be no place for you in Stormton City tomorrow!"

No Way Back Chapter 273- Jane and Lila were speechless.

The guy....

Didn't he know they two?

As for the Croft family's people, Jane had fought countless of them.

Luna was beaten half to death by Jane.

There were also a few people from the Croft family branch.

Jane even dared to destroy Luna in front of Victor.

A mere Layne.

Why would Jane give a about him?

“Don’t nag them! We’re going to get back what they did to Layne!”

Layne had become like this after drinking with them. If the people of the Croft family found out, they would not be able to bear the consequences.

They must at least catch these two women and hand them over so they won’t be scapegoats!

Compared to life, being a gentleman was insignificant!

They stared menacingly at Jane and Lila.

A great battle was about to break out.

The others immediately hid far away.

Although they sympathized with Jane, who was still besieged after being entangled by Layne.

But the person had to be Layne, a member of the Croft family.

It was impossible for a woman to retreat unscathed after hitting Layne so hard in front of everyone.

They did not have the ability or the guts to help her.

They could only secretly call Nightshade Bar’s securities.

“Heh, how interesting. Since when did someone dare to cause trouble in my territory?”

A cold voice sounded.

In his crimson suit, Connor, 6 feet 3 inches tall with one hand in his pocket, came over with a sullen face like an 18th-century Wetanean emperor,

He was followed by a crowd.

They were armed to the teeth.

They waited.

They were waiting for Connor to give the order.

They would beat up all these people who dared to cause trouble!

“Oh no, it’s Connor!”

“God it. Why is he here?”

Although the Luther family was not as strong as the Croft family on the surface in Stormton City,

But Connor, the future heir to the Luther Group, was known to be on good terms with Hugh, the head of the Croft family.

It went without saying that a number in the Croft family was less important than the head of the Croft family. Everyone was scared when they saw the scene.

He was the boss of the Nightshade Bar and the future heir of the Luther Group.

How strong his aura was!

Although Connor occasionally appeared in Nightshade Bar with a few of his friends, they spent most of their time in The top VIP room.

Even Nightshade Bar’s regular customers had very few chances to meet Connor.

Many girls had a sudden change of heart.

Although Layne was quite handsome, when compared to Connor, he lost instantly.

It was unknown how handsome Hugh, the legendary head of the Croft family, could be.

It was said that he was the most powerful and handsome man in Stormton City!

“Con... Connor, she caught Layne off guard and beat him like this with a wine bottle. We have to get an explanation, don’t we?”

“Yeah, yeah, Why don’t we call the police? But the matter can’t be blown up. It’s better to deal with it privately.”

Some of Layne’s lackeys mustered their courage and spoke.

“An explanation?”

“Do you think the surveillance cameras here are just for show?”

“If the hadn’t tried to harass Miss Jane Fowler, how could it have come to this?”

Connor went up and gave the man leading the conversation a good kick.

He kicked that person until he rolled on the ground and begged for mercy.

The others didn’t even dare to breathe loudly.

They just wanted to dig a and hide.

And they silently prayed that Connor would not see them,

With Connor’s power and methods, Layne would not be able to protect them at all if they were targeted.

Their family would no longer exist in Stormton City tomorrow.

“Good job! Connor, that’s it! Beat the out of them! Hmph. How dare they Janie? Let them regret being in the world!”

Lila was simply venting her anger. She was as excited as a tabby cat.

When Connor saw it, a smile flashed across his lips. He did not slow down and kicked even harder.

Co... Connor?

How could she call Luther Group’s future successor by his name?

And Connor didn’t seem upset at all?

The crowd felt incredible as if they had seen the New World.

They had more guesses about the identity of the young girl who looked like she had yet to graduate from university.

Jane said calmly, “Connor, I want to sober up.”

Connor glanced at Jane and smiled. “Of course.”

Immediately, Connor took a few steps back.

Just as Layne’s lackeys did not know what their fate would be...

“Get up and attack me together. If you can defeat me, we won’t hold you responsible for what happened just now.

“If you lose... don’t hold a grudge no matter how serious your injuries are.”

Jane loosened her muscles and bones, making crisp sounds.

Seriously, she was on fire because she had just drunk alcohol and was provoked by Layne, the ***.

Jane was not in a good mood if she did not vent her anger properly.

“Wh... what?”

Layne’s lackeys had yet to react.

The next second.

Jane kicked one of them in his stomach.

The man was sent flying more than ten meters by her kick.

He knocked over a of tables.

He fainted from the pain.

Connor came to Lila’s side and protected her in an extremely gentlemanly manner. He said coldly. “If you don’t fight back, you’ll ***.”

Then, no matter how Layne’s lackeys were, they reacted. Instinctively, they lunged at Jane with menacing eyes.

if they didn’t fight, they would ***.

It was just one woman!

If they won, there was still a chance of survival!

Jane executed a neat roundhouse kick.

She kicked one of them away and knocked over the other.

She casually picked up a wine bottle on the table and shot him in the head.

The entire fight scene turned into a Jane killing show.

Until she was done venting.

Jane heaved a sigh of relief.

Lila skipped away from Connor and even thoughtfully took out a handkerchief from her bag to wipe Jane's sweat. Janie, are you feeling well now?"

"I feel a little better now."

Then.

Jane kicked the unconscious Layne again.

"I'll give you ten seconds to get the piece of trash out of my sight."

"Yes... yes..."

The remaining lackeys endured the pain of their bones breaking and used the last of their energy to quickly run away with Layne.

Connor then asked, "Are you alright?"

"We are fine. How could those lame ducks injure our Janie?"

"Connor... You need more security around here!

"We're here to spend money, not to get into trouble. All kinds of people are allowed to come in. You have to check the identities of the people who come here!

"No matter what, this is the best bar in Stormton City!"

Lila pouted and angrily attacked Connor.

Holy ***.

She actually spoke to Connor like this.

The woman was really tired of living.

Everyone could not help but think to themselves.

And yet.

"Okay, I'll listen to you."

Connor replied to Lila with a doting expression.

He even reached out and patted Lila's head.

Everyone was speechless.

What did I see?

Was there something wrong with my eyes?

Or was there something wrong with the worldview?

Not only did Connor not take offense at Lila's rudeness. He even indulged Lila's rudeness and replied dotingly.

Oh my god!

Why did the men think Lila was not as elegant and beautiful as Jane was? Why did Mr. Luther have to treat Lila so well?

Of course, the woman was envious and jealous of Lila. They wished that their soul could penetrate Lila and fall in love with Connor!

Then they were willing to ***!

Lila must have saved the Milky Way in her previous life, mustn't she? Who on Earth was she to make Mr. Luther treat her so well?

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 274

No Way Back Chapter 274- Jane was also shocked.

She looked at how Connor interacted with Lila She had a feeling. She could not help but feel that Connor had feelings for Lila.

As Lila's best friend, Jane was concerned about Lila's future boyfriend.

Meanwhile, she also felt that Connor, who was the heir of the Luther Group, would not be a good boyfriend.

Anytime, for the time being, she did not want to do anything first to stop them from getting closer to each other. She decided to just wait and see how things went.

Moreover, someone who was blunt like Lila definitely did not realize whatever was going on between her and Connor “Logically speaking, no one would dare to cause trouble in Nightshade Bar. They know that this is my territory” Connor said.

“Since they dared to do this, I will make sure they pay the price, especially Layne”

Connor seemed determined.

Layne offended Jane.

There was no need for Connor to make a move.

As long as Jane told Hugh about this, one could make sure of one thing.

Layne was dead for sure.

Lila pouted and said, “Hey, Connor, don’t think that we can forgive you easily like this! You ruined our good mood for drinking today!”

Connor rolled his eyes and said, “Of course... Why don’t I do my part as a host and bring you guys out some other day” As they heard what Connor said, they had mixed feelings.

Lila wanted to reject the latter, but she thought that the places that Connor could bring them to were definitely places that ordinary people could not go. She said, “Uh... Janie, what do you think?”

Jane closed her eyes. Surely, she knew that Connor had ulterior motives and thus, she gave him an out. “Well, I won’t go if it’s not a fun place.”

“Sure, it’s very fun,” he answered.

Connor smiled mysteriously as he said that

He patted Lila’s head dotingly again.

“Don’t touch my head. I’m not a dog or a kitten, Lila said.

Lila wanted to resist, but apparently, she was no threat to Connor, who was 6 feet 3 inches.

She was like a kitten being bullied by a giant.

Connor did not even realize how gentle his smile was now. He said, "Because it feels quite comfortable, Lila." "*! I told you not to touch me! Janie, save me!"

Jane fell speechless.

She could not stand any longer watching the two of them.

She thought to herself, "Oh, my god!"

Connor then sent Jane and Lila off.

Connor called Hugh.

"Hugh, are you busy?" he asked.

"I'm fine. What's the matter?"

Somehow, it was not Connor's imagination.

He had felt something changed ever since Hugh and Jane became closer

Connor clearly felt that his best friend was not as cold as before.

He had more warmth than a human should have.

This was a good sign.

Connor was still close with Robert and Hugh.

But sometimes, Connor still felt that Hugh was emotionless.

He felt that Hugh's life was lacking in emotions.

After all, Hugh lived in the Croft family and was personally raised by Victor. He was accused of causing his mother's death and his father left him alone. In the end, he became the head of the Croft family at a young age.

Now, there was Jane.

At the very least, he hoped that her presence could change Hugh. All of them were very relieved that Jane had come into Hugh's life. Connor told Hugh what happened that night at the Nightshade Bar That was when he told Hugh that he felt a chill running down his spine.

He could feel a coldness coming from the other end of the phone.

He could even feel his heart tighten when he sensed the killing intent from the other end of the phone.

"I know you will deal with it, so I won't interfere," he quickly added.

Connor felt guilty and wanted to hang up the phone quickly.

He would still feel intimidated even when he was close to Hugh for so long.

He knew well that when Hugh was really angry, it would be the end of the world.

Even Robert, who was the bubbly and cheerful one, did not dare to mess with Hugh at this **.

It had been a long time since Hugh could not control his killing intent.

He wondered, 'Was it because the target was Jane?'

He could not think of any other reason.

After offending Jane, Layne was dealt with very badly.

The revenge from Hugh was the most fatal to Layne.

"I will solve that," Hugh replied calmly

His cold words sounded like a death knell.

He enunciated each word clearly and slowly.

Connor quickly hung up

Only then he could escape from Hugh's suffocating killing intent.

It wasn't like Connor had done anything wrong.

He didn't want to be implicated by Layne.

After Diane and Raymond received the news, they rushed to the hospital.

Layne's head had already been wrapped with medicine and bandaged. He was recuperating in the best environment. After this period of time, Layne woke up. He knew what had happened, but his head still hurt.

*Son!"

Diane came to Layne's side. Suppressing her nervousness, she held Layne's hand. Her eyes were red as she asked, "You... Are you alright? Why did this happen out of nowhere? You scared me to death."

... I'm sorry. I'm fine," Layne said.

She was so guilty that she didn't dare to speak loudly because he knew that he was drunk and attacked Jane before he fainted.

Raymond said with a gloomy expression, "What exactly happened? I went to Nightshade Bar to ask for the surveillance video, but they didn't want to give it to me at all!

"Jack, don't be so rude to your son... Diane said.

Raymond glared fiercely at Diane.

Diane instantly did not dare to speak. She could only caress the back of Layne's hand

"I'm sorry, Dad. I was drunk and caused this mess..." he said.

"Are you crazy? Didn't you see what happened to Luna? Why are you still like this?" he asked

"If your grandfather finds out, you won't be able to bear the consequences! Don't tell me that you want your fingers to be cut off and to be chased out of Cruksia like a drowning dog, right?" he further said.

with Raymond's insults, Layne didn't dare to make a sound.

At the end of the day, Layne was the one who gave others something to use against him.

Layne was in the wrong.

In his memory, ever since Layne grew up, this was the first time Raymond had scolded him so angrily.

He was really afraid that Layne would end up like Luna.

In that case, there would be no hope there for the second branch of the Croft family.

"I know I was wrong. Dad, I'll accept it no matter how you scold me."

Layne didn't want to come up with any excuses. This would only make Raymond even angrier.

The only way out was to obediently lower his head and admit his mistake.

When Raymond saw Layne like this, he looked disappointed.

He cursed in his heart, "it!

One of his daughters was trash, and the other was a son that he could not count on. If anything, Layne disappointed Raymond

If not for the fact that he was worried about being plotted against by the first branch, Raymond should have let his lover secretly give birth to a few sons. At least he could have more hope!

He would not have to go through the dilemma now

"Tap! Tap!"

Footsteps could be heard.

"Sir, I'm sorry. This is the VIP ward of the hospital. You can't go in..."

The door was suddenly pushed open.

No Way Back Chapter 275-A tanned skin man who was wearing gold rimmed glasses and a high end black suit walked in.

"It's you? Life?" Raymon asked in shock.

Raymond's face darkened.

As Hugh's absolute right hand man, he was a man of his word. He was also the secretary who handled many things for Hugh.

Raymond had naturally seen it with his own eyes.

It was definitely not good news for such a person to come here.

The nurse rushed in hastily and explained, "I'm sorry Mr. Layne. I tried to stop him, but I really couldn't..

"I'll just say a few words and leave," he said.

“Mr. Layne, regarding your abuse of power when you were in charge of the branch company. For instance, you embezzled and siphoned the company money into your own pockets, along with various other violations that you had made...

He added, “Mr. Croft has already ordered your position to be abolished. From now on, you are not allowed to have anything to do with DY Group”

“What did you say?” Layne was clearly caught in a daze.

Layne did not expect Hugh to be so ruthless to him.

Everything that happened instantly gave him a splitting headache.

He could even feel his wound was about to split open.

Raymond wanted to rush up and grab Life’s collar so badly. His eyes were wide open. “That’s impossible! How could my son do such a thing!”

He thought to himself, “If he was chased out of the branch company in this way...

That was no different from giving the second branch the death penalty.

In fact, Layne was the only hope for the second branch to defeat Hugh and turn the tables!

However, there was no use for Layne to have talent if he did not even have the chance to fight.

“Mr. Croft knows that it’s hard for you to accept. Of course, we’ve already prepared the evidence.”

Life expressionlessly took out a stack of documents from his briefcase and placed them on the table. When they saw the contents of the document, Raymond and Layne’s faces darkened.

Layne had returned from overseas and taken over the position of the president of the branch company. It would be a lie if he claimed that those accusations were false. He had to do what he had to do as he wanted to come out with some achievements in a short period of time.

Raymond knew all of this. It was only because Raymond personally helped his son that Layne could quickly gain a foothold in the branch company.

if they were careful, they would be able to completely control the branch company, let alone enter the headquarters to compete with Hugh.

However, he did not expect what happened today

They thought that they had done everything flawlessly

They thought all the evidence was destroyed without any flaws.

Hugh had already gathered their every move!

Seeing the irrefutable evidence, Raymond and the others could not defend themselves anymore.

“One more thing... Master already knows what you did in Nightshade Bar,” he said.

“He asked you to behave in the future and not cause any more trouble!”

Layne gritted his teeth as he said, “You... How dare you complain! Hugh! What even is this? Is he so afraid that I’ll achieve results and enter D.Y’s headquarters to replace him?”

Life’s eyes were filled with contempt as he said, “A guy who was drunk and was beaten up until he was hospitalized. Mr Croft doesn’t bother about such a person.”

“You? Layne stuttered as he was so furious.

“Also... don’t think that Master doesn’t know anything about what you’ve done. Master knows more than you think,” he said.

“Goodbye.”

Life turned around and left after saying this.

He took out his phone and called Hugh.

“Boss, it’s done according to your Instructions.”

“Very good...” Hugh replied.

Hugh held his phone and looked out the window. The bustling scenery fell into his eyes.

He thought to himself, “This is not the end yet, Layne.”

This was just the beginning.

In the past, Hugh could make the second branch a puppet under his control on account of their blood relationship. But now, he changed his mind,

He could not believe that Layne would dare to touch Janie with your *hands.

He would make sure the latter paid a price that was worse than death!

In the ward.

Layne's face turned pale as he yelled, "Dad... What should we do now? I can't work in the company anymore!"

Raymond's expression darkened. For a , he did not know what to say.

Layne was chattering on the side again. Raymond was already furious because he had not rested well these few days and he was so occupied with dealing with Luna's matter.

He couldn't control himself and slapped Layne.

"What are you screaming for?"

Layne was stunned.

His wound split open, and blood soaked through the gauze that bound his forehead,

When the nurse saw this scene, she did not even dare to breathe loudly. "Hmm... the wound is bleeding again. I'll get the doctor!"

With that, she ran away.

Apparently, a young nurse like her never wanted to be a part of this scene.

She was arranged to take care of Layne, and probably had some fantasies to have some romantic stories with Layne. Now, she totally changed her mind.

She just wanted to keep her life!

"Jack, don't... don't be angry. Layne is just being nervous," Diane said.

Diane quickly protected his son and spoke fearfully to Raymond.

"You stay here and take care of Layne. I'll go back and think of a way," he said.

Raymond put his hand into his pocket. The next second, he turned around and left without looking back.

No matter how angry he was, he could only endure it now.

Layne was the only hope for Raymond to dominate the Croft family and defeat Hugh.

No matter what, he had to keep Layne because he was his only hope.

However, the matter was so troublesome that Raymond did not know how to deal with it.

Raymond left.

Diane quickly comforted Layne. "Son, it's okay. With me around, I won't let anyone hurt you even if I have to risk my life."

" , what should I do? Now that I've been chased out of D.Y and Grandpa knows about this, will I still have a status in the Croft family in the future?"

Layne couldn't help but cry

"It's fine. At most, your father and I will support you. Besides, as long as you do well, I'll beg your grandfather. Your grandfather will definitely ask you to return to work at D.Y.!" she said.

"You can't be discouraged now. Treat your wounds first, then seize the opportunity to teach Hugh a lesson!"

" ... there's no chance. Hugh sent me to this time. How can he give me the chance to survive and go against him?"

Layne was extremely pessimistic.

At this , the doctor rushed over and helped Layne treat the wound again.

Throughout the entire process, Layne was like a robot, expressionless and at the mercy of others.

Diane saw this and her heart ached.

"Layne, you have to pull yourself together... You're my only hope now," she said.

"Your sister has already become like this. You must not continue to be so dispirited."

"You're the only one who could save the family! My heart really hurts when I see you like this!"

“ ... I’m sorry. I have to calm down and think about my future path,” Layned said helplessly. “Hugh has already brought me down. I cannot fight back. I... I’m useless!”

Layne was agitated and punched his thigh hard

No Way Back Chapter 276- “Layne! Please calm down! It will tear your wound “Mrs. Croft, please let Layne calm down first...”

“Layne, have a good rest. I will visit you tomorrow.”

Diane wiped his tears as she made her way out of the ward.

Under the freezing wind, she shivered but got soberer.

She paused for a second.

And then, her eyes flickered with monstrous anger and hatred.

Jane! Fowler!

The **!

If Layne hadn’t met this jinx...

And Luna!

How would they end up like this?

Her son and daughter, the two most important people in her life....

Their lives were all ruined by the Jane!

And then, Jane’s condescending look with contempt and laughing at her flashed into Diane’s mind.

Diane could not fight the urge to  Jane anymore.

Her nails dug into her palm and a sharp pain came, but it failed to clear Diane’s mind.

In fact, Raymond and Layne had repeatedly advised Diane not to interfere in this matter.

However, As their mother, Diane found it impossible to put up with Jane after seeing Layne and Luna so severely harmed by Jane.

She immediately took out her phone.

And she sent a message.

[someone flawlessly for me. I'll give you whatever you want. Accept it or not? Give me an answer right now!] The other party called Diane several minutes later.

"You want to whom?"

*Jane Fowler."

"Hold on."

The other party showed Diane Jane's information after a while.

"Champion in the World College Student Painting Competition, X, the Fowler family's daughter who has been missing for 19 years, genius and new star of the University of Oricle, winning a racing championship in Meridonia.

"The person you want to wears quite a lot of hats."

"I know you're the most popular assassin organization of the Darknet. As long as a reward is offered by you for someone, the person will definitely lose his life."

"No matter what price I have to pay, I only want Jane Fowler to *! Flawlessly! Without leaving any evidence!" Born in the wealthy Jason family, Diane was Mistress Croft now.

She got to know this organization by chance.

Having had several transactions with the organization, she was completely convinced of the extraordinary ability of this organization.

As long as Diane could afford the remuneration the organization claimed, the organization could anyone for her! Including...

Jane! Fowler!

The jinx!

This was the plan that Diane had long planned!

Recently, we have been fully occupied, and none of us have time to conduct a field investigation I call you back later. Keep in mind, the price for asking us to help is pretty heavy"

“Do you have no idea who the Croft family is? It’s just a weak woman. We can certainly afford the price?” “You’ve investigated thoroughly just now! Jane Fowler is no more than a woman with some useless titles What’s there to investigate about such a fragile woman in exchange for such a fruitful reward? Isn’t this a price of cake for your organization?”

Diane was annoyed that the other party thought she could not afford it.

“Watch your language, Mrs. Croft”

The voice on the other end of the phone promptly turned cold.

Diane, who had been boiling with anger, instantly calmed down after hearing the other party’s steely tone.

She secretly scolded herself, “What an ****!

“If you offended him, not to mention Jane, your life would be in danger!”

I’m sorry... I was just too agitated and spoke inappropriately I’m really sorry

“No one has the right to dish out criticism to our organization. This is also for the reputation of our organization.

“If you were not a member of the Croft family, I would have *you based on what you said just now! Wait for my call!”

The line then went dead.

Knowing that she was in the wrong, Diane held the phone tightly without rebutting.

Ever since she married into the Croft family, Diane had never been despised like this Meeting Jane Fowler, the jinx made Diane’s noble life trampled on time and time again!

Jane Fowler, just wait. I will never forgive you! I will never let you go!

“One day! I’ll watch you go to with my own eyes! I’ll avenge my children!”

Jane woke up.

And she saw the message from Hugh.

[Janie, are you awake?]

[Yeah, I just woke up... I settled a case last night.] She then added a yawning emoji.

Jane then got out of bed and poured herself a glass of milk.

Hugh's message came again. [Connor told me about Layne's finding things difficult for you in the Nightshade Bar. I will give him a lesson and won't let him trouble you anymore.]

[Thank you.]

Jane didn't worry about it since Hugh promised to deal with it.

She was fed up with Layne's inexplicable and repeated appearance. Layne also kept saying confusing words to Jane and bothering Jane.

Ding

Jane received a message on her phone.

A total of 10 million dollars had been transferred to her account abroad.

The remittance account belonged to Andy

Hugh sent a new message to Jane. [Sorry, Janie, the Croft family has been causing trouble for you, 1]

Jane replied, [Why are you apologizing? It's all about my bad luck to keep meeting . It has nothing to do with you. Besides, it's quite satisfying for me to give  a lesson. They make my life more colorful, don't they?]

Hugh then read the message sent by Jane

An urge surged through him.

As long as Jane agreed, she could become the Croft family's female lead now.

These  would no longer have the guts to find trouble with Jane.

However, Hugh's remaining rationality told him... He was too rushed.

A hasty offer of marriage would scare June

Jane then replied with a message, [By the way, Hugh, you said that ever since we met and got familiar with each other, your sense of taste showed signs of recovery?]

[Yes... At least I can slightly feel what the food tastes like now. Janie, thank you. Thanks to you, I've regained the taste I lost for a long time.]

Hugh then sent this message.

And there was a trace of gentleness in his eyes.

And...

A hint of affection.

His desire to give her all he had.

Jane replied, [Okay. Speaking of which, I haven't thanked you properly. Come to my apartment tonight. I'll cook for you personally.]

Hugh's heart skipped a beat when he saw this message.

He read the message again with his eyes wide and he was breathing quickly.

It was like a dream.

[... Really?]

[Of course. Just a meal. How will I be kidding? You always bring me food for people who have Type Omega blood. I don't even have the chance to show my gratitude! Please don't thank me!]

"Janie, I don't need your gratitude. You should know what I really want."

"So do you. Hugh, there's still time. We have plenty of time to get along, right?"

"Okay."

Life was about to walk in and report on the follow-up of Raymond and the others. And then, Life caught sight of Hugh's smiling face that he had never seen before.

Life froze.

He wondered whether he was in a dream.

Or maybe he was too old to see clearly.

Life then silently pinched his thigh.

"It hurts!"

“This is real!

“It isn’t a dream!

“Oh, my God!

“Give me back the boss I’m familiar with.

“That cold, , and unsmiling Mr. Croft, who was as cold as an iceberg, was possessed by someone else?!” Life kept questioning himself in his mind.

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 277

No Way Back Chapter 277-Life felt that the current Hugh was even more intimidating than the one with a darkened face shrouded in darkness.

Then, he left silently.

“Oh, my God!

“I can’t imagine how surprised other colleagues staying long with Mr. Croft will be if they see that expression on his face.

“They will probably be even more shocked than I am now.

“It was so scary” Life muttered in his mind.

At this moment.

Hugh’s voice came.

“Life”

“I’m here!”

Life trotted back to Hugh, thinking that Hugh had recognized his escape “Boss, I’m here to report to you the follow up of Raymond and the others...”

“It doesn’t matter now!”

“What?”

Dumbfounded, Life thought.

He had worked for Hugh for so long.

This was the first time he had heard these words....

It was unbelievable that Hugh would say that work was not important!

“Contact the flower seller who sells Juliet roses and let him send a hundred Juliet roses over by air as soon as possible.”

“You don’t need to consider the price. I have to use the roses tonight!”

Juliet roses?

That type of rose was regarded as the king of roses.

As a classic cut rose, it was stunning and elegant, light but passionate.

The price was even more terrifying!

Three million!

Not dollars.

300 million pounds!

For Hugh, this small fortune was nothing important

The most shocking thing was...

The fact that Hugh wanted to buy roses....

For those who were familiar with Hugh, it was no different from a comet hitting the Earth.

Unlike Connor and Robert who had known Hugh’s deep affection for Jane, Life had no idea of it

Now, Life truly felt....

A huge change would happen to the Croft family!

The night closed in.

Life Hugh to Jane’s.

For this meal, Hugh even dressed up meticulously.

He changed into a casual dark green shirt and suit pants

And he wore a pair of casual high-tops.

Coupled with his strikingly handsome and noble face. His cold and thin lips were compressed slightly, making him look roauish but charming.

And a bouquet of newly picked Juliet roses was held in his hand.

No woman would like to push such an enchanting and outstanding man with the most beautiful roses worth three million pounds in his hand.

But...

Life felt strange to see that his cold and boss spared no effort to please a woman.

Life just could not believe it.

“Life, how do I look now?”

“Hmm... Huh?”

Life was sunk in thought.

He stared at Hugh with a dumbfounded expression.

“I asked you do I look good now?”

Hugh’s voice turned colder.

Life muttered, “Yes... pretty handsome...”

Life had never seen a man who looked better than Hugh.

It was not flattery.

Life really thought so.

How could such a confident man become so unsure of himself now...

“Okay” replied Hugh.

Hugh then took a deep breath.

And he got out of the car with the roses.

Life was left alone.

Unknowingly, he was already drenched in a cold sweat.

As if having lost all his strength, he sat paralyzed in his seat.

Jane received Hugh's message.

And she jogged over to answer the door for Hugh.

What greeted her eyes was the bouquet of fragrant roses.

And next to the roses was the handsome Hugh.

Jane's face broke into a smile and she took the roses without hesitation.

"Mr. Croft is quite gentlemanly. Juliet roses are not available in Cruksia now. You must have spent heavily on them, right?"

"Janie, as long as you like them, money does not matter at all."

"You're such a sweet talker. Well, come in and have a seat. Dinner is ready soon."

Jane then held the bouquet of roses carefully and placed it gently on the sofa in the living room,

She hummed a little merry tune and ran to the kitchen to continue preparing the meal.

Hugh could smell a strong flavor as he made his way to the living room.

He quietly swallowed.

And he could even hear his stomach rumble.

He was indeed a little hungry.

Hugh had undergone special training before and had extraordinary self-control.

Obviously, Jane was really an excellent cook.

Or rather...

The delicacy was personally cooked by Hugh's beloved woman for him.

Therefore, it would definitely be the most perfect and delicious food in the world.

No other food could be compared to it.

Chapter 277

He watched as Jane was busy cooking in the kitchen with an apron.

His eyes were filled with tenderness.

And he felt for the first time...

Such "simple" happiness.

It was the scene that Hugh had yearned for all the time since he had an idea of what wonderful life was like.

The flavor of the food and the woman he loved waiting for him to return home after work. They would share what had happened that day and their plans for the next day.

Jane was spooning the soup in the kitchen.

She could feel a gentle gaze fixed on her.

In the end, she served the soup, took off her rubber gloves, and rolled her eyes at Hugh.

"Don't look at me like that. You're making me sloppy.

"Look, it's five minutes later than the scheduled time. My plan is upset

"I'm sorry... Janie, it's really you... make my eyes glued to you."

It was rare for Hugh to be more nervous. Afraid that Jane would be annoyed, he quickly explained.

His answer was so sincere and straightforward.

"Ahem! Ahem! I know I'm beautiful, but you don't have to be so straightforward. I don't even know how to respond."

Jane stole a look at Hugh with a grimace

"It's not just that... Janie, you know my past.

"Ever since I was young, even with Grandma by my side, I've never felt the warmth of a family of three.

“My mother died of dystocia when giving birth to me. My father was prostrated by my death. Although he did not abuse me, he blamed me for my death like everyone else.”

“It’s the first time that someone important to me personally cooks four dishes and a soup for me while I wait quietly nearby.”

Jane didn’t know how to reply.

She gazed at Hugh’s self-deprecating expression.

And she sighed quietly.

Several seconds later, she spooned a bowl of soup for Hugh.

“Try it. I bought the crucian carp and tofu from the market this morning and made this soup. I’m looking forward to your evaluation.”

“Got it,” replied Hugh.

Hugh also realized it was the wrong time to mention such a heavy topic at this enjoyable moment.

After taking a sip of the soup, Hugh raised his eyebrows in surprise.

“Isn’t it delicious? Have you found the flavor of soup?”

Hugh nodded. “Looks like you expected this. Janie, how did you make it?”

Although Hugh recovered a bit of his sense of taste, it was only slightly better than when he had suffered the side effects of Type Omega blood before having met Jane.

At least he could slightly feel the flavor of food now

But why....

Hugh could not completely sense the taste of the food made by Jane.

But it reached 85%!

Jane answered excitedly. “Didn’t I ask you for the scientific recipe of Type Omega blood people you made? I extracted some ingredients myself and added them to the food.

“You could only eat that black thing when you completely lost your sense of taste. Now that your taste has recovered by 10%, the ingredients should be effective for you.

“I just want to have a try. I didn’t expect it to succeed! Hooray!

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 278

No Way Back Chapter 278-Hugh looked at Jane’s happy and smug expression.

A smile was curving his lips. “You have taken me as a guinea , haven’t you?”

“Of course! But you’ve tasted something good, too, haven’t you? Aren’t you convinced?”

Jane raised her eyebrows at Hugh provocatively

She, like a blazing sun, crashed into Hugh’s heart.

Even his silent and cold soul was warmed by its searing heat.

Hugh narrowed his eyes and said with unprecedented seriousness and certainty, ‘Yes, I’m convinced. You can take me as anything as long as you’re willing to.’

Jane coughed continuously

She almost choked on her saliva.

She thought, “It is just a joke.

“However, Hugh, did you have to put on a serious expression and say something so easily misunderstood?

“What did you mean by saying ‘You can take me as anything as long as you’re willing to’?

“It seems as if I, the crazy Jane Fowler, were going to do something indescribable to you.

“No! I won’t do anything indescribable to you!”

“Janie, are you okay?”

Hugh patted Jane’s back considerably, his eyes filled with concern.

“I’m fine. I just choked. Speaking of which... Didn’t your grandmother ever cook anything for you to eat when she was alive?”

Hugh shook his head, 'Grandma came from a prestigious family. She was a typical woman from a wealthy family. To protect her fingers, she had never done any chores since she was young'

"Oh! I don't understand the world of the rich."

Jane wasn't joking.

Although Jane was also born into a wealthy family, she was lost at birth.

When she was old enough to do chores, she had to help the orphanage do cleaning and kitchen chores.

"Janie, you're really smart.

"Although there are research data on that scientific recipe, the codes and useful factors in it can only be interpreted by a scientific researcher graduate with 20 years of work experience..."

"Well, don't praise me anymore. We're both owners of Type Omega blood. It is natural for me to have done this. It's called a gift from heaven."

Jane stuck out her tongue.

Then, she used the fork to put a piece of braised pork into her ***.

"Mmm...It tastes so good. It is the pork that was cooked by me! Awesome!"

Jane was not stingy with her praise for herself.

"Come on. Let's have some red wine."

Jane didn't resist red wine. If one didn't drink too much red wine, drinking a little bit of it would help one sleep and be good for one's health.

She took that bottle of red wine that she had specially prepared, pouring a little for both herself and Hugh. "Yes."

'Cheers'

They toasted each other with red wine and smiled at each other.

Hugh shook the wine glass for a while to wake up the red wine, and then he took a sip.

He could feel the red liquid producing a wonderful chemical reaction in his ***

It was so delicious that it made him feel intoxicated.

After Hugh drank a glass of red wine, his cheeks turned slightly red.

His eyes became blurry, too.

Fine wine was precious, but who was Hugh?

He had drunk the number one out-of-print wine in the world countless times.

However, this time, the red wine was so sweet that he felt it irresistible.

After Jane drank the wine, there were still some traces at the corners of her ***,

Seeing this, Hugh, who was now in the state of being intoxicated, extended his fingertips to wipe Jane's lips.

The soft and light touch of his fingertips stunned Jane.

She hadn't expected Hugh to do this.

Then, she could only watch as Hugh placed the fingertips that had touched her lips to his lips and tasted them "Hugh Craft...

Jane simply wanted to cover her face.

How could Hugh, who was considered a domineering president, abandon his original character and do such a thing without any worries?

How embarrassing it was!

Jane even wanted to dig a and hide in it!

"It's sweeter this way. Don't you like it?"

His magnetic and deep voice was even stained with the rich fragrance of wine because he had drunk red wine. It became soul-stirring.

She looked at his face, which was handsome and with slightly red eyes.

Jane could not help but feel her heart beat faster.

She had been used to looking at this face. However, when she caught a glimpse of it now, she still felt that it was extremely handsome.

Even Jane, who considered herself to have strong willpower and to have seen countless handsome men, became restless.

Jane had never denied that she was a face judger.

Who didn't like handsome men or beautiful women?

She wasn't a weirdo with strange tastes.

Furthermore, Jane could hear her heart beating.

"Hugh Croft, are you not shy at all?"

"No, I'm not. In fact, I want to have a deeper taste."

Hugh nodded. He put his arm on the table and tapped his fair and slender fingertips against the tabletop.

His every move was extremely elegant and noble.

As a result, he exuded an irresistible charm.

His eyes, which were as deep as a black , were filled with Jane's figure.

He took her figure into his eyes, which were a domain from which even light couldn't escape.

Jane could feel her breathing getting faster and faster.

The ancients said that beautiful women were dangerous. But it was not always true.

When a man was handsome to a certain extent, he could be considered dangerous, too.

Sometimes, a handsome man was more dangerous than a beautiful woman!

"Um... Have a try! The bitter gourd with pork I cooked is delicious!"

Jane was terrified. She could only divert Hugh's attention by choosing delicious food for him.

She felt that Hugh's gaze was too dangerous now!

Hugh stared straight at Jane, not hiding his desire to conquer her

Anyway, Jane was a “normal woman who had lived two lives and had never fallen in love before.

How could she resist such surging male hormonal attraction?

“Oh my god... I hope that nothing will go wrong tonight.”

Otherwise, Jane was afraid that she wouldn't be able to resist Hugh's attraction!

“Okay!”

Then, the two of them ate obediently

Now, they behaved as if they had lived together in an ordinary family.

They talked about some interesting stories from the past.

Jane slowly relaxed.

She didn't feel that Hugh's gaze was so invasive anymore.

She ate meat and drank red wine in big . She felt that her life was comfortable!

Anyway, Jane wouldn't gain weight no matter what she ate.

After several rounds of drinking, even Jane was a little drunk.

The two of them had nearly eaten all the food on the table.

“Hugh Croft, the two of us are quite similar. You received only the warmth from one person in the Croft family, while I fortunately, the Teacher picked me up and taught me how to survive,

“The Fowler family had me lost 19 years ago. It wasn't easy for them to find me. However, all of them were vicious wolves in human skin. They treated me coldly, humiliated me, and ignored me.

“To be honest, it was such a tough time for me that I wished I had been dead.

“Though heaven closed a door for me, it opened a window for me, too, I acquired abilities. I have been able to control my life since I grew up. I can live the life I want now.

“This is the most important, isn't it?”

Even Jane herself was surprised.

Her voice was so soft.

She seemed to have been talking about someone else.

Then she talked about what the weather was like today in a relaxed and indifferent way.

It wasn't just because of the red wine.

Moreover, Jane could, as a bystander, examine the messy and life-threatening things that had happened to her.

She didn't look like that Jane Fowler, who had just been reborn and who had wanted to forget about everything but couldn't resist the flames of revenge in her heart.

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 279

No Way Back Chapter 279-This was a good sign.

Jane knew why.

There had been a hole in her heart, but it was now filled with such people as Lisa, Andy, Hugh, Yale, and Josh.

They were important in Jane's life because they represented the "friendship", "love", and "family affection" that couldn't be replaced by anyone else.

"Sometimes, I'm really grateful to heaven, for at least, heaven has given me a critical opportunity"

"I can redeem what I should have had.

"At the same time, I can cut off the family affection that doesn't belong to me at all and that I shouldn't care about"

Jane held her face with one hand

Her eyes were shining

Her beauty was beyond measure.

She had been reborn.

She could redeem the stupid mistakes she had made in her previous life.

This was something that so many people could only dream of.

In the past, Jane ever hated heaven for making her an orphan,

Now, Jane was afraid of being unable to avoid people like those from the Fowler family

Heaven had already given Jane all that it could give.

“Janie, before I met you, sometimes I would complain about fate and the Croft family and I would even resent my bloodline and the fact that I was born into the Croft family.

However, after meeting you and falling in love with you,
I understood that heaven is fair. At the very least, heaven sent you to me.*

“As a result, I am now able to have dinner and chat with you like this,”

What luxurious happiness it was.

Hugh had never thought about such happiness.

Or rather, he hadn’t dared to hope for such happiness.

It had been too unreachable for this man called Hugh Croft.

However, now such happiness was so real that it happened calmly to him.

“I came looking for you.

“I passed thousands of mountains and thousands of rivers.

“Lights were shining on the road.

“Now you are standing in the breeze.

“And I am still covered in white snow.

“I’ll cook the winter snow, pick flowers and grass for you, and stay by your side on this beautiful night”

Hugh said, “It’s so good to have you along this long road.”

He was a little drunk, his eyes full of affection and tenderness.

He had been like an untainted, cold, and arrogant deity, who could only be watched from afar and could not be toyed. with.

Now, he was a human being again, coming back to the mortal world.

Hugh was right in front of Jane and opened his mouth slightly

His fingertips gradually moved forward.

They were getting closer and closer to Jane's fingertips on the table.

Then, his fingertips gently touched hers

Jane didn't dodge.

When his fingertips touched hers, she felt as if an electric current had been running through her body

It was terrifyingly sharp.

But it didn't hurt.

It was like the attraction between the positive pole of one magnet and the negative pole of the other.

Jane thought that she might be drunk, too.

Her entire body was frighteningly hot

She could feel her blood circulating rapidly in her body.

Their fingers were intertwined.

Hugh was getting closer.

At this moment, Jane had no intention of resisting him.

Anyway, they were just going to kiss.

They had done this before..

It was at Christmas in Meridonia that they two kissed last time.

She really missed that kiss.

The moment their lips touched, their hearts were pounding.

Jane acknowledged from the depths of her soul that the man was her Mr Right

She was willing to hand over everything she had to the man who was kissing her now.

In the beginning, their lips touched slightly.

And then, their lips were glued together and couldn't separate.

She was nearly unable to breathe

Her consciousness had been stripped away.

She could only be immersed in this infinite happiness

She couldn't help herself.

"Janie, remember to breathe."

Hugh couldn't bear to let go of such a sweet taste.

However, the face of the girl in his arms was already so red that it seemed that blood could drip from her face.

She had even forgotten to breathe when they were kissing.

Hugh was afraid that Jane would faint from holding her breath too long.

He held his forehead

"... I don't know how..."

The act of losing her rationality was too fatal for Jane.

Jane hadn't expected herself to be as clumsy as a child when it came to kissing, though she was so smart that she could learn everything else more quickly than anyone else in the world.

Ah! She had lived for two lifetimes! She was a university student!

It would be too embarrassing for her to say that she had never fallen in love before and didn't know how to kiss! "It's fine. There's still a long way for us two to go together. Take your time for the rest of your life."

Hugh gently stroked Jane's head.

He doted on her endlessly.

Happiness was sometimes so simple for him as long as he could hug and kiss the woman he loved the most like now "He told me to take my time..." Jane coughed continuously.

‘All right! Jane said to herself.

Life Croft was still waiting downstairs.

It was rare for him to have left the car and smoked a cigarette.

He looked impatient.

He glanced at his watch.

His boss had been up there for three hours.

Life sighed.

He finished smoking his last cigarette and threw the butt into the trash,

He quickly sprinkled some perfume on himself

His boss wouldn’t like the smell of cigarettes.

It was the first time in his life that he had waited so painfully.

“If my boss won’t go back tonight and will sleep at Jane’s home, then...”

Life coughed

“My wise and mighty boss who hasn’t been close to women now has mortal desires.” Th is astonished him!

“If a little boss is to be born due to my boss’s action tonight, then what should I do?

‘People from the Croft family are eyeing my boss covetously, and Miss Jane Fowler is o nly a sophomore, right?’ His head exploded.

Life was letting his imagination run wild.

“What are you doing here?”

A familiar voice suddenly sounded.

Life was almost scared out of his wits.

He quickly straightened his body and saluted Hugh.

“Boss, I... I didn’t do anything. I just stood here for a while... I’m sorry. Boss, I didn’t noti ce that you were already down...”

Life anxiously waited for Hugh to punish him.

As Hugh's right-hand man, he suddenly disappeared like this and was searched for by Hugh,

This could be considered a huge failure of duty!

If this had happened in the past, Hugh would have sent Life to the Arctic Circle to be in charge of the current research, and Life wouldn't be able to return until three months later!

It was difficult to get supplies in a world full of ice and snow. Being sent to such a place was simply a disaster. However, Hugh only said, "Get in the car and go home."

...Hmm?

Life was so nervous that a thin, cold sweat broke out all over him.

If he were not afraid that Hugh would be angry, Life would close his eyes and silently pray that his fate would not take a tragic turn.

However, Hugh just let him go unpunished, didn't he?

Or would Hugh not punish him until they got home?

Hugh got into the car and found that Life was still standing there like a block of wood. Hugh frowned. "How many times do you want me to say it?"

"Yes!"

Life quickly got into the car and took the driver's seat. As he started the Maybach, he carefully glanced at Hugh through the rearview mirror, saying, "Boss, you look very happy!"

"Hm... so you have managed to save your life this time. Don't do it again."

Hugh recalled the delicious food he had just eaten, the scenery of Jane being busy cooking in the kitchen, Jane's warmth and fragrance when she was in his arms, and the kiss that he would miss for a long time.

Hugh closed his eyes.

He pursed his lips lightly.

He was still ruminating over Jane's lingering fragrance and touch on his lips.

mugn was sitting in the darkness of the spacious back seat of the Maybach. He wore a suit. His slender fingers intertwined with one another. He looked like an emperor shrouded in shadows.

Who would have thought that Hugh was now thinking about Jane's kiss?

Life heaved a sigh of relief.

"Oh my god!

"Thank you! Miss Jane Fowler... Oh no! My future Mrs. Boss!

"You are the Virgin Mary! You are the Polar Star! You have saved my miserable life, which would have been ravaged by my boss!"

"Thank you! Amen!"

No Way Back Chapter 280-"I think I'm the lucky one here "Lila, you were the one who had always been there with me

"You helped me keep my cool and do the right thing when I was in a rage and loathing.

me up from the start

so repulsed by the Fowler family that I felt every cell in my body was filled with "You always support me no matter what I do. You took me into your house, where I could feel wanted and loved as "Lila, you told me that even if the whole world stood against me, you would stand by my side and fight without hesitation. "It's the same for me *

Jane reached out and patted Lila Sutton's head.

Her eyes were filled with gentleness.

She would never forget

The day that she decided to cut ties with the Fowler family.

She left the pit of despair and its horde of demons behind.

It was the companionship of Andy and Lila that allowed Jane to get through the excruciating phase of her rebirth. Now, Jane had more people in her life to care for and value.

Her life was about to turn into a bed of flowers, and things were only going to get better with each passing day.

She would no longer have to turn into her once savage and destructive self for the sake of the Fowler family.

“Alright, Janie, let’s not talk about this. It’s so mushy We’re best friends, aren’twe?”

“Don’t forget that we’re going to be best friends forever! Cherish this true bond of ours while you can.

a part of the family

“The thing is, I’m worried that you’ll grow to despise me. You’re too brilliant, too strong, and moreover, you’re the world champion, Janie. I’m nothing compared to you...”

While she talked, Lila’s feelings of inferiority grew.

Despite the fact that Lila Sutton had a respectable IQ and qualifications

Yet in light of Jane’s brilliance, any comparison seemed trivial. In the blink of an eye, Lila might well be taken out of the game.

Sometimes, Lila felt that being best friends with someone like Jane was far out of her league

Lila did her best over the years to catch up to Jane’s pace. However, the gap between them would become wider as time went on Ah! This was so frustrating!

Jane responded. “*, I could never despise you, and you will never be able to get rid of a best friend like me even if you try

“However... it’s a little off-putting. It’s a bummer that you aren’t a boy. If you’re a boy, we can start dating right away. We can be sure no one takes advantage of you.”

“Boohoo! Stop talking! I don’t want to hear it! It’s pure damage here, okay?”

Lila was in tears

The fact that she was born a girl rather than a boy was the one thing she blamed her parents for

She could have become Jane’s lover instead of watching other guys woo her closest friend.

Not even Hugh Croft was allowed to do so!

After some lighthearted banter between them, the mood in the room had become noticeably cheery.

Jane then pretended to ask casually, "Lila, when did you become so acquainted with Connor?"

"Well, it does seem that we have become used to one another's company over time. In any case, it's because of you that I've met Connor quite a few times

"He's not a bad guy, I can tell, and he's been quite easy on me. This explains my recent reckless behavior, haha!

"Janie, do you think I'm being too reckless and obstinate with Connor?"

Lila rubbed the back of her head in embarrassment.

"How do you feel about him?" asked Jane.

"What do I feel? He's okay"

Lila looked at Jane in confusion. "Janie, why are you asking this all of a sudden?"

"Nothing. I was just asking "

It seemed that it was far too soon for Jane to fret

It would certainly take too long for Connor and Lila to really feel anything for each other

If they were indeed destined to be together, anything was possible.

It was the case for Jane and Hugh

Who would have thought that the two of them would end up together?

However, Jane, as Lila's best friend, was obligated to look out for Lila's lifelong happiness.

This girl could be naive at times. She was unable to think clearly since her mind was in a straight line.

She worried that Connor was just a playboy and that his feelings for Lila would fizzle out quickly. Once he had his fun with Lila, he'd toss her aside like a rag doll, breaking Lila's heart in the process.

If this were the case, Jane would never let Connor off the hook!

Knock! Knock!

“Are you all ready? I’d love to show you around this resort and everything it has to offer.”

It was Connor’s voice.

“Alright, Janie, let’s go.”

“Alright, Jane murmured in response.

Due to the fact that it was January, the trail that led up the mountain had become quite slippery.

So naturally everyone opted for the cable car.

Lila took in the sights from the cable car’s vantage point. She was so excited that her was shaped like an “O.”

“Despite all the places I’ve visited, I’ve never seen anything as breathtaking as this. It’s like I’m taking a walk through a gallery of nature’s finest works of art.”

Jane asked calmly. “The Luther Group pruned this place?”

“Yes. Coincidentally, my father knows a Feng Shui master. He travelled around in his youth. He began his study of art while he was in his middle years due to the fact that he was wealthy. As a result, my father requested that he inspect this valley.

“The Luther Group put forth an offer of more than 150 million dollars to bid for this valley. And it wasn’t for nothing, either. The rich of today adhere to Buddhist and Feng Shui beliefs. This valley’s natural splendor and location near Stormton City’s best attractions has given the area great potential as a premier vacation spot.”

The cable car had finally reached the top of the hill.

Jane and the others got off the cable car. As Connor led the way, they continued walking for some time.

“Wow! Janie, look!”

It seemed as if Lila had seen something. She made a loud exclamation as if she had made a significant discovery.

As Jane peered up, she noticed that the waterfall had frozen about halfway up the mountain, like the head of a dangerous beast poised to leap forth.

Looking down, the fog was thick and . It seemed to have no end in sight.

It had the grace of the old poetry that described how the Milky Way fell from the Nine Heavens.

As she stood on a hilltop and took in the spectacular views of the surrounding valleys, there was a sense of renewal and revitalization washed over her, and a surge of energy filled her veins.

After that, Connor brought Lila and Jane to more places to visit.

Soon, the sun set.

Lila was having a lot of fun.

“Connor, I’ll take it th kept your word this time. This resort is remarkable! It's clear why this place made the top picks for tourist attractions in the Stormton City. The amount of people that have scheduled visits to play here is staggering!"

"It's fine as long as you like it," Connor chuckled.

Connor was wearing a puffy down coat and a knitted beanie. He presented an air of casualness in both his attire and demeanor.

He returned to the resort with Lila, chatting and laughing.

"Hey, where's Janie?"

Lila realized that Jane was not with her. She quickly fished out her phone and sent Jane a message. "Janie, where are you?"
