No Way Back Chapter 351-When Rain was called back, it was already seven-thirty in the evening.

Rain still looked unconvinced. "Jane, one day, I'll definitely have good culinary skills. Then, I'll cook a meal so good that will all of you up!"

As he spoke, he clenched his fists, his bloodshot eyes burning with flames

He was like a little hedgehog when he was angry.

It was hard to believe that he was the powerful leader of Ruthless

He was no different from an ordinary youth.

"Alright, alright. I'll wait for that day."

"Rain, as your brother, I still have to advise you. Save it. Even if you're strong, if the entire kitchen explodes, you won't be able to escape no matter how last you are."

"Life is precious. It's better for you to wait for others to serve you."

It wasn't that Josh wanted to put Rain down.

Rain's culinary skills were so bad, it scared them.

If they hadn't stopped him in time, everyone would have been blasted away.

Today was the day before Christmas. It would have been their death anniversary instead. They were supposed to have a happy gathering.

When Josh thought of that scene just now, he still had lingering fears.

*Josh, I admit that I made a mistake previously. As long as I want to do something, there's nothing I can't do! The next time we meet, I'll definitely succeed!"

The more Rain spoke, the more unwilling he was to admit defeat. He became even more ambitious.

"Okay, okay. Let's hurry up and eat dinner. Otherwise, the food will turn cold."

It was better for Jane to smooth things over so that Rain wouldn't bicker with them anymore.

Yale and Eden exchanged a glance and smiled knowingly.

The dinner officially began.

As the fireworks were set off outside the window, everyone cheered.

There was also a Christmas program on television.

“Jane, try it! This is the chicken I marinated myself! It’s delicious!”

Josh took a big chicken drumstick for Jane

“This is the steamed fish I made. Jane, try it and let me know how it tastes

Eden picked up a large piece of fish and placed it into Jane’s **.

Jane had been about to speak.

Yale quietly picked up a few pieces of sweet and sour pork ribs and placed them in Jane’s bowl.

He gestured with his eyes as if to say, “I made this, Jane. Try it.”

Rain felt helpless.

The Christmas dinner was made by his three senior brothers. Rain didn’t get to help, so he couldn’t say that he made any of those dishes.

He could only take a few beef that no one had chosen and put them in Jane’s bowl.

“Jane, try this beef ball and see if it tastes good... This is... I bought this at the supermarket!”

“Pfft!”

Jane couldn’t help but laugh at Rain’s words.

The other three people couldn’t help but laugh as well.

Rain blushed and lowered his head. For the first time in his life, he was so embarrassed.

He swore to himself that when he returned to Ruthless base, he would find the best culinary teacher and strive to learn how to cook in a year!

Then, he wouldn’t have to be so embarrassed the next Christmas!

“Alright, I’ll try it.”

"Hmm... this chicken is delicious and just right. The sauce also goes very well with the fish. The sweet and sour pork ribs are so fragrant, and the beef are chewy!"

"Nice! This must be the best meal I've ever eaten! More importantly, all these dishes were made by all of you! I love it!"

Jane praised them generously

She was smiling the most dazzling smile in her life. It came from the bottom of her heart and was filled with warmth.

The delicious taste that lingered in her was something Jane would remember for the rest of her life. It was the best meal she had ever eaten.

The feeling of happiness that filled her entire body was constantly reminding Jane that she was no longer alone!

She had a family to spend Christmas with They cooked delicious food for her and accompanied her to watch fireworks and TV!

She was no longer the pitiful girl in her previous life who was despised for being useless, including during Christmas, in the Fowler family!

After getting Jane's praise, her senior brothers finally relaxed.

They were afraid that Jane would think that the food was not delicious and that she would dislike it. If that happened, they would cry. "Eat more if it's delicious!"

Everyone started to put food into Jane's bowl.

They had already filled Jane's bowl to the brim, but they still did not stop.

Jane quickly stopped them. "That's more than enough, everyone. I don't think I can finish all of it. I'm not a piglet."

"Eat slowly. There's plenty, Jane. Didn't you say that it's delicious? Then you must eat more!"

"Jane is so skinny. She definitely has to eat more. She'll look better that way."

"I don't know about her looking better, but if it makes her healthier, I'm not about to object."

"Jane, I bought these dumplings too. Here, try some."

Jane looked at the four faces surrounding her.

She could not help but recall some memories.

She thought of Christmas in her previous life.

There was also a heartwarming scene where a girl was surrounded by people who kept giving her food.

Jane, who was standing silently in the corner, was watching Madelyn enviously.

If others saw this scene, they would only think that Madelyn was the real young mistress of the Fowler family who had been missing for 19 years.

Jane was the dispensable substitute that had been adopted by the Fowler family after her parents ****.

Once the real young mistress returned to the Fowler family, there was no longer a need for the substitute.

Jane could not help but feel sorrowful, and a lump grew in her throat.

Seeing that Jane's eyes were wet, Yale and the others immediately became nervous.

"Are you okay, Jane? Did we go overboard? I'm sorry. Don't... Don't cry."

A woman's tears could break any guy's heart.

Especially their most precious Jane, who looked like she was about to cry.

"It's all your fault. Josh, Eden, and Yale. Jane already said she had enough food. You didn't listen to her and kept giving her food. Now, she's really angry!"

Rain immediately put all the blame on the rest of the guys.

Josh and Eden strongly objected. "You also put food in her bowl!! Don't try to shift the blame! Everyone made Jane cry, so all of us have to apologize to her!"

Yale sat beside Jane. He reached out and gently stroked Jane's head. His eyes were filled with worry.

"Everyone, don't worry. I'm crying tears of joy. I just feel so happy to be able to spend Christmas with all of you like this."

"I never dreamed that this day would come, but happiness came to me. It just feels so surreal."

“I think I’m still favored by the heavens.”

Once upon a time, Jane had also complained about how unfairly god treated her.

Why did everyone else have parents and happy families?

On the contrary, Jane’s real parents and seven older brothers were . They treated Jane coldly and humiliated her in every way possible. They hurt her deeply.

Now, Jane had put aside her hatred. Life was great now.

This journey had been very long and arduous. She even paid the price with her life.

However, it seemed like god still loved Jane.

It gave Jane a chance to start all over again.

It gave Jane a chance to wake up and see the Croft family for who they were.

It gave Jane... a family who truly loved her.

Everyone looked at each other.

No Way Back Chapter 352-“We feel the same too. Jane, meeting you was the best thing that has ever happened to us.”

Rain nodded repeatedly. “That’s right, Jane. Back then, I almost lost my humanity. It was you who saved me. God is good to me. He brought you to me!”

Yale took the initiative to wipe Jane’s tears with his fingertips.

Jane took a deep breath and smiled “Alright, let’s not talk about this on such a happy day. Come, let’s drink!”

As she spoke, Jane took out a 1982 Lafite that she treasured and poured wine for everyone.

“No matter what, everyone has gone through so much together. Now, we’re sitting here together to celebrate Christmas”

“I hope that we get to spend every year like this. I wish everyone happiness, health, and bliss.”

“Cheers!”

Everyone clinked their wine glasses with each other.

It made a crisp sound.

The entire dining room was filled with laughter.

Everyone’s face was brimming with happiness.

Jane had shed the loneliness, pain, and torture of being alone.

Everyone sitting here had an important bond with each other.

After a few glasses of fine wine, Jane’s face turned slightly red. She was tipsy.

She rested her chin on one hand and watched the banter between her senior brothers and Rain.

She could not help but go into deep thought.

She really hoped that time could stop at this moment.

She didn’t want tonight to end.

She was happy.

After dinner, Jane watched the Christmas program on television with her senior brothers and Rain while chatting about recent events. Jane was complaining to her senior brothers about how bad the program was.

She would rather watch some dramas online.

Rain also yawned and felt like sleeping as he watched the television.

If not for the fact that his senior brothers and Jane were staying up.

Rain really wanted to go back to his room to rest.

They hung out with each other until after midnight.

Ring, ring!

Jane’s phone rang.

Jane received timely Christmas blessings from Lila, Andy, Hugh....

Jane responded to all of them [Merry Christmas']

On Hugh's side, Jane sent, [How's your Christmas Eve dinner? You didn't lose your appetite, did you?]

Hugh replied. The food is alright, but Uncle Raymond's family is in a terrible fix. They didn't even appear tonight]

Jane sent, [Diane is dead, Layne is in the hospital, and Luna has fainted. Your Uncle Raymond is around, but he didn't appear.]

Hugh texted. [The matter was a big deal. In order to prevent Grandpa from getting angry, he definitely has to deal with the incident at Sun City Square first. Otherwise, he's afraid that he won't be able to keep his position... To him, power and money are the most important. He doesn't care if his wife ****]

Jane asked, [From the looks of it, the Croft family is really heartless. After such a big incident, your grandfather and the others didn't say anything and continued to have dinner on Christmas Eve?]

[The Croft family has always been like this. Whoever causes trouble has to be responsible for it. It's already good enough that the others don't add insult to injury and fight for power, so asking them for help is out of the question. It's undoubtedly a dream]

[When we were eating Christmas Eve dinner, Uncle Jack's family couldn't help but ask about Uncle Raymond's family, causing Grandpa to lose his temper.]

[Uncle Matthew and the rest found out about Diane. They rushed to the hospital once they finished dinner]

As for Levi, Hugh didn't bother to mention him.

Ever since his mother , Levi had become unconcerned about everything

Even if such a huge thing happened this time, Levi did not even care.

He just ate his own food

After eating, he bid farewell to Victor and left.

There seemed to be nothing in this world that Levi cared about.

He was just living like a zombie.

The previous Hugh could not understand Levi's behavior.

They even thought that Levi blamed Hugh for his mother's death.

That was why he ignored Hugh and watched coldly from the side.

It would be a lie to say that there was no hatred in Hugh's heart.

Until Hugh met Jane.

If Hugh encountered the same thing as Levi, perhaps Hugh would feel even number than Levi.

He would have wished to with Jane.

Only then did he know it.

It turned out that he had really met the woman he loved in his life.

Now, he understood the feeling of powerlessness of watching someone he loved ****.

It could completely destroy a man's pride.

If he didn't feel this way, it could only mean that he didn't love her enough.

[Uncle Matthew... Marlon's father? To be able to raise a son like Marlon, Uncle Matthew's family is as harmless as you said.]

[They were born in the Croft family. In some sense, they are both lucky and unlucky.]

Hugh knew that Jane's Red Flag Squad had been incorporated by the state, and Marlon was one of the members.

Because of this, Hugh was jealous for a period of time and would find trouble with Marlon from time to time.

Marlon had been frustrated by that. However, he did not dare to offend Hugh and could only silently endure everything. Marlon wanted to cry but had no tears.

In essence, Hugh still valued Marlon's talent.

He hoped that Marlon could join D.Y. Group and become his right-hand man.

Unexpectedly, Marlon and Jane had become so close after some time.

[Janie, I realized that... I seem to understand why my father became like this now. The resentment and hatred I have for him have lessened significantly.]

[This is the first time I really looked at him and empathized with him when I saw how old and powerless he was today.]

[Because I met you, I seem to have an additional fatal weakness. But without you, my life would be extremely cold and without warmth.]

After thinking for a moment, Hugh still told Jane about his feelings.

Even though Hugh had told her many times, he was still not tired of it.

He wanted Jane to know for sure.

In Hugh's heart, Jane held a very special place.

It even surpassed everything that Hugh had, including his life.

Jane pursed her lips and typed a sentence on her phone.

[I'll see your father when I can.]

She hit send.

Hugh's heart could not help but race when he saw Jane's response.

Jane meant...

However, when he thought of Levi, Hugh lowered his eyes to hide his sadness.

In the end, he only replied with one word.

[Okay.]

Since this was Jane's request, Hugh would agree.

If Jane wanted the stars and the moon, Hugh would build a spaceship and fly to the sky to pick them for Jane.

It was time to go to bed.

Jane was still chatting with Lila in the room.

Knock, knock!

There was a knock on the door.

"Jane, are you asleep?"

It was Josh's voice.

No Way Back Chapter 353- Jack and Anna had given birth to Jane.

The Fowler family's seven sons were all Jane's real brothers

No matter what happened, Jane could not be so to the Fowler family.

Regarding the secret of her rebirth, Jane could not tell anyone. She could only bear it alone.

Even if everyone felt that Jane was walking down the wrong path and that she was on the highway to , and even if they advised her to turn back, Jane would not give them a second of her time.

She would walk forward stubbornly and reply to them, "You haven't been in my shoes, so you don't have the right to judge me."

However, if possible, Jane still hoped the people she loved would support her. She hoped they would trust that she had her own reasons for doing what she did.

Fortunately, the people Jane cherished would stand firmly by her side.

She was no longer as isolated and helpless as she was in her previous life.

Jane was sleeping happily and peacefully. She had a sweet dream.

Meanwhile, some people could not sleep at night.

Henry stood outside Anna's ward and looked at the fireworks outside the window with a dazed expression.

Once upon a time, Henry felt that this was the happiest day.

Because this was the beginning of a new year after bidding farewell to the old year.

The family gathered in the Fowler family's house. It was filled with warmth, love, and happiness.

There was no scheming among themselves. Everyone was heartfelt as they welcomed the new year.

That was the happiest time of the Fowlers' life.

It was the same every year.

Except for this year...

Henry had never thought of this.

On the day when they were supposed to welcome the new year.

They would spend their days in the hospital with such sadness.

Every year after that, would the Fowler family be able to feel the warmth and happiness during Christmas again?

After chasing away his real sister, Jane.

After finding out Madelyn's true colors.

And..

After knowing that Anna might become disabled.

"Henry, go and rest. Your body won't be able to take it."

Johan walked over. Seeing Henry like this, he could not help but advise him.

"It's okay I can handle it."

"Henry..."

Johan bit his lip.

In the end, Johns sighed.

No one rested.

They stood guard outside the ward.

They were waiting for Anna to wake up.

Their mother, the most important woman in their lives, had suffered a ***.

Who would be in the mood to rest?

It was just superfluous.

Johan, do you believe in karma?"*

Henry suddenly asked

*Johan opened his ***.*

He could understand why Henry asked this question.

If it was in the past, Johan and Henry, who had received a modern education, wouldn't have believed in these supernatural things.

Actual practice was the sole criterion for judging truth.

They firmly believed only in the existence that could be scientifically proven.

But now, after Johan experienced that strange dream about Jane's death and met Signy, there was no longer anyone who firmly said that karma did not exist in this world

As for Henry, it was probably because of the existence of Jane that he was tortured to this state.

Realizing this, Johan looked at Henry's side profile under the light in the corridor and suddenly realized something.

The once high-spirited Fowler Corporation's president, the future heir, had deteriorated and lost his dazzle.

It was as if he had by more than ten years.

"If there's retribution, this might be our family's retribution.

"We treated Jane badly. We owe her a lot. That's why we ended up like this today. "We deserve it. If it's possible... I want to suffer the retribution alone!"

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 354

No Way Back Chapter 354-Henry spoke from the bottom of his heart.

He regretted it

He really regretted it.

He regretted entering the Darknet because he admired Queen.

He regretted sending that email to Queen. By chance, Queen took a fancy to him and he became Queen's apprentice.

He regretted that after his return, he was like a demon and did so many things to Jane.

It was just so he could protect a fake sister.

He recalled what he had done.

He felt a deep sense of powerlessness.

Why was he so back then?

Henry thought he was extraordinary

He thought that he had seen through everything, possessed everything, and grasped everything.

In the end, the person who should be treasured and trusted was deeply disappointed, so she left. Henry had never seen through Madelyn, who had been with him for 18 years, until Jack told him the truth. He even foolishly wanted to prepare a gift for Madelyn. He put in a lot of effort and did everything himself. He thought that he only had one sister left. He had already lost Jane, so he could not lose Madelyn.

*It was ***...*

"Henry, don't say that... I know you're upset, but this situation..."*

Johan glanced at his brothers who were watching Anna not far away.

There was also Jack, who had a pained expression on his face.

"Thank you, Johan, for staying by my side and listening to me. It makes me feel much better.

"I can't tell anyone else about this. Everyone is more or less involved with Jane and feels guilty about Anna.

"Only you... You've never met Jane before. You're not involved, so you suffered the least damage. That's why I can tell you this without worry."

Johan could not help but fall silent.

He couldn't help but think of the dreams he had previously.

Not involved...

Yes, Johan had never done anything to let Jane down.

It could even be said that if not for the fact that Jane was Johan's real sister, Johan and Jane would be strangers.

They wouldn't greet each other even if they met each other out on the streets.

However, Johan felt a strong sense of uneasiness when he saw his family in this state.

It was as if the talisman given by Signy was about to lose its power.

That dream was about to haunt Johan again.

Johan always had this feeling.

And whenever Johan had this strange feeling, he was never wrong.

At the same time, Johan felt that his involvement with Jane was more profound than anyone else.

"Johan, what do you think Jane is doing now while we spend our Christmas accompanying our mother in the hospital and in pain?" "Henry, let's not talk about this anymore. If you continue, you'll only make yourself sad.

"Stop thinking about Jane'

Johan seemed to be advising Henry

However, it was as if Johan was advising himself as well.

Johan's tone could not help but become anxious.

"Emotions are heightened at night. I'm wrecked by the guilt in my heart and the fact that we can't get Jane back anymore. I can't help but think about it. Johan, I can't help it.

*Jane must be watching the Christmas program with her friends. She must be celebrating Christmas and giving Christmas blessings and gifts to them, unlike us... This family has changed a long time ago.

"Perhaps... we will never be able to go back to how it was."

Henry was still talking to himself

The sorrow in his words was transmitted to every corner of the space they were in.

Johan didn't want to listen to him anymore.

The more he listened, the more his own emotions were affected.

It was as if he had fallen into a swamp and was sinking incessantly.

There was no way to escape.

Tap, tap, tap.

At this moment, hurried footsteps could be heard.

It was 2:00 a.m., so the corridor was silent. The footsteps seemed particularly loud.

Everyone could not help but look up.

A man in a custom-made black motif suit who looked travel-worn and fatigued was walking toward them....

It was Raymond!

Jack frowned. "Raymond? Why are you only here now? Do you know that Diane is already..."

Seeing that it was Jack, Raymond stopped and explained, "I received Layne's message, but there were too many things to deal with, so I'm late."

When the gentlest Aaron heard Raymond's explanation, even he could not help but feel angry. "But... Uncle Raymond, Aunt Diane is already dead. What could be more important than this? As Aunt Diane's husband, you should have come to see her immediately!" Diane had been dead for more than ten hours.

As her husband and the person who had shared a bed with her for decades, Raymond had only just arrived at the hospital. What was wrong with him?

"Aaron, you've crossed the line. I'm your uncle, which means I'm your elder. Do I need a junior like you to teach me what to do?" Raymond responded coldly.

He was not so down and out that he would be taught a lesson by someone younger than him.

Aaron was stunned. After his anger subsided, he lowered his head. "I... I'm sorry, Uncle Raymond. I shouldn't have taken that tone with you." "Raymond, don't be angry. Aaron is right. Something terrible happened to your wife, yet you only came to the hospital to see her now."

Jack also felt that Raymond had gone too far this time.

Although Diane was petty and , she had a good relationship with Anna and really doted on the Fowler family's children.

If not for the fact that Diane and Anna were such good friends, Jack and Raymond would at most have some business dealings.

Jack knew that Raymond was a man who was eager for quick success. Usually, when Jack met Raymond, he would fake a smile.

Jack knew very well that it was impossible for a man like Raymond to open up and be honest with him.

Raymond glanced at Anna, who was still unconscious on the hospital bed with tubes connected to her, through the window.

Jack, not every wealthy family is like yours. You started from scratch and are deeply in love with Anna. Your family is harmonious. You're the head of the family and what you say goes. I admire and envy you.*

"But I'm different. I still have the Croft family and my father behind me. I'm the one who was managing Sun City Square when the incident happened. Do you think I want this?"

"If I don't handle this matter well and cause the Croft family to be negatively affected, how much will I have to suffer? Not to mention helping. my brothers will even hit me when I'm down. There's also Hugh eyeing me. With your experience, can't you understand my position and difficulties?"

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 355

*No Way Back Chapter 355-Jack could not help but fall silent Raymond up his suit and realized that he had lost his composure just now. He walked past Jack and left.

Aaron said quietly, "Dad... I'm sorry. I was too impulsive just now when I said that."

"There's nothing to be sorry about. It's hard to say who is right or wrong in this matter. We have no right to blame others for their actions"

Jack had taught the Fowlers this ever since they were young

However...

The person who this time was none other than Diane, who was close to the Fowler family.

The bystanders could see it clearly.

Those who were involved would still be blinded by emotions.

Layne and the awakened Luna stayed by Diane's side.

Luna's eyes were swollen from crying. She could no longer cry even if she wanted to. She just sat there in a daze and looked at Diane's corpse.

Layne's eyes were gloomy. No one knew what he was thinking.

Raymond appeared in front of the ward.

Luna saw Raymond and said hoarsely, "Dad... Mom..."

Raymond walked to Diane's bed. After a moment of silence, he said, "I'll arrange your mother's funeral."

After saying that, Raymond seemed to want to reach out and pull open the bedsheets to take one last look at Diane.

However, his hand stopped in midair. He did not extend it and retracted it.

"You guys stay here and keep her company."

Raymond said this and turned to leave.

"Dad!"

Layne shot up from his seat. "Are you leaving again? Mom is already dead. Can't you accompany her at a time like this?"

"Layne..."

Luna was stunned by Layne's sudden outburst.

Raymond turned around and looked at Layne, who was panting heavily. Layne's face was red, and his eyes were even flickering with hatred and confusion

"Who do you think you're talking to, Layne Croft?"

Raymond's voice was so cold that it seemed to have no temperature.

A handsome face that still had traces of his youth was frosty now.

The pressure in the air was almost suffocating Luna.

Fear arose from the bottom of her heart.

At home, Luna was afraid of her father.

Not only Luna, but even Layne also felt the same..

They had seen too much of Diane's humble appearance in front of Raymond.

If they made a mistake, Raymond would punish them severely.

If not for Diane's interference, their childhood would have been even more miserable.

However, the mother who had protected them was no longer around.

If Layne and Raymond had a conflict, Luna didn't know what to do.

"I'm talking to my father... My! Father!"

It would be a lie to say that Layne was not afraid of Raymond.

However, in the face of Diane's death and Raymond's indifference, anger surged in his heart.

"Dad, you're Mom's husband. Why are you still so indifferent when she's dead?"

"I know that you and Mom got together because of benefits, but both of you have been together for so many years. Don't you have any pity for her?"

"To others, Mom lived a glorious life, but she had no status at all in the family. She always had to bow down to you. She gave you two children, and now she tragically in an accident

"You didn't even look at her and you still want to leave. The person who *this time isn't someone who has nothing to do with you. It's your wife!"

up!"

Raymond gave Layne a hard slap.

Smack!

The crisp sound of a slap rang in the room.

Layne's face was turned to the side.

It was burning with pain.

At the same time, Layne felt heartbroken.

His heart could never be pieced together again,

"Layne!"

Luna couldn't care less and quickly went up to dissuade Raymond. "Dad, Layne was just shocked by Mom's sudden death. Don't be like this..." "Shocked? Who wouldn't be shocked? No matter what, she's still my lawfully wedded wife!

'Do you think I'm not sad that she suddenly ? I never dreamed that such a thing would happen, but if I stay here, can she come back from the dead?

"How do you think you got to live a superior life ever since you were young? How do you think your sister survives when she's bad at her ? Why do you think no one dares to provoke her and everyone from her circle fawns over her?

"Your grandfather gave you all of this, so it's also easy for him to take it away! If I don't pull myself together, this family will really be finished! "You! Are you aware that you would have to suffer if you started from the bottom without anything? Are you? Layne Croft!"

After being rebuked by Raymond, Layne didn't know what to say.

His clenched fists relaxed dispiritedly.

He was like a deflated ball.

Layne really wanted to have the backbone to say "I am aware" to Raymond for the sake of his mother whom he respected. However, the slightest bit of rationality told Layne

....

He didn't

If Layne had to give up his current life of luxury, Layne would rather ***!

Even if he was forced to leave the branch of D.Y. Group by Hugh and lost his real power, Layne still had the bloodline of the Croft family people. He was Raymond's only son

As long as Raymond did not fall, Layne would live a glorious life.

Even if Luna was chased out of Cruksia and could not return, she could still live a rich life abroad.

What supported all of this?

It was the power of the Croft family!

It was the money of the Croft family!

"It seems that you still have a trace of rationality. Layne, you're my son. On account that Diane has just and you're shocked, I can forgive you this time.

"There's one more thing. Today, I was in the company dealing with the aftermath of the Sun City Square incident. I was in a terrible fix. Your good mother's family came looking for me and said that she borrowed 12 million dollars from them!

"After they found out about Diane's death, they rushed over to ask for money. Instead of fighting with me, I'd rather you deal with your mother's insatiable family. They probably didn't come to see your mother today either."

"What did you say?"

Only then did Layne and Luna realize.

Even though Diane , the Jason family did not show up either,

Layne had only notified Raymond.

He wanted to wait for Raymond to arrive before making a judgment.

But they had forgotten....

Sun City Square was owned by the Croft family.

After such a big incident, the Jason family would have been informed by their own network.

He probably already knew what happened to Diane.

The first thing he did was not rush to the hospital to see Diane.

Instead, he went to ask Raymond for money.

What was going on?

Luna muttered to herself, "That's impossible. Mom has leftovers from her usual expenses. From what I know, Mom has money. Why would she suddenly borrow 12 million from Grandpa?"

"Moreover, the date of the loan was just a few days ago. They showed me the IOU. It has your mother's signature and handprint. Even your grandfather and the others don't know why she needed such a large sum of money!"

"Layne, you're my son. Your sister can't be saved. Do you still want to continue being decadent here?"

“You should know that in the Croft family, predators are everywhere. Hugh, your Uncle Jack, and your grandfather. Do you really think we still have a chance to catch our breath?”

“This time, even if we don’t , we will still suffer a heavy loss!”

Raymond added another fact.

After saying that, Raymond glanced at the dead Diane.

In the end, he still turned his head away.

With so many things added together, it really made Raymond extremely frustrated.

He knew that even if Hugh did not kick him when he was down, after Michael’s family saw such a good nonortunity they would defels.

Raymond catch his breath so easily.

The obstacles in the fight for family assets and power would naturally be removed as soon as possible.

If this incident happened to Michael, Raymond would also kick Michael when he was down mercilessly!

There were a lot of things to deal with in the aftermath of the incident at Sun City Square. He had to placate so many people who were injured, he had to make sure repairs were done, he had to salvage the company’s reputation, and he had to pay back Diane’s loans. He also had to deal with the enemy’s attacks from the dark...

Layne and Luna could cry here and feel sad about a dead person.

But Raymond couldn’t afford to.

If Diane was still alive, Raymond would definitely question her about the loan!

But at this point, what was the point of finding trouble with a dead person?

No Way Back Chapter 356-Layne panted heavily.

When he came back to his senses, he ran out of the ward to chase after Raymond.

However, Raymond had already disappeared

Immediately after, Layne's fear and guilt surged.

"Dad... I'm sorry... I'm really sorry..."

Only now did Layne realize how much pressure Raymond had been under.

Diane's death and the incident at Sun City Square.

He was afraid that Raymond would not be able to celebrate Christmas this year.

The sun rose.

It was already seven thirty in the morning.

On the first day of Christmas, the entire Fowler family was still waiting outside the ward.

Not a single person left.

No one went to rest.

They were still waiting for Anna to wake up.

Jack received permission to enter the ICU ward again, and he put on sterile clothes.

Anna's vitals were under control. After half a day longer of observation, she could be transferred to a normal ward."

The doctor believed that she would wake up soon.

Hence, the doctor suggested that Jack stay by Anna's side and call out Anna's name while talking to her.

Even though Anna was unconscious, she could still hear Jack's words subconsciously.

The call of the person he loved the most could stimulate Anna's brain waves.

Theoretically, it could help Anna to wake up faster.

Jack knelt beside Anna Looking at his beloved wife's pale face, he could not control his tears again. They were welling up in the seven-foot-tall man's eyes, which were red.

"Anna... Anna... Please wake up, okay? I really can't bear to see you like this.

"Can you bear to keep sleeping and make us worry? The doctor said that you should be awake by now. Anna, open your eyes and look at me, okay?"

Patiently, Jack called out to Anna again and again. With sad words, he told Anna everything.

Those who heard it shed tears due to sadness.

And Jack finally heard a faint sound.

J-Ja...*

This voice was like the sound of angels.

Jack felt as if his heart had been hammered by something. He was overjoyed. "Anna? You're awake? I'm here! I'm here!"

If not for the IV drip on the back of Anna's hand, Jack really wanted to hold Anna's hand tightly.

He would never let go again.

"Jane... Jane..."

"I'm sorry... It's my fault..."

"I'm really sorry...."

"I'm sorry, Jack... I still can't forget... My heart... hurts..."

The name Anna called out was not Jack.

Instead, it was Jane.

At that moment, Jack seemed to be able to figure out something from Anna's words.

Anna, as Jane's mother, realized how wrong she was.

When she did, she felt like she was being tortured. She felt guilty and sorrowful..

Jack thought that he understood Anna. He thought she could gradually let it go.

Only now did Jack know that Anna's guilt toward Jane would never disappear.

It would follow Anna for the rest of her life.

Even if Anna received all the love and happiness that the world could offer her, none of them could wash away Anna's sadness. They would follow Anna to her death.

So...

Recently, Anna had been wanting to reassure her family

She had been suppressing everything and not acknowledging her feelings, even if it was like a vicious thorn that was stuck in her heart and pained her from time to time.

“Anna I know.

“If that’s what you want, as your husband, the man who loves you the most in the world, I’ll do anything to help you!”

Jack’s eyes flashed with determination.

He had already made up his mind.

Just like what he had promised Anna, Anna’s parents, and the church.

For the rest of his life, Jack would only give Anna happiness.

Even if he had to pluck the stars or the moon, he would get on a spaceship and do as he was told!

Jack left the ICU ward.

When Henry and the others saw this, they thought that Anna had woken up. They hurriedly asked, “Dad, did Mom wake up?”

“You guys stay here and watch her. I have something important to do!”

Jack quickly left with a solemn expression.

“Something important that he has to do? Is there anything more important to Dad than Mom?”

Henry quickly chased after him. “Dad, leave whatever you want to do to me. Mom needs you by her side the most now. The doctor also said that you need to talk to Mom more so that you will stimulate her to wake up quickly.”

“Henry, this matter can only be done by me. Listen to me, you and your brothers stay here and watch Anna.

“No one else is allowed to follow me!”

Since Jack had said so, Henry and the others could only stay where they were.

They watched Jack leave.

They had no idea.

They would never expect what Jack was going to do next.

If they knew, they would have stopped Jack even if they had to risk their lives.

Sam and Peter had already brought breakfast over. When they saw Jack leave, they were also curious. "Where is Dad going? Doesn't he want to go in to accompany Mom? Isn't he going to eat breakfast?"

"He said that he has something important to do now..."

Peter looked worriedly in the direction where Jack had left and volunteered, "You guys eat breakfast first and stay here with Mom. I'll go over and take a look. I'm worried that he's hiding something from us."

For Jack to abandon the current Anna to do something, it must be extremely urgent. Jack was not the kind of person who did not know how to prioritize

"Alright, I'll leave it to you, Peter."

"But try not to let Dad find out. He didn't want us to follow him just now. If he sees you, he'll definitely chase you back."

With Peter following Jack, they felt more at ease.

"I got it. I know what to do!"

Peter quickly ran out of the hospital.

He happened to see Jack hail a cab and looked in a direction.

Peter hailed a cab and told the driver to quickly follow Hack.

The driver thought that Peter was a policeman who was chasing a suspect. Looking at his physique and righteous aura, he could not help but get excited. "Don't worry, Sir. I've been a cab driver for so many years. I've finally encountered such an interesting thing. I definitely won't lose him!"

Peter was speechless.

He followed Jack for about 20 minutes.

Peter felt that something was amiss.

Why did this place look so familiar?

Peter's cab followed Jack's cab around a corner.

Peter saw the familiar apartment in front of him.

Peter's heart almost stopped beating.

Wasn't this where Jane was living now?

What was Jack doing here?

A terrifying thought appeared in Peter's mind.

No Way Back Chapter 357- No way..

Could it be that Jack came over to look for Jane?

At this point in time, Peter felt that Jack would not cause trouble for Jane anymore.

The only possibility was...

Jack wanted Jane to see Anna!

Coincidentally, Henry called.

"How is it? Peter, did Dad go to Fowler Corporation?"

...No. Henry. Dad went to Jane's apartment. I think Dad might want to talk to Jane."

"What did you say?"

When Henry and the rest heard this, they were all shocked.

"Peter, you have to stop him. At least discuss it with him first. He's just going to end up getting hurt by going to look for Jane this time!"

It was enough for Henry and the others to suffer. There was no need for even Jack to bow down like this.

Jack was the father, the person who gave them life, and the real pillar of support of the Fowler family...

No matter how much Jane hated the Fowler family, and no matter how much Jack owed Jane.

Jack had given Jane life in the end. He was Jane's father!

Without Jack, Jane wouldn't exist!

"I understand."

Peter also knew that with Jane's temper, not only would Jack not receive the help he needed, but he would also be mercilessly humiliated by Jane.

After paying the cab driver in a hurry, Peter got out of the cab and ran toward Jack.

Bang!

A food delivery guy on a motorbike couldn't dodge Peter in time and crashed into Peter.

Peter staggered and instinctively protected the back of his head.

"Fuck! Are you trying to get yourself killed?"

"You also caused my meal to be overturned and you almost destroyed my motorbike. You have to compensate me! You have to compensate me!*

The delivery man pointed at Peter and cursed.

Peter looked at the wound on his palm and took out his wallet from his pocket without retorting. He stuffed more than 1,000 dollars into the delivery guy's hand and ran straight to Jack after that.

The delivery guy was dumbfounded.

"Damn. He didn't need to compensate so much," the delivery guy thought.

Jack naturally noticed such a huge commotion.

Originally, Jack was about to enter Jane's apartment.

Seeing that it was Peter who came over and was injured, he could not help but stop in his tracks.

“Peter, why are you here?”

“Dad. I’m sorry. I followed you here secretly. I was really worried about you.”

“Dad, go back. Don’t look for Jane, and don’t tell Jane about Mom.”

“With Jane’s current hatred for the Fowler family, what you’re doing will only make Jane hate the Fowler family even more. She will even treat Mom coldly!”

Peter ignored the pain coming from his wound and went to pull Jack away.

Even if Jack wanted to resist, as his son, he really could not bear to see Jack bowing down to others.

“I know all this, Peter, but your mother wants to see Jane... It was your mother who told me personally when she was unconscious!”

*If Jane can come and see your mother and talk to her, even if it’s just a sentence, I think Jane will wake up immediately!”

“What?”

Peter did not expect this request to come from Anna.

Looking at Jack’s determined expression, Peter gradually let go of Jack’s hand

“Dad, you went into the ICU ward to see Mom just now. Mom said it herself, so that’s why you came to look for Jane...”

“Yes, Anna has been hiding her longing for Jane in order not to worry us. She feels strongly for Jane. It’s hurting her heart all this time.”

“I thought Anna would let it go. Even if she can’t let go, she can forcefully suppress it and live a life without Jane.”

“I was too naive. I didn’t know how Anna felt. When Anna apologized to me even though she was still unconscious, I knew that as her husband, this was the only thing I could do now!”

Peter didn’t know what to say.

Peter closed his eyes.

When he opened them again, he had already made up his mind.

“I understand, Dad. Since this is Mom’s wish, let me accompany you!”

Even if Peter and Jack knew what the outcome would be.

If Jane sympathized with the Fowler family and changed her mind, then she wouldn’t be Jane. The Fowler family would not have felt so much pain and despair in the last few days either.

Even so, they still had to give it a try for Anna!

Jack and Peter arrived at the security office at the entrance.

Seeing these two men with extraordinary aura, even if the security guards did not know them, they were still security guards of a super high-end district in Stormton City. They had seen many noble people, so they could naturally tell. Hence, they spoke politely.

“May I ask what’s the matter? If you want to enter the neighborhood, you need to swipe your card.”

Jack said, “I want to ask if there’s a tenant called Jane here. Did she leave today?”

The security guard looked troubled. “This... I’m sorry, sir. The travels of the tenants are private. It’s not convenient for us to tell you.”

Especially since Jane became famous, they had stopped countless people who came to inquire about Jane’s residence every day and who wanted to see her.

“I’m her father. Please help me contact her. Tell her that I’m waiting for her here. I have something urgent to talk to her about!”

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 358

No Way Back Chapter 358-“Ah... You’re...”

No wonder the security guard felt that Jack looked a little familiar, but he couldn’t recall just now.

Now that Jack had spoken, the security guard realized... that the man in front of him was the chairman of Fowler Corporation!

He was Jane Fowler’s real father.

Back then, the fallout between the father and daughter had caused an uproar in Stormton City!

Now, he looked at Jack's pleading and humble appearance.

Jack didn't look like he was lying. The security guard hesitated for a moment before nodding.

"Since you're the father of the tenant, although I don't know what happened in your family, I'll try to contact her for you."

The security guard was also afraid that something would happen and implicate him. If Jane blamed him, he would be the unlucky one.

Jack said gratefully, "Thank you! I'll definitely remember this favor! If you need any help in the future, just let me know!"

At Jane's house.

She was playing a PS5 combat game with Rain.

Yale and Eden were doing a checkup in the room. Eden would give Yale medicine for his strange illness.

After Yale got his medicine, everyone planned to go out for a walk and experience the festive season on the streets.

Josh was holding a drawing board in the game room. Under the sunlight that seeped in through the window, he depicted Rain playing happily with Jane.

It gave the feeling of lasting peace and happiness.

Josh put down the brush and stretched. The corners of his curled up. "It's done."

"Let me see!"

Jane and Rain put down their controllers and went to Josh. Looking at the two people, who were realistically drawn, Rain could not help but praise, "As expected of you, Johan, the world's number one painter. Your painting is magnificent!"

"If you like, I'll draw another one when I'm free. I'll give it to the two of you after that"

"Okay!"

At this moment, Jane's phone rang.

When Jane saw that it was a call from the security office, she picked up the call. “*? What’s the matter?”

“Miss Jane? We would like to inform you...”

The security guard glanced at Jack and Peter, who were waiting by the side, and relayed Jack’s message word for word.

As soon as he finished speaking, Jane replied without hesitation, “I’m not meeting them.”

“But... Miss Jane, I think your father really has something urgent to tell you...”

“Mister, please mind your words. He’s not my father. I’ve already cut ties with the Fowler family. We no longer have anything to do with each other.

“Whether he lives or has nothing to do with me. Don’t look for me if anything happens in the future, okay?”

After saying that, Jane hung up.

Beep, beep, beep...

Listening to the sound of the phone hanging up, the security guard could only tactfully express to Jack and Peter that Jane did not want to see them.

Peter was not surprised by this result. He lowered his eyes to hide his heartache.

“Dad... we expected this. Let’s go back to the hospital to accompany Mom.”

Jack secretly clenched his fists. “Go back first, Peter. I still want to wait for Jane here.”

“What? Dad, why are you doing this? Even if this is Mom’s request, you can’t change reality.

“I really can’t bear to.. We’ve done our best. That’s enough, isn’t it?”

“This isn’t our best, Peter Since we know that Jane is in the apartment, she will definitely come out today.

“I have to wait for Jane to come out. I have to see her personally and beg her!”

Peter was at his wit’s end.

“Okay, Dad Since you’ve decided to wait, I’ll wait with you.”

Peter had no other choice.

He had to support Jack

What could he do other than that?

This was all for Anna.

It was the security guard's turn to be worried. "Mr. Fowler, please don't make things difficult for us..."

"Don't worry, we won't make things difficult for you. Peter, let's wait at the door."

"Okay."

After saying that, Jack and Peter turned around and left the security office

Watching the two of them leave, the security guard could not help but sigh.

What kind of sin did the Fowler family commit? Why were they enemies till the end?

On the other side, Josh and Rain both heard Jane's conversation.

They could roughly guess what was going on.

Josh pursed her lips. "Jane, are you really not going to meet him?"

"I've already cut ties with the Fowler family. Why should we meet again? It's the first day of Christmas. I don't want to be troubled. It'll affect my happiness.

"What's more, the Fowler family was heartless to me first and abandoned me. What does he mean by coming? Jack thinks that I'm an puppy. Does he think that as long as he beckons to me and comes to me himself, then I would happily run up to him, wag my tail, and beg for mercy?

"Do you think I'll still want to be someone who didn't have any rights?

*Josh, you said that you would support any decision I made. Don't think that I'm and cold-blooded. My decision is the best decision."

"I know, Jane. I'm just afraid that you'll regret it in the future... I've said before that I'll support you no matter what decision you make.

"As long as you think it's right and don't regret your choice, it's fine."

Josh patted Jane's shoulder and spoke earnestly.

Josh already knew that the accident at Sun City Square had affected the Fowlers.

Jane's real mother, Anna Fowler, was implicated.

She was in the hospital and her fate was unknown.

Jack had most likely come to look for Jane because of this matter.

After all, Anna was Jane's mother, even if Jane no longer had any feelings for the Fowler family.

But no matter how much she hated them, it would be bad if they really could not even see each other for the last time because Jane was insistent on giving up this opportunity.

Josh did not care about the Fowler family. He was only concerned about whether Jane would regret her choice today.

As Jane's senior brother, Josh was obliged to remind Jane.

"I know, Josh. I won't regret it. I definitely won't regret it!"

Jane smiled gratefully at Josh.

Naturally, Jane knew Josh was reminding her out of kindness.

If Jane regretted this decision, she would not be letting down the heavens, who gave her the chance to be reborn. She would also be letting down her past self, who in a sea of fire and was abandoned by everyone!

"Alright. Josh, Jane, let's not care about that bullshit Fowler family. Let's go play when Eden and Yale come out of their rooms."

Jane stroked Rain's gray hair and smiled. "Rain is right. This is our top priority today."

After Yale and Eden came out of the room, they indicated that the examination was over and that they could go out and play.

Jane returned to her room and put on some light makeup.

Looking at her beautiful face in the mirror, her deep eyes were no longer cold.

Instead, they were sparkling, and from time to time, warmth would fill them.

This Jane was more lively and less withdrawn than before.

Jane's heart skipped a beat. She wanted to put on more makeup.

She applied the No.46 lipstick from YSL on her lips and pursed her lips gently.

She untied her hair casually and it tumbled down her shoulder and shone resplendently like a waterfall under the sun.

She put on black thermal stockings and matched them with Chanel's latest limited edition brown leather jacket.

Putting on the small diamond earrings specially launched by Victoria's Secret, Jane left the room in slippers. The eyes of Yale and the others couldn't help but light up when they saw how pretty Jane looked.

Chapter 359

Rain's blood-red eyes flickered with amazement. He took the lead and shouted on behalf of the three senior brothers.

Eden teased, "Jane, why are you dressed up so well today? Did you get all dressed up especially for us?"

"Because today, I will accompany the most important ones for me to spend the first day of the new year and go out for fun!

"This is the first time in my life I have to dress up well, right? Come, gentlemen, help me choose a bag. Which one will look good on me?"

Jane's gaze was gentle.

Before Jane returned back to the Fowler family, every New Year's Day was no different from an ordinary day for Jane.

It was just that the streets would be filled with more people and the air would have the unique smell of sulfur after the fireworks.

At that time, with the teacher by her side, Jane lived a poor but happy life.

After the teacher left, Jane became alone again. She habitually closed herself off from others but still yearned for the warmth of human nature. That was why Jane was so obsessed with finding her true family. Jane even abandoned herself and her dignity for them just for that insignificant favor.

After returning to the Fowler family, Jane still remembered the first New Year's Day. It was rare for Jane to dress up meticulously, change into new clothes, and put on the most suitable makeup.

In the mirror, Jane looked at herself who was much more beautiful and charming than Madelyn, and whose temperament was many levels higher than Madelyn's.

Jane had never thought of competing with Madelyn for anything, and she truly treated Madelyn as her biological sister, though Madelyn didn't have a blood relationship with her.

Even though when Jane was not around, Madelyn occupied Jane's position and took away Jane's family, doting, and attention, it didn't matter.

Jane lacked kinship too much.

Jane couldn't wait to have another family member.

That time, Jane dressed up well just to show her own charm and get a little attention from her family. That was enough.

And yet, when Jane arrived in front of the Fowlers with such an excited and expectant heart, the brothers only treated Jane coldly, mocked Jane for imitating Madelyn, and said Jane was so ugly that she could not compare to Madelyn at all.

As for Jack and Anna, they placed all their attention on Madelyn. They praised Madelyn for being the real protagonist today, the perfect little princess.

All of them completely ignored Jane.

Jane was left alone in the corner, pinching the corner of her dress. She stood alone and watched the scene of the real princess-like Madelyn being surrounded by her family.

They were so close, but it was impossible for Jane to approach them.

At that moment, Jane only felt like a real clown.

Even on New Year's Day, the family only brought Madelyn out to play and visit their relatives.

To Jane, the reason was that Jane was too ugly today. Dressing like this, she did not have any temperament of the Fowler family's daughter.

So, they asked Jane to stay in the Fowler family and not go out to embarrass herself.

After Jane cried and removed her makeup that day, she never put on makeup again.

Jane really thought that she was too ugly and blamed herself for wanting to compete with Madelyn.

Because Jane cared too much about the Fowlers' feelings and tastes, she was deeply influenced by the Fowlers imperceptibly.

It caused Jane to become completely unconfident and live a mediocre life all day long. Jane had even fallen into deep self-doubt and could not escape.

In the end, Jane even suffered from severe depression, wanting self-abuse and denying herself everything.

This year passed so quickly.

After severing ties with the Fowler family, Jane lived a life with unprecedented fulfillment and happiness.

"Jane, it will look good whatever bag you take."

"Tsk. You're so honey-tongued. Hurry up and choose one."

They laughed along the way and happily played around as they left the apartment.

The happy atmosphere didn't stop until they arrived at the door.

Jack and Peter had been waiting here for two hours.

During this period, people passing by pointed at Jack and Peter and discussed them.

Jack and Peter could only pretend to ignore it and continue to wait

They endured the cold wind. Fortunately, the weather was good today and the sun was shining on them.

The warmth dispelled some of the chills.

During this period, Jack occasionally teetered.

Peter said worriedly, "Dad, are you alright? How about resting for a while?"

... I'm fine. Let's continue waiting."

Jack shook his hand and bit the tip of his tongue, using the pain to stay awake.

Due to Madelyn's betrayal and Anna's injury, Jack recently worried beyond measure and had not slept well for a few days. At this moment, Jack looked extremely tired.

There were even bruises under Jack's eyes, and his breathing was unstable.

Jack no longer had the temperament of the head in charge of a top wealthy family in Stormton City.

As the head in charge of Fowler Corporation, it had always been others groveling and flattering Jack.

When had Jack ever waited for others like this?

Moreover, the person Jack was waiting for was even his biological daughter that he used to look down on the most. It could only be said that fate made fools of people.

At this moment, Peter keenly noticed something and saw Jane in the crowd at a glance.

Peter could not help but shout excitedly, "Dad, it's Jane. They're out!"

"Okay."

Jack's voice was also tinged with joy.

However, Peter took a closer look and the smile on his face froze.

At that moment, Peter's eyes seemed to be pierced by something.

Because Jane was standing in the center of the five people, holding Yale and Josh's arms.

The smile on Jane's face was so bright that it came from the bottom of her heart.

That was a smile that Jane had never shown before in the Fowler family.

In the past, when Jane smiled at Peter, it was true that it came from the bottom of Jane's heart, but there was a hint of flattery and humbleness in it.

This time, Jane's smile was sincere, showing that she had completely integrated them. It was a smile full of true equality without any other emotions.

The other four people tacitly took Jane as the center and gave all their love to Jane.

It was as if they were Jane's real family who treated Jane like a treasure.

In Jane's life, there was no slight room for Peter and the Fowlers.

Even the slightest gap was taken away.

A strange feeling arose in Peter's heart.

Peter was very clear about that feeling.

It was called jealousy.

No Way Back Chapter 360-Before Peter could think further, Jack had already walked forward.

Peter could only follow quickly.

"Jane!"

Jack volunteered to speak and blocked in front of Jane.

"It's you?"

Jane's tone suddenly sank and became extremely cold.

Jane clearly said that she did not want to see Jack and the Fowlers again.

Why did they continue to pester Jane on such a good day and ruin Jane's good mood?

Feeling Jane's rage, Yale and the others also looked at Jack and Peter coldly

This was Jane's family.

One was Jane's biological brother, and the other was Jane's biological father.

The two of them were culprits who had hurt Jane who was most precious to them.

Under the gazes of Yale and the others, even though Jack and Peter were experienced, sat in high positions, and met countless people, at this moment, it was as if they were suffering in a filled with ice and fire.

Their intuition told them that none of the four people beside Jane were easy to deal with.

Putting aside the white-haired, blood red-eyed youth who looked so strange and gave off such a dangerous feeling. Josh was also here! Wasn't this the judge who had awarded Jane the world painting championship back then? Wasn't he the latest genius painter to appear internationally?

Why did Josh go out of the apartment with Jane during New Year's Day? Moreover, it looked like they did have a good relationship.

Countless questions swirled in Jack and Peter's hearts.

But now was not a good time to ask for answers.

"Jack, Peter. Today is the first day of the new year. I'm in a good mood and don't want to get angry."

"Great barkers are no biters. Get out of my sight now. Otherwise, don't blame me for being rude!"

Jane spoke patiently.

Because Yale and the others were right beside Jane.

If not for this, Jane had long lost her temper.

"Jane, Anna... Your mom is in the hospital now. It's very likely that she'll become disabled and will never be able to walk again!

"She's in a coma and keeps calling your name. She wants to see you again. Please, Jane.

"Your mom risked her life back then to give birth to you and has never given up on finding you for 19 years when you've been missing. Please go and see her!"

In front of Jane's cold mockery, Jack put aside his pride as a father as well as the dignity of a chairman and begged humbly.

"Let's be clear about this. You're not old enough to have Alzheimer's, are you? Jack, I have nothing to do with the Fowler family anymore.

"My mom? Ask yourself. Do you think Anna Fowler deserves this title after what she has done to me?

"If you want to play a family game, go back to your house and play with Madelyn. Don't disgust me here. I only want to vomit when I hear it! If you're crazy, go to the doctor. I won't accept it!"

Jane finally lost control of her temper.

Jack indeed shocked Jane.

Even if Jack did not have any memories of his previous life, he shouldn't say such shameless words.

Did they not remember what Jack and Anna had done to Jane when Jane came back to the Fowler family?

When Jane was misunderstood and trying to prove her innocence, Jack sided with Madelyn and chose not to investigate the truth, not gave Jane an explanation, and just let the matter rest!

After that, Jack and Anna misunderstood Jane and insulted Jane more than once.

Why was Jack still standing in front of Jane shamelessly and saying such words?

Did a person like Jack really have a heart? Jane was very suspicious!

"I know, Jane You hate us and this family. I've already investigated thoroughly the matter regarding Madelyn. I misunderstood you back then! "I'm wrong, Jane. I'm so wrong. I'm the one who's really wrong. But Anna is innocent. I don't ask you to forgive us, but I just hope that you can visit Anna One look is enough!"

"Have you investigated thoroughly? As far as I know, Madelyn still lived in the Fowler family now. If you really know the true colors of Madelyn and feel guilty toward me, how can you still tolerate Madelyn?

*Jack, you're such a hypocrite and full of lies. You're so disgusting! Also, what do you mean Anna is innocent? She's anything but innocent!"

Jane could not help but sneer.

Jack tried to explain, "Jane, don't misunderstand. We all know Madelyn's true colors, but... Anna's heart has already been in extreme pain because of her guilt toward you. If she knows Madelyn's true colors, I'm afraid she will break!"

"That's right, Jane. I already know what kind of person Madelyn is. You can even make me kneel and apologize for what I said to you back then!

“But please... Please don’t vent your anger on Mom. If it weren’t for the fact that Mom is on the verge of death and wants to see you, we definitely wouldn’t have come to disturb you!”

Peter knew that if he spoke, it might add fuel to the fire.

However, Peter really could not bear to put such a huge grievance on Jack alone.

Peter wanted Jane to shift some of her anger on him.

“Oh? Is that why you guys tolerated Madelyn to continue being in the Fowler family, being Anna’s good daughter, and playing a family game with

Anna?

“Interesting Jack, Peter, the entire Fowler family are simply a collection of pathologies. I’m really glad I haven’t been brainwashed by you guys and successfully escaped from the of suffering earlier!”

“Yale, Josh, Eden, Rain, ignore them. Just pretend they don’t exist. Let’s go.”

With that, Jane prepared to pull Yale and the others away.

Jane didn’t want to argue with the two of them anymore and decided to avoid them.

Jane couldn’t be bothered to continue wasting time with this family of lunatics.

“Jane, don’t go!”

Jack was just about to grab Jane but was blocked by a man with a perfect figure in a dark red custom-made suit.

“Considering that you gave Jane a life, I’ve tolerated you in every way possible. Don’t push your luck!”

Eden, who had always been gentle and calm in front of Jane, lost control of his temper for the first time.

Eden spoke in an extremely cold and bloodthirsty tone.

In the past, Eden had saved countless people with his hands.

Similarly, Eden had also sent countless people to . The hands which he relied on to save people were also covered in blood.

Eden’s implied words came rushing at Jack and Peter along with huge pressure.

“Don’t force me to take action.”

The sentence automatically appeared in the minds of Peter and Jack.

*Even both of them were stunned and a chill as well as fear spread throughout their ****.*

By the time they came back to their senses, Jane and the others were already some distance away.

“Dad, give up. Jane won’t turn back. We’ve already done what we can.”

Peter came to Jack’s side and persuaded him.

This was the limit.

Actually, they had already expected this outcome, hadn’t they?

However, for Anna, they were willing to sell their dignity again and bow down in front of Jane.

Peter was already numb.

Enough. It was really enough.

At this moment, Jack recalled the request that Anna had unconsciously uttered and made up his mind.

‘Jane, as long as you’re willing to go to the hospital to visit Jane, I’ll agree to anything you want! I’ll do what I say!’

Jack roared.

Jane stopped in her tracks.

Taking advantage of this opportunity, Jack rushed in front of Jane under Peter’s astonished gaze.

“I told you. I will mean what I say. I only beg you this once! The only time!”

Jack, who had a firm gaze, was like a tiger that had been woken up by protecting its beloved wife.

Jack’s entire body was engulfed in a vicious aura that ordinary people could not compare to.

“Jack, you really refuse to be convinced until you are faced with grim reality. Alright, although I’m not interested in your promise... “There’s something I want to see if a man like you, who dotes on the wife like the life, is willing to abandon the pride and...”

“Kneel in front of me, Jack. If you’re willing to kneel, I can consider going to the hospital with you to visit Anna!”
