No Way Back Chapter 371-Aaron smiled bitterly. "I still can't hide it from you, Henry. I have to say that your call saved my life."

"Is that so exaggerating?"

Henry wanted to smoke again and took out a cigarette. Just as Henry was about to smoke another one, Aaron quickly stopped him. "Henry, it's fine to smoke one when you're in a bad mood. If you smoke so much, it'll hurt your health."

"I understand. But sometimes, cigarettes and wine are really good things. They can relieve one's mood which is something that other things. can't replace."

In the end, Henry put the cigarette box away.

"Henry, I remember you didn't smoke before..."

"You also know that that was before. Before we found Jane, and before so many things haven't happened... Now that things have come to this, if I don't smoke to relax, I will really be depressed to death."

Aaron could not help but lower his eyes.

"That's right. As soon as I saw Madelyn, I remembered what she did to Jane and the damage the Fowler family caused to Jane. I thought I could disguise it well, but I couldn't... The relationship between Madelyn and me can't be as good as before.

"Especially when I saw Jane just now and heard what Morn, who doesn't know Madelyn's true colors, said to Jane, I can't even imagine what will happen to Mom when she finds out the truth one day..."

"Let's take things one step at a time. We can't change the future, but we can't continue indulging Madelyn anymore. I guess Madelyn has already sensed that we're estranged from her. If she continues acting rashly, even gods can't save her!"

Killing intent flashed across Henry's eyes, making Aaron's heart tremble.

This time, Henry was quite serious.

Because of their trust in Madelyn and Madelyn's lies, they hurt Jane deeply.

Now that the truth was exposed, it was not only because of Anna that Madelyn was not chased out of the Fowler family directly but also because of the last bit of sibling relationship they had in the past 18 years.

The Fowler family was already good enough with Madelyn. They had done enough.

Henry only hoped that Madelyn wouldn't let them down again.

A week passed in the blink of an eye.

The holiday was over.

Jane sent her senior brothers and Rain to the airport.

"Time passes so quickly. I really can't bear to part with you, Jane. Boohoo, Jane, why don't I stay longer to play with you?*

Rain was hugging Jane and throwing a childish tantrum.

Jane patted Rain's head and comforted him. "Alright, the two organizations have just merged. You can't throw everything to your trusted aides. You're now the boss of the reborn SKIN and Ruthless. You have to take responsibility. When I'm free, I'll go over and play with you."

Rain's eyes lit up instantly. "Really? Jane, you have to keep your word. Don't lie to me!"

"You brat, I've been with you for so long. When have I ever lied to you? You deserve a beating!"

Jane then crazily rubbed Rain's hair, directly messing up it like a bird's nest.

"Jane, no, my hair is going to fall out..."

"Alright, the flight's almost here. We should get going

"Okay!"

Jane and her senior brothers hugged each other and said goodbye.

"You must take good care of yourself. I'll visit you when I'm free. You're welcome to come to Stormton City to play with me again."

"Okay!"

Jane watched as everyone's figures gradually disappeared at the airport entrance.

Eden temporarily put aside all his work and followed Yale to help Yale treat his illness.

Yale, on the other hand, needed to rush to the front line of the photolithography machine manufacture to provide constructive suggestions and supervise. This was a national matter that could not be taken lightly.

Meridonia and Cruksia had different ways of celebrating Christmas. Josh had to go back and prepare for its latest art exhibition to develop a higher level of career

Jane returned to her apartment and looked at the once lively living room, which was already empty now.

In a daze, Jane could even see they gathered together to play board games, play mobile games, eat nuts, drink coffee, and play happily. "Everyone has their own goals and is determined to walk forward.

"After the holiday, the happy atmosphere is still there, but it seems a little lonely..."

Jane took a deep breath and thought to herself. "Jane, it was time to carry out your goal and head to a new place!"

Then, Jane called Hunter.

The call was quickly picked up

"What a rare call. Happy New Year, Jane."

"Happy New Year, Mr. Lourd. Regarding the arrangement of the Red Star Team's office and our visit of us to the headquarters, I would like to ask. when you are free?"

"Uh-huh? It's still New Year's Day holiday. Jane, why are you suddenly so anxious? Did something happen?"

"No... I just feel that I have to find a new direction, a new path. With the Red Star Team's current Level 1 authority, we can use the servers of the entire country to obtain a lot of information that we don't know

"I want to use this opportunity to broaden my horizons. But I haven't yet gotten the authority key from you, Mr. Lourd."

"So, you call me for this. Alright, let's set it for next month. At that time, bring your team to the headquarters. I'll officially introduce you and give you the authority key at the same time."

"Thank you, Mr. Lourd!"

On the other side, Anna and Madelyn were undergoing the final inspection.

Anna's condition was basically the same as before.

After exhorting various things to take note of and the time for rehabilitation training, the doctor called Henry to the office alone.

"Mr. Henry, although it's very difficult for Mrs. Fowler to recover completely to the condition before the accident hasn't happened, we will do our best to cooperate with you and help Mrs. Fowler stand up again to tide over the crisis.

"Rehabilitation training will take a long time. The patient must have extreme patience and willpower to cooperate.

"Mrs. Fowler can be discharged today, and you can take her home. The familiar environment will help Mrs. Fowler maintain a good mentality. Mrs. Fowler's immunity and resilience are not bad. I'm very confident that Mrs. Fowler can stand up again. Most importantly, Mrs. Fowler has to believe in herself. This requires the encouragement of you, her family members who are always by her side."

"Thank you, doctor. You've been busy and concerned about her in my mom's hospitalization this time. We'll have to trouble you in the future." After exchanging pleasantries, Henry left the office chatting and laughing with the doctor.

Johan pushed Anna who was in the wheelchair over.

As for Aaron and the others, they knew that Anna was going to be discharged and go home, so they went home in advance to make arrangements.

The doctor said a few more words to Anna before leaving.

Henry squatted in front of Anna's wheelchair and asked with concern, "Mom, are you tired? Do you want to rest first?"

"I've been lying down recently. My bones are about to grow soft. How can I be tired?

"Henry, I'm a little worried about Maddie. Push me over to take a look first."

No Way Back Chapter 372- Originally, Jack had to be here to pick up Anna from the hospital this time.

However, Anna had ordered Jack to accompany Madelyn to receive a doctor's examination.

No matter how unhappy Jack was, he had no choice but to obey Anna's orders.

Jack could only brace himself and accompany Madelyn

The last time, Aaron replaced Jack to go, which caused Anna to be already suspicious.

Even if Jack took Jane as an excuse to smooth the matter for the time being, Anna's suspicion did not completely dissipate.

In Madelyn's ward, Madelyn watched nervously as the doctor slowly removed the bandage on her face.

In just a week, Madelyn had undergone three repair surgeries.

And it was the Fowler family who found three top-notch plastic surgeons in the country to complete them.

According to them, Madelyn's appearance could recover by at least 70%.

When Madelyn saw her face reflected in the mirror, her heart felt like it was about to be torn apart.

Indeed, compared to her disfigured state after the first surgery, Madelyn looked much better.

However, in Madelyn's eyes, she was a completely different person from her previous beautiful self.

This face could only be considered ordinary. It could not be called beautiful at all.

Compared to her disfigured state just now, Madelyn didn't look very scary.

Madelyn looked at herself in the mirror carefully. Her , nose, eyes, and eyebrows had all been operated on. There were also obvious. traces of the surgery after injury.

It was unknown how many layers of foundation make-up had to be applied to completely cover these traces.

Then, Madelyn thought of Jane's pure and beautiful face.

The gap between Madelyn and Jane was getting bigger and bigger.

Jane was clearly someone whom Madelyn had fooled with and trampled under her feet in the past.

Madelyn looked at himself in the mirror and could not help but ask, "Doctor, I want to ask if I continue to cooperate with the treatment, how far can my face recover?"

“Logically speaking, most of the transplantation has been completed after these three repair surgeries. If you repair it regularly and maintain it well, your face should be able to recover another 10%

“The amount of time, money, and energy required during this period is quite large. Miss Madelyn, I’m sorry. We’ve tried our best...”

“I understand.”

Madelyn lowered her head, and no one knew what she was thinking

Jack, who was watching from the side, felt that the surgeries were already effective enough.

After all, when Madelyn had just been disfigured, Jack had seen the photos.

At that time, Jack was almost scared to death.

To be able to recover to this extent could be said to be a miracle.

Jack said sincerely, “Than you very much, doctor. You’re really amazing.”

The doctor hesitated for a moment before saying, “To be honest, with Miss Madelyn’s current condition, we don’t think she’s suitable to be discharged from the hospital. She needs to be observed in the hospital for a while. It’s mainly related to her face. We’re afraid that there will be a rejection reaction after the surgeries...”

“Well... Maddie, since the doctor said so, why don’t you stay in the hospital for a while? That way, it will be easier to treat your face later.”

Jack couldn’t wait for Madelyn to continue staying in the hospital. Jack was willing to pay any price. It would be best if Madelyn stayed in the hospital for the rest of her life.

Without Madelyn at home, the atmosphere would definitely be much more comfortable.

Madelyn shook her head. “No, daddy. I’ve been in the hospital for long enough and I’m in a very bad mood. I’m already very happy to be able to recover to this extent. If I stay in the hospital any longer, I’m afraid it will affect my mood and the subsequent treatment won’t be effective...” After saying that, Madelyn continued to look down with a sad expression.

Seeing this, Jack could only sigh secretly “Doctor, it should be also okay to find a professional to take care of Maddie when we go back, right?” “Of course, there’s no problem You just have to be careful. I’m saying this just in case. If there’s any problem, call me as soon as possible. I’ll decide if I come to the hospital to repair it.”

“Thank you, Doctor”

Coincidentally, Anna and the others arrived.

Jack keenly saw Anna and immediately walked forward with a smile. “Honey! There's nothing wrong with the checkup, right?”

“Just like it has been before, there's no problem. It's just that I have to persevere with the rehabilitation training. There's a long battle to fight.” “Jack, what about Maddie?”

Anna's gaze fell on Madelyn as soon as she entered the ward. She could clearly feel Madelyn's unhappiness.

“The doctor said that there are no more problems, and she can be discharged.

“Since there's nothing wrong, let's hurry home. Aaron and the others have been waiting at home for a long time. They just sent me a message to ask if we are done.”

“That's good. Maddie, come over and let me take a good look”

“Mommy...”

Madelyn obediently came to Anna.

When Anna looked at Madelyn's face, her eyes flashed with heartache.

Although the previous Madelyn could not compare to the cold and aloof top-notch beautiful woman like Jane, she was definitely an existence that could attract all men in the entire place with just a glance or a smile.

The current Madelyn had such obvious signs of surgeries on her face. There were also signs of postoperative edema. She had become so ordinary...

Anna knew how confident and proud Madelyn was of her appearance.

There wasn't a girl who didn't want to become beautiful, especially when she had once had a beautiful appearance.

“It's already very good that it can be repaired to this extent. Maddie, don't be discouraged. We've tried it domestically. After that, let's go overseas to look for famous plastic surgeons.

“You have to believe in modern medicine. You have to believe that I will do my best to help you repair your appearance. You have to persevere and follow me, okay?”

“Mommy, thank you...”

Madelyn could not take it anymore. With red eyes, she squatted on the ground and threw herself into Anna's arms, beginning to cry silently. Anna could only pat Madelyn's head gently and comfort her in this way.

Jack and his two sons behind Anna looked at each other, and they all could see the helplessness in each other's eyes.

In the Fowler family.

The car into the courtyard.

Aaron and the others quickly came out to welcome them.

"Mom, welcome back!"

"I'm back."

Anna looked at the children gathered in front of her, and the trauma from the disability of her right leg dissipated a lot. Anna could finally smile from the bottom of her heart.

No matter what, life had to continue.

Regardless of pain or sorrow, at least, everyone was still alive.

They could even meet and talk like this, feeling the air, the temperature, the breathing, and the heartbeat on Earth...

Madelyn forced herself to accompany Anna and saw that everyone's attention was on Anna.

It was as if Madelyn had completely turned into air, and no one cared about her at all.

No one even looked at Madelyn..

At that moment, this was the first time Madelyn, who had been in the Fowler family for 18 years, had experienced such a feeling.

It was exactly the same feeling as that of Jane, who had been ignored like a clown back then..

No Way Back Chapter 373-Hence, Madelyn found an excuse and said that she was not feeling well and wanted to rest. Then, Madelyn returned to her bedroom.

Anna did not take it to heart.

After all, Madelyn had experienced such a huge setback.

It was inevitable that Madelyn would feel depressed.

No matter how much comfort there was now, it was only a negative effect for Madelyn.

Anna would wait for Madelyn to think through it and take the initiative to walk out.

“By the way, Jack, I asked you to find out about Diane. How is it going?”

Anna’s words made everyone’s hearts skip a beat.

Jack coughed lightly “Domestic medical facilities are helpless against Diane’s current injuries. Raymond has already arranged for Diane to be transported overseas for treatment. There’s no news at the ***.”

This was also the news that Raymond released to the public.

Those who knew about Diane’s death were all silenced by Raymond through various means.

Such a huge incident happened in Sun City Square where Raymond was in charge. Raymond didn’t even have a good New Year. He spent so much time dealing with the aftermath of these things.

If it was revealed that Diane had died in this accident, no one knew what the news would say. It would only make the situation more and more chaotic

That was why Raymond thought of a stalling tactic like this.

Therefore, Jack applied this reason to hide it from Anna.

Jack couldn’t just tell Anna that Diane was already dead because of this accident.

It was obvious how much of a this was to Anna.

They were best friends who grew up together. They were even like biological sisters.

Jack’s ambiguous attitude made Anna very worried.

Anna’s originally blissful expression could not help but be tainted with worry.

“Don’t worry, . Mrs. Croft is a lucky person. She’ll be fine.”

“After such a huge collapse, basically everyone was only injured in the end. Didn’t you and Maddie come back unscathed?”

All seven sons spoke and comforted Anna.

Anna touched her right leg and nodded. “I can only hope so. I have to recover as soon as possible. Otherwise, when Diane recovers and returns to the country, she will definitely be very worried when she sees me like this.”

They finally smoothed this matter over, and everyone could not help but heave a sigh of relief.

For Anna, the brought by the news of Diane’s death would be equally heavy as that brought by Madelyn’s betrayal.

They would hide it as long as they could.

Madelyn returned to her bedroom.

After locking the door, Madelyn threw herself on the familiar bed and couldn’t help but cry again.

When Madelyn was almost done crying, she glanced at the phone screen.

It was flashing.

It was a message from Chester in the chat box.

Ever since Chester came back from Eastshel for New Year’s Day, he had sent a few messages to Madelyn every day.

After Madelyn’s disfigurement, she never replied to Chester’s messages.

Because Madelyn was afraid that Chester would see her disfigured face.

Chester was still holding on.

Madelyn could not help but think Chester’s heart must have a place for Madelyn, right?

Madelyn thought of the deep and firm hug when they hid in the toilet at Eastshel Hospital, the gentle words when Chester looked down at her and said, the scorching, quick heartbeat as well as the fragrant cologne from him.

Everything made Madelyn so fascinated and attached.

However, when Madelyn thought about her current situation, she felt that she could not wait any longer.

Thus, Madelyn replied to Chester and casually recounted what had happened recently.

Chester basically replied in seconds.

[That's great, Maddie You're fine. You don't know that I've been very worried about you. I was afraid that something would happen to you!! didn't dare to go to the hospital to visit you! I was afraid that you didn't want to see me! Now that you're discharged, I'm relieved!]

Looking at the sincere words of the man she liked, Madelyn could not help but feel a lump in her throat. She had the urge to cry

Now, even an outsider cared more about Madelyn than the Fowlers.

How was that!

How **!

"God, why are you so cruel to me? What exactly did I do wrong?

"Because of my disfigurement, I don't even dare to go meet the man I like. My family distances themselves from me. Why isn't it Jane who suffers all this? She already has so much. But it's me! It's the most innocent me!

Madelyn hated! She hated that everyone treated her unfairly.

After Madelyn chatted with Chester for a while, her mood finally improved a lot.

(Maddie, are you free recently? I want to see you and confirm with my own eyes if you're really okay]

When Madelyn saw the message sent by Chester, her heart skipped a beat. Madelyn subconsciously refused [Chester, I've been busy at home recently and I'm injured. I have to recuperate for a while. Let's meet next time]

[Alright, Maddie, I'll wait for you. I've been waiting for you...]

Madelyn wanted to cry even more. She couldn't take it anymore and got out of bed. Madelyn went to the bathroom and looked at the ordinary. and scarred face in the mirror.

Madelyn couldn't help but pick up the glass on the sink and smash it hard against the mirror.

Madelyn's terrifyingly distorted face was reflected in the broken mirror.

How could Madelyn let Chester see this face?

Chester was such a handsome man with an elegant temperament. The love in his eyes would disappear in the blink of an eye when he saw such an ugly face.

At that time, Chester might never want to see Madelyn again.

If that were the case, Madelyn would rather die.

At this , a new message was sent to Madelyn's phone.

Madelyn thought it was a message from Chester and quickly picked it up to take a look.

However, Madelyn realized that it was from an unknown number from overseas.

[I'm willing to help you deal with Jane. Reply to me as long as you believe me.]

This unknown number had sent a lot of messages to Madelyn for months.

At first, Madelyn did not take it to heart. She thought that they were fraudulent messages from somewhere.

If Madelyn replied and was exposed, it would be bad.

But now...

Madelyn thought for a and replied. [If you don't tell me your true identity, I won't consider anything you say. Who are you?] Madelyn wanted to take her chances.

Madelyn wanted to win Jane even in her dreams even if it was only once.

Soon, the unknown number replied.

[My name is Leia Chalmers. I was once Aaron's girlfriend. You should know of my existence.]

Leia Chalmers?

Madelyn had heard of this name.

It was that international rising pianist.

Then, because of something, she deceived Aaron and disappeared without a trace.

How did Leia become enemies with Jane?

No matter what, even though Madelyn already knew this person's true identity, she would not act rashly.

Leia Chalmers?

Madelyn would remember this name and investigate properly.

No Way Back Chapter 374- Time passed in the blink of an eye.

A month passed On this day, Jane was sleeping.

A series of calls suddenly woke Jane up.

They were calls from Lila *Janie! I heard from Prof. Henderson that the school leaders have already allowed you to graduate early. Is that true?"

"Uh-huh. You're pretty well-informed, aren't you?"

Jane didn't even tell Lila about this.

After school started, Jane still maintained her previous life habit and lived a peaceful school life with Lila, other than frequently skipping classes and taking leave The higher-ups of the school already knew that Jane had been recruited by the country secretly.

"Of course. I'm known as the know-all of the University of Oricle... No! Janie, why didn't you tell me such an important thing? Besides, you've already graduated in advance, but why do you still come to school occasionally?"

"It's not bad to live a carefree life in university with you."

"You are really cunning Having a genius best friend is really both blissful and troublesome. When I have yet not understood the game design software you gave me, you've already graduated from university in advance and can go anywhere you want. It's really infuriating to compare me to you!"

"Alright, I'm going somewhere else on the plane with some friends later. I'll talk to you later. Take your time with your jealousy."

"Boohoo! Janie, you're so bad! As expected, you forgot me after having new friends!"

Ignoring Lila's complaints, Jane got up, washed up briefly, and walked out of the bedroom.

Currently, Jane was at Red Star Team's base.

Outside, Marlon, Shaun, Liliana, and Marquise were already waiting for Jane.

"Morning, Queen. There are still three hours before the plane takes off. It's plenty of time. Aren't you going to sleep a little longer?"

"You all got up. How can I sleep more? Pack our things and get ready to leave!"

"Shaun, is the plane ready?"

"Of course, Queen. I also asked Connor for a chef from Cloudnine Restaurant. We can have a feast on the plane."

The group of people left the base one after another and headed straight for Luther Group's private tarmac.

On the plane, after Jane finished eating, she drank red wine and supported her face with one hand. Jane looked at the excited expressions of the four people in front of her with a playful expression.

Jane took a sip of red wine and said calmly, "Do you still remember what I told you before we arrive at our destination?"

The four of them stopped smiling and put on serious expressions. "Of course, we've already thought through it, Queen."

They had officially entered the National Cyber Information Technology Security Center and become the civil servants of the country.

What Jane had told Marlon and the others was that if there were still other things that they wanted to do in their private life, they had to make an overall plan and consider what their future development goals were.

Although they had a contract with Hunter, Red Star Team's members' work was not restricted, and they had full autonomy.

However, if a mission that was in line with the country's interests and pursuing peace was sent, Red Star Team would naturally give priority to it.

Marlon, Shaun, and Marquise were originally unemployed. Even if their families asked them to help with the group's business, their interests were not there. Besides, there were also managers who were more outstanding than them, so they had no burden at all.

Naturally, they would devote themselves to work for the country and the people and always follow Jane.

Hence, the three of them fixed their gazes on Lillana

When Liliana returned to Stormton City in Cruksia, without relying on the Fowler family's strength, she only relied on her hot-bloodedness and ability to become a president of a medium-sized company at such a young age.

It had to be said that all the Fowlers gained commercial genes through the family's bloodline. Liliana was naturally no exception.

Liliana put down the wine glass in her hand and meeting everyone's gaze, replied, "I've already handed in my resignation letter."

Shaun said in surprise, "Huh? Liliana, Queen clearly wants us to be prepared to deal with the work on both sides. It wasn't easy for you to get to your current position Why did you give up?"

"The reason why I didn't expose my identity and rely on my family's strength after returning to the country to work hard alone was wanting to see the limits of my ability I wanted to know how high I could reach and see many things that aren't in the greenhouse.

"I believe that I won't be able to go further just on my own. Only by following Queen will I have a chance to see the true colors of this world clearly. Not only can I get such a far-reaching future but also can even give play to my patriotism without missing a drop. Why not?"

"Thank you for your trust, Liliana. I can't guarantee anything else, but if you follow me and join this team, you will definitely have greater gains than working as the president of a company!"

Liliana picked up the specially opened Piper-Heidsieck from 1907, Ship of Silence, on the table and filled her glass. Liliana clinked glasses with Jane. "Queen, there's no doubt about this. I've trusted you from the beginning to the end."

Liliana's trust in Jane even surpassed her life.

Liliana believed that only Jane could lead them to the peak that they didn't even dare to imagine in the past.

The plane landed.

The people arranged by Hunter had already picked Jane and the others up in a domestic vehicle

The car drove majestically toward the suburbs of Rheinsville.

Marlon secretly said, "It's really as Queen said. The landmark at the Third District of Rheinsville is just a disguise for the network center."

"Of course, that's just a target. So many countries are worried about Crucsia's rapid development and are eyeing it covetously. They will definitely think of ways to steal Crucsia's secrets through cyber warfare. In the future, it's the cyber era. Wars will silently start on the Internet. There's no smoke, but there are bullet holes everywhere.

"It's not just here. There are probably all kinds of servers set up all over the country in case of emergencies. The distribution of authority is different. We only have Level 1 authority now. It's impossible to tell us about this."

As everyone chatted, the car already arrived at the destination.

It was an abandoned factory.

Its appearance was very dilapidated.

After getting out of the car, Shaun saw the scene in front of him and could not help but complain, "Um... We didn't go to the wrong place, right?" "Yes. Four of you, please."

The driver took the initiative to walk into the abandoned factory.

Jane smiled slightly. "This disguise is really ingenious. Let me see what's hidden inside."

Everyone followed the driver into the abandoned factory.

They walked down the dusty, broken-glass corridor and arrived at a room in the factory.

The driver lifted a carpet to reveal a small combination lock.

The driver took out an ID card from his pocket, refreshed it, and entered the password.

BOOM!

Accompanied by the sound of the ground trembling, a door automatically opened on the floor in front of them.

The spiral staircase led underground, unfathomable.

The driver turned around and nodded at Jane and the others. "I'll be in charge of sending the four of you here. Mr. Lourd is waiting for you underground."

“Thank you”

Jane and the others did not hesitate and went straight down the stairs.

After walking for about five minutes, they finally saw light.

Two men who looked identical were waiting there.

One of them was wearing a standard black suit and was expressionless. His smooth eyebrows exuded a serious style.

The other person was wearing casual clothes, a hat, and a pair of flip-flops. His hands were in his sports pants pockets, and he was laughing brightly.

The former was naturally Hayden, the latter was Hunter.

Even though they looked the same, they gave off a completely different feeling.

These two people were the legendary hackers of Crucsia back then and the person-in-charge of the country’s Internet and information technology today.

Marlon and the others could not help but feel their hearts beating faster.

Everyone had a mentality to admire the strong.

Even Marlon and the others were no exception.

The two people in front of them could be said to be the strongest hackers with whom they had come into contact in their lives other than Jane. “Welcome, Red Star Team, to the country’s secret base....

No Way Back Chapter 375-They shook hands one by one and Introduced themselves briefly.

Hunter enthusiastically led the group into the elevator and introduced the basic situation in the center.

· ٨ ٩ ٠

As for Hayden, he had a cold expression the entire time and did not say a word.

Shaun could not help but secretly ask, “Mr. Hunter, did we do something wrong? Mr. Hayden seems to be very angry.”

“You’ll get used to it. He’s always like this. He looks cold on the surface, but he’s actually a very kind guy. When you get to know him better, you’ll know how good he is. Right, Hayden?”

Hayden looked at Hunter as if he was looking at an ***.

The elevator arrived

When Jane and the others walked out of the elevator, only five members came to welcome them.

They were holding a simple and crude banner, saying, “Welcome Red Star Team to Join Blue Bird.”

What was more eye-catching than this was naturally the various supercomputers in the base.

It was like the code flow and the monitoring scenes that appeared in the movie.

Marlon and the others had long been looking forward to it, wanting to take a good look.

A server that was gotten by a person with his personal ability could not compare to one that was gotten with a country’s channels and financial resources

This could be called the top supercomputers in the entire Cruscia.

“Alright, Hayden, bring the new members to familiarize themselves with the environment and their office. I still have something to tell Jane. I’ll leave this difficult task to you.”

Hayden still did not say anything.

Hayden walked up to Marlon and the others. “Let’s go.”

“Okay...”

What a simple and concise person.

After Marlon and the others left, Hunter took a bottle of coffee and handed it to Jane. “Do you want some?”

“Okay”

Jane took the coffee and opened it casually. She took a sip and looked around. “There are so few people here.”

"It can't be helped. After all, not everyone is a genius like you, Jane. When I first came here to manage, there were only two people. It wasn't easy to have five talents now.

"This is the database of the entire Crucsia, which is connected to the entire world. There are even information and secrets that are not recorded even in the developed countries of Wetanean. Only rare geniuses can join Blue Bird. Moreover, before it, they even have to be assessed for their political review and loyalty to the country.

"Only toward the headquarters facilities in a place like Rheinsville, we can apply for five people to be in charge. Some bases only have two people."

Jane chuckled. "I can tell that the five people who came to welcome us are quite ****."

The reason why they were willing to welcome Red Star Team was probably due to Hunter's arrangements.

They were quite unconvinced by the sudden appearance of these new members. With Jane's insight, it was easy for her to sense it from their gazes.

"No one here is slacking off. If you want to gain the respect of others, the first rule is to achieve results.

"With the strength of Red Star Team's members, if you're diligent, it won't be difficult for you to unlock higher authority as soon as possible. Please! You sent five people in one go. That's a huge battle power!

"The other branches are complaining that they don't have enough people. They said that there are too few people over there and that there's a lot of work that can't progress. If you guys make some results, I will have extra people to send out."

"Alright, Mr. Lourd, since you trust us so much, we definitely won't disappoint you."

After Jane had a brief conversation with Hunter, Marlon and the others returned.

"Wow, Jane, I have to say that the equipment here is indeed much better than that of our base,"

"Yeah, the internet speed and reaction speed are so amazing. I thought the internet speed and reaction speed in our base were fast enough, but I didn't expect them to be ten times faster here!"

"Even if your base gathers the power of the rich families, it's still the limit of what an individual can get. This is Rheinsville, the most important gathering point for Internet technology in Crucsia. The country's investment in this place is far beyond your imagination.

“How is it? I’ll keep the office for you to use at any time. If you’re willing, you can directly bring your luggage and stay today. It’s convenient to enter and leave, but it’s a little troublesome for you to go back to Stormton City...”

Hunter was like a big bad wolf seducing Little Red Riding Hood with a lollipop

The linguistic arts were full of charm.

To be honest, the equipment here was indeed too advanced.

Marlon and the others could not help but be tempted.

They subconsciously looked at Jane.

Jane shrugged. “I won’t stay here anyway. However, even if you don’t stay here, long distance assistance will be fine. Think about it yourselves.” Jane’s future direction was not limited to just this one path.

Staying here was too limited. As long as the authority was opened, and Jane could get the clues and information she wanted, it would be fine. “Don’t be anxious now. Take it slow. I’ll bring you guys to familiarize yourselves with the operations of these computers...”

“Okay”

Three hours passed so quickly

Jane and the others were more or less familiar with the new functions of the computers.

Hayden walked over at this time.

“Are you familiar with it? There’s a new mission.”

Jane raised an eyebrow. “What mission?”

“The information will be sent to everyone’s computer through the central database. If you think you can do it, go back to the office first Practice is the best way to familiarize yourself with these things. Now that we’re seriously short of manpower, since we’ve recruited you and agreed to so many requests, you have to achieve some results.”

After saying this, Hayden left again.

“Is it that only when Mr. Hayden issues a mission will he talk so much?”

“Ye will get used to it. It’s okay once you get used to it. So, what do you guys think? Do you want to accept this mission? By finishing it, you can earn points!”

Jane glanced at Marion and the others. "Are you confident now?"

"Yes!"

They could do it!

Jane and the others arrived at the exclusive office.

The central server had already issued the mission this time.

After reading the contents of the mission clearly, Marlon could not help but be furious.

He cursed, "*! What kind of organization is this!"

They trafficked human beings, trafficked organs, made surrogacy, did telecommunications , and so on. They simply committed all manners of crimes.

Most importantly, the number of money and people who committed the crime were already very high..

In the past, Marlon and the others had never encountered such a bad organization on the Darknet! In contrast, the evil organizations they had ruined before were simply insignificant.

"You have the resentment? Then let it out. At the same time, let the people outside see the strength of our Red Star Team!

"You've rested for New Year's Day holiday for so long. Are your skills rusty?"

"Of course not. Queen, start giving your orders!"

On the other side, the other five people also saw the news released by the central system.

The Red Star Team had accepted the mission.

They could not help but have some thoughts.

*This organization has been entrenched for a long time. It's not easy to hack into their server, and it's easy to be exposed: Is Mr. Lourd so assured to let these members who have just joined Blue Bird carry out such an important mission?"

Once they got exposed, the organization would immediately transfer the server data. At that time, it would take a long time to find their new server

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 376

No Way Back Chapter 376-Not to mention the Red Star Team that had just joined Blue Bird and was not familiar with the various operations, even super geniuses like them who had worked in Blue Bird for two years did not dare to take this mission easily.

They could only agree to take it under the guidance of Hunter and Hayden.

“Why don’t we take a bet? Let’s see if this new team is that good”

“No matter what, it’s a team that Mr Hunter and Mr. Hayden have high hopes for Even if the difficulty of this mission is high, it shouldn’t be impossible to pass, right?”

“Then let’s bet when they can finish the mission”

“It will at least take half a month, right?”

“Alright, let’s take half a month as a start to bet!”

“What are you talking about? How lively!”

Hunter’s voice suddenly sounded.

Everyone was shocked.

“Mr. Lourd?”

“I heard you guys talking about the bet. It’s very interesting. Tell me about it too?”

“Well...”

Everyone looked at each other and did not dare to speak. They were like children who had done something wrong and were caught red-handed. After all, they were only unconvinced by Red Star Team. But they were quite impressed by Hunter’s strength.

“Actually, I can understand that you don’t trust the ability of this team that suddenly joined us, but no matter what, I personally chose them. Can’t you be at peace with each other for the sake of me?”

“No, Mr. Lourd, we don’t mean to distrust your judgment. It’s just that this mission is too difficult. We’re just casually discussing how long Red Star Team will take to resolve it...”

“Hey!”

Only then did one of them realize that this person had let it slip.

“Seeing is better than hearing. I heard from you guys that Red Star Team will take at least half a month to complete this mission, right?”

“Then I’ll make a bet with you. I bet that Red Star Team will be able to complete this mission today. The winner will get a month’s salary for those who participate in the bet. How about that? If I win, you’ll lose my salary for five months in total. If you win, I’ll give each of you double salaries this month.”

“What? Mr. Lourd, we were really just joking...”

“A small bet is good for the mood, but a big bet is harmful. The stakes aren’t high, and I won’t make trouble for you in the future just because of it. What are you afraid of?”

“Alright. Mr. Lourd, let’s take this bet. Don’t go back on your word if you lose!”

“*! I am always an upright person. When have I ever gone back on my word?”

Hunter rolled his eyes and turned to leave.

Everyone looked at each other and shrugged.

Even in this position, they were no longer short of money.

However, Hunter took the initiative to give the money. How could they not accept it?

Twelve hours passed in the blink of an eye.

Red Star Team had been in the office.

Someone passed by the office door of Red Star Team and happened to bump into Hunter.

“It’s already been twelve hours. Why do they work so hard? Mr. Lourd, why don’t you go in and let them eat something?”

Hunter held a cup of tea and assumed the posture of a casual middle-aged man. “I sent a message, but they didn’t reply. I knocked, but they even locked the door. I guess they are focused now. Young people do have good stamina. They won’t get tired so easily when they work. They are quite better than us old fellows.”

Hayden passed by with a laptop and mercilessly complained about Hunter. “You’re only in your forties, right? Why are you pretending to be so profound?”>

“Hayden, you’re my younger brother after all. Why do you have to argue with me?”

“Get lost. You were only born a few minutes earlier than me. I don’t have a brother as frivolous as you!”

“Boohoo, you little , how can you talk to your biological brother like that? I’m crying!”

Seeing this, everyone wanted to leave. When Hunter and Hayden argued, it would be non-stop and no one would know when it would end.

Crack.

The mechanical door of the Red Star Team's office suddenly opened.

Jane walked out first. Seeing the people in the base standing at the door, Jane blinked and said, "Why are you all here? You got the news so quickly?"

"What news do you mean?"

pleuro

"It's done. Here. I've sent the information to the central system. This is a backup flash drive. I was just about to go over and give it to you."

Jane threw the flash drive in her hand to Hunter.

Hunter's eyes lit up when he received the flash drive. "You haven't been working for 24 hours, yet you're done so quickly?"

"I also advised these guys to cat and rest. However, we went deep into that organization and saw too many things. Everyone was filled with anger and wanted to quickly apprehend these bad guys. It was as if they were full of fighting spirits and could not care less anything.

else."

As Jane spoke, she looked gently at the four members who had fallen asleep in the office.

They all had such sincerity. As hackers, after experiencing so many dark sides of the world, they could still maintain such a kind heart.

Jane could not help but rejoice once again! She was really lucky to meet them when she chose team members back then.

They were talented, capable, motivated, following orders..

The most important thing was that they all had a heart for the country and the people. Although they came from the four noble families in Stormton City, they like the brightest pearls that were not covered by dust. It was the most important.

It was too difficult to be untainted in that kind of place. Besides, they had to have talent in this aspect. It was too difficult to meet both of the requirements. So many people could not find such a team member in their entire lives, yet Jane found ready-made ones easily!

Jane felt that this team was simply a gift from the heavens to her.

Hunter said happily, “Oh, looks like I won!”

“Well... How is this possible? They actually hacked into that organization’s database in less than a day...”

It was the others turn to be dumbfounded.

Never in their wildest dreams would they have imagined that Red Star Team had not only completed the mission but also taken so little time. Were they not worried that they would be discovered by the enemy if they failed?

What was more, even these self-proclaimed super geniuses who had studied computer technology for countless years felt inferior to this kind of rapid invasion technology.

“The five of you, follow me to the office and take a look at the data compiled by Red Star Team.”

With that, Hayden left with his laptop.

The others finally realized what was going on and quickly chased after Hayden in unison. “Wait for us! Mr. Hayden!”

Hunter gave Jane a thumbs up. “You’ve really done me proud this time, Jane.”

Jane squinted at Hunter with a dangerous aura. “From what you said, are you betting on the success or failure of our mission? Hmm?”

“No, you’re the super elites that I carefully selected. I even guaranteed it. If you don’t perform well, I’ll be very embarrassed too, okay?”

“Please, your active performance is both a result and a peace of mind for me. Best of luck!”

Hunter patted Jane’s shoulder, tried to smooth Jane’s suspicion over, and quickly slipped away.

Jane rubbed her temples helplessly.

What did it feel like to have a boss who was a funny person?

Living was really different and exciting every day.

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 377

No Way Back Chapter 377-As for the other people in the Blue Bird Base, they came to Hayden's office.

When they turned on the computer, they were still wondering if the data had been casually submitted to complete the mission After all, it was impossible for ordinary humans to complete this mission in such a short period of time

They were not completely convinced until they confirmed the rigor of the data with Hayden

"Amazing, too amazing! Mr. Hayden, the people who Mr. Hunter and you found this time are simply super geniuses!"

Even geniuses like them, who had studied for many years and had the full experience, admitted defeat

There were very, very few people who could make them admit defeat in their lives

This time, they actually admitted defeat to five more people in one go. They were totally convinced

At the same time, when they saw the data, they were filled with indignation.

Even though they had seen a lot of darkness, such merciless photos, as well as information, were simply unheard of!

Hayden said without changing his expression, "Since you're convinced, you should be more polite to them in the future."

Everyone understood suddenly. "I see. Mr. Hayden, the reason why you gave Red Star Team such a difficult mission is that you want us to acknowledge their strength"

"Do you think I would joke about such a thing? Dignity is fought for with strength, especially in such a place.

"The reason why I gave them this mission is naturally because I believe in their strength!"

Hayden looked at the others as if he was looking at ***.

"I see."

Time passed in the blink of an eye.

Jane and the others stayed in Blue Bird Base for a full week.

Like a sponge lacking water, they crazily absorbed knowledge and experience that they did not know before and lived a fulfilling day.

On this day, Jane came to say goodbye to Hunter.

“Why are you leaving so suddenly? Are you unhappy because you’re too bored in the base?”

Jane shook her head “No. Its just that I know most of what I want to know. There are still things I want to do outside. As for my four teammates, I’ll leave them to you. They’re still learning happily here. There are still many things for them to learn.”

“But they’re your teammates. I can’t get them to listen to me without you around.”

“Don’t worry. They’re all powerful hackers who can solve problems on their own now. This world never lacks geniuses. What it lacks are hardworking and targeted geniuses. As long as you’re right, they’ll accept it.”

*Jane, you even brought your luggage to see me. Looks like you’ve already made up your mind. What else can I say? I haven’t forgotten what I promised the Red Star Team back then. As long as you work hard, it’s fine.”

“Don’t worry. If you have any missions, feel free to assign them to us. We will definitely complete them!”

After spending a few days together, Jane was already getting along very well with the members of the Blue Bird Base.

With a smile, Jane waved at Hunter and left the office with her luggage.

Hunter smiled and shook his head. Just as Hunter was about to sit down, an emergency call went past all authorizations and reached his office. Hunter frowned slightly and quickly picked up the phone. “What happened? What? What did you say?! Is this true?”

The nervousness on Hunter’s face gradually relaxed and turned into ecstasy.

Jane dragged her luggage outside the abandoned factory.

At this moment, a call came in.

When Jane saw that the caller ID was Clarence, her intuition told her that something might have happened on Yale’s side. Jane picked up the call “Hello, Mr. York?”

“Queen! We did it! We did it!”

Deafening cheers and Clarence's sobbing voice in excitement could be heard on the other end of the phone.

Even though Clarence was far away from the crowd, the sounds of celebration still could not stop.

Jane's heart skipped a beat

"Mr. York, is it the photolithography machine..."

"That's right! The photolithography machine has been successfully researched! The hard work we've prepared for so many years has finally paid off!"

"It's the first 4-nanometer chip made in Crucsia!"

Clarence's voice even broke

Clarence was in his sixties and had been on the battlefield for more than 20 years. He was used to seeing life and death and had survived countless narrow escapes

However, Clarence had never been like this before! He could not control his emotions. Tears streamed down his face.

These were tears of excitement, tears of joy.

The birth of this chip meant that Crucsia had broken the monopoly of power and had its own chip.

Every Crucsian who had experienced Meridonia's suppression of the technology chip incident would be sincerely touched and proud after witnessing the use and birth of this chip.

In the past, this chip was so unreachable to them simply like a star in the sky, and no matter how hard they tried, they could not hold it in their hands.

The huge Crucsia could only be limited by others. Their throats were grabbed by the chip, and they could only watch blankly as other countries raised the price higher and higher, suppressed Crucsia's national industry, and made it difficult for them to make a comeback.

No one was willing to submit to other countries and be suppressed like this without being able to fight back. However, the reality clearly told them how far the gap was. It was the crystallization of decades of science, like a chasm.

In this battle, just hard work and the gathering of the geniuses alone were not enough. What was needed more was the right time, place, and people.

No matter how difficult the process was, how much time, manpower, and effort it took, at least, they had the best outcome.

This chip, which represented the condensation of countless people's hard work, was within their grasp.

Over the years, this was not the only monopoly and suppression that foreign countries had applied to Cruksia.

It was reflected in all aspects.

However, the birth of this chip would be a new beginning, blowing the horn for their counterattack.

It announced to the entire world that Cruksia had never been defeated, never just waited for being bullied by others, and never been too powerless to resist.

They would create more and more things to catch up with the international trend.

One day, Cruksia would no longer have to listen to foreign countries and bow down to them.

Since they could even make the photolithography machine with the 4-nanometer chip, and the gap of decades had closed, it was no longer a fool's dream to create good news from other aspects.

Confidence, pride, and firm faith were the most important criteria for completing a task..

Jane was also extremely excited, and she could feel the blood as a Cruksian flowing in her body boiling.

As long as someone had this country in their hearts, no matter how cold-blooded they were, it was impossible for them to remain indifferent when they heard this news!

"By the way, where are Yale and the others, Mr. York?"

"Doctor Eden is currently treating Mr. Mitchell. I'm afraid it will affect them, so I haven't told them about this yet."

"Alright! I'll go over to your place immediately!"

After hanging up the phone, Jane dragged her luggage and ran.

There was an endless amount of energy in Jane's body..

Andy was waiting for Jane by the roadside.

Andy saw Jane running over from afar and quickly waved.

“Janie, I know you miss me. But there’s no need to be so excited, right? I’m really touched that you especially run all the way here to see me.” “Drive to the airport! I want to go to Dinsdale!”

What?

Jane clearly made an appointment to meet Andy today and let Andy arrange everything.

Andy had already prepared a series of services and was just waiting to receive Jane to start their sweet world.

However, in the end, Jane was going to go to the airport and fly to Dinsdale?

Boohoo! Jane was such a bad woman who cheated Andy of his feelings.

They had been friends for so many years. But in the end, Andy was still abandoned.

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 378

No Way Back Chapter 378-Despite the sadness, Andy still obediently Jane to the airport.

Jane hacked into the aviation system and booked the latest plane ticket.

At the same time, Jane told Andy about the news from Clarence.

Andy was stunned for a long time.

For the first-class lawyer to be stunned for so long, was enough to show how shocking this news was.

“I finally understand why you’re so excited Janie, hold on tight. I’m going to accelerate and send you to the airport!”

Andy wore a big smile. He pulled down the gear stick and stepped on the accelerator.

The red Ferran sped away on the highway like a red bow arrow.

Rheinsville was only three hours away from Dinsdale by plane.

When Jane arrived at Dinsdale’s airport, it was already four in the afternoons

The moment Jane got off the plane, she received a message from Yale.

[Jane, we did it.]

It was just a simple sentence. Even through the screen, Jane could feel Yale's excitement when he typed these words.

[Yeah, Yale, you did it! You've finally developed a photolithography machine with a 4-nanometer chip!]

[This is the glory that belongs to all of us. Without your help, it's impossible for us to complete it.]

Clarence called Jane at this time

The arranged car successfully brought Jane to its destination.

At the hotel in the center of Dinsdale, Jane finally met Yale and Eden.

"Jane!"

Eden and Yale walked over together.

"Yale, Eden!"

Jane pounced over and hugged the two senior brothers. Her eyes sparkled. "I miss you guys so much!"

Eden patted Jane's head dotingly. "We miss you too. It's been almost two months since we parted that day. Time passes too quickly."

"Yeah, I didn't expect us to really succeed. As soon as I received the news from Mr. York, I rushed to Dinsdale without stopping. I really wanted to share this joy with you!"

"By the way, does Josh know?"

"Yale has already sent a message to Josh. He has also replied. By the way, Jane, Yale has something to ask you for help this time."

"Ask me for help? Yale, if there's anything you need, just tell me. As long as it's something I can help with, I'll do my best!"

Toward her senior brothers' requests, Jane naturally wouldn't reject them.

These days, Jane had been communicating with Eden about Yale's condition.

Yale's illness was indeed the first time in history. The medical information left behind had never recorded a strange illness like Yale's.

No wonder even the teacher, Humphrey, was helpless toward it.

However, under the continuous stimulation of Eden's treatment, there were already preliminary results.

Jane could not help but look forward to it.

If there was really a result, would it be displayed this time?

Jane was about to say, "Yale..."

Yale gestured for Jane to keep quiet.

Then, Yale held Jane's hand and walked past the crowd to a room with no one around.

Jane obediently let Yale hold her hand. Jane took the initiative to close her eyes and mumbled, "Yale, are you trying to give me a surprise?" *Jane..."

A dry and hoarse voice entered Jane's ears.

Jane could not help but be stunned and subconsciously opened her eyes slowly.

After confirming that the voice just now was from the person in front of her, Jane's breathing quickened.

"Yale, you. Say that again?"

"Janie..."

Yale tirelessly called out Jane's nickname again and rubbed Jane's little head.

Such a hoarse voice actually became the most pleasant voice in the world in Jane's ears. There was no exception.

Jane jumped up excitedly and hugged Yale. "Yale, you can finally speak!"

"It's still very difficult, but at least I can speak..."

"This is all thanks to Eden..."

To be honest, Yale had already given up on treating his illness.

There had been so many top-notch doctors who had treated Yale, including Jane

However, they did not manage to diagnose anything.

Yale agreed to Eden's treatment just because he didn't want to disappoint Eden and the others.

Unexpectedly, the method really worked.

Yale finally could speak again.

Eden walked in at this moment. "How is it? Is this a surprise enough?"

Jane covered her mouth and nodded repeatedly. "What a surprise! Eden! You're so bad! You just told me that you've made initial progress. It's not just initial progress at all. it's simply a leap forward!"

"You can't blame me for this. Jane, Yale strongly requested not to tell you. He planned to give you a surprise and also thought that he can recover better the next time we meet.

"I didn't expect the good news from the study of the photolithography machine to come at the right time and pull you to Dinsdale."

"Thank you, Eden..."

Yale looked at Eden gratefully.

If it wasn't for Eden, Yale would have already given up all hope.

"There's no need to thank me, Yale. You and I are like brothers. Since I have the ability, it's only right for me to help treat you. Besides, you are very strong-willed. The treatment process is so long and painful, but you can still cooperate with all my actions without saying a word.

"This is a two-way help between a doctor and a patient."

"That's right! One is the most talented scientist in history, and the other is the legendary Dr. Black Jackson. Both of you are tall, handsome, and have an outstanding aura. Most importantly, you both are my senior brothers! I really want to pull the two of you around and show off to the world!

Jane blinked playfully and smiled happily.

It had been a long time since Jane was so happy.

Was this the feeling of the legendary double happiness in one go?

It felt so good.

One was the birth of the photolithography machine.

The other was that Yale was able to speak.

“By the way, Yale, you haven’t told Jane about your request. Tell Jane now.”

Jane raised her eyebrows. “Hm? Is there anything else Yale needs my help with? Wasn’t Yale just planning to give me a surprise?”

*Jane, Mr. York notified me that as the main creator of this photolithography machine development, in addition to accepting the medal reward with the other members, I also have to go on stage to give a speech....

“This time, the speech is a live stream of the entire world... But I can’t yet speak as I please now...”

“I plan to ask you to help me give a speech... I’ll write the draft speech... You’ll stand on stage in my place to give a speech...” ‘Me?’

Jane could not help but widen her eyes.

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 379

No Way Back Chapter 379-“Yale, are you serious? I think Josh or Eden is more suitable for this mission!”

“Come on, Jane. Spare me. I don’t have the guts to give a speech affectionately in a live stream of the entire world. I prefer to be a little lonely and free.

“Also, I’ve already informed Josh. Josh also said that this is the best choice. This is the intention of the three of us. You can’t reject it.” Jane pursed her lips. “Well...”

“Lasked Josh and Eden... They said that this time, they don’t want me to add their names to the research... They don’t want to be too high-profile

*Jane, what do you think? I really want you to help me give a speech... This is something that only you can do... I believe you...”

Even for Yale, who was indifferent and did not care about many things, the day when the speech was given on the worldwide live stream was one of the most important days in his life.

After all, Yale had put in too much effort, energy, and time for this photolithography machine project.

Even Clarence, who had always accompanied Yale, did not know how much Yale had sacrificed in many situations.

Yale gave it his all. Even if he failed in the end, he would have a clear conscience.

But Yale had succeeded. Yale could be said to have experienced this kind of joy the most in the entire world

However, Yale was used to hiding his emotions and did not show it.

For Yale to make such a request, showed how important the matter was in his heart.

with such a gaze, Jane could no longer refuse.

'T

Jane was silent for a moment before saying. "I understand, Yale. If this is what you want, I will help. Don't add my name to the research. This is your team's hard work. I don't want to be too high-profile either and steal the limelight."

Standing too high in the wind would be easy to attract too much attention.

In a sense, Josh and Eden made the right choice.

They had enough titles, wealth, and status, so they didn't need to cause any more trouble.

It was also the same for Jane.

Jane had already had so many titles. If she obtained a new title as a member of a research team that gave birth to the first Cruksia's photolithography machine at such a young age, it would probably shock the entire world! And Jane would never be able to live in peace from now on.

What was more, Jane and the others did not help much. The general process, trends, and lines were all figured out by Yale's team after so many years of hard work and experience.

It could only be said that the three of them had acted as a catalyst and catalyzed the appropriate outcome better. It was shortened to luck.

“Okay.”

As long as Jane agreed, everything was negotiable.

Soon, it was time for the official announcement.

As soon as the news was released, it rushed to the trending topic at once.

It even swept the entire world’s forums, news, and trending topics

[Crucsia’s first 4-nanometer chip photolithography machine has been born!]

It was bright red and had the words “Big News” written on it.

It even caused all kinds of social media apps to paralyze.

The comments below were refreshing at a rate of more than 100,000 pieces per minute.

[Oh my god, I never dreamed that I would be able to live to see the day when Crucsia’s lithography machine was born! I’m crying!]

[I told my grandfather who is in a vegetative state this news. He was even crying!]

[Oh my god, oh my god, I’m going to visit my parents’ graves! The day the two of them are looking forward to our country’s strength has arrived!] [Crucsia’s phone can be advanced now. The original chip can be updated’]

[Which genius created this 4-nanometer photolithography machine? It shortened the gap between us and the developed countries by decades. It’s too awesome! It’s simply a god descending to the mortal world! Mortals like us are only worthy of watching!]

[As a researcher who has understood the manufacturing process of the photolithography machine and how much of a difference there is in the current technology of Crucsia, I can say the person above is indeed not exaggerating at all. How smart must one be to be able to make such an impossible thing possible!]

At this moment, countless Crucsians’ blood boiled.

They shared the news with various group chats of families, and friends and discussed it Like a trojan horse, the news spread crazily.

The streets and alleys were filled with cheers.

Everyone shouted the same name and that was Crucsia.

The national sentiments had never been so strong before.

They were deeply proud of the development of this country and being a member of Cruksia

Over the years, people had witnessed too much pressure, technological suppression, chip attacks, and so on from the developed countries.

They wanted to step on Cruksia and stop its development, prevent them from spreading their wings and soaring again, as well as flying under the blue sky.

There were too many disappointments accumulated. Although Cruksians had complaints, they could not find an outlet to vent and a way to counterattack.

The gap between Cruksia and the developed countries was too obvious. Although Cruksians admitted it, they could not completely give in due to it.

The appearance of this news really gave the entire country's citizens a boost of morale.

At the same time, it was also announced to the world.

No matter how shameless, competitive, or extorting the other countries were, they would use their own efforts and methods to break through all unfair treatment and fight for their own status and right to speak

Cruksia was full of talents and was full of vigor. All Cruksians had a deep sense of patriotism and were willing to risk their lives for the country. They would not be afraid of these mean tricks.

Back then, the manufacturing of atomic bombs and hydrogen bombs was also very difficult, from zero to one.

The predecessors had spent so much time, effort, and even lives.

Countless top-notch scientists hid their identities and bid farewell to their wives and children. This was an absolutely confidential mission that could not be revealed at all.

They disappeared for so many years just like that.

In such a harsh environment at that time, there was no technical support, no Internet, no computer, and even the calculation of the manufacturing process of the atomic bomb could only be hand-written on the blackboard...

But they could all make it.

Crucsians stubbornness and unwillingness to admit defeat were a DNA mark that could not be erased from the descendant of a big country. Now, it proved it even more.

Even as times changed and people's lives became richer and the country became richer and stronger, the spirit of hard work back then had never fallen for a moment.

They treated those contempt, disappointment, and frustration as food. They enriched their spirit and stepped forward step by step. Crucsia wanted to close the distance from the entire world.

Crucsia would spread its wings and soar into the sky again.

Andy called Jane.

"Janie, the dozen or so stocks we bought in Meridonia today have all risen to the limit. We made several hundreds of millions of dollars in one go.

"Now you're a rich lady. You don't have to worry about your future life anymore!"

This was the advantage of the information gap.

Crucsia announced the news of the 4-nanometer chip photolithography machine today. Meridonia would definitely be shocked and take action. Other than a few tech stocks that would definitely rise, there were also some stocks that would fall to rock bottom.

One had to know that Meridonia's stocks did not have a limit of rise or fall.

The rise would never stop, and so would it when it fell.

The money came fast, but it disappeared even faster.

Jane and Andy took the chance and shorted the stock market of Meridonia.

They had earned hundreds of millions of dollars in a day.

After splitting it 50-50 with Andy, Jane would also get 1 billion dollars.

Jane had really become a rich lady.

No Way Back Chapter 380-"We got rich together. Did you receive the invitation I gave you? In three days, in Dinsdale, there will be a banquet to congratulate the team members who developed the photolithography machine

“Come over when the time comes! Let’s share the joy together!”

“Of course, I definitely won’t miss such a happy thing!”

Not long after Jane hung up the phone, her foreign account received a billion dollars.

After conversion, including the money saved from the work that she had taken on recently, Jane had more than 1.4 billion dollars

Even if Jane spent extravagantly without working every day, she wouldn’t be able to use it all for several lifetimes.

“The life of a rich person is so simple and boring.”

Jane held her forehead and sighed softly.

Jane didn’t know what to do for a moment that she had reached super financial freedom

Jane had too much money and felt that she had lost a lot of goals to fight for

It was so troublesome.

If anyone else knew what Jane was thinking, they would definitely spit and curse.

If Jane didn’t want so much money, she could give them.

Rich men really could not understand the poor’s life.

Jane then sent a message to Lila.

Lila, what did you think about the matter I told you last time? Have you made a decision?]

[Ahem Janie, forget it. That kind of gathering is too high-end. I don’t fit in. You know my personality. Letting me attend such a gathering of top-notch scientists is worse than killing me. Compared with them, I’m just a **** ...]

Lila was a top student in the No. 13 Middle School in Stormton City back then who scored the University of Oricle in the first place. Lila was considered number one in the Scholastic Aptitude Test in Stormton City.

Other than her siblings who often laughed at Lila’s low IQ, everyone would praise Lila for being a genius girl when they met her.

Lila’s IQ fluctuated around 160. Normal people’s IQ was usually between 90 and 110. Lila deserved the title of genius girl.

Lila had been proud of it before she met Jane.

However, although Lila was smart, compared to Jane, who could be almost considered a super monster, Lila was nothing.

Lila had already suffered a lot of blows. She was afraid that she would not be able to find common topics to talk about at such a gathering.

It was okay that Lila might not manage to answer any questions and be laughed at. However, the main point was that even the air there was so high-class that made her feel uncomfortable. Why should Lila go to suffer?

[Alright, since you don't want to come, I won't force you. Anyway, I've given you a chance. Don't blame me for having the chance yet not asking you over when we meet next time.]

[Okay. I know that you treat me the best, Janie. You always have me in your heart. I'm already very happy that you can invite me.

[Also! Janie, I'm begging you! Please help me get Mr. autograph! This is the autograph of the creator of the first photolithography machine in Cruksia. I want to pass it down to my descendants as an heirloom!]

[You're so exaggerating. I've already helped you ask Yale for his autograph. I'll give it to you when I get back to Stormton City]

[I know you dote on me. I love you.]

After chatting with Lila, Jane sent a message to Hugh. [Hugh, have you received the invitation? I knew the organizer wanted to invite you over, so I personally wrote the invitation for you!]

Hugh smiled. [I'm very happy to see your words.] After that, he sent a cute meme.

Under the lead of Jane, Hugh had completely mastered the use of the meme.

Hugh was no longer the cold and aloof president who only knew how to text words.

Jane asked. I heard that your friends' families have received invitations too. Did they collude to come over with you?]

Hugh was a little unhappy. [Connor and Robert will both come... But Janie, since you're chatting with me, let's not talk about other men, okay?]

Jane could clearly sense Hugh's jealousy even through the screen.

Jane could not help but laugh. [Hugh, that's your friends!]

Hugh shook his head [Not anymore. The two of them are just unimportant men to me.]

Connor and Robert were gathering at Nightshade Bar when they sneezed at the same time.

Robert sniffed "*it, which beautiful woman is missing me? Speaking of which, Hugh has been getting more and more unsociable recently. Why didn't he come out when we asked him out for a drink? It's harder to see him now than ascending to the sky!"

Connor played with the plastic ring on his finger and said calmly. "He already has a girlfriend. Naturally, he doesn't have as much free time as before"

Robert rolled his eyes at Connor. "Mr. Luther, when did your taste change? Did you start to like such a plastic ring instead of diamonds? Today we are out for a drink. But I have seen you touch this ring hundreds of times. What are you doing?"

"You are single. You won't understand!"

Robert's eyes suddenly widened

***!

So, Connor had also found a girlfriend?

So, now, only Robert was single?

"By the way, who is your girlfriend? Don't tell me that you just *with her? Then why do you say it? I have a lot of such women. How can I be considered a single man?"

Robert gave Connor the middle finger

"Of course not. I'm serious. Recently, I did meet a girl who I like.

"As for who it is, it won't be too late to tell you when we are really together. I don't want to expose her identity too early now"

Connor could not help but smile when he thought of the woman who looked fearless and impudent in front of him in his mind.

Connor's entire body emitted a strong smell of falling into love.

It made Robert, this single man, so jealous.

“, are you really serious?

“What’s going on recently? Both Hugh and you already have your liked ones, and I’m the only one who’s still in a daze? What the is going on!”

Robert was even starting to doubt his life.

Speaking of women, Robert quite had a lot.

Most importantly, Robert didn’t like any of them sincerely. Robert was with them just for fun.

Those women came for Robert only for his status, money, and family background. And Robert only took a fancy to their looks and figures.

They were just taking what they needed.

It was not that Robert wanted to be a playboy, but there was really no woman whom he really liked.

“Forget it. I won’t drink with you anymore. The taste of drinking with you is so plain. I’m leaving. See you when we go to Dinsdale.”

Robert hurriedly left.

If Robert stayed any longer, he would become an outlier among the three of them.

Meeting someone a person liked would depend on fate. How long would it take for Robert to meet a woman he liked?

Robert had never thought of such a thing before.

Now, both Connor and Hugh deeply fell in love and had met a woman they liked.

Robert felt like he wanted to fall in love too not for a physical relationship, but for a genuine spiritual collision.
