Nothing's gonna change my love for you

Chapter 2 Not Yet Ready To See Him

Taking a deep breath, Alena cleared up her mood, got on another elevator, and went to the 13th floor for an interview.

After arriving on the 13th floor, she sat in the waiting area and waited for her name to be called. She soon heard someone calling her in the conference room, "Alena Wright."

Alena immediately stood up and walked in. There were 5 people in the conference room. She didn't look too much and sat down opposite the interviewer.

The manager of the Design Department glanced at Alena Wright's resume and frowned dissatisfiedly. He said, "No work experience? How did HR arrange it? You didn't meet our employment requirements. You can go now."

Alena was taken aback. She didn't expect that she would be so unfavorable as a candidate.

She was also among the best in school grades back then, but because all her thoughts were put on Waylon Gray, she ignored her work and the future. Then she was out of touch with society.

It was too late to regret that now.

"Okay, thanks for your time." Alena Wright sighed, stood up depressed, and was prepared to leave.

At that time, somebody called her name again,

"Alena Wright."

Someone stopped her suddenly.

Alena turned her head and found that he was the youngest of the five interviewers. He was very handsome and looked a little familiar, but she couldn't remember where she had seen him before.

The handsome guy curled his lips and laughed, "Alena Wright, I want to give you a chance to study at Cohen's without pay for one month. If you can meet our employment standards in one month, you will be hired. What can you say about that? "

"Well..." Alena was surprised that she didn't know how to respond. She just looked at him blankly.

The Design Manager frowned immediately and refuted "Christiano, we have no such precedent!"

"Then there will be from today!" Christiano Cohen squinted his eyes very strongly, then stood up and said to Alena Wright with a hopeful face, "Are you willing, Ms. Wright?"

"Yes, I'm willing." Alena Wright nodded quickly. Cohen Group was a well-known jewelry design company. If she could study there for a month, she will definitely make her progress by leaps and bounds.

Christiano was pleased. Then he said, "Very good! Then you will be my person from today. Follow me!"

Then he stepped away from the other interviewers.

Alena was quite confused and followed him directly to the President's office.

Looking at Christiano Cohen sitting on the office chair, Alena Wright was a little nervous and puzzled. So she decided to ask, "Sir...you...why did you give me this opportunity?"

"Don't you remember me?" Christiano looked at Alena. He asked her with a smile in his eyes, "Alena Wright, primary school girl?"

Alena thought so hard.

Alena suddenly remembered something, and said with surprise on her face, "Senior Christiano Cohen?"

She couldn't believe that it was actually him.

She did not expect that the President of the Cohen Group would actually be her senior at a University.

"It seems that you still remember me." Christiano Cohen laughed.

Alena was a little embarrassed that she didn't recognize him before, and said with a blushing face, "The main reason was that the senior has become so handsome now, I don't dare to recognize him."

Her words were not just for flattery. When they were still in school, Christiano wore a white shirt and a pair of glasses. He looked gentle and very nice. But now, he has a neat suit and has taken off his glasses, exuding a powerful aura.

He looked really different now.

When they were still in school, Christiano was the Chairman of the Student Union, and she was the Secretary of the Chairman. They worked well together, but Christiano was three years older than her, and she only served him as a secretary for one year, then he graduated.

However, during that year, they worked together very happily.

"You haven't changed at all, you still look like a teenage girl." Christiano smiled gently. Then he added, "I know you and I believe in your capabilities. With that, I am willing to give you this opportunity. But in order to avoid gossip by the Design Department, for one month, you will be by my side. It's just for the time being. I just want you to familiarize yourself with the company's procedures on behalf of my secretary. At the same time, I will personally teach you the knowledge of jewelry design so that you can get started quickly."

"Really? That's great! Thank you senior!" Alena agreed very happily.

From then on, Alena Wright officially joined the Cohen Group.

Because she had cooperated in the University before, she understood Christiano Cohen's habits. So she handled her work in an orderly manner, which made Christiano very satisfied.

That day, Alena just sorted out the meeting minutes and sent them to Christiano.

As a result, Christiano walked out of the office and looked at Alena, and said, "Alena, there is a simple business dinner in the evening. Please come with me."

"Okay." Alena nodded and agreed.

Although it was just a simple business dinner, Alena still put on delicate makeup for herself to make herself look more capable and formal, in line with the identity of a secretary.

Later that evening, they entered the hotel together.

Christiano Cohen's popularity was indeed very good. When he came over, many people came to greet him, "Good evening Mr. Cohen. I heard that Mr. Gray will also come tonight."

Upon hearing her ex-husband's name, Alena felt her eyelids twitch, and she felt slightly nervous and was not yet ready to see him again.

She hasn't come up with a reason yet to avoid seeing him. Then that moment, she suddenly heard someone shouting, "Mr. Gray is here!"
