Chapter 54 I Will Sleep With You

Chapter 54 I Will Sleep With You

A black line appeared on Waylon Gray's forehead for a moment and he did not bother to ask her for her opinion. He took her hand and walked outside without giving her any chance to resist at all.

Alena Wright wanted to struggle and was afraid of hurting his arm, so she could only let him lead herself.

Soon, it was the day Marx Winston held the banquet.

Alena Wright was holding Waylon Gray's arm, a faint smile hung on the corner of her mouth, and there was a trace of tension hidden in her beautiful eyes.

The moment they entered the banquet hall, most people's eyes could not help but focus on them, and Marx Winston greeted them immediately.

"Mr. Gray, we have a long way to go." Marx Winston smiled and greeted.

Waylon Gray picked up a glass of wine and gently touched it to Mr. Winston's glass. Just as he was about to say something, Mimi Winston hurried over, took Marx Winston's hand, and acted like a baby, "Daddy."

Her gaze kept falling on Waylon Gray's body, Mimi's eyes were shy, and the infatuation in her eyes was clearly visible.

This scene fell into Alena Wright's eyes. She gently pursed her lips, feeling uncomfortable, and clenched the hand hanging on her side unconsciously.

"Alena, are you uncomfortable?" Waylon Gray asked softly.

Alena Wright regained her senses abruptly, she forced a smile, and said, "No, no."

Mimi Winston just noticed Alena Wright. The moment she saw her, her eyes froze.

Alena Wright's prominent eyes are enchanting and charming but somewhat contradictory and pure. She is wearing a white dress with silver silk embroidered flowers on the skirt, which shines under the light.

Seeing Alena Wright like this, the jealousy in Mimi Winston's eyes could no longer be concealed, and she cast a dark look at her.

"Miss Wright, you are so beautiful tonight." Mimi Winston smiled and complimented.

Alena Wright accepted it with a smile and replied. "Miss Winston, you are also very beautiful tonight."

The smile on Mimi Winston's face was almost impossible to maintain. Her jealous eyes fell on every piece of Alena Wright's jewelry. Each piece was a global limited edition. She usually only dared to buy one or two pieces. Alena Wright was just an assistant. What qualifications does she have to wear such jewelry?

If Alena Wright knew what Mimi Winston was thinking at this time, she would definitely feel wronged.

Everything on her body was personally selected by Waylon Gray. It is not that she didn't stop him. Waylon Gray gave a domineering response, "You are my female companion, and everything you wear must be worthy of me."

At this time, Mimi Winston's gaze suddenly fell on Alena Wright's finger. A drop-shaped blue diamond deeply attracted her gaze.

Mimi Winston's hand holding the wine glass slowly tightened, and her delicate voice pointedly said, "Miss Wright, the ring in your hand is really unique, and it must be invaluable. I did not expect you to be so rich to own a precious ring which is rare."

Hearing this, Alena Wright looked at the Blue Diamond consciously and suddenly had a headache.

She usually thinks that this ring is too dazzling. She tied it with band-aids because she does not want to attract attention.

However, this time, Waylon Gray disregarded her wishes and directly tore off the band-aids. He even confiscated the band-aids she was carrying, without giving her any chance to hide it again.

Waylon Gray also looked at the diamond ring in her hand, took her hand, and clasped her fingers tightly. He looked at Alena Wright with deep eyes like the night sky, tenderly looking at her, and said with a magnetic voice, "This is what I gave to Alena. Only she is worthy of this ring."

Mimi Winston wanted to take the opportunity to mock Alena Wright's greed for vanity, but instead, she shot himself in the foot with a stone, because Waylon Gray showed a declaration of love.

Marx Winston saw that the dark tide between them was surging, and he hurriedly stepped in and said, "Mr. Gray and Ms. Wright are a natural pair. This ring is just the icing on the cake."

This sentence is just the key point in the photograph.

Waylon Gray hugged Alena Wright's waist and looked at her with a smile, "Alena, do you think Mr. Winston is right?"

She raised her eyes to Waylon Gray's black shining eyes, and her heart couldn't help but miss a beat. A little flustered, she avoided his gaze and said, "I, I don't know."

He knew Alena Wright was running away, but he did not force her.

Mimi Winston, who had been ignored all the time, could not take seeing the two of them being so close. She wanted to break the atmosphere between them, so Marx Winston used an excuse to drag him away.

As soon as Marx Winston left, many people who wanted to be in the good favor of Waylon Gray immediately moved forward and pushed Alena Wright aside.

She was also happy to successfully leave his side. She retired to the gourmet area and casually choose some food.

"Beautiful lady, this matcha cake, I believe you will like it."

The sudden sound shocked Alena Wright.

She looked up and saw a man wearing a white suit and looks a bit devious.

She smiled politely, "Thank you."

The man looked at Alena Wright greedily and took the initiative to introduce himself. "Hello, I am the general manager of the Sage Group. I have been paying attention to you for a long time."

"Oh..." Alena Wright replied indifferently, and she did not recognize him, regardless of who he was.

"It's a shame to be an assistant if you are so beautiful, if..." The man was interrupted when he was about to say something more.

"Alena..."

When Alena Wright heard Waylon Gray's voice, she turned her head back and saw that his dark eyes had a hint of coldness, and his whole body is releasing a dark aura.

She blinked her eyes. Her eyes were very innocent, she did not understand why he suddenly became angry.

Waylon Gray met her eyes, the anger in his heart faded a little. He walked quickly to her side, reached out, and hugged her into his arms. With a faint reproach in his tone, he said, "Why did you come here?"

She curled her lips and cast him a pair of eyes. "You are surrounded by so many people. How can I bother you?"

Alena Wright had never noticed it herself, and her tone had a little bit of complaint.

"Alena, who is he?" Waylon Gray's gaze fell on the man opposite her. There was a strong menacing tone in his cold voice.

She raised her eyes and glanced at the man opposite and replied lightly, "I don't know."

Waylon Gray felt better when he heard Alena Wright say this. He did not want Alena Wright to contact any man, he held her domineeringly and forcefully and left. "Alena don't interact with strange men. Men are like dogs, I know how dirty they are."

This sentence was not too loud, but it happened to fall into the ears of the man. The cup in his hand was almost crushed but thinking of Waylon Gray's identity, he did not dare do anything. He could only leave the shabby place.

At this time, Waylon Gray had a lot of regrets in his heart.

'Why did I dress Alena so beautifully? Her beautiful appearance can only be seen by me alone.'
