Chapter 151: Teacher Maggie, I I ve Got It! 1

“Uh...

Maggie hugged her head and let out a beast-like roar. At the same time, a strange black fog was expelled from her body under the sea blue halo of the Focus Necklace.

“It’s working!”

Everyone was overjoyed when they saw this. Before they could get excited for a while longer, the sudden abnormality happened again.

Perhaps it realized that it could no longer control Maggie, the black hand that was originally attached to Maggie’s back immediately chose to escape.

Like a living creature, it jumped from Maggie’s back to the ground.

Then, in an instant, everyone in the room felt a chill run down their spines, as if they had been swept by an evil gaze.

The seaweed-like black hand gathered and struggled for the last time. It wanted to find a new host among the people present.

Therefore, without a doubt, it was the same as the script in his previous life.

He didn't give Damir any time to react.

The young genius Wizard felt his vision darken, and then he felt as if he had fallen into the deep sea. His consciousness and body were quickly stripped away, and his surroundings were completely enveloped in darkness.

"Damir! Hey! Brat, you...What happened to you?" Harvey, who was the closest to him, reacted first.

He looked at the young mage beside him and suddenly crouched down, holding his head and whimpering. He instinctively wanted to reach out and help him. However, Harvey's hand had only reached out halfway when he quivered and immediately retracted it.

It was only after he got closer that he could see Damir's current appearance clearly. The black hand that looked like seaweed was crawling along Damir's feet and began to crawl all over his body.

"I... I can't... Control..." Damir groaned and groaned.

At this moment, the young mage only felt that there was an indescribable chaotic whisper echoing in his ears.

At the same time, scenes of his deepest desires turned into illusions before his eyes. He had peeped into the true essence of magic and comprehended endless mysteries. He had surpassed his mentor, Margie, and become the most outstanding Legendary-mage in the Flame Domain, or even in this world.

The enticing whispers in his mind kept telling him that everything was within his grasp as long as he was willing to accept this external power.

"Hurry up...Leave quickly...I... Old age...Teacher..."

It was hard to imagine how strong Damir's will was. Even though his mind was being eroded, he still had a bit of reason left. He didn't submit to the Fallen Abyss, and he could even spare some energy to warn Harvey.

What should he do? What should he do?

The black mist that had been forced out of Margie's body with great difficulty began to enter Damir's body again. At this time, Margie was still in the purification process, so she couldn't take off the Focus Necklace. Otherwise, all her previous efforts would be in vain, and it would be the same as sacrificing Damir.

It was in this critical moment that Harvey suddenly remembered that White had left him an unclear message, other than reminding him of the effects of the Focus Necklace.

"Damir! Light came from darkness, and darkness gave birth to light!" Harvey shouted at the young mage anxiously.

"Wha... What?" It seemed that there were some effects, and Damir's consciousness was somewhat recovered.

It was indeed used here!

Seeing this, Harvey was instantly overjoyed. At the same time, the respect he had for the mysterious big shot called "White" immediately deepened.

Could it be that the other party had already predicted all of this?

This thought flashed through Harvey's mind. He didn't think too much about it and quickly shouted at Damir,

"Read it quickly! Repeat the spell I just said!"

“Light... Light comes from... Darkness, darkness...Surge of Light...Light!”

In fact, even without Harvey’s urging, Damir had already understood the magic of the incantation and instinctively repeated it.

He immediately felt a speck of light being born from the deepest depths of the chaotic darkness. However, when Damir wanted to take a step forward and grab hold of this light, he could not touch it no matter what.

This was because the light was just a ray of light and lacked a physical entity. Or rather, it was constantly changing. Sometimes it was an ancient spell manual, sometimes it was a middle-aged man, sometimes it was a prosperous city that he was familiar with, and sometimes it was even the shadow of a little girl.

“Emergence...Light!” “Now...Light!”

“Light...’

Damir shouted a few times, but the more he shouted, the softer his voice became. No light appeared, but Fallen Abyss ‘pitch -black hand was about to devour him.

Fortunately, another key figure had finally awakened.

“Damir.”

“If you want light to emerge from the darkness, you must first know what your light is.”

The gentle and intellectual voice swept away all the chaotic whispers in Damir’s ears when he was about to lose consciousness.

Then, a familiar Archbishop robe appeared before the young mage.

“Wake up.”

Maggie waved her hand gently, and in an instant, a flame filled with divinity burned Damir’s body. The black hand that was attached to his body didn’t have the ability to struggle at all, and was burned to ashes in the blink of an eye.

The evil aura receded like the tide, and Damir’s eyes regained clarity.

His vision was restored, and he could finally see clearly. The person standing in front of him had returned to the dignified and elegant Fire God Archbishop in his memories, Teacher Maggie.

However, Damir was not in a hurry to put on a show of a reunion between master and disciple.

Instead, he kept repeating what Maggie had just said.

“Light...What is my light...”

A middle-aged man? Damir sent the phantom flying with a kick. Was it the Fire Code City that gave birth to him? Damir shook his head. Or was it a secret manual that symbolized his desire for magic and contained endless knowledge? Damir’s heart wavered.

However, just as he thought that this was the light he was pursuing, Damir discovered that another girl’s shadow had appeared beside the shadow of the spell manual. He himself had also appeared beside it, constantly explaining the knowledge in the book to the girl.

This was the scene in Red Flame Town.

Following that, the image of the young lady not only absorbed all the knowledge in the book he taught, but also created a new spell. In the end, she protected the image of a certain old uncle, the image of Fire Code City.

“Ma...Teacher Maggie, I understand!” Damir shouted excitedly.

The young genius mage felt that he had found his light. If there was anything more tempting than a magic book, it would definitely be...A magic book with human skin that could speak!

Maggie was speechless.

“Is that so? It seems that you still have a long way to go. “Although Maggie was smiling, the corners of her mouth twitched.

“Ah! No! Oh no, teacher, since you’ve woken up, the battle outside the city needs you! “After Damir recovered, he immediately identified his priorities.

However, Maggie shook her head and said something that confused everyone present.

The archbishop was actually the incarnation of the Fire God. Maggie stood at the top of the tower and looked down at Vivian and Shirley who were still fighting. At the same time, Maggie’s eyes seemed to penetrate the void and looked at the place where someone had just escaped.

He sighed, as if he was helpless, but also had some more complicated emotions.

“Give them some time. “Maggie muttered to herself..

Chapter 152: Vivian: Little Black... So, So Big...

Phew... Not easy, not easy!

After going through so much, this incident could finally be put to an end.

The moment Liao Zixuan saw Chris hang the Focus Necklace on Maggie's neck, he was completely relieved. He no longer paid attention to it secretly and directly ran away.

The reason why he was in such a hurry to leave was that he had to show up as soon as possible to end the battle between Vivian and Shirley and hide Shirley.

Otherwise, when the Fire God woke up, he would have to settle the accounts. If he really counted Shirley in, it would be troublesome.

But in short...

Vivian, I'll do it!

Although he had only been separated from the little girl for less than a day, Liao Zixuan still missed her dearly, especially when Vivian received the upgrade power. He was almost touched to death.

If nothing unexpected happened, after this incident ended, he would definitely be able to return to a long and peaceful life, right?

In addition, the closed beta of the game had just ended, so the leeks...The players had temporarily left. Liao Zixuan decided that he must seize this leisure time and make up for it with the little girl!

As he pondered, he quickly returned to the battlefield outside the city. As for the way and appearance of his appearance, Liao Zixuan was very simple and crude.

A long wolf howl suddenly sounded.

This made Shirley and Vivian, who were still fighting in the air, subconsciously pause and stop their attacks.

Lord Hei?

She quickly bit her lower lip to punish herself. Accompanied by the bitter taste of blood and the stinging pain, a feeling of remorse and remorse rose from the bottom of Shirley's heart.

What was she doing?

Because of that pitiful jealousy in her heart, she started to fight with Lady Vivian. She almost delayed the mission given to her by Lord Black and forgot her own identity.

On the other side, Xue Li's mood was completely opposite.

Blackie?

Before the second personality who controlled the body could react, the little girl in the mental space revealed an extremely surprised expression.

Not only because of the wolf howls, but also because her long-dormant telepathy finally reacted again.

It was Little Black who was asking her to summon him.

"The other me!" Vivian shouted at the second personality who was controlling the body.

But in fact, there was no need for the little girl to rush her. The illusion of the summoning circle was already being constructed by the second personality beside Vivian in reality.

However, when the summoning circle was completed, the figure that appeared was not the familiar wolf cub that Vivian had been thinking about day and night.

Well... He couldn't say that.

That was because Little Black was still Little Black. Vivian had no doubt about that. However, Little Black's appearance had changed drastically.

The big change could be seen from Vivian's cute O-shaped mouth.

By the way, whether it was in the spiritual space or in reality, the little girl did the same thing.

"Little Black..." Alright...So great, so great, so great.

The second personality snorted. Is this really the case?

Although the second personality was still stubborn, she kept floating around Liao Zixuan's body and couldn't help but look here and there. She still betrayed her.

Although Liao Zixuan hadn't shown his true form when he fought with the Abyss Bone Dragon in the depths of the Dreadclaw Forest, it was still too big. If he really showed it, it would probably scare people to death.

However, his current height was already comparable to an ordinary ancient tree in the forest. It was about the same size as a tyrannosaurus rex in the Jurassic-era. For comparison, his original body could be compared to the main character monster in the giant beast movie.

This time, this time, it had degenerated from a sci-fi movie to a documentary.

However, even though it had shrunk its size, its natural smooth and beautiful lines, its well-defined and strong muscles, and its pleasing black fur that was obvious at a glance that it was from some noble bloodline were all difficult to look away from.

It was obviously not enough to just be handsome, because the heroic spirit emitted from his brows and the majesty revealed from his entire body made him seem like a natural wolf king.

This was the legendary forbidden monster. Putting aside its strength, just its appearance alone might not be obvious when it was in its infancy, but after it rose to its growth stage, it was enough to leave other monsters behind.

I'm so handsome!

Liao Zixuan could feel that his appearance had attracted the attention of the entire audience. He became the focus of attention and all kinds of eyes shot at him.

Liao Zixuan was looking forward to the little girl's reaction when she saw his new appearance, but when he saw it, he was almost shocked.

Vivian had already appeared beside him. Then, her little hands were caressing his soft and smooth fur, rubbing against it as if she could not bear to part with it, as if she liked it very much...

Er, toys.

In any case, this was what the second personality, who was full of queen-like qualities, thought.

Bastard! Get your dirty hands off me! There was more! Wipe the corner of your mouth! Don't show your infatuation to a random wolf!

Liao Zixuan immediately quivered and quickly distanced himself from Vivian, who was under the control of the second personality. He did not hesitate to reject the second personality's intention to ride on her.

"Humph!" The second personality snorted in extreme dissatisfaction after being rejected. It was a rare sight, and there was a rare sense of disappointment.

After all, if this was the little girl of the main personality, then Xiao Hei would definitely not reject it, right? Why couldn't he do it when it came to her? They were clearly the same person, hmph!

He was so angry!

Just wait. Sooner or later, she would ride it openly! I'll ride until you're tired!

After turning all his resentment into anger, the second personality raised the black scythe in his hand and used it as a target to vent his anger on Cher, who was flying in the air on the bone dragon.

"From the very beginning, I have been very unhappy with you. Don't tell me you think..."

"Only you have a Summoned Beast, right?"

Vivian rushed forward, and the black scythe turned into countless scythe shadows, enveloping Shirley on the back of the bone dragon. Every time this happened, the bone dragon would use its wings to protect Shirley and block the second personality's attacks, which made her very annoyed.

However, it was different this time.

Because she wasn't a person.

"Xiao Hei!" The second personality shouted.

The black wolf had long been telepathic with Vivian. It leaped beside the little girl and faced the bone dragon's defense. It took the lead and charged at it without hesitation.

Bang!

Under the tyrannical force, the skeleton dragon's skeleton coating was instantly broken. Large pieces of broken bones fell from the sky, and the dragon's painful howls echoed in the air.

Originally, after leveling up and reaching the level of a summoner, Vivian would be able to fight against two people at the same time.

Now that Liao Zixuan had joined in, the situation was one-sided.

However, just as the girl's eyes were filled with the color of tyranny, the terrifying black flame scythe was about to slash at the body of Shirley who had lost her bone dragon protection...

Something that the second personality had never expected happened.

Puchi!

Little Black did not stop after breaking the bone dragon apart. Instead, it went straight for Shirley and beat Vivian to the fatal sickle to kill Shirley first.

I ate it!

Chapter 153: Oh... So Sweet

High-end ingredients often only need to be cooked in the simplest way. In fact, they can melt in the mouth without cooking. The ingredient we're introducing today, "Shirley," is one such example.

The perfect combination of Dark Flame and the Fallen Abyss's Grand Ascension had given her a ravine that could make one's fingers drool, and it had also given her a tender and juicy body that could release molten flames with a squeeze.

Oh, look, Master Liao, who had been busy all day, was eating this unique delicacy in the world...Eh? Wait, Master Liao, what are you doing? No, don't, no! Ah!

Liao Zixuan would not really eat Shirley...Err, I take back my words. Even if I have to eat it in the future, I won't eat it in this way.

In short, this was the exit method that Xue Li had suggested.

Liao Zixuan pondered for a moment. Although it seemed a little strange, after thinking about it, there didn't seem to be anything better, so he agreed.

Therefore, he wouldn't really eat her now. Instead, he would hide her in his mouth like she was candy and find a chance to spit it out.

This was quite easy for the giant wolf, which was more than ten meters long, not to mention that Shirley herself could transform into a smaller form.

As for the only thing that made Liao Zixuan feel a little distressed, it seemed that Xue Li in his mouth was not very honest. Although he did not know what she was doing, it always made him feel itchy. He could not help but want to lick it with his tongue.

However, at the same time, on the other side, Vivian, who was still in the dark about Liao Zixuan and Shirley's little tricks, did not know.

"Xiao Hei, you!" The second personality widened his eyes.

The girl hurriedly wanted to run over and open Liao Zixuan's mouth to make him spit out Xue Li.

From the looks of it, he looked like the worried and nervous person who found out that his silly child had eaten the candy given by a stranger.

After all, in the girl's impression of Shirley, she was an evil monster condensed from filthy energy. She should not even touch such a thing, let alone eat it!

However, Liao Zixuan would never give the girl such a chance.

After pretending to chew a few times, he raised his head and swallowed before the girl arrived.

When Vivian arrived in front of her in a hurry, all that was left for the girl was the innocent and cute expression of the giant black wolf.

“You... You really ate her?” The second personality asked in disbelief.

That’s right.

Liao Zixuan pretended to be dumb and nodded.

The second personality took a few deep breaths as if she was trying to suppress the urge to beat him up. She wanted to say something but stopped herself several times. However, she seemed to feel that her relationship with Blackie was not that close. In the end, she had no choice but to roll her eyes and just let it go.

“Vivian, do it yourself!” After saying this, the second personality returned to the mental space and returned the body to the main personality.

Then, Liao Zixuan saw that the young girl opposite him, who had been acting like a little mature lady just a moment ago, had instantly disappeared. She had changed back to the gentle and lovely girl he was familiar with... Eh?

“Xiao Hei!” Liao Zixuan had never heard such a high decibel voice from the little girl.

“You— How can von eat so much!”

Is that edible?!”

Vivian, who used to speak softly and weakly without much body language, was gone.

Instead, the little girl in front of her had her hands on her hips. Her delicate eyebrows began to curl into a ball of numbness. Vivian’s thin lips were tightly pursed, and her cheeks on both sides were constantly bloated and slightly puffed up.

“We’ve only been apart for a short while, and you’ve already developed such a bad habit!”

Although the little girl opposite him was angry at him, Liao Zixuan couldn’t help but continue to be mischievous. There was no other reason.

In short, it was very cute!

Liao Zixuan suddenly felt that he had unlocked Vivian’s new expression pack.

Vivian was born with a delicate appearance, but she still tried her best to pretend to be very imposing and very scary to show that she was angry. It was really too cute!

It was really rare to see an angry young lady. He had to admire her a lot!

Therefore, Liao Zixuan deliberately tilted his head to show that he did not understand. Then, the most infuriating thing was that he even stuck out his tongue and licked his mouth in front of Vivian, as if he was still enjoying the aftertaste.

And then, the effect was indeed outstanding!

Liao Zixuan might not have learned anything else in his previous life, but he definitely maxed out on the skill of making girls angry.

“Xiao Hei, you!”

Seeing that Little Black still did not know how to repent, the little girl was so angry that she raised her hand and was about to hit him.

There were a few times when Vivian wanted to wave her hand down, but in the end, the little girl’s hand did not reach Liao Zixuan’s body. At some point, or perhaps during this pull, a large amount of hazy mist began to condense in front of the girl’s eyes.

Thud! Liao Zixuan's heart twitched.

Bad...This is bad!

I won't go too far, right?

Oh no!

He quickly used his wolf body to rub against the little girl, and then sincerely apologized to Vivian. He even took the initiative to put his big wolf head next to the little girl's white hand, as if he was going to stand up straight and be beaten..

Chapter 154: Oh... So Sweet

Unfortunately, Liao Zixuan obviously didn't fully master the skill of coaxing girls in his previous life. He even seriously suspected that he didn't even learn it.

When Blackie approached her and her palm touched Blackie's huge body, Vivian could no longer hold it in.

The girl was already covered by the mist, and her vision had become hazy. Now, it was completely submerged by the rainstorm.

It was like a dam that had opened its gates. No, it was more than just opened. It was simply washed away by the flood.

"Wow! Sob, sob, sob...Wow... Wuuuu..." The little girl wailed as if she wanted to cry all the tears in her life.

It was far from just because of the food that Liao Zixuan ate. This could only be said to be the last straw that broke the camel's back.

Ever since the two of them separated, Vivian had been under a lot of pressure alone. She was hesitant, nervous, and afraid, but she still stood up bravely.

And all these accumulated grievances were all released when Liao Zixuan returned to her side, so that the little girl finally did not have to pretend to be brave anymore. She could completely remove all her pretense and become the village girl that she originally belonged to.

Cry, cry loudly, cry in peace.

If one had to describe it, it would be like the story of the little match girl. In the story, the little girl saw her grandmother's phantom with the last match, and Vivian was found by her relatives when she was about to give up on the last match.

Yes, the reason why the little girl could not hold back her tears when she touched Liao Zixuan's body was that only the real touch from her fingertips made Vivian sure that Blackie, who seemed to have fallen from the sky, was not an illusion. It was really back.

However, how could Liao Zixuan, who had been single all his life and had never even held a woman's hand, understand the delicate and sensitive thoughts of a young girl?

So from Liao Zixuan's perspective, he saw that although he had admitted his mistake, Vivian suddenly cried even harder.

This made him anxious!

To add fuel to the fire, Vivian was used to treating Blackie as a young wolf cub and wanted to hug Blackie and cry.

But now, its size had changed greatly. The little girl hugged it several times and found that with her small body, she could not even hold Blackie's head even if she stood on her tiptoes. Such a huge difference made Vivian cry even more.

"Wuwuwu..."

"Sob... wow... wu... Wii..."

Although it was inappropriate to say it in such a touching scene, it had to be mentioned that Vivian's reaction was quite fast.

Knowing that Blackie had grown up and she couldn't hold him anymore, the little girl cried and quickly gave up the hugging posture. Instead, she threw herself onto Liao Zixuan's body and buried herself deep into the soft fur of the black wolf.

After crying for a while, Vivian finally vented all her grievances. She lifted her tear-stained face from the black wolf fur.

She whimpered and sobbed as she asked Liao Zixuan.

"Little...Little Black...Sob, sob, promise me that you won't eat anything in the future...Wu..."

"Good! In the future, we won't eat anything except the food that Vivian makes!" Liao Zixuan quickly replied.

He was really frightened by the little girl's crying.

"And... Little Black, I, I'm telling you... I've become very powerful now. Can you... Sob, sob, sob...Can you not be separated from me..."

Wahhh..."

“Without you...Scared...I’m so scared, Little Black... Wuwuwu...”

“We’re not splitting up! They would not separate even if they were beaten to death! In the future, I’ll stick to you every day. Even if you get tired of me and want to kick me away, it’s useless!”

Although Liao Zixuan had never comforted a girl before, he had never eaten a pig before, but he had seen a pig run. Even a fool would know what the girl said at this time.

“Really...Really?” Vivian sobbed.

“It’s true!”

Liao Zixuan revealed a human-like expression and even raised his wolf paw, wanting to make a pinky promise with the little girl.

In the end, something happened again.

At first, Vivian burst into laughter because of Liao Zixuan’s little action. But when the girl wanted to be serious and make a promise to never separate...

She raised her pinky to reach for Little Black. However, when she looked at Little Black’s claws that were bigger than her head and then at her own little finger, it seemed to remind Vivian of another fact that she had neglected.

Her Little Black...

He had grown up.

“Woo... Waaaaah...Little Black, you...You’ve become so big, so strong. I...

I can’t hold you. Wuwuwu...” The little girl kept wiping her tears.

She felt gratified and happy about this, but also extremely sad. She was happy because Little Black had grown up and become stronger, but sad because it was obvious that such a huge Little Black could still be by her side all the time like before.

Thinking about how she could no longer hold Blackie in her arms in the future, and how she had started to eat well, nourish her body, and work hard to develop just to give Blackie a comfortable hug, all of it was in vain. It was all gone. Vivian could not help but cry again.

What?

Teacher! I will do this question!

Liao Zixuan didn't hesitate. He started to shrink his body size. At the same time, he took the opportunity to spit out Xue Li, who had also transformed into a wolf cub.

After the light faded, she silently retreated into the distance.

What Vivian saw was Liao Zixuan, who had changed from a giant black wolf to her favorite and familiar little wolf cub form.

"Woo... Wuuuuuu...Xiao Hei!" The little girl burst into tears again.

And... Again?

But this time, Liao Zixuan had guessed wrong.

The little girl was ecstatic as she picked up the wolf cub from the ground. After rubbing it in her arms, she closed her eyes as if she was talking to Liao Zixuan, but it was more like she was muttering to herself.

"You're so nice, Xiao Hei."

“With you...That’s great, Xiao Hei...”

On the other side, in a small corner of the battlefield that no one was paying attention to.

In order to not attract attention, Shirley, who had also turned into a wolf cub, looked at the figure of Lord Black and Lady Vivian hugging each other not far away.

Then, he silently stuck out his little tongue and gently licked the wounds caused by Lady Vivian’s black scythe in the previous battle.

It hurts...

However...

Although she knew that this might be a little perverted, and if Lord Black found out, he would definitely hate her, Shirley still enjoyed it. Right now, her entire body was wet.

Especially after his tongue licked the wet parts of his body...

Mm...

So sweet..

Chapter 155: Fire God’s Descent, Purgatory Painting

After a round of passionate intimacy, Vivian finally returned to normal.

Realizing that they were still on the battlefield, she temporarily restrained her desire to go further.

“Xiao Hei, is it over?”

The little girl looked into the distance. After Xue Li was “eaten” by Xiao Hei, she lost her leader. The Fallen Abyss monster tide outside the city immediately became chaotic.

Vivian was pleasantly surprised to find that the portal, which was the culprit of this incident, was also showing signs of closing.

“Yes, it’s over.” The wolf cub in Vivian’s arms poked its head out.

However, after thinking about it, Liao Zixuan added,

“Right away.”

The portal closed. Most people, like Vivian, thought that it was because of Shirley’s death. But in fact, the real reason was that Damir and the other main storyline NPCs had successfully awakened Maggie in the Fire God Tower. That was why the portal that kept spitting out Fallen Abyss monsters was completely closed.

However, he didn’t notice it just now, but now that he came back to his senses, Liao Zixuan felt a little strange.

Since Maggie had already woken up, why wasn’t she here yet?

He had been worried that Maggie would come too quickly, so he was in a hurry to hide Shirley. If Shirley bumped into Maggie, it would be really troublesome.

But now it seemed like...

It seemed that he had overestimated Maggie's ability to move? He was already done with the little girl, but the Fire God's avatar in the human world was not here yet?

Coincidentally, before Liao Zixuan could finish complaining in his heart, a dazzling rose-red light immediately appeared from the top of the Fire God Tower.

Archbishop Maggie turned into a crimson meteor, holding the Fire God Staff and wearing the Fire God Crown of the highest authority, floating in the sky outside the city.

Even though they were thousands of meters apart, Liao Zixuan felt that Maggie, who was high in the sky, seemed to have deliberately cast her first glance at him.

The most terrifying thing was that Liao Zixuan did not know if this was his illusion or something else.

Because in that instant, he felt a consciousness hidden in Maggie's distant gaze, as if it was saying to him...

Late? Are you sure you didn't come at the right time?

Motherf * cker!

The little wolf cub immediately shivered, and its hair stood on end.

What the hell?

Was it an illusion?

He must have been thinking too much!

Otherwise, what was this called?

‘ My thoughts were eavesdropped by the Fire God?’

Also, what did he mean by ‘just right? “Ah!

Could it be that you didn’t show up before just to give me time to hide Shirley and appease Vivian?

Good lord, you seem to be controlled by Fallen Abyss, but in fact, you know everything about the situation outside, right?

Hiss...

The more she tried to comfort herself, the more she felt that something was wrong.

Liao Zixuan quickly suppressed this scary thought. This old woman shouldn’t be so powerful. Otherwise, how could she be played in the palm of Fallen Abyss?

After convincing himself to be at ease, Archbishop Maggie also made a new move.

She looked down. Even after the teleportation gate was closed, there were still many black masses of Fallen Abyss monsters left outside the city. In the direction of Red Flame Town, the evil aura pervaded the Dreadclaw Forest.

Thus, a long sigh sounded.

It rang in Liao Zixuan, Vivian, the battlefield outside the city, Fire Code City, and...In the ears of every Flame Field citizen.

In an instant, everyone felt as if time had stopped. The wind stopped, the trees stopped, everyone fell silent. All sounds disappeared, and all movements were paused.

In the entire Fire Code City, it seemed that in everyone's world, there was only the Archbishop of the Fire God Sect, Maggie, who was hanging in the sky. Then, Maggie moved her lips slightly and spat out two words.

"Divine Arrival." weng!

The loud vibration didn't come from Maggie.

Instead, it came from the Fire God Statue, one of the Nine Heavens Statues that had been standing in the center of the city for hundreds of years.

Originally, the statue had only been regarded as a landmark by the residents of the city and was usually used for worship. Under Maggie's urging, a majestic aura that had existed for a long time instantly turned into ripples that rippled into everyone's hearts, making them unable to help but kneel and worship.

Maggie's human body turned into orange-red sparks in the blink of an eye. Then, these scattered sparks began to increase exponentially and finally gathered again in just a few breaths.

In the end, they formed a statue that was exactly the same as the Fire God statue in the city. It wore a long robe and revealed a pure and fair jade-like arm. Its figure was slender and beautiful, and its face was covered by a hat. Only its fiery red lips could be seen.

Fire God.

The woman was as beautiful and pure as a flame. An unparalleled motherly glow radiated from her body as if she was the fire of life, the fire of origin. She was the first bonfire that humans could draw warmth from in the cold long night. She was the first torch that humans could use to deter and protect when they faced fierce beasts.

Fire God.

One of the only nine gods in the world of Fallen God, the ruler and guardian of the entire Flame Domain, Fire God, Alice.

The Fire God Alice's shadow pointed in the direction of the origin of the fall of the abyss, the fear claw of the forest, and the void.

"Sentence."

With just two words, the world changed color in an instant. The originally blue sky was dyed a beautiful red like the sunset, like a painting. However, in this intoxicated beauty, there was a hint of destruction mixed in. People soon found out the source of this destructive aura.

Boom!

At first, it was just a huge meteorite falling from the sky, as if it was falling from the sky at a high speed. It rolled into a huge fiery fireball and smashed straight into the ground.

However, one after another, devastating meteorites rained down on the ground. One after another, the Fallen Abyss creatures were annihilated by the huge impact without any room for resistance or struggle.

Even those who were lucky enough not to be hit by the meteorites were burned to ashes by the raging flames after they fell to the ground.

Tier 7 Super Spell, Blazing Meteor

Just one strike.

The Fallen Abyss monsters that had almost forced Fire Code City into a desperate situation, which Vivian had struggled to deal with, and which even Shirley could not fully control, were all turned into nothingness by this super magic.

With just a finger.

Harvey, Chris, Damir, and the others had all regarded the Fire Code City as a disaster. The major crisis of the city was easily resolved.

However...

It was still the same old saying.

What was the price?

Even though he was unable to move under the Fire God's attack, Liao Zixuan shook his head in his heart after witnessing everything. As expected, something was wrong with the Fire God.

Why?

Indeed, he saw the Fallen Abyss creatures being completely wiped out and the evil aura being completely wiped out.

But at the same time, he also saw the scorched black ground that had been smashed by the Fire God's supreme magic, the blazing meteors, and the huge meteors.

They saw the innocent lives that were burned to ashes by the meteorite's flames.

He also saw that the Dreadclaw Forest, which had been decayed by the Fallen Abyss, had become completely barren under the meteor shower. The originally lush green and vibrant forest had completely become history, becoming one dense crater after another.

Fire Code City, which was protected by the Fire God and protected from the meteor shower.

The tragic scene outside the Fire Code City, coupled with the rosy red sky, made people go from the beautiful sunset to...The painting of the end of hell.

If you hurt the enemy by 1,000, you will lose 800 of your own.

It could be described as such.

And this was definitely not something Fire God, one of the Nine Gods, who loved his people like his own children and was gentle and motherly, could do.

Or in other words.

With Vulcan's current control over her, this was the limit of what she could do.

Sigh...

Indeed, it was not that simple. It seemed that if he really wanted to save the Flame Region and change the ending of his previous life, he still had a long way to go...

Just as Liao Zixuan was silently thinking about this, and just as he was fervently worshipping the Fire God and hoping that the Fire God would save his people, he realized that his home had been completely destroyed. Immediately, as if a bucket of cold water had been poured on them, they were all in a daze. Just as the entire Fire Code City was immersed in a huge tragic scene...

Suddenly.

In the red dead world that had been frozen by the Fire God and rained down by meteorites, another voice sounded.

One...

Phoenix Cry.

A clear phoenix cry filled with determination resounded in everyone's ears..

Chapter 156: Eternal Flame (1)

Zhi Zhi?" "Keke! Ji... Ji ji!"

"Squeak...

In a very hidden secret tree hole, there were two fiery red birds, one big and one small.

The former's fiery red color was only the natural color of the wings and fur, but the latter's fiery red color seemed to be moving, like real balls of swaying flames.

However, this did not stop the two young birds from communicating and playing. Right now, they each had a small tree branch in their beaks. One could see that there were more broken branches on the ground around them.

Crisp chattering sounds could be heard from the tree hole, as if they were discussing something. Then, amidst these sounds, the broken branches on the ground were pieced together to form the embryonic form of a bird's nest.

However, the good times did not last long. The bird's nest had only just been built, but there were clearly not many branches left in the tree hole. There was not enough.

"Chirp Chirp." "Squeak! Squeak squeak!"

“Ji ji! Ji ji ji!”

The slightly larger red bird waved its wings at the tree hole as if it was saying goodbye. At this moment, the other red bird, which was slightly smaller but obviously extraordinary, wanted to step out of the tree hole and follow it to the outside world several times.

However, she hesitated for a few moments, but in the end, she did not dare to take this step. She could only stay at the edge of the cave and flap her wings with a slightly lonely and expectant expression.

From the looks of it, they looked very much like two children who had been dragged back by their parents after playing until evening. Then, they had agreed that they would come out to play again tomorrow.

Just like that, days passed. The bigger red bird never broke its promise. Every time, it would bring some branches from outside and come to the tree hole in the mystic realm that it had accidentally discovered.

Even though the number of branches he could pick up was limited, which made the efficiency very slow, the nest was gradually being completed over time.

However, perhaps this was a malicious joke made by life, or perhaps it was just so coincidental.

On the last day of completion...

“Huh?”

The mysterious red bird did not sleep for almost the entire night. It had been waiting by the tree hole early in the morning, waiting for the other party. However, the other red bird had not appeared at the appointed time.

As time passed, the little red bird began to become more and more anxious. It kept pacing around the edge of the tree hole. Unbeknownst to her, the temperature in the tree hole in the mystic realm seemed to have started to rise along with her emotions.

From the moment she was born, a voice told her that she could not leave this place. However, the redness on her body became more and more restless. In the end, it was as if she had really come alive and turned into a real flame. She gritted her teeth and broke through the warning in her mind. For the first time, she stepped out of the tree hole and came to the outside world.

She spread her tiny wings and began her first clumsy flight. She flew in the forest, trying to find the familiar red figure.

However, what she did not realize was that as she gradually moved her body, the redness on her body completely turned into flames. After flying over a place, she, who had yet to control her strength, would either scrape the flames on her body or stain them all over the forest.

“Ji!” Finally, she caught sight of that familiar figure. She flew towards him happily.

However...

“Squeak squeak! Squeak!” However, the other party looked at her as if she was a stranger, and then revealed fear, panic, and even fear.

It flew away in front of her as if it was escaping, leaving only broken branches on the ground and... It was the corpse of a small monster that he had hunted with great difficulty.

When she didn't understand and felt angry and wronged, she turned her head back desolately. When she saw the forest behind her that had turned into a sea of fire, she was stunned.

The trees in the sky collapsed under the flames, and the ground was set ablaze. Countless creatures in the forest fled in panic.

“Ji... Chirp... Ji ji ji... Ji!”

The more she shook her head and retreated in fear, the more unstable her emotions became. The more power seeped out of her body, and the monstrous flames seemed to devour even more forests.

At this moment, a sigh was heard.

In front of her was a hooded human woman whose appearance could not be seen clearly. Even though it was only the first time they met, the holy temperament of the other party and the motherly glow that she emitted made her not feel the slightest hostility. Even her originally fluctuating uneasiness was stabilized because of this.

“Sleep.”

“When you wake up, you will understand your own strength.

The human woman waved at her, and then she felt her eyelids start to twitch. Endless sleepiness surged up, and finally, her vision went black, and she fell into the other party's arms.

He didn't know how long he slept.

When she woke up again, she found herself back in the tree hole. The only difference was that her body was much bigger this time, and the small tree hole no longer had enough space.

Memories flooded her mind. Even though she was afraid to walk out of the tree hole and see that she had burned the outside world into a scorched forest, she still had no choice but to leave as her body grew bigger.

However, when she really walked out, what shocked her was that the lifeless wasteland did not appear in her imagination. In fact, it was the complete opposite. The forest that had been burned by her fire, after an unknown period of time, emitted a stronger vitality.

Under her flames, the giant tree in the sky had indeed fallen, but because it blocked the sunlight, it was about to die. Below it, a large area of vegetation had lost its vitality.

The ground had indeed been set ablaze, but the ashes of the fallen leaves and piles had turned into nutrients, making the land even more nutritious.

The reorganization of the ecosystem also attracted the migration of more and more monsters and beasts.

She was overjoyed at this scene. She was overjoyed, but soon, this joy slowly faded because she realized that no one could share this joy with her.

Because the only thing that hadn't changed was the fear, panic, and fear of the other demons when they saw him.

She finally realized that she was different.

"One day, I believe that you will also have companions, but not now." A familiar gentle voice rang out.

The holy and noble human woman from before appeared behind her lonely figure.

"Because before this, you have to learn to control your own power and find the meaning of your existence as a forbidden object."

"Huh?"

"Yes... You have to learn how to speak before you can walk." The mysterious woman under the hood paused for a moment before adding.

"Keke?"

"How about it? Are you willing to cultivate with me? I will teach you how to control your power, how to speak, and some basic knowledge."

“Ji... Ji ji ji!”

‘ No, no matter who it is, the ‘meaning of existence’ cannot be taught by others.

You can only rely on yourself to find it. ”

The little red bird, which was wrapped in flames, looked at the forest with reluctance for the last time and resolutely chose to fly to the shoulder of this mysterious human woman.

“Alright, from now on, you will be called... Xinyan..”

Chapter 157: Eternal Flame (3)

He recalled his first encounter with the Fire God, Aunt Alice, and recalled her childhood.

If there was anyone who could still move under the Fire God’s Time Freeze Domain, then the Forbidden Devil, Xin Yan, was one of them.

Although she and Liao Zixuan were both in the growth stage, it was obvious that she was older and stronger. She was already in the second half of the growth stage and was close to adulthood.

Just like what Fire God Alice said when she took him away, she taught her how to speak, how to control power, and even how to transform.

However, it was also because of this that Xinyan understood how powerful she was and why people called her a taboo...

After all, she could rejuvenate the dying and rejuvenate all living things in a single thought. She was synonymous with life, and her authority made countless people flock to her and yearn for her.

On the other hand, Xin Yan was getting more and more confused.

That was because, just like what the Fire God had said, the other party could not teach her what the meaning of her existence was.

However, everything changed after the summoning from Red Flame Town.

For the first time, Xin Yan felt a sense of familiarity from a human female other than the Fire God's clone and Archbishop Maggie. Although this sense of intimacy was a little distorted.

This was also the first time she had seen a unique little demon that was not afraid, panicked, or ran away when facing her.

It was her first time...Oh, no, this was not the first time, but the second time. He felt it again, just like when he was young in the tree hole, the anticipation for tomorrow.

However, it was as if life would always play a joke on her at this time.

The power of evil struck.

The human woman she wanted to get close to had gone to the battlefield to face the dangerous monsters alone.

The little monster that she had been concerned about had also disappeared.

As for her...

She was still lingering at the entrance of the tree hole, not daring to go out.

Because the experience of her childhood was a lifelong trauma to her. Even if the end result was still good, she was still afraid to release her power. After all, it was just like the word that described her, taboo. This was a power that should not have existed.

However!

Soon, when Vivian and Shirley were in a stalemate, a huge black wolf suddenly appeared. It cooperated with Vivian tacitly and finally defeated the powerful monster together...

Xin Yan felt a sense of relief and joy in her heart. At the same time, she was slightly moved as if she had grasped onto something because of this scene.

All of this finally exploded under the meteor shower of Fire God Alice and the devastated world.

Xin Yan could hear the weeping of the earth and the wails of the dead. He could feel the countless sorrowful emotions and the thick aura of death that filled the world.

She hated these things.

What she liked was the hope, excitement, and ecstasy that the black wolf brought to the people after eating Shirley. It also brought Vivian safety, warmth, and... Happiness.

Then...

Ever since he had learned how to speak, it had been a long time since Xinyan had let out a cry.

The group of players who had been following Xinyan, the big sister NPC whom they had just recognized, were all stunned by what they saw.

In the cinematic, from the perspective of the players, Vulcan's Time Freeze was like an animated cinematic. Meanwhile, the female NPC called Xin Yan beside them actually soared into the sky. Then, her body changed and began to grow larger and larger.

Previously, the players had thought that the Bone Dragon that Xue Li had summoned was already considered big enough. However, when Xin Yan revealed her Phoenix form, the players realized that they were wrong. There was simply no comparison between the two.

If the world outside the Fire God Meteorite Rain was a painting of purgatory, then at this moment, a Divine Fire Phoenix that occupied a third of the sky in the painting appeared.

After Xin Yan spread her wings, the originally huge Fire Code City seemed to have turned into a toy in front of her. It was completely shrouded in the shadow of the phoenix feathers.

The true, cloud-blocking, and empty-blocking,

Soon after, Xin Yan moved. She soared through the air and streaked across the horizon. As she moved, large amounts of flames fell from her phoenix body onto the devastated land.

It was completely different from Liao Zixuan's dark flame, which had a destructive aura.

The flames that enveloped Xin Yan's body were extremely translucent, like the purest flames in the world.

She flew past Fire Code City...

After the phoenix flame landed on the ground, although it could not restore the ground that had been smashed into a hole, it miraculously revived the vegetation that had died under the meteorite fire and began to grow crazily.

She flew past a large number of corpses and dying monsters...

It allowed the innocent lives that were affected by the meteorites to rebuild their physical bodies. This included the original Fallen Abyss monsters. Their flesh and blood that had been drained by the Fallen Abyss recovered at a speed visible to the naked eye. The violent and chaotic aura also disappeared without a trace under the flames, returning to their normal appearance.

She flew past the Forest of Dreadclaw...

As the origin of the Fallen Abyss and the place that suffered the most from the meteor shower, the Dreadclaw Forest, which had long been smashed into a depression, actually had spring water gushing out from the ground. In the blink of an eye, it filled the crater and turned into a vast lake. New trees grew crazily on both sides of the lake, forming a new young forest.

If the Fire God's transcending magic brought about destruction...

Then, when Xinyan's Divine Phoenix spread its wings and soared, it brought life.

The countless villagers who had their homes destroyed, especially those who depended on the Dreadclaw Forest for food, had their dull eyes lit up once again. The residents of Fire Code City were also delighted to see that the land outside the city could once again be green. The scenery was even more pleasing to the eye than before, and it was full of vitality. Of course, it was still the same sentence.

What was the price?

As Xin Yan sprinkled the phoenix flames on her body onto the destroyed land, it was as if an equivalent exchange had been made. The land regained its exuberant vitality, but the originally boundless vitality in Xin Yan's body was rapidly draining away.

The most obvious change was that every time Xinyan flew a mile, her body would shrink accordingly.

The huge phoenix that could originally cover the entire Fire Code City became smaller and smaller in Liao Zixuan's vision.

In the end, she disappeared into the horizon and fell in the Dreadclaw Forest... Oh, no, it should be called the Lake of Dreadclaw now.

It was over.

It was completely over.

Along with Xin Yan, the Fire God's projection in the sky above the Fire Code City also disappeared, as well as the clone of the Fire God, Maggie.

People realized that they could finally move. Everyone who had survived the disaster hugged each other and cried. Many refugees outside the city knelt down to express their gratitude.

He had to sacrifice an Archbishop and a forbidden monster to protect Fire Code City and the surrounding ecosystem from Fallen Abyss.

This was how terrifying Fallen Abyss was.

However, Liao Zixuan knew that this was only the prologue to everything. It was just the tip of the iceberg.

Sigh...

He shook his head and stopped thinking about it. It was time to go back and enjoy this hard-earned peaceful life.

But at this moment...

The wolf cub, Vivian who was holding him, and Shirley who was licking her wounds in a corner suddenly realized that their world...

It was paused again.

Then, flames rose from under their feet. Before they could react, their vision blurred.

When his vision was restored...

What Liao Zixuan saw was no longer the Fire Code City that they had just been outside. Instead, it was a vast and clear lake. It was the Fire God's clone, Archbishop Maggie, who was standing opposite them and should have collapsed.

And...

In the palm of this old woman, a weak little head poked out. It was filled with curiosity, as if it was seeing the outside world for the first time...

A bright red nestling.

Chapter 158: Heart of God? 1

"Xinyan, don't worry." Maggie used her fingers to gently press down on the nestling in her palm, pressing it back down.

On the other side.

Xin Yan?

This name wasn't...

In Vivian's mind, the figure of a red-haired girl appeared, and Maggie's voice sounded again.

"I brought you here without permission because I have something to say to you in private.

"I hope you don't mind...Of course, after that, I will send everyone back to the Fire Code City.”

After a simple explanation.

Margie was the first to look at the girl in front of her. After recognizing her identity, she was very cautious at this moment, and her cute little face was tightly tensed.

Hello, Vivian.” The archbishop smiled and warmly greeted the little girl.

On the other hand, the other party exclaimed in shock.

This was because Vivian did not expect that the legendary Archbishop of the Fire God Cult, a super big shot who was at the top of the pyramid in terms of reputation and strength in Fire Code City and even the entire Fire Domain, would actually remember her name.

But soon, the little girl realized that she had lost her composure, and her little face instantly turned even redder.

She hurriedly tried to salvage the situation, but in the end, she held it in for a long time, and in the end, she only stuttered out three words.

“You... Hello.”

God, you too! It came from the helpless complaints of the little wolf cub who was about to die in the little girl’s arms.

On the other hand, Maggie’s face was filled with helplessness when she saw Vivian’s uneasy appearance in front of her.

“Oh? So I’m that scary? Even Vivian, the great hero who had single-handedly blocked the Dark Wave and protected Fire Code City from the Fallen Abyss, was afraid?”

Big... The great hero Vivian...

Maggie was joking, but she almost sent the little girl away.

Liao Zixuan was sure that if this was an anime, then Vivian would be like a boiling kettle at this moment.

“Alright, Vivian, I’ll be straightforward.”

Maggie wanted to chat more to improve their relationship. This was what she had learned from human social interaction, but seeing Vivian like this, she was afraid that she would faint if she spoke more.

Looking straight into the little girl’s eyes, Maggie asked word by word,

“You... Do you want to be the Fire God?”

After Maggie’s words that could scare people to death, the scene suddenly fell into silence.

Not to mention Vivian, even Liao Zixuan, the wolf cub in her arms, looked petrified.

“Put down the demonic creature in your arms first. It just so happens that Xinyan is also suffocating. Let the two of them stay together.”

Maggie released her grip.

Previously, when it was pressed back, it was listless. Because it did not understand what these people were saying, the little red nestling that was sticking its butt out and lying listlessly suddenly became energetic.

After being released, Xinyan’s body fluttered up and down in the air.

As if there was some kind of connection between them, the little chick landed directly on the ground and was also placed in front of the wolf cubs by Vivian.

“Huh?” Xin Yan tilted her little head and curiously sized up Liao Zixuan, this demon that was emitting the same aura as her.

As expected, a forbidden monster would not die so easily, let alone a phoenix that was known for its vitality.

He lowered his head and glanced at the silly little bird below...

It seemed that after exhausting his strength, he had returned to the furnace to be reborn. To put it in a more beautiful way, he had been reborn.

If it had been Xin Yan, who had the Divine Phoenix Spreading its Wings previously, Liao Zixuan might have paid more attention to fawning with him.

But now...

Liao Zixuan quickly looked away and focused. Compared to a silly chick, he was more concerned about what Maggie wanted to do to Vivian and what she was up to.

However...

“Keke?” Seeing that the little wolf cub was ignoring her, Xin Yan tilted her head even more. She barked twice again in an attempt to attract Liao Zixuan’s attention.

“He ignored her.

“Roar!”

Seeing that Xin Yan was about to call out for the third time, the wolf cub finally could not take it anymore. It directly faced the nestling and bared its teeth as it growled.

The effect was remarkable.

It was obvious that this had given Xinyan a fright. The little nestling instinctively soared into the air until it was more than ten meters away from the wolf cubs. When it saw that the other party was not chasing after it, it dared to stop and land. It patted its chest with its little wings in a human-like manner, revealing a small expression of fear.

On the other side, while Liao Zixuan and the little chick were busy, Maggie continued to speak.

“Come here, child.”

“Stay closer to me.”

The archbishop opened his arms and embraced the human body of the Fire God.

Although Vivian didn't quite understand, she still obediently approached him.

At the same time, there was also a certain nestling that was doing the same thing as the little girl. However, Xinyan was approaching Liao Zixuan. She was even more cautious and careful, using her little feet to test the waters as she slowly moved.

After all, Xinyan was still a child after the reformat. The only thing that she was interested in was the little wolf cub that had transformed into a childish form.

Liao Zixuan naturally noticed that Xinyan was up to no good again, but as long as he did not make any noise, he could not be bothered to care.

In the end, when he did not care, the little chick became more and more courageous.

Xinyan had learned her lesson. She kept her mouth shut and did not make a sound, but her body did not stay idle. Like a curious baby, she poked the wolf cub on one side and poked it on the other.

In the end, she flew to the top of the wolf cub's head. After finding the softest and most comfortable fur, she folded her wings, stuck her little butt out, and lay down beautifully. Then, she stuck her head out and imitated Liao Zixuan. Although she did not understand anything, she also looked at Maggie and Vivian not far away, pretending to pay attention to them.

Finally, when Vivian walked up to Maggie, Liao Zixuan finally understood why Maggie wanted the little girl to put him down.

That was because...

"Come, reach out your hand to me. "Maggie's tone was calm as she looked at her chest.

Vivian was speechless.

"Do as I say first, and I will explain to you later.

Facing Vivian's confused eyes, Maggie shook her head and opened her arms again.

Hiss...

Vivian did not understand, but Liao Zixuan, who was a wily old fox, saw the familiar posture and combined it with Maggie's previous words. He gasped.

No way!

Was this old woman serious?

Amami! Stop it! This is something you wanted to leave for Damir! I was just saying that before. I didn't ask you to really give it to me!!

Liao Zixuan was screaming in his heart. At this moment, above his head, Xinyan was playing an imitation game. Although the little chick could not understand his feelings, it immediately imitated the little wolf cub below and pretended to be shocked. It even looked in the direction of Maggie and Vivian and took a deep breath. It looked... Uh, alright, very funny.

"Still... Do you want to continue?"

Vivian looked at her hand. It was almost touching Maggie, but she had no intention of stopping.

Maggie didn't say anything, but nodded.

Weng!

The touch she had imagined did not happen. When Vivian's hand continued to move forward until it touched Maggie's chest, a ripple spread from the point of contact.

Vivian's hand passed through Maggie's body without any resistance.

He had entered...Within the archbishop's body..

Chapter 159: Smash it for me!_1

"Don't... Don't touch..."

Maggie's breathing was originally stable, but Vivian's hand reached into her back. Suddenly, it became chaotic, and her speech was also panting, a little intermittent.

The archbishop, who was originally full of intellectual and elegant aura, followed Vivian's hand to stir in his body... As she moved, a few blushes appeared on her holy and beautiful face.

It was as if the original green lotus had turned into a half-ripe apple, and it had a different kind of charm.

Err...

Wasn't the focus a little off?

* Cough cough *

"Yes... I'm sorry!" Vivian quickly blushed and apologized.

However, the little girl's panic caused her to lose her balance.

When it came to Archbishop Maggie, she immediately let out a rare cry. Her voice was soft and numb, and Maggie's expression changed from a half-ripe apple to a well-cooked apple.

"Again... Further in."

"Yes, it's... It's here, you should... I feel it too, take it...Take it out from the [Heaven]."

Maggie gritted her teeth, not letting herself make any more strange sounds. At the same time, she guided the nervous little girl.

Finally...

"This... What is this?"

When Vivian pulled her hand out of Maggie's body, the little girl was immediately stunned when she saw what she had taken out.

It was a piece of red crystal that emitted a holy light. The light was dazzling and charming, as if one would be deeply attracted by it with just a glance.

No, that's not right...

It should be said that it only looked like a crystal on the surface.

As the person who had direct contact with it, Vivian felt it the most.

Because Vivian felt that the 'crystal' was vibrating. No...It was beating.

It was jumping around like a living thing. Although the movement was very small, the little girl could still catch it. The crystal was retracting and releasing, just like, just like...

A heart.

" This was given to me by the Fire God, given to all the previous archbishops... God's Heart." Maggie's words confirmed Vivian's guess.

" The person who obtains it will automatically be promoted to an archbishop and obtain a portion of the Fire God's authority and power, becoming the Fire God's spokesperson.

'Moreover, when necessary...'

Maggie paused, as if she was resting.

After the God's Heart was taken away, it could be seen that her aura had weakened significantly. She was panting non-stop, and even her body was swaying as if she could not stand steadily.

After a while, Maggie said to the little girl in front of her,"

"If necessary, you can even use it to...Becoming a Fire God, you saw it too, just like me.

Maggie's words were accompanied by the bright light of the red crystal, making it difficult for Vivian to look away from the crystal in her hand.

"God's Heart, become... Fire God..."

The little girl muttered to herself.

The longer Vivian was in contact with the red crystal, the more overwhelmed she was with the Heart of God. Instead, it was as if she was more and more attracted to the sacred temperament on it.

Yes, the Heart of God.

As long as it was placed into one's body, one would be able to obtain the power of the gods and grasp supreme authority. There was no one in the world who would not be tempted by it.

It was as if a whisper was echoing in Vivian's mind.

It was just like money dropped by the roadside. The money just stayed there quietly, but the value of the money itself naturally brought endless attraction to it. It made people unconsciously want to reach out and pick it up and put it in their pockets.

At this moment, Vivian, or rather, everyone who faced the Heart of God was the same.

The second personality in the mental space saw Vivian sinking deeper and deeper. She shouted anxiously, trying to wake up the little girl, but Vivian was still indifferent. Her eyes stopped on the red crystal in her hand and could not move away.

Just as the little girl was about to involuntarily, or rather, subconsciously draw the Heart of God closer to her body...

“However, I have to remind you of something. “Margie spoke again.

“Once you accept the Heart of God and become... Fire God, let’s not talk about the responsibilities you have to shoulder. Your original profession will be erased at the same time.

“This means that you will no longer be able to become a Summoner.” Thump!

It was as if a heavy hammer had struck Vivian’s heart. The little girl’s eager eyes towards the Heart of God temporarily regained some clarity.

And that was enough.

That was because...

[Vivian, there’s something wrong with that stone...]

[Vivian, can you hear me? Vivian?]

[Hey! Wake up! You haven’t heard her say, you’ve become a Vulcan, you’re no longer a summoner!

[Don’t tell me you... Do you want to abandon and separate from your Little

Black? Vivian!]

The second personality was furious in his mind, and his voice was almost hoarse from shouting. Finally, he took this opportunity to pass it on to Vivian.

“No, no, no. I don’t want to!”

“We have an appointment...We have to be together forever!”

Like a ship that was about to be lost in the middle of the night, Vivian suddenly saw a lighthouse that shone from afar. She tried her best to shout in her heart.

Hearing the little girl’s inner thoughts, the second personality was instantly delighted. However, she did not relax. Instead, she continued to shout desperately,

[Since you want us to be together with Xiao Hei forever, then don’t listen to that stinky woman!

[So, now, immediately, immediately!]

[Give me the broken stone in your hand... Throw it away! Vivian!]

“Good!”

Vivian, who was completely awake for a short time, emptied her mind and did not think about anything, because she was afraid that if she thought about it, she would be tempted by the Heart of God again.

In this world, the two people that Vivian trusted the most, other than Little Black, were the other self in her body.

Therefore, she followed the second personality’s instructions and wanted to throw the red crystal away.

But...

“The other me, the me in reality...I can’t do it, it’s like... It’s like it’s stuck to my hand...”

Of course, the Heart of God didn’t have stickiness.

This was only Vivian’s subjective consciousness, which was competing with her subconscious mind that was affected by the Heart of God. As a result, even if Vivian was awake, she could not fully control her body and abandon the Heart of God.

However...

[You...] Sigh, I really can’t do anything to you!]

[Let’s go together!]

The second personality in the mental space rolled up his sleeves angrily as he spoke.

‘ En, another one, me, we’re together! “The little girl nodded fiercely. [I’m going to smash your stupid thing today!]

“Old Brew...Smash... Smash it!” She wanted to learn the second personality’s words to cheer herself up, but because the lines were too domineering for a little girl, Vivian only learned the last two words.

However, it has nothing to do with the great cause.

She looked exactly like the little girl, but wilder and more valiant. The other her in a black dress, black socks, and black boots appeared behind Vivian.

The shadow behind him was close to the little girl’s palm in reality.

The two of them made a gesture of swinging their arms down in unison.

Give me...

Smash!

Shua!

The Heart of God fell from her palm. Then, under the little girl's forceful arm, not only did it fall off, but it also smashed fiercely onto the ground.

Immediately after, a dull thud was heard.

It could be said that the Heart of God, which was regarded as a treasure by countless people, had come into close contact with the ground.

However, this was not the end.

Because the voice continued.

It's almost a second of the next one.

After the "Dong" sound ended, a crisp and pleasant sound..

Kacha..

Chapter 160: Who Can Refuse a Cute Loli?_I

A few tiny cracks that were hard to detect with the naked eye climbed up and fell on the surface of the red crystal on the ground.

However, no matter how subtle it was, it was still a crack.

Liao Zixuan, who had witnessed the whole process, opened his mouth wide. He rubbed his eyes with his paws in disbelief.

After that, Xinyan and the nestling that landed on his head immediately followed suit and opened their beaks wide, wanting to rub their eyes with their little wings.

Unfortunately, Xinyan was only halfway done when a strong gust of wind almost blew her away.

This made the little nestling quickly put down its wings, its claws tightly grasping the fur on Liao Zixuan's head like a trench. After burying its body, it dared to reveal its two small eyes in panic, looking at the red crystal on the ground in front of it that was faintly beginning to riot.

The Heart of God contained an incomparably large amount of Fire God's power. Even if it leaked out a little, it would cause an unimaginable impact.

In an instant, with the red crystal on the ground as the center, the power flowing out of the crack turned into a powerful airflow, causing the entire area around the Dreadclaw Lake to change color.

The surrounding temperature began to rise rapidly, and a large area of the lake turned into steam, causing the water level of the entire Lake of the Dreadclaw to drop layer by layer. The situation of the newborn forest around the lake was also not good. There were more and more sporadic flames, as if they would become a monstrous fire in the next second.

But fortunately, he was still alive.

Seeing that the leaking Divine Power was about to cause a substantial disaster, Archbishop Maggie acted in time.

She grabbed the air with her hand, and the Heart of God that fell at Vivian's feet immediately turned into a red light and flew back into Maggie's body.

The violent airflow came to an abrupt stop with the disappearance of the God's Heart. However, he still couldn't relax at this point. After all, the source had been stopped, but there was still the God's Energy that had already seeped out.

After retrieving the Heart of God, Maggie's previous dispirited look was swept away, and she returned to the holy and dazzling look she had when she first met everyone.

She raised her left hand and pointed at the forest by the lake.

The flames that were about to spread out magically fused into the vegetation and became a part of it. In the blink of an eye, the color of the green leaves became darker and darker, finally turning into a fiery red color. If one were to look carefully, one would be able to see the veins on the leaves that were like burning flames.

The ordinary forest was transformed by the Fire God's power in an instant, turning into a large maple forest after autumn. It was a magnificent scene.

However, this was not the end.

Maggie waved her right hand again, this time towards the Lake of Dreadclaw.

The water vapor that had evaporated on the surface of the lake returned to the surface of the lake as if it had been poured back.

"Alright... So beautiful..."

Girls were born to love beauty, and Vivian was no exception. The little girl was instantly mesmerized by this new and earth-shattering scene.

“This is still daytime. If it was nighttime, it would be even more beautiful.”

Indeed, one of the biggest differences between the Fire Mangroves that had absorbed divine power and the ordinary maple trees was that they could continue to glow at night, and it was even more so for the Lake of Dreadclaw.

It was not difficult to imagine what a dream-like scene it would be like to see the forest swaying in the dark night sky and the lake surrounded by multicolored light.

Liao Zixuan was certain that this place would become a sacred place for players, no, even the aborigines of the Flame Field, to confess their love for him in the future!

After all, looking at the atmosphere and environment, no girl could resist the male’s attack under such a beautiful scene!

NO!

Good! Liao Zixuan decided that he would marry a wife here in the future! He made a small boat on the lake, and then the two of them snuggled up to each other in the wooden boat in the dead of night. They held hands, looked up at the moon and stars, looked down at the lake, and looked into the distance at the forest of sparks. The atmosphere was perfect, and the woman’s face was red. Then he took the opportunity to touch her up and down, and finally fell into the boat, making creaking sounds.

The little wolf cub had an intoxicated expression on his face, and there was a hint of anticipation at the corner of his mouth. As for the little chick on his head, Xin Yan could not learn to be intoxicated. This was too difficult for her, but she could still drool with an expectant expression.

However, Liao Zixuan, who had recovered from his dream, looked at the little chick who was drooling at him with disdain.

“Don’t even think about it. I won’t look for you even if I’m looking for a wife.

I'm not interested in birds. "

If it was the Phoenix Queen from his previous life, who had an extremely hot personality and figure, Liao Zixuan could still consider a wolf riding a phoenix or something, but now...

The wolf cub used its claws to pull Xin Yan, who was still in his nestling form, to the side.

Although the phoenix that was reborn only temporarily lost its power and was reborn, it could grow at a speed several times faster than before until it returned to its original state.

But...

No matter how fast it was, if it wasn't for Liao Zixuan who used the players like leeks, it would take ten years to reach the threshold of transformation.

And by then, hehe, the daylily would be long gone!
