Chapter 241: Soul Ascension, Doctor Who

The venomous snake in the container widened its eyes. The dark green liquid around it bubbled crazily.

He had never expected that the Death Crow, who had always had no desires and only did things for the treasure thieves, would suddenly do such an extreme move.

“Countess Sisre’s funeral!

“It was that time. Do you still remember?”

Viper said anxiously.

He was afraid that if he was any slower, the dead crow would crush his brain.

He really crushed his brain.

“I’ve never betrayed the treasure group and joined other forces. It’s just that, at the funeral morgue, a guy from the Winter Kingdom came looking for me!

Viper’s eyes revealed a look of recollection.

This was really an old thing from many years ago. At that time, he was not the leader of the Snake Clan, and alchemy technology had not been born yet.

With Viper's identity at that time, he naturally could not have attended the funeral as a guest. He was only a pharmacist who handled the Countess's body. This was also the first time Viper had come into contact with the concept of a magic puppet.

The Countess's body might be able to fool others, but it could not fool him, who had already begun to study the human body.

Viper was shocked to find that the corpse was not the Madam herself, or even a human being. It was only similar in appearance.

Viper didn't care why the Earl faked his wife's death or where the real Earl's wife went. He was only amazed by this imitation technique.

It was also at this time that a person who claimed to be a " doctor " appeared and applauded the viper's keen observation skills.

The two of them had an intersection, and Viper was surprised to find that the other party had also done a lot of research on the " human body much deeper than him.

However, the only difference between them was the direction of their research on the human body.

" I had a lot of discussions with him. That fellow even wanted to invite me to the Winter Kingdom, but I rejected him because we had a serious difference in philosophy. I pursued mutation, but he pursued...It's ascension."

"Ascension?" Death Crow interrupted.

"Yes, it means that the soul ascends and is separated from the physical body, no longer bound by the physical body. The magic puppet was born under this concept. "

He invited me to the Winter Country by sending my soul to ascend. He asked me to upload my consciousness to something called the 'Magic Web' within his organization. In less than half a day, I would be able to instantly travel from the Flame Domain to the distant Winter Country, which was thousands of miles away. This is the convenience of breaking free from the shackles of my physical body."

In order to convince me, he even specially made me this magic puppet body that looks exactly like me. As an anchor point, even if my soul goes to the Winter Country, I can 'load' it into this magic puppet body at any time and return to the Flame Domain."

After hearing Viper's explanation, which was not fake at all, Death Raven withdrew his hand from the brain container.

This made Viper heave a sigh of relief.

"Now do you understand, dead crow? I've never betrayed the treasure thieves. I just didn't want to waste this magic puppet, so I created this machine and borrowed the inspiration of that doctor to temporarily separate my soul from my body and store it in my spare brain.

"You're really a genius and a venomous snake." Death Crow nodded, and there was a hint of admiration in his tone.

This was true. Although the appearance of alchemical technology was very unacceptable, such as the current human brain container, it was really practical.

No wonder that doctor valued poisonous snakes so much.

"Oh, right! I also remember now, dead crow, if you're interested in that doctor, you can go find a tailor shop, I think it's called... Nina or something."

"Because before the doctor left, he said that if I change my mind, I can go there to find him. He also made a copy of his physical magic puppet and gave it to the stupid boss who made his clothes."

The man in the crow mask paused for a few seconds as if he was recalling something before he said with uncertainty, "Are you sure? I remember that it was a female magic puppet?"

Because Viper kept calling the doctor "him" '

"Eh? Dead Crow, you already know about this?!?"

He was once again shocked by the terrifying intelligence ability of the leader of the Raven Clan.

Viper corrected his mistake.

"A female magic puppet? So that doctor was indeed a woman?... Uh, sorry, in my eyes, gender doesn't matter, right? I believe that the doctor is the same.

"I see. I understand.'

After a moment of silence, Death Raven took out a coat of arms that exuded an ancient aura.

"Viper, if you want to improve your alchemy technology and find the person who killed you, it's impossible for you to look like this unless you're willing to accept it. "Stupid crow, what, what is this?"

"Stigmata."

The Death Raven still had a calm tone, but his attitude was full of respect. It was not respect for the poisonous snake, but for the coat of arms in his hand.

"You can think of it as a sacred object that has been passed down for hundreds of years. Whoever successfully absorbs the Stigmata will automatically become the absolute leader of the entire Treasure Thief Gang."

“Wait a minute! Dead Crow, what did you just say? A few hundred years? Isn’t our Treasure Thief Guild only a few decades old?”

Chapter 242: Soul Ascension, Doctor Who (2)

Viper was extremely surprised.

The dead crow shook his head.

“I can’t tell you too much now. You have to accept it and become the true leader of the treasure thieves.

“You only need to know that the Stigmata can help you, who has nothing now, get everything you want.

“Viper, what is your choice?”

Viper hesitated for a moment, but he was quickly overwhelmed by his enthusiasm. Alchemy technology was his blood and sweat. He saw the possibility of a major breakthrough, but he became like this...

No one could be crazier than a mad scientist.

But reason still allowed Viper to ask.

“Dead Crow, there must be conditions for absorbing the Stigmata. What happens if I fail?”

“The conditions are very simple. It’s just like rolling dice. You only need to roll the same pattern twice from the animal patterns of each division of the Treasure Thief Gang. If you fail to roll the same pattern, the Stigmata will turn around and devour you, becoming a part of it. In short...Die.”

Death Crow was like an outsider or a supervisor, explaining the rules of the game to the participants.

Viper immediately calculated in his heart.

The Treasure Thief Gang had a total of four divisions: Snake, Tiger, Fox, and Crow. If the same pattern was used twice in a row, the probability was...A quarter!

25% was already considered a very high number!

It was like a person who was on the verge of bankruptcy. Even if there was a 90% chance that he would die if he pressed the button, as long as there was a 10% chance that he would be given 10 billion, most people would still press the button.

Moreover, it was not the 9th of September.

“Come on!”

Viper nodded at Death Crow. He believed in his luck. After all, his luck had always been good.

“Alright.”

After the Death Crow nodded, the ancient text in his hand floated up under the urging of a mysterious power and began to fuse into the body of the poisonous snake in the container.

At the same time, two golden dice floated in the air.

He had the aura of a thief.

It was about to begin!

Viper held his breath and focused, but the next second, he was stunned.

This was because the faces of the die were so densely packed that it was impossible to count them clearly!

“You!”

Viper’s eyes were about to split open.

There were more than two digits, no, there were probably more than three digits of different patterns. There were rats, bears, sparrows, and cows that the poisonous snake had never seen before...

It was far more than what he had imagined, the Treasure Robbing Guild only had four animal patterns.

He wanted to be consistent twice in a row.

This probability...It was no different from courting death!

Viper wanted to roar at the Death Crow angrily, but the Stigmata Ceremony had already begun. He could do nothing but watch as the die with countless faces in the Stigmata began to be thrown.

After that.

“It’s a pity, Viper. It seems that you’re far from becoming the leader of the Treasure Thief Group...He still lacked a little bit of luck.

The man under the crow mask shook his head and sighed.

Just as he finished speaking.

He let out a miserable cry.

Countless white lights floated out of the poisonous snake's body. They were the substances that symbolized the origin. After all of them were absorbed by the stigmata, the scene returned to silence.

The liquid in the container that was still bubbling calmed down. As for the container that contained the venomous snake's brain, the brain tissue inside also withered.

Viper, the representative of alchemy technology, had completely disappeared this time.

However, alchemy technology did not.

That was because the dead crow looked down and returned to the ancient coat of arms in his hand. The originally blank corner had an additional pattern that was the symbol of the venomous snake alchemy technology.

The entire process was extremely familiar to Death Crow, as if it had been repeated countless times.

After putting away the emblem and the Stigmata.

The dead crow sighed again.

It had been hundreds of years...

Could there really be someone with such luck? Were the rules left behind by the ancestors of the treasure thieves really correct?

The dead crow did not know.

It was as if he had fallen into a memory. After a long time, he transformed into a crow and disappeared.

The sun was shining brightly. It was a new day.

No matter what happened last night, the sun rose the next day as usual.

A beautiful day started from drawing cards!

The wolf cub rubbed its paws.

He originally had three Character Summon Cards. Last night, he had used up

Bai's "Forbidden Demon Body" Summon Card. He was left with Vivian's Lucky Halo "Summon Card and Shirley's "Fallen Abyss Affinity" Summon Card.

My turn, draw card!

[Ding! You have obtained "Xinyan's Summon Card-Nirvana"]

[Card Effect: When your HP drops to 1%, all negative statuses will be removed and 50% HP will be recovered.]

F * ck!

A card with a picture of a fiery phoenix egg in hot lava was floating in front of the wolf cub.

This feeling is like drawing an SSR

Yes!

There were five chances to draw a card every day. Liao Zixuan did not expect that he would be able to get the first card.

Looking at the four cards left, he felt a little regretful. There was no other way. There were no more card slots left. The maximum number of cards he could store was three.

In fact, Liao Zixuan had thought about whether he should reset Vivian's "Lucky Aura" card. After all, it seemed that the effect was not as significant as the others.

Unfortunately, the Character Summon Card couldn't be used on him. He might as well add the BUFF of "Lucky Halo" to draw the card. Wouldn't he be able to take off easily then?

As for Xue Li's Fallen Abyss Affinity Card...

At first, Liao Zixuan was still worried about where to use it, but after last night, especially after discovering Count Sisre's shocking secret...

Liao Zixuan felt that he had found the most suitable candidate.

He had to change his strategy and cast a long line to catch a big fish.

Since he wanted to fish, he naturally needed bait.

Suddenly, a voice came from behind him, making Liao Zixuan almost explode.

"Little Black, a lot of things happened last night..." Vivian's faint voice sounded.

He instantly became alert.

Fortunately, after breakfast, Vivian was holding a morning newspaper in her hand. The little girl was obviously talking about the incident in the newspaper.

* Cough cough *

Vivian cleared her throat.

He continued to read.

“A huge explosion occurred in the outer Urban area. The cause is suspected to be a illegal drug factory privately established by an organization. It was caused by improper safety. The city guards said that they have controlled the fire disaster and are fully investigating.

“Xiao Hei, what are you doing?”

Vivian carried her wolf cub on her lap.

The little girl pointed at the news in the newspaper and blinked.

“This bunch of illegal pharmaceutical factories are too wicked! Serves you right for exploding!”

The wolf cub waved its paws to express its anger.

“What about this one, Xiao Hei?”

Vivian pointed at the newspaper again with her little finger, and then there was another piece of news after the biggest piece of news.

“A small-scale explosion and fire occurred in the inner Urban area. The cause is currently unknown. Many shops were destroyed. The city guards have already intervened in the investigation and must find out the cause!

The most ridiculous thing was that this report was accompanied by a set of pictures.

It was a noble kneeling in front of a shop with many of the goods in the display windows destroyed. He was crying his heart out.

In particular, the shop that was in the middle of the fight between Liao Zixuan and the maid had been completely flattened. Not even a speck was left.

Look at that noble's dumbstruck expression.

Although there were no words, it was better than words.

It was as if he was saying.

Where's my shop?

I've always been here. It's such a big shop!?

By the way.

This noble's image was a little indecent. There were all kinds of bruises on his face, making him look like a pig's head.

He even spent a lot of money to add a bounty mission beside the report.

The general idea was that he would give a large sum of money to anyone who could find the real culprit who destroyed his shop, even if it was just to provide clues.

It could be seen that this noble's nose was crooked from anger.

Oh, his nose was already crooked from being hit by the stolen treasure group, so it was fine.

“Xiao Hei...”

Vivian lifted the wolf cub, who looked like he didn't know anything, in front of her.

“Next...Sigh, we have to work hard to earn money to pay off our debts before we leave Fire Code City..”

Chapter 243: Miss Liz Wants to Summon Too! 1

Vivian looked at the little dress on the bed in front of her.

“We're going to the banquet tonight. This is a dress I wore when I was a child. I accidentally found it when I got up this morning to try it on. I thought it suited you, Vivian, so I brought it over.

Liz used her palm to stroke her golden hair as she casually explained.

Elina, the maid next to Vivian, looked at the young lady who did not mean what she said. She wanted to speak a few times, but she swallowed her words.

“Really good.” It's so suitable. Thank you so much, Liz!

After Vivian picked up the dress, she measured it in front of the mirror in the room and found that it fit perfectly.

Whether it was the length or the size, or the style of the clothes that were completely wrapped in the upper body.

It wasn't that the little girl had never worn formal aristocratic gowns before, but firstly, they weren't as "petite" as hers. Most of them were loose and draggy when she wore them, making it difficult for her to walk.

Secondly, it was probably because he was born in the countryside and had a conservative personality.

Vivian could not accept the style of a noble's dress. The upper half of the body was exposed, and only a few important parts were covered with thin fabric.

This made her feel especially insecure.

The little girl still liked the feeling of being wrapped up in a nestle.

"Oh... This dress is really new. It's like, it's like it's newly bought. Liz, have you really worn it before?"

Vivian touched the delicate silky fabric of the dress.

As a little girl who often mended clothes, Vivian could feel that there was no trace of wear on the skirt.

While she was amazed that the things used by the city people were indeed of higher quality than those used in the countryside, she was also very curious about another matter.

"And... So, Liz, you, you also had this kind of figure..." Vivian looked at her shriveled upper body.

"Ahem...Well, yes, yes, so I won't be able to wear it soon, so I've been idling in the closet. That's why it looks so new, right? Yes, that's right..."

"Really? That's great!"

After Liz's stuttering explanation, Vivian's face revealed a particularly happy smile.

The reason was simple.

She, Liz, had grown from a small bun to a big watermelon.

Then why couldn't she, Vivian?

Was she inferior to others?

In the past, the little girl was not confident. She thought that no matter how much she ate, she would be born like this and could not change.

But now, Liz had given Vivian a lot of confidence!

After all, there was a living success story in front of him.

As expected, as long as he stabilized his growth, he could turn the tables the day after tomorrow!

"Hey, hehe..."

Seeing that Vivian was baffled, her little dimples suddenly kept popping up.

There was a look of confusion on Liz's face. She did not quite understand why Vivian was so excited.

Elina, the maid who was already scheming, naturally understood at once. But knowing the cause and effect, she could not help but cast a sympathetic look at Vivian.

"By the way, Vivian, I came to see you for another matter."

After giving away the little dress, Liz straightened her expression.

As if she had made up her mind, she opened her mouth and begged the little girl,

“Vivian, it might be sudden, but... Can you help me see if I can become a Summoner?”

The young lady’s tone was very serious.

All this while, she had always been well protected as the Earl’s daughter, so she did not feel anything.

However, after sneaking out last night and truly relying on herself, Liz seriously realized that if she didn’t have the halo of a young miss, she would be an ordinary weak woman.

No, it should be said that she was just an ordinary weak woman with an aristocratic temperament, exquisite and beautiful appearance, and was extremely intelligent and quick-witted.

The pride from Liz’s heart filled her with buffs.

Therefore, she had everything now. The only thing she lacked was combat strength!!

At present, there was a ready-made ” summoner ” and the strongest mentor. Of course, Liz was eager to become as powerful as Vivian.

Not to mention that he could fight ten uncles at once.

But at the very least, he had to be able to fight ten of them, right?

Liz had analyzed that if she wanted to speed up, a Summoner was one of the fastest ways because she did not need to fight ten. As long as the monsters she summoned could fight ten, it would be the same!

With that thought in mind, Liz secretly glanced at the wolf cub lying on Vivian's lap with envy. It was rolling its belly to catch up on last night's sleep.

She, she also wanted one like this!

I really want it!

There was also...He really wanted to rub it!

The young lady's small hands were fidgeting restlessly at the side of her skirt.

On the other side.

"No problem!" Vivian was stunned for a moment before she patted her flat chest and promised.

Liz was so good to her, and since she had the chance to repay her, the little girl revealed an expression that said, "Leave it to me", and her fighting spirit was high.

Moreover, the current Vivian was no longer the same person as before. Don't forget that she had studied magic theory with Damir.

"Now?"

"Now!" Liz was impatient, her big eyes flashing with anticipation.

Summoners belonged to the general category of "spellcasters." They were a branch of the profession, so they naturally used magic power. The first thing Vivian had to do was to check Liz's magic circuit..

Chapter 244: Miss Liz Wants to Summon Too! 2

It was fine to look at it roughly.

But as a good sister, Vivian had to give Liz the best guidance.

After whispering in the young miss's ear.

The little girl rolled up her sleeves.

It could be seen that they were prepared to do something big.

However, the Earl's daughter, Lissy, was shocked.

She subconsciously took a small step back.

"What is it? What? And..." Even Liz's tone was not as expectant as before.

"Of course!"

Vivian nodded seriously.

"This way, I can better guide you on how to use your magic power and draw a summoning circle. "

After the little girl's professional explanation, Liz gritted her teeth. She recalled the helplessness she felt when facing the strange man last night.

She nodded and no longer hesitated.

Compared to increasing his own strength, this was nothing.

Shua!

After Liz nodded, both pairs of eyes lit up in unison.

One of them was the little wolf cub that had been sleeping on the little girl's lap.

If you guys talk about this.

Then he wouldn't be sleepy anymore!

The second was the maid, Elina.

Liao Zixuan did not expect that there would be people who shared the same path.

The corners of the little maid's mouth were open like a gentleman's, and one could vaguely see sparkling drool.

Although Liao Zixuan couldn't read minds.

But just from the dazed expression on Irina's face, one could tell what she was thinking.

Female address book, you are!

It could be a change... Gentlemen had mutual attraction.

The little wolf cub and Irina's eyes met very quickly. They instantly understood each other's thoughts and were filled with joy and anticipation.

Until...

"Elena."

Liz's cold voice broke the little maid's dream.

"What's wrong, Miss?" Elina felt a chill in her heart. She still wanted to struggle, but she showed a confused expression.

Ever since last night, thanks to a certain someone, or perhaps a certain wolf, her relationship with Liz had warmed up quite a bit. Although they were still master and servant, they were more like friends. Unfortunately, Liz clearly didn't treat her as a friend.

At least in this matter.

"Get out." Liz pointed at the door.

Did she really think that her eyes as a young lady were for venting her anger? Can't you see your expression?

"Oh, okay, okay."

He was dejected.

She walked out pitifully and opened the door.

Irina was very unwilling to be a party boss.

Why?

Why was he even wary of the little maid!

Through the crack in the door.

When Elena saw Vivian's wolf cub, she looked at her sympathetically. Of course, she was also gloating.

Finally, Liao Zixuan rushed to the door, the little maid with a wronged expression, and conveyed the spirit of a revolutionary comrade.

It was as if he was saying.

Go in peace! I will inherit your sacrifice and take in the beautiful scenery that you can't see!

After Irina was chased out, the door was closed again.

Just as Liz was about to start receiving guidance for her summoner career...

Suddenly, he seemed to have realized something.

"Ah! I almost forgot!"

"Xiao Hei, you go out too!"

"Just...Help us guard the door!" Vivian made up a random excuse.

What the hell!

Even the little wolf cubs?

There was also another person who had the same doubts.

The Earl's daughter had a good impression of the wolf cubs.

She looked at the pitiful little wolf cub, who seemed to have broken its defenses after Vivian's order to leave. Liz asked with some heartache,

"Xiao Hei, he...No need? He doesn't know anything."

Yes, yes!

He blinked his innocent eyes, tilted his furry head, and scratched his head with his little claws. He was just a cute little wolf cub, so how could he have any bad intentions?

But Vivian did not buy it.

In the past, she might have been shy with Liao Zixuan, but now... Old man, old wife, long since known the bottom!

"Xiao Hei...Hmph, he had a lot of bad intentions!

Ignoring her wolf cub's merciless protest and kicking her legs randomly, the little girl directly picked up the wolf cub, opened the door, and placed it in the corridor.

Facing Blackie, Vivian's hands formed a fork shape.

He seemed to be saying.

It was still too early for children to do such things!

Bang!

The door closed.

Leaving the maid and the wolf cubs outside the corridor staring at each other.

After a series of rustling sounds.

Vivian's cry of surprise came through the door. It could be heard that without the restraints, Liz in her full form had really shocked the little girl for a hundred years.

The little wolf cubs and Irina who were eavesdropping outside the house chased after each other. Their faces were red, and they hated themselves for not being able to see through things. About fifteen minutes later.

Sweat dripped down.

A few strands of her originally smooth and shiny blonde hair were now stuck to Liz's fair and sweaty forehead.

She barely changed her clothes.

Vivian opened the door, and the wolf cubs and Elina could finally come in again.

He pretended to ignore the resentful look in his eyes.

The little girl's face was also filled with fatigue. Not only was Liz exhausted from the many people in the room, but she, as the guide, was also exhausted.

However, it was all worth it. That was because...

"Come on, Liz, are you ready?"

Vivian pointed to a summoning circle on the floor in front of the Earl's daughter.

On the other side.

Her beautiful throat moved nervously as she swallowed her saliva.

Vivian's words echoed in Liz's mind. Although the quality of a summoned beast depended largely on luck, the summoner's own will was also very important. To put it simply, the appearance was born from the heart, and the beast was born from life.

Summoned beasts could also be seen as the embodiment of the summoner himself to a certain extent.

Then, what would his Summoned Beast look like?

Miss Liz took a deep breath.

The waves were so strong that they were dazzling. She slowly raised her hand and the silent summoning array in front of her immediately flashed with dazzling light.

Was it a unicorn that symbolized purity and nobility? Or a proud and unruly snow wolf? Or was it the Raging Fire Peacock that coexisted with wisdom and beauty?

When the light of the array gradually dissipated.

Liz's excited expression froze.

Because the first summoned beast in the life of the Earl's daughter and the eldest miss was...

The extremely long bones of the palm and finger.

It was a thin layer that could not even be considered wings. It could only be said to have wrapped around his limbs...Wing membrane?

Fang.

Sharp ears.

It had a narrow oval head.

His entire body was pitch -black.

At first glance, it might be a little scary. If it was at night, the word "might" could be removed. Yes, it was.

Bats.

Vivian, Elina, and even Liz herself were all stunned. The latter was even more shocked.

Because, they are completely unexpected, that is, in front of the eyes, this kind of ugly, small, even all can't be exposed, under the sun, only dare to move at night, creatures.

No matter who it was, no one would associate her with a noble lady who had an outstanding temperament, was beautiful, and was loved by countless people.

Oh, no, there was indeed one.

The only person present who wasn't surprised was...

Liao Zixuan was the only one.

He had thought about using Vivian's " Lucky Halo " Character Summon Card on Liz. That way, the quality of her summoned beast would not be too bad.

However, in the end, Liao Zixuan did not choose to do so. If that really happened, Liz would definitely walk the path of a Summoner. The deviation of the plot would be too great, especially in the Earl's Castle, a place full of secrets. Liao Zixuan hoped that everything would go according to the script.

In addition, it was also a little selfish. Or perhaps, it was still the same saying. Fishing required bait.

If the taste of the bait was changed, what if the fish didn't bite the hook?

The little wolf cub yawned lazily.

He looked at the little bat that was summoned by Liz in the summoning array and trembled in front of this young lady.

As expected...What?

Or should I say...

As expected of the future Blood Countess?

Chapter 245: The Fate of the Master and Servant (1)

Sigh...

Vivian sighed in disappointment. It was not easy for her to give something back to Liz, but she did not expect it to turn out like this.

Not only did it not help Lissy, but it also dealt a heavy blow to her self-esteem.

When Liz left, she almost didn't say a word and rushed out of the door.

If they didn't understand, they could put themselves in the shoes of a beautiful top student and confidently check the college entrance examination results in front of everyone. In the end, after the results were out, they realized that they couldn't even get into university.

Elina, the little maid beside her, thought that Vivian was dissatisfied with Liz's departure. After all, she could see that Vivian had done her best. The problem was not with the little girl.

"Vivian, you, don't misunderstand. The eldest miss doesn't blame you. She's just too tired and a little disappointed.

"Yes, I know."

Vivian nodded, but her expression was still listless. She felt a little guilty. She blamed herself for not being able to see what was wrong with Liz.

However, in the eyes of the little maid opposite him, it was another matter.

Actually, this was very common.

It was when you gave a lot to others, but because the results were not ideal, others would throw tantrums at you and blame you.

Once such a thing happened, it was very easy for the relationship to crack.

As a female address book, no, as a small expert in repairing relationships, the little maid expressed that she was duty-bound.

“Vivian, let me tell you a secret. You, you are not allowed to tell Miss!

Elena went all out.

“Actually, last night, Eldest Miss came to me, and then we did this... No matter how much he did, he would suddenly...In the middle, we finally... The end of the game

The maid told the little girl what happened last night.

Vivian was shocked.

“So, so this dress...”

“That’s right, that’s right. Eldest Miss and I almost risked our lives to buy it! “Elina nodded her little head fiercely.

“So, Vivian, you can see that the young lady, she, she likes you very much! It was just that there was a slight chance that he might be slightly dishonest!

The little wolf cub, who had witnessed the entire process, expressed his opinion.

Young people really don’t know the value of a supporting role’s life, Elena!

She could have misunderstood the plot for several episodes, but her words had pierced through the window paper. Liao Zixuan felt that if he were a screenwriter, he would write this talkative little maid to death first!

Who knew that he might have sensed killing intent.

Irina was not willing to wait for the shark to attack. She even wanted to fight back and take the initiative to kill!

“No wonder Liz suddenly wanted to become a Summoner. It’s because...”

“That’s right! It was that stinky hooligan from last night! Vivian, if you run into them in the future, you must avenge us! Let Little Black teach him a lesson and teach that stinky hooligan a lesson!”

The little maid became angry at the thought of this.

Last night, she was so timid in front of Liao Zixuan that she hid behind the young miss in fear. But today, she was going to hit the wolf cubs hard.

Why? With Vivian and Blackie around to support her, she felt safe!

“Is it not to steal the dress? As for catching up with us, blocking us and not letting us go!”

“Besides, why would a man like him buy a dress? Pervert, he must be some pervert!

The little maid was trembling in fear last night, and today, after surviving a calamity, she was so talkative. This was a woman.

“Wan, what if he bought it for a very important friend? That’s why you’re so angry.”

Vivian couldn’t stand it anymore, so she weakly interjected.

Because, as a third party.

The little girl felt that although there was indeed something wrong with the stinky hooligan that Alina had mentioned, it was obvious that Alina and Liz were not completely at fault. At the very least, they were the ones who caused it.

However, the little maid couldn't accept this.

Irina's eyes widened and she was fuming.

"Friends? Could it be that he also had a friend with the height of an adult and the breasts of a primary school student?" "We have to be united, Vivian. How can we side with outsiders?"

The little maid looked heartbroken.

Vivian was speechless.

"Let's not talk about this anymore, Elena. There's something I want to tell you.

"I'm next..." No, it should be said that after today, I want to move out of the city.

At first, Irina looked puzzled and asked,"

Chapter 246: The Fate of the Master and Servant (2)

"Outside the city? Why, Vivian? Is Count Sisre not used to living here? If there's a place that's not comfortable, just tell me. I'll definitely help you take care of it. Don't look at me like this, but as a maid, I'm still very capable!"

Vivian shook her head.

' No, the Castle of the Earl is very good. It's because it's too good that I can't live in peace. I feel that since I have to take over the construction tasks of the refugees in the future, as the leader, how can I still enjoy myself in the city?' "So I decided to move out of the city and get through this difficult period with everyone."

The little girl's tone was firm. It was obvious that she had thought about it for a long time and had made up her mind to leave.

The meaning behind her question was obvious.

After all, Elina was Vivian's personal maid in name. Since Vivian was going out of the city, Elina had to follow her.

However, the life outside the city and inside the city, especially in the noble castle, was very different. They had to suffer a lot and it was far from being as superior as in the manor.

That was why Vivian wanted to know the maid's intention and whether she was willing to continue traveling with her.

Opposite him.

Elena hesitated for a moment.

Even though she was born in the countryside, but is so-called from frugality into luxury, from luxury into frugality, the reason why she wants to climb up, is for the sake of, can no longer return to poverty in the simple countryside, can be too long in the city, the quality of life.

However, this thought only lasted for a moment.

The next second, Elina revealed an expression that said, "I understand."

"Yes! No problem! Then, Vivian, you can pack your luggage first. I'll go and report to Sir Robert. At the same time, he'll apply for more supplies and daily necessities for us! Let me think, bedsheets, toiletries, change of clothes, cleaning supplies, and..."

Elina counted on her fingers and started to nag. She had already started to show the elegance of going from "maid" to "housekeeper".

"Elena, do you want to reconsider? I don't think there's a need for you to..."

Vivian wanted to say something, but she was quickly interrupted by the little maid.

Irina had a look of "no matter where you go, I'll follow you" on her face. Without giving Vivian a chance to say anything more, she ran out of the room and began to prepare nervously.

Look at the back of this seemingly ordinary little maid.

Liao Zixuan suddenly understood why Irina was able to fight her way out of the crowd of Counts and become a Boss-level character.

Putting everything else aside, just this clear understanding of the thigh and the foundation to hold on tightly to it was absolutely first-class!

"Eh? Why didn't I see Sister Qing today?"

On the way to Butler Robert, Elina raised her head and mumbled.

When he arrived at the butler's room, he found that many maids had already been summoned here.

“Did something happen?” Alina was curious. This kind of situation usually happened during the regular training of the castle’s maids or when there was an important notice.

“Elena, you came at the right time! Sir Robert even said that he would send someone to look for you!

When one of the maids saw Irina, she quickly greeted her and pulled her inside.

“Looking for me? Why?”

“This is great news! Elina, Lord Robert has promoted you to the position of Deputy Head Maid! ”

“Ah! Really?”

At first, Elena was very excited, but after the maid next to her said the next sentence, her excited expression froze.

“Of course it’s true. Sister Qing resigned from her job last night and said that she was going to get married. I heard that her partner is a young master from a rich family! Ah... So envious! When will I be able to find a rich husband...’ After lamenting, the maid continued to speak to Elena in a sour tone,

“Before Sister Qing left, she didn’t forget to recommend you to Lord Robert, saying that you could take over her position! Sigh, it was great to have such a relationship.

“Yes... Is that so?”

If it was in the past, Elena would definitely retaliate. This maid named ” Lina ‘ her arch-enemy, had a strange tone.

This was a war between the women at the bottom of the society. Even though they were all maids, maids were also very scheming. But now, Elena could only force out a smile.

Her heart began to fluctuate violently.

Qing... Sister Qing is gone!

How could this be!

Didn't she tell me yesterday that she had to save enough money before she could find a boyfriend to get married? How could he be a rich husband? Speaking of which, what was Sister Qing's boyfriend's name? Damn it!

Irina stomped her feet in secret, regretting her actions from yesterday. Because she felt that it was a private matter, she didn't ask Sister Qing further.

Something was fishy!

There was definitely something fishy about this!

With that thought in mind, Elina walked into Butler Robert's room.

"You're here. I heard that Vivian chose you to be her personal maid? You should know that Sister Qing has left, right? I plan to give her position as the Deputy Head Maid to you, Elina.

Although Butler Robert's tone was very calm, it carried an unquestionable tone.

Many of the maids in the room cast envious looks at Irina.

If Vivian was a man, then this deal would be a loss in the eyes of the maids. But Vivian was not. Without the opportunity to climb up the social ladder, the position of deputy head maid was still very attractive..

Chapter 247: The Fate of the Master and Servant (3)

It wasn't that the salary and treatment were much higher, but the power. She could command her original sisters and hand over the dirty and tiring work to others. This was the dream of many maids. This was also the pursuit of small figures.

Elina had been like this in the past.

But now...

"Luo... Sir Robert! I still have to accompany Lady Vivian to the banquet tonight. If I hand over my work now, I'm afraid..."

"Tomorrow then."

"No, there's still..."

Elina could see that Butler Robert was frowning. He was obviously unhappy with her for talking so much.

However, the maid gritted her teeth and told Vivian that she wanted to live outside the city.

There was a little bit of private stuff mixed in between, which was to hint to Butler Robert that Vivian specifically wanted him to accompany her out of the city, so she could not take over Sister Qing's original position as the Deputy Head Maid.

The room was completely silent. The maids around them did not dare to speak. It wasn't that the salary and treatment were much higher, but the power. She could command her original sisters and hand over the dirty and tiring work to others. This was the dream of many maids. This was also the pursuit of small figures.

Elina had been like this in the past.

But now...

“Luo... Sir Robert! I still have to accompany Lady Vivian to the banquet tonight. If I hand over my work now, I’m afraid...”

“Tomorrow then.”

“No, there’s still...”

Elina could see that Butler Robert was frowning. He was obviously unhappy with her for talking so much.

However, the maid gritted her teeth and told Vivian that she wanted to live outside the city.

There was a little bit of private stuff mixed in between, which was to hint to Butler Robert that Vivian specifically wanted him to accompany her out of the city, so she could not take over Sister Qing’s original position as the Deputy Head Maid.

The room was completely silent. The maids around them did not dare to speak. Although Elena’s actions were not considered to be contradicting, it was still considered going against Butler Robert’s wishes.

“Got it.” After a period of silence, Robert nodded.

This butler was a typical example of a typical girl. He was extremely strict with his subordinates, but he was very respectful and cautious with people of equal rank or higher. He was very clear about his own status.

“Then, Lin Na, it’s your turn to replace Sister Qing.

Robert walked out after saying that and went to do something else.

The pressure in the room was greatly reduced, and the maids heaved a sigh of relief.

The maid named "Lina" was even more ecstatic. She happily held Elena's hand and said gratefully,

"Thank you so much, Elena! I love you!"

In fact, he was a little disdainful. He mocked Elina for not knowing her priorities and letting go of such a good opportunity just to accompany a little girl out of the city. Yes, Vivian's status was very high now, but what was the use of being higher? Could she marry you?

"No, it's fine. I'll go make the preparations for the city first. Everyone, everyone continue to work.

He hurriedly left this place.

She walked out of the room and looked at the Count's castle. She had been in this place for several years and should be very familiar with it, but for some reason, she still felt a strong sense of unfamiliarity.

Leave...

Quickly leave this place!

If Elina had felt a little regretful about leaving the city with Vivian, she would definitely rush to follow her now!

"Father, I, am I really that bad..."

In Count Sisre's room.

Liz, who was crying her eyes out, rested her head on her father's lap, her fingers gripping the earl's collar tightly.

In front of her family, Lizzie no longer had the temperament of a young lady. She was just an ordinary little girl who had been wronged and wanted to confide in her parents.

"It's okay, Liz. This doesn't mean that you're bad. "The earl gently stroked his daughter's soft golden hair.

A distant memory appeared in his eyes.

"Did you know that before your mother was young, the animals she raised the most were bats?"

"What? Really...Really? Why would Mom...'

Liz sat up with a surprised and confused expression.

"Yeah, why? I think it's not that your mother likes bats, but that bats... Do you like your mother?"

"Father, I, I don't understand... "It's okay. You'll understand when you grow up, Liz. "

The count's eyes were filled with love.

' Alright, there's still a banquet tonight. You should go and make some preparations. Vivian definitely won't be able to adapt to the ways of the nobles. When the time comes, I'll need you to help her out. Don't be made difficult by the nobles."

"Yes! Don't worry, Father, I'm here, there won't be any problems tonight! " Liz gathered herself and left the room without disturbing the count.

After Liz left, she was alone in the room again.

The curtains were lifted by an invisible force, blocking the sunlight outside. The earl took out a handkerchief with blood stains in the middle and placed it on his nose.

“Ah... Liz! I... I can't wait anymore...”

“Tonight, tonight, let me...”

After taking a deep breath, the Earl's expression became even more ferocious..

Chapter 248: Outside the City, the Gathering Place of the refugees

Not only did Fire Code City strictly restrict entry, but it was also not easy to leave the city. One needed to go through a series of complicated procedures and obtain the approval of the city guards.

Fortunately, Vivian still had a relationship with the Fire God Sect. After a brief greeting, she went to the disaster relief office outside the city through the teleportation circle.

After the silver-gray light that symbolized teleportation flashed, Vivian appeared with the wolf cub in her arms, and beside her was Elina, who was dressed as a maid.

In front of Thorin.

“Ha, I was wondering what kind of big shot would use a teleportation portal to come to our lousy place. So it's you, Vivian!”

Thorin waved his hand, signaling the guards in the temporary office, who were shocked by the sudden appearance of the figure and were holding their weapons with nervous and vigilant expressions, to put down their swords. “Little girl, do you remember me, this old thing?”

“Mayor Thorin, it was all thanks to you that everyone was saved in Red Flame Town. How could I forget you?” Vivian replied quickly and sincerely.

This immediately made the haggard middle-aged man, whose hair seemed to have turned much whiter overnight, finally smile.

“Haha, I knew I didn’t choose the wrong person!”

Opening his arms, Mayor Thorin and Vivian hugged each other warmly.

“Rip! I almost forgot that there’s still you, little fellow...Ah, that’s not right. After seeing that scene the day before yesterday, I can’t call you little guy anymore!”

The middle-aged man’s palm was about to touch the head of the wolf cub in Vivian’s arms.

Unfortunately, he failed.

The wolf cub revealed a very human-like expression of disdain. After twisting its furry head and dodging the palm of the greasy middle-aged man, it was even more afraid that the other party would still be unwilling.

So Liao Zixuan used his hind legs and chose to pull away. He moved directly from Vivian to another wolf tree.

“Ah!” The little maid exclaimed.

The little wolf cubs were so fast that before Elena could react, she felt a weight on her chest.

When she came back to her senses, the little maid quickly used her hands to hold it and adjusted her posture, carefully afraid that the little wolf cub would feel uncomfortable.

This wolf tree was almost done training.

It was also because of this opportunity that Mayor Thorin realized that there was someone following behind the little girl.

” Vivian, the person next to you is...”

“Suppress... Hello, mayor! My name is Elena, a maid from the Sisre family. The Earl has instructed me to take care of Lady Vivian’s daily life in Fire Code City!

“So it’s like this...” I almost forgot, Vivian, you are now considered a big shot in our Fire Code City!

‘ Of course not. Mayor Thorin, please don’t be like this...”

“Sigh, don’t call me Mayor Thorin. There’s no Red Flame Town now. Little girl, if you don’t mind, you can call me uncle.

At the mention of this, the expression on Soran’s face quickly darkened.

The person with the highest status among the refugees outside the city was probably the former mayor of Red Flame Town.

Therefore, the nobles of Fire Code City unanimously agreed that before the official decision on the refugees was made, Thorin would be the director of the temporary disaster relief office outside the city.

However, to put it bluntly, it was just a title. There were not many resources that could be used.

No one was willing to be the sucker to pay for the refugees. Later, it was said that it was Harvey who caused a ruckus in the noble meeting, forcing every noble to squeeze out some money and share it together. Only then did they have a pitiful amount of resources to distribute so that the refugees would not starve to death.

That was why Mayor Thorin looked so haggard when Vivian first saw him.

‘ Uncle Thorin, it’s alright. I came here for this. Now, everyone outside the city... How’s the situation?’
After exchanging pleasantries, Vivian soon arrived at the main topic.

He sighed.

Thorin shook his head tiredly.

“Sigh, it’s better for you to see it with your own eyes no matter how much I say...Come with me.”

Solin and Harvey were old acquaintances, so he was naturally a man of action.

In the office, the guards from Red Flame Town immediately got ready to be Thorin’s bodyguards.

There was a reason why they were so nervous. If there was a word to describe the situation outside the city, it would be... Chaos.

Robbery, kidnapping, fighting...

There were also a series of vicious incidents that happened one after another. It was very unsafe.

Therefore, even if he was the most powerful person outside the city, he had to be careful and bring more people with him, or else he might encounter something.

But this time...

“Go, go, go. You guys stay here obediently. How can you inspect the situation with so many people?”
“Thorin waved his hand.

‘ But, Lord Mayor, the peace won’t be in danger...’

A hotheaded guard was still blocking the mayor from leaving. This made Thorin glare at him and hit him on the head.

“What danger! Can’t you see the little girl beside me? All of you added together aren’t even enough to match one of her fingers.. Could it be that those criminals mixed in with the refugees are more powerful than the demon wave monsters from a few days ago? Alright, alright, brat, get out of the way!

Chapter 249: Outside the City, the Gathering Place of the refugees

After Mayor Thorin’s shout, the eyes of the guards in the office lit up.

Although they were all witnesses of the Fallen Abyss incident the day before yesterday, they were not the only ones. Most of the other ordinary people were the same. They only vaguely knew that Vivian had saved them, but they did not know what she looked like or even what her name was.

Therefore, after Mayor Thorin’s words, they finally understood and looked at the little girl with respect and gratitude.

As for the younger guard, his face was even redder. After he hurriedly retreated, he lowered his head because he was stupid.

However, he couldn’t help but secretly glance at the legendary girl beside the mayor.

He walked out of the office.

All Vivian could see were simple tents on the ground.

By the way.

The place they had just come out of was called an office, but it was actually just a nice name. In fact, it was nothing more than a bigger luxurious tent with better facilities.

No matter how luxurious a tent was, it was still a tent.

However, this was also what many homeless refugees outside the city envied.

As Mayor Thorin did not bring many guards, Vivian, Elena, and the little wolf cub in the maid's arms did not attract too much attention.

The few of them walked through the huge refugee gathering place outside the city. After only a few minutes, Vivian had already pursed her lips and clenched her hands.

Just like what Mayor Solin had said, as long as he saw it with his own eyes, he would immediately understand.

It was tattered and had many holes on it. It looked as if a slightly stronger wind would blow it down, not to mention that it could block the rain. Even such a tent was not affordable for many refugees.

The maid, Elina, had to be especially focused with every step she took because the ground was full of potholes and dirty water.

If she was not careful, her maid shoes would be dirty. If the dirt splashed, it would be even worse if it got on her stockings and skirt.

During the process, some of them were starving, or when they saw that Elena was dressed like a maid from a wealthy family in the city, they rushed up to her, wanting to beg for some copper coins.

There were even some who had gone overboard, with evil thoughts, following the begging crowd and leaning towards Elena.

This really gave the little maid a fright.

Fortunately, the wolf cub in Alina's arms yawned casually because it was so comfortable. It only released a little aura, and it immediately scared away the refugees in ragged clothes who surrounded Alina. They scattered quickly as if they had seen a terrifying monster.

Elina patted her chest in fear.

Then, he reached out and caressed the fur of the little ancestor in his arms.

As expected, with Little Black around...It was a sense of security!

He had to find a chance to beg Vivian to lend Blackie to her for a night!

Don't, don't misunderstand!

Alina just wanted to carry the wolf cubs and wander the streets at night, hoping to meet some malicious man like the hooligan last time. It would be best if it was the other party himself. Then, Little Black would come out and teach them a lesson!

Yes!

Elina waved her little fists in her mind.

Don't underestimate a little woman's vengeful mentality. It's very serious and she holds a grudge!

It made sense that milk volume was proportional to intelligence.

Vivian admired Sorin's ability to fix the sanitary environment of the refugee gathering place so that it would not cause diseases in such a short time.

Since she had made up her mind to take on the task of rebuilding the homes of these refugees, the little girl would not just talk about it. Vivian wanted to learn from Thorin humbly, gain experience, and strive to be a qualified leader.

"I don't have that ability."

Solin waved his hand.

"Speaking of which, it's all thanks to you, Vivian.

"Thanks to me?" The little girl didn't quite understand what he was saying and looked confused.

"That's right. It's all thanks to those foreigners you gathered to help us rebuild that we can achieve such results in such a short period of time..

Chapter 250: Outside the City, the Gathering Place of the refugees

This haggard uncle was a little emotional.

How ironic. The matters within the Fire Code City could not be handled by the official city guards. They could only rely on foreigners from unknown countries.

"You don't know this, but these foreigners seem to have unlimited energy. Perhaps it's because they aren't from the Flame Region, so they don't feel burdened. They don't feel any fear of the aftermath of the disaster that just passed, as if they've forgotten about it in the blink of an eye. "

"In the beginning, I tried to get in touch with them and give them missions, but the results weren't very good. Firstly, I was no longer the mayor. I couldn't take out anything valuable as a reward.

“Secondly, as you can see, what I want to hire these foreigners to do are all very trivial things. There are even many dirty jobs like cleaning up filth that no one is willing to do.”

Town Mayor Thorin seemed to recall the time when he was at his wits 'end and was extremely anxious.

The turning point came from a group of foreigners who came out of the city.

These foreigners from the city whispered something to other foreigners. Then, all of a sudden, all the foreigners became extremely enthusiastic about the reconstruction work of the refugees.

How passionate was he?

Previously, it was Sorin who had issued the task, begging for the foreigner's help. But in the blink of an eye, Sorin had not even issued the task, and the foreigner had already rushed to do the work.

With such a huge contrast, Sorin naturally sent people to inquire among the foreigners, but the news that came back was ambiguous.

He said that when foreigners were working, they would always shout words like “contribution points” and “dungeon crystals”. He did not understand them.

But anyway, Sorin had a rough idea.

These foreigners knew that Vivian was coming to the city to take charge of the reconstruction project for the refugees, so they were eager to make a contribution and show off before the little girl arrived.

At least, that was what Thorin understood.

While he was happy, he also lamented Vivian's influence among these foreigners, which could be described as “terrifying.”

“Sigh, I’m really too old. I’ve begged these foreigners a hundred times, but I can’t beat you, Vivian.

“Anyway, Vivian, you did well! “Thorin patted the thin shoulder of the little girl beside him.

Opposite him.

“Ah? What, what did I do?”

Vivian was confused. The little girl looked confused. Didn’t she just prepare to do it today?

“Young lady, being modest is indeed a good thing, but sometimes, you shouldn’t be overly modest.

“If you hadn’t given the order to hint the outlanders to come out of the city and contribute to the reconstruction of the refugees, how could an old man like me command them?”

Thorin thought that Vivian was just acting up and rejecting the compliment.

But in reality.

The little girl was really innocent.

“I-I still said, go dark... Hinting to foreigners?”

“Isn’t it you who’s doing it?” Thorin was confused.

“Ah! I remember now. It seems that it’s true...

As if she had realized something, she squeezed out a smile politely and awkwardly and nodded her little head.

After dealing with Thorin.

Vivian turned her gaze to the maid behind her, Irina.

No, to be precise, it was a wolf cub in the maid's arms.

An !

The clouds were so white. The sky was so big.

The wolf cub, on the other hand, had its head stuffed into two clouds, as if it was immersed in the study of clouds and didn't know anything.

Sigh...

Helplessly sighed.

Vivian was about to change the topic with Mayor Thorin and ask more about the current refugee gathering place...

Suddenly, a commotion came from not far away, attracting everyone's attention..
