Chapter 261: Count Cecil Is Taking Action (2)

Sima scolded the others on the bed.

But the earl waved his hand again.

“They have to stay here, or else I’ll be a little troubled in the future.

“Oh, okay, okay.”

Sima nodded with a smile, but at the same time, he couldn’t help but grumble to the earl. He didn’t expect that the dignified Earl Cecil, who was rumored to be the most upright noble, would be like him and like this!

“Come on.”

The count’s voice interrupted Sima, and he opened his arms to the woman on the bed.

“You’re too anxious, but I like it! I’m not joking. Earl, I can do whatever position you want...”

Sima leaned over with a coquettish voice.

He lay in front of the Earl’s broad and thick chest.

She pretended to be a little woman and wanted to raise her head to look up at the Count’s handsome face.

But...

Sima's coquettish eyes were like silk, and soon, her soul was scattered.

In Sima's line of sight, Count Caesar lowered his head at her. The corners of his mouth curled up into a smile, then he laughed wildly, then he laughed violently, until finally...

When the muscles of his mouth extended to his ears,

Kacha!

Accompanied by a crisp sound.

As if his human face could no longer be satisfied, Count Sisre's lips curled into a smile.

And so, he truly cracked open.

The lower jaw was separated from the upper jaw, and the entire face was deformed. Other than the mouth, all the other facial features had disappeared. No, it should be said that the entire head had turned into a huge mouth.

"Strange...Strange... Strange..."

Before Sima could even say the word 'thing', the count's neck suddenly stretched out like a rubber band, reaching the ceiling of the room. He...It turned into a bloody mouth and looked down at Sima, who was its prey, like a man-eating flower.

Sima instinctively wanted to struggle, but it was too late. The Earl's hands were like two iron pliers that bound her tightly, not giving him the chance to move.

"No, no, no. No! Ah! Save..."

Gulp!

Sima's bloody mouth enveloped him, and a piercing cry for help came.

The Earl didn't chew the blood into his head. Instead, it seemed to corrode and absorb the blood into his body. He shrank rapidly like a balloon. Then, Sima's upper body, legs, and finally his entire body disappeared.

No, this was not the end.

After absorbing Sima, the earl's original body began to change.

His bones and limbs emitted a series of crackling sounds. What was even more terrifying was that his skin also squirmed and deformed as if it was alive.

In the end, the Earl disappeared.

In exchange. Sima appeared again.

The room seemed to have returned to its original state.

Sima was naked, and several male companions on the bed were scared silly.

However, Sima licked his lips and moved his limbs.

"Just treat it as an adjustment to the body."

Sima walked out of the room and greeted a male attendant who happened to pass by.

When the male attendant walked in front of Sima, Sima was stunned for a moment. Then, he sized up the male attendant.

“What’s your name?”

‘ Miss, Miss Sima.’ The male attendant replied with a smile.

“He’s not bad...I originally wanted you to go in and clean the room, but now I’ve changed my mind. Come with me and accompany me to attend the banquet later. ”

After saying that, Sima brought the male attendant named “White” and swaggered out of the door of the mansion.

What she didn’t see was the corner of the servant’s mouth twitching as he looked at Sima with an indescribable strange expression.

Or rather...Completely integrated? Or was this the true face of a certain earl?

After leaving the mansion.

He casually hailed a carriage.

Sima gave the driver an address.

“Aren’t we going to a banquet, Miss Sima?” Bai Cong asked curiously when he heard Sima’s address.

Sima originally frowned because this was too much for a servant.

But for some reason, perhaps because the other party’s appearance was really quite pleasing to the eye, Sima smiled and explained,

“There’s no hurry. Before that, there’s still one more place to go.

“Yes, Miss Sima.” Bai nodded and didn’t ask any more questions. He sat quietly at the side of the carriage.

Sima, on the other hand, became even more interested after seeing the male attendant.

Just as she was about to reach out and touch the other party’s handsome face, the attendant seemed to have sensed something and turned his gaze over first.

“What’s wrong, Miss Sima?” Bai asked with a smile.

“Humph.”

He snorted coldly.

Sima retracted his hand.

The carriage was still very stable at the beginning, but it became bumpy later on. The roads in the inner Urban area were not so bumpy. Such a situation could only happen in the outer city.

The journey was not too far. After arriving at a certain place in the outer Urban area, Sima got off the car with his servant and walked towards a deep alley.

“Who is it?”

As soon as they entered the alley, a few hooligans with weapons immediately came out. It was obvious that this was not a proper place.

But soon, when they saw it clearly, the hooligans immediately put down their weapons.

“So it’s Sister Sima.”

“Sis, you haven’t been here for a few weeks. Our boss misses you so much that he’s going crazy. ”

The hooligan made an exaggerated welcoming gesture while smiling evilly.

Looking at the wretched expressions on these people’s faces, he could tell at a glance that they had not washed their yellow teeth for a few days. He then looked at the male attendant beside him. Although his status was also low, he was crushed in both appearance and feeling.

Sima distanced himself from the hooligans in disdain and walked quickly inside.

At the end of the alley was a secret door that led underground. This was a familiar standard for every stronghold of the treasure thieves.

The journey was smooth and Sima’s face was the best pass. It could be seen that he had come here many times.

It was not until they arrived at the center of the room, where smoke lingered, that the guards at the door stopped Sima. To be precise, they stopped Sima’s male attendant.

“Bai, you can stay outside for now.

Originally, Sima wouldn’t let this little servant hear what happened next, so after instructing Bai, he walked in.

“Yes, Miss Sima.”

After Bai agreed, he looked at Sima's back as he disappeared into the leader's room. The male servant's eyes revealed a thoughtful expression as he retreated to a dark corner.

He entered.

He waved his hand to wipe away the suffocating smell of smoke. Sima then shifted his gaze to a burly man on the sofa. He had a tattoo of a "black tiger" on his chest.

"Ha, look who's here!"

When the black tiger man saw Sima, he laughed loudly and pushed the two women beside him away. He stood up from the sofa and approached Sima with a lewd smile.

However, just as he arrived in front of Sima, Sima glared at him. "I came here this time because I have something important to do."

"Oh? Official business?"

At first, the black tiger man didn't think much of it, but Sima's words made his expression finally become more focused.

"It's a big deal. I'm sharing it with you because of our relationship. It's about..."

The daughter of Count Sisre."

"I have a secret piece of information. The Earl's daughter will appear in the outer Urban area tonight, and she will only bring a few guards with her."

As Sima spoke, he pointed to a deserted place on a map that he carried with him.

"Don't tell me you're thinking of..."

“That’s right.” Sima nodded with certainty.

“As long as we send people there to ambush and kidnap the Earl’s daughter...It’s easy! ”

If he wanted Vivian to make a fool of herself at the banquet, he would have to be alone and helpless, even if the target was his beloved daughter.

For the sake of the grand plan, Count Sisre...No, it should be said that the current Sima was willing to let Liz sacrifice herself.

Without Liz’s help.

Sima sneered in his heart.

She did not know how Vivian, a country bumpkin, could deal with a group of evil nobles at a dinner party..

Chapter 262: Kidnapping (1)

Opposite him, the black tiger man revealed a shocked expression.

“You’re crazy! How dare you touch the Earl’s daughter!

“Hmph, don’t think that I don’t know about your Treasure Thief Group. As long as there was enough money, there was nothing he wouldn’t dare to do. ” Sima sneered, and the black tiger fell silent, as if he was thinking.

However, just like the previous sentence, as long as the money was in place, there was nothing they would not dare to do. The black tiger man revealed a tempted expression, but before that...

“Is the source reliable? Why would that young miss leave the inner city and go to such a remote place?”
“He asked Sima for confirmation.

Black Tiger had never thought that Sima would trick him. After all, the two of them could be said to be old lovers.

Unfortunately, Black Tiger did not know whether Sima was Sima or just wearing Sima’s skin.

“Don’t worry, the Earl’s daughter went there because of Vivian.

“Vivian? I remember this name is...

“That’s right. She’s the new star of our Fire Code City, a great hero. Tonight, Count Sisre is holding a donation party for that little girl to be the main character.”

Humph.

The black tiger snorted coldly, seemingly unhappy.

This was only natural.

As for the treasure thieves, they could not wait to see the refugees outside the city continue to stay like this. Only then would they be able to reap endless benefits.

Compared to order, chaos was what they wanted to see. The so-called donation banquet and Vivian mentioned by Sima were both rejected by Black Tiger. “But...What did this have to do with Liz going to the outer Urban area?”

“Of course. You don’t really think that a little girl from the countryside can handle a banquet with a group of nobles, do you? Heh, magic talent can deal with monsters, but it’s useless against nobles.”

Sima said sarcastically.

As the mastermind behind the scenes, everything had been arranged properly.

” As for Count Sisre, he’s a dignified count. He’d definitely be too embarrassed to help a junior. Naturally, this heavy responsibility would fall on the count’s daughter.

“So you’re saying that the young lady and Vivian are good friends and are going to go together to attend the dinner party to help the country girl deal with the nobles?”

Black Tiger was not stupid and reacted very quickly.

Sima nodded.

” According to my information, Vivian, early in the morning today, I moved out of the Earl’s manor, said what I wanted to go to see the refugees outside the city, then for convenience, so I moved out of the city, the nearest outer Urban area edge, rented cheap little broken house.

“Now, you should understand.”

“This is a big deal that is almost like a pie falling from the sky. Such a great opportunity, I don’t believe that Black Tiger will just watch the fat fly away from your mouth.

“This... It’s not like you.” Sima looked at the black tiger provocatively.

When it came to people’s hearts, Count Sisre had a good grasp of them, although...Use the identity of a woman

On the other side.

Indeed.

The ransom for kidnapping the daughter of an Earl would definitely be an astronomical figure. Who knew how much protection fees the Tiger Clan would collect.

Moreover, the entire plan did not sound like a problem. It was purely a godsend opportunity.

As for the consequences...

If Count Sisre was a notorious, ruthless, and vengeful person, then Black Tiger might have to reconsider.

But the problem was that Count Sisre was famous for his gentle personality, kindness, and friendliness. It was said that he was very approachable and could even talk to the maids in the mansion on equal terms. He was a thoroughly good person.

The black tiger felt less burdened by kidnapping the other party's daughter. It could even be said to be unscrupulous.

After all.

Wasn't a gun meant for good people?

Moreover, under Sima's guidance, Black Tiger also saw the benefits that came with kidnapping the Earl's daughter. It would make Vivian lose her helpers, and the Earl, who was the initiator of the donation, would be in a mess. Then, they would not have the time to care about the unfortunate refugees outside the city.

It was killing two birds with one stone.

"Alright!" Black Tiger slapped his thigh.

“I’ll take this job. I’ll arrange for people to go to the place where the young miss is hiding. I guarantee that even if the city guards turn Fire Code City upside down, they won’t be able to find her!”

Seeing Black Tiger’s expression, Sima knew that she had achieved her goal. She smiled disdainfully in her heart. The leader of the Tiger Clan of the Treasure Thief Group was still in her hands.

But at the end, Sima Sima still emphasized something just in case.

“So, where is the hiding place? Tell me now.

Well...”

The black tiger’s tone suddenly changed back to the strange smile that Sima had when he first entered the room.

“Sima, I feel that you seem to be different from before today. You seem to have become...Stronger and smarter?”

Black Tiger’s words were true. He wasn’t really muscular. He was simple-minded. At the very least, Black Tiger knew who was in charge of the conversation.

It seemed like he was the one making the decision, but in reality, Sima was the one who was leading him by the nose.

This made Black Tiger very unhappy.

And the way a gang leader vented his anger was on an underground lover...

The black tiger approached Sima Sima..

Chapter 263: Kidnapping (2)

Opposite him.

When Black Tiger said that he felt that she was different, Sima thought that he had been exposed. However, after seeing Black Tiger's lecherous expression, Sima heaved a sigh of relief. It was just that he felt even more disgusted.

These disgusting things...

Although he was disgusted, in order to achieve his goal, Count Sisl still chose to cooperate with the other party. After all, he was using someone else's skin.

"You... What are you doing?" Sima pretended to be anxious.

"What do you think, Sima? Do you still want to know the hiding place?"

The hiding location was equivalent to a firm contract. From Black Tiger's point of view, it was a guarantee that they could split the money after the matter was done. If you didn't split the money, I would expose the location. However,

Count Sisre didn't want this for money. He wanted to save his beloved daughter after the matter was over, or rather...The future body.

"I really can't do anything to you. Hurry up and finish it. Remember not to dirty your clothes. I'm going to the banquet later." Sima said disdainfully.

Instead, it seemed to have aroused the black tiger's interest.

"Haha, baby, I like you more and more.

Ah, this...

In a dark corner of the black tiger's room, a wolf cub covered its eyes with its claws, but through the gap, it could still see scenes that were not suitable for children.

In the beginning, Liao Zixuan's attitude towards Count Sisre was that he wanted to get rid of him as soon as possible. Later on, when he discovered the secret behind him, as a person without a soul, he felt more pitiful. But now... The little wolf cubs were filled with respect for Count Sisre's professionalism.

It almost made him think of a certain evil book.

In short, Black Tiger clearly knew that he could not delay the matter. It did not take long for the battle to come to an end.

The two of them had marked an extremely secluded abandoned warehouse on the map as the place to hide Liz. Sima put on his clothes and walked out of the room.

"Hmm?"

After Sima came out, she frowned slightly. She looked around but did not find the male servant she had brought with her.

"Where is the person who came with me?" Sima asked the guards of the Treasure Group.

But the guard shook his head.

It was strange. If Sima had not asked about this, the guards would not have realized that a living person had disappeared before their eyes.

But after all, it had nothing to do with him. The other party was just an ordinary servant. He probably ran around out of curiosity when he wasn't paying attention and got lost.

The guard sneered. He was lost in a group full of villains, and he was such a handsome young man. One could imagine his fate.

He could only blame his own curiosity.

Sima might have thought of this possibility as well. After all, this seemed to be the only explanation.

Her frown deepened.

It was rare for Sima to hesitate for a moment. It showed the importance of good looks, but of course, she quickly gave up. She didn't have the time to look for someone in such a large treasure thief group's Tiger Clan stronghold.

What a pity.

After sighing, Sima quickly left the Tiger Clan's stronghold and called for a carriage. They were finally heading to the main banquet tonight.

At the same time, a small group of elites from the Tiger Clan also gathered under Black Tiger's command.

They took advantage of the night to ride a carriage and quickly headed to the path that Sima had provided them with. They set up an ambush along the path that the Earl's daughter would appear.

However, what these elite treasure hunters didn't notice was...

On top of the carriage that they used to kidnap the young miss, a black wolf cub was yawning lazily as if it was riding a free ride.

Kaboom...

The sound of the bump did not stop.

A carriage that was obviously different from other ordinary passenger carriages was luxuriously decorated. One could tell at a glance that it was a noble carriage from a wealthy family. In the night, it drove on the muddy road in the outer Urban area.

Because she was only going to pick up someone, Liz did not bring too many people. Or rather, her impression of Fire Code City was still the stable inner Urban area.

Including herself and the coachman, there were only five or six people.

If it wasn't for her and Elina's encounter with the "hooligans" the night before, perhaps Lize wouldn't even bring these guards.

However, Liz's feelings were changing bit by bit.

At least, this pampered young lady had personally experienced one thing. The difference in paved roads between the outer Urban area and the inner city was really incomparable.

Liz, who was in the carriage, didn't look too good. The reason was that it was too bumpy, making her feel like vomiting.

Seriously, why did Vivian have to come to such a place, and I had to come and pick her up..."

"Have I been too close to her recently..

The young miss grumbled with slight resentment and even reflected on herself.

After all, to be honest, the identities of both parties were there. Liz did not expect Vivian to make such a request, asking her, the daughter of an earl, to be the coachman.

However, it was Count Sisre, who was also her father, who had personally passed the message on behalf of Vivian. Moreover, her father did not mind, saying that it was a good opportunity for Liz to go out and take a look at the outer Urban area. She, Liz, had no choice but to obey.

Sigh...

Just as Liz was sighing in her heart...

Suddenly.

Squeak!

This was the sound of the wheels rubbing against the ground.

The noble carriage that Liz was in came to a sudden stop.

As for the young miss in the carriage, she was caught off guard and her body naturally fell forward due to inertia. Her snow-white forehead immediately became red and swollen from the collision.

"It hurts..." Liz, who had recovered, rubbed the swelling on her head. I

She lifted the curtain in front of her, wanting to ask the coachman how he drove the carriage.

However, before she could speak, a chaotic voice came from outside the carriage.

"You guys...Who are you? What are you doing! Do you know that this is the Earl's car?" Outside, the coachman and a few other guards shouted.

What answered them was a burst of mocking and arrogant laughter.

“Tsk tsk, we know, of course we know. If it wasn’t for the Earl’s car, we wouldn’t even bother to rob it!”

“Hey! Sister Sima was really amazing. This big fish really swam into the net by itself.

“Alright! Stop talking nonsense and hurry up!”

The leader of the masked bandit group interrupted his companions. He pulled out his weapon, and the sharp sword gleamed coldly under the moonlight.

“Remember not to kill all of them. Leave one alive to report to the Earl. Tell him that if he wants his precious daughter, bring the ransom!

“Yes, yes, yes, Boss.” After a casual chorus of replies, the elites of the Treasure Thief Guild also drew their weapons.

It was no wonder that they were so relaxed. After all, this was a battle without suspense.

As the strongest fighting force of the treasure thief group, the Tiger Division was even sent out by Black Tiger to be on the safe side. Each of them was at least an elite who could fight more than one person.

On the other hand, not only was Liz caught off guard, but her individual combat strength was far inferior to the other party’s. Even her numbers were at an absolute disadvantage.

It was hopeless.

In the carriage, Liz no longer had the anger from before. Under such a shocking situation, this young miss’s calm mind instantly analyzed this despairing judgment. NO!

It was not hopeless.

Unless...

Liz remembered what happened in Vivian's room in the morning.

She did it just in case.

However, he didn't expect that it would come in handy so soon.

But...

Liz lowered her head and looked at her trembling hands. With her half-baked skills, could she really do it?

He didn't care.

Right now, he could only give chase.

Hence, he decided to do it.

"Stop!"

Just as the vicious treasure thieves were about to charge over and the guards were prepared to die...

Liz's coquettish voice came from the carriage.

Immediately after, the young lady jumped down from the carriage and appeared in front of everyone..

Chapter 264: My Miss Won't Be That Strong (1)

“Young miss, it’s dangerous here. You, you have to go back quickly!” The loyal guard said a classic line with an anxious expression.

He didn’t realize that there was no safety in the current situation.

The elites of the Treasure Thief Gang also stopped moving.

At first, they revealed doubtful looks, but very quickly, whether it was Liz’s appearance or the girl’s innate temperament, they all silently proved her identity.

The few kidnapers from the Treasure Thief Gang looked at each other.

Everyone was shocked.

After all, in their impression of the young lady of the aristocracy, she should be trembling in fear and crying for her parents.

Therefore, they were intrigued by Liz’s appearance.

There were even many kidnapers who whistled after they came back to their senses.

Although they were elite members of the Treasure Thief Gang, they were still hooligans.

“Yo! Look who it is!”

“Aiyaya, so this is the daughter of a big noble in the inner Urban area. She’s indeed very beautiful! Even Charm’s top star couldn’t compare to her looks, “Stop talking, I can play with these legs for a year!

“Gulp...” (gulping)

Listening to the obscenity of the ears, Lisis could also feel it, many with malicious eyes, wantonly wandering on their own body.

It would be a lie to say that she was not nervous or afraid.

However, Liz still forced herself to calm down. While the kidnappers were still pointing at her and feeling that it was new and she had not seen enough..

He took a deep breath.

She quickly recalled that Vivian had taught her how to guide the magic power in her body this morning.

Liz raised one of her arms.

On the other side.

The group of kidnappers who were whistling at Liz finally noticed the strange behavior of this noble's daughter.

Seeing Liz raise her arm, they all looked puzzled. “What is this young miss trying to do?”

“Is she planning to fight with us?”

“Haha, don't say that. If we go to bed somewhere else, it's really hard to say who will win!

As the leader of the kidnappers, he was relatively calm and had more experience than the average person. When he saw Liz's action, his eyelids instantly twitched, and he thought to himself that this was bad.

“Not good!”

“Be careful, she might be a mage! Quickly interrupt him!”

The leader of the kidnapers shouted at the rest of his companions. His body also shot out fiercely. He turned the blade in his hand over and used the blunt side. He did not care about the back of Liz’s beautiful white neck. He just smashed it hard, trying to knock her out.

“What is it? Mage? Is that true...”

The remaining treasure thieves were skeptical at first.

However, in less than a breath’s time, before they could finish speaking, their expressions suddenly changed. The teasing and relaxed look from before completely disappeared. That was because...

Weng!

Never give a mage a chance to activate. This was the first line of a classic saying.

While the hooligans were still mocking her, Liz had already completed the magic circuit, and the magic power hidden in her body was completely activated.

When Vivian gave Lissy her magic power, she was also surprised that she was born with a high magic capacity.

It might not have been reflected in the teaching in the castle room, but now, in the face of danger, Liz did not hold back and used all her strength to activate it...

A light green magical halo spread out from Liz’s body, turning into specks of starlight that surrounded the girl like fireflies in the night.

The Earl's daughter's long hair fluttered without the wind, and the accompanying magical airflow made the leader of the kidnappers who wanted to approach Lisis stumble and be forced to stop.

This is bad!

Not far away, an unknown magic array began to rapidly condense under Liz's raised arm.

Although the group of treasure thieves did not know what magic it was, they all revealed expressions of fear and faintly showed signs of retreating.

They were indeed the elites of the Tiger Tribe and could fight several high-level hooligans at once. However, if they were facing a spellcaster with extraordinary power, they would not dare to provoke him even if they had a hundred guts.

Damn it!

Wasn't it only the Fire God Church's believers who could use magic? Since when did a pampered noble lady possess such power?

It was too late to curse now.

Lissy's emerald eyes glowed. Although this was only her second time using magic, this intelligent young lady still successfully completed the summoning array.

Then, the next step was...

Liz knew that this was the key to whether she could successfully escape tonight.

The young lady's expression was stern, and she remembered Vivian's teachings in her mind. When summoning, she must not be rigid and stiff. She needed to follow and drive her emotions, full of a sense of ritual for the summoned beast.

However, just as Lisis was about to call out the word " Summon " with emotion...

It was said that a person's potential was best stimulated in times of danger.

This sentence was correct.

At least, that was the case for Liz.

It was a hidden power that came from the depths of her bloodline. When Inyssa used her full power, it began to sprout and show signs of awakening..

Chapter 265: My Big Miss Can't Be So Strong

And at this moment, the body of this Earl's daughter was...

In an instant.

The screen was filled with blood.

Red.

Dizzy.

The scene in Liz's eyes changed rapidly. The nervous guards, the afraid treasure thieves, the outer Urban area under the night sky, and everything around them began to fade away.

And in its place.

It was like a dazzling merry-go-round, as blurry images filled with scarlet flashed crazily in Liz's vision.

She couldn't see the content of the image clearly.

Or rather, Lissy could only see that in every different scarlet scene, there was the same female figure.

The figure had his back to her, so she could not see his face clearly.

However, for some reason, even if it was just the outline or the back, Liz was extremely sure that it was something she had never seen since she was born..

Mother

And at this moment, the body of this Earl's daughter was...

The screen was filled with blood.

Red.

The scene in Liz's eyes changed rapidly. The nervous guards, the afraid treasure thieves, the outer Urban area under the night sky, and everything around them began to fade away.

And in its place.

It was like a dazzling merry-go-round, as blurry images filled with scarlet flashed crazily in Liz's vision.

She couldn't see the content of the image clearly.

Or rather, Lissy could only see that in every different scarlet scene, there was the same female figure.

The figure had his back to her, so she could not see his face clearly.

However, for some reason, even if it was just the outline or the back, Liz was extremely sure that it was something she had never seen since she was born..

Mother.

However, generally speaking, the feeling that a mother gave her child was warmth and intimacy.

However, Liz could only feel a strong urge from the female figure. The urge to change her made her feel fear and the urge to not recognize herself.

This impulse was especially so when the female figure in the countless scarlet images seemed to have sensed Liz's gaze.

The figure seemed to come alive as it slowly turned. When it turned around, it met Liz's gaze through the void.

Instantly.

Thump!

His heart thumped violently, and all the blood in his body seemed to be on fire.

Lissy felt an incomparable hunger, not from her stomach, but from the depths of her soul.

Blood. She wanted blood.

Of course, the impulse and the illusion disappeared in an instant. It was so fast that it was as if it had never happened.

Or rather, when the female figure turned to look at Liz, the scene could not hold on any longer, shattering and completely collapsing.

The entire process seemed long, but in reality, not a single bit of time had passed in reality.

Liz was still at the final stage of the spell, where she was about to shout the word "summon" But...

This time.

For some reason, Liz didn't say the two words that were the standard for Summoners. Instead, she blurted out and muttered in a low voice, a few words appearing in her mind for some reason.

"My kin..."

"Respond...I summon, summon, summon Appear... Here!"

The Earl's daughter's jade green eyes turned into a blood-red color at this moment.

Even the summoning circle under Liz's feet and the light green color that should have been magic power around her body flashed with a few red lights.

In the end, the summoning spell that gave off a strange aura was finally completed with Liz's unique recitation.

As a result, summoned beasts appeared one after another from the summoning circle, which was under Liz's feet.

Looking at the huge number of light spots, the legs of the surrounding kidnappers went weak, and they already had the idea of running away.

In fact, if the light of the Summoning Array lasted for another second, Liz might have won without fighting and scared off the kidnappers.

Unfortunately, there were no ifs.

When the light that affected his vision dissipated, he could really see the so-called swarms of Summoned Beasts summoned by the Earl's daughter...

The kidnappers of the Treasure Thief Group were stunned.

He was stunned in all sorts of ways.

For a moment, they were stunned on the spot. A few of them had already taken a step forward and wanted to run away, but they all stopped.

That was because...

"This is a bat... Bats?" The leader of the kidnappers rubbed his eyes in disbelief.

The corners of his mouth twitched as he looked at the young lady opposite him. Her wings were flapping in the air. The movement was quite loud, but when he took a closer look, he saw that they were all ugly, short, and wing-handed little animals.

The leader of the kidnappers felt that there was nothing wrong with using the word “small animal” to describe it.

After all, he felt that he could kill a bunch of them with a single slap.

“Oh my god, you scared me to death.”

“Hahaha, I was wondering what it was. It turns out that it summoned a group of bats!”

“F * ck, I knew it. How could a noble like her know magic? She’s really just a dabbler.”

Then, the second half of the famous quote from the beginning.

Never give a mage a chance to activate, unless...The other party was a Summoner.

The situation took a turn for the worse.

The face that had now turned into Liz’s was ashen, revealing an extremely disappointed and “as expected” expression. On the other hand, the Treasure Thief Group returned to their initial laughter.

But of course, he also laughed a few times to ease the fear he felt from Liz.

These Tiger Tribe elites were not fools. They were elites after all. When they knew that the other party still had a certain degree of ability to fight back, they no longer played around and became serious.

“Go! Don’t waste any more time, especially not when she has time to cast spells!” The leader of the kidnappers ordered coldly.

They quickly closed in on Liz, not caring at all. They flapped their wings and flew around the brown bats around Liz.

No, not to mention them, even Liz herself didn't care.

"Stop!"

Seeing that the two sides were about to engage in close combat and that her loyal guard was about to die tragically under the other party's sword, this young miss called for a halt again.

Originally, the treasure thieves had learned their lesson and did not intend to be intimidated by Liz again.

However, what the Earl's daughter did next forced them to put down their weapons for the second time.

That was because...

"Aren't you all here for me? Come on, I'll go with you.

Liz waved her hand and dispersed the bats that surrounded her. They made her angry at first glance. Not only were their combat strength trash, but they were also very troublesome.

She passed through the carriage. The guards beside the carriage walked towards the kidnappers and took the initiative to deliver themselves to them.

"Young Miss!" Two or three guards' eyes were about to pop out, and they hurriedly tried to stop him.

However, Liz turned around and frowned as she scolded.

“Go back!”

“But...” His duty as a guard allowed him to see his young miss being taken away in front of his eyes while he did nothing. However, Liz raised her voice again.

“Is my words useless?”

After finally stopping the guards, Liz took the initiative to walk in front of the leader of the kidnappers.

When their eyes met, she could see that the other party’s eyes were filled with surprise. It was as if he had not expected that she could do such a thing.

“Alright, now that you’ve achieved your goal, you can let them go.

The ‘they’ that Liz was referring to was naturally her guards and coachman.

Just as the leader of the kidnappers was about to say something, Liz seemed to have expected it and beat him to it.

“Someone has to go back and inform my father. Otherwise, how can you ask my father for the ransom? Since one of them is going to report, then a little more people are also going to report. It also saves you the time to take action,

The leader of the kidnappers was speechless. He really couldn’t find any reason to refute.

However, the leader of the kidnappers was naturally unhappy that the woman he wanted to kidnap had taken the lead.

“Hmph, our young miss, you don’t seem to understand the current situation. You’re in our hands now.
“The leader of the kidnappers threatened.

What he meant was that he had to restrain himself! You should be trembling in fear and crying!

But Liz was clearly not such a person.

“What? Do you dare to touch me? At that time, I believe that your father won’t be the first to kill you. Your boss will be.

“You...!”

The leader of the kidnappers was so angry that he subconsciously raised his hand to hit someone. However, his fist was in mid-air, and he quickly put it down.

Reason told him that what Liz said was right. If anything happened to this young miss, the nature of the situation would change completely.

Such a huge responsibility was not something that small fry like them could shoulder.

“Hmph, take him away!”

The Ruler could not take this anymore. He waved his hand and had his subordinates tie Liz up.

Oh, plus a little revenge.

“And...”

“Seal up our young miss ‘mouth!

Chapter 266: Yo, What a Coincidence, We Meet Again! 1

“You guys are the best!”

Seeing Liz being treated rudely, the accompanying guards glared angrily. They wanted to fight the kidnapers with their lives, but they were quickly pushed back by their companions, the slightly wiser coachman.

Although he was called a coachman, he was actually an old servant of the Sisre family and had more knowledge.

The coachman warned in a low voice.

“Don’t let the young miss down! ”

“The young miss did this so that we could all survive and report to the Earl as soon as possible! ”

“So, let’s go!”

After saying that, the coachman jumped into the noble carriage. The carriage was still the original carriage, but the noble inside had disappeared.

After hearing the coachman’s words, the guards knew that there was a huge disparity in strength between the two sides. No matter what, they could not save the young miss from the kidnapers. After gritting their teeth, they also jumped into the carriage.

The coachman whipped the carriage toward the Sisle family’s manor in the inner Urban area. They returned the way they came and sped away.

He looked at his servants and guards leaving.

And the kidnapers around them didn’t chase after them anymore.

Her hands were tied up and her mouth was sealed, but Liz still looked relieved.

However, she was soon escorted into the carriage by the kidnappers.

Taking advantage of the darkness, the group headed toward the planned abandoned warehouse in an extremely hidden area in the outer Urban area.

After the two groups of people quickly left, the scene seemed to have become deserted.

No.

It couldn't be said that, because at least there was one more thing at the scene than before.

Puchi puchi...

The sound of the Winged Hand's wings flapping was heard in groups. After being chased away by Liz, they had nowhere to go and could only wander in the night sky... A group of bats.

When they saw Liz move, they wanted to follow her.

However, just as they were halfway there, the bats were intercepted by another creature.

Liao Zixuan looked at this group with interest. They had sharp heads and ferocious fangs. At first glance, they looked quite scary. They were brown creatures.

Liz didn't realize it, and it was even more impossible for the treasure thieves to notice it. However, as a third party watching from the side, Liao Zixuan saw it very clearly.

There was no doubt that the bats that Liz had summoned this time...It was completely different from the one in the morning.

Even though they still looked very ordinary.

But the most obvious evidence was that they had not disappeared!

Under normal circumstances, ordinary summoned beasts were limited by time and location. Firstly, the summoner's mana level determined how long they could be summoned. Secondly, as long as they were too far away from the summoner, they would automatically disappear.

It was also jokingly called by the players as the automatic explosion after the separation of human and machine.

However, this group of bats clearly violated both of the above points. They could not be like a certain wolf and have the privilege of being a taboo.

Therefore, rather than calling them Summoned Beasts, it would be better to call them... Kindred?

Just like how Liz was chanting?

However, from the young lady's behavior, it seemed that she did not notice it at all.

Puchi...

Puchi puchi puchi!

Just as Liao Zixuan was still sizing them up and thinking, the group of bats that were stopped from following their master could not stand it anymore and began to get impatient.

Their wings flapped even more violently, and the high-frequency vibration brought about a sharp sound.

If it was just a bat, it would be fine.

However, if it was a group of bats, the change in the sound of flapping their wings would be amplified by a lot. Coupled with the darkness, it was a little scary to hear.

Of course, what was even more terrifying was yet to come.

Seeing that the threat and warning were futile, even if the bats realized that the wolf cub blocking their way made them feel fear, they still did not hesitate to follow Liz and their master.

The bats decided to attack the wolf cubs.

Yes, attack.

He wondered what the expression of the leader of the kidnappers, who had called the bats "small animals", would be when he saw this scene.

Only to see.

The dark clouds formed a group of bats that looked like a black fog. They were organized and orderly as they collectively charged at the wolf cubs.

Under the cover of the night, ordinary people might not be able to see clearly, but Liao Zixuan could clearly observe.

This group of bats originally had soft wings, but they were sprinting towards themselves. In the blink of an eye, they were rapidly hardened, turning from tools used for flight into... A weapon to kill.

The hardened bat wings were like brown blades.

When they passed by the trees on the street, they could see that the branches and leaves of the trees were still solid, leaving sharp scratches on them.

Even though the scratches weren't very deep and it could be seen that there was still a lack of strength, it couldn't withstand the large number of them.

If they were really surrounded by bats...

It was no less than a small-scale sword storm.

Ah, sorry, don't go with us.

Because they were currently being besieged by the bats, the wolf cubs felt that even Chris would be in trouble with the group of subordinates that Liz had summoned.

Not to mention those kidnappers from the treasure thief group just now. They would probably be wiped out in minutes, right?

And it was the kind of death that was very miserable, the kind that was cut into pieces by a thousand knives.

Unfortunately, Liz didn't know about this at all..

Chapter 267: Yo, What a Coincidence, We Meet Again!_2

The Earl's daughter thought that what she had summoned was still a bunch of trash bats with only five combat power.

However, this was also good..

This power...

Liao Zixuan felt that it was better for Liz to find out later.

What was that old saying?

The more he knew, the faster his sanity value would drop.

I waved my paws and the ooze.

Liao Zixuan felt that this group of bat masters' skills were just so-so.

After all, to others, it was a blade storm, but to the wolf cubs, it was a rubbing storm.

The bats had been scraping for a long time, but Liao Zixuan's health bar did not even jump.

From this, one could see the weakness of the bat group.

Once the opponent's defense was too high, then this kind of high-frequency but low-damage attack would become polishing for others and would not have any effect.

From the looks of it, it was far from reaching that level. With the physical fitness of a taboo monster like the wolf cub, it only needed to wear a slightly thicker armor to be immune to the bat's attack.

Of course.

The premise was that the bats only knew how to harden their wings into sharp blades.

However, according to Liao Zixuan's game memory, as the final boss of the Bloody Earl Castle.

The Blood Countess 'bat family was divided into several different types.

Right now, Hardening Wings into Sharp Blades was just the most ordinary ' normal attack '

Other than that, there were also blood-sucking, curses, regeneration, and even...Self-destruct! It was a huge headache for the players.

As a result, on the forum, the players unanimously felt that half of the Blood Countess's strength was due to her subordinates.

Right now, it was probably because Liz's bloodline and ability had not been completely activated. It had only awakened a bud and was far from reaching the level it would be in the future.

Or could it be because the current Liz was only Liz and not a Countess?

Oh no, it seemed that he had delayed it for too long.

At the mention of Lissy, Liao Xuan finally remembered what he had to do. Out of curiosity, he had been delayed by the bats for too long.

That poor young lady of his...

His hands and feet were tied and his mouth was gagged.

Looking at the time, it should have been abandoned in a cold and dark abandoned warehouse by now, right?

It seemed like it was time to continue filming the second episode of " I Trained a Young Miss to Become XXXX

At the thought of this...

Buzz...

A pitch-black flame appeared from the void and burned on the wolf cub's body.

From an outsider's point of view, it was like moths flying into a flame. The bats that had yet to react were still charging forward. In the end, the moment they came into contact with the wolf cubs, they were swallowed by the flames and turned into ashes.

The remaining bats finally wanted to escape in all directions, but the wolf cubs would not let them go.

In order to let Liz detect the bloodline power later, it was for Liao Zixuan's next plan and for the good of this young miss herself.

Therefore, it was impossible for this group of bats to stay.

Flames rose from their bodies out of thin air, and their bodies of flesh and blood began to combust violently.

In the end, just like the bats before, they were like fireworks in the night sky. After a short period of fire, they were completely extinguished and turned into ashes.

After confirming that none of the bat kin survived, the wolf cubs headed in the direction of the carriage where the treasure thieves had kidnapped Liz, chasing after her at an extremely fast speed.

"Oh... Boohoo!"

The girl's whimper echoed in the lonely space.

After the kidnapers left her here, they all left. They should be guarding outside.

This was the decision of the leader of the kidnapers.

They didn't dare to stay with Liz. The main reason was that they were afraid that they couldn't restrain their desires. If they really did something, they would lose their heads.

They knew clearly which was more important, their desire or their brains.

Hence, the current situation.

Liz looked around.

There were only cold wooden containers and many unknown mechanical equipment.

From the moldy bacteria on the container and the rust on the mechanical equipment, it was not difficult for Liz to determine that this should be a warehouse, but it had not been used for a long time.

This made the Earl's daughter's heart sink.

The more abandoned the warehouse was, the more people would not care about it. It also meant that it was located in a remote area and was very difficult to find. If they wanted to be rescued by accident, the possibility of escaping by themselves was basically zero.

But in fact, these were all considered too far ahead.

The most pressing problem that Liz wanted to solve was still... She shrank her body in the air

The air he exhaled from his nose was emitting white mist.

The temperature in Fire Code City at night plummeted, and the difference in temperature between day and night was huge.

And the place where the girl was thrown by the kidnappers...

There were no warm torches or stoves here. As for the heating beads that stored fire magic, there was no need to even think about it.

Cold...

So cold...

It had been a long time since Liz, the daughter of an earl, had experienced this feeling as she owned an entire manor and castle in the inner Urban area where every inch of land was worth gold.

Her hands and feet were already starting to feel cold. The cold caused her blood circulation to slow down and her head to feel dizzy.

Although it would not freeze her to death, it would worsen her condition and prevent her from escaping.

This might be one of the reasons why the kidnappers chose this place.

Of course, it was more likely that it was the leader of the kidnappers who wanted to take revenge on her. He wanted her to suffer a little even though she was kidnapped.

But Liz couldn't just sit there and wait.

She tried to lean against it and wrapped her clothes tightly to keep warm.

But it was a pity.

As it was a banquet tonight, Liz naturally went out in a formal dress.

The dress for the social dinner was obviously not designed to keep warm.

In order to accentuate the lines of her body, she had used a thin silk fabric. However, in the current situation, Liz's skin was almost defenseless as it came into contact with the wet floor of the warehouse at zero distance.

It was even more ridiculous to say that it was wrapped tightly.

Damn it!

Why did the gown have to be designed with so much exposure!

Her calves, collarbones, and shoulders...

All of them were exposed to the cold air of the warehouse, making Liz tremble all over. She didn't even tremble when facing the kidnapers, but now it was physical, and she was really trembling.

She was probably frozen silly and a little confused.

Liz suddenly thought of the dress she had bought for Vivian when she went to the tailor shop with Elena last night. That piece is so good

Her upper body was completely wrapped up.

It must be very warm...

And shoes...

Vivian's closed-off cloth shoes were so nice, unlike his current pair of high-heeled shoes that looked beautiful but were actually flashy.

He left his feet outside.

Liz curled her little feet.

But it was useless.

Because the entire high heels were added up, the so-called fabric was only a few threads used to fix the position of the feet. The rest was gone.

No.

Wait... A moment later...

It was as if he had suddenly thought of something.

Liz's mind was in a daze, and her thoughts were flying around.

Oh no!

I forgot to prepare high heels for Vivian!

She wouldn't be so silly as to wear cloth shoes and a dress to the banquet, right? It shouldn't be...

Liz didn't dare to imagine how awkward that scene would be.

Damn it!

All... Blame it all on the tailor shop...There was actually someone who wanted to...Snatch that dress...

If she wasn't afraid of being caught, she wouldn't have snatched it in such a hurry...No, he was in a hurry to leave after buying the shoes and forgot about the shoes.

But then again...

In the end, he was still caught up by that person. If he had known this would happen, he would have been more patient and negotiated with others in the shop...

As time passed, the cold spread throughout Liz's body, sealing her thoughts.

There was really no other way to deal with physiological changes. The intelligent young lady had already disappeared. Now, she was dizzy and could only rely on her subconscious thoughts to maintain her consciousness.

But soon, Liz felt that she probably couldn't even stay awake.

Because it was the best evidence.

It was this young lady who realized that she had begun to hallucinate.

Why did he say that?

The answer was simple.

It was a young man whom Liz was not unfamiliar with. She had just met him last night. To be precise, he was a man who had been labeled as a " hooligan " in the young lady's heart.

At this moment, he was standing opposite her.

He revealed his white teeth.

He smiled.

He greeted her. "Yo, beautiful lady..." "What a coincidence!"

"It seems that we've met again..

Chapter 268: You 're Obviously Not That Kind of Person

It was said that when a person's consciousness was blurry, the brain would hallucinate what they wanted to see the most in the depths of their heart.

So... Why was it this guy?

Liz's eyelids were a little tight. In order to cope with the cold, her body began to adjust itself internally, reducing the consumption of various organs to a minimum, and putting more energy into producing heat and maintaining temperature.

As the brain that consumed the most energy in the entire body, it was naturally the first to be cut off by the physiological "click".

To put it simply...

It was probably like a high fever. His brain was crippled and he was not very bright.

This could be seen from Liz's current thoughts.

This young lady was racking her brains to think of the answer to her previous question.

In other words, why did he hallucinate that he had only met this man once and had a negative impression of him? Then, Liz's answer was...

Could it be...

Was it because he was more handsome?

This seemed to be the only reason.

He had to admit that when rationality faded, humans were no different from other creatures. They were all very loyal to their instincts.

This was especially applicable to those who usually paid more attention to rationality and suppressed their instinctive desires.

When his rationality was gone and his instincts were free, the rebound would be even greater.

It was the same principle as a wild horse running wild.

Unfortunately, this kind of species, as the "young lady of a prestigious family," was one of the above-mentioned high-risk groups.

Liz looked at Liao Zixuan in a daze.

After that.

The young lady frowned.

This was because, upon closer inspection, the man opposite her was indeed the second most admired young man Liz had ever seen, second only to Damir, who had the bonus of admiration. The reason why she frowned was because...

Could it be...

Was she really just a superficial woman who cared about her appearance?

They had only met once, yet she was teased by someone else. In the end, she was reluctant to part just because the other party was good-looking?

She was actually such a person?

Thinking of this, Liz felt a sense of frustration.

Hiss... What a strange thought.

He took another look.

Opposite him.

Err...

He saw that his carefully prepared opening speech did not seem to have any effect.

This Earl's daughter who was kidnapped did not seem surprised at all after seeing him. No, let alone surprised, she was not even surprised.

There seemed to be some who stared at him blankly, then frowned and showed a sad expression, and finally became even more depressed?

Liao Zixuan was a little confused.

But very quickly.

When he saw the girl's limbs that were red from the cold, her breathing that was getting heavier and heavier, and her blurry eyes that were about to lose focus, Liao Zixuan finally reacted.

It was obvious that he had never been in a relationship or had a girlfriend. Otherwise, he would not have noticed it so late.

Not everyone had the same physical quality as him.

He had come a little late. This child was probably going to be frozen silly.

The thin dress on the girl dutifully saluted the cold warehouse air around her. The door was open, allowing the cold wind to penetrate the fabric and blow on Liz's body.

Yes, the window of the warehouse was deliberately left open. This was also one of the methods used by the leader of the kidnappers to give this young miss a taste of pain.

How ruthless.

And the results were pretty good.

She was trembling non-stop. The young miss of the past curled her body into a ball at this moment, like a stray cat wandering on the roadside in the cold night.

be in urgent need of

A kind-hearted passerby carried her into a warm home.

Hence, he decided to do it.

As a kind passerby, Liao Zixuan snapped his fingers.

In a flash, sparks flew like a match.

Liz seemed to have seen the flames coming out of the man's fingertips.

It was a flame that brought warmth.

However, in the blink of an eye, the warm flames disappeared, as if everything was just an illusion. No, no, no.

No, wait...

Only the flames disappeared, not the warmth.

Liz felt the bone-chilling cold wind suddenly stop.

It was as if there was an invisible wall blocking the abandoned warehouse that was leaking air from all directions.

At the same time, the cold cement ground under his butt started to warm up miraculously.

He no longer transmitted the cold into his body. Instead, he completely reversed the situation and began to gradually absorb the remaining cold qi in his body.

Not only the ground, but the surrounding air was also like a fireplace, like a warm blanket, completely enveloping her frozen stiff body.

Furthermore, it wasn't the kind of instant heat, but rather, it was slowly heating up.

Although the difference didn't seem big, it was actually completely different.

Liz immediately recalled her childhood memories.

It was the kind of blissful feeling that came during the coldest time of the winter in Fire Code City. Her father was carrying her in his arms as he threw the firewood into the burning fireplace one by one, enjoying the feeling of the cold being dispelled bit by bit.

Shu spread out his limbs and no longer needed to huddle together for warmth.

The blood flow in her body returned to normal, and the numbness quickly subsided. Liz gradually regained control of her body.

Similarly, as the most important organ of the body, the little brain of the Earl's daughter finally got out of the low-consumption 'sleep' mode and started up again.

It didn't matter..

Chapter 269: You 're Obviously Not That Kind of Person (2)

However, the problem was that the brain would not erase the " history " .

It was like recalling the feeling of being drunk after sobering up.

On the surface, Liz didn't look any different. She was very normal. This was the result of rational facial management.

However, in reality...

What the hell!

She was...

What the hell was she thinking? And at such a critical juncture?

He secretly broke his own mouth.

Liz immediately threw out the nonsense that belonged to her frozen self from her memory.

But memories were not something that could be thrown away just like that.

It would more or less become a part of you.

"Oh... Wuuuu..."

On the other side.

Looking at the kidnapped young miss opposite him, she finally revealed some shock and extreme surprise that she should have when she appeared here.

However, the problem was that the brain would not erase the " history ".

"Oh... wuuuu..."

On the other side.

Looking at the kidnapped young miss opposite him, she finally revealed some shock and extreme surprise that she should have when she appeared here.

Liao Zixuan nodded in satisfaction. This was a normal reaction.

He took a step forward and tore the seal that the kidnapper had placed on the girl's mouth.

Otherwise, even if the poor young miss wanted to speak, she could only keep on whimpering.

Rip...

As the seal fell.

Whoosh!

He immediately took a big breath in celebration.

Liz's mouth finally regained its freedom.

He could finally speak.

This young lady was obviously very impatient. She had countless questions about the mysterious man who had appeared in front of her.

"You, you were at that time..."

"Congratulations on your correct answer, Miss." Liao Zixuan clapped his hands.

Perhaps he felt that the atmosphere had reached its climax, so he followed up with another sentence.

“Unfortunately, there is no reward, Miss.”

Every time he faced Liz, Liao Zixuan’s desire to perform would inexplicably increase. He looked forward to how this noble young lady would react.

After a short period of silence.

“I’m very curious. Have you always spoken like this?”

“No.” “Then can you please act normally?”

“Alright.’

Liao Zixuan was speechless.

“Cough, in short, Miss, your current situation... It doesn’t look too good.” He deliberately sized up Liz with a playful gaze.

Liao Zixuan had helped Liz tear off the seal on her mouth, but the most important thing was that the rope that bound Liz’s hands and feet was still firmly tied to it.

Liao Zixuan could now understand why the group of treasure thieves would rather stay outside than stay with Liz.

This scene...

The binding of a noble daughter

He was like a soft, snow-white lamb waiting to be slaughtered.

It would be a lie to say that she was not tempted at all.

The current Liz was indeed more attractive than her usual state during the day.

Indeed, human happiness was built on the pain of others.

On the other side.

Liz nodded after hearing Liao Zixuan's words. "So, could you please untie me?"

"I'm sorry, Miss." Liao Zixuan shook his head. "Why?"

"Because I was the one who captured you."

After Liao Zixuan said this, the two of them fell into silence again.

The tied up young lady on the ground stared at Liao Zixuan for a long time...

Sigh...

She sighed helplessly.

This feeling was like receiving unexpected support from a teammate in a desperate situation. However, after a closer look, he realized that the teammate who came to support him was a psychopath.

"What, you don't believe me?" Liao Zixuan raised his eyebrows.

This was because Liz, who was on the ground opposite him, was just short of writing the word " disbelief " on her face.

"Because the matter between us yesterday was still over, I held a grudge in my heart. I secretly investigated your identity and planned this kidnapping operation to take revenge on you."

"No matter how you look at it, it's very reasonable, don't you think so, Miss?" After Liao Zixuan finished his description, it was Liz's turn to speak.

It seemed that she could tell that if she did not satisfy some strange hobby of this mysterious man opposite her, she would not be saved.

In order to escape, Liz had to seize this opportunity to solve the problem that the other party had given her.

However, to be honest.

This was too simple for her.

"So, who is Sima to you?"

Liz used her killing move right away.

As someone who was good at observing carefully, how could she not notice that when the kidnappers saw her get out of the car, they accidentally exposed the name of the mastermind behind the scenes.

However, as Liao Zixuan had witnessed the entire process, this alone would not expose him.

"Tsk, as expected of the Earl's daughter. She found clues so quickly. Indeed, I asked Sima for help in this matter. She and I...You can say you know him."

After thinking about Sima's actions under the Earl's control, Liao Zixuan could not bring himself to call him a friend.

Liz shook her head.

"You know him? Based on my understanding of Sima, kidnapping the daughter of an earl was not something that could be done just by knowing him."

"If I'm not wrong, although the kidnappers outside have deliberately concealed their faces and identities, it's obvious that only the Treasure Thief Gang would dare to do so in the entire Fire Code City, right?"

' Plus, I remember that Sima's mother was also born in the underground forces, so the clues are connected.

After Liz calmly analyzed the situation, the young miss's pair of green eyes stared straight at Liao Zixuan.

Moonlight shone through the window of the warehouse and onto Liz's golden hair.

She asked again,"

"So, are you also a member of the treasure stealing group? Or the kind with high authority and authority that could mobilize elite subordinates?" "You even guessed it. It's indeed quite impressive.

Liao Zixuan nodded, as if he wanted to see what else he could say.

But this was exactly what Liz wanted to hear.

It's over. Whether it's from the first time we met, your disappearance and reappearance, I couldn't be sure at that time, but now, I can be sure.

“You are a very powerful mage. “Liz said word by word.

Then, he did not give Liao Zixuan a chance to speak.

” The best proof is that I am conscious now, and even feel very warm all over. I am playing the detective game with you in the cold abandoned warehouse that should have been able to freeze people.

“Then, Mr. Mage from a foreign land, if you wish to join the Treasure Thief Guild, it would be best for you to first understand how bad their attitude towards mages is and how much they reject foreigners. ”

” After you give up on the Treasure Thief Team, if possible, I’ll represent the Sisre family and look forward to working with you. Regarding the misunderstanding between you and me, I, Lissy Sisre, will definitely solemnly apologize to you.

After thinking for a moment, Liz gritted her teeth and added.

“In the way you wish.”

Since Liz had already said this, if he still insisted on denying it, it would indeed be meaningless.

Liao Zixuan sighed and muttered softly.

“If I had known earlier, I would have let you keep freezing. ‘You are obviously not such a person.’” Liz retorted directly.

Who said that the young miss couldn’t suck up?

Since ancient times, flattery had an immediate effect.

Liao Zixuan moved his fingers.

On Liz's side, she was shocked.

Because flames suddenly appeared out of thin air and started burning her limbs.

However, the Earl's daughter quickly calmed down. She was not afraid at all. On the contrary, she revealed a curious expression towards the flames on her body.

This was because these strange flames seemed to have a mind of their own. They did not hurt her skin at all. They only burned accurately on the rope that bound her.

In the blink of an eye, Liz's hands and feet were completely free.

The young miss immediately wanted to stand up.

However, she had overestimated her recovery rate.

After being tied up for so long, there was no blood circulation and she was still in a numb state. With a sudden exertion of strength, Liz stood up, but her feet could not stabilize her body at all.

She immediately shifted her center of gravity and staggered. Coincidentally, her entire body fell in Liao Zixuan's direction.

Then, he faced the young lady who was falling towards him.

This was like a classic scene in an anime. When it was a heaven-sent opportunity, did he still need to think about what to do?

Hence, he decided to do it.

Liao Zixuan nimbly turned his body and took a step back.

Perfect gave Liz space to fall.

Plop!

Thump!

Chapter 270: I Only Want to Punch You! 1

Without any suspense, he fell.

Liz propped her body up with both hands, and her knees came into close contact with the ground. For a moment, a burning sensation spread from her palms and knees.

It hurts...

A certain rich young lady gritted her teeth.

She gritted her teeth, but it wasn't because of physical pain. Although the young miss seemed to have the "delicate" attribute, Liz was an exception.

She had liked to play crazily since she was young. Liz had fallen countless times before, so this was nothing.

What really made this young lady gnash her teeth and made Liz feel "burning" was her mental state.

Was that small step you took serious?

Don't think that she didn't see it.

For some reason, Liz felt a strong sense of humiliation.

The source of this feeling had to be traced back and combined with her mental activity a few seconds ago.

In fact, when Liz was anxious to stand up, but her feet went numb, this young lady's heart skipped a beat. She could already predict what was going to happen.

Then, as expected, she lost her balance and fell uncontrollably. The position where she fell happened to be the man opposite her.

Although the entire process only lasted a fraction of a second, it did not affect Liz's desire to find a hole in the ground to hide in.

After all, he was a well-educated and conservative person.

Even a little yellow book, a book! She had never peeked at a single book before.

How she wished that the other party could dodge. Liz would rather fall to the ground than fall on a member of the opposite sex she had only met twice.

Even though this man whom she had only met twice was her only hope of escaping, and he was even considerate enough to use fire magic to warm her body, and...Yes, he was a little handsome.

Then, this "opposite sex whom I've met twice" really dodged away just as she wished.

He dodged without any hesitation, so cleanly.

This made Liz's original embarrassment evolve into 'shame' and 'humiliation' at the speed of light. Even the favorable impression she had of Liao Zixuan previously immediately disappeared.

He actually didn't help me up? He actually didn't take the opportunity to hug me? He actually dodged such a good opportunity? What right did he have to dodge? How could he dare to dodge?

Women were indeed strange creatures at times.

Do something to her, she might end up as a beast! However, if you don't do anything, you might end up being worse than a beast.

By the way, this wasn't a woman's intention. There were some emotions that even they themselves couldn't understand.

Just like Liz at this moment.

"Failure is the mother of success, Miss."

Liao Zixuan stretched out a hand to Liz, who had fallen on all fours, in a gentlemanly manner to help her relieve herself.

"That's really...Thank you." The last two words could be heard as Liz squeezed them out from between her teeth.

In the face of Liao Zixuan's hand, the Eldest Miss Miss directly ignored it.

She was not going to take the man's stinky hand.

However, there was some truth in what the other party said. A fall into the pit, a gain in one's wits. This time, Liz did not blindly stand up. Instead, she moved her limbs to make sure that the blood flow was smooth and that she was no longer numb from the original binding.

Only then did Liz exert strength in her hands and get up from the ground.

This time, he stood steadily.

Throwing all her messy emotions to the back of her mind, Liz did not forget her current situation and the most important thing.

She took a deep breath and adjusted her condition.

Soon, this young lady raised a hand, and a familiar magical wave was about to come from Liz's body.

The summoning spell formation was about to light up under the girl's feet, but at the same time, another voice came from beside her.

"Miss, I don't recommend you to do this.

Liao Zixuan shook his head as he looked at Liz, who was about to release her summoning spell again.

"If you summon another group of bats, it will make me very distressed."

The light of the summoning circle stopped abruptly, along with the magic fluctuations on Liz's body.

The girl turned her head abruptly.

She frowned and instantly reacted to the information in Liao Zixuan's words. The other party actually knew that she would summon the bat...

"You... He had been there since the start of the car-hijacking? "Lisa could only think of one possibility.

"Yes, Miss. I was fortunate enough to witness the entire process.

“Then why didn’t you help? With your strength, it shouldn’t be a problem for you to deal with a few members of the Treasure Thieves Guild, right?”

Liz asked angrily.

In the end, the next second, the answer from the other party almost made this young miss faint from anger.

“Eh? Could it be that you think we’re very familiar with each other?” Liao Zixuan looked surprised.

Then, he analyzed it for Liz.

“Alright, let’s say that we’re half-acquaintances. However, instead of saving you at that time, it’s better to wait until you’re kidnapped and in deep trouble. Then, I’ll come and save you, just like now. Wouldn’t that be better?”

“What do you think, Miss?” What do you think?

“What do you think?”

I just want to punch you!

Liz secretly clenched her fists, and her chest was surging. The pitiful dress was bearing a pressure that it should not have.

“Don’t be like this, Miss. Aren’t you also thinking about how to use me?”

“Take the summoning spell you were about to release as an example. If you summon another powerful monster, you can easily kill your way out. However, if you fail, the kidnapers outside will run in to check the situation because of the summoning spell..
