Chapter 381: Demoness Authority and Demoness Dress (3)

He was definitely not attracted by the “merging of two into one”!

[Ding, you have chosen ‘Contract’ as your Witch’s Authority. You have obtained a new contract method. The number of monsters you can contract now +1]

[Ding! You have selected ‘Growth Equipment’ as your Witch Talent. You are currently transforming’ Growth Equipment ‘into a Witch...]

[Ding, you have lost the skill-Bio Equipment]

[Ding, you have obtained a new skill- -Witch Gift]

With the final ding, the Demoness class had finally completed its class change. The purple box of the Demoness ‘Seed seemed to have completely exhausted its strength and began to shrink. In the end, it miraculously transformed from a box into a seed.

Liao Zixuan thought that it would be over. He couldn’t wait to pray to Little Black. Xin Yan!” Vivian, when they used Irina to experience new power together...

Suddenly, something strange happened again.

“Kekeke!”

A sinister laughter that was deliberately put on by a woman appeared at the scene.

She saw that the Witch’s Soul Fragment, which was originally at the end of the withering process, had sensed something and appeared in front of Vivian.

That was...

The giver of the Witch's Seed was the Thousand-faced Witch, Bella, whom Vivian had first met.

She sniffed in Vivian's direction, and her eyes immediately curved into crescents. She put her hands on her hips and could not help but laugh out loud.

"Haha... Hahaha... Ha... Burp... Cough cough!"

Because it was just a trace of soul power, Bella almost laughed herself to death because she laughed too much. Bella coughed violently a few times.

That was why Vivian opened her eyes from her "prayer" and looked at Bella's soul in confusion.

"Hmph, hmph, how is it, little fellow? How does it feel to be a Demoness? I knew it. You were born to be a witch. I, Bella, have sharp eyes. Haha...Burp..."

Cough cough!"

"Eh? I-I succeeded?"

After hearing Bella's words, Vivian came back to her senses. Her first reaction was not to experience what new power and ability she had obtained, but...

"Sob... Little Black! That's great, Little Black! Sob, sob, sob...You're still here!"

Vivian hugged the little wolf cub tightly. The narration was still admiring the little girl's gorgeous witch panel. Looking at the little wolf cub, some people would believe that it was a life and death parting. It was almost strangled to death by Liao Zixuan. It patted Vivian several times with its little claws before the little girl reluctantly let go.

“Xiao Hei, are you feeling unwell?”

“Xiao Hei, do you feel anything strange about your body?”

“Xiao Hei, you...”

Vivian asked a lot of questions. She was afraid that she would affect Blackie after she awakened the witch. After all, the little girl had also heard the rumors of the witch’s horror.

Until...

“Cough...Cough cough! Cough cough cough!”

Bella coughed violently and finally made her presence known to Vivian.

She was a grand Grand Witch, yet she was ignored. Her anger was secondary, but now, Bella’s heart was tilled with another emotion.

That was doubt.

Why did she have to leave the soul fragment in the Witch’s Seed? Her goal was... Watch the show!
Appreciation! A white lotus turned into a witch!

But now it seemed like...

What the hell?

For now, Vivian, who had become a witch, felt like the white lotus she had encountered before... No difference?

He didn't believe it!

Bella didn't believe it!

Chapter 382: The Fireblade

I've seen the resentment you collected in the Witch's Seed. Tsk tsk, you're clearly the hero who saved Fire Code City and even eliminated the Earl who was corrupted by the Fallen Abyss. However, those ignorant people regard you as a Witch because of this.

Bella's bewitching voice sounded. She seemed to be mocking, but also seemed to be sympathizing.

As someone who had experienced it before, she knew very well that every Demoness would have a very strong obsession when they were just awakened.

From Bella's point of view.

Vivian's obsession should be...

"What do you think? What you want to do the most right now is to kill all those ignorant Fire Code City people!"

"I understand you because I have experienced the same thing as you. This kind of betrayal by the person you protect, this kind of giving everything but not getting anything in return!

"Resentment buries the seeds of killing in the bottom of one's heart, while hatred makes them take root and sprout, breaking through the earth!

The more Bella spoke, the angrier she became. The old witch who had lived for countless years had a voluptuous chest. Seeing Vivian's new awakening, she seemed to recall the time when she first became a witch.

The sense of immersion was very strong.

Bella transformed into an orator. She spoke faster and faster, and her emotions became more and more intense. She tried to bring Vivian along and resonate with her.

"Come on! Stop pretending! Unleash your sorceress power to your heart's content!

"Since everyone has betrayed me, it doesn't matter if we betray everyone. Since they call me a Demoness, then I...He would really let them experience what it meant to... Demoness!"

Bella opened her arms in excitement, as if the witch who had just awakened was not Vivian, but herself.

However...

Silence was the worst thing to do.

Bella waited for a long time, but Vivian's enthusiasm did not respond. What she waited for was...

"No." The little girl shook her head.

"No, no... Oh?"

Bella stuttered and repeated, a little dumbfounded.

Vivian, who was holding the wolf cub, nodded.

She paused for a moment, as if she was sorting out her words, and said to Bella,

” I feel that only those who stand in the light are considered heroes. Even those who stand in the dark...Could it be that it was not considered? Heroes didn't have to be defined by others. As long as we knew that we did the right thing, wasn't that enough?”

Vivian replied gently.

After experiencing the Witch's Awakening, the little girl had indeed changed. It was just that she had become more daring to express her thoughts.

“You...!” Bella's eyes widened, and she found it a little difficult to understand. “How can you say such a thing? It was impossible...That's impossible!”

Bella shook her head frantically. She had personally experienced the feeling of awakening a witch. At that time, her entire person was filled with negative emotions. Instead of saying that she controlled the power of the witch, it was more accurate to say that the power of the witch controlled her. She used the negative emotions to make her do many impulsive things that Bella regretted for the rest of her life. From then on, it was gone forever. There was no way to turn back, and she became what she was today.

Therefore, Bella left a fragment of her soul in the Witch's Seed, saying that she wanted to watch the show and enjoy it. However, deep in Bella's heart, there was still a trace of kindness and regret. She did not want Vivian to repeat her mistakes.

Of course, all of this had vanished into thin air because Bella realized that

Vivian was not following the script at all. Therefore, Bella did not have to stop Vivian anymore. She was now single-minded and wanted to drag Vivian down with her!

Kindness was just the demoness's illusion, while evil was the main thought of the demoness.

“Haven't you ever experienced that your friends in the past turned against you and abandoned you after being misled by public opinion and slander?”

Bella tried to "wake" up Vivian.

Unfortunately...

"No, I actually want to thank them now. If not for each of them using their own methods to encourage me during my most difficult time, I'm afraid... He won't be able to last until now."

Vivian revealed a nostalgic look. Bella could tell that the little girl was not lying to her. Whether it was from her tone or expression, even if Vivian did not describe it in detail, Bella could imagine the touching scene.

Damn it! Damn it!

Bella felt as if an arrow had been shot into her heart. The name of the arrow was jealousy.

She refused to believe it and asked sternly again,

"Alright, even if your friends believe you, what about the city guards and the Fire God Sect?? They must have gone crazy to capture you! Even if your friends are willing to help you and hide you, with your personality, you definitely won't want to drag them down. You can only hide in a dark and damp alley corner and rely on picking up other people's leftovers from the garbage dump to survive. Don't you want revenge for this kind of suffering?"

No, that's why I'm really grateful to them. If it weren't for Harvey and

Damir, I would definitely have become what you said. "

Vivian's voice gradually lowered. At some point, the little girl's eyes that looked at Bella had changed from the initial vigilance to the current... His heart ached.

However, Bella didn't sense any of this because the old witch was a little emotional at the moment.

Wha... What the hell!

Harvey and Damir?

If Bella remembered correctly, one of them was in charge of the entire city defense of Fire Law City, while the other was almost the next Archbishop of Fire God Sect. This.... So that was what Vivian meant when she said " give encouragement in our own ways I'!?

Chapter 383: The Fireblade's Sword

But... Damn it!

There was another arrow in Bella's heart. The arrow was called envy.

If...If only she had the same power back then and was willing to trust her friends...

Even Bella herself did not notice that she had clenched her fists.

And... What else could he say?

What else could trigger the darkness in Vivian's heart?

Bella looked at the little wolf cub in Vivian's arms. Since the summoned beast was still there, it proved that Vivian's Witch's Power was really in the Summoner talent.

This probability...She was simply the darling of the heavens!

The Demoness should have been abandoned by the heavens. There was a high chance that she was deliberately avoiding the Demoness 'familiar and precious ability.

Bella's mouth twitched.

Naturally, her original plan to use "losing Little Black" as a breakthrough point also fell apart.

'Why...'

Why? Why wasn't she as lucky as the little girl in front of her back then?

Becoming a witch had caused her to lose her most precious...

Instead of arousing Vivian's resentment, Bella's resentment was greatly stimulated, and she began to lose control of her emotions.

But at this moment...

"Thank you, Bella...Sister?" Vivian hesitated and decided to use 'sister' instead of 'aunt'.

If you hadn't given Lord Bai the Witch's Seed, I wouldn't have obtained this power, the power that can allow me to turn my future into what I want.

The little girl's tone was sincere.

Under Vivian's clear and grateful gaze, Bella felt that the resentment and hatred that had just risen in her body melted quickly like ice and snow in the sun.

After all, ever since she became a Demoness, no one had shown her such an expression.

“You...” Bella did not know what to say for a moment.

At first, it was strange that she was the owner of the white book. She gave it to the black book. However, it was just a flash. The main reason for Bella’s wavering was that she gave it to Vivian. In fact, she did not have good intentions. She just liked to see the white lotus fall.

However, he did not expect that not only did this white lotus not degenerate, but it also...

“Sister Bella, if there’s a chance, I can... Do you want to be friends with me? I know you must have experienced a lot and suffered too many things that made you sad, but I want to prove to you that in this world...There’s still beauty!” Vivian’s tone was firm, and she looked directly into Bella’s eyes.

“You... You...” Bella took a few steps back. She was starting to be afraid to look at Vivian. She was like a mouse in the gutter, afraid to look up at the sun

However, who would have expected that?

Puchi.

Vivian smiled, and then her eyes were a little sly. She whispered,”

Bella was speechless for a moment because Vivian did not look like a witch at all. Bella had completely forgotten that Vivian had already become a witch.

The shame of a witch, the shame of a witch!

“Up to you. I will never take the initiative to meet a witch like you! ”

However, I'm really curious. Why did you become a Demoness? Even if you don't have any resentment in your heart, you definitely have an obsession. At the very least, it has to be a goal.

Bella asked her last question.

Vivian pointed at the little maid, Elina, who was in a "standby" mode not far away.

Following the little girl's finger, Bella noticed that there was another person.

When Bella sensed Elena, her expression changed.

"Li... The Witch of Truth, how is this possible?!"

"She has clearly disappeared for who knows how many years. Moreover, her appearance...No! This, could this be...That organization?"

Bella frowned and gritted her teeth.

When she realized that Irina was in an ownerless state and had cut off her connection with the organization, she finally relaxed.

But even so...

"Vivian, even if you have awakened the Witch, I'm afraid you can't control your power well now. The other party is the legendary Witch of Truth... A replica, I advise you to first..."

No, Sister Bella, I still want to try. "

Vivian shook her head.

Humph.

Newborn calves are not afraid of tigers.

Bella did not say anything else. She was also very curious about the witch's special ability that Vivian had obtained.

One had to know that there were differences between the witches. The unique ability that each person awakened determined the upper limit of each witch.

The basic abilities recognized by the Demoness world were the weakest defensive type, the middle was the functional type, and the best choice was naturally the offensive type.

Generally speaking, the greater the hatred, the more powerful the witch's ability would be, and the more attack-type it would be.

On the contrary.

For a rare witch like Vivian, who seemed to be a white lotus, her ability must not be that strong! Yes, that's right! It was definitely a very useless support or defense!

Bella hadn't finished comforting herself.

He only heard...

"Witch...Dress!"

Vivian closed her eyes, took a deep breath, and activated her Witch's Power!

It's coming, it's coming!

The wolf cub lying in Vivian's arms waited for a long time. Finally, it was time. His eyes lit up and he was eager to try the concept of merging into one in the skill description.

However, Liao Zixuan never expected...

[Ding! You have chosen the summoned beast "Xinyan" as the target of your

"Witch's Dress".]

The system notification in his mind made the wolf cub's eyes widen in disbelief.

Why?

He was clearly here first!

Vivian actually chose that stupid Phoenix!?

The little girl also understood the look in his eyes. Vivian shook her head at her wolf cub. Although she did not speak, Liao Zixuan could understand what she meant.

That was one sentence.

"Please...Watch me carefully."

Vivian hoped that at such an important moment, she could let Blackie witness her first time as a witch. She hoped that Blackie could look at her and watch her. From the village girl back then, she had come to where she was today through the joint efforts of a man and a wolf.

This silly girl...

The little wolf cub shook his head helplessly and sat in the spectator seats with

Bella, who was a little stunned by Vivian's "witch costume"

Following Vivian's call, Little Phoenix Xinyan appeared in front of her. What happened next could only be described as beautiful and shocking.

The powerful cyclone brought along the strong wind, causing Vivian's long hair to flutter in the wind.

The fire element that corresponded to the Forbidden Phoenix, Xin Yan, turned into a raging flame that swirled around the little girl, enveloping the man and beast in the middle.

Vivian reached out her hand, just like how she had taken the Heart of God from the Fire God.

Xin Yan, who was in her loli form, seemed to have sensed something. The loli closed her eyes tightly. Then, when Vivian's hand touched...

Shua!

It was the end of a sword hilt. It had appeared on Xin Yan's chest and Vivian was holding it tightly.

After that, the little girl pulled out her palm.

The thing that Vivian had extracted from Xin Yan's body was finally revealed.

It was a...

The fiery red greatsword!

It was extracted from Xinyan's body by Vivian!

The great sword burned with scorching flames, just like a phoenix spreading its wings back then, tearing through the darkness and sprinkling flames on the withered land, bringing life and light.

When the phoenix flames combined with the sword under the Witch's Power, it would become the sharpest sword in the world.

The fiery red greatsword, the scorching heat wave that came at them, and the raging flames that were dancing on the sword seemed to be telling everyone the same thing.

With this flame, it could cut through anything!

[Gift Equipment-Sword of Burning Fire!]

Chapter 384: Vivian VS Elena

The maid who had previously been helpless against the combined strength of three people had now transformed into a witch. The little girl wielding the flaming greatsword had once again stepped into Elina's aggro range alone.

The maidservant who was in standby mode was immediately awakened.

Under the Witch of Truth's "Constitution" power, she used the same familiar attack. The floating cannon was suspended above Alina's head, and the muzzle was aimed at Vivian.

Whoosh!

A beam of ice element shot out from the floating cannon, all the way to Vivian.

In the past, when faced with Elena's cannon fire, the little girl could only dodge in a sorry state.

But now.

Vivian moved, but she did not dodge in any other direction. Instead, she moved straight forward, holding the Flaming Greatsword to her side and dragging the tip of the sword on the ground. The flames of the Greatsword rubbed against the ground at a high speed. As Vivian sprinted, she left a long red burn mark on the ground, as if lava was flowing.

Contrary to the color of the little girl, the dark blue cannon beam arrived in the blink of an eye. The dense ice element contained in it caused the surrounding temperature to drop by a few degrees. Just as it was about to hit Vivian, who was also coming at it...

Bang!

Seizing the opportunity, the little girl raised her arm and raised the flaming greatsword that was dragging on the ground high. With the inertia accumulated from running, a crisp collision sound was heard. The extreme cold cannon beam that could pierce through Damir's extraordinary magic and cover Liao Zixuan's arm with ice shards was actually deflected by the greatsword!

Shua! Shua! Shua!

After the first attack failed, Elena's long-range cannon fire continued. One after another, ice elemental beams shot out from the floating cannon, trying to stop Vivian's approach.

However, the cannons that were aimed at the little girl were all deflected by Vivian's flaming sword.

They saw Vivian approaching from afar, triumphantly advancing all the way. Just as she was about to reach Irina, she did not expect that the maid had hidden a hand behind her.

The Witch of Truth was not only skilled in structure, but she also had powerful calculation abilities. She could evaluate the enemy's ability at any time and change the most optimal attack method.

When Irina realized that normal cannons were ineffective against Vivian, she immediately began to construct a larger and more powerful floating cannon. She hid it between the ordinary floating cannons and secretly accumulated power when the other floating cannons fired.

It was not until Vivian was right in front of her that Elena was waiting for.

Countless ice elements gathered and condensed in the thick cannon. With Elena's precise calculation, Vivian was able to fire perfectly when she was within the maximum range of her cannon.

" Command: Charge the cannon."

The normal beam cannons came to an abrupt halt. In their place were the floating cannons above the maid's head. They quickly turned into shadows and dissipated, revealing the floating heavy cannons that Irina had hidden behind them.

Boom!

Just the sound of the cannon fire alone was several times louder than before.

With a deafening boom, the powerful cannon that could freeze the air was aimed at Vivian.

The Powered-up Cannon was far more powerful and bulky than the ordinary cannon beam. It was impossible for Vivian to fly away with the sword. However, if she chose to dodge, it would be a pity. Elina had calculated the maximum distance. The high-speed cannon beam at such a close distance made it impossible for Vivian to dodge.

If he really took such a shot...

Bella, the Witch, who was watching the battle, instantly felt worried. The little wolf cub could not help but feel worried for Vivian.

However, what happened next...

The little girl used the facts to tell them that all these were unnecessary.

Because even if she made a mistake, she didn't expect Elina to have a backup plan. There would be another her to help her get the battle back on track.

Vivian wanted to hold her sword in front of her chest to defend herself, but even if she could block it, the little girl would be blasted away by the maid's long-charged cannon beam, and the distance that she had managed to close would return to the starting point.

The little girl was well aware of this, and she looked helpless on Vivian's face.

And at this moment...

[Idiot]

A tsundere voice that sounded like " I really can't do anything to you " appeared from the spiritual space.

[Hmph, you said you wanted others to watch over you. How can you be in such a sorry state? I can't afford to lose face!]

As soon as she finished speaking, a faint shadow appeared behind Vivian.

The second personality didn't choose to replace the little girl with a " replacement " .

Because she knew that this was Vivian's " performance " . There was no such thing as changing people in the middle of a performance. At most...

You can give me a supporting role to save the show!

Ever since Vivian's strength skyrocketed, or perhaps because of some other deeper reason, the second personality found that she was more and more able to interfere with reality and appear as a " shadow."

Therefore, the second personality was like a teacher who was guiding her students. In her shadow form, she held Vivian's hand from behind. From that moment on, she would lead Vivian to do the movements.

Thus, the little girl's aura changed again.

Faced with the unavoidable Powered-up Heavy Cannon...

The second personality only did one thing with Vivian..

Chapter 385: Vivian VS Elena (2)

Since he couldn't hide, then...It was done with a single slash.

She adjusted her posture and flipped her wrist. Vivian had originally intended to be in a defensive posture, and the flaming sword was placed horizontally in front of her chest. She held it with both hands, and the fiery red sword was upright in front of her chest.

Then, Vivian exerted force with her feet and instantly leaped high into the air. Then, with the momentum of her fall, she jumped and slashed at the Powered-up Cannon, which was just inches away from her.

Buzz!

The blade slashed at the cannon beam, and the flames melted the ice. Under the collision of ice and fire, even Irina's charged cannon was easily cut in half by Vivian's sword.

VV

A large amount of ice elements in the cannon beam lost their carrier and exploded. In the end, they were swallowed by the flames on the sword and turned into steam and white fog that filled the surroundings.

This symbolized that the maid's Powered-up Cannon had been completely disintegrated, and it also symbolized...It was Vivian's turn for a new round.

Shua!

The fiery-red greatsword broke through the fog, and the little girl's figure followed closely behind.

" Construction, Heavy Armor Ice Rabbit." Elena's emotionless voice sounded.

Even though she was at a disadvantage, she didn't show any signs of panic when she faced the raging sword in front of her.

She fought steadily and switched to melee mode. A sturdy and heavy mech appeared behind the maid.

Thump!

A dull voice reverberated in his ears.

That was the collision between the greatsword and the mecha. Although it was not as domineering as Alice's, which could directly remove the arm of the Heavy Ice Ice Rabbit, it still left a sword mark and sparks.

Back then, Vivian was still in her second personality. The black sickle could not hurt the Heavy Ice Rabbit at all. She was even captured by the Heavy Ice Rabbit.

Now, it was Elina's turn to be sent flying.

Bang!

Irina was forced back by Vivian's sword and flew backward. However, the maid quickly regained her balance in the air. Moreover, after fighting with the little girl, Irina began her new structure.

" Construction: Ice Diamond."

One of the mecha arms of the Ice Rabbit mech quickly turned into nothingness. Then, it was replaced by a cold, spiraling drill that was spinning at high speed with a buzzing sound.

If one were to look closely, one would find that many of the patterns and structural principles on the drill were similar to the sword in Vivian's hand.

Seeing this scene, the Witch Bella, who was watching the battle, had just calmed down a little. However, her heart started to hang up again. This time, Bella's brows were tightly furrowed, and there was shock and surprise hidden in the depths of her eyes... Worry.

That organization...

Could it be that it had already developed to such a stage?

A mere replica actually possesses some of the true core abilities of the Demoness of Truth?

Outsiders watched the show, while insiders watched the show.

Bella knew very well that the true strength of the Witch of Truth was that she could combine structure and computing power to create an ability called " analysis." By analyzing the enemy's weapons and equipment in battle, she could quickly apply it to herself.

Perhaps it was impossible to completely replicate it in a short period of time, but as long as the Witch of Truth was given enough time, it was rumored that even the Heart of God of the Nine Gods could be perfectly replicated by the Witch of Truth.

As expected, Bella's worries were right.

The maid, who had also changed to a new weapon, was no longer afraid of Vivian's Firewood Sword. At least she would not be sent flying again.

For a moment, the situation became tense. The fire sword and ice drill kept colliding. It seemed to be a little difficult to resolve. However, to Elena, this was already considered an advantage.

This was because she could learn from battles all the time and construct more weapons at the same time.

Finally, one of Vivian's flaws was caught by Irina, forcing Vivian to retreat. The maid did not give the little girl a chance to adjust. She stretched out her hand from afar.

Swoosh! Swoosh! Swoosh!

A double-digit number of Ice Diamonds surrounded Vivian, and as the maid pointed down, they whistled and shot at the little girl, drowning Vivian's figure.

The freezing cold enveloped Vivian, and the sudden freezing of the ice drill seemed to devour the flames of the greatsword in the little girl's hand.

The flames on the Sword of Burning Flame were getting smaller and smaller.

They were forced back by the ice and were about to be extinguished...

Squeak!

A slightly immature bird cry that sounded like the cry of a phoenix suddenly came from the greatsword and reverberated throughout the scene.

Even though the little loli who had transformed into a "gift" was unable to speak due to the Witch's Power, the meaning that Xinyan had expressed was self-evident.

A mere imposter wanted to compete with her! ?

She was already...I'm furious!

Liao Zixuan noticed that Vivian's status bar was disappearing, replaced by a complete form.

[Gift Set-Firewood Witch]

Whoosh!

Under normal circumstances, a young Little Xinyan would only be enough for one sword of the "outfit". However, with the super buff of "rage", even a young Little Xinyan could temporarily help Vivian reach the true appearance of the "outfit".

It could also help Vivian temporarily... To light up the way home

"What?!" Bella could not help but exclaim.

A red line appeared in the ice cage made of more than a dozen ice diamonds, which drowned Vivian's thin figure. It was... Scorching hot sword marks.

Boom!

In the huge explosion, it was as if Nirvana had been reborn and broken out of the shell. The monstrous flames swallowed everything except for the little girl in the center.

Vivian's originally loose and soft long hair had now turned into a single ponytail, tied behind her head. On one side of the little girl's shoulder was a fiery red cloak of the same color as the fiery sword in her hand. The cloak was fluttering high with the cyclone of the flames, like the red wings of a phoenix.

In the distance, Elina's pupils constricted when she saw this.

Of course, the maid was not nervous about Vivian's new appearance. Instead, she was worried about the Firewood Sword in the little girl's hand, which had been accumulating power for a long time under the cover of the ice prison. Learning from battle was definitely not something that the Witch of Reason could only enjoy.

"It's over, Elena."

"I'll bring you now... Go home!"

Vivian gritted her teeth as she said the last word, and the power of the greatsword in her hand seemed to have finally reached its peak.

Clang!

This time, it was a real phoenix cry.

At the same time, Vivian waved her greatsword at Elina. A sword elemental body made of pure ultimate fire elements, the Flame Phoenix, was aimed at the maid.

'Construction: Ice Wall.' Elina immediately began to defend the defense.

Layers of thick ice walls tried to block the impact of the fire phoenix, but under the heat wave of the phoenix spirit body, all the ice elements were melted. The fire phoenix spirit easily broke through the ice walls and finally, the impact pierced through the maid's body.

Elina used all her strength to barely resist the power of the Fire Phoenix's

Spirit, but the aftershock left her unable to move. The ice elements in her body were frantically fighting against the phoenix flames.

Therefore, he had no choice.

The maid could only watch helplessly as Vivian slashed at her for the second time. The flames of the Sword of Fire grew bigger and bigger in Irina's eyes.

Under absolute rationality, Elena knew that she had lost. She would definitely die under this sword.

But...

The pain of being burned by the fire that he had imagined did not come, nor did the pain of being pierced by the sword.

Only...

Puchi!

It was the sound of a sword stabbing into the ground.

"You...!"

For the first time, this was the first time since she became a replica of the

Demoness of Truth that she widened her eyes and said the word "you."

Because the maid could not understand why Vivian, the 'enemy' had only stabbed her sword in... On the ground next to her, who had fallen to the ground and could not get up.

Misaligned?

No, the enemy would never make such a low-level mistake.

Then, why?

Moreover, the absolute rationality of the Witch of Truth couldn't understand what the enemy was saying.

"Sleep, Elena. When you wake up...Perhaps you will find out that the world has changed, but I believe that you will be able to get through it. Remember your name, your past, and find... The real you, whether it's for yourself or for the people who care about you.

Vivian hit the back of the maid's neck with the hilt of her sword.

Even when her consciousness fell into darkness, the maidservant under the Witch of Reason still could not understand what the enemy meant.

But for some reason, even though emotions should not appear on the Witch of Reason, Irina still felt something. The best proof was that she did not think about how to counterattack while the enemy was talking. Instead, she thought about how to do human actions...Crying..

Chapter 386: The Last Night After Leaving the Flame Domain (1)

" The last book mentioned that at that time, there were treasure thieves and Fallen Abyss minions in Fire Code City. Outside, there were Winter's Dark Child, Green Maple Blood Clan, and Fire God Alice gathering Bravehearts to return one to the Flame Region...Uh, uh..."

In the high sky above the clouds where one could overlook the entire Fire Code City, there were two women floating here. One of them was wearing a fiery red windbreaker, her red hair fluttering in the wind, and the other was wearing a water-blue wizard robe, her blue hair reaching her ears.

The person who had been imitating what seemed to be a special way of speaking from another country suddenly stopped halfway. It was the red-haired woman, Fire God Alice.

Fortunately...

“Clear and bright.” The blue-haired woman, the phantom of the Water God, said calmly.

“Ah, right! Clear and bright! Fire God Alice summoned the Bravehearts to return one to the Flame Domain... Clear and bright!”

“Aiya, Sister, why is it so hard to remember the words Guili? It’s all four words, and we thought it sounded nice when we heard it, but we forgot when we wanted to use it.”

Alice slapped her thigh, sounding annoyed.

“Alice, these four words are usually called idioms in Guili. You can’t memorize them by force. You have to understand the meaning and allusions behind the idioms. Besides, Alice, there won’t be any storytellers in Guili who would be shameless enough to tell their own stories.”

He stared at the ice sculpture face of the blue-haired witch and her serious explanation.

Alice pouted in dissatisfaction.

“Sigh, sister, I was just suddenly on a whim. I remembered that old man Rock God brought us to listen to his legendary opera that was circulated among the people. Isn’t this quite similar to the current Flame Domain? I was reminded of the scene and wanted to imitate it.

Alice, there must be a limit to imitation. Let's not talk about how many times the size of your Flame Domain is different from Guili's. The difficulty of governance is worlds apart. Don't forget that what the Rock God faced back then was demons and evil. It was an earthquake and tsunami. The Rock God relied on his own strength to clean up the four directions and protect a corner of the world. Only then did he have the prosperous Guili today."

"As for you, just look at what you have used to describe the predicament of the Flame Region that you have resolved...'

The blue-haired witch shook her head and sighed. It was self-evident that she was disappointed by his failure.

Alice, on the other hand, was like a person who had finally passed the exam and wanted to show off her 60-mark test paper. In the end, not only was she not praised, but she was also compared to the top students and severely criticized.

Alice couldn't refute. She was indeed proud of her 60 points, but she could still fight back.

"Oh? Sister, how do you know so much about Guili? There were a few lines of words that I didn't even understand, but you said them so smoothly as if you had deliberately memorized them. I say, sister, could it be that you... Do you like the Rock God? Otherwise, why would he pay so much attention to other people's history?"

You know so much?"

As expected.

After Alice's teasing words, a rare fluctuation appeared on the ice sculpture face of the blue-haired witch and Water God, Floria.

She glared at her sister.

“The Rock God is an elder that we should respect, and Guili is a role model that we should learn from. Don’t talk nonsense.”

“Alice, I see that you’re getting more and more seriously eroded by the Fallen Abyss. You’re too indecent.”

The small talk and teasing just now could be considered a brief reminiscence between the sisters.

When Frock brought the topic back to the Fallen Abyss, the atmosphere became tense.

“You know your own physical condition, you... I shouldn’t have attacked.”

Although Alice deliberately pulled her neckline up high and didn’t even wear a dress, choosing a windbreaker that could cover her entire body, Frocka could still vaguely see that the evil patterns that symbolized the abyss and depravity had already climbed up her sister’s neck.

“Ha, I won’t attack..Am I supposed to watch as the ants of winter provoke me like this?”

“Besides, I’ve paid back for what I’ve done, right? Now, our Flame Domain has two more local Demonesses. Oh, and there’s also a Green Maple with the bloodline of the Progenitor Vampire. In that case...Tsk, I’ve earned a lot!”

Alice pretended to be relaxed, but in reality, she knew very well that the Fire God was like a plague. It would be fine if he stayed at home, but if he went out, the consequences would be unimaginable.

The most direct consequence was that there were many more Fallen Abyss seeds in the Flame Domain. They could bring a new Fallen Abyss to descend and could also corrupt the important figures of the Flame Domain. It could be imagined that the future chaos in the Flame Domain was a foregone conclusion.

If one were to say that the only ray of hope to resolve the situation was...

“In the past, I was almost brainwashed by you, but now... Hehe, sister, just you wait. Wait for my little fellows to ascend your Thousand Islands, and then...”

“I’ll change the fate you believe in!”

After she had finished whispering into her ear, Alice disappeared.

Only her angry and frivolous tone was left.

“Tsk, this won’t do. I have to hurry up and urge my little fellows to set off immediately and leave the Flame Region. I can’t wait to see how they will harm your Thousand Islands and cause a ruckus over there. Hehe...”

The silver bell-like laughter grew farther and farther away, and finally, only the blue-haired witch remained silent.

Just as Alice had said, she could see the Flame Domain and the fate of all living beings. It was precisely because of this that she had used the “Water Mirror Technique” to come to the Flame Domain and chose to meet her at this time...His younger sister.

The source of this world line that should not have existed was...

“Destiny has been decided...What?”

Following the last word, which was as soft as a mosquito’s, the blue-haired witch’s figure was like a reflection in the water, completely disappearing from the high sky of the Flame Domain.

“I hope that you can pass my test, pass...A test of fate.”

Count Sisre’s residence.

In a certain room in the castle.

He opened his eyes.

It was a familiar ceiling.

Wait, why did he say 'familiar' ?

Hiss...

He gasped.

Countless memories began to emerge from the depths of the woman's mind, causing her to feel as if she was being torn apart. If it were any other person, they would have collapsed instantly from the massive flow of memories. However, as the Witch of Truth, it took her less than a few seconds to completely absorb all of them, and she even managed to summarize them. It was also at this moment that the woman knew that her name was Elena.

It was a...

Maid.

The little girl who was lying on her bed and sleeping on her blanket was Vivian.

It was her...Her...

"Ah! Great, you're finally awake, Elena! "Vivian was already a light sleeper, and the sound of Elina waking woke the little girl up.

She grabbed Elena's hand and asked nervously, "Elena, do you remember who I am?"

'Of course, Miss Vivian.'

"Alright... Yay!" After hearing the maid successfully call her name, the little girl heaved a sigh of relief, and her face revealed a sincere joy.

"I was so worried, Elena. When Liz bit your neck, I didn't even dare to look! "Vivian looked scared, just like when she was a child, she didn't dare to watch the nurse get an injection.

"Bite...Your neck?"

The maid was confused. She pulled her hand out of the bed and touched her neck. As Vivian said, there was a small bite mark there.

"Miss Liz..."

"Ah! Liz, uh... She seems to have gone to look for White Lord to check her body and see if there was anything wrong with her after biting you. "Vivian explained.

"Bai..."

The name instantly reminded Elina of the time when she fought with Bai and the others, as well as the last battle with Vivian.

"Miss Vivian, Alina doesn't understand. "the maid said.

"Hmm?" The little girl tilted her head slightly.

"Why would you do this for a maid?"

Elena looked into Vivian's eyes, trying to find an answer.

If her "general knowledge system" wasn't wrong, servants should be the lowest and most lowly group of people with the lowest social status. They were mostly used as "consumables."

Therefore, Elena could not understand why someone would be willing to pay so much for a 'consumable.'

The greatest possibility she could determine was that she was a replica of the Demoness of Truth. She had powerful abilities and was worth saving.

Or perhaps, they wanted to rely on her to find out the organization behind the witch's research.

Or perhaps, he could use her special ability to...

As more than ten possible reasons flashed through Elina's powerful brain, the little girl by the bed answered an answer that was completely out of all the possibilities of a maid.

"Why? Of course, it's because you're my friend!" Vivian said without thinking.

"Peng... Friends?"

Elina was stunned. It was such a complicated and profound question, but the answer was so simple?

The maid's gaze swept across the little girl's face.

After calculating and comparing, Irina concluded that the other party did not have any facial features that fit the description of "lying."

This proved that...

This " Miss Vivian " really thought so. She would rather become a " witch " to save her.

In that case...

It seemed like she could finally get an answer to the question she had just encountered when she opened her eyes.

Her relationship with the young lady beside her bed was...Friends.

No.

That was not right.

The original " Elena " was Vivian's friend, and she, she... He only had Elena's body and her memories.

So, she...Was she considered Elena?

On the other side.

Looking at Elena's confused and confused look, although Vivian did not show it on the surface, she was still very upset. She did not say it for herself, but for Elena.

The little girl clearly remembered that Fire God Alice had come to look for her not long ago.

First, he told Vivian that the situation was serious and that they could not delay any longer. After tonight, they would leave the Fire Domain tomorrow and set off for the Thousand Islands.

Then, Alice checked the maid's condition.

She told Vivian that Irina's consciousness and memories had been restored, but everything came at a price. The price for becoming the Witch of Truth was...The emotional center was lost.

Even if he wasn't that pessimistic, he would at least be injured. If he wanted to recover...The possibility was almost zero.

"Elena, let's sleep together tonight!"

Vivian shook her head and threw all these thoughts to the back of her mind. The little girl regained her composure and opened her mouth to say fierce words, her eyes flashing with anticipation.

"Wha... What?" Such an out-of-the-box train of thought caused Irina's brain to shut down for a moment, unable to react in time.

"Oh my god, tomorrow I'll be leaving the Flame Domain. I won't be able to see everyone in a short period of time, so I think, on the last night, hmm..."

Vivian was a little embarrassed and smiled. "I, are you really at ease sleeping with someone like me?"
"What are you talking about? Aren't we friends?"

"But the one who was your friend was the me in the past. The me now..."

Irina hesitated for a long time, but she still voiced out her confusion.

After Vivian heard this, she held the maid's hand and looked straight into Alina's eyes. She said seriously,"

Everyone changes. So, whether it's the past, the past, or the future, we are still us. The only thing we need to consider is which 'us' we want to become."

“Elena...I understand, Miss Vivian. You are indeed a very powerful person. “the maid said respectfully.

“So, can I stay at your place tonight? “Vivian said.

“Well, if Miss Vivian is willing, Irina doesn’t mind, because we are... Friend.”

“Yay!”

Elina, who was already in bed, fell into deep thought as she watched the little girl change into her pajamas and prepare to wash up.

The current her might not be qualified to use the word ‘friend’.

Then... She had to work hard to change until she could truly match her past self and inherit the weight of a “ friend.”

If it was the past Irina, what would she do after knowing that her friend was going on a long journey?

Elina did as she was told and began to think quickly.

Then, she got a 78% match rate.

The answer was...

Oracle!

Chapter 388: The Last Night After Leaving the Flame Domain (Part 2)

God Splitting Lake.

Starry Night.

The lake water that had been nourished by the Heart of God was even more sparkling and colorful than during the day, as if it was going to compete with the beautiful starry night sky.

The night wind blew across the lake, and the ripples slowly spread until they reached a small boat moored in the middle of the lake. They touched the hand of the girl on the boat that was hanging from the edge of the boat to the lake.

The girl caressed the surface of the lake, and her face was reflected on it.

At this moment, Liz had already dispelled her vampire state. Her hair had returned to its golden color, and her eyes had returned to their normal green color.

Only the slightly melancholic girl would sigh from time to time and deliberately grit her teeth. Through the reflection of the lake water, one could vaguely see a pair of sharp little canine teeth hidden at the corner of Liz's mouth.

This was something that had never existed before, and it could not disappear under normal circumstances.

However, not only did this not make the girl more terrifying, but it was even more so that in her normal state, the contracted Vampire's Tooth added a little cuteness to Liz.

The cold and arrogant demeanor of a young lady was greatly reduced, replaced by a fierce and adorable little adult who still had baby teeth.

The only thing that was a pity was...

Only one person could appreciate the beautiful scene of the girl on the boat under the moon.

But...

Instead of admiring him, Liao Zixuan was having a headache.

He looked at the girl sitting opposite him with a desolate and disappointed expression and rubbed his temples.

“Liz, don’t be like this. It’s as if we’ll never see each other again. Little Black and Vivian are just going to the neighboring country’s Thousand Islands. Liao Zixuan continued to comfort her,”

“Moreover, since Fire God sent them, they must have informed Water God about such a big matter. Besides, I heard that Water God and our Fire God are sisters! If something happened to her sister, how could she not lend a helping hand? After they reached the Thousand Islands, they would definitely have a smooth journey!”

“In this way, it will only take a month for them to return smoothly. “Liao Zixuan raised a finger and said confidently.

Lissy, who was on the other side of the boat, withdrew her hand from the rippling lake after hearing Liao Zixuan’s words. After the young girl moved her gaze away from the lake, she faintly stared at the young man sitting opposite her on the boat.

After hesitating a few times, Liz finally made up her mind and asked,”

“What about you?”

“I...” Liao Zixuan dragged his voice.

“As Little Black’s elder, it’s impossible for me not to go with him for such a big matter. Lissy, you don’t know, but our Dark Flame Wolf clan only has Little Black. He’s just born and is young and ignorant. He doesn’t know the dangers of the world.

Liao Zixuan’s voice was full of tears. He thought that he had fully played the role of a kind elder who was dutiful and concerned about his juniors.

However, what he received was a burst of laughter from the young girl, but very quickly, it changed back to the original deep sigh.

Just as Lissy’s strange expression made Liao Zixuan a little confused.

The girl suddenly said,”

“Bai, now I understand why Xue Li didn’t refute my words.

“That sentence?” Liao Zixuan asked curiously.

Liz nodded, and her eyes drifted to the lake with melancholy. The young girl said softly,

“I said, it’s impossible for humans and monsters to have an ending.

Liao Zixuan was just about to say something when the girl opposite him beat him to it.

Liz looked up as if she was looking up at the vast starry sky, but also at the future.

“Actually, when I heard you say that you were Xiao Hei’s elder and not a human, my first reaction was not shock. Instead, it was... Surprise.”

Liz muttered to herself and gave her own explanation.

“Ever since I chose to inherit my mother’s bloodline and turned from a human to a vampire, I’ve felt very inferior. I’m very worried, and I’m even more afraid that you’ll despise my identity. Even if you don’t mind, just like what I said to Shirley, I was actually saying it to myself.

“So, after knowing that you’re not a human, hmm...Although it wasn’t very good to say this, I instantly felt that the psychological burden on my body was much lighter. It was probably similar to...The feeling of finally being a match of equal status and not having a forbidden love?”

This was the first time Liao Zixuan had heard Liz confide in him. He knew that the noble lady on the surface actually had the same thoughts as others.

Not only that.

Being bashful was not Liz’s style. When it came to straight balls, this young lady was fiercer than anyone else.

“So... Bai, tell me, will the child we give birth to be a human, a wolf, or...Blood Clan?” Liz frowned, as if she was seriously considering this question.

As for the young man sitting opposite the young girl..

“Cough cough! Err... Was he thinking too far ahead?”

Liao Zixuan almost choked. After coughing, he quickly said,

“Also, regarding our relationship, is it also...”

“Oh?”

Liz raised her voice and interrupted Liao Zixuan..

Chapter 389: The Last Night After Leaving The Ashes Domain (Part 2)

She did not reveal any angry expression. This kind of status was too low and did not match her status as the daughter of an earl who had been in the " aristocratic battlefield " for a long time.

The girl only touched her belly in mourning and then muttered to herself,"

"After leaving the bloodline in someone else's body, I have to cut ties with them. So everything is destined. Am I going to walk the same path as my father..."

Liao Zixuan was speechless.

Can you stop saying things that are easily misunderstood?

"That's just sucking blood! "After you suck my blood in, your vampire ability will automatically purify it and transform the blood into energy, and... It's completely different from bloodline!"

Liao Zixuan tried his best to explain and clarify himself.

But Liz snorted.

This was because the girl's true killing move was still to come.

She didn't seem to hear Liao Zixuan's explanation. She continued to stroke her belly and muttered to herself,

But it doesn't matter. If he really dares to do this, I'll go to Vivian and tell her everything that her Little Black has done to me. I'll let Vivian see clearly what the wolf cub in her arms is like!"

Liao Zixuan was speechless.

This time, he was really silent. He was speechless as he looked at the young girl who had already changed into a teasing expression.

“You...”

Liao Zixuan was about to say something when the boat shook. It turned out that the girl had come to his side. Then, she stretched out a slender finger and placed it on Liao Zixuan’s lips.

‘ Forget it. It’s our last night anyway. Time is precious. I don’t want to waste it listening to your excuses. That kind of lie probably can only fool Vivian who doesn’t know anything.

As she spoke, Lissy showed sympathy and helplessness to the silly girl who was still in the dark. Then, as if she wanted to block Liao Zixuan, the sharp testimony of this young miss mercilessly came out one after another.

From the way Shirley addressed you back then, I was already suspicious. When Vivian suddenly appeared and saw your reaction to her, I was more than 50% sure. After that, when you were forced to reveal your identity by Vivian, combined with Shirley’s reaction, I was basically 90% sure. As for the last 10%... Since you came to find me tonight, it has already proved everything.

“So, am I right, Lord Bai? Or do you prefer me to call you...Xiao Hei?”

The young girl looked at the young man who was at a loss under the sharp attack of the powerful figure.

Like a queen who had returned victorious, Liz began to enjoy the fruits of her victory.

As the fruit of her victory, she did not resist at all and successfully lay in Liao Zixuan’s arms. She even had the time to find a comfortable position in Liao Zixuan’s arms.

[When your words are at the peak, your body must admit defeat. When your body has the upper hand, your words must be soft.]

The above is from Liz's "The Woman of Aristocracy: How to Control Men".

"Do you know that on the night you saved me from my father, who had turned into a monster, I had a very, very long dream?"

Leaning against Liao Zixuan's broad and thick chest, Liz felt her entire body wrapped in warmth. It was as if she dared to say the next nightmare that she did not want to talk about.

In my dream, I also dreamed of Vivian. I dreamed that she was also accused by me of being the murderer of my father. However, in my dream, I was not saved by you. Instead, my body was occupied by the monster's father. Therefore, this is a blatant accusation.

In the dream, not only did the city guards paste Vivian's portrait all over the streets and alleys, but even the Fire God Sect also took action. It was led by Damir himself, and even the treasure thieves joined in because of the generous bounty offered by the nobles."

" I dreamt that Vivian's relatives were captured to force her to show herself. At that time, Vivian was far less powerful than in reality, and you were not by her side. It was as if you did not exist in my dream. "

In order to save her loved ones, Vivian fell into a trap even though she knew it was a trap. She was caught without any surprise and was given the name of a witch by me at that time. She was burned at the stake. I watched helplessly as she was tied to a pillar and covered in burning oil. The fire drowned her thin body..."

The more Liz spoke, the more her voice trembled. She hugged Liao Zixuan tightly, fear in her eyes, as if it was not a dream, but a reality.

But at this moment, a person who no one expected appeared. It was the maid. Yes, it was Elena. I dreamed that she was holding a reagent syringe and plunged into the raging fire. When I came back to my senses...Only Vivian, who had turned into a witch, and... In Vivian's arms was the charred and unrecognizable body of Elena. " Liz looked up.

The girl's eyes were filled with tears.

She touched his cheek.

"So, Xiao Hei, I'm really grateful to you. I think if it weren't for you, perhaps my nightmare would have really become a reality. I..."

"Thank you for saving Vivian and...It's me."

Liz, who had said this, really wanted to press her lips against the young man's, but the young girl still tried her best to restrain this thought.

It wasn't that she was shy. When it came to feelings, Liz had never been this shy. She only considered that the young man in front of her was no longer the " White " that belonged to her alone, but Little Black.

So, like now, lying in her arms, she had reached her limit. She would not allow herself to do anything out of line.

At least...

Without the consent of a certain little girl, this was Liz's bottom line.

At the thought of this.

Liz shook her head and threw the nightmare to the back of her mind. A dream was still a dream, and reality was still beautiful, wasn't it?

The girl stood up from Liao Zixuan's arms.

The moonlight shone on Lissy's body, and the light from the Divine Cracking

Liz crossed her arms in front of her chest, as if she had returned to the time when Vivian carried the wolf cubs and entered the Earl's Castle for the first time. She looked like a rich young lady.

"Don't worry about Fire Code City! Whether it was Elena, Red Flame Town, or...That stinky fellow called "Shirley", I, Lissy, hereby promise you that I will take good care of everything for you!

"So, Little Black, I also want you to promise me that you will help me take care of Vivian! I can't let my best friend be bullied and hurt at the Thousand Islands!"

Liao Zixuan nodded seriously at Liz's serious words. He exuded confidence, confidence that stemmed from his strength.

"Okay, I promise. Even if the Water God wants to touch Vivian, I will dare to face the roaring waves.

Liao Zixuan stretched out a hand and made an oath. Although his tone was very calm, everyone could feel that under his calm tone, there was no room for doubt.

"Wait a minute! I'm not done yet!" Seeing that Liao Zixuan was about to put his hand down, Liz hurriedly stopped him.

The young girl solemnly said again,"

"Just now, I was using Little Black's identity, but now, Bai, I also want you to promise me that you must...Take care of yourself! I can't let my beloved get hurt! I don't want to be a widow forever! I'll bear another debt of hatred!"

Alright, I promise that I'll come back safely, come back...Looking at you." Liao Zixuan paused for a moment and finally nodded.

After receiving the final promise, Liz was completely overjoyed. Her face blossomed with a joyful smile that had rarely appeared since the death of the earl.

But soon after, Liz suddenly stammered again. Her hands gripped the hem of her dress, and her face blushed slightly, but her eyes flashed with craftiness.

“Bai, before we part, I... Can I make another small wish?” As if she had made up her mind, Liz asked expectantly.

“Tell me!” Liao Zixuan waved his hand.

In the end, he regretted it the next moment.

“I... I want you to turn back into a wolf cub in front of me!” Liz mustered her courage and said.

Just this?

Liao Zixuan didn't realize the girl's scheming at first.

mua-

Liz was quick to react. She found an opportunity and had planned for a long time. She picked up the little wolf cub and gave it a big kiss...

The girl's hair instantly turned pink and her pupils turned red. She was still a little confused. She was a little wolf. She didn't react. She unexpectedly activated the vampire's ability. She turned into a blood mist and escaped!

If it was only to this extent...

Vivian would definitely forgive her, definitely!

Chapter 390: Closed Beta End, Forum News

From the Fire Code City to the Thousand Islands, the first stop was the port at the border of the Flame Domain, Red Feather Port.

A group of three, uh...To be precise, it was one person plus two demons.

Vivian hired a long-distance carriage. The wolf cub was lying on the familiar belly, and a fiery red sparrow was sitting on the little girl's shoulder. It kept looking out of the carriage window, full of excitement.

By the way, why didn't they let Xinyan transform back into her loli form? Vivian's answer was to save as much as possible. After all, the carriage was charged by the head.

At first, Xinyan was still throwing a tantrum. However, when Vivian took out a book from her luggage and told Xinyan that it was a textbook and that she could transform into a human if she insisted, she would have to read it all along the way...

Without another word, Xin Yan no longer despised her current sparrow-like appearance and changed faster than anyone else.

The wolf cub in Vivian's arms sighed. The little girl had learned to be bad.

They were traveling light, so how could they bring textbooks with them? The book that Vivian took out was actually given to them by the maid, Elena, before they left. She insisted that they carry it with them...Diary.

Yes, it was the diary that the little maid used to write every day and record all kinds of things that happened every day.

At that time, Vivian was very curious as to why Irina insisted on letting her carry this.

The maid's answer was equally strange.

Elena said that if you encounter any danger in the future, this diary will definitely be useful to help you overcome the difficulties.

Neither Vivian nor the wolf cubs took it seriously.

However, Elena's attitude was too firm. Vivian had no choice but to accept it as a kind of amulet.

In addition to Elena's diary, Vivian also had a beautiful coat of arms in her luggage. It was written by Damir.

It was thanks to it that they could borrow the teleportation arrays of all the secondary cities in the Fire God Sect in the Flame Domain, greatly increasing their travel efficiency.

It had only been three days since they set off, and they were already about to reach Red Plume Port, which was located at the border of the Flame Domain.

However, the reason why he returned to the carriage was actually very simple. The Transmitting Formation of Red Plume Port was broken, so he could only rely on the carriage to take the official road for the last journey.

The little wolf cub had nothing to do in the carriage. Unlike the two witches and forbidden monsters who had never seen the world, the little wolf cub was full of novelty and excitement.

Inside the carriage, Vivian would occasionally look out of the window, and then look back and forth. She kept sharing the scenery of the journey with Xinyan, who was perched on her shoulder. The human and bird were having a great time chatting.

Sigh...

He sighed.

Liao Zixuan went through what every player would do. When he was bored, he would go to the game forum to kill time.

Speaking of which, because too many things had happened recently, coupled with the limited ability of the players during the closed beta period, he did not pay much attention to the players' movements for a while. Now that he was free...

Huh?

He didn't know when he went up, but after he went up, he was really attracted.

It was almost the same night that they left Fire Code City, which was also the end of the game's closed beta. These foreigners from another world had temporarily disappeared.

Regarding this, Liao Zixuan had informed all the important people in advance with his identity as " Bai ", so Liz and Shirley should have been prepared.

The closed beta players, who had been restricted by the confidentiality agreement and could not disclose the relevant content during the closed beta, were now like wild horses that had been released from their reins. There were no more restrictions and they could speak freely.

On the same day, a large number of pre-ordered players from all over the world flooded into the forum of Fallen God, and the scene was very explosive.

The players who had gone through the closed beta instantly felt like they were above everyone else. Any post would attract the attention of countless players who had made reservations.

Everyone wanted to know what kind of world Fallen God was. They were eager to get more information from the closed beta players.

Among them, the main force was the audience, but there were also many video bloggers, game streamers, famous guilds, unspecialized players, professional players, private sparring partners, gold farming studios, and so on who planned to enter Fallen God...

This was like hunger marketing.

During the closed beta, the outside players who had made reservations did not get any news. The more they did not get any news, the more they scratched their ears and cheeks. It was as if there was a kitten playing in their hearts, causing the number of public beta players to increase explosively every day.

Finally, after the closed beta ended, the various in-game scenery photos, story videos, the major job classes, the worldviews of the nine countries, and the realistic gaming experience all made Fallen God's discussion reach the top of the trending searches on the Internet that day.

At the same time, the officials also began to do something. At this critical moment, they launched a special program called "The Survival Guide to the Fallen Gods."

The first episode of the show invited many players who had performed well after participating in the closed beta to have an official show to show the grand and magnificent game world of Fallen Gods to the other reserved players..
