Chapter 391: Closed Beta End, Forum News (2)

What Liao Zixuan was watching now was the recording of the show in the Huaxia region, which was pinned at the top of the forum.

He clicked play, and the classic duo of a male and female host appeared in the video.

What surprised Liao Zixuan was that as the first official video program, the background board at the back was not rolling nine countries, but Fire Code City!

” We’ve been looking forward to the stars and the moon. It’s only today that we’ve finally seen the end of Fallen God’s closed beta. I really have to sigh. Fallen God’s confidentiality is too good. It’s really flawless. We can’t even find a single uncle or spy online or offline...”

Before the male host could finish his ” disappointed ” opening speech, the female host, who was his partner, snatched the right to speak with a smile.

”Good! Now, let’s get straight to the point. First, let’s take a look at the world view and background setting of Fallen God that most players care about...”

As the first episode of ” The Fallen God Survival Guide,” the content was solid and full of useful information. It gathered the information and videos of many closed beta players. In about half an hour, it described some of the nine countries of the continent to the players who were waiting eagerly.

Perhaps Liao Zixuan’s memories from his previous life were blurry, or perhaps there were some minor changes in some details in this life. In the show, it could be seen that the distribution of the closed beta players was not limited to the Flame Domain.

In the Kingdom of Snow, which was covered in white snow.

The closed beta players climbed the snowy mountains and slid across the frozen lake. They had a lot of fun, especially the players in the Middle East and Africa. They had never seen such heavy snow in their lives. They were so happy.

As for the main storyline and quests, they were left to the back of his mind. There were very few battle scenes. At most, he would help the nearby tribes kill snow monsters and hunt snow rabbits.

In a world covered in snow, without the guidance of NPCs, one might not even be able to find their way, let alone enter a city.

Compared to the cold winter, the mountains and rivers, the vast land and abundant resources of the Rock Kingdom, Gui Li, the closed beta players were slightly involved in the plot.

After a large number of foreigners appeared in Guili, the local people quickly reported it to the officials. Even the Guili Five Elements were alarmed and looked over.

Soon, the players were led by the officials sent by the Five Elements. They were assigned to the villages at the edge of the Gui Li Region in an orderly manner for temporary settlement. As for the follow-up measures, they still needed the decision of the Five Elements.

Although the local officers and soldiers were all against the foreign players, they were nervous. The first and second officers had to be on guard, afraid that they would be dissatisfied with the placement of the "Five Elements". However, the players were actually indifferent. It was a novice village. It was too normal.

In other words, the players could get more information from the villagers and learn their classes.

Apart from Lin Dong and Gui Li, there were still two other countries. Green Maple and Liao Zixuan were going to Thousand Islands, and there were traces of closed beta players.

However, the former was an endless grassland, while the latter was an endless sea. The players in these two places were particularly depressed. There was no transportation, and the places where they could move around were too small.

This made Liao Zixuan, who had wanted to take the opportunity to see the situation of the Thousand Islands, a little depressed.

As for the country that the host had deliberately left for the end of the introduction...

“Next, let’s turn our attention to the Flame Domain, the finale of this special column!

“In the past few days, I believe that the players from the Flame Field have been the ones who have heard the most about the closed beta, right? I also understand this point very well because just the lines that the director prepared for me in the Flame Domain are twice as thick as those in the other countries. From this, we can see how important the Flame Domain is...”

“Good! Now, let us enter the interview segment and see what the Flame Domain’s closed beta players have to say.

Beep beep...

After a short connection, a new window appeared next to the female host. It was a familiar face of Liao Zixuan.

“Hello, thank you very much for participating in our program. Can you talk about the storyline or character that left the deepest impression on you during the closed beta?”

“Vivian is the best in the world! Number one in the world! Everyone, go and brag about her! Everyone, give...”

The scene of Long Man Man shouting at the top of her lungs was forcefully cut off by the female host. The wolf cubs outside the video covered their eyes with their claws.

“Alright, I can see that the first interviewee is a little excited. Let’s continue with the second interviewee.”

The female host was very professional. She maintained an awkward but polite smile and began to interview the next player.

However, this time, the player's face that appeared was unfortunately familiar to Liao Zixuan.

"Hello, I'm very..."

"Impossible! How could Vivian be a witch? I will never accept it! No! Wuuuu..."

I will find out the truth and prove Vivian's innocence, for sure!! "

Before the female host could finish her opening remarks, she was replaced by a series of wails and howls from the other end of the line.

The representative of the " White Vivian " faction, Bi Weirong, who had left a deep impression on Liao Xuan, swore in front of the camera.. From the eyes of this player, he could see the burning fighting spirit and unwavering faith in Bai Vivian!

Chapter 392: Closed Beta End, Forum News 3

Unfortunately, the next second, the female host cut off the call.

"Cough, uh...It was obvious that the second interviewee was equally excited. This also indirectly proved how exciting the closed beta plot of the Flame Domain was. Let's connect with the third interviewee.

After two consecutive failures, even such a high-quality female host, the corner of her mouth couldn't help but twitch, but she didn't expect the third place...

Finally, the little wolf cub outside the video heaved a sigh of relief because it was finally a player he wasn't familiar with. It was a player with the nickname '

White Crit."

"You..."

"Great news! Great news! Vivian's body size plush pillow and cartoon T-shirt are now online! Limited stock, limited stock! Those who are interested in buying it, please search for your ID quickly. The top 100 will also be given a copy of Vivian's Forbidden Lily, a matching doujinshi, and..."

Crack.

The screen came to an abrupt stop.

The female host was speechless.

Faced with such a strange business genius, the female host could not hold back her professional smile. She cast a "save the situation" look at her partner beside her and realized...

Her colleague was looking down at her phone.

"What are you doing?"

The male host coughed. It's fine. I'm just going to check if that player is telling the truth. He definitely doesn't want some Yuri Dungeon or something similar."

The program's effect, was he trying to force the program's effect!

Looking at the explosive barrage of comments on the video, Liao Zixuan would never believe that all of this was not planned.

And...

White Critical Hit, right? Alright, he remembered this ID!

In the future, every time they saw each other, they would kill each other!

After the fun ended, the show finally returned to the right track. It briefly explained the plot of the Flame Domain to the players, and finally ended with the discussion and analysis of the character " Vivian."

Through this issue of Fallen God Survival Guide, although the official website did not explicitly state it, it was better than explicitly stating it. At least in the server version, the main storyline NPC, whether in the closed beta or pre-ordered players, had already confirmed it.

Vivian.

To be able to become such a super popular character, it was undoubtedly a bonus from the closed beta. The wolf cub was very satisfied with this. The basic plan for the players was already settled. After that, once the open beta started, Liao Zixuan could not wait to harvest the leeks that came to his door.

However, the only pity was...

It seemed that the players did not know that Vivian had left the Flame Domain and went to the Thousand Islands. They all thought that Vivian, as a " witch " was only temporarily hiding from the limelight and leaving Fire Code City. However, she was still hiding somewhere in the Flame Domain, waiting for the players to dig her out.

This kind of " hidden BOSS " attribute aroused the curiosity of the players even more. There was a survey on the forum that said that in the open beta one month later, which country would you choose as the spawn point among the five countries that were now open?

Almost 80% of the people ticked the " Flame Field ", followed by Gui Li, Liao Zixuan, and the little girl's real destination, Thousand Islands. However, they were at the back of the queue, along with Green Maple and Lin Dong.

This gave Liao Zixuan a headache, but it didn't matter.

Anyway, there was still a month of time left. He just had to rush back to the Flame Domain before the public beta started. He just had to find Water God to unseal the necklace. It was more than enough!

As he was thinking, the swaying carriage suddenly stopped. At the same time, Vivian's happy and surprised voice sounded in his ears.

"Xiao Hei, look! It was the sea! We.... We've arrived at Red Feather Harbor!"

Chapter 393: Astorokis

The moment she stepped out of the carriage, the sea breeze blew against her skin. There was also a salty smell in the air that Vivian had never smelled before.

The little girl opened her arms and took a few deep breaths. She looked excited. After all, this was the first time she smelled the sea.

Moreover, unlike the dry air in the Fire Region, the air in Red Plume Port, which was located at the border coast, was extremely humid. Coupled with the occasional sea breeze, it gave people a refreshing feeling.

Not only was Xin Yan stretching his wings to his heart's content as he flapped them wildly in the air, even the wolf cubs were stretching their bodies lazily as they bathed in the fresh air by the sea.

After paying the coachman, Vivian immediately set off for the Fire God Cult in Red Plume Harbor.

After showing his coat of arms, a middle-aged man wearing a bishop's robe came out to welcome him.

"Miss Vivian, welcome to Red Plume Harbor!"

I'm Matthew. I was sent here by the previous Archbishop, Lord Maggie, to be in charge of the Flame Domain and foreign countries. Lord Damir has already informed me about you through magic transmission. It's an honor to meet you.

Compared to the few bishops of Fire Code City, the middle-aged man in front of him was obviously much calmer. He gave off a very dependable feeling and spoke very politely and kindly.

"Thank you, Bishop Matthew. "Vivian replied politely.

After a simple introduction, Matthew went straight to the point.

"Miss Vivian, you must be tired from the journey. Why don't I prepare a room for you first and rest in Red Feather Harbor for a while? Or could it be...I'll take you directly to see Miss Roko?"

"Lu... Miss Luzi?"

Vivian repeated it a little awkwardly. The strange thing that Matthew mentioned... Name? It should be a name, right?

"Yes, Miss Luco was my colleague from the Society when I was doing diplomatic work in Thousand Islands. When she heard that Miss Vivian was going to Thousand Islands to find the Water God, she insisted on coming with me to meet you in person."

"It's just that..." An apologetic expression appeared on Bishop Matthew's face.

"I didn't expect you to be so fast, Miss Vivian. I thought I would only see you in Red Plume Harbor in two or three days, so I asked Miss Luzi to stay on the ship."

“Eh? First... Stay on the boat?”

Vivian had a weird expression on her face.

In the little girl’s understanding, the boat she understood was the kind that floated on a river and stream. People used double oars to row, and the boat could accommodate three people at most.

Even if Vivian knew, since it was a ship that could sail on the sea, it would definitely be bigger and could shelter people from the wind and rain. After all, it was said that the route between the Thousand Islands and the Flame Field would take two to three days to sail at sea.

But... No matter how big it was and how livable it was, it couldn’t compare to a room on land, right? Letting others lie in the boat, this was too... He seemed to have seen through the little girl’s intentions.

Bishop Matthew smiled bitterly and shook his head.

“Miss Vivian, you’ve misunderstood. The reason why I asked Miss Luzi to wait on the ship is because compared to that ship, the Fire God Cult in Red Plume Port is too shabby. ”

“Jane...Rudimentary?”

Seeing Vivian’s surprised expression, Bishop Matthew immediately suggested,”

“I know that this is indeed a little unimaginable for us people of the Flame Region. Back then, when I first saw that ship, my expression was exactly the same as yours.

‘ So, how about this? Let’s set off for the port now. No matter how much I describe it to you, it won’t be as good as you seeing it with your own eyes, Miss Vivian. You’ll be able to see Miss Luzi on the way. ”

Vivian had no reason to refuse Matthew’s suggestion. Driven by curiosity, Matthew soon led her to the harbor by the bay.

And then, when she was about to get close, the little girl could already see the outline of a huge thing docked at the port, but Vivian did not think of it as a ' ship ' .

Until...

"As you can see, Miss Vivian, you should now understand what I meant when I said that the Fire God Sect of Red Plume Harbor is too simple. "

As for the little girl...

"This... This is a boat, a boat?"

Vivian's eyes widened and she covered her mouth with one hand. She was shocked as she looked at the ship that she had to look up to see the whole picture...

A boat?

A huge ship, a very, very huge ship!

It was hard to describe Vivian as barren. Even the sparrow on her shoulder, Xinyan, imitated the little girl and looked dumbfounded. She rubbed her eyes with her wings.

The only one who was not embarrassed was the little wolf cub in Vivian's arms. After a glance, it was very calm.

After all, it was just a ship.

What was the big deal?

The huge ship in front of them was sixty to seventy meters long and more than ten meters wide. On the blue planet, it was probably a medium-sized ship that could carry thirty to forty people. Liao Zixuan was not surprised, but for Vivian and the aborigines of this world, it was extremely rare.

However...

The wolf cub's face revealed a strange and thoughtful expression. For some reason, Liao Zixuan felt that he had seen this ship somewhere before..

Chapter 394: Astorokis

However, Liao Zixuan couldn't remember where it was. After all, he had done too many quests in the game. If it was like in the Flame Domain, Liao Zixuan could still influence the key plot and characters. If it was just a dead object...

Forget it.

He had probably boarded this ship during some side mission in the Thousand Islands. After all, such a big ship was one of the best in the Thousand Islands. It was normal for the players to remember him.

After Vivian had recovered from her shock, Matthew led the little girl onto the ship and introduced her to Vivian.

The hull has a total of three layers except for the crew's internal entrance. There are two external entrances. One is located in the lower position. Matthew points to the bay port side of the ship. To and fro, there are laborers carrying supplies and goods. This is their entrance.

As for the other one, it instantly became much taller. It was located on the second floor of the ship, which was obviously the passenger cabin. Beside the ladder at the entrance, there was a special... The guards were guarding?

The person guarding the entrance of the ship, Vivian could tell from his face that he was not from the Flame Field. He was similar to the foreigner and Lord White.

Moreover, in the eyes of the little girl, these people were dressed very strangely. Whether it was the place where they wore their armor or the style of their swords, they were very different from the knights and city guards that Vivian was familiar with.

Bishop Matthew acted as a " guide " very well. He did not need Vivian to take the initiative to ask, and the voice of explanation rang out.

"In the Thousand Islands, they don't have a knight regiment. Instead, they call this kind of armed force warriors.

' And a woman like you, Miss Vivian, who has extremely strong magic power, is called a witch in most cases in the Thousand Islands."

Just as Matthew finished speaking to Vivian, a female voice came from the cabin corridor.

"Mr. Matthew, a witch doesn't just refer to those women with great divine power. More importantly, they must also believe in the Water God and join the shrine. "

Looking in the direction of the voice, a woman in a Thousand Islands dress stood by the ladder at the entrance of the cabin. When she met Vivian's gaze,

As for the woman's identity...

"Lady Luzi!" The two Thousand-island Warriors guarding the entrance of the giant ship straightened their backs and shouted respectfully when they saw the woman on the second floor.

By the way, what was called Thousand Islands Style clothing, according to the little girl Vivian, was the pattern on the clothes. It was obviously much more than the clothes of the Flame Domain, and there were all kinds of petals, branches and leaves of trees, and so on. The corners of the clothes were also more loose than the ones of the Flame Domain, and the corners were softer.

Sigh, I've shown my weakness in front of Miss Luzi. It seems that my knowledge of the Thousand Islands culture is far from enough.

Bishop Matthew wasn't unhappy about being corrected by Roko. Instead, he looked like he was grateful for the guidance and humbly asked for advice. This was very rare among the arrogant Fire God Church bishops. It was no wonder that Maggie had sent him to manage such an important place like the port between the two countries.

The Thousand-island Warriors guarding the entrance of the ship saw that Vivian and the others knew Lady Roko and seemed to be friends. They did not question them at all and directly opened the way for them to board the ship.

However, Bishop Matthew waved his hand at Vivian, indicating that since Luzi was already here, he did not need him. There was still a lot of work waiting for him at the Fire God Church, so he would not accompany the little girl on board. After successfully boarding the ship along the ladder, it was indeed a brand new experience.

The ship was stable and was not affected by the waves as she had expected. The two-story-high view gave Vivian an unparalleled experience. Looking to the left, she saw the vast blue sea, and looking to the right, she saw the busy Red Plume Port.

The sound of wood tapping on the ground pulled Vivian back to reality.

Looking at Miss Roko who had already walked to her side, the little girl finally realized that the sound that was similar to the knocking of wood just now was the sound of footsteps.

As for the reason, Vivian lowered her gaze and found that the shoes worn by Miss Luzi were actually different from theirs. It was... Wooden shoes?

"These shoes are called wooden clogs. They are a common style in the Thousand Islands. Of course, after hundreds of years of evolution, the wooden clogs of today are very different from the traditional ones.

“If Miss Vivian is interested in our Thousand Islands culture, I can tell you more about it at any time in the next few days of our voyage.

Although the woman had no expression on her face, it was different from the ice sculpture. She was more like Bishop Matthew, deliberately serious and serious. However, from her words, one could still hear a sense of friendliness.

“Really...Really? Thank you so much, uh... Miss, Miss Luzi!” Vivian replied excitedly ,

It was not difficult to tell that this was the first time she had left the Flame Domain and was also interacting with foreigners. Whether it was her curiosity or interest, she was very strong.

‘ Nice to meet you, Miss Vivian. I believe Mr. Matthew must have mentioned me to you, but allow me to introduce myself to you again..

Chapter 395: Astorokis

Facing Vivian, the passionate woman hugged her with a smile, face to face, and formally saluted the little girl again.

‘ You can call me Roko. I’m the administrative officer of the Sakai family from the ‘Society Execution’. I’m here on the orders of Lord Risa to welcome Miss Vivian to the Thousand Islands.

In the next few days, you can treat me as your personal companion. I will solve any problems related to the Thousand Islands or any difficulties and troubles you encounter during the voyage. ”

“Ah... I, I’ll be your guidance too!”

The little wolf cub in the little girl’s arms could clearly feel Vivian’s nervousness. It seemed that imitating the way foreigners spoke was quite challenging for the little girl.

But soon, the other name that Roko mentioned caught her attention.

“Roko, you mentioned that it was under the orders of Lady Risa, but... But I don’t seem to know her.”

“Lady Risa has already told me about this. “Lu Zi gave the little girl a reassuring look.

Lord Risa has a good relationship with Bishop Eugenia of the God of Fire. I heard that you are the direct disciple of that bishop and have inherited his mantle. As the host and an old friend, Lord Risa specially sent me here. She even drove this ship here for you.”

Vivian felt a little awkward after Ruzi’s words, especially when Ruzi mentioned the words “ personal disciple ” and “ inheritor.”

As for the little wolf in her arms, Liao Zixuan secretly curled his lips. If Liao Zixuan remembered correctly, this Sakai Risa was the clone of the Witch Bella in the Thousand Islands!

You even call them good friends. Is this good friend of yours yourself?

Liao Zixuan clearly remembered that when Bella called Vivian the “ witch’s shame “, she declared that she would never take the initiative to look for the little girl again.

In the end, it had only been a few days, and he was already so proactive. Moreover, from Lu Zi’s words, even this big ship had specially sailed over. It was not an ordinary means of passage between the two countries.

He was a tsundere.

Vivian also noticed this. The little girl quickly changed the topic and asked,” “Eh? Could it be that this ship also had a special background? I thought that the Thousand Islands were full of ships like this.

‘ Miss Vivian, you must be joking. The Astorokis is famous throughout the Thousand Islands. It was built with a lot of money. Under normal circumstances, it will only be used for long-distance diplomatic trips that are more than a month long. For neighboring countries like the Flame Region, we usually use a much smaller fleet instead.

“Yuan... So that’s how it is.”

Vivian was a little embarrassed when she heard that the other party had made such a big welcome for her. Just as she was about to say something to thank him...

“Eh? Xiao Hei, what’s wrong?”

Vivian suddenly felt the wolf cub in her arms stiffen.

It seemed like...

Was it when Ruzi said the name of the ship, Astorokis?

Vivian’s sense was not wrong.

Under Lu Zi’s strange gaze, the wolf cub suddenly jumped out of her arms.

And then...

He could not help but curse from the bottom of his heart.

No wonder, no wonder!

So it was...

Astorokis!

As soon as the name was mentioned, Liao Zixuan finally remembered where the inexplicable sense of familiarity came from when he first saw this ship.

He also understood why he didn't recognize such an important ship that played a key role in the main plot of the Thousand Islands.

That was because...

The players in his previous life had indeed boarded this ship, but at that time, they boarded...

Astorogis, the number looks like a big change, destroyed, only the hull skeleton is left, like the experience of a tragic shipwreck, crashing into the deep sea bottom.

Ruins!

Chapter 396: Three Pursuit

"Xiao Hei, just now you were..." When the wolf cubs returned to Vivian's side, the little girl secretly asked in a worried voice transmission.

However, Liao Zixuan shook his head, indicating that he was fine. He was just a little curious about the boat.

In fact, he didn't know what to say.

We can't say that this ship is an ominous ship. We should change to another ship now.

Liao Zixuan's mood at the moment had to be compared.

It was very similar to...

The male protagonist of Titanic returned from time travel and faced the huge ship that had yet to set sail.

They couldn't be said to be exactly the same, but they were exactly the same.

In the game's plot, the reason and process of the ship's crash were not explained to the players. It was just a landmark building located in the Abyssal Sea Instance Dungeon.

Liao Zixuan vaguely remembered that there was indeed a small paper on the forum about the historical background of the Astorokis, but...

After he f*cking clicked in, he only glanced at it briefly before closing it. It was too long. He didn't want to look at it! He even complained about how there were players who were so free.

But now...

Damn it!

The little wolf cub was regretful and beat its chest.

If he had taken a few more glances back then, he wouldn't have ended up like this. He only knew the result and didn't know the process. Liao Zixuan apologized from the bottom of his heart.

It was too late to change boats now.

Firstly, there were no other ships that could reach the Thousand Islands in Red

Plume Harbor. The shipbuilding industry in the Flame Domain was basically trasn. 'rney nad to rely on tne smps from tne 'l'nousand ISlandS to travel. However, if Lu Zi were to contact the Thousand Islands and request for a new ship to pick them up...

This led to the second point.

Secondly, Liao Zixuan himself wasn't sure when the crash of the Astorokis happened. It was like how the Titanic had sailed so many times. How could he be sure that this was the crash?

Oh, the Titanic was on its maiden voyage, so it was mailed. That was fine.

Liao Zixuan remembered that Luzi had just said that it was very rare for the Astorokis to set sail once. It was basically used for sailing in months.

No, he had to ask Vivian to find out more about this ship!

There was a chance to learn history in front of him, but Liao Zixuan didn't take it. He could only make last-minute preparations because he didn't want to be a witness to history.

After expressing her "strong curiosity" about the ship to Vivian, the little girl also looked curious and continued to ask about Luzi.

"Lu Zi, it seems that Xiao Hei is very interested in this ship..."

"Ah! Sorry, Little Black is the name of the Summoned Beast in my arms... I named it!" Vivian has a proud expression on her face. Open it carefully, and there's a hint of pride hidden in it.

“So, can you please tell me more about this ship? For example, why is this ship called Astor...Por...”

The little girl was stumped for a moment because the name of the ship was too long and a little awkward.

Fortunately, Lu Zi was considerate enough to make up for it.

“The Astorokis.”

“Yes! “That’s why I’m very curious. This name seems to be the same as the way your Thousand Islands name it. I keep feeling... Well, the style was a little different.

Vivian’s question hit the nail on the head. Liao Zixuan was also curious.

According to the style of Thousand Islands, it should be something like the Wave God or the Yamato.

“Basically, everyone who heard this name would ask the same question as Miss Vivian. “Lu Zi nodded. It seemed that she was already used to it.

She slowly began to explain.

” The Astorokis is named after an ancient legend that has been passed down in our Thousand Islands. As everyone knows, the Thousand Islands is a country of water, protected by the Water God, Lady Veronica. However, back in the Chaotic Era, the Nine Gods had yet to appear, and the Thousand Islands had yet to be unified. They were divided into three major families, each ruling an island. ”

” At that time, the Thousand-island was at war. The three great clans all wanted to annex each other. At first, the people focused on the struggle for power and did not consider the consequences of the war at all. It was not until the casualties, remnant souls, resentment, and hatred brought about by the war increased that the accumulated filth finally erupted, causing demons to dance in chaos and evil to appear frequently.

When Lu Zi said this, her voice became a little more serious, as if she was reliving the disaster from back then. The little girl beside her clenched her fists.

It was not until they reached the bottom that Vivian breathed a sigh of relief.

“If this goes on, the Thousand Islands will be destroyed before the war ends. That’s why the three families decided to stop the war and prepare for peace talks.”

” The three great clans agreed to set the location of the peace talks at the central island. On that day, the clan leaders of the various clans sailed on a boat. However, I don’t know if fate is playing tricks on me or if the evil is causing trouble, but it happened to be on that day...”

Roko paused and changed her tone, which made Vivian’s heart, which had just been relieved by the story, hang up again.

Lu Zi said,’

” That day, thick fog rose from the surface of the island. Even the most experienced boatmen could not tell the direction, and the most precise compass could not point to the right place.

” At that time, the patriarchs of the three great families on the ship thought that the other party was using yao arts and wanted to use the excuse of peace talks, but in reality, they were secretly plotting against them. If the situation really developed like this, not only would the peace talks break down, but the relationship would also become even more tense. It would undoubtedly be adding fuel to the fire for the people of the Thousand Islands, and it would be a disaster..

Chapter 397: Three Pursuit of the Law

‘ And at this critical moment that concerns the survival of the Thousand Islands, a great astrologer appeared.

Although Luzi’s tone was still calm, it was not difficult to hear the respect in it.

" This Astrologer who suddenly appeared used her powerful Water Divination to break the fog that pervaded the sea. Like the stars in the night sky, she illuminated the way forward and pointed out the direction for the people. With her help, the peace talks between the three families proceeded smoothly, and the Thousand Islands Three Enforcers came into being today.

"It can be said that if it weren't for that great astrologer, the Thousand Islands wouldn't be where they are today. It was her who used her Aqua Divination to change the fate of the Thousand Islands 'extinction.

As the last note of the dew fell, Vivian nodded her head in a half-understanding manner. She was still a little immersed in the thrilling and tense story just now, unable to extricate herself.

Lu Zi smiled and added,"

Of course, because it's passed down by word of mouth among the people, coupled with the fact that the story is too legendary and has been passed down for a long time, there's no way to verify it. This has led to many rumors. Some claim that there's no such person as an astrologer at all, and that it just happened to be a strong wind blowing by.

"There are also people who say that the fog was dispersed with the help of the sea gods. There are even people who say that the astrologer was actually the incarnation of the Water God because the Water God also knows divination.

Water... Water God?

Vivian's ears pricked up when she heard this because the purpose of their trip was to find the Water God, unlock the true purification ability of the necklace, and treat the Fire God who was troubled by the Fallen Abyss.

So, in short, it's not so much the history of the Thousand Islands as it is a legend. However, the name Astorokis has been preserved and passed down to this day."

" The people of the later generations, especially the society that is in charge of rituals and rituals, and respects legends the most, built this giant ship in honor of this astrologer. The first half of her full name, Astorokis, symbolizes that she will never sink, never get lost, and will always be protected and blessed by fate.

As a member of the Society, it was obvious that Ruzi had a firm belief in the symbolic meaning of the Astorokis.

However, the wolf cub in Vivian's arms sighed in his heart after hearing Luzi's last few words.

Especially when he heard that the ship had such a long history and was an important symbol to the Thousand Islands, he couldn't help but sigh and feel an inexplicable sense of mourning for the ship's future crash.

This was something that Liao Zixuan did not have when he was a player in his previous life. At that time, he only cared about levels, equipment, skills, and so on. He was thinking about how to improve himself. He did not think about going deep into the game and exploring the things behind this so-called game world.

But of course.

This throbbing feeling disappeared in the next moment.

That was because...

Sometimes, it's not good to be too rich in legends. The Astorokis has not sailed for more than ten years and has almost become a tribute. Lady Risa believes that the ship is meant to sail, not to be imprisoned in the harbor and worshipped by people. Coincidentally, she learned that Miss Vivian was coming. The combination of the two factors gave it the opportunity to sail again.

"In other words, thanks to Miss Vivian, we are fortunate enough to board this legendary ship and sail.

"This is perhaps the so-called...Fate." Lu Zi shook her head. She was not just sighing with emotion.

But when it reached the ears of the wolf cubs, it changed.

What the hell!

Liao Zixuan had thought that the ship would sail often, and it just so happened that it was taken out during the break period. So it turned out that it had been docked all this time, and Vivian's appearance allowed it to go out to sea?

From a certain perspective, this was the first time in recent years that the Astorokis...A maiden voyage?

F * ck!

A faint premonition crept into Liao Zixuan's heart.

Although he knew that this was probably his illusion and he was scaring himself.

However, he hadn't even set off yet, and such a mysterious thing had happened. It seemed to indicate that this trip to the Thousand Islands wasn't as simple and smooth as he had imagined.

How rude of you to say so much in one breath. Miss Vivian must be tired. I'll take you to the cabin room that has been prepared."

After Lu Zi finished speaking, she led the little girl to the interior of the giant ship.

The interior of the Astorokis was just like its appearance. It was huge and decorated gorgeously. In Vivian's opinion, it was not inferior to Count Sisre's Castle in Fire Code City.

On the second floor of the cabin, every guest could have a separate room. If someone had told Vivian before that a ship could be like a hotel, the little girl would never believe it, but now...

“This is the room, Miss Vivian. Please come in. I hope you’re satisfied. I’ve prepared a room for you.

After Rachel took the key to open the door, Vivian found that the room was fully furnished. There was a soft and comfortable bed, a clean and tidy wardrobe, and even a dressing table, writing table, bookshelf, and tea table. It was a single room in the style of an aristocrat.

The only flaw was that it was slightly smaller, but it was enough space for one person to move around.

“This... This is too expensive!”

The first thing that came to Vivian’s mind was money. She wondered how much it would cost to rent such a luxurious cabin.

‘ Miss Vivian, you’re overthinking. All your expenses will be borne by our society, so you don’t have to worry. You can enjoy all the facilities on the ship.’

After Lu Zi said that, Vivian finally asked a question that had been in the girl’s heart for a long time.

“That... Lu Zi, what exactly is the ‘Society Pursuing’ that you’ve been talking about...”

“It’s my fault. The word ‘pursuing’ represents the authority of Thousand

Islands. Like the story of Astorokis, after Water Immortal unified Thousand Islands, the original three major clans evolved into the current Three Pursuing Clans of Thousand Islands.”

Ryu raised three fingers at Vivian.

“The three pursuits are the Society Pursuing, the Appraisal Pursuing, and the Great Fu Pursuing.

' Among them, the Society Executor is in charge of sacrifices and ceremonies, the Appraisal Executor is in charge of finance, and the Grand Fu-Enforcement Executor is in charge of military power. To make it easier for you to understand, Miss Vivian, you can refer to the three Executors as the authorities in your Flame Domain.

"The Society Law corresponds to the Fire God Cult, the Appraisal Law corresponds to the nobles, and the Grand Law corresponds to the Knights.

At first, Vivian was a little confused, but after Luzi's metaphor, the little girl suddenly showed a look of enlightenment. She finally understood.

"The Lady Risa that I'm talking about is the Sakai Clan, one of the Three Great Clans of the Thousand Islands."

"Ah! So... So it's that powerful?"

Vivian automatically imagined Risa to be in a position similar to Archbishop Maggie.

The little girl quickly became excited and said,"

"So, as long as we ask Miss Risa directly after we reach the Thousand Islands, we will be able to find Water God very quickly, right?"

"Of course." Lu Zi nodded.

"The Three Pursuit was established with the Water God at the center. Our society's Pursuit has the closest relationship with the Water God. After all, the Water God is the palace secretary of the Moon Abyss Society, the highest witch!

“Eh? Really, really! Yay!”

Although Vivian did not know what the new term “Gong Si” meant, she could still understand the words “closest”

She excitedly transmitted her voice to the little wolf cub in her arms,

Little Black, it looks like we won’t even take a month for this trip. Who knows, we might be able to go home in less than a week! That’s great!”

No, no, no. Don’t randomly set up flags, hey!

The little wolf cub felt even more uneasy. Although it seemed like there was all kinds of beneficial news at the moment...

But how did that sentence come about?

How could the Flying Dragon Knight lose?

Don’t milk me anymore.

Seeing Vivian so happy, Lu Zi suggested,”

Since Miss Vivian has arrived at Red Plume Harbor ahead of time, why don’t I make the arrangements? Let’s not delay too much. I can see that you’re also very anxious, and Lord Risa is also looking forward to meeting you, so...”

“Let’s set off today. How about it?” He didn’t even consider it.

The little girl nodded heavily at Luzi.

“Good!”

Chapter 398: Miss, Do You Want to Read Astrology (1)

After hearing that Astorokis was about to leave, Red Plume Port instantly became lively.

Many people from the Flame Field came to the port, wanting to see this huge ship sail with their own eyes. To them, this was something they might not be able to see in their entire lives. It was something they could brag about at the wine table and hotels in the future.

Even the local knights and the Fire God Cult turned a blind eye to this. Many of them even joined the ranks of onlookers by the straits.

Astorokis, top deck.

Standing here, one could have a bird’s eye view of the surroundings. It was located in an absolutely open field of vision. It was the best choice for passengers on the ship to enjoy the scenery, chat with friends, and relax.

However, because the ship was about to set sail, Lu Zi had stipulated that all ordinary passengers had to stay in their own cabin rooms. Only when the ship officially set sail could they move freely. Therefore, the deck was empty now, with only a few figures.

“Lord Roko, all the goods have been counted and packed. The number of passengers has also been checked. It is confirmed that everyone has boarded the ship. Do you want to activate the Heart of the Sea and set sail now?”

A sailor wearing a warrior’s uniform on the ship asked Lu Zi respectfully.

Roko turned around and confirmed with Vivian that there was nothing else to deal with in the Flame Domain. She then nodded at the warrior.

” Activate the Heart of the Sea. Set sail.”

“Yes, sir!”

Roko saw the curiosity in Vivian’s eyes. What kind of power could push such a huge ship?

So very soon, Roko brought the little girl to the power room on the third floor.

The wolf cub in Vivian’s arms observed that they were heavily guarded along the way. At every turn in the corridor, two or three Thousand Island Warriors could be seen patrolling the handles.

Although they had not reached the power room yet, it was obvious that this was the absolute core of the Astorokis. It could also be seen that Lucy trusted Vivian. She had brought the little girl to visit such an important place without saying anything.

“This is the place.” When they arrived at a cabin with a water elemental symbol engraved on the door, the dew stopped.

Dense elemental energy was emitted from the body of the dewdrop. After combining with the water element on the cabin door...

Ka...

“This is a sealing technique that our Thousand Islands learned from Gui Li. It is impossible for outsiders to rely on brute force. It will also trigger the offensive forbidden technique personally set by Lord Water God.”

After explaining, Roko gestured for Vivian to go ahead.

After the two entered, the Thousand-island Warriors who had followed behind them did not enter. They only stood guard outside the door. They were obviously not qualified.

“This is...Heart of the Sea? So, so beautiful...

This time, there was no need for Lu Zi to explain. As soon as Vivian entered, her eyes were attracted by a pearl placed in the middle of the power room.

He didn't know if he should call it a pearl because it was the size of a fist and magically floated in the air.

A deep blue color like the ocean emanated from the pearl, dyeing the entire power room blue. There were even illusory bubbles floating around from time to time, making people feel as if they were at the bottom of the sea.

” This Heart of the Sea was created by us in collaboration with Lin Dong. We relied on their technology to replicate the Heart of the Water God. Although its abilities are far inferior to the real Heart of God, it's more than enough to power the Astorokis on the ocean.

As she spoke, she repeated the action she had done before she entered the door.

Under Lu Zits control, the pearl floating in the air instantly shone brightly. Extremely dense water elements erupted from it and enveloped the entire ship in the blink of an eye.

Immediately after, the noise from the outside world of the port became intense, filled with surprise and shock.

As the sails of the Astorokis were retracted and raised high, the huge body of the Astorokis docked in the channel began to move like a giant beast in the sea waking up.

” As long as the destination is set, the rest will be left to the Heart of the Sea. It will help us plan the route automatically during the voyage, and it will automatically avoid the rapids and reefs. It can be said that as long as the Heart of the Sea is around, no matter what accidents we encounter, the Astorokis will be able to survive safely.”

“Too powerful...And it’s very convenient!” Vivian praised enviously.

This also explained why there was no captain and very few sailors here. Most of them were dressed like warriors and were responsible for security. The Astrologgis didn’t need anyone to pilot it, and in fact, there was no one who could pilot this huge ship.

Vivian was in the mood to visit, but the wolf cub in his arms was not.

After learning the effect of the Heart of the Sea on the giant ship, Liao Zixuan became more alert. This was because it also indirectly meant that once the Heart of the Sea was damaged, the Astorokis would be completely paralyzed.

Before leaving the engine room, the wolf cub squinted his eyes and took a deep look at the sea-blue pearl that was safely floating under the protection of heavy vigilance.

Regardless of whether or not he would use it in the future, it would not be wrong to secretly record this key information.

The door of the sealed power room..

Chapter 399: Miss, Do You Want to Read Astrology (Part 1)

‘ Miss Vivian, I have to arrange the crew’s work during the voyage. What do you think...’ Lu Zi wanted to say something but stopped.

“No problem! Lu Zi, you should go quickly. I’ll just walk around the ship by myself later. It’s been hard on you to explain so much to me. Don’t delay your normal arrangements because of me. ”

Vivian waved her hand repeatedly, indicating that she did not need Luzi to follow her.

After seeing this, Roko did not push her further. She bowed apologetically and parted ways with Vivian. She took a few of her warriors to another part of the cabin.

“Phew...!”

Now that she was back to being alone, the little girl cheered up and let out a long sigh.

Vivian went back to her cabin and put the sparrow on the soft bed.

Then, she hugged the little wolf cub in her arms and was hesitating about where to go.

Vivian saw that after the Astorokis officially set sail, many of the passengers who were allowed to come out of their rooms went to the deck at the same time. Thus, the little girl followed the crowd to the deck.

As soon as she stepped onto the deck, Vivian instantly understood why everyone had to come here as soon as they came out.

Unlike the stability in the cabin, when they reached the deck outside, the refreshing sea breeze blew over their bodies. The fresh air carried a little humidity, as if their entire body had been washed.

He found a spot on the deck with fewer people, held the railing, and looked out at Red Plume Harbor, which was getting farther and farther away. He could hear the sound of the Astorokis breaking the waves.

At this moment, Vivian could truly feel that the giant ship was sailing, and she was already on the endless sea.

However, it did not take long before a burst of noise from the deck attracted Vivian’s attention.

The little girl looked over and saw that many passengers were now surrounding a person in strange clothes. Every passenger's face more or less had a look of novelty and interest.

"They are..."

"And that person, he's dressed well...Strange? Is it a special profession?"

Vivian was mumbling to herself, and the wolf cub in her arms, after seeing the person who the little girl called "alternative clothing"...

"Eh? Really, Little Black? That person is...Astrologer?" Vivian looked down at the wolf cubs and exclaimed in surprise.

"The kind of astrologer that Miss Luzi told us about in the legends?" Liao Zixuan waved his claws, indicating that he was right.

He recognized her immediately. After all, the style of her clothes was too special.

Wearing a one-piece swimsuit and a huge brim that could cover one's face, one was undoubtedly an Astrologer.

By the way, Liao Zixuan didn't know if it was to protect his eyes, but he had never seen a male NPC Astrologer in his previous life. When players changed classes, it was one of the few classes that had a gender restriction, just like Witch.

"Miss, could it be that you were... Are you talking to the pet in your arms?" Suddenly, a voice came from behind the little girl.

Vivian turned around and saw a middle-aged man with a standard foreign appearance.

"Ah, forgive me for being rude. I was really a little curious, so I..." After the uncle met the little girl's gaze, he scratched his already small hair in embarrassment.

“It’s okay, it’s just... Xiao Hei isn’t my pet, he’s a life-bound monster that I summoned. I treat him as my family, and Xiao Hei is very smart, he knows much more than me! ”

He suggested that he could remove the word ‘a lot of times’.

The wolf cub in Vivian’s arms yawned and then glanced at the middle-aged man who was surprised and shocked by Vivian’s words.

“I’m sorry, I’m sorry. So, Miss, you’re a beastmaster! It was even with the demon who had already opened his mind... No, a spirit beast signing a contract. This is the first time I, Zhao Jie, have seen such a thing. It’s an eye-opener!”

The middle-aged man who called himself “ Zhao Jie ” cupped his hands in front of the little girl. While sighing, he did not forget to flatter her.

“It has only been a short while, yet I have already seen and heard such things. Just being able to get to know young miss...As expected, when I gritted my teeth and bought the ticket to the Astorokis, it was worth it!

“Ah! This was...This...” Vivian shook her head in embarrassment, not knowing what to say.

The way these foreigners spoke...It was really strange!

“Let me introduce myself. My name is Zhao Jie, I’m from Gui Li, and I’m the second manager of the Flying Bird Merchant Association.”

“Eh? Gui Li? I thought you were from the Thousand Islands.”

After a moment of surprise, the little girl introduced herself.

“Hello, my name is Vivian. I’m from the Flame Domain, and... Uh, I don’t have any work for the time being.”

The two of them got to know each other briefly. Vivian, who had not seen much of the world, did not understand, but Liao Zixuan, who was experienced, could tell at a glance.

This fellow had probably been eyeing the little girl for a long time. From the time he started talking to her until now, he had been doing it on purpose.

However, he still didn’t know his purpose, so the wolf cub didn’t interfere and just watched.

“Miss, this person in your family...Little Black was really amazing! It was simply godly! What he said was not wrong at all. The person who was currently in the limelight on the deck was the Astrologer Warlock from the Thousand Islands.”

Zhao Jie was good at chatting. He started to talk about the point that Vivian was curious about.

“However, miss, I have to remind you that you seemed to admire astrologers very much just now, but in reality, they are all liars!

“Lie... Liar?” Vivian did not understand.

“Yes, because there are very few astrologers who are truly capable. Most of them are lying under the guise of astrology. I’ve been deceived several times and learned my lesson!

Zhao Jie revealed a pained expression as if he had really been cheated of a lot of money.

“Let me tell you, these astrologers all have the same strategy. The low-level scammers rely on quantity and won’t reject anyone. They charge very little each time and specifically look for places with high traffic.”

“In my opinion, the person on the deck now belongs to the ranks of high-level

Zhao Jie spoke like a businessman.

“Quality? I don’t quite understand...”

Facing Vivian, who looked like a young girl, Zhao Jie smiled mysteriously and said,”

“The so-called relying on quality means that these scammers will deliberately raise their own value and give people a feeling that they are very unfathomable. However, in reality, they will secretly observe the most valuable targets and then use various methods to approach them.”

“There’s an old saying in Gui Li, ‘If you don’t lie for ten years, you’ll be cheated for ten years!’ ”

“Ah, this...”

Vivian was skeptical at first, but...

‘ I told you that my Astrology is not for earning money! Don’t come to me for divination again!

“Fate is such a mysterious and profound domain. It can’t be measured by “Please don’t disturb me anymore. I want to be alone!

The female Astrologer who was surrounded by the crowd revealed a distressed expression. She kept telling the people around her that she did not casually divine, but the more she said this, the more curious the crowd became, and the higher the price they offered.

Many people who could afford to buy tickets for the Astorokis were from wealthy families.

Zhao Jie looked at Vivian with an expression that said,” See, I’m right.”

However, in the next second.

Zhao Jie's expression froze.

That was because...

"If you guys continue like this, I... I'm going to be angry! Don't tempt me with money anymore. Astrology is a very serious matter. There's no need to use divination to solve your problems! I won't divine for others either! Make way, I'm going back to my room!"

The young female Astrologer Sorcerer pulled down her hat and tried to squeeze through the crowd with a depressed expression.

But at this moment.

She stopped.

Her eyes met Vivian's, who was also looking at her.

And then...

Shua!

"Miss, do you want.... Astrology?"

Chapter 400: Miss, Do You Want Astrology (Part 2)

Vivian looked at the female Astrologer who ran to her after a 100 -meter sprint.

If she had to describe it, the feeling that the other party gave the little girl was like a person who had been hungry for countless days and suddenly saw a table full of delicious food.

“That...

“Miss, let’s do an astrology. It only costs five gold coins! “The female Astrologer said anxiously, even interrupting Vivian.

Upon closer inspection, the wolf cubs realized that the female Astrologer seemed to be young, and her face had a bit of tenderness similar to Vivian’s.

Most of her purple-blue hair was hidden under the wide brim of her hat, and the exposed part was combed into two long braids at the back. At the end of each braid was a pendant of unknown origin.

The female Astrologer’s beautiful brown eyes stared at Vivian.

After some observation, Liao Zixuan had to admit that he had reason to suspect that some of the people who surrounded the female Astrologer were not curious about divination, but purely for the girl herself.

Unlike the little wolf cub in her arms, Vivian was shocked as soon as the astrologer girl opened her mouth.

“Five...Five gold coins?” The little girl even raised her voice a few notches. It could be seen how unacceptable it was.

The female Astrologer panicked when she saw Vivian’s reaction.

She quickly said,

“Then I... I’ll give you a discount. Five silver coins? Five copper coins?”

Five...Free, free is fine, right? As long as you let me help you divine once! ”

The astrologer girl quoted several prices in a row. In the end, she even offered free of charge. It was obvious that she had an unusual obsession with Vivian.

Others would beg her to divine for them, but Vivian was like a little girl begging for a divination.

“This...

The situation in front of her was beyond Vivian’s judgment. She was about to ask for the wolf cubs’ opinion when another voice, as if finally recovering from the rapid development of the situation, hurriedly said,”

“It doesn’t count! We don’t read fortunes!”

Zhao Jie, the merchant from Guili, rejected the astrologer girl on behalf of the little girl. In a moment of desperation, he even said that it was a similar profession to Guili.

“It’s not fortune-telling, it’s divination, astrology! “As expected, the girl corrected him with great care.

However, Zhao Jie waved his hands repeatedly.

“We don’t need astrology either. Miss Vivian, let’s go.

After Zhao Jie finished speaking, he gave the little girl a warning, hinting for her to quickly leave with him.

Vivian could not make up her mind. The wolf cub in her arms did not make a sound, so she followed Zhao Jie to leave the deck.

But who would have thought that the female Astrologer would be anxious when she saw that Vivian was about to leave. She was so agitated that she actually blocked the little girl's way.

Miss, please reconsider. Really, I think you really need an astrology session because I can feel a special..."

Before the astrologer girl could finish her sentence, she was interrupted by Zhao Jie.

"What are you doing! Let me warn you, this is the Astorokis, and this lady beside me is Lady Roko's friend. If you want to force me to buy it, I'll call for help!

As Zhao Jie warned them sternly, the commotion on the deck had indeed attracted the attention of the Thousand-island Warriors who were in charge of security. They were already approaching the ship.

Zhao Jie's words made the astrologer girl calm down a lot. She finally made way and stopped pestering him, but she did not stop shouting.

'Miss! Miss! If you change your mind, you must remember to come and find me at any time! My room is in the passenger cabin on the second floor, the fifth room on the left side of the corridor! Miss...

Miss!"

After leaving the deck and returning to the interior of the Astorogis, the astrologer girl's voice finally disappeared.

"That..."

"Miss Vivian, believe me, the person just now is definitely a liar! "Zhao Jie knew what the little girl wanted to say and answered first.

But she said that it was free..."

“Hmph, free? “We all know that free is the most expensive thing. I’m too familiar with this kind of scam. Don’t listen to her words, but in reality, after she really finished divining for you, she will suddenly change her mind and ask for an exorbitant price. When that time comes, we won’t be able to reason with her even if we want to!”

Besides, there were so many people who came to her for a divination just now. Why did she refuse so firmly? Why did her attitude suddenly change when she saw you, Miss Vivian? It’s as if she can’t wait to ask for a divination for you. Could it be that you have some great luck that’s hard to come by in a hundred years? Don’t you want to divine my heart?”

Zhao Jie had an experienced look on his face as he taught the little girl.

Vivian, on the other hand, showed a half-understanding expression.

“So, so it’s like this?” After thinking about it carefully, the little girl felt that what Zhao Jie said did make sense.

To be honest, when the astrological girl said it was free, Vivian was a little tempted. Now it seemed that it was just bait? She almost bit him. If he changed his mind, she would be at his mercy..
