

NPC Become 41

Chapter 41: There's always someone better than you (3)

Before this, the reason why she was throwing a tantrum at Vivian and why she did not like Liao Zixuan was because she felt that she was the only person who could protect the main personality.

Vivian did not need to rely on anything else.

For example, a certain wolf cub that had not even crossed the juvenile stage.

“Alright, Wei Wei, it's my turn!

“Just get your Little Black to help me burn those annoying Shadow Wolves. The rest will escape... Leave this place to me!”

The girl in the dark space was in a good mood.

In the end, she would have to appear again...What?

The second personality had just started to feel smug when the next scene that appeared in reality almost made her fall off her chair.

“Xiao Hei, don't be afraid. You will definitely grow to be this big and powerful in the future. As for now, let's run first...” Vivian was about to pick up her little wolf cub to comfort him.

In the end, she heard two words from Xiao Hei's mind.

“Just this?”

Fancy!

Liao Zixuan broke free from Vivian's embrace and jumped down from the little girl's body. He started to look at the dark wolf king in the eyes.

Although we still don't know what the two wolves, one big and one small, one gray and one black, said to each other through their eyes that day.

But it should be like this.

"What are you looking at?"

"I'm looking at looking at you," "I'm looking at you," F * ck, Little Emperor, why are you here?"

"It's none of your business that I'm here. Instead, what do you want to do now?"

"I... That me, cough cough, I was bored in the dark, so I came out for a walk, a walk...Hehe..."

Dark Wolf King. Although its name was also three words, it still had the word king.

However, compared to him, this Dark Flame Wolf, it was like a landlord meeting an emperor. Oh, he was still a little emperor now.

As one of the only two forbidden lifeforms in the huge [Flame Domain], unless the broken phoenix called "Xin Yan" personally descended, no demon could suppress him in terms of bloodline.

Do you understand the value of the strongest hidden boss in Version 1.0?

There was one thing Bella was right about. Wolves were born with a strong sense of clan. Those with superior bloodlines had an extremely high suppression on those with inferior bloodlines.

This kind of thing was engraved in the DNA. No matter how big the difference in level and strength was, it was still inevitable.

“Dark Wolf King, bring her and that little wolf back!

Even though Bella was weakened after summoning the Dark Wolf King, she still waved her hand domineeringly and ordered the Dark Wolf King.

What the Demoness valued the most was her face!

She was an epic character, but she had been defeated by a little girl who had not even reached the transcendent level. This made Bella ruthless and bleed heavily. This wave of determination was to pretend to be great and use a forbidden spell to kill mosquitoes.

However, a few seconds after she gave the order, the situation became a little awkward.

Because the Dark Wolf King did not listen to her at all. It stood still on the spot and did not move. It was like a wooden person, lowering its ferocious and huge head to look at the little wolf cub on the ground opposite the young girl. She didn't know that it was her own illusion. Bella saw a hint of...Flattery?

“Cough cough...” Bella coughed twice.

Could it be that she hadn't fought for too long and was rusty with her magic?

Something's not right?

Therefore, Bella was prepared to try giving the order again.

“Dark Wolf King, go...”

Awooo!

Witch Bella's voice was interrupted by a deafening wolf roar.

The terrifying wolf king that was summoned from the shadows let out a long howl towards the sky. It turned its head and glared at Bella with its bell-like orange-yellow eyes.

What did he mean?

Bella was dumbfounded.

Why are you looking at me? The person I asked you to capture is right in front of you!

And you, the dignified Dark Wolf, the King of Shadow Wolves, what's with that deep resentment in your eyes, like a bullied little wife?

The Dark Wolf King seemed to be thinking about whether it could defeat this old woman who had summoned it and tricked it miserably.

However, the other party was quite strong after all, and he had sacrificed a portion of his soul power to it.

Therefore,

Turning his head, a large amount of black fog appeared again, drowning the gray wolf's huge body.

After the black fog dissipated...

There was no trace of the Dark Wolf King from before.

Bella was speechless.

Vivian was speechless.

The two closed beta players were speechless..

Chapter 42: The First Appearance of the Fallen Abyss

Time seemed to stop at this moment.

The air froze.

Vivian felt that the atmosphere was not right and wanted to say something to ease the tension.

“That...

“Stop! Shut up!”

“You... Don’t talk to me!” Bella saw that the little girl opposite her was about to speak again, but this epic-level demoness screamed anxiously and interrupted her.

She was really afraid of being black on the inside, or rather...Natural black? Vivian. “Oh, alright.”

The little girl nodded obediently, but she could not help but reveal a wronged expression on her face. She clearly wanted to comfort the other party.

For example..

“It’s fine. There might be a problem with the magic just now. Why don’t you...

Try playing it again?"

Fortunately, Bella had learned her lesson. If Vivian had said that out loud, Bella would probably be so angry that she would vomit blood.

Do you think you can cast a forbidden spell whenever you want?

Didn't you see that in order to summon this wolf king, my body was almost emptied out?!

He even asked me to play it again...

Why did he release it? Make a fool of yourself again?

Bella was not a fool. After the initial shock and confusion, she quickly reacted and had a guess in her heart.

First of all, there would definitely be no problem with her magic. This was the absolute confidence of a real witch.

Then, according to the elimination method, the problem could only be... At this moment, the Thousand-faced Witch, an Epic powerhouse, began to look at the wolf cub in Vivian's arms with a complicated gaze.

Wolves had a strong sense of blood, and Bella knew this very well.

There was only one explanation for why the Dark Wolf King would ignore his orders, refuse to attack the other party, and even turn around and leave without permission, disappearing into the darkness.

There was another wolf king that was even more 'wolf king' than it!

Even if the other party now...

Perhaps he was still very young.

However, bloodline was bloodline. It was a natural suppression between a superior and a inferior. It had nothing to do with age or strength.

This was like a king's newborn child. From the moment he landed, he was born to be below one person and above ten thousand people. It was the same for humans. They did not scheme against each other. Most of them were single-minded monsters. It was even more so.

"Hmph, I didn't know that you were hiding this! I was wondering how you dared to barge into the Fearful Claw Forest by yourself and come to find trouble with the Fire God Sect.

After Bella forced herself to finish speaking, Vivian did not do anything, but the two closed beta players were depressed.

Big Watermelon and the Melee Archmage were speechless.

What did he mean?

Are we not human?

Then, as if she had sensed something, Bella glanced at the two players who seemed to be indignant. Their faces were filled with the words "I and Vivian scored 81 points together. Oh, no, we worked together to destroy the Fire God

Cult and suppress the Epic Witch."

Then, the two of them admitted defeat on the spot.

Well, we are not human beings.

Woof woof!

We are all Miss Vivian's dogs!

"You... How did he sign a natal contract with such a to hold back her curiosity, she asked Vivian.

You asked her if she was envious?

Hmph, I'm an Epic Demoness. Why would I envy a young girl who hasn't even grown her hair?

How envious!

He was so f * cking envious!

Her jealousy almost made Bella burn on the spot.

It was like a racer encountering a super car, a sharpshooter discovering a peerless gun, or an old pervert seeing an enchanting beauty...Ahem, the last one didn't seem right.

In short, Bella, who had spent her life researching the " wolf repelling " magic, was looking at Liao Zixuan with a strange gaze at this moment. It was as if there was a green light in her eyes.

This made the little wolf cub shiver and subconsciously move closer to the little girl's arms.

Grandma, please have some self-respect.

It probably meant that they weren't suitable.

If Bella had the stats of "defense breaking value", then the progress bar should have reached 10%.

And then...

"What? Little Black...Are you that powerful?" Vivian gently stroked Liao Zixuan's fur with her hand.

"Could it be that the big bad wolf was scared away by you?"

Liao Zixuan, who was very comfortable being touched by the little girl, proudly raised his little wolf head.

The corners of the Myth-ranked Demoness' mouth twitched violently as she looked at the loving human and wolf.

Big bad wolf?

That's the Dark Wolf King, Oloris Barijin Shadow, whom I spent so much effort to invite!

Do you know how much I paid to sign the contract with him back then?

Also, you said that you don't know the origin of your wolf cub?

Haha!

Who are you lying to!

Bella's Defense Break: 40%

“If you don’t even know what kind of wolf it is and what bloodline it is, how did you summon it? How did the ceremony take place and how did the contract be signed? Did it appear out of thin air and run to you on its own?” Bella, who was furious, mocked Vivian.

She felt that the young lady opposite her was a little too much.

At this time, he was still deliberately pretending to be stupid. Why? Was it just to annoy him?

Yes, Bella thought Vivian was playing dumb.

It was fine if you said it was an ordinary demon, but the more powerful the demon was, the more troublesome it was to sign a contract. First, you had to read all kinds of ancient books to understand the other party’s honorific name. Then, you had to prepare the corresponding tributes, rituals, and so on according to the other party’s preferences and habits.

This was also the reason why Bella could not help but ask even though she did not want to talk to Vivian, who she labeled as a “two-faced”.

You’re just a village girl, and you say that your magic is strong? Fine, this is talent. You say that you can imitate other people’s magic? Fine, this is talent. You say that your combat strength is off the charts? Fine, you have two personalities. I’ll admit it.

However, even if he was talented and had another personality in his body, how did he get all this Mystical Knowledge, materials, and preparations for high-level summoning?

Even a witch like her might not be able to provide such resources. How did Vivian do it?

Yes, how did the little girl do it?

The answer was actually very simple.

Bella even said it herself.

“What summoning? What ritual? What contract?” Under Bella’s exasperated gesturing. Vivian revealed a confused expression-

Then, the little girl revealed a look of recollection. She said honestly, “It seems...It was really Little Black who ran over on his own.

“Speaking of which, I was scared out of my wits at the time. I thought Little Black was coming to eat my wild monsters.”

Bella’s Defense Break: 100%

She couldn’t stay in this place for another second.

Her strongest attack was completely restrained by the other party, and the other party could not do anything to her in her soul form. If both parties could not do anything to each other, then why was she still being bullied here?

“Vivian, remember, we will meet again sooner or later!” After saying those words, Bella was ready to leave the nest.

But at this moment...

A sudden change occurred!

A creature that had been ignored by everyone suddenly made a move.

From the center of the nest, the Mystic Tyrannosaurus, which was supposed to be hypnotized by a secret technique, suddenly squirmed from the strange black runes on its skin. It stretched out a dozen black hands and quickly grabbed Bella's soul that was about to leave!

When Liao Zixuan saw these black hands that made people feel a chill, the wolf cub's expression changed drastically.

In his mind, the two most terrifying words in God Fall appeared.

Fallen Abyss!

Chapter 43: Cannon Fodder NPCs Won't Accept Orders in Danger

The pitch-black hand was extremely fast, almost in the blink of an eye. Coupled with the sudden incident, even Bella could not dodge it.

The Witch's legs and arms were grabbed tightly by the first pitch-black hand. This was not the end. There were more pitch-black hands behind her, grabbing at Bella's head, face, waist, and other parts of her body.

'What's that?!' Bella was shocked and afraid because this was the first time she had felt a physical touch in her soul form.

Yes, the feeling that these pitch-black hands gave Bella was as if she was really being grabbed from her body.

This was too strange!

The soul was the most mysterious domain. Even Bella, who was the most knowledgeable in this area, had only seen spells that could attack the soul. The more powerful ones were spells that could destroy the soul.

However, there was no doubt that Bella had never seen a power that did not harm her soul at all. It was simply dragging her soul.

However, this was not what made Bella panic.

What really made Bella's expression change was the moment she was touched by the pitch-black hand. A cold, evil, and ancient whisper that seemed to be mixed with countless negative emotions from the dark abyss began to echo crazily in her mind, washing over her spirit.

"Shadow Wolf!"

Bella gritted her teeth. The Witch's strong willpower prevented her from getting lost in the chaotic whispers. She could even activate her magic to resist.

Two gray wolves were summoned. They were loyal to their master's orders and fearlessly bit at the two black hands that were holding Bella's body.

However, these shadow wolves, which had previously caused the second personality a huge headache, were completely useless against the pitch-black hand.

No, it didn't work.

The moment they bit into the pitch-black hands, they seemed to sense other creatures. The two pitch-black hands actually began to split, giving birth to countless smaller hands that grabbed the two Shadow Wolves tightly.

Wuuuu...

Painful howls sounded from the two wolves. Then, the following changes made people break out in cold sweat.

The two Shadow Wolves were twitching violently on the ground. Their heads were twisting wildly, and their limbs were twisted irregularly, as if they were suffering from extreme pain.

Immediately after, she heard a thud.

The heads of the two Shadow Wolves exploded.

Was this the end?

Far from it.

Liao Zixuan's wolf eyes stared at the headless corpses of the two shadow wolves.

In less than a few seconds.

Sure enough, the same horror as Liao Zixuan's memory of the Fallen Abyss unfolded.

Pa!

The legs of the two headless Shadow Wolves suddenly rose up high, then fell heavily to the ground, symbolizing the beginning of their resurrection.

They saw that although the head was missing, the corpse seemed to have come alive again. They began to squirm and approach each other. In the end, they actually intertwined with each other.

Like a stitched monster, the new body of the two headless shadow wolves stood up shakily.

Then, from their empty necks, densely packed, tiny, black hands that could kill a telepathic patient at a glance grew out like meat sprouts.

The pitch-black hands that looked like flesh were interweaving with each other, gradually forming the outline of a brand -new head!

However, it was a pity!

Boom!

He wondered if he had seen the videos of burning cockroaches.

But that was about it.

The blazing black flames instantly ignited the black hands that had grown from the roots of the stitched wolves 'necks, which had evolved from flesh to sarcomas.

The corpse fell for the second time. This time, it really fell and did not stand up again.

“Hurry up...Run!”

Just as Liao Zixuan finished dealing with the Shadow Wolf that was contaminated by the Black Hand, the Witch Bella on the other side said in a weak and anxious voice.

In just a short while, Bella's body was covered in pitch-black hands. They dragged Bella to the center of the nest, where the Mystic Tyrannosaurus was undergoing a mysterious ritual.

The pitch-black hand was like a blood vessel, connecting Bella and the Mystic Tyrannosaurus. The power of both sides was forced to fuse.

The biggest change was the Demonic Tyrannosaurus.

The skin of this magical beast began to peel off rapidly, revealing the bright red muscles underneath. Then, these muscles began to rapidly shrink and wither, finally leaving only the skeleton.

However, the Mythical Tyrannosaurus was not dead. Or rather, it was already dead, but it was reborn in another life form.

After breaking free from the shackles of flesh and blood, the skeletons began to expand and multiply crazily. Sharp bone spikes crawled all over the skin, and bone wings that were as sharp as blades extended wantonly from the back.

Level 20...Level 30...Level 40...

In the eyes of the players and the game system, this Tyrannical Tyrannosaurus...No, it should be said that the level of the Rotten Bone Dragon rose like a rocket.

But why hadn't it moved?

The answer was that Bella, the new soul of the Rotten Bone Dragon, had not been corrupted by the Dark Hand and still retained some rationality.

Of course, there were only a few traces left.

"Damn it... * Cough * Be... Those guys...I was tricked..."

"Quickly go to the fire...Dian City, take it... This, quickly go find the Vulcan Sect, ride... Knights, this power...No, no, no.

Not from this...The world."

"This matter must be...Hurry... Hurry up and let the Fire God know...Know..."

A ray of light shot out from Bella's soul and landed at Vivian's feet. It was a small sign with a complex flame emblem engraved on it.

Although the Witch had never been on good terms with Nine Gods, she was the kind who would find trouble for Nine Gods whenever she had the chance.

However, he had to admit it.

If they really encountered any great danger, it would be more reliable to look for Nine Gods than anyone else.

“Hurry up and leave!”

As if she had exhausted her last bit of strength, when Bella shouted these two words, even her mouth was blocked by a pitch-black hand. It even went deep into her throat. It was extremely disgusting, wrapping Bella up like a dumpling from the inside out.

It seemed that he had finally completed Bella’s corruption.

This allowed the Black Hand to divert its power and turn its head to target the remaining people present.

Shua!

Two or three black palms with evil aura began to quickly grab Vivian and the others.

“The other me...”

Without needing Vivian to say anything, the second personality, who had been sharing vision in the mental space, instantly took over the girl’s body.

She picked up the Fire God Token on the ground and did a classic backflip in the air, easily dodging several pitch-black hands that were coming at her.

Then, he picked up the two outlanders, who were also players, with one hand on each side as if he was carrying chicks.

Liao Zixuan jumped onto the girl's shoulder and looked at the Dreadclaw Lair that was gradually disappearing into the distance.

The Hand of Darkness seemed to only be able to stay within the range of the nest. Once Vivian left the cave, it stopped chasing after her.

However, this evil aura would not be restricted by this. Instead, it spread like a plague in the forest with the Dreadclaw nest as the center.

Things...

It was a big deal.

As if to confirm Liao Zixuan's words, two system notifications sounded in his mind.

[Ding...]

[Your current location has triggered an SS-rank emergency mission, 'Dark Wave Attack'. Please decide within 30 minutes whether to participate in the defense of Fire Code City.]

Koo: 29: 59...)

[Ding...]

[You have accepted Witch Bella's request to send the news of a terrifying mutation happening in the depths of the Dreadclaw Forest to Fire Code City.]

[Remaining effective time: 24 hours]

Chapter 44: Split Up

Squeak...

Squeak squeak...

A rodent-type fat dog rat monster was fleeing in all directions in a panic. The grass behind it was followed by a rustling sound. A patterned leopard was chasing its prey at a moderate pace.

The rat-type demon in front of them had been frightened and had used all its strength to escape. After a while, it was obvious that its physical strength had been exhausted and its speed was far lower than before.

The leopard hunter behind him was still full of energy. It had deliberately kept a distance from its prey and only used a speed that would not be lost. Its goal was to wait for this moment.

Next, it only needed to use a little more strength to easily send this exhausted and fat dog into its stomach.

This was its survival wisdom.

However, just as it was about to launch its final attack..

Squeak squeak!

Suddenly, the dog and rat in front of them let out an inexplicable tragic cry.

The instinctive sense of danger forced the leopard, who was ready to attack, to stop. Its brown eyes stared warily at the dog rat that was twitching on the ground in front of it.

And...

Around the dog rat, withered plants and withered grass were covered in black sticky substances. They seemed to have life as they twisted and corroded the ground.

If the leopard could turn around and escape quickly at this time, he might still be able to survive.

Unfortunately, its survival wisdom did not teach it the current situation.

It was even thinking about the fat dog rat that it had hunted.

Then, the leopard got what it wanted.

The dog stood up shakily again. The skin on its body fell off like calluses, revealing the rotten muscles inside. Its originally timid and fearful eyes were now emitting a scarlet light as it stared at another living creature present.

Squeak!

Accompanied by an ear-piercing neigh, the dog and mouse, which should have been prey, pounced on the hunter's leopard. It was only at this moment that the leopard finally realized that something was wrong.

After it slapped away the rotten dog that was biting its leg, it turned around and fled in a sorry state.

However, he had only run a few steps.

Plop.

Accompanied by a tragic whimper, the leopard leopard also fell to the ground. Its body began to twist and twitch. The same scene as the dog and mouse from before was played out again.

When the leopard stood up again, its eyes were also emitting a scarlet light, and its entire body was emitting a rotten stench, just like a...A moving corpse.

Such a scene was not only happening in this place, but also in various places in the Dreadclaw Forest.

Vivian and the others, who were running in the forest, also witnessed the scene.

Big Watermelon and Melee Archmage, who were being carried out of the forest by the girl in each hand, were both shocked and afraid. They quickly typed private messages.

“This... ‘What the f * Ck is going on? Why does it look like a zombie virus? What are we playing at?’ It’s not a horror game, is it?” The melee Archmage almost peed his pants.

He had seen a rotten rabbit jump up from the ground and bite at them. Then, Vivian, who had reacted quickly, stomped on its head.

However, who would have thought that the rabbit, whose brains were all over the ground, would still stand up shakily and continue to look for the next living thing?

“I don’t know if it’s a horror game, but... Did you notice the names of these mutated monsters?” A Big Watermelon in One Mouth was much calmer than a melee Archmage.

He found a few clues from the monster panel of the scouting platform.

“No matter what kind of monster it is, it seems that after it mutated, it will be called a Fallen Abyss creature.

“Eh? Now that you say it, it seems true! However, this Fallen Abyss...What the hell is this? I’m sure I’ve never seen it in the game’s background information.”

“I’m not sure.”

“Anyway, let’s follow the plot first! No matter what, it seems like we can finally sneak into Fire Code City!?” “The big watermelon’s tone was obviously excited.

From here, you can see the difference between players and the real natives of this world.

The former was not only physically afraid of these terrifying Fallen Abyss creatures, but he also felt excited and eager to try something big that was about to happen, even if it was a disaster.

But as for the latter...

It could only be said that the two players’ hopes of entering the city would probably be dashed.

What should he do now?

What should he do?

The second personality, Vivian, was in charge of escaping the Dreadclaw Forest, while the main personality, Vivian, was pacing back and forth anxiously in the mental space with a frown.

Vivian was faced with a difficult choice.

The players thought of a big story, a big event, and they could go to a big city. However, the first thing that popped up in Vivian’s mind was her family.

He had to quickly inform all the villages around the forest to take refuge!

However...

However, she still had another important task on her shoulders. Bella had entrusted her with the task of bringing the token back to the Fire Code City as soon as possible to bring this news to the important figures in the city.

Moreover, the importance of this piece of news could even startle the Fire God. At least, that was what the soul of the Fire God Cult's bishop had said.

Therefore, on one side was his home, and on the other side was the bigger picture.

Was it Little Gu or Big Gu...

In this critical situation, Vivian only had enough time to choose one side.

"Don't worry about Fire Code City, they will find out sooner or later. Let's hurry back to the village and organize everyone to take refuge!" The second personality's voice sounded from his heart without hesitation.

Obviously, she chose Gu Xiao without hesitation.

"But... If this news was not spread, what if it attracted even greater consequences?"

Vivian had seen the infection rate of those zombies with her own eyes.

If they didn't stop it, it wouldn't be long before most of the monsters in the Dreadclaw Forest would turn into rotten monsters that would only attack all living things.

This was not even counting the source of everything, the cave they had just escaped from, the terrifying mutated bone pterosaur, and those strange and evil pitch-black hands.

“Without the support of Fire Code City, even if we take refuge in advance, it will be useless. We can’t deal with those monsters at all!”

Not only for the public, but also for personal reasons, Vivian had to send the news to Fire Code City and ask for the protection of the big shots in the city and the Fire God.

“So annoying! Then what do you think we should do now?” A deep sense of helplessness rose from the second personality’s heart, making her feel even more irritable.

Yes, he...What should he do?

Just as the young girl’s heart was in a mess, Liao Zixuan, who had been silent all this while, quietly sighed.

He had originally only wanted to play his Witch Raising Game.

But now it seemed like...

It seemed that the situation had reached a point where he had no choice but to make a move.

Alright.

Fallen Abyss, right? I haven’t even found trouble with you yet, and you’re already here to cause trouble for me.

Then let’s have some fun!

Therefore, without hesitation, Liao Zixuan began to telepathically transmit his plan to Vivian, a plan that was the best of both worlds.

The plan was actually very simple.

Since both of these things are indispensable, we have to report and evacuate the villagers as soon as possible, then we...

Why didn't they split up?

You, Vivian...

He continued to bring the Fire God Sect token to Fire Code City to report and request for reinforcements.

As for returning to the village and organizing the villagers to quickly take refuge and establish a village guard...

Leave it to...

He...

Wouldn't it be fine?

Chapter 45: It's Uncomfortable Not Being Able to Think of a Title

Notch Village.

A noble's carriage was parked at the village entrance. The tall red horse was being taken care of by two servants. Around the luxurious carriage stood several guards in silver armor.

Behind the noble carriage was another carriage.

However, this carriage was much more inferior. The horses were all inferior horses from the countryside, and the carriage was very simple. There was not even a roof, only a large piece of torn cloth.

If one were to describe it, it was more like transporting goods.

This was indeed the case.

Looking into the carriage behind him, he could see several country girls curled up with their arms around their knees.

They all had something in common. For example, although they had the rustic looks of the villagers, they were not bad looking. Their figures were shriveled because they had not eaten enough for a long time, but their outlines were still good. They were all potential stocks in the future.

Of course, there were also differences. For example, some of the little girls had fear on their faces, some had confusion on their faces, and some had yearning on their faces.

“Master Robert, you’re finally here!”

At the entrance of the village chief’s house in Noki Village, the elderly village chief saw a middle-aged man in a butler’s uniform coming down from the noble’s carriage. He immediately went up to him with a fawning expression.

Of course, the village chief could also see that there was only one carriage behind the noble carriage. The shrewd village chief even secretly glanced into the carriage and realized that it was not fully loaded. It was more than half empty.

Hence...

“Master Robert, you...Why did you only buy so few people this year? Why don’t you... Pick again?”

“I’m not exaggerating, but the girls of our Nuo Qi village are much better than those from other villages! All of them were clever and diligent. They would definitely serve the nobles well after entering the city.”

The village chief patted his chest and swore to the butler opposite him.

However, the butler shook his head.

“Old Henry, it’s not that I don’t want to buy people, but the recent Fire Code City...Sigh, you wouldn’t understand even if I told you. Anyway, people who aren’t from the city are no longer allowed to enter and leave.

“If it wasn’t for the fact that my family’s young miss is at the age to go to school and urgently needs a group of maids to accompany her to the academy, I probably wouldn’t even come this year.”

“Alright then...Alright then.”

The Village Chief was a little disappointed. He did not care about what had happened in Fire Code City. He just wanted to send a few more girls from the village to the city.

Don’t misunderstand.

At least in these poor rural villages, being able to sell his daughter to the city was definitely something worth celebrating.

As for those little girls who were sold, they didn’t know whether they were themselves or not.

“Alright, Old Henry, quickly take that girl from before. I remember...Her name should be Vivian, right? Bring her over. I’m still in a hurry to go to the next village.

Robert could remember the names of a few country girls.

Vivian was one of them.

This butler from a big family in Fire Code City had a good impression of this little girl. After all, she was able to rely on herself to raise her young brother and her father who was addicted to alcohol and gambling. It was obvious that she was very capable and her character was definitely not bad.

The girls from other villages who were chosen to be bought were basically picked up by the guards. Only Vivian from Noki Village, Robert, personally came out to make the deal.

However...

The process didn't seem to go well.

"This..." The old village chief looked troubled and stammered.

"What's wrong?"

Butler Robert frowned upon seeing this. He valued Vivian very much and wanted to train this girl as his lady's personal maid.

"Sigh, Master, you should go to Vivian's house and ask." The village chief shook his head and sighed regretfully.

When Robert arrived at Vivian's house with a puzzled look on his face, he immediately knew that something had happened to the little girl when he saw the flustered look on Vivian's father's face. "An Lu! The daughter of your heart?"

"Big... My lord, Vivian, she..."

Looking at the stammering An Lu, Robert slammed the table angrily.

“Speak!”

“Vivian, she...She went to the Dreadclaw Forest to pick herbs for her brother, and...He’s not back yet...”
An Lu was shocked and his voice trembled.

“She’s alone? Leave the forest of the fear claw? Do you know that you’re courting death?”

Robert jumped up from his chair and pointed at the nose of the kneeling An Lu angrily.

From this, it could be seen that Vivian really had a big place in the butler’s heart.

After taking a deep breath, Robert asked with the last bit of hope,”

“When did she go?”

“Yesterday...yesterday...’

“You!” Robert wanted to pull out his knife and chop his bastard father into pieces.

“You willingly agreed to let your daughter go to the forest full of monsters alone for the sake of your youngest son, who was already beyond saving and about to die!?”

“No, no, no. No, no, no, Ann... Andy can’t die, can’t die...He... He is my only son, my son!

Anlu shook his head frantically.

Andy is your son Vivian, isn’t it your daughter?”

"It's different...Wu... Wuuuu... It was different... * *****

Perhaps it was because he had touched a sore spot, An Lu hugged his seriously ill and unconscious youngest son and cried.

It was obvious that in Anlu's heart, ten Vivians would not be able to match up to one Andy. Or rather, ten daughters would not be able to match up to one son.

He no longer paid attention to his bastard father. After all, one couldn't expect a remote and backward village to produce such a knowledgeable and cultured person.

In these rural villages, girls were naturally not valued.

Otherwise, they wouldn't have been so relaxed every year. Almost every family begged them to buy their daughters to enter the city to be servants for others.

No longer wailing and crying, Robert turned around and faced the silent man in a spellcaster's robe who had been silently following behind him.

"Mr. Lake, do you think... If we send someone to search the Dreadclaw Forest...'

Butler Robert was halfway through his sentence when the Spell Caster shook his head.

' My men just asked around. This morning, two foreigners accepted An Lu's request to go to the Dreadclaw Forest to find her daughter, but they haven't returned yet.

"Foreigner? Just based on them..." The butler didn't seem to have a good attitude towards the " foreigner " that Lake mentioned.

" No, Lord Robert, I want to follow you, say, the key is, now the fear claws of the forest, I'm afraid to be more than we imagine, the middle is. It's much more dangerous. "

The spellcaster named "Lake" sounded particularly solemn.

"What do you mean?"

"Earlier, I do not know if it was my imagination, but I seemed to have sensed an extremely evil aura erupting from the direction of the Dreadclaw Forest..."

"If it is possible, I suggest that Sir Robert set off now and return to Fire Code City."

"This..."

Butler Robert was about to ask if the problem was really that serious...

Suddenly!

A shrill scream came from outside the village entrance.

"Eat...Eating people!"

Chapter 46: Have You Never Seen Such a Handsome Little wolf? 1

Biting?

Butler Robert was stunned.

Was the order in the village so chaotic now?

However, when he looked out of the window, the noble butler saw a scene that made his eyelids twitch.

It seemed like a hunter who had just returned from the forest. At this moment, he was like a wild beast, pushing another villager to the ground and devouring him.

When the villager below him convulsed and stopped moving, the hunter raised his blood-stained head. The sharp-eyed Robert could clearly see that it was a rotting face like a corpse.

He stopped at the entrance of the village. The guards around the noble carriage immediately took action when they saw him.

They also saw the hunter who was neither human nor ghost. Robert's guard did not hesitate to draw his sword and pierce through the hunter's heart.

However, before everyone could heave a sigh of relief, they did not expect that the hunter, who had clearly been pierced by the sharp sword, did not stop moving at all. Instead, the guard, who had lost his weapon because the sword had been stabbed into the hunter's body, was also suppressed by the hunter in his panic.

Before the rest of the guards could rescue him, another scream came from behind.

Who would have thought that the villager who was bitten to death by the hunter would stand up again. His eyes were flashing with the same scarlet light as the hunter's. The flesh on his body quickly fell off, and he attacked the other villagers who had no time to react.

"Fire...God of Fire..." Robert, who was hiding in Vivian's house, looked at the chaotic village. The noble butler's voice trembled.

"What the hell is going on!"

"Sir Robert, now is not the time to pray. You must get your guards to abandon the carriage as soon as possible and gather with you!"

As a spellcaster, Lake was much calmer.

His body glowed with a blue glow that symbolized magic power as he quickly reminded the frightened butler.

“Yes... Yes, yes, guards! Guards!”

After hearing Robert’s shout, the guards beside the carriage immediately gave up fighting and turned around to retreat in the direction of Vivian’s house.

However, there were still a few unlucky fellows who were grabbed by the ankles and fell to the ground. In an instant, more and more mutated villagers swarmed up and bit them.

Fortunately, after the rest of the guards retreated to Vivian’s house where Robert was, they leaned against the house and formed a defensive formation. For a time, they barely managed to resist.

They gradually discovered that these mutated villagers were individually strong, strong, and physically strong, but they were as crazy and aggressive as they had rabies.

As long as they were careful not to be bitten by them, these well-trained guards could still kill their way out.

However, just as Robert was thinking this, another large group of people quickly approached them.

“Brother Chen! What should we do now?”

Speaking of which, the village was indeed quite lively today. Not only were there Robert and his group from Fire Code City, but there was also a large group of gamers who had been called over by the long journey.

Luo Chen was the first player who had been contacted by Long Road and rushed over.

“Stop fighting! Hurry up and get close to those NPCs!” Fallout shouted to the other Dlayers around him after he kicked a mutated villager who was charging at him.

Luo Chen was really depressed.

He had finally rushed over to help the legendary mysterious country girl, but before he could even enter the Forest of Dreadclaw, an urgent SS mission ‘ Dark Wave Attack ’ suddenly came crashing down on him.

Before the players knew what was going on, Noki Village had turned into chaos, as if a zombie tide had broken out.

This couldn’t be the “ Devil’s Tide Attack “, right?

There was no time to analyze. Survival was more important. Under the command of Fallout, most of the players began to run towards Vivian’s house, hoping to get the protection of these well-equipped guards who were around

Level 10.

But...

“Don’t let these foreigners get close!” When Robert saw this, he immediately shouted anxiously at the guards.

It wasn’t that Robert was narrow-minded, although he did dislike these foreigners.

However, he was more worried that these foreigners would break the formation of the guards. If some of them had been bitten by the mutated villagers, it would be even worse.

weng!

A light blue Mana halo erupted from Lake’s body, sending several players who tried to approach the area flying.

These players could still run, but after being sent flying, they instantly lost their balance. As soon as they landed, they turned into white light under the bite of the mutated villagers.

Many players cursed in their hearts when they saw this, but they had no choice but to stop and look at Robert and the others with angry eyes.

However, looking at the warning look on the face of the spellcaster Lake, whose eyes were flashing with a blue light that symbolized magic, Fallout and the other players could only suppress their anger.

Right now, the ones at the back were Butler Robert and a group of guards. The ones sandwiched in the middle were dozens of players, and the ones at the outermost group were the mutated villagers who surrounded them.

They had become human shields.

“A bunch of dogs!”

Luo Chen’s face was ashen. When had he ever been bullied like this? He was being bullied by an NPC!?

However, due to the restrictions of the test, they were weak and could only be slaughtered.

On the other side, Robert and Lake were also very anxious. They had originally planned to break out of the encirclement, but after being blocked by the Players, they could not get out.

Just as the situation was getting worse.

Suddenly,

A high-pitched wolf roar sounded from afar, followed by the ground shaking, as if a large monster was rushing over.

A few seconds later, a silver-gray, snow-white wolf appeared in everyone's sight.

The giant wolf leaped into the zombie horde, and the powerful impact turned a few mutated villagers into meat paste.

The wolf tail swung fiercely again, and the huge force sent a large number of mutated villagers flying into the air.

In the blink of an eye, the giant silver wolf was like a bulldozer, quickly disintegrating the mutated villagers trapped by the players and Robert's guards.

When the crisis was over, the people who were saved came back to their senses and realized that there were actually two people sitting on the back of this incomparably divine silver wolf.

Before Butler Robert could rush out and thank his two saviors, the foreigners who were blocked outside by him let out surprised cries.

Because in the eyes of the players, they could clearly see the nicknames of the people on the backs of the two wolves. [A big watermelon in one bite] [Melee Archmage]

Good fellow!

You're promising! They were on the same side!

The rest of the gamers had been holding back their anger because of Robert, and now they could vent it all out. Only Fallout was still in a bad mood.

Why?

They were both players, but how could others be so powerful now? They even rode wolves. On the other hand, he was still known as a high-level player, but now he was being bullied by a few NPCs who came out of nowhere! However, in the next moment, Luo Chen's mood instantly improved.

That was because...

Big Watermelon and the Melee Archmage, who were enjoying the adoration of the players and still showing off, were shaken by the giant silver wolf under them and thrown off its back in disgust.

"Ah, this..."

Robert and the players were confused. The giant silver wolf suddenly lay down and lowered its proud head.

It was only now that everyone saw it clearly.

It turned out that there were not only two people on the back of this giant silver wolf, but two people plus..A wolf?

A pitch-black wolf cub jumped down from the silver wolf's head.

With a smack, the wolf leg fell to the ground.

Liao Zixuan was speechless.

'What are you doing? Why are you all staring at me?' Have you never seen such a handsome little wolf before?"

Chapter 47: The Horrifying Panel Panel of the Iceberg

Silver Earth Wolf.

Its strength was also considered to be above average among Tier 2 monsters. It was known for its speed and speed. It was listed as an Elite Dangerous Species in the Adventurer's Guild.

This meant that unless you reached the standard of a Tier 3 class, you would have to run away immediately when you saw such a monster.

Lake, who was a Tier 2 Elementalist, had sweat all over his palms.

He was wondering if he could protect himself and Butler Robert if the silver wolf attacked them.

Very quickly, almost instantly, he came to a conclusion.

That was unlikely.

Not to mention protecting Robert, even if he could protect himself, it was still a problem.

However, the thing that made him feel as if he was facing a great enemy, trembling all over and breaking out in cold sweat, was actually not this Great Earth Silver Wolf.

Instead...

The little black wolf on the ground in front of him had jumped down from the head of the Silver Earth Wolf. He did not even recognize it.

Generally speaking, no one could remember all the monsters. After all, there were too many monsters. Only those that were threatening enough would be known by people.

If he met such a wolf cub in the wild, Lake probably wouldn't even look at it and would just treat it as an ordinary little beast.

But now...

Have you ever seen an ordinary wild beast that could make the Silver Earth Wolf, which had always been proud to its bones, willingly become its mount?

As the saying went, one family was happy while the other was sad.

On the other hand, the players were all curious.

They weren't stupid. From the reaction of the Silver Wolf, Big Watermelon and the melee Archmage were probably just hitchhikers.

The real culprit seemed to be...

The little black wolf that jumped down last?

Many players were very familiar with it. They immediately used the "Detection" skill when they met. What surprised them was that they could detect the basic information of the Silver Wolf that was killing the mutated villagers.

On the contrary, this black wolf that looked like a cub only received three question marks with the same expression as them.

Oh, no, not all players. It should be said that it was players other than Dust Fall.

After all, an expert player was an expert player, and there would always be something better. While all the players were still using the lowest level detection skill that came with the system, he had already completed a series of missions and obtained the "intermediate" detection skill.

Thus, such a panel appeared in front of Dust Fall.

[Little Black]

Level: 16

Race: ???

Skills:

[Black Flame (Passive)- -All damage caused by your fire magic will be converted into true damage, and cannot be immune or reduced.]

Vold Ignite Lvl—Ignite all living things within a range of 10, causing continuous fire elemental damage of 5. Every time this skill is used to destroy a unit, its power will increase for a certain period of time.]

[Shadow Form Lvl I-Within the range of 3, you can move through the shadows, ignoring the terrain and space.]

Talent:

[Transcendence Bloodline- -You will gain more attribute points every time you level up]

[Advanced Strengthened Life: Maximum HP +300%, Recovery Speed

[Advanced Elemental Affinity- -Your casting speed +50%, Skill Damage

+240%]

[Lethal Immune- -Ignore Lethal Damage] [Ancient Will—Negative Effect Resistance +60%]

[Danger Level: Extremely Fatal!]) Luo Chen was speechless.

Wasn't this too abnormal?

What immortal panel?

Most importantly, the other party was only level 16?

Luo Chen reacted almost instantly. This person definitely had a great background and had extreme potential. This was because level couldn't explain everything, but talent and specialty could.

Generally speaking, only those who were above the Commander tier and had reached the Boss template were worthy of having a few talents.

However, this little black wolf before his eyes...

He had obtained no less than five talents from Intermediate Detection alone, and each of them could be described as a bug.

As expected of a monster with a name!

In the game world, all players knew that having a name meant uniqueness.

For example, although the huge snow-white Silver Wolf beside him looked majestic, its interface showed that it was the Earth Silver Wolf. Other than it, there were thousands of it in the world.

He seemed to have sensed that he was being watched.

Liao Zixuan immediately locked onto Fallout from the group of players.

Tsk...

It seemed that he was quite a character. He had actually obtained the "Intermediate" Detection skill so early in the closed beta. Liao Zixuan knew very well that if it was only a low-level Detection skill, he would not have felt like he was being spied on.

After memorizing Luo Chen's ID, Liao Zixuan labeled him as "premium chives" in his heart. He didn't care much and continued walking forward.

On the other side, Luo Chen, who had been swept by the little wolf's gaze and realized that the other party had only glanced at him once and then stopped paying attention, finally let out a long sigh and patted his chest.

It was too scary.

It seemed that he could not simply throw his detection around in the future, especially against high-level NPCs and monsters.

Fallout heaved a sigh of relief, but the pressure shifted to Robert and the others in Vivian's house.

They watched as the wolf cubs walked towards them step by step.

Spellcasters tend to have sharper senses than ordinary people, so in Lake's eyes, it was as if the one approaching him was an extremely terrifying monster.

His breathing became heavier and faster, his chest heaved up and down violently, and his eyes became filled with fear.

"Mr. Lake..." "Mr. Lake!"

"Lex!"

Robert looked at Lake, who had an overreaction and even started chanting spells to attack. Seeing that his attempts were futile, the noble butler went into physical silence.

“Magic power flies...Wuwuwu...” Robert covered Lake’s mouth with his hand and forcefully interrupted the spell.

He could only say...

Escaped a disaster.

Lake, who was drenched in sweat, saw that the wolf cubs did not even bother to look at him. He passed through the two of them. His real goal was to walk towards Vivian’s bedroom. Only then did Lake recover from his extreme state. The spellcaster was weak and could barely stand with Robert’s help.

“Thank you, Robert.”

“You definitely saved my life!”

Sometimes, people could not control themselves when they were in extreme fear. Lake could not imagine what would have happened if he had used magic to attack the little wolf.

“It’s okay, Mr. Lake. Although I can’t compare to you in terms of combat experience, I’m still very good at judging people. Uh... The demons are also the same.”

“It shouldn’t have any ill intentions towards us. At least, how should I put it? It seems like...Looking at the pebbles on the roadside?”

After Robert finished speaking, he patted the mage that his family had spent a lot of money to hire.

“Alright, relax a little. Let’s go in and see what this little guy wants to do..

Chapter 48: Rich, But Not Rich

This was Liao Zixuan's first time at Vivian's house.

As soon as he stepped into the room, he smelled a strong moldy smell.

They reached the end of the road after a few steps. Vivian's house was not big, only two bedrooms. Obviously, the little girl did not have her own bedroom. She and her young brother slept in the same room.

Ever since his younger brother fell sick, the older sister slept on the floor and the younger brother slept on the bed.

"Sis...Sister..." Faint moans came from the unconscious little boy lying on the bed.

The wolf cub jumped onto the bed and leaned closer to listen carefully. It turned out to be Vivian.

Hmm?

[Apprentice Magician] , [Fire God Believer Level 1]?

Liao Zixuan glanced at the panel of Vivian's seriously ill brother, Andy, and was surprised.

Good heavens.

Why is everyone in your family so talented?

The elder sister had a hidden cheater personality, while the younger brother had no mentor to guide him into the family. He directly relied on faith to obtain the profession of spellcaster?

No wonder he was sick.

And it was so serious.

Liao Zixuan finally understood how this remote village was infected with the Abyss Fire Poison.

Since Fallen Abyss had dared to cause trouble openly, this meant that even in the closed beta stage, Fire God Alice's situation was probably worse than he had imagined.

Therefore, the deeper the belief in the Fire God, the higher the chance of being infected. This was because Alice was a huge source of infection.

Liao Zixuan was very sure that during his closed beta, no player had triggered any SS-level emergency mission, and there was no "Fallen Seed"

That's right. In the Dreadclaw Lair, even the Witch Bella, who was known to have clones all over the Nine Nations, could not recognize the pitch-black hands that suddenly appeared from the Mystic Tyrannosaurus.

However, Liao Zixuan knew very well that this was the most classic trick of the Fallen Abyss. By planting the Fallen Seed on a person or a demon, this secret technique would cause the host's strength to skyrocket. Of course, the price was to consume potential and wisdom.

Then, when the host's spirit gradually weakened to a certain extent, the Fallen Seed would germinate, devour the soul, and occupy the body. Those pitch-black hands were equivalent to their sprouts.

When Liao Zixuan had read the letter from the Fire God Cult's mage, Luo Er, he should have been able to figure out what could produce a demon so quickly to achieve the goal of planting the Purple Crystal Grass.

Liao Zixuan could almost guess that Bella must have come into contact with the Fallen Abyss forces and obtained the so-called secret method to grow the Purple Crystal Grass from them. As a result, the host of the Fallen Seed was originally the Mystic Tyrannosaurus. However, because of his and Vivian's interference, Bella's soul power was greatly weakened. This led to the Fallen Seed in the body of the Mystic Tyrannosaurus to immediately move to a better parasitic target.

It seemed like...Or did they make a pit for Bella?

However, it shouldn't be a big problem. That was just a soul fragment of Bella's. Losing one would only make Bella vomit blood for a few days. An Epic Demoness wouldn't be so easy to deal with.

On the contrary, the matured Fallen Abyss Seed was a big problem.

Judging from the scale, there was a Fallen Effect, and there was no further "stitched beast" monster. Therefore, it should be the lowest level of Fallen Abyss Seed.

In fact, if Liao Zixuan had tried his best to stop it in the Dreadclaw's nest, he should have been able to kill the Seed of the Fallen Abyss in its embryonic stage. He would not have given it the chance to devour Bella's soul and enter the mature stage.

However, Liao Zixuan did not do so. In a sense, he chose to stand by and watch.

Sometimes, a disaster was not necessarily a bad thing.

He was like a sick person.

Only when one knew that it was painful would one go to see a doctor. The earlier one went to see a doctor, the better it would be.

He shook his head and didn't think too much about it. He had to save this silly little girl's brother first.

Liao Zixuan took out a stalk of Purple Crystal Grass from his game bag.

By the way.

It was as if they had done so much this time, but they had not gotten anything. If it was a silly girl, it might be possible, but how could the black-hearted wolf cub not get an advantage?

Didn't he see the "99+" Purple Crystal Grass in his backpack?

This was all money!

According to Liao Zixuan's memory, a stalk of Purple Crystal Grass could be sold for at least 2-3 gold coins. These 100 stalks were worth more than 200 gold coins!

10 copper coins were equivalent to 1 silver coin, and 100 silver coins were equivalent to 1 gold coin.

Not to mention the expenses of the villagers, in a small village like Noki

Village, they probably wouldn't even be able to spend a few gold coins a year.

Even in Fire Code City, four or five gold coins would be enough for them to live comfortably for a month. They would even be rich enough to buy Vivian a few beautiful dresses.

Liao Zixuan had been unhappy with Vivian's tattered clothes for a long time.

Even though he felt a little heartache, after all, this stalk was worth a few gold coins, but he was still Vivian's younger brother, and it seemed that he had great potential.

Liao Zixuan reached out his wolf claws and pried open Andy's unconscious mouth. He directly stuffed the Purple Crystal Grass into her mouth. He even made up his mind. He was afraid that the medicinal effect would not be enough, so he took out three or four more stalks and stuffed them all into her mouth.

The Purple Crystal Grass melted as soon as it entered Andy's mouth, turning into pure mana that instantly flowed into Andy's body.

Normally speaking, no one would eat the Purple Crystal Grass like this. Firstly, it was too wasteful. Secondly, the Purple Crystal Grass contained too much mana, which would harm the body.

But now, after eating the Purple Crystal Grass, the pained expression on Andy's face eased.

The reason was that the Abyss Fire Poison was corrosive magic power. When a large amount of external magic power entered, the body's own magic power would no longer be corroded. Done.

Mission accomplished.

After resolving the most important task that Vivian had entrusted him with,

Liao Zixuan began to prepare for the plan that he named "Vivian's debut."

After all, the little girl was an NPC with a Player System. Not only could she accept SS SS emergency missions to defend Fire Code City, but she could also create her own NPC camp for players to join.

In order to attract more leeks...For the players, the promotional video was a must. This was Liao Zixuan's second major gain in the Dreadclaw Forest.

That was, precious footage of Miss Vivian's battle was leaked!

As long as these were edited and posted on the player forum, a group of country bumpkin players who were still in closed beta and had never seen anything would definitely cry and shout to fight to be the little girl's puppies!

Of course, he couldn't do this kind of work himself. He had to find a professional. The person who came before should be called "Dust Fall". He used an intermediate detection to spy on him. It seemed that he was a pro. He just had to pretend that he accidentally revealed this video to him. He believed that anyone with a business brain would not let go of such a precious video resource.

Hiss...

No, no!

Liao Zixuan suddenly felt like he had walked a narrow path.

How could he give away such a precious video for free? He had to sell it!

Moreover, he would have to go to several villages later and meet many players. If he sold every one he saw...

The wolf cub's eyes lit up.

At this moment, Liao Zixuan felt that he was simply a business genius.

Until...

He couldn't wait to accumulate wealth... Pfft, he heard this conversation when he was evacuating the other villagers to take refuge.

"Lord Robert, you're a.....What's wrong?"

“You... Did you see the herbs that the little wolf took noble butler’s voice was trembling. Even when he was surrounded by the mutated villagers, he might not have been so trembling.

“I saw it, then...What is it?”

“It’s the Purple Crystal Grass. This one is currently being sold in the black market of the Fire Code City...Thirty to forty gold!”

Liao Zixuan was about to jump off Andy’s bed when he was petrified.

After that.

Spit it out, bastard!

Spit it out!

The wolf cub shook Andy’s pitiful little head crazily..

Chapter 49: Ordinary Vivian

I wonder if Little Black will be able to handle Andy...

On the way to Fire Code City, Vivian was worried.

However, the benefit of awakening her second personality was that the little girl could chat anytime and anywhere.

“I think that guy is quite reliable. “The second personality in the mental space seemed to say something nice about Liao Zixuan for once.

Before Vivian could reply, the second personality followed up with another sentence.

He shouldn't be able to torture Andy to death. After all, he's your younger brother. However, it's hard to say for those villagers and foreigners. Hehehe..."

Reliably

It was fine if the second personality did not speak, but the more he spoke, the more worried Vivian became.

However, the little girl was not in the mood to worry about others, because a tall and majestic city appeared in front of her.

Fire Code City...They had arrived.

It was Vivian's first time in Fire Code City.

When she was young, her mother often told her stories about Fire Code City and the Fire God. Later, when her mother passed away, the impression of Fire Code City gradually faded. Only once a year, when the lords from the city went to the countryside to buy servants, looking at the gorgeous carriages, Vivian could associate Fire Code City with it.

At this moment, standing at the foot of the city, he looked at the towering city walls, the vast area that could not be seen at a glance, and the most eye-catching thing was the huge statue of the Fire God in the center of the city.

Fire God Alice, one of the nine gods, held a flame scepter in her hand. She was in charge of fire among the nine elements, symbolizing prosperity and new life.

The female condor that towered into the clouds seemed to be overlooking the entire city, leaving no place for evil and heresy to hide.

It was also under the protection of the Fire God that the largest city in the [Fire Domain] had stood for hundreds of years and witnessed the changes of generations.

“Hey, hey! Don’t just stand there like a country bumpkin!

The second personality in the mental space was still staring blankly at Vivian, who was staring blankly at Fire Code City.

That...

Actually, I, no, we’re country bumpkins...

The little girl muttered in her heart.

Just as the second personality was about to speak in exasperation, Vivian quickly ran to the entrance of the city gate.

In fact, Vivian had been puzzled since the beginning.

Fire Code City was indeed huge and shocking. However, why was it that she did not see any pedestrians coming and going outside the city gates?

It was completely different from what Vivian had imagined, where there was a long queue to enter the city, a huge crowd, and countless carriages.

She patted her cheeks and didn’t think too much about it.

He had to hurry into the city and use the Fire God Token to find the important figures in the city. He had to report the changes in the depths of the Dreadclaw Forest and request for the support of the knights!

With that thought in mind, Vivian hastened her pace and held the token that Bella had thrown to her in her right hand.

However, the girl had only taken a few steps when someone suddenly called out to her.

“Hey little girl, are you going to the city?” A hooligan with shifty eyes and dressed like a refugee caught up to him while panting.

“Yes... Yes, I am.” Vivian nodded, her expression doubtful and a little vigilant.

“Aiya, then you really came at the wrong time. It’s very difficult to enter the Fire Code City now! If you don’t have permission to enter the city, the city guards inside won’t let you in!”

The hooligan-like young man sighed and shook his head as he spoke.

Then, he looked Vivian up and down.

He didn’t have any decent clothes on him. His entire body was in tatters, as if he had just returned from the wilderness. As for any jewelry, there was not a single one!

It could even be said that the other party’s shriveled little body made him too lazy to even cheat.

Chris, who had seen countless people, shook his head at Vivian.

There was no need to guess.

A country bumpkin from the countryside who wanted to enter the city, and the kind that didn’t have much stuffing!

However, even though he was pitiful, he still had to do business.

Hence...

“So, little girl, do you have permission to enter the city? It’s the one I’m holding in my hand.” Chris followed his usual routine and deliberately waved his fake permit in front of Vivian.

“No... No, I haven’t.” Vivian shook her head honestly.

“Is that so? Sigh... Forget it, forget it. You look quite anxious. Otherwise, I’ll sell my share to...”

Chris pretended that he couldn’t bear it and had suffered a great loss. He had tried this a hundred times, especially when it came to these country girls who were innocent to put it nicely and stupid to put it bluntly.

However, before he could finish speaking, the young lady opposite him interrupted him.

“However, although I don’t have permission to enter the city, I... I think I should be able to get in with this. “As Vivian spoke, she took out the token in her hand and showed it to the young man.

Chris looked left and right.

He felt that other than the complicated and beautiful patterns carved on the token, it seemed to be a piece of broken wood?

“What is this?”

“Fire God Token.” Vivian answered honestly again.

Chris, who was initially skeptical and thought that the girl would really take out something extraordinary, almost burst out laughing.

Good fellow!

Fire God Token?

You really dare to say it!

Chris's first reaction was that Vivian might have met someone in the same industry before him, someone who could lie and brag better than him.

Therefore, the curious young man asked again,

"This... Who gave it to you?"

"It seems to be...Bishop of the Fire God Cult." Vivian answered honestly again.

Chris didn't know what to say.

When he saw how the girl opposite him was completely convinced and even treated this broken piece of wood like a treasure, he didn't know why, but he suddenly felt a deep sense of sorrow.

What kind of idiot would believe such nonsense!

"Then... Well, thank you for telling me this information, but if there's nothing else, then... Then I'll leave first. I still have very important things to do in the city!

The anxiety on Vivian's face was not fake. The little girl was really anxious.

After saying that, she turned around and continued to run toward the city gate. However, before she could take a few steps, the young man's voice came from behind again.

“You... Wait a moment!”

“What’s wrong? Is there anything sighed in her heart. She was amazed by the Fire Code City. The people here were so enthusiastic.

“No... I just want to ask, if you can’t enter the city, how are you going to go back?”From Chris’s point of view, Vivian was destined to be blocked outside the door.

The little girl hesitated for a moment.

She originally wanted to retort, but in the end, she still replied,

“I’ll just run back. Don’t look at me like this, but I... He runs quite fast.”

As if to prove it, Vivian quickly added,”

“I ran all the way from Dreadclaw Forest to Fire Code City!

Beast! Bastard! He cheated the silly girl out of her money! He could only let others walk all the way home! No wonder his body was in tatters!

This group of detestable liars!

At this moment, Chris seemed to have forgotten that he was also a swindler.

He had indeed deceived many people, but they were all small amounts of money. According to him, he was helping these people who entered the Fire Code City for the first time, spending money to buy a lesson in advance. One had to know that the people in the city were much worse than him.

However, even Chris had never met such a silly girl before. She was so silly that she even believed the Fire God Token given by the Fire God Cult’s bishop!

“Take it!” Chris gritted his teeth. His heart was bleeding as he rummaged through his clothes and took out a small, dry money pouch.

“Hire a carriage when you go back.”

“No... ”

Vivian was about to say something when Chris waved his hand and turned around. He was afraid that if he stayed any longer, he would ask for the money back.

As expected, the people in the big city were all so kind!

The little girl held the money bag. Because she was in a hurry, she didn't say much. She just silently remembered the young man's back and decided to return the money if she had the chance.

Chris, who had been pretending to leave, could not help but look at the little girl from afar. He planned to wait until she was driven out and got into the carriage before he could rest assured.

But who knew...

One minute, two minutes...Five minutes passed.

From the city gate's checkpoint, he actually didn't see that silly girl being chased out by the city guards?!

This was...

This is bad!

Could it be that I've been deceived?

Could it be that this was some kind of new scam technique that specialized in pretending to be a pitiful fool to get sympathy money from others?!?

Just as Chris felt that something was wrong and that he had been deceived, there was finally a commotion at the city gate.

It's coming, it's coming!

I told you! Only Chris could lie to others. How could others lie to him?

And then...

A figure flew out of the inspection door.

What the hell!

These city guards were too much! Wasn't it just forging the Fire God's Seal and using the name of the Fire God Sect's bishop? Did he have to send a thin and weak little girl flying?!

Uh, thinking about it this way, it did seem quite serious!

No, no, it was more important to save him!

Chris hurriedly ran towards the figure who had been sent flying from the checkpoint at the city gate. However, he was only halfway there when..

Swoosh! Swoosh! Swoosh!

More and more figures flew in the air in a parabola shape, screaming as they flew backward.

Moreover, when Chris got closer, he was shocked to discover that these figures that were sent flying were actually...

City guards?

Chapter 50: Just Beat... Break a Few Legs?_1

"Name?"

"Vivian." "Age?"

"1...14 years old."

At the gate, the little girl sat nervously on a wooden chair. Opposite her were several fully armed city guards.

The leading inspector was registering the girl.

After asking the first two questions, when it came to the third question, "gender," the prosecutor first looked up at the shriveled little girl, then seemed a little uncertain.

He looked at her several times and finally hesitated for a moment before writing down the word "female".

"Wait, you...Don't come out. Maybe, he's just... You don't know how to write?"

Vivian quickly lowered her head and whispered to comfort the other her who was cursing at the prosecutor in her spiritual space.

“What is it? Were you talking to me just now?” The prosecutor asked in confusion.

He saw that the little girl opposite him seemed to be muttering something. At the same time, he wrapped his clothes. For some reason, he suddenly felt a chill.

“Ah, no...It’s nothing.” Vivian laughed dryly. The registration process continued. “Where did you come from?” “Noki Village.”

The prosecutor paused again. “Do you have a permit to enter the city?”

“No...”

“If you don’t have any, then please leave. During this period of time, Fire Code City is under martial law. All those who wish to enter the city must submit an application to the Knight Regiment Office one week in advance and obtain permission to enter the city before they are allowed to enter.”

The prosecutor read the document and closed the registration book. He waved at Vivian, indicating that she could leave.

It could be seen that this process had been carried out many times and he was very familiar with it.

“Please wait, sir! Although I don’t have permission, I have this.”

Because before, the good thing was that the passers-by, the science, the science, the science, the science, the science, the science, the science, the science, the science, the science.

“What is this?” The prosecutor looked at the wooden token handed over by the little girl and asked the same question as the gangster.

“Fire God Token, sir.”

“I, I really have something important to do in the city.” Vivian explained in a pleading tone.

Then, as expected.

Not only the prosecutor, but even the city guards at the city gate looked at the little girl as if they were looking at a fool.

However, just as the City Guards were about to attack, Vivian had a backup plan.

“I can prove it to you, sir!”

As she spoke, Vivian took back the Vulcan Token from the other party’s hand. Then, the little girl circulated her magic power and transferred it to the small wooden token in her palm.

weng!

As the girl’s magic power poured in, the wooden token, which originally looked ordinary and had exquisite patterns at most, suddenly emitted a dazzling red light.

There seemed to be flames burning on the wooden token. The emblem that was originally engraved on it seemed to come alive at this moment. Finally, like a puzzle, the word “Fire” condensed above the wooden token.

Even the young girl holding the token and shining with fiery red light no longer gave off the feeling of a poor country bumpkin, as if she had become mysterious and noble.

The whole process lasted for four to five seconds. After ensuring that all the city guards could see it clearly, Vivian finally removed the magic power on the wooden sign.

As the magic power stopped flowing, the fiery red light also dissipated, and the wooden token returned to its original inconspicuous appearance.

Everything came and went quickly.

The only difference was that the prosecutor opposite Vivian was dumbfounded. He rubbed his eyes in a daze and slapped his face hard to make sure that everything that had happened before was not an illusion.

“You... Stay here and wait for me! “The prosecutor hurriedly asked Vivian to stay where she was, and then he ran toward the city.

He did not know if it was the Fire God Token or not.

But what the prosecutor knew was that an ordinary wooden sign would never glow like before.

Obviously, this matter was beyond his ability. He needed to report it to his superiors and hire a professional.

Perhaps he was also frightened.

So Vivian did not wait too long. Soon, she heard hurried footsteps.

He saw that the prosecutor from before had returned. Beside him was another young Spell Caster apprentice wearing the robes of the Fire God Cult.

“Yasen, take a look at this. Is it something from your Fire God Sect?”

The prosecutor took the wooden token from Vivian’s hand and handed it to the young man beside him.

At this moment, looking at the small wooden token in his hand, the Fire God Cult apprentice mage named Yasen was also very confused. After he was hurriedly pulled over by the prosecutor, he was still a little confused about the situation.

You're saying this is a great deal. Our bishop's Fire God Token?"

"Yeah, take a look. Is it true?"The prosecutor was very anxious. He suddenly felt that the Fire God Sect member he pulled over didn't seem to be very smart. Your Fire God Sect is such an important thing, yet you can't even see through it at a glance?

"This..."

To be honest, he had really wronged others. Yasen had never seen the Fire God Token before. No, let alone Yasen, there might not be many people in the entire Fire God Cult who had seen the real thing.

However, in the spirit of trying, Yasen still half-believed and half-doubtfully injected his magic power into the wooden token.

And then...

One second passed, two seconds passed...