Chapter 431: Even if It Was... Ann

[Hakone Serpent]

[Level: LV70 (Mature)]

[Race: Descendant of the Sea]

[Hakone Serpent (Passive)—Eight heads share Health Points. When one of them receives fatal damage, it will be exempted from death and will be converted into a near-death state. Based on the number of heads currently existing, the Health Points will gradually increase over a period of time. When all eight heads are in a near-death state, the passive will be ineffective.]

[Snake God – ??? ]

[Danger Level: Extinction]

The more powerful a creature was, the more it would be perceived by the other party. It was like someone suddenly taking pictures with a camera on the street.

Liao Zixuan relied on this move to successfully attract the snake's attention from Ann's body.

Of course, casting "Detection" was only the first step. The subsequent steps could keep the snake's eyes fixed, and even temporarily stop it from continuing to attack. It was all thanks to the forbidden monster aura emitted by Liao Zixuan.

They were both forbidden demons, so even if the other party was young, they had to be wary of him. This was respect for their bloodline.

Moreover, the current Liao Xuan had already crossed the childhood stage and was now in the growth stage of 'dominating a region.'

The giant black wolf stepped on the flames and floated in the air, trying to talk to the snake.

However, no matter how Liao Zixuan tried to communicate with it, the snake gave him the feeling that at least the head in front of him was filled with all kinds of negative emotions. It was as if it was just instinctively in a stalemate with him, but in fact, it had no intention of communicating at all.

Liao Zixuan's heart sank.

Everyone is a taboo monster, no talent, talent, advantage, fight, time, location, and growth progress.

Not to mention, this was a complete away game. The surroundings were boundless and vast. Just the level 70 " mature period " on the Orochi's interface was enough to scare people.

The lifespan of a forbidden demon was calculated in units of " hundred years " .

The current Liao Zixuan was an entire " adult " realm away from this snake. The difference in strength was so great that there was no comparison.

The only good news was that it was only one of the Hakone Serpent's heads that was attacking them, which was equivalent to one-eighth of its combat power.

Liao Zixuan didn't know if he could count this way, so he could only comfort himself in his heart.

Sisi...

The forked tongue kept spitting out from the snake's mouth.

The range of his body twisting back and forth was getting bigger and bigger. It was obvious that he could not hold it in anymore and was already preparing to attack.

Shua!

In a flash, the snake's mouth suddenly expanded and opened. Its powerful neck suddenly exerted force. The snake no longer hesitated and took the initiative to attack, biting the black wolf fiercely.

Liao Zixuan, who had also been tense, made a prompt decision. This kind of attack definitely could not be taken head-on. He ran, and the Dark Flames of his innate ability rose and rolled under his feet. It was as if he was in the sky, using the raging fire to support the body of the giant wolf. As the giant wolf moved, he left a long black flame trail in the air.

After successfully avoiding this bite, Liao Zixuan did not stop there. He used the momentum of running to try to attack the snake.

The giant black wolf stomped on the air, and a dark fluctuation appeared in the air where he was facing. A deep and dark door opened up to the giant black wolf. The black wolf jumped up, and the dark door swallowed the entire giant wolf's body. The giant wolf strangely disappeared in the air.

In the next moment, the void behind the snake's neck distorted. The Shadow Door from before appeared again. At the same time, the black wolf's body flashed out of the door. Its sharp claws and fangs, wrapped in dark flames, attacked the snake's neck.

Tsk-

When the wolf's claws touched the scales on the snake's neck, a sharp ear-piercing sound resounded in the space. It felt like scratching a glass with a nail.

As expected, Liao Zixuan's full-powered attack was not even qualified to break the defense of the snake. The skin made of thousands of years of snake scales was extremely tough. Liao Zixuan remembered that there was once a legendary weapon that was mainly made of hundreds of years of snake skin. From this, one could imagine how terrifying the snake was.

However, it was still the same sentence. No matter how young a forbidden demon was, they still needed to be at least respectful and vigilant. This was because the other party's talent was passed down from a long bloodline and had nothing to do with their age. Immediately after the "chi" sound, it was...

Buzz...

It was the dark flames attached to the black wolf's claws that began to burn the scales and skin of the snake.

The scales that had been completely unharmed by the claw attack earlier were now emitting black smoke and showing signs of being burnt when the dark flames climbed onto them.

Skills that could cause " True Damage " might be rare, but there were plenty of them..

Chapter 432: Even if It Was... Ann

However, it was too rare and overbearing for it to have the true damage ability of " cannot be immune " and " cannot be reduced " at the same time.

As the innate talent of the Dark Flame Wolf, Black Flame was one of them.

Burning everything to ashes was not just a slogan. It was real.

Although the black flames did not burn a large area, the damage it caused was definitely not small. The snake's scales had completely turned into a charred paste, revealing the weak flesh of the snake that should have been protected.

Hiss...

Hiss!

Snake-type monsters did not have vocal cords, but from the snake's tongue that was fiercely spitting out and its head shaking back and forth like a madman, it was still more or less obvious that it was in extreme pain.

However, good things don't last. Just as Liao Zixuan was about to take the opportunity to continue, adding more strength to his already burning wound and breathing out more dark flame power, the snake reacted.

It was not stupid. After suffering a loss once, it immediately chose to dive into the sea. This forced the black wolf that was grabbing its neck to leave on its own accord. Otherwise, it would be brought into the sea by the snake.

If they were to fight underwater, even ten more black wolves would not be a match for the snake.

No, it was the opponent of the snake's " head From the beginning to the end, all of Liao Zixuan's battles were only against this head.

Spiral, a spiral water column rose from the bottom of the sea and surrounded the black wolf in the sky from all directions.

Although they were all made of seawater, they were as sharp as blades under the high-speed rotation.

At the same time, high-pressure water pillars shot out from the sea and roared at the black wolf. It was as if the snake head had been completely angered by what Liao Zixuan had done just now.

It no longer used brute force and began a real battle between forbidden demons. It could also be said to be a battle of " authority." The corresponding authority of the Hakone Serpent was the authority of the sea.

It controlled the sea at will and had endless power. Although the black wolf in the sky tried its best to dodge with the power of shadow, there was still a cooldown time. If it was a little slower, it would be scraped by the spiral water column or be hit by the high-pressure torrent.

A few minutes after the snake head became serious, the originally energetic black wolf no longer existed. Large wounds and bleeding could be seen on the black wolf's body. Its originally black and shiny fur was covered in blood and wounds.

Even the intrinsic black flames that wrapped around the black wolf's body were getting weaker and weaker under the repeated attacks of the giant snake.

When the black wolf was hit by the water flow again, and this time it was in the abdomen, the black wolf's entire huge body was knocked over and sent flying in the air.

"Xiao Hei!"

An's scream rang faintly in Liao Zixuan's ears.

As for the original passengers and warriors on the Astorokis, they had been scared silly since the beginning of the battle between the two forbidden monsters. They did not know what to do.

Liao Zixuan forced himself to be alert and endured the pain coming from all over his body. Speaking of which... This seemed to be the first time he had suffered such a serious injury since he transmigrated into the Dark Flame Wolf. It was the first time he had felt this kind of "pain", right?

As expected...

It was still too unreliable for someone who had just reached the growth stage to fight against someone in the mature stage.

However...

Liao Zixuan glanced at the Astorokis, which was getting further and further away from him during the battle.

The black wolf stood up again and pretended to continue fighting the snake, but in fact, it was quietly guiding the snake's head to gradually widen the distance between it and the Astorokis.

Yes, it was.

Liao Zixuan was not stupid- He knew that he had no chance of winning the battle, but he still risked his life and took the initiative to attack to provoke the snake. He wanted to sacrifice himself to lure the violent snake away.

In this way, whether it was Ann, Vivian, or the people on the ship, perhaps they could all be saved and have a chance of survival?

As for him..

At worst, he would die. As long as Vivian, the summoner, was fine, he would be summoned back by the little girl after a long sleep.

This was the world line that Liao Zixuan had come up with, the only plan to break the situation that could prevent everyone from getting hurt.

However...

It was obvious that some people could not accept this world line.

Because of this world line, in that person's eyes, she could not see that everyone was unharmed. She only saw...

Her Little Black was injured. He was seriously injured..

An injury that was about to be caught up by "death".

The last bit of hesitation disappeared.

Ann didn't know why her encounter with Blackie was very short, but it gave her the feeling that they had known each other for a long time and had experienced a lot.

They shared their joy and troubles together. They traveled to various countries together, grew stronger together, and might unknowingly punish the bad guys and secretly save the world. If that was really the case, then...

How good.

If they had met earlier, perhaps everything now...Would it be different?

Ann closed her eyes.

She lowered her head and placed her hands in front of her chest. With a voice that only she could hear, she said two words, the two words that belonged to her, the Witch's Authority.

"Prayer."

Ann's words were instantly drowned out by the power of the snake.

However, after that, it was a stark contrast.

The strong wind blew Ann's hood away, causing her long hair to flutter behind her head.

The young lady floated in the sky. A huge magic circle with a hollow center appeared under her feet with Ann as the center. It shone like the sun in the sky covered by dark clouds.

After that, Ann still lowered her head as if she was muttering to herself.

But this time, every word that came out of her mouth did not seem to be ringing in her ears, but in the hearts of all living beings.

Even the storm cannot drown its sound, nor the waves drown its sound.

It belonged to...The voice of peace, peace and hope.

"May... You return to peace."

"May... Return to your resting place."

It was a familiar voice that had become hoarse after being burned. It wasn't pleasant to the ear, but it was this voice that caused the berserk snake head in the sea to instantly stop.

It did not attack the black wolf anymore, giving up on this opponent that made it feel pain. It also forgot about the Astorokis and broke into its territory. It began to slowly sink to the bottom of the sea.

The waves calmed down and disappeared. The cloudy sky gradually cleared up. The sun shone on the deck of the Astorokis. The people on the deck hugged each other tightly and cried bitterly.

As for Ann's body...

Under the sunlight, it began to turn into specks of starlight starting from his feet.

'1'0 De aD1e to control tne emotions or a mature rort)ldden demon, even It It was just for this, the price that Anso wished to pay was the cruelest curse.

Her own existence disappeared.

Ann's vision became blurry. At the last moment before she lost consciousness, she vaguely saw Black, who was covered in bruises, running anxiously towards her.

However, Ann didn't even have the strength to raise her hand and touch him again.

However, there was still one wish left.

"May all your pain be healed. "With her gentle voice, Ann's body completely dissipated like a burnt candle.

It was a familiar scene.

Back then, in the sky above Fire Code City, thousands of Red Flame Town refugees were blocked outside the city and forced to face the countless cruel and terrifying Fallen Abyss creatures that were sent over by Archbishop Maggie under the control of Fallen Abyss.

At that time, Damir had been imprisoned by Maggie, Chris and Harvey had not grown up, and the players were still cannon fodder during the closed beta. The city guards had been defeated one after another, and the Fire God Cult had been afraid.

It was the little girl who stood up and used a similar ability to pray for the power of the halo to save countless people from the claws of the Fallen Abyss.

Now, Ann did the same thing.

She seemed to have proved to her Blackie that even if it was Ann, could she be qualified to be his partner like Vivian?

Chapter 433: Again!

The Astorokis.

Second floor.

In the passenger cabin.

A small, fiery red sparrow was nervously lying in front of the small window of the room in the boat.

Seeing that the snake had retreated, the waves had subsided, and the defensive barrier of the Astorokis was no longer under attack, the little sparrow seemed to heave a sigh of relief and patted its little chest with its wings.

Of course, because the windows of each cabin were very small, they could only see a very limited view. Hence, in reality, Xinyan and the little girl did not know the exact process of the battle outside.

But at least the result of the battle...

“See, I told you, since it’s small... Little Black told us to stay...Not going out...He could... I’ll solve everything.”

Vivian’s intermittent voice rang in Xinyan’s ears.

Little Sparrow had yet to recover from the shock of the snake, so for a moment, she did not notice Vivian’s abnormal state of weakness.

At this moment...

Shua!

There was a flash of light in the room, and the pitch-black wolf cub appeared in the room.

Curious, Xin Yan hurriedly flew over to ask the little wolf cubs what was happening outside and what that giant snake was.

However, who would have thought that as soon as Xinvan got close, his expression would turn puzzled. He had originally wanted to land on the little wolf cub’s head, but he had also stopped.

This was because Xin Yan could sense a rare...Strong negative emotions?

At the next moment.

“Little...” Vivian, who was lying on the bed and about to ” fall asleep felt the scent of her wolf cub. She forced herself to open her eyes and was about to shout when she stopped.

Because he saw that the wolf cub no longer cared so much, Liao Zixuan directly transformed into a human.

“Bai... Blackie? This was...This...”

Vivian could not tell whether she was hallucinating or not. She felt more and more sleepy and could not open her eyes.

“I’m sorry.” Seeing the little girl’s expression, Liao Zixuan sat by the bed and reached out to hold Vivian’s weak hand.

Liao Zixuan was so angry, Xin Yan was so angry, he was so angry that he noticed that the little girl’s body was not right, the little sparrow was anxiously flying in the sky, and even the precious “Blazing Feather” was pulled out without hesitation.

However, the Phoenix Divine Feathers, which contained powerful vitality and could bring any creature back to life, were useless to Vivian.

If the effect of the Blazing Feather was to fill a shriveled balloon with water, then the little girl’s current state was like a balloon that had a hole punctured. No matter how much water was poured into it, it would all leak out.

Liao Zixuan remained silent as he watched this scene unfold. He clenched his other hand into a fist. This was because in the ‘second time’ cycle, Xinyan had already tried this once.

In the ‘cycle of fate’ on Astologius, Ann and Vivian were one.

Although Ann thought that she had sacrificed herself in exchange for her Little Black, in fact, if anything happened to Ann, the same fate would befall Vivian after a short delay.

“Why are you always so silly, doing such stupid things...” Liao Zixuan gently lifted the little girl’s messy hair that was hanging weakly in front of her bangs.

It was as if he was talking to Vivian, but it also seemed like he was talking to another silly girl on the other side of fate.

Vivian, on the other hand, forced herself to smile even under such circumstances.

“That’s why... It seemed...The Little Black who brought me to this day...Very powerful...Isn’t it?”

The little girl who was speaking looked into Liao Zixuan’s eyes.

Liao Zixuan could read it from Vivian’s eyes. Even if he did not tell her anything, Vivian still sensed something.

The girl turned her head and looked at the ceiling. She revealed a look of recollection and continued to speak.

“Xiao Hei...I’ve been... I had some dreams, I dreamt that I was always... He was experiencing the same things repeatedly, just like what he was doing now. In his dream...It has also happened twice...”

“However, I also realized that my dream...One day is better than one day, one day is better, from the beginning of the dream, I see nothing clear, only will be very painful, wake up like a nightmare, until the second day, the dream began to become clear, that kind of sudden feeling of waking up also weakened a lot, so I am thinking, on the night of the third day, will I be able to... Make some progress.”

Vivian shook her head and turned her gaze back to the young man beside the bed.

“How is this me improving...Little Black, these are actually It’s all your credit, right? Although I don’t know the specifics, I can feel the reach, I can feel the reach, step by step I’m approaching the end.

“So, don’t say sorry. The person who says sorry...It should be me who did nothing. I can only rely on my dreams every night to know about your hard work, Little Black. However, in every dream, 1...1 will forget everything and will not be able to retain my memories...”

Perhaps it was the last moments of her life, but Vivian, who was dying, had many memories of her dreams, but the more they appeared...

Vivian's tired face was filled with self-blame and guilt.

If one looked carefully, one could even see a few drops of sparkling tears.

Indeed, one could only watch helplessly as the person whom one treasured greatly worked hard to reach the end point through repeated reincarnation cycles, while one was outside the reincarnation cycle. Each time, one's memories would be wiped clean and one would become useless..

Chapter 434: Again!

This was a form of punishment and torture for Vivian.

However...

A warm hand wiped away the tears from the corner of the girl's eyes. Liao Zixuan held the little girl in his arms and whispered in his ear.

"It's okay. No matter how many times, I... It will allow us to reach the end we want."

"Yes, I believe you...Xiao Hei." Vivian nodded.

"That's right...'

As if she suddenly thought of something, Vivian secretly bit the tip of her tongue and used the stinging sensation to forcefully gather her spiritual will that was about to dissipate, so that she could stay in this cycle for a while longer.

This was because the little girl had two very important pieces of information that she needed to pass to her Little Black.

Vivian... He didn't want to do anything to her this time.

"I don't know if these are useful to you, Little Black, but... From the moment the Astorokis set sail, my connection with my other self was suddenly cut off.

I've been trying to call out to my other self for the past few days, but...

However, it was as if she had gone missing. She did not respond at all.

"So, in the divination that Miss Mei Ji gave me back then, she mentioned that... I would meet another person who was very similar to me, and I thought at that time, would... Could that person be the other me who disappeared in the spiritual space..."

Liao Zixuan was stunned by Vivian's words.

He was about to ask why she didn't tell him about this earlier, but Liao Zixuan thought about it carefully and realized that it wasn't the little girl's fault. It was because he was too powerful at that time. He only wanted Vivian to go back to her room and hide. Then, he spent every second to collect information. He didn't even give the little girl a chance to speak.

"Second... The second is..."

Vivian's breath was obviously not enough. She pursed her lips and bit the tip of her tongue again to stimulate her spirit.

"In today's... In the morning, Miss Luzi knocked on my door, reminding me that the ship would arrive at the Thousand Islands in the afternoon and asking about my progress in seclusion.

I'm listening to you, little black, you're talking, I'm not opening the door, I'm just talking to Miss Rookie through the door, I'm just smelling it through the door, on Miss Rookie's body, there's a strand..." A strange fragrance." "A strange fragrance?" Liao Zixuan frowned and quickly asked.

"Yes."

"I don't know what that is, but I didn't smell it on Miss Luzi on the first day.

And this fragrance, I, I..."

After saying so much in one breath, it was useless even if he bit his tongue tightly.

Vivian's body began to resemble Ann's back then. Starting from her footsteps, she turned into specks of starlight and disappeared from the world.

However, at the last moment, the little girl's efforts were not in vain. She held on and finished speaking. She wanted to tell Black everything. "This fragrance, I can also use it on you, Xiao Hei...Smells... It's just..."

"Different..."

Different species?

Liao Zixuan recalled that in the "second" cycle, Ann had told him that he could smell the scent on his body. At that time, Ann called this smell...

Demoness's lingering fragrance?

He couldn't think any further because Liao Zixuan could feel that the girl in his arms was getting lighter and lighter.

Vivian finally stared at the young man's face as if she wanted to imprint him in the depths of her mind.

"Xiao Hei...I want to be the next one too...Sorry to trouble you..."

When the last syllable fell, Liao Zixuan's arms became empty. Vivian had completely turned into a star. Liao Zixuan wanted to reach out and grab her, but he could only wave it in the air. Nothing was left.

At the same time, the feedback also came to him.

His consciousness began to blur and sink, and the darkness engulfed him. The feeling of falling into the deep sea resurfaced once again.

However, compared to the beginning, Liao Zixuan, who had already experienced two "cycles," was no longer nervous and flustered. He could even try to have sex with the pair under the strong sense of suffocation and weightlessness. Their eyes met.

Yes, that pair of sea-blue eyes that would appear every time he entered a new "cycle."

The owner of the eye was clearly stated in Mei Ji's astrology.

Water God...Flor.

Unlike the God of Fire, which was very similar to Alice's description of "ice sculpture", Liao Zixuan could not see any emotion in his blue eyes. Most of the water should be flowing water, whether it was mountains, rivers, oceans, or lakes. However, just from this pair of eyes, Liao Zixuan could feel that the water of the Water God... It stopped.

It was still water, or rather...A Dead Sea.

However, now that two small fish had suddenly swam in from the "outside" Water God couldn't accept it.

Because if there really was an " outside ", the water would not be still.

Liao Zixuan could understand that in the eyes of the Water God, they were like bugs and errors in the program.

And now he is experiencing the cycle of time and time again, just like the water god is trying to correct this mistake.

But...

Liao Zixuan also wanted to pass a message to the Water God, although he didn't know if the ice god could hear it.

It was a classic saying that all the programmers on Blue Star knew.

When you write a bug, but it just happens to work, then you...Never touch it again, because you don't know that once you try to modify it, there is a high chance that you will only get... More mistakes..

Chapter 435: One More Time!

The Astorokis.

On the deck.

The sun was shining brightly, and the sea breeze was blowing.

A familiar scene, a familiar time, and a familiar...

"Miss, do you want... Astrology?"

Meiji, the astrologer girl in the dead water, ran up to Vivian with shining eyes and asked with excitement and anticipation.

This was the 'fourth time' that he had seen this scene, right?

Feeling the familiar scent of the little girl, everything returned to normal. Filled with youth and vitality, the wolf cub slowly woke up. In the mood of regaining what he had lost, he took a deep breath in Vivian's arms!

And this time, Vivian was not the only one who was missed by the wolf cubs. There was also the one at the bottom of the cabin who was now boarding the ship as a laborer... Peace.

Liao Zixuan felt that it would be a humiliation to him if he played a game three times and still failed to pass the level.

It's best to do it thrice.

This time, he would definitely let them reach their desired destination.

However...

It was probably a deliberate blow to the wolf cub's confidence.

Or perhaps, some wonderful changes had happened.

Anyway...

"Eh? Strange, strange. He had clearly felt the aura of fate on her just a second ago, but now...Is that all?"

Mei Ji's excited expression towards the little girl quickly turned into a puzzled expression.

"Am I imagining things? This is bad! Could it be that I'm starting to forget my astrology memories? No, no, I have to hurry up and tutor."

' Ah, I'm sorry to disturb you suddenly, Miss. I'm really sorry. I have other things to do. I'll leave first.

Meggie simply apologized, frowned, and walked past Vivian with a troubled look.

Zhao Jie, who was about to scold the " liar ", froze on the spot. The wolf cub in Vivian's arms narrowed its eyes at Maggie's back.

There was nothing else...The aura of fate?

Liao Zixuan clearly remembered that Mei Ji had explained in the " third time that the so-called aura of fate referred to...He was being watched by the gods.

Did that mean that the Water God was no longer looking at them?

Could it be that at the end of his cycle, his "eye contact" with the Water God had really taken effect??

Liao Zixuan did not know.

However, this news was half happy and half worried for him. The happy thing was that when Maggie had divined the most critical " way to break the situation for Vivian, because of the gaze of the Water God, she could not see clearly and was powerless. Now that there was no such buff, if he asked Maggie for divination, would he be able to get the hint smoothly?

There were two worrying points.

First, if not for the Water God's attention, Vivian would have become an ordinary person in Merji's eyes. From the repeated experiences, Merji would never easily divine for ordinary people.

However, Liao Zixuan had already thought of a solution to this problem. After all, in the "third" cycle, there was an emergency that could be used.

It really made the little wolf cub worry...It couldn't be said that way. In short, it was a little complicated.

Because of the Water God's gaze, he was able to continuously reincarnate. However, now that this effect was gone, did it mean that...

After that, there would be no more "cycles". What he did this time would be completely written on the paper of "fate."

The little wolf cub shook his head.

It did sound a little scary, but in fact, rather than saying that there was no chance of trial and error, it was more accurate to say that Water God had already given him three additional chances of trial and error.

After all, in a normal world, there was no such thing as regret medicine.

Thinking about it, could it be that Water God's ice sculpture face was actually... Help them?

Liao Zixuan did not know.

However, he knew that this time, he would not make a mistake again. In the previous few times, Liao Zixuan always wanted to solve everything by himself, but in the end, he realized that his strength alone was obviously not enough.

He needed help from time to time.

As for the helper, it was self-explanatory.

During the previous experience, Ann had completely changed Liao Zixuan's impression of her. She proved to the wolf cubs that she was not an enemy. Even in another world line without the wolf cubs, she still retained the most precious thing.

The real enemy was someone else, hiding in the dark. Unfortunately, whether it was Ann's nature or the hidden enemy, the wolf cubs discovered it too late. So this time, Liao Zixuan would not let Vivian stay in the room to avoid Anne.

In fact, it was the complete opposite.

This time, Liao Zixuan wanted to let Vivian and Ann...Try to come into contact with each other as much as possible!

Untie the bell...

I still need to tie the bell

Chapter 436: Hello, I'm Vivian, What's Your Name?(I)

The first place where Vivian and Anne would come into contact was the corridor.

In the few cycles of experience, as long as Vivian was not with the astrological girl, she would waste too much time and coincidentally bump into Ann who was carrying the goods.

It just so happened that Mei Ji did not pester Liao Zixuan for divination because the little girl had lost the " God's gaze ", which saved Liao Zixuan a lot of effort.

After that, other than the anomaly on Mei Ji's side, everything else followed the little wolf cub's memory.

Vivian Vivian accepted Zhao Jie's invitation and went to the restaurant on the first floor for a meal. Just as she was about to reach the corner of the corridor...

"Eh? Xiao Hei?"

The little wolf cub in Vivian's arms seized the opportunity and suddenly jumped off the little girl's body and ran away.

By the time Vivian reacted, a cry of surprise came from the other side of the corridor.

"Where...Where did this wild dog come from?!" The supervising warrior in charge of security was still courting death.

However, the wolf cub didn't have the time to argue with him. Instead, his gaze was fixed on the coolie at the end of the team who was covered in a tattered windbreaker and had bandages wrapped around his face.

At this moment, Ann was holding a box full of heavy objects with both hands. She raised her head because of the supervisor's shout in front of her.

Before Ann could see clearly what was happening, she suddenly felt darkness in front of her. A young figure was quickly running towards her.

Ann instantly became alert and instinctively tensed up.

This wasn't the end. When Ann caught a whiff of the "lingering fragrance" unique to Demonesses that had appeared in the air along with the young figure approaching her, she was almost ready to enter battle mode.

However, at the instant when the battle was about to start, as the distance between the two sides closed, there were no longer any laborers blocking the line of sight in front of them, allowing Ann to completely see the true appearance of this " young figure '

Ann was stunned.

Little... puppy?

Now she understood the exclamations of the supervising samurai in front of her.

At the same time, she was ready to defend herself, but she immediately panicked. The first reaction in Ann's mind was that she was too nervous, and the second reaction was that she did not want to hurt innocent lives.

It was because of this hesitation that she was killed by the wolf cubs.

In Ann's shocked eyes, she watched as the stray dog ran extremely fast on the ground. After it arrived in front of her...

He didn't go through it like he did with the other laborers.

Instead...

He jumped at himself!

"Wha..."

Ann exclaimed, followed by...

Plop!

Although the wolf cubs didn't look big, they were just for the convenience of daily life. Even if it was really an ordinary wolf cub, it could pounce on a person, let alone a demon cub.

Before she could even finish shouting, Ann, who was caught off guard, lost her balance and fell to the ground. At the same time, the heavy box in her hand naturally fell from her hand, making a dull sound.

Thump!

Whoosh...

The books in the box were scattered all over the ground. Ann felt a pain in her butt and a burning pressure on her chest.

When Ann opened her eyes, the first thing she saw was another pair of... Spiritual eyes?

"You..."

Before Ann could finish her sentence, the stray dog lying on her chest actually used its furry head to nudge her bandaged face.

It was this small action that silenced all of Ann's words.

We...

Had he seen it somewhere before?

This was a thought that came to her subconsciously. Whether it was the actions of the stray puppy or the fact that she was not angry at all, but instead, there was an inexplicable joy of reunion, which made her feel at a loss.

However, it was too late to give Ann more time to recover, because very soon, the angry footsteps of the supervising warrior could be heard.

“Bastard! What are you doing eating? Don’t you know how to hide?”

“These are all precious items for the guests on the ship. If you break them, you won’t be able to afford it no matter how many of them you have!

“What are you waiting for? Get up quickly!”

Overseer samurai berates at the same time, he is not good, his gaze is on the wolf cub, he is sitting on the wolf cub, he directly raises his leg, makes a kick kick action, is about to, is about to, is about to, is about to, is about to, is about to, is about to, is about to, is about to, is about to, does not know where to run from, is about to, mad dog is about to kick.

In the next moment.

“W-what are you doing?”

The supervising samurai only felt that the momentum of his fierce kick had only stopped halfway because Ann had already sat up from the ground. At the same time, she used one hand to accurately grab the samurai’s kick towards the wolf cub’s ankle.

It was clearly a very slender palm, but it gave the supervising warrior the feeling of an iron clamp, making him unable to move at all.

The warrior even had the illusion that if the other party used just a little more strength, his ankle would be crushed and fractured.

Fortunately, in the next breath, the illusion that this coolie named "An" gave the supervisor disappeared.

"I'm sorry. I'll pack up immediately."

Ann let go of the supervisor's ankle and quietly carried the wolf cub down from her body and put it back on the ground. She secretly signaled with her eyes and hand signals to the stray puppy that was too active to cause trouble to leave quickly..

Chapter 437: Hello, I'm Vivian, What's Your Name?(I)

Unfortunately...

Ann's eyes were filled with anxiety because the stray dog did not seem to be willing to listen to her. Ann tried several times, but it refused to leave no matter what and stayed by her side.

"Hmph, I see. I can see it. "Seeing this scene, the supervisor warrior sneered.

Because it was too obvious.

"I was wondering why it didn't pounce on anyone but pounced on you...Tell me, did you secretly bring this stray dog onto the boat?"

Perhaps it was because he wanted to find out that he, a dignified warrior, was actually blocked by a coolie's kick just now. He was a little scared, so the supervisor's tone was especially tough.

Without waiting for Ann to answer, the supervisor passed through Ann and reached out to the stray puppy that was placed behind him.

“With your looks, you can’t even support yourself. You still like to raise a dog, right? He even dared to bring her on board! Get up, I must teach you a lesson today. I’ll throw this wild dog into the sea in front of you! I’ll let you know the price of cheating!

As the warrior spoke, his big hand grabbed at the wolf cub, and Ann...

I don’t know why it’s so obvious that it’s not the overseer samurai saying that, but her body reacting like it’s the truth.

Because Ann actually hugged the little wolf cub in her arms and protected it. “Okay, okay. You want to protect that little dog of yours, right? Let’s see how long you can last! ”

When the supervising warrior saw that Ann still dared to resist and disobey his orders, his anger grew even greater.

He stretched out his hand and took out the scabbard from his waist. This was a common method used to teach disobedient laborers a lesson.

As for Ann...

Ann closed her eyes and continued to hug the wolf cub. The voice of the Witch emerged from the bottom of her heart, but she quickly suppressed it. Ann felt powerless, as if she had nothing but the power to destroy.

It would be fine when the supervisor was tired, right?

Ann could only use this method to protect the young life in her arms.

However...

It seemed that things did not develop as Ann had imagined. The scabbard of the supervising warrior had not been taken care of for a long time. Instead, it had been waiting...

“Wei...Miss Vivian?”

What the hell!

The overseer’s surprised and fawning voice shook Ann’s mind, and her heart almost stopped beating.

That was because...

Vivian.

This was her real name.

How could this be? The other party knew his true identity!?! Why was he still speaking in such a tone?

A series of questions popped out in her mind, and Ann quickly opened her eyes.

In the next moment, the scene that appeared in her field of vision gave Ann a sense of shock, causing her to freeze on the spot.

That was because...

It was a little girl who had rushed over from the corner of the corridor.

She looked around as if she was looking for something, and this little girl’s face...It was actually exactly the same as him!

No, not with her current self. After all, her face had been burned at the stake.

From the little girl opposite him, Ann could see that...

His past self.

That innocent, kind, and simple village girl.

However, she was different from the village girl. For example, her skin was smoother and fairer, and there was no trace of impurities. For example, her aura was no longer timid and timid. It was as if she had experienced a lot and seen a lot...

He was much more confident.

"Um, hello..." Vivian looked around but did not see the wolf cubs, so she immediately asked the supervising warrior.

The samurai immediately perked up, because the "Miss Vivian" in front of him was repeatedly emphasized by Lady Roko. She was the boss of their boss and a close friend of Lady Risa.

With such a relationship, the supervising warrior didn't dare to be negligent, and even secretly rejoiced in his heart.

If he could hook up with Lady Vivian, he would be able to make a meteoric rise. Why would he still be here as a small supervisor?

"Miss Vivian, you said that it's my honor to serve you!"

The supervising warrior was obviously very thoughtful. In order to leave an impression on Vivian, he took the lead and stood up straight. He pretended to be expressing his attitude, but in fact, he wanted the little girl to remember his name.

And he had indeed succeeded.

“Mr. Ichiro, may I ask if you saw a wolf cub run over just now?”

“Little... Little wolf cubs?”

Ichiro was quite excited when Vivian called him by his name. However, after hearing Vivian’s question, an ominous feeling rose from the bottom of his heart.

Wait, could it be...

He instantly felt cold sweat on his forehead. Ichiro asked carefully,” ‘ Lady Vivian, the wolf cub you’re talking about is...”

“A young monster about this big. It’s my summoned beast. “Vivian gestured with her hand.

Demon cubs!

Summoning... Summoned beast?

As soon as these two words appeared, Ichiro felt his eyes darken.

Because he remembered that Lady Roko had indeed mentioned to them that Miss Vivian was a Summoner and had a monster comparable to a Spirit-branded Retainer.

Spirit-branded Retainer level...Demons.

Recalling how he had planned to treat the wolf cubs, Ichiro’s palms and feet began to feel cold..

Chapter 438: Hello, I'm Vivian, What's Your Name?(I)

“What’s wrong, Ichiro?”

Vivian saw that after she spoke, the warrior’s face suddenly paled a lot, and he was so lost that he could not speak.

The little girl felt a little strange. Then, when she looked away from the warrior and looked behind him, Vivian noticed that the scene was a mess and there were a lot of books scattered on the ground.

And one...

She was clutching her stomach and hiding her face under her hood. However, it seemed that the eyes in the shadows were staring at her, as if she was a laborer who had been knocked down by something.

Suddenly, Vivian seemed to understand something.

She quickly walked past the warrior and walked towards the coolie.

As Vivian approached, Ann’s nervous heart beat faster and faster, and her head drooped even more. Every nerve seemed to be on the bow.

Ann’s first guess about the little girl was that she was from ” that organization . After all, their specialty was...

Duplication.

Clone Witch.

As Vivian got closer and closer, Ann could smell the strong 'lingering fragrance' from the little girl's body. It was as if it was strongly confirmed.

Ann's brain began to spin rapidly.

Had he been exposed? That organization also sent people to the ship? What was she going to do now? The Astorokis had already started sailing. Other than the endless sea, there was only the sea.

She was already...There was no way out.

If they were discovered, it seemed that the only way left for her was to fight to the death.

Moreover, from their conversation just now, it turned out that...The stray puppy in his arms...No, a wolf-type magical beast, it was actually the opponent's summoned beast? Why was he so foolish as to protect her?

Perhaps it was because the other party was relying on this Summoned Beast that they discovered her tracks and smell.

Damn it!

So... Was this a trap?

Just as Ann's negative emotions reached its peak and she was determined to strike first, Ann suddenly felt the wolf cub in her arms move.

Her mind was in a mess, and she subconsciously lowered her head to take a look. Then, she was surprised to find that the little wolf cub seemed to be able to read her thoughts and respond.

Yes, it was a response. Even Ann didn't know, but she could feel the thoughts that the little wolf cubs were sending her.

Don't worry.

It was just these three simple words that somehow made Anne resist the urge to act on the little girl, allowing Vivian to successfully come in front of her.

Next.

This pursuer, who in Ann's eyes belonged to "that organization", actually squatted down in front of her.

This caused the series of countermeasures that Ann had rehearsed in her mind to come to an abrupt end.

Then, under Ann's stunned gaze, the little girl who was half-squatting began...

Help me clean up the books scattered all over the floor?

Apart from that, Ann also heard the sincere and apologetic voice of this little girl.

"Hug...Sorry! Did Blackie cause you trouble?"

As Vivian spoke, she looked at Anne. Because of the close distance, the little girl really saw the whole face of the coolie.

Under normal circumstances, when a normal person saw her bandaged face for the first time, they would first show a shocked expression, followed by disgust and rejection. There might even be a strong disgust, hoping that a weirdo like her would quickly get lost. Just looking at her appearance was scary enough.

However, in the eyes of the little girl opposite her, other than the initial surprise, Ann soon saw another expression that no one had ever shown her.

That was...His heart ached..

Chapter 439: Hello, I'm Vivian, What's Your Name?(2)

"Miss Vivian, what are you doing? Get up! These laborers are dirty and smelly.

Stay away from them! "

Seeing that Vivian had squatted down and was about to help the bandaged coolie, Ichiro could not sit still. He hurried over and said to the little girl,"

"I'm really sorry, Miss Vivian. It's my fault. I didn't pay attention and let this blind bastard block the way of your summoned beast. In the end, we bumped into each other.

With just a few words, the supervising warrior twisted the responsibility relationship and turned it into Ann blocking the wolf cubs. This way, he not only pleased Vivian, but also pushed all the blame to Ann.

Ichiro immediately added fuel to the fire.

"Bastard! Miss Vivian's summoned beast, is it someone like you who can touch

He pointed at his nose and scolded Ann, who was still "clutching her stomach" "Still hugging and not letting go? Can't you see that Miss Vivian is here? Get your dirty hands off of me! "

The supervising warrior's words woke Ann up from her dream.

She ignored her tone, but she was still holding the wolf cub. After knowing that it belonged to someone else, Ann quickly let go of her arm and gave the wolf cub a way out.

However...

Ling An was a little at a loss. The wolf cub in her arms didn't seem to have any intention of leaving. It was still lying inside as if it didn't want to move.

This was like a slap to the face of the supervising samurai. Ichiro awkwardly froze on the spot, unable to continue reprimanding.

As for Vivian, the little girl had already sensed the scent of the wolf cubs when she was close to Anne. That was why she put down her heart to look for Blackie and focused more on Anne.

After all, being able to carry Little Black was also a very high threshold. Not just anyone could do it.

Now that she saw her own little wolf cub in such a state, Vivian could only cast a faint and helpless look at it.

She was already very familiar with Little Black, so she naturally understood what the wolf cub was trying to say.

Hence...

Putting it aside for the time being, Vivian stood up and looked straight at the supervising warrior who was cursing at Ann as he walked over.

"Mr. Ichiro, you don't have to say anything else. This matter was Xiao Hei's fault first. I'll ask him to apologize to this laborer later." "It's just that..." Vivian's tone changed.

The little girl stared into Ichiro's eyes and spoke very seriously.

I think you should apologize to this laborer sincerely. What do you think, Mr.

Ichiro?"

Ichiro was dumbfounded.

He pointed at himself and then at Ann, who was sitting on the ground. She was also shocked by the little girl's completely unexpected words.

"Miss Vivian, you want me to...Apologize to a lowly laborer like Yiyi? Are you kidding me? Why?" Ichiro's first reaction was that this was impossible.

In fact, "coolie" was a term that was not used to describe the situation. In the hearts of these supervising warriors, coolies were actually no different from slaves. They were both livestock.

And now Vivian was asking him to apologize to Anne. How could the pride of a warrior allow him to do that? This was simply humiliating.

But...

"Do you need me to repeat myself, Ichiro? There's something I forgot to tell you. Xiao Hei is very smart. Before I came, Xiao Hei had already told me about your every move. "

' Do you think I still need to explain to you why, Mr. Yilang?"

Even though Vivian did not raise her voice or tone, and she was still speaking very calmly, the feeling she gave off was different. It was as if there was a dignified aura emanating from the little girl, which made Ichiro feel a sudden increase in pressure.

Clenching his fists, he looked at Vivian and then at Ann on the ground. After weighing the pros and cons, he cursed in his heart.

“S-Sorry.” The supervising warrior apologized in Ann’s direction in a voice that was almost as loud as a mosquito.

He thought that it was over, but in the end...

“Mr. Ichiro, what I meant was a sincere apology.” Vivian sighed.

“But, Miss Vivian...”

“Apologize.”

A simple word came out of the little girl’s mouth, blocking the words of the supervising warrior.

AS for Ann...

Sitting on the ground, Ann looked at Vivian in a daze.

Previously, she had said that she saw her past self in the little girl, but now Ann realized that she was wrong, very wrong.

In the past, the little village girl had never had such an imposing manner when she called her a woman. She did not have such boldness. How was she still a little village girl? The feeling she gave An was like a...Princess.

She was not born into a noble family, but from a poor family like hers. However, she might be more capable, luckier, or...He had always been secretly protected by the knights.

Therefore, as he grew up, he maintained the respect and equality he had for the humble, but he did not lose it. This was something that could only be cultivated after experiencing many successes. Whether it was the way he treated things or the aura he emitted with a raise of his hand, it was something that made people submit.

She was...It wasn't her.

Looking at the supervising samurai in front of her, who had used the highest standard of apology in the Thousand Islands culture to apologize to her after a "thud", Ann was very sure of this conclusion..

Chapter 440: Hello, I'm Vivian, What's Your Name?(2)

He saw Ichiro kneeling on the ground with his legs together and his head facing Ann's direction. His hands were placed on either side of his head in a lying position.

"Mr. Anderson, I'm really, really sorry. Please be magnanimous and forgive me! "Ichiro clenched his teeth and shouted in a trembling voice.

Not only was Ann shocked by this scene, but even the middle-aged merchant who had been accompanying Vivian and trying to get close to her, Zhao Jie, who was panting, also had a different impression of the little girl.

He had been there for a while, but he did not say anything. He had been watching the whole time, wanting to see how Vivian handled it, because the experienced Zhao Jie knew that the best way to understand a person was to see how they did things.

Vivian's unexpected strength and boldness had greatly changed Zhao Jie's mind. The impression of a "good girl" that he had when he first saw the little girl also made Zhao Jie secretly pat his chest in fear.

Fortunately, he did not have any ill intentions towards Vivian. Although he approached her intentionally, he really liked little girls. Or rather, Zhao Jie had a natural fondness for girls of this age.

Don't misunderstand.

He was already old and had long passed the age of love. He liked them because he could imagine his daughter, Xing 'er, from these little girls. After more than ten years of debt evasion, he had not seen his daughter for more than ten years. If he counted her age, Xing' er should be about Vivian's age, right?

Of course, if Xing 'Er had half of Vivian's abilities, then he would definitely kowtow to the Rock Lord a few more times and offer a few more incense sticks to thank him for his blessings.

' Miss Vivian, I don't think an apology is enough. It's not a permanent solution.

For such a person to be like this today, it means that he has developed a habit. As a friend of Lady Roko, I think you have to tell her about this and dismiss him!

Zhao Jie finally interjected. He was an old businessman who had been doing business for many years and was very good at observing people's expressions.

He could tell that Vivian did not want to let the suDervisinc warrior co. so he spoke first.

The wolf cub glanced at the middle-aged man.

It had to be said that the Guili people of the Nine Nations were much more astute than the other nations. They knew how to stir up trouble.

Liao Zixuan didn't want Vivian to show too much of her punishing behavior. He preferred the gentle side of the little girl, so Zhao Jie's suggestion could be considered as helping her.

However...

"Dismissal? Uncle Zhao Jie, I don't think so." Vivian shook her head.

"What? Err... Alright, alright, since Miss Vivian said so..."

Zhao Jie scratched his head awkwardly. At the same time, he felt a little strange. Could it be that he had misjudged the little girl?

On the other side.

Whoosh!

When the supervising samurai who was still kneeling on the ground heard that Lady Roko was going to dismiss him, Ichiro had almost scolded Zhao Jie to death. When he heard Vivian's words, he heaved a sigh of relief.

However, he choked halfway through his relief.

Because the little girl followed closely behind and added,...

"Dismissal is too much. I think it would be better to let Mr. Ichiro take over Mr. An's position and work as a laborer.

"In this way, I believe that Ichiro-san will be able to understand the hardships of others, right? He would not treat others like this in the future.

After Vivian finished speaking, Ichiro, who had an ashen face, smiled kindly.

"What do you think, Mr. Ichiro?"

Without waiting for the supervising warrior to speak, the little girl seemed to have suddenly thought of something. She pointed at her chin and continued,

"Oh... By the way, even though I'm Little Black's summoner, there are many times when I can't control Little Black. Who knows, one night, Little Black might sneak out again and go somewhere else."

“Last time, there was a time when someone threatened to throw Little Black into the sea. In the end, the next day, he disappeared on the ship. Everyone searched for a long time but could not find him...”

After Vivian’s words, the corner of the wolf cub’s mouth twitched.

I didn’t. I’m not. Don’t talk nonsense!

This was bad.

It seemed that his little girl had indeed learned to be bad!

Zhao Jie, on the other hand, took out a handkerchief and wiped the sweat off his forehead. His impression of Vivian kept changing.

Good fellow!

He took back his words of wishing that his Xing ‘Er could be half of Vivian.

It would be good if it could become a quarter!

What if his Xing ‘Er was also like this...Natural black? If that was the case, then his father would be terrified every day.

Vivian’s words had an immediate effect on the supervising warrior.

She saw Ichiro beating his chest and stamping his feet with an expression that said, “That’s right, Sis.”

“I think Miss Vivian’s suggestion is very correct!

“Damn it! I should have done this a long time ago. As a manager, if you don’t understand your subordinates, how can you talk about management? Only when I’m deeply integrated into the lower ranks will I know how to better manage, improve, and correct my previous mistakes!”

“Thank you for your reminder, Miss Vivian. I’ll go and report it now!”

As Ichiro spoke, he kept glancing at the wolf cub lying in Ann’s arms with a frightened look in his eyes. It was obvious that he was frightened..
