Chapter 461: Cause and Effect

Therefore, they couldn't understand why their gods were indifferent when the Thousand Islands had caused such a huge commotion.

Lu Zi shook her head.

"The two of you may not know, but the concept that our Water God pursues is fate. In other words, all changes are guided by fate. As long as there are no variables outside fate, the Water God will not interfere."

Vivian and Ann both looked angry. The two little girls were strikingly similar. They both puffed up their cheeks and clenched their fists. It sounded too infuriating. It sounded very noble, but wasn't it the same as directly smashing them?

"I'll tell you two a short story so that you can understand Lord Water God. Many years ago, there was a war on the Thousand Islands. At that time, a rebel army split from the Grand Fuxing Sect and fought fiercely all the way to the front door of the Grand Fuxing Sect's house."

"At that time, the ruling family head of the Great Fuxi Society knelt and cried at the entrance of the Moon Abyss Society's palace, praying that the Water God inside would come forward. Otherwise, the Thousand Islands would be occupied by the rebel army. The people of the Thousand Islands were also in dire straits due to the war. They were also very afraid of the rebel army and thought that they were all bandits who burned, killed, and looted.

But our Water God continued to shut himself in. It wasn't until the leader of the family was overthrown by the Resistance that the truth of the matter was revealed to the public. It turned out that the family had long been rotten internally and was extremely corrupt. However, because they were proficient in propaganda, they had never been discovered by the public. Instead, they had established a good image, and everyone had been kept in the dark."

” After this incident, we more or less understood Lord Water God’s philosophy. It seems bad, but it may lead to a good ending. If you interfere midway and forcefully change fate, it may cause an irreversible tragedy.”

From Roko’s sincere eyes, it was not difficult to see that she really believed in this.

It was because of this that she said what she was about to say.

” I believe in our fate, and the fate of every passenger on this Astorokis. The Water God has arranged our fate for us, so there’s no need to panic. I believe that just like how I was saved by the two of you, everything is predestined by fate. ”

After Roko said that, although it was supposed to be encouragement, she meant that even if the other party was Orochi, a miracle could happen.

However, the wolf cub still spat fiercely in his heart.

If fate was really arranged by the Water God, he, who had already known the future, was very sure that a miracle did not happen. Their fate would end here. Together with the Astorokis, they would crash into the deep sea.

If he hadn’t gone through the cycle of reincarnation, he wouldn’t have been able to speak properly now. He would have been controlled by the lady and escaped with a teleportation spell.

Another unreliable god!

Although he had expected this, the little wolf cub was still depressed.

He firmly did not believe in fate.

If there really was one, then he would have to hold his fate in his own hands, not something...It was arranged by others!

If it was true that the crash of the Astorokis was just a temporary “seemingly” bad thing, and the purpose was to lead to a better ending in the future, the wolf cub still couldn’t accept it.

He didn’t have the vision of the Water God. He only saw the desperate faces of the passengers on the ship, heard the helpless cries of the passengers on the ship, and witnessed the death of hundreds of people in the deep sea.

He had to change this ending.

As for what would happen in the future...

Sorry, as a mortal, you should have some self-awareness.

Anyway, he was only looking at what was in front of him.

Moreover, he did not know if he was influenced by a certain young lady who did not want to reveal her name, but he began to become.... Especially when a tragedy happens!

Chapter 462: Gift Equipment-Dark Nightmare Claw (1)

Xiang Ruzi confirmed that she couldn’t change the Astorokis’s route if it was a short-distance flight that was less than a week away.

The next thing Ann and the wolf cub thought of was to tell all the passengers on the ship about the shipwreck that they would encounter tomorrow.

The little wolf cub remembered clearly that in the third experience, when the snake attacked the ship, many people were outside the deck and in the corridor. Even with the protection of the Heart of the Sea, the ship was not directly hurt by the snake, but the sudden violent shaking was enough to cause heavy casualties to the unprepared passengers.

If everyone could stay in their own rooms and take precautions beforehand, they could definitely avoid casualties caused by the accident.

However, in this way, new problems appeared again, and only then could everyone believe this fact.

It was not enough for Ruzi alone. Almost all the people who could board the Astorokis were rich and powerful. Ruzi could command the crew warriors, but for the passengers, although they could be forced to lock them in the house, this was obviously the worst choice.

“Perhaps...Can you ask Miss Mei Ji for help?” Vivian interrupted at this time, attracting everyone’s attention.

“Lady Mei Ji?”

Roko looked at the stranger with a questioning expression.

The little girl immediately explained that she was one of the passengers on the ship and was a very powerful female astrologer. If she were to cooperate with Luzi and make a prophecy, everyone would definitely be convinced and listen to the arrangement.

In this cycle, the wolf cubs had saved the astrologer girl who had fainted on the deck because she had no money to eat. Thus, the mysterious image of Maggie in the hearts of the passengers had not collapsed.

Lu Zi immediately agreed with this suggestion. It might sound a little ironic, but the more powerful a person was, the more they would fall for mysticism.

He looked at the clock. It was now one or two o'clock in the middle of the night. Most of the passengers on the ship should have fallen asleep, but with the current situation, they could not wait until tomorrow morning.

Including Lu Zi and the wolf cub, the three people and one beast made a simple plan and split up.

Roko went to mobilize all the warriors on the ship to gather urgently to cooperate with the evacuation work. Vivian and the rest went to knock on Maggie's door and dragged the astrologer girl out of bed.

However, they had underestimated Meiji's ability to be a night owl. It was only two o'clock, which was the best time to observe the stars at night. They knocked on the room for a long time, but no one was there. In the end, they had to go to the deck to find the girl who was observing the stars at night.

On the other side, Roko had already sent out the crew warriors to gather all the passengers on the Astorokis from their rooms to the dining hall on the first floor.

She told everyone that the ship had deviated from its course and was about to enter Orochi's " Abyssal Sea " territory. After she told them about the situation that could not be reversed, all the passengers in the restaurant were in an uproar.

Although the samurai were also panicking and shocked, under Roko's pressure, they managed to maintain their discipline and maintain the security of the scene. The passengers who were in chaos calmed down and continued to listen to Roko.

Roko told them that from tonight onwards, everyone should stay in their rooms and not move around. They should also be prepared to be attacked by Orochi and the ship would shake violently.

"Wait a minute! Even if the ship deviated from its course and entered the Abyssal Sea, it would not encounter the legendary Yamata no Orochi, right? I've heard that its nest is extremely deep under the sea.

As expected, voices of doubt quickly appeared among the passengers in the crowd.

After the first one, there would be a second one. After the initial panic, everyone gradually calmed down and discovered that there were too many suspicious points in Lu Zits words.

“That’s right! Don’t think that just because we are foreigners, we don’t know that the forbidden monster of your Thousand Islands hasn’t appeared for hundreds of years. Moreover, according to history, it has protected the people of Thousand Islands. Even if we really encounter it, it won’t attack us, right?”

“What you said seems to make sense. In that case, can we still ask the snake for help? Let it help us get back on the right course?”

“Hiss! The legendary Chinese God that only appeared once in a hundred years, and the lost Astorokis? Such explosive topics combined...”

The atmosphere gradually changed. Among the passengers, a bespectacled man from the Thousand Islands muttered something. In the end, he was ecstatic and slapped his thigh.

“Awesome! I have a light novel theme this year!”

“As long as I can see it with my own eyes and write this story as a blueprint, it will definitely attract the attention of all readers and sell like sold well! It was a wise decision to go out and take the blood this time! This year, the winner of this amazing light novel will definitely be me!

The words of the author of the Thousand Island Light novel were like opening Pandora’s box. Many passengers began to have other thoughts. They felt that even if they really encountered Orochi, it would definitely not attack them.

On the contrary, they could not be locked in the room. Instead, they had to take the opportunity to hurry to the deck so that they could see with their own eyes what the legendary strongest shikigami of the Thousand Islands, the overlord of the sea, looked like..

Chapter 463: Gift Equipment-Dark Nightmare Claw (1)

This was something that many people might not be able to see in their lifetimes!

It might seem ridiculous, but without a god's perspective to clearly predict the future, people would always be willing to believe in things that were beneficial to them.

Fortunately, Vivian and her team appeared with the astrologer girl before the situation got out of hand.

Mei Ji did not waste any more words and walked up to the stage.

"Everyone, I can prove everything that Miss Luzi said just now. Please put away your contempt. This is a real disaster.

"Just now, I was able to predict the Astorokis through astrology. Everything on our ship is in a mess tomorrow afternoon. It's obvious that it has suffered some kind of terrifying attack.

Then, in order to increase the pressure, the astrologer girl pointed at the person who had questioned Lu Zi first.

"You, because a heavy object fell on you, your head is bleeding."

"Because you stayed on the deck, you were thrown off the deck and drowned under the violent jolting of the ship.

"You..."

As the girl pointed at each person, Mei Ji would tell them the way they died. In just a few minutes, the restaurant fell into a dead silence. Most of the people were pale.

Under the dark clouds of death, those who were talking about conspiracy theories and those who thought that this was not a disaster but an opportunity all shut their mouths.

Especially the light novel author from before. He died a very miserable death. He was caught off guard and swayed, causing his own pen to pierce through his throat. The author was so frightened that he threw his pen away.

After a while, the majority of the people in the restaurant responded to Roko's suggestion.

I recognize her. I saw her on the deck on the first day. She's an Astrologer. Since there's an Astrologer's prophecy, then, then maybe it's really..."

"I knew it...Damn it! I could tell from the recent Divine Wizard selection that the snake in the sea must have betrayed the Thousand Islands and abandoned the agreement with Lord Water God!

"No wonder! Previously, I heard that the people from the Great Fuxing Sect were going to capture the escaping witch. It turns out that the huge snake has really...No, it's broken! Then if we intrude into the territory of the Malus, it would be equivalent to..."

When they clearly knew the fate they were about to face, the passengers no longer had the mentality of being lucky. They began to return to the initial panic.

At this moment, a middle-aged man stood out from the crowd.

"Everyone, stop arguing. Listen to me. At this juncture, the leader definitely has more information than me. The only thing we need to do now is to follow the arrangements and orders.

The person who shouted was an old acquaintance of the wolf cubs, a businessman from Guili. Zhao Jie was one of the first to believe what Luzi said. Before Mei Ji arrived, he had already tried to persuade the foreigners who still had different opinions.

Zhao Jie was both afraid and angry. He was afraid of the impending shipwreck, but he was angry because sometimes he really couldn't understand what was in the minds of these foreigners.

As soon as he heard the request to stay in the house and not go out, he subconsciously wanted to protest. He had already said that he might encounter forbidden monsters. The first thing he thought of was not to hide quickly, but to visit.

You all want to die, it's okay, but the problem is now, they're on the same boat, he, Zhao Jie, don't want to be implicated by this gang of people.

With Lu Zi, the astrologer girl, and Zhao Jie's final shout, the emergency evacuation plan was successfully carried out. This time, there were no more gossips from the passengers.

Everyone obediently followed the arrangement of the crew warriors and went to redistribute their rooms. Everyone was gathered in the most stable and safe core position of the Astorokis.

However...

Zhao Jie sneaked out of the team and ran to Vivian's side.

Uncle Guili shrunk his head and asked the little girl anxiously.

"Miss Vivian, you...Can you tell me the truth? What are the chances of us successfully surviving this calamity?"

"Don't worry, we'll definitely be safe. "

Vivian comforted Zhao Jie seriously.

"I'm relieved to hear that. I know that you must be resourceful and skilled, Miss Vivian. The lives of all the passengers on this ship are in your hands!

Zhao Jie said as he looked around. When no one was paying attention, he took Vivian's hand and tried to stuff something into her sleeve.

The little wolf cub focused his attention and looked at it. It was a small bulging purse. If it was filled with gold coins, it would definitely be a large sum.

Fortunately, Vivian reacted and quickly pushed him back.

It's just a small token, Miss Vivian. I mean, in case, in case something really happens and the situation gets out of control, can you please, Miss, just a little..." Take care of me, Old Zhao!"

"I-I still have a wife and daughter waiting for me in Guili. My entire family is counting on me to do business alone. I... I really can't let anything happen to me! "As long as you can save my life, I, Zhao Jie, will owe you a huge favor in the future. Although I'm a foreign businessman, I still have some backing in the Thousand Islands. No matter what you ask for, I'll do my best to satisfy you.. I promise!"

Chapter 464: Gift Equipment-Dark Nightmare Claw (Part 1)

Alright then...

The little wolf cub wanted to praise Zhao Jie, but it seemed that every country had their own problems.

At this time, Ann noticed the strange situation on the little girl's side. She frowned and walked over. Compared to Vivian who was still trying to comfort Zhao Jie, Ann directly drove Zhao Jie away and warned him. If he got in their way because of this matter, he would be held responsible.

"Thank you..." Thank you, the other one... Ahem, Miss An. Vivian almost spilled the beans and pretended to cough.

Fortunately, Anne was just a little confused and did not hear it. On the contrary, she sighed at Vivian's appearance.

After she stopped talking, Ann said to the little girl,

” Vivian, if you encounter such situations in the future, you have to learn to be tough. You can’t rely on others to help you with everything in the future. You...” Looking at her well-protected self in the other world line, Ann didn’t continue.

However, to her surprise, the little girl opposite her also spoke.

“Ms. Anderson is right! However, I also hope that Ms. An can be more lively and cheerful in the future! Don’t always be silent and vigilant towards others. There are indeed bad people in this world, but don’t there also exist people like me and Little Black?”

“Ah, I’m sorry, I’m sorry, Xiao Hei. You’re not human.

The little wolf cub was speechless.

“This is what you taught me. You have to make me stronger!” Vivian was surprised by Ann’s expression and showed a cunning and aggrieved expression.

After a few seconds of silence, he nodded.

“Alright, I will try.”

As she spoke, Ann looked at the little girl who was rubbing her wolf cub and apologizing for what she had just said. She suddenly felt that she might have taken things for granted in this other world line.

The little girl was able to reach her current state not only because of the little wolf cub in her arms, but also because of her own hard work and growth.

Allowing all the passengers on the ship to take refuge was only the first step and the simplest step.

The most difficult part was still...

How were they going to face Orochi?

In response, Ann suggested that she should pray for Orochi to calm down and return to its nest. This was proven by the third experience the wolf cub recounted to her.

But unfortunately, it was vetoed by two votes. Neither Vivian nor the wolf cubs agreed.

As the old saying goes, the Water God's Necklace only "exempted" the curse, not "removed" it. The consequence of Ann's wish was that she would suffer a severe backlash the moment she took off the necklace.

Therefore, this could only be the last resort.

Curses and wishes were directly proportional, so in order to reduce the curse as much as possible, the wish had to be fulfilled as easily as possible. Moreover, there was a curse that could really skip class, and it was a one-time curse that took effect immediately.

The little wolf cub remembered that in the second cycle, An Qi had prayed for an ability that could instantly increase her strength by several times to fight against him. The price was that many blood vessels in her body burst and blood flowed out.

Under the protection of the Water God's Chains, this was equivalent to a powerful Berserk Skill that could deal no damage.

Judging from his battle with Orochi, if his opponent was only a head that had lost its mind and was in a berserk state due to the corruption of the Fallen Abyss, they might not have to avoid the battle.

Of course, with Ann's current strength, even if it was doubled or tripled, it was still far from enough because the "base number" was too low.

However, if they had a way to greatly increase the "base number" of the doubling..

The wolf cub's gaze began to shift from Vivian to Ann, swaying left and right.

Coincidentally, it had the ability to greatly increase the "base number" of the body.. The exclusive witch skill that Vivian had awakened was simply the best choice!

Chapter 465: Gift Equipment-Dark Nightmare Claw (2)

"Ann, actually, I've been hiding something from you. I... She's a witch."

"Yo! What a coincidence. Me too.'

The wolf cub imagined the conversation between the two little girls. Of course, it was not so direct in reality.

The two of them went around in circles to explain this to each other. If both of them were clear about it in their hearts, there was no other way. It was obvious that Vivian and Ann were trying their best to hide it. They wanted to maintain this kind of relationship, and they were just one step away from being exposed. "Vivian, can you tell me what your Witch's Power is..."

Ann had long since determined that the little girl was a witch through her 'lingering fragrance.' However, Ann was still very curious about what kind of exclusive skill she had awakened in the other world.

"My witch ability is that I can merge my summoned beast with myself and turn it into a battle outfit.

"Battle...Dress?"

“You can think of it as a weapon, but it can cover the entire body.” Vivian briefly summarized.

Ann revealed a surprised expression.

“This is...A self-strengthening witch ability?”

Now, Ann finally understood why the little wolf cubs told her that they had the confidence to defeat Orochi by fighting.

For example, Ann’s “Wish” was more inclined to the “functional” witch ability, while Vivian’s “self-strengthening” witch ability was recognized as one of the most violent ones among the combat professions.

If she could awaken such an ability in the past, she might not have needed it at all and would have escaped from the Flame Domain. For this type of witch, fighting above her level was as easy as eating and drinking.

Of course, the scariest part wasn’t a Top that could solo kill someone of a higher level, but the fact that this Top had a cat on him.

There could only be one witch ability in the same person, but this rule was obviously broken in Vivian and Ann.

Using this point where fate intersected, Ann could easily make a wish to obtain the witch skill of the other her.

As a result, Ann’s body had gathered two strands of Witch’s Power. If the two were to combine, the reaction produced would definitely not be as simple as $1+1 = 2$.

Not only were the wolf cubs looking forward to it, but the two girls were also eager to try.

Of course, the location could not be in the cabin, so the two of them came to the deck that had been evacuated.

At this time, it was already four or five o'clock in the morning of the next day, which was the point where night and day alternated. The sky on the sea was no longer completely dark like it was in the middle of the night. It was in a hazy state.

"Ann, let me show you!" Vivian waved her hand as she spoke, calling the little sparrows that had been brought over to her side.

Hearing that the little girl was going to demonstrate, Ann immediately focused and perked up. However, when she saw Vivian's behavior, she was puzzled.

This sparrow...?

In the next second, the small sparrow answered the question that Ann had not asked. Under Ann's astonished gaze, Xin Yan completed her transformation in a gorgeous manner. A cute and adorable little girl with red hair appeared out of thin air in Ann's vision.

Ann immediately lowered her gaze and looked at the little wolf cub beside her. She looked at the little wolf cub and then at the little loli not far away.

"Could it be..."

In response to Ann's questioning gaze, the wolf cub waved its paw. Ann was right. Other than itself, Vivian had another forbidden monster as a summoned beast.

The feather I gave you last night came from this little girl.

"Wait, wait a moment. Then her true body is actually..." Ann's initial surprise turned into shock.

She had heard of the legend of their Yan domain also has a taboo demon belonging to themselves, is soaring above the nine days, there is a fire rebirth, nirvana is not dead legend of the mythical phoenix.

In the end, this phoenix had become her...Summoned beast?

1... I can't believe I'm this powerful!

That was not right.

It was her from another world line, exactly...What had he experienced? How powerful was he?

Moreover, looking at the little loli's current appearance, she was simply obedient to Vivian. Ann could even see that she was trying to please please Vivian.

In response, the little wolf cub said, "You didn't see it, but every morning and night, when Xinyan was taught to read by the 'gentle and kind' little girl, the little loli would have a bitter face that was worse than death. How could she not please him?"

"Ann, I'm going to start."

Vivian's voice brought Anra back to reality.

At the same time, the power of the Witch began to spread out from the little girl's body. The originally gentle and weak Vivian suddenly gave off a different feeling. She began to become fierce and hot.

Violent air currents blew up Vivian's long hair, and swirling flames rose from under the little girl's feet.

Xinyan, who was beside her, closed her eyes. With the support of Vivian's Witch's Power, the little loli's toes left the ground and she floated in front of the little girl.

The tip of a fiery-red greatsword faintly appeared in front of Xin Yan's chest.

“Ritual, Conqueror, Conqueror”

Vivian murmured the word and then made the same standard action as before. She reached out to the hilt of the sword in front of her and pulled it out.

“Sword of Fire!

Chapter 466: Gift Equipment-Dark Nightmare Claw (2)

With Vivian’s low shout, a fiery red sword that was burning with scorching flames was completely taken out from Xin Yan’s body by the little girl. She held it tightly in front of her.

Soon after, Xin Yan’s entire body turned from solid to illusory and turned into a fiery red light. After completely attaching itself to Vivian’s body, it formed a brand new... Dress up.

He looked at the fiery red cloak on one side, the huge sword that was wrapped in raging flames, and the huge sword that was fluttering like a phoenix’s wings. Even his hairstyle had changed, and his tight ponytail fell behind his head.

If Ann hadn’t witnessed the entire process with her own eyes, she would never have believed that the capable, powerful, reliable, and reassuring young lady in front of her was...She... It was Vivian.

It was him.

Not only Ann, but all the passengers on the Astorokis also more or less noticed the movement coming from the deck.

Although they could only hide in their rooms and could not go out in order to avoid danger, they could still see through the windows...Sorry, he really couldn’t see it.

Therefore, many passengers were trembling, not knowing what was happening outside.

There were even some who had intense reactions. They were shocked by the astrology girl's prophecy and thought that Orochi had arrived ahead of time. They immediately covered their heads with their blankets.

It was only after Lu Zi sent people to inform them one by one that the panic among the passengers was quelled.

On the other side.

"Ann? Ann!"

It wasn't until the young girl who had removed her "Witch of Firewood" attire came to Ann and called out twice that she managed to bring the dazed Anla back.

However, at this moment, it was obvious that Ann's expression no longer had the confidence she had at the beginning.

It wasn't that she was frightened by the appearance of the Witch's Dress, but that she felt that behind the Witch's Dress, there was something more Important...

Temperament.

Yes, Ann felt that it was not difficult for her to replicate the appearance of the Witch of Firewood with "Prayer", but it was absolutely impossible to recreate the temperament of Vivian at that time.

The kind that could bring hope to others...Sorry, Ann's vocabulary was really lacking, and she could not describe it with words. If she had to use an analogy, perhaps it would be very appropriate to use a memory fragment that had instantly appeared in her mind when she first saw the Xinyan ceremonial dress.

It was when she hid in a cave, hungry and cold. It was a dark and cold night outside. She used her frozen, bandaged fingers to try to rub the flint to make it light. She did it over and over again. Just when Ann was exhausted and her eyelids were heavy, she could not hold on any longer.

Shua!

A streak of crimson flames flashed across the flint.

What followed was the warmth and light brought by the flames, dispelling the cold and expelling the darkness.

He took a deep breath.

Ann tried her best to maintain this feeling.

“Ritual, Conqueror, Conqueror” She imitated Vivian’s actions, including the words that the little girl said.

Vivian wanted to say something, but she hesitated. In fact, the skill did not need to be shouted out. The reason why she said it just now was just to demonstrate it to Anne.

The vortex began to rise along with the power of the witch in Ann’s body. Under Ann’s feet, flames similar to the little girl’s appeared.

Everything seemed to be going smoothly. Vivian was secretly cheering for the girl, and the wolf cubs were also nervous.

It was only theoretically possible to have two types of Witch Power at the same time. The actual effect would depend on the actual performance.

Ann also knew that the burden on her was very heavy. It was the key to the entire plan. This made her constantly emphasize in her heart that she had to succeed. She had to succeed. She could not fail at this time.

After all, her other world was so beautiful. How could she be implicated because of a 'failure' like 'her'?

Ann knew that she couldn't be like the little girl, becoming the first rays of the morning sun. She only hoped that she could become a bonfire in the darkness. Even if there was only a pile of ashes left after dawn, she would continue to burn until the light came.

The power of her emotions had reached its peak. Ann felt that it was time. She opened her eyes and shouted.

"Sword of Burning Flames!"

"Sword of Burning Flames!"

"Xin Yanzhi..."

"Xin..."

"Ann, let's take a rest first! I think there must be a problem somewhere. Could it be that Xinyan is too tired and is unable to quickly perform the second possession after the first one?"

Vivian couldn't stand it anymore as she looked at Ann who was about to lose her voice. She quickly stepped forward to stop Ann who was already at a dead end.

Vivian shifted the question to Xinyan in an attempt to comfort Ann, but everyone could see that the little loli did not look tired at all. On the contrary, she was filled with excitement and enthusiasm. There were a few times when she wished she could pull out a sword from her chest and hand it to Ann.

Hence, after hearing Vivian's words, Xinyan's face immediately revealed a look of grievance. It was clearly her body, but it did not respond to this big sister at all. She did not even have the basic ability to float, let alone conjure a sword.

However, when Vivian glared at him, Xinyan immediately lowered his head and admitted it..

Chapter 467: Gift Equipment-Dark Nightmare Claw (2)

At this moment, Ann's deep voice interrupted them.

"Vivian, you don't have to do this. It has nothing to do with Xinyan. It's me...I can sense that the Spirit and Xin Yan can't resonate, so I can't contact your Summoned Beast. "

Ann shook her head and lowered her head, her hair covering her face.

However, from her clenched fists, one could still see the incomparable self-blame and disappointment in Ann's heart.

"I'm sorry..."

"I, I am indeed different from you...I can't be you I... I can't do anything...'

As the executor of the skill, Ann was very clear that she could sense the aura of justice from Xin Yan. Only those who had a pure heart, never had any dark thoughts, and never did anything sinister would be truly acknowledged by Xin

Yan.

As for her...Perhaps she was like this in the past, but after experiencing a series of sorrows in Fire Code City, Ann had to admit that her heart had changed. She could no longer return to her past self. She could only rely on darkness to fight against darkness.

“Then, why don’t you...” Ann still couldn’t understand.

Especially that sentence, although I haven’t tried it yet.

“How should I put it? Ann, don’t ask anymore. There’s not much time left. Anyway, hurry up and try?”

Vivian did not answer Ann’s question, which was rare. Instead, she gave a perfunctory answer.

Only the little girl herself knew the real reason.

For Vivian, the other me and Blackie were the most precious and indispensable things in the little girl’s life.

That was why she did not choose the little wolf cub as the first person to dress up for. Instead, she chose Xin Yan. It was not just because she wanted the little wolf cub to witness this moment.

There’s still a deeper level, Vivian is thinking about the spiritual space, another one is her, the little girl hopes that they can move forward together, not one person leaving another far behind.

Therefore, Little Black was left by Vivian to her other self. From the perspective of both personalities, the second personality was more suitable for the cunning and evil wolf cub than her.

For the first time, she had someone she liked.

He summoned Zhi Sheng’s companion.

The two joyous feelings overlapped.

Vivian believed that it would bring more joy!

Just like that.

Under the little girl's fervent and eager gaze, Ann pursed her lips. She knew that it was not good for her to do this as an "outsider." After all, she could understand how much Blackie meant to Vivian even after just two days of contact.

However, when she heard that the target of the gift could be the little wolf cubs, she instantly felt a different heat from when she was with Xinyan.

It was as if every cell in her body was crazily driving her, pushing her to become Blackie's first time, which even Vivian had never had.

In the end, desire triumphed over reason.

He couldn't say that.

She was doing this for the sake of fighting against the forbidden monster that was about to arrive, the crazed Yamata no Orochi.

She did it to protect Vivian, for the Astorokis, for all the innocent passengers on board, for...

For...

S-sorry!

She really wanted to have it once and experience it once, even if it was just this one time.

Just like Vivian had told her, it was also for the sake of...Once for himself!

“Then.... Then, should I try?”

Chapter 468: Gift Equipment-Dark Nightmare Claw (Part 2)

As the Astorokis sailed deeper, the environment around the sea began to change quietly.

In the beginning, the calm sea surface began to undulate. However, under the protection of the Heart of the Sea, the ship remained stable and did not feel anything.

However, the most obvious change that the passengers noticed was that the light from the cabin window became dimmer and dimmer.

Many people looked out of the window with fear. They could see that the sky had darkened. Dense dark clouds began to cover the sky above the sea. From time to time, they could see dazzling white light flashing through the clouds. It was the shadow of lightning.

Although the volume was not loud, it could still be heard when it quieted down. A drizzle began to fall from the sea outside the ship. Raindrops slid down the window. Usually, no one would pay attention to this, but now, every passenger was tense. Many phenomena combined were undoubtedly a sign that they were about to face a storm.

“Quick, again... Check if the windows are tightly closed and put away anything that might fall from high places!

The passengers who were gathered in the most secure cabins of the Astorokis were mobilized. This was all they could do to increase their sense of security.

Of course, there were also many people who started to pray or write down something in advance in case of an accident.

Zhao Jie trembled as he took out a pocket watch.

After opening it, there was a family photo taken with a "photographic camera." There was a much younger Zhao Jie, another woman who should be his wife, and...In the middle was a little girl who was only a few years old.

"Honey, Xing 'Er...If I, Zhao Jie, can successfully survive this shipwreck, I swear that I won't run away anymore. When I return to the Thousand Islands, I'll immediately sell all my properties and bring all my belongings back to find you!

"Lord Yan, please bless me...Lord Rock, please bless us so that we can survive.

Lord Rock, please bless us..."

The light novelist from the Thousand Islands who Mei Ji had predicted would have his pen pierce through his throat couldn't help but write something on the note he carried with him.

"The first voyage of the Astorokis in more than a decade. The protagonist happened to board this huge ship. He thought that he would change the map for the readers and pave the way for the transition chapter, but who knew that he would suddenly encounter the biggest crisis in the entire novel so far!

"The villains secretly changed the route and forced the Astorokis into the territorial waters of the Yamata no Orochi. Let's see how the protagonist uses his intelligence to fight against the villains and the Orochi and finally save all the passengers on the ship..."

The light novelist became more and more excited as he wrote, as if he had forgotten his current situation. Unfortunately, even if it was a novel, it still followed the most basic logic.

"No, no, I can't write it like that. Then how much cheat do I have to give the protagonist to survive and save the Astorokis from the hands of the snake? He couldn't possibly have the main character's combat power soar under the setting, right? How tall must he be to defeat Orochi?"

"It's over, it's over, it's all over...My life, my light novel award..."

The novelist threw his pen to the side and closed the note. He closed his eyes in despair and looked like he was waiting for death. After all, even he, a novelist, did not dare to write like this. Could reality be more fantasy than novels? Astorokis, control room.

This was where Roko and the elite warriors on the ship were. She was constantly trying to communicate with the Heart of the Sea and change the route of the ship, but Roko had already set it so that she could not make any changes before reaching her destination.

Ann had also tried to pray to the Heart of the Sea. This was the most direct method, but the Heart of the Sea was after all a replica of the Water God's "Heart of God." For such a prayer, it was equivalent to praying for world peace and was automatically ineffective.

However...

It seemed that there was still a turn of events.

"Lady Roko, the female Astrologer from before strongly requested to enter the control room. She said that she might have a way to control the Heart of the Sea. "A samurai ran over to report.

Lu Zi, who was already extremely anxious and anxious, was angry when she heard this. She still wanted to cause trouble at this time.

As the administrative officer of the society, she could not even control the Heart of the Sea. What right did the other party, a female astrologer, have to boast?

Did he really think that he was the legendary great astrologer in the story of the Astoros?

However, due to the relationship between Maggie and Vivian, and the fact that she had helped them to convince the passengers of the impending shipwreck, Ruzi hesitated for a moment before agreeing to Maggie's request.

Astologios was on the bottom floor of the ship.

The place where the goods were piled up was also where the coolies stayed.

The evacuation that Roko ordered the sailors and warriors to organize did not include these laborers at all. They were not even notified.

These coolies, who lived in the dark and damp with the cold goods, did not even know what was happening outside. When danger arrived, they were forgotten in the corner.

However, a series of footsteps suddenly sounded.

The door to the bottom floor of the cabin opened. The first person to appear in the eyes of many laborers was the supervisor they were familiar with..

Chapter 469: Gift Equipment-Dark Nightmare Claw (Part 2)

“Ichiro, what time is it now? Why do you still have the time to care about these

However, the supervising warrior did not listen to his companion. He quickly walked to the middle of the coolies and shouted,

“Move quickly. Get up quickly. Don’t stay here any longer. The ship is very likely to be attacked by the monsters on the sea. The bottom layer is not protected by the Heart of the Sea.”

When the coolies heard that they were about to be attacked by demons, and demons from the sea, they were all scared out of their wits and quickly ran out to take refuge.

After Ichiro made sure that there was no one else in the base, he turned around and looked at his dissatisfied companion.

If you want to hide, then go ahead and hide. But as a warrior, this is the time when I should be useful. We can't just let Lady Roko and Miss Vivian bear the pressure. We have to do something within our power!

"You... Sigh, forget it. I'm too lazy to argue with you at this point. Ever since you were taught a lesson by that Flame Domain person named Vivian, you've become a completely different person!

His companion said weakly. When he learned that the enemy was Orochi, he had long lost his motivation and thought that he would definitely die.

However, Ichiro still berated angrily, "Don't say that, Miss Vivian!" Humph, I don't know what that little girl has done to you. I just hope that she's as powerful as you say and can help us get through this safely. Then, I won't say a word and join Vivian's church with you."

Faced with his companion's anger, Ichiro clasped his hands together and made a praying gesture.

"I believe that Miss Vivian can do it. I have a hunch that she is a witch brought to us by the Water God. She is here to save us.

Astorokis, deck.

Whether it was Ichiro, Roko, or the many passengers who had taken refuge in the cabin, Vivian and the others, who had high hopes for them, were not in a good mood.

In the end, it was still a problem.

Ann's [Dress Up] skill could not be used.

After changing the target from Xinyan to the little wolf cub, the effect was immediate. An Neng could sense that there was an invisible thread connecting her and the little wolf cub. The shadow of the Witch's attire had already appeared on her body.

But...

He was still just a little bit off, just a little bit off.

Because they were on the deck, they were the first to sense the changes in the sea outside the ship. Looking into the distance, they could even see a deep sea vortex that looked like a black hole.

Whether it was the drizzle dripping on their bodies or the gloomy sky with dark clouds and lightning streaking across it, every scene was sending a message to Ann that she did not have much time left. Ann knew very well what she was missing.

It was a bond.

Although she and the wolf cub could resonate, they had only been together for less than two days. Their familiarity with each other was far from reaching the standard of forming a witch's outfit. And the solution to this problem...

"Ann, let's merge into one."

"You already have my body. If you have my memories, then you're... I'm done!"

The little girl made a prompt decision. At this time, she could not care less. In order to avoid embarrassment, she pretended not to know Ann's identity.

On the other side, Vivian had taken the initiative to expose this layer of window paper, catching Ann off guard.

" Vivian, w-what are you talking about..."

However, the little girl did not waste any more time. Instead, she directly reached out and held her hands together with Ann's hands.

Perhaps sensing Vivian's determination, Anne quickly calmed down from her panic and finally stopped running away. She really faced the other world line... She...

The two of them interlocked their fingers and held each other's hands tightly.

Feeling the warmth from each other's fingertips, they closed their eyes together.

At this moment.

The drizzle seemed to have stopped, and the waves calmed down.

In the gloomy sky that was covered by dark clouds, the radiance of two stars began to flicker from an extremely distant place. They pierced through the clouds and overlapped under the intersection of the star trajectories, like the spectacle of an eclipse.

Countless memory fragments began to appear in Ann's mind.

However, it did not belong to Vivian, but to... The second personality, the existence that the little girl had always called "the other me"

Vivian wanted to share her memories with Ann, but it seemed that Ann did not need it.

The perfect coordination between the two sides made it seem as if the loss belonged to Ann in the first place.

But apart from that.

Along with the second personality's memories, the things that the second personality had been absorbing all this time also surged into Ann's body.

Vivian had been through so much, but she still maintained a pure and innocent mind. This was no longer something that could be done by nature. It was like a filter that absorbed all the impurities into her body and prevented them from entering.

The second personality was the board, which contained a large amount of negative emotions.

Therefore, it also formed a completely different, opposite side of Vivian.

Darkness, violence, and slaughter.

Ignoring the rules, doing as he pleased, playing with his enemies, and trampling on those who resisted him..

Chapter 470: Gift Equipment-Dark Nightmare Claw (Part 2)

This greatly stimulated the suppressed Witch Will in Ann's body, and the two of them resonated with each other.

Ann's pupils gradually turned blood-red.

It was on the verge of going berserk.

However, at this moment, a clear stream of water flowed from her fingertips to all parts of her body. Ann looked up and found that the other girl, whose fingers were interlocked with hers, had also opened her eyes.

Miraculously, Vivian's eyes turned blue, as if to contrast with her blood-red color.

Although the little girl did not make a sound, Ann could read the words that her blue eyes were silently transmitting to her.

[Please... The other one, me!]

Humph.

In that instant, although Ann's eyes were still red, it was different from the blood-red color of a killing machine that was about to go berserk. The red color now still made people tremble in fear, but if one looked carefully, one would discover that there was actually a trace of tenderness hidden in the depths.

The red now was like a rose with thorns.

All the sharp thorns were simply to protect that bright and delicate flower.

And...

Along with the Witch's Will, the memories of the reincarnation cycle under Ann's wish were awakened.

She did not have nothing.

She and Blackie also had a unique bond and memory that even Vivian did not have.

Ann saw the first cycle, where she saw Vivian as an enemy and sneaked in late at night to assassinate her. She saw the second cycle, where she fought with the wolf cubs.

She also saw the third cycle. Little Black, who had revealed his true form as a Dark Flame Wolf, had risked his life to save her from the giant snake. In order to lure the giant snake away from the ship, he had been beaten up by the giant snake until he was on the verge of death.

Negative emotions needed a point to vent, and Orochi was honored to become this point.

It was especially so for Little Black's shocking and bloody wounds caused by the rapid and high-pressure water flow, and its limbs that were twisted and cracked when it was sucked into the deep sea whirlpool of the snake.

"Ritual, Conqueror, Conqueror"

Two words escaped from Ann's mouth.

It was different from Xin Yan's attire.

As the Dark Flame Wolf was a more overbearing and dark forbidden demon, Ann opened her arms and became the passive party.

Behind her, the little wolf cub had disappeared. In its place was a giant wolf that was burning with black flames like its fur. It took the initiative to walk into Ann's body.

The girl's body floated in the air and curled up. Behind her, a huge shadow gradually condensed into a physical form.

The weapon that Xin Yan had bestowed upon him was a sword.

And the weapon that the Dark Flame Wolf gave him was...

Clang... Clang...

At first, the sound of chains seemed to come from the netherworld. It was like a demon crawling out of the abyss and dragging the chains on the ground. However, at the end of the chain was the appearance of the real weapon.

That's the only thing I can do. Giant claw.

The claws were dark red in color, starting from the black at the end and gradually turning red at the tip.

At first glance, it was as if even its gaze would be hooked by its sharp claws.

The most frightening thing was that this claw was like a living thing. It could even tremble and contract slightly in the air, as if it could pinch its prey and tear it into pieces in the next second.

The claws were connected to chains, one on the left and one on the right, floating on Ann's left and right.

The huge chain claws and the petite girl formed a huge visual impact. They could not help but wonder what kind of girl could control these terrifying chain claws.

In the next second, the chain claws closed slightly inward and held the girl in its palm. It was as if she was both a weapon and a throne.

The girl on the throne finally stretched out her curled limbs and slowly opened her rose-red eyes.

The first thing Ann did was to touch the dark red chain claws on both sides with her palm.

The corners of her lips curled up, as if she was thinking and thinking. She felt that this idea was too stupid.

After all, was there a need to ask?

Thus, the girl spoke with an extremely aggressive and wild tone, like a proud wolf king, giving the name of the witch dress that belonged to her and Little Black.

The skill of the gift was installed.. Dark Nightmare Claw!"
