Chapter 481: You, I Won't Exchange for Anything (3)

"Orochi, let's go!"

An Zilai skillfully leaped onto Orochi's head and urged him.

Furthermore, Liao Zixuan saw from afar that An Benlai had already removed the bandages on his face, but the young girl did not know what method he had used. At this moment, he had returned and wrapped the young girl's face.

The other me...You definitely won't mind!

After all, she was me, and I was her!

Yes, that's right!

Perhaps they had already done this countless times!

No wonder Ann wanted to wrap the bandage around her face again. Otherwise, with the redness of her face, she could participate in the apple ripening competition.

The snake nodded at Ann, and then, after communicating with Ann with its mind, a vortex rose and Ann's figure disappeared from Liao Zixuan's sight.

It would be a lie to say that he did not feel a sense of loss in his heart, but now Liao Zixuan's fiery motivation was enough to cover up this parting intention. There was only one thought in his mind.

Leave quickly and find a new way to get in!

Just as Liao Zixuan was about to jump into the undersea whirlpool that belonged to him and teleport back to the surface, the snake suddenly called out to him.

“You... A moment later, the system of the Great.

“Could it be that you have a conscience and allow me to stay here??” Liao Zixuan hurriedly asked.

The snake shook its head. No outsiders were allowed during the trial. It was a strict rule of the Water God Palace.

The reason why it stopped Liao Zixuan was for something else.

“I can feel that you were born less than ten years ago?”

Tsk.

Liao Zixuan pursed his lips.

Ten years?

It hadn't even been half a year.

After receiving Liao Zixuan's confirmation, the snake's expression began to turn solemn.

“The speed at which your strength is improving is something that even I am shocked by. However, it is precisely because of this that I, as an elder, give you a piece of advice.

Sensing that the snake seemed to have something important to say, Liao Zixuan's attitude quickly became serious and he listened carefully.

"I believe that if you can maintain this growth speed, you might be able to reach my peak in less than a hundred years. However, you must remember, remember, do not repeat my mistakes back then. Do not...Try to break through."

"Don't try to break through?" Liao Zixuan frowned.

"You must remember... This world...Not allowed to appear...Complete..."

[Forbidden Monster]

"Remember...Remember... Otherwise, I would be like today. It will be your fate tomorrow..."

The deep sea vortex that was teleported appeared under Liao Zixuan's feet by the snake.

"Wait a minute, make yourself clear!"

Unfortunately, the snake did not respond to Liao Zixuan's shout. Or rather, it had already revealed too much.

The only thing the snake said to Liao Zixuan, who was about to leave the Abyssal Sea, was...

"To thank you...Today, you are willing to let go of the wizard... To fulfill my wish... If the Divine Wizard could really pass the trial... I'll give it to him..."

A special gift...'

"One day in the future...Perhaps...This gift can be for you... Turning danger into safety...Let you all re-enter, enter, enter"

The snake's intermittent thoughts were swallowed by the vortex and disappeared from his ears.

After a period of darkness and floating sensation passed.

Crash!

Liao Zixuan, who had returned to his wolf cub form, opened his eyes again. It was already a calm sea, and... Not far away, the Astorokis was docked.

And more...

It was the familiar figure of a little girl.

" Xiao

Chapter 482: The Mysterious Missing Witch

Astorokis, deck.

Vivian hugged the little wolf cub tightly. This was the first time they had parted so suddenly. Although it was only for a short time, it still scared the little girl. She knelt on the deck and hugged the little wolf cub tightly in her arms.

It was not until a long time later, with the comfort of the wolf cubs, that Vivian finally let go with red eyes and asked the other her where she was going.

Liao Zixuan told Vivian everything that had happened in the sea, but of course, he omitted some details.

During this time, Vivian listened very carefully and her expression was always worried, especially when she heard that the wolf cubs told her that Ann had decided to accept the trial of the Water God Palace, but because of them, she was not willing to continue wearing the necklace. She was even more angry and worried. She wished she could be there to persuade her stubborn other self.

At this point, the little wolf cub's only worry had disappeared.

After all, he had made such a big decision on his own. Although Liao Zixuan was 100% sure that Vivian would make the same choice as him, he could only be completely relieved after seeing the little girl's attitude.

so...

Ann, see, I didn't lie to you, right? You, we won't exchange anything.

The little wolf cub then told Vivian everything that had happened, including how he had finally convinced Ann to keep the necklace. He had also made a promise that they would find another way to return to the Abyssal Sea and enter the Water God Palace, so Ann must pass the trial well and wait for their next meeting.

Phew...

He took a deep breath.

The air above the Abyssal Sea did not have the freshness and comfort that belonged to the sea. Instead, it gave people a sense of oppression and seemed to be very old.

The girl kneeling on the deck stood up.

After a great battle, there were small waves on the surface of the sea. The sea breeze near evening blew the girl's hair. Vivian walked to the highest point of the deck with the wolf cubs.

The girl stood up straight and looked down at the bottom of the sea.

“Thank you, Xiao Hei.”

“In the past, it was always the other me protecting the weak me. Now... It’s my turn now.”

“Back in the Fire Code City, I told my other self that if she suddenly disappeared one day, I would do my best. No matter where she went, I would...Bring her home safely!”

“This is a bit of a thing.” Xiao Hei, it’s not just for the other me, I’m the same for you. “Vivian stroked the wolf cub in her arms.

After changing his goal according to the current situation, Liao Zixuan had to think about how to achieve it with the little girl.

But only a few seconds later, Vivian waved her little fists excitedly.

“Xiao Hei, there’s a way!”

“Since the snake said that only Divine Magi can enter the Water God Palace in the Abyssal Sea, then...Wouldn’t it be better if I became a Divine Wizard too?” Err...

“What? Xiao Hei, why are you looking at me like that? Since the other me can be regarded as a divine wizard by the snake, then why can’t I?”

Vivian was dissatisfied with the helpless look of the wolf cubs. The little girl put her hands on her hips and puffed out her chest.

He had a look that said, “ Look, do I look like a wizard?”

In response, the wolf cub waved its paws, indicating that it was better to find Luzi as soon as possible.

Firstly, Lu Zi should know more about this matter, so he could ask her. Secondly, the more pressing problem now was how to get the Astorokis to move again. They couldn't keep moored on the sea, right?

"Right, right!"

After hearing the wolf cub's suggestion, Vivian finally came to her senses. She left the deck and walked quickly into the cabin.

Meanwhile, Liao Zixuan took this opportunity to continue thinking about a few suspicious points he had discovered from the conversation with the snake.

Liao Zixuan had temporarily forgotten about the last "Complete Breakthrough of the Body" and "Mysterious Gift". Compared to the other things at the moment, they were too far away.

The first to arrive was what Orochi had told Ann when they first met. A new Divine Wizard had finally arrived.

The snake told them that no new Divine Magi had come from the Thousand Islands to the Abyssal Sea to maintain the Water God Palace for decades. This made the snake furious and it scolded the Thousand Islands people on the ground for breaking the agreement.

Similarly, from the snake's words, Liao Zixuan learned that what was suppressed under the Abyssal Sea was actually the Fallen Abyss.

When the two lines were connected, he finally understood the origin of the "Under the Blacktide" in version 2.0 of the game plot in his previous life. He also understood why there were a large number of Fallen Abyss creatures that seemed to be constantly surging out of the Eye of the Ocean Abyss. He also understood why Orochi was corrupted by the Fallen Abyss and became the final

BOSS.

All the key points were gathered on one word.

Divine Magus.

Coincidentally, even if Liao Zixuan wanted to avoid this ferocious vortex, he couldn't get out.

Because as Vivian had said just now, the most likely way to get them back into the Abyssal Sea was through the wizard.

Speaking of Divine Magi, there was another keyword that had to be mentioned.

The Divine Wizard selection.

After rescuing Roko from the Winter Executive Officer, Roko had told them a little about the " Divine Wizard Selection " because of Orochi.

Liao Zixuan carefully recalled what Luzi had said at that time.

The selection of the Divine Magi was still ongoing and was strictly supervised by the Grand Ceremony. It was not abandoned. In other words, every year, the Thousand Islands would send the Divine Magi selected by the selection to the Water God Palace under the Abyssal Sea.

However, Roko also said that the Divine Wizard selection had been increasingly boycotted by the people of the Thousand Islands in recent years. The reason was that the Divine Wizard who should have been handed over after completing the task never came back.

Hiss...

The wolf cub narrowed his eyes.

This was strange.

The two sides gave completely different explanations. The snake that represented the Abyssal Ocean said that it had never seen a Divine Magus, while the people from the Thousand Islands said that the Divine Magus that was sent to the Abyssal Ocean had never returned.

so...

Who was lying?

Or perhaps...Neither side was lying?

Then the problem in front of the wolf cubs was very clear.

Before Vivian became a wizard, he had to investigate one thing.

The other Divine Magi of the Thousand-island Realm who had been selected over the years...

Where were they?

Liao Zixuan had no choice but to collect his thoughts. After a while, Vivian had arrived at the control room on the second floor of the cabin, where the Heart of the Sea was stored.

Other than Ruzi and a trusted guard, there was another person who surprised Vivian and the wolf cubs.

“Mei...Miss Mei Ji?”

However, when Roko sincerely bowed and thanked him, what she said was even more surprising.

“The Astorlogis was able to escape from danger this time because of the efforts of the two ladies. If it wasn't for Miss Vivian defeating the snake and Miss Maggie reopening the Heart of the Sea, I think we would have been doomed.

What?

The little wolf cub's eyes turned and stared straight at the astrological girl who was scratching her head in embarrassment..

Chapter 483: This Astrology Girl Is Not So Simple... Leader Jia Geng's Concealment

Wait a minute.

The Heart of the Sea was... Reboot?

Restarting and regaining control were two different things. Although the restart button seemed to be the fastest way to solve all problems in any world, the Heart of the Sea was not like a home computer that could be done by pressing a button.

The more important and complicated the thing, the more troublesome it was to restart it. It needed to go through layers of review and an extremely high level of authority.

This could be seen from the fact that even Roko, as the administrative officer of the society, couldn't "restart" the heart of the sea.

But now...

An unknown, poor Astrologer who had even lost most of her memories. Other than her own name, she had forgotten everything else...He actually did it?

That was not right.

It seemed that he should have noticed it when she undid the seal on the Water God's Chains for Vivian. However, he was still facing the threat of the snake at that time and had no time to care about anything else.

Looking back now.

It was unbelievable.

Back then, Fire God Alice had bluntly told them to look for the Water God. The hidden meaning was that only the Water God could undo the seal on this necklace.

Compared to the two, it seemed that reopening the Heart of the Sea was indeed not a big deal.

If he thought about it carefully, it made Liao Zixuan even more afraid.

Why?

Because the starting point of each cycle was the first encounter between the astrological girl and Vivian. Was this a coincidence or something else?

And...

A prophecy from the astrologer girl.

That's right, Liao Zixuan was always used to reviewing his experiences every time. He thought about what he didn't do well and what he could improve on. This was a professional habit he had developed when he was a sparring partner.

In Liao Zixuan's review of the Astorokis, he found that the reason why he could welcome the happy ending of the fourth cycle was not only because of his own efforts, but also because the astrological girl played an indispensable role.

The first prophecy helped Liao Zixuan confirm Ann's identity. The second prophecy helped them unlock the most critical item to clear the game, the Water God's Chain.

So...

This so-called female Astrologer, Miss Maggie...

What was his background?

Obviously, Liao Zixuan wasn't the only one who had this doubt. Miss Luzi was the same.

"Miss Mei Ji, I heard that you lost your memory?"

"Uh... It seems so."

"That's great! * Cough cough * No, what I mean is that Miss Mei Ji must have been very confused after we arrived at the Thousand Islands and didn't know where to go. "

Under Roko's question, the astrologer girl revealed a distressed expression and nodded.

"So it's like this..." That can be, that can be, that can be, that can be, that can be, that can be, that can be, that can be, that can be, that can be, that can be, that can be."

Roko seemed to be standing in the astrological girl's shoes, and she looked worried.

Merji's face turned bitter when she heard that. She recalled her shriveled wallet that only had a few copper coins left, and the experience of her fainting on the deck from hunger.

Although her desire to regain her memories was not very strong, she even felt that it was good. She was relaxed and could pursue astrology without distractions.

But now, it seemed that the prerequisite for learning was still to be able to survive.

It was precisely because of this pain point that Lu Zitu revealed her ultimate goal.

“Miss Mei Ji, how about this? After we arrive at the Thousand Islands...Miss, why don't you be a guest in our club?o

What?

The astrologer girl was still frowning earlier, but she immediately became alert after hearing Lu Zi's words.

From the looks of it, the astrologer girl seemed to be more alert and intelligent than she looked.

“You guys...What are you doing?

“Don't be nervous, Miss Mei Ji. We don't have any ill intentions. “Roko comforted him while sighing in her heart.

” Although I'm very grateful to you for helping us restart the Heart of the Sea, I have to report this matter to Lord Risa. I hope that Miss Mei Ji can cooperate with us and assist in the investigation if there's nothing urgent.

“You... How can you be such a!

After Lu Zi's words, the astrologer girl's face immediately revealed an angry expression. This kind of behavior was simply burning bridges after crossing the river.

Even though Roko was apologizing, she still insisted on inviting Mei Ji to the society to drink tea. She repeatedly emphasized that they had no ill intentions.

She was just curious as to why Mei Ji could control the Heart of the Sea.

Moreover, Mei Ji had nowhere to go anyway, so she did not have to resist.

“Who...Who said I have nowhere to go?”

The anxious astrologer girl began to resist.

Although Mei Ji had lost her memory, for some reason, she had a natural sense of resistance to the “society’s pursuit “. That was why she racked her brains to think of a way to absolve herself.

The young girl’s eyes turned and soon landed on a certain young lady who had just entered.

“Let me tell you, I...I’ve already promised her for the rest of my life!”

Ah, this...

As soon as Mei Ji said this, the scene immediately fell silent.

Lu Zi followed the Astrology Girl’s finger and looked over. She saw Vivian, the female lead in Meiji’s story, standing there with a confused look on her face.

Even the little wolf cub in her arms, who had been wondering about Meiji’s identity, was shocked by the astrologer girl’s words.

What the hell?

On the other side.

Vivian faced the intense questioning gaze from her wolf cubs. Vivian hurriedly shook her head and denied it three times like a rattle drum.

I didn't. I'm not. Don't talk nonsense!

If it was the wolf cub at the beginning, he might have believed it, but after experiencing the series of events in Fire Code City, Liao Zixuan could see that Vivian did not learn other skills, but the harem attribute of the protagonist halo was very fast!

"M-Miss Meiji! Hurry up and make yourself clear!"

Vivian was in a hurry to clear her name, but the astrologer girl did not care. In order not to be dragged into the society as a guinea pig, she braced herself and explained,

"Vivian, have you forgotten? It was the next morning that you saved me from fainting on the deck because I stayed up late to observe the stars."

"Yes, there is such a thing, but this is..."

As if she had expected what Vivian was going to say, Maggie rushed to answer with a slightly flushed face,

"How is it okay! You might not be able to understand it, but I was alone on the deck. I was starving and shivering from the cold sea breeze in the morning. The sky was dark and the dark clouds blocked the night sky. It was just like my situation at that time. The other passengers were all asleep. No matter how I called for help, no one came. Do you know how scared I was at that time?"

Mei Ji's acting skills were off the charts. For the sake of her freedom in the future, she started to cry. She really looked like a young girl who had lost her footing. Her hands were in front of her chest as if she was praying for a miracle to happen.

"Therefore, I secretly made a wish. If anyone could appear at this time and save me, that would definitely be the guidance of fate. I...I'll devote myself to you!"

“Then, you appeared. “Mei Ji gazed at the little girl affectionately.

Vivian:

The little wolf cub was speechless.

“I’m sorry. It was originally something that was quite difficult to say. I planned to tell you after we got off the ship, but now...Vivian, you know that we astrologers always respect promises and believe in fate. So I, I will follow you from now on!

Mei Ji sounded like she was telling the truth, but the wolf cubs could tell.

It was all acting without a trace of emotion.

Liao Zixuan had no doubt that if Luzi hadn’t interfered, Meiji would never have mentioned this. He didn’t know whether she respected her promise or not, but he believed in fate...

Mei Ji had personally said that her greatest dream was the exact opposite of Water God. She wanted to change fate.

The little wolf cub could not help but scrutinize the girl who was wearing a one-piece astrological suit and was shamelessly sticking to Vivian.

Such a person...

Could he really have some big background?

Chapter 484: The Divine Wizard Selection?_I

“Vivian, you...” Just bring me along! I’m very easy to feed! Restricting materialistic desires is one of the compulsory lessons for us Astrologers. I only need a bed and a table to place the astrology equipment! The truth...

If it really doesn’t work, no bed is okay...”

“Besides, I ate very little! Just a small plate of salad is enough to support me for the whole day. Salad, you know salad, Vivian? It’s cheap and affordable. It’s simply the best food in the world! ”

“Clothes...Don’t worry about the clothes. I never buy clothes or change them. Please don’t look at me like that. You’ve misunderstood! This set of clothes was custom-made for me by the old lady. It was one of the few things that she could do. Not only did it have the effect of keeping me warm, but it could also keep me clean and tidy!”

Meiji explained her excellent attributes in all aspects, including food, clothing, housing, and transportation. On the pitiful face of the astrologer girl, she was just short of saying, “Vabel, take me away! “These four words were written on top.

As for Roko, she was hesitant and a little tired. If Maggie really forced Vivian, then she really could not force her to stay.

After all, Vivian’s social status had become even clearer to RoRoko after the shipwreck. As expected, she was able to become Lord Risa’s distinguished guest. Her power was beyond imagination.

The farce ended with Vivian sighing helplessly.

“Miss Mei Ji, even if you insist on following me, our final destination is still the society.”

“What? Don’t lie to me, Vivi! I clearly remember that after repairing that necklace, you said that you would return to the Flame Domain directly. ”

Meggy revealed a shocked expression. Then, the girl leaned forward and clenched her fists in front of her chest. She looked as if Vivian was colluding with Luzi and wanted to target her.

“That was indeed the case, but... The situation has changed. The necklace was brought into the Abyssal Sea by the snake. If I want to get it back, I have to think of a way to enter the Abyssal Sea again.

“Wha... What?”

This time, he was not surprised but shocked. Not only the astrologer girl, but even Lu Zi had the same expression.

The administrative officer immediately put away the relaxed atmosphere of chatting and became serious. She quickly asked Vivian.

“Yes... The vortex from before? When I saw your figure, it was as if I was sucked

“That’s right.”

“I’m there...”

Just as Vivian was about to tell Roko about the Water God Palace and Orochi, the little wolf cub in her arms twitched.

Therefore, after the little girl paused for a moment, she immediately changed her words and said,

“Anyway, Miss Lu, I have to enter the Abyssal Sea again no matter what. But as a foreigner, I’m completely unfamiliar with the Thousand Islands. Can you help me think of a way?”

‘ I remember Miss Luzi once said that the Thousand Islands would select Divine Magi regularly and send them into the Abyssal Sea. So, I thought that if I became a Divine Magus, would I be able to enter the Abyssal Sea legitimately?’

“So... Is there any way for me, a foreigner, to become a Divine Wizard of the Thousand Islands? A temporary one will do!”

Vivian deliberately did not tell her what was going on in the sea. Although Luzi wanted to know, she did not ask.

After pondering for a while, she quickly replied to the little girl.

‘ Miss Vivian, you may not know this, but a Divine Wizard is not a status for us in the Thousand Islands. It is more like a symbol of honor. So, I’m very sorry, even our society can’t open this back door for you, let alone a temporary Divine Wizard.

Not only from Roko’s serious expression, but also from the Thousand-island Warriors behind Roko. Vivian could read from them a sense of respect and ritual for tradition, as well as reverence for the word “ wizard.”

Obviously, Roko and the Thousand-island Warriors behind her didn’t say anything because of her identity. However, the term “ temporary Divine Wizard ” was very disrespectful and could even be upgraded to the level of “ insult.”

“I’m very sorry, it’s the United States...I was too impatient.” The little girl immediately apologized for what she had just said.

She quickly changed her tone.

However, Miss Vivian, although we can’t directly make you the current Wizard of God, if... I think we should be able to get you the right to participate in the Divine Wizard Selection.

Just based on your great deed of saving the Astorokis by the Yamata no Orochi’s subordinates, you have convinced the masses and become the first foreign candidate to become a divine witch from the Thousand Islands. ” Lu Zi smiled at the surprised little girl and nodded. She then added,

Besides, this might be fate. It's the guidance of the Water God. The Divine Wizard election is a grand ceremony that is held once every ten years. It lasts for a month, and you, Miss Vivian, happened to be in time for this election. If it were a little later, even if we could elect you as a candidate, we would have to wait another ten years.

"Good, good!"

After Vivian listened nervously, she let out a long sigh and patted her flat chest in fear. The wolf cubs were also very surprised, wondering if this was a bit too coincidental.. Could it be that the Water God was really playing a big game of chess?

Chapter 485: The Divine Wizard Selection?_2

However, no matter what, they had to bite the bullet. After all, if they really waited for ten years, it would be too late.

"Then may I ask, Miss Luzi, what is the competition for the Divine Wizard Selection? What should I do to win?" After confirming the quota, Vivian asked the next most critical question.

"To put it simply, the competition is about popularity." Luzi said concisely.

"People...Popularity?"

Divine Magi represent all the people of the Thousand-island Islands. Therefore, only the candidate who is most popular and recognized by the people of the Thousand-island Islands can become a Divine Magus. All the candidates will go to the people of the Thousand-island Islands for a month to show their skills, talents, or morals."

In the end, during the last week of the election, all the people who have voted on the Thousand Islands can come to our society to vote for their favorite candidate for the Divine Wizard."

On the last day of the election, our society will gather all the votes and select the candidate with the highest votes. Our highest witch, Gong Si of the Moon Abyss Society, who is also the Lord Water God, will personally bestow the title of 'Divine Magus', and open a passage to the Abyssal Sea Water God Palace for him.

After Ruzi explained the rules of the selection, Vivian's initial confidence faded.

The little girl understood that if she wanted to become a Divine Wizard, she had to conquer most of the people on the Thousand-island in a month.

For a foreigner who had just arrived...Isn't this too difficult?

However, the wolf cub in Vivian's arms was in the opposite state.

Liao Zixuan cursed in his heart at first. He could only say that it was indeed worthy of Thousand Islands, which was modeled after a certain island country on the blue planet. Did they really save the world and rely on their idol to debut?

At first glance, it seemed that under the rules of the election, Vivian's chances of winning were very slim. It could be described as "slim."

However, the wolf cub keenly grasped a key point in Lu Zi's words.

Then, the wolf cub hurriedly sent a voice transmission to Vivian, asking her to ask Ruzi again, because if it was really as he understood, then...

It couldn't be said that he was 90% sure, but it could also be said that victory was in his grasp.

As for Vivian, although she was very curious about her cub's strange question, because in the eyes of the little girl, it seemed unnecessary to ask such a thing, Vivian quickly asked Luzi," “Miss Luzi, the people who hold the votes you mentioned just now must be... A local from the Thousand Islands?” This was...

Vivian’s question stumped Luzi.

After Lu Zi carefully recalled the rules, she first nodded, but then shook her head.

” We have a complete system of credibility in the Thousand Islands. Reputation refers to the contributions people make to the Thousand Islands. This mostly comes from the people’s self-discipline over time. They don’t have any bad records in the three practices.

Only residents who had reached the standard of credibility would receive the votes issued by the society. Therefore, under such rules, the vast majority of the electors were from the locals of the Thousand Islands, and their ancestors had taken root here for several generations.

” We are doing this to ensure that the votes for the Divine Wizard election are of sufficient quality and to prevent those shady people from interfering and causing trouble.

After Lu Zi said this, she paused and hesitated.

” And Miss Vivian, as for the question you mentioned just now, can foreigners have votes... This will involve the additional points from our credibility system.

” You can get extra points by accepting missions from the locals in the Adventurer’s Association. You can get extra points by eliminating dangerous monsters for the Thousand Islands. You can even... Handing over enough materials was considered wealth, and supporting the construction of the Thousand Islands would also give additional points.”

“So theoretically, foreigners can also hold votes, as long as they...I’m willing to do this.”

But in reality...

Lu Zi could understand why Vivian asked this question. She probably wanted to get some votes from overseas.

But she shook her head.

Putting aside how to transport so many foreigners to the Thousand Islands, the Thousand Islands was a country on the water. It was far more difficult to enter than a country on land.

Secondly..

“In fact, from what I’ve seen, most foreigners can’t persevere. After all, these bonus points are all bitter and tiring, and there’s not much return.

“Most foreigners come to the Thousand Islands by boat to do business or travel. Credibility has no effect on them other than one more vote.

“Ah, this...

The little girl hung her head dejectedly. She quickly realized that the wolf cub had asked her to ask this question because of the stranger.

There was a stranger from the Flame Domain.

Although Vivian did not know why, she seemed to be quite popular among the foreigners!

If there was a stranger on the Thousand Islands, she could create a scene of strangers in the Flame Field and earn a lot of votes for her.

Originally, Vivian had reignited the flame of hope for victory. However, from Roko’s words, it was not difficult to infer that the Thousand Islands did not seem to have a group of “ helpful ” outlanders “.

Otherwise, Lu Zi wouldn't have said such things.

After all, under the influence of the wolf cubs, Vivian had frequently dealt with strangers. Even the little girl had some idea. The bonus points that Luzi mentioned seemed to be...

Were they all things that foreigners enjoyed doing?

However, a basin of cold water poured down on Vivian's chest, which had just been puffed up, and it deflated again.

"I understand Miss Vivian's concern, but in my opinion, you still have a chance. "Seeing the little girl's appearance, she couldn't help but comfort her.

"With the promotion of our society, coupled with the fact that you are the first foreigner candidate for the position of a wizard, and the heroic story of the Astorokis, I believe that your popularity will not be bad.

"Really? Thank you so much!" Vivian, who was in low spirits, was so happy that she almost grabbed Luzi's hand when she heard that the club was willing to promote her.

The little wolf cub curled his lips.

Then, with his furry paws, he opened the little girl's game panel. After logging into the official forum of Fallen Gods, he looked at the top of the forum, which was marked with a line of words in red.

[Countdown to Fallen God's open beta. 19 days 17 hours 52 minutes 43 seconds]

When the little wolf cub looked at the section below the headline, even Liao Zixuan was a little surprised.

Because that was...

[Current number of reservations: 10,590,000]

Eh?

F * ck!

There were actually so many of them?

Liao Zixuan would remember the exact number when Fallen God was released in his previous life. He could not remember clearly, but there was no doubt that it could not have reached the level of ten million.

It should be around five million.

Later on, after the Fire Domain's version 1.0 "Starfire Prairie", under the vicious hatred of the villain Fallen Abyss, the beautiful Fire God Alice became a dirty and ugly monster. The Fire Domain under her rule was even more miserable and almost destroyed. This caused the number of players to increase exponentially. My brothers came to fight Fallen Abyss with me, and from then on, Fallen God became popular.

But now...

Just the opening of the server alone had reached 10 million!?

What happened? What happened?

When Liao Zixuan saw it again, the official promotional video that had already reached "hundreds of millions" of views in a flash, only after seeing the "Fallen God Survival Guide" as a warm-up video for the server, did he understand a little.

In his previous life, Fallen God's closed beta had been extremely cautious of spies. It had almost not revealed any information to the players. In terms of the plot, it could be described as "as calm as water."

But this time, with him and Vivian, the butterfly's wings were flapped. Below the video of "Survival Guide to the Fallen Gods", there were all kinds of discussions about the plot of "Flame Domain" and various characters who were XP fans.

As a result, the number of players who had made reservations for the open beta had more than doubled compared to his previous life!

I like to vote for my partner in the United States...Divine Magus, right?

Alright!

This year, the little wolf cub would let Thousand Island experience what it meant to be...Super popular NPC!

Chapter 486: Do You Know What a Leader of Anti-Fans Is?

According to Roko, the Divine Wizard selection had just begun, which meant that there was still a month left. There were still 18 days before the public beta players arrived...Let's call it 19 days.

The wolf cub calculated in secret. Subtracting the two, in other words, the players only had 11 days to obtain the right to vote during the election.

Liao Zixuan was very familiar with the Thousand Islands Reputation system that was mentioned by the Votes, Eligible, and Reluctant. It was the players' Reputation Reputation System.

From bottom to top, they were hatred, hostility, indifference, neutrality, friendliness, respect, and reverence.

According to Liao Zixuan's previous life's experience, Lu Zi had said that a certain level of credibility was at least " Friendly ". As for the players who had just been born, all of the factions had " Cold ".

From this, it could be seen that in the setting of Fallen God, the world did not seem to welcome outsiders like players.

If Vivian wanted to borrow the power of the players to win the first place of the Wizard of God, she would have to let the players jump their reputation in the Thousand Islands from " Cold " to " Friendly " in just 11 days.

Under normal circumstances, it was almost impossible. It was not that it was too difficult. A Liver King could be obtained in two or three days, let alone 11 days. It was just that Liao Zixuan knew too well what the players in the server were like.

More than half of them were newbies who were curious about Fallen God's popularity, while the other half were purely for leisure and entertainment.

They did nothing but run around the world and often did some crazy things.

For example, they had to hop around, jump off a cliff, or attack NPCs. In the early days of God Fall, the aborigines had a bad reputation for " players." A large part of it was because of these people.

Other than that, only the last few were truly hardcore players. They knew how to find NPCs to accept missions, farm monsters to level up, and plan their future career path.

Even for hardcore players, gaining Reputation Points should be ranked at the bottom of their priority list.

Thus, it was clear that guiding the Grand Lord was very important.

Vivian now had the huge advantage of having the full support of the Society. As long as the little girl raised her reputation in the Thousand Islands to the "respected" level before the players arrived, she would be able to take the initiative to issue reputation missions to the players.

By then, the little wolf cub could already foresee that the little girl would swing her sickle and cut off the rows of leeks that came to her doorstep, relying on the popularity that he had accumulated for Vivian in the closed beta test and the fact that the other aborigines knew nothing about "players".

However, before that, Liao Zixuan had to solve a big problem that made him not know whether to laugh or cry.

He entered the forum, and the title was "Which country will you choose as your birth point".

The open beta was opened to five countries, but the statistics showed Mount Everest. Among them, the Flame Domain was far behind the other four countries in terms of proportions, becoming the players' first choice for starting.

When the closed beta had just ended, Thousand Islands, who was originally ranked third in the survey, was now not even comparable to Winter and Green Maple, and had become the glorious last place.

The data showed that the percentage of players willing to use Thousand Islands as their spawn point was as high as 1.3%!

What was going on?

The little wolf cub hurriedly searched for the reason in the forum. After a while, a post titled "Why I strongly recommend that no one choose to be born in the Thousand Islands" appeared in front of him.

This post was very popular. It was written by a big V blogger called "Bring an umbrella without a knife on a sunny day."

Liao Zixuan didn't remember many people, but this person was definitely one of them.

It could be seen from the other party's heaven-defying ID that he was an expert who was riding on the popularity. His own style of writing was mostly to bring various rhythms to gain huge traffic.

However, there was still a difference between him and the others. This was because this person seemed to have some ability. Every time he spoke, he could make it sound convincing and make a large number of players believe him.

For example, the explosive theory that was thrown out this time stated that anyone who used the Thousand Islands as their starting point could declare the end of their career in God Fall.

The little wolf cub continued to read. The core reason given by the other party was that the Thousand Islands was the only country on the sea among the five countries that were currently open for beta testing. It was not connected to the land.

This meant that once you regretted it and wanted to leave the Thousand Islands and go to another country, the difficulty would be on a completely different level from the remaining four countries.

Sea routes were definitely impossible for players in the early stages of the game. Going to the Thousand Islands was equivalent to entering prison. Secondly, from the looks of it, the main storyline of the game was completely focused on the "Flame Domain". Moreover, from the game map revealed by the official website, the Thousand Islands was the closest country to the Flame Domain. There was no need to say anything about the matter of the host taking over the host.

During the closed beta, the officials had laid the foundations for the Flame Domain, so they definitely wouldn't make such a stupid design. Therefore, there was a high chance that there wouldn't be much storyline on the Thousand Islands. They would probably wait until the Flame Domain main storyline was over, and the next main storyline in Version 2.0 would make the Thousand Islands shine.

This argument was agreed by the vast majority of players. Those who originally yearned for the island could only reluctantly give it up for the sake of future gaming experience..

Chapter 487: Do You Know What a Leader of Anti-Fans Is?

Tsk!

The wolf cub angrily slammed its paw on the table.

The table referred to the little girl's chest.

Vivian was speechless.

Taking advantage of the time when the Astorokis was back to normal sailing and heading to the Thousand Islands, the wolf cub could not help but log in and transform into a keyboard warrior to reverse the situation on his own.

He was still waiting to bring the little girl to harvest the chives, but all the chives had gone to the Flame Domain. How could that be?

Hence, the wolf cub wrote quickly, so skillfully that it made people's hearts ache. After a while, on the forum of God Fall, a new post titled " Why I strongly recommend everyone to choose the Thousand Islands as their spawn point was published.

In an unknown, dark studio.

"Big blade, big blade, quick..." A girl who looked like an assistant rushed in in a panic. She shouted anxiously at another girl who was sitting in front of the computer desk.

"How many times have I told you to stop calling me that name? Do you still want to go in?"

The girl in front of the computer glared at her assistant angrily. Her hair was messy, she was still wearing pajamas, and she had loose glasses on her nose bridge. One look and one could tell that she was an otaku.

“Tell me, what happened?”

“Hmph, that’s it? What’s there to be surprised about? We have to be popular in this line of work. I can’t wait for more people to come and diss me!” The otaku girl did not think much of it, but her assistant quickly said,

“This time, the umbrella is different! It seemed like the one who dissed you was also a famous big V!

“What?”

After the assistant said that, the otaku girl restrained her disdain. Her slender fingers clicked on the keyboard and skillfully switched to her main account to log into the Fallen God forum...

She didn’t even need to use her fingers to realize that the title was a complete copy of her. It had already become one of the top 10 hot posts on the forum. It was about the birth point of the Thousand Islands.

The otaku didn’t click on it immediately. Instead, she looked at the ID and nickname of the person who posted it. [Most Handsome Little Wolf]

What kind of name was that?

She quickly searched her mind, but she did not have any impression of this ID. It was possible that it had rushed to the hot post list so quickly, so it must have a certain fan base.

“Big Umbrella, I just searched this person. He seems to be a closed beta player, and... In the circle of closed beta players, he was quite famous!” The assistant added.

“Really? He’s a super expert?”

The otaku girl immediately reacted. The status of the closed beta players in the forum was above everyone else. From time to time, they would reveal some things, which would attract countless hungry pre-ordered players, like sharks that had smelled blood.

If he had a high status among the closed beta players, his influence would be significant. He would definitely be an expert among experts.

“No, no, no, Big San, the reason why he’s famous is because...He’s the most powerful anti-fan.” The assistant quickly shook his head.

” What the hell!?!?”

The otaku girl frowned and clicked on it, then quickly browsed through it. She had thought that this “ Handsome Wolf Cub ” must be a great player in Thousand Islands during the closed beta period. He must have dug up all kinds of information about Thousand Islands, so he publicly criticized her.

However, after reading the entire book, he realized that the other party had not even been to the Thousand Islands! There was only one reason why players who would strongly recommend the reservation would choose Thousand Islands...

Vivian might be there!

However, this post alone seemed to be enough to stir up a thousand waves among the players on the forum.

Because Vivian was one of the recognized passwords in Fallen God’s forum.

If the word “witch” was added.

That was amazing.

It was like two kinds of chemical reagents were mixed together, and it would instantly cause a huge commotion. The level of the post could easily reach tens of thousands!

Initially, this trend was on the decline. The voices of the witches who firmly believed that Vivian was the villain were getting weaker and weaker. But now that the post of "the most handsome wolf" was published, it was as if they had finally found an organization and a home!

In the post, the most handsome little wolf fiercely refuted the statement that Vivian would be in the Flame Domain. It was now the consensus of almost all players.

He proposed a new bold idea. As a witch, Vivian would not stay here after causing such a big disturbance in the Fire Domain. The Fire God would not allow such a dangerous person to continue to move in the Fire Domain.

Then the only place Vivian could go to was a place that the Fire God could not do anything about. It was the Thousand Islands ruled by the Water God, which was close to the Fire Domain!

What forum, guessing that there is a possibility of the public beta of the main storyline, that is, the players want to avenge Vivian, investigate the truth behind the death of the Earl, and Vivian endured humiliation, hiding in the Flame Domain, in order to find out the truth, return to the Flame Domain, clear the world, it is all nonsense!

Vivian was a villain, a great witch who played with people's hearts and was good at pretending! She had to change the location of each shot. She had played enough with the Flame Domain and was sick of it!

Therefore, no matter how one looked at it, it was obvious that the Thousand Islands was the most likely place for Vivian to appear in the open beta! Moreover, it was very likely that it was still the same as the Flame Domain. On the surface, it was in the form of a super righteous sect in front of the players. However, behind the scenes, it was possible that there was still some evil plan in the Thousand Islands!

This familiar ID, this familiar tone, many of Vivian's haters in the closed beta all burst into tears. They're back, they're all back!

Bastard, do you know how we survived the attacks of the white stones after you hid for so many days?

The anti-fans followed the post, and the fans also rushed over after hearing the news. Among them were the IDs that the little wolf cub was familiar with, such as " Long Road, Long Road," " Dust Fall," and " Bi Wei Rong Rong."

At the beginning, they were still analyzing rationally and persuading each other with kind words, but later on, they became pure greetings to each other, saying that they would wait and see after the open beta. Those who chose Thousand Islands would regret it!

Although the little wolf cubs were very touched by how they tried their best to protect Vivian, their determination to stay in the Flame Domain also made the little wolf cubs speechless.

Fortunately...

The discussion on Thousand Islands began to rise visibly. It was even about to evolve into something like, " If you're a hater, then follow us to choose Thousand Islands. If you don't choose, then you're not a hater!" If it was a white piece, he would choose the Flame Domain. If he didn't choose it, he wouldn't be a white piece!

The benefit of such a split was that for the wolf cubs...

The good news was that the number of players who chose the Thousand Islands as their spawn point had increased exponentially! The number of leeks had finally increased! Vivian's idol had finally debuted! The bad news was that they were all anti-fans!

I'm not afraid!

Anti-fans were also fans!

Moreover...

The wolf cub looked at his private messages that had exploded. Most of them wanted to discuss with him and share the evidence of Vivian being a witch. There were also many people who asked him if he knew the inside story and what Vivian was doing in the Thousand Islands.

However, as the Riddler, the most important thing was to stop.

He had already thrown out the primer, and the rest was just waiting for time to slowly ferment. The little wolf cub closed the forum and took a long breath, feeling refreshed.

Many people thought that to protect their idols, they had to be the leader of the drug scene.

But in reality, it was a huge mistake!

A true guardian stood in the dark. When you could control the voice of the anti-fans, you were a true hero!

Vivian was speechless.

“Xiao Hei, did you do something strange behind my back again?” The little girl felt something and picked up the little wolf cub suspiciously.

Looking at the wolf cub’s wandering eyes, Vivian sighed, feeling a little tired.

“Alright, go to sleep. Miss Luzi said that we will reach the Thousand Islands tomorrow morning.

Turning off the lights, the little girl hugged the wolf cub in her arms and entered her dream.

Chapter 488: The Gaze of the God Who Was Cast Down Again

On the fourth day, the morning of the day, the morning of the day.

The Astorokis, which was originally planned to sail for only three days, finally survived the snake attack on the third day. On the fourth day, the passengers who rushed to the deck early in the morning could finally see the shadow of Thousand Islands on the other side of the coast.

Only the main island of the Thousand Islands, with a population of six to seven million, could stop a huge ship like the Astorokis. Deep Moon Island.

Its name originated from the highest peak of the island, where the Water God's incarnation of the shrine maiden lived.

It was said that there had been disputes among the people of the Thousand Islands. Some people thought that it was better to call it "Water God Society" It was concise and comprehensive. However, some people said that it was too straightforward. It made people feel that it was very tasteless. They couldn't learn the Fire God Sect of the Fire Domain.

After a long period of debate, people finally decided on the name "Moon Abyss".

The moon in the water, unpredictable as the abyss

This was the most widespread description of the Water God's clone by the people of the Thousand Islands.

Therefore, people used the last two words of each word to describe the beauty of the Water God and the wisdom of the Water God.

From the Astorokis, Vivian could see the buildings of the Lunar Abyss Island. This was the first time the little girl had seen a foreign landscape, and her face was full of novelty and excitement.

Unlike the Flame Domain where she was born, the Thousand Islands was a country on the water. With the islands as its foundation, the area that could be used for people to live was very limited.

Therefore, the first impression that Vivian had of Lunar Abyss Island was that it was very crowded, especially the closer she got to the center, the more densely packed the buildings were.

However, unexpectedly, even though it was very crowded, the little girl did not feel that it was a mess. Instead, she was more inclined to it...Prosperous, right?

However, what surprised Vivian the most was that she could not understand. If she was not mistaken, most of the buildings in the Thousand Islands were made of wood?

In the Flame Domain, only the villagers who could not afford to use stone materials would choose to do this helplessly.

Perhaps it was because they were finally arriving safely, Roko's tense nerves finally relaxed. She noticed the little girl's curiosity about the true appearance of the Thousand Islands. As a qualified guide, her voice sounded in Vivian's ear.

Every country has different cultures and styles due to their geographical environment. Wood is far easier to obtain than other materials in the Thousand Islands. After years of selection and cultivation by the people of the Thousand Islands, we have concluded many excellent varieties from hundreds of types of wood. "

" For example, Miss Vivian. From what we can see from here, most of the houses on the island are made of a kind of wood called Osamu. This kind of wood is not only resistant to moisture and moisture, but it also has the effect of repelling mosquitoes that are annoying in the Thousand Islands climate. Moreover, because of the wooden structure, it is more flexible than others, which also allows us to maximize the design and utilization of the limited space on the island.

" Unlike many countries on the mainland, which are flat and straight at a glance, Miss Vivian, you must have felt it. The buildings on the Thousand Islands are more layered and pay attention to the disorder. While pursuing the natural landscape, we try our best not to waste any precious space.

As a native of the Thousand Islands, the little girl could feel the pride in Luzi's tone when she explained it to her.

This was not only because they were proud of having such a maritime kingdom, but also because they were officials of the society. The fact that the Thousand Islands could have such a scale now clearly showed that they had done their duty, constantly planned, and worked hard.

"That's great, Miss Luzi! Mm... He felt that he had learned a lot even though he hadn't reached the Thousand Islands yet! "Vivian said as she hugged the wolf cub.

"The society is in charge of culture and ceremonies. Whether it's the people of Thousand Islands or foreigners, it's our responsibility to promote and spread all kinds of relevant knowledge so that people can understand Thousand Islands better."

Lu Zi smiled and shook her head. She then looked at the distant Deep Moon Island, which was only vaguely visible at first. Now, as the distance shortened, it became clearer and clearer. Lu Zi bowed to the little girl.

"The Astorokis is about to dock. I need to instruct the crew to make some preparations, so please excuse me for a moment, Miss Vivian."

"It's fine, it's fine! You should go back to your work, Miss Luzi. This sea trip has been really hard on you.

Vivian waved her hand repeatedly. After sending Roko away, the little girl secretly heaved a sigh of relief. Although Miss Roko was a very nice person, she always felt that it was very stressful to talk to such an official person.

In contrast, the little girl felt that it was very easy to face the other girl who quickly approached Vivian after Luzi finally left!

"Wei...Vivian, we've made a deal. Once you're done with your business, we'll have to move out of the club immediately!

Maggie looked at Vivian with an eager expression.

The astrologer girl knew that she couldn't escape from the situation. Luzi had also promised her that the society officials were all good people and wouldn't do anything to her. At most, they would just ask her a little, so she agreed to go to the society officials..

Chapter 489: The Gaze of the God Who Was Cast Down Again (2)

However, the little wolf cub in Vivian's arms seriously suspected that the astrologer girl had only agreed after hearing what Luzi had said, that being invited to drink tea was considered work, and that all of Maggie's expenses during this period would be borne by the Society.

So in the end..

"Maggie, why did you... Why are you so afraid of going to the club?" Vivian was helpless against the girl who had privately made a 'lifetime pact' with her.

Moreover, Mei Ji's persistent intention to avoid the club was very puzzling.

' You don't know. I, I have a feeling that something bad will happen in the club. And, and...' Mei Ji's voice became softer and softer.

"And?"

"And it's very likely that the old woman is in the society! If the old woman were to be caught, then it would be troublesome!"

Astrology girl's face is very rare, revealing a scared expression, as if light is a thought of that picture, making Mei Ji tremble all over.

“Uh... Old woman? Could it be that there was also a very powerful astrologer in the society? Did you offend her before?”

If Vivian remembered correctly, the word that Maggie mentioned should be referring to her... Master?

Calling her master an old woman, coupled with Mei Ji's current performance, it was obvious that the relationship between them was not good. It could even be used... To describe it as stiff?

“I don't know either. I've lost too many memories, and I can't remember many of them. Just the things I have now are all thanks to the Water God's Chains you gave me, and...He had only just remembered the Heart of the Sea on the ship.”

“But...”

“The only thing I can be sure of is that the old woman has always wanted to capture me and bring me back, and...The old woman had a very high status. Even the people of the Three Pursuers had to follow her lead. Among them, the people who belonged to the Society Pursuer had the closest relationship with her!

As soon as Maggie said that, not only Vivian, but even the wolf cubs in her arms widened their eyes.

The young girl and the wolf cub looked at each other and saw two words in their eyes.

Water God.

“Wait, Mei... Miss Maggie, the old lady you mentioned...Pei, pei, pei, the master you're talking about, could it be...Water God? Vivian asked tentatively.

Mei Ji's reaction to this was obviously very big. She was shocked and revealed a confused expression.

“Look, the only one who can make the three elders obey is probably the Water God, right? In addition, you said that you have the closest connection with the society. If I remember correctly, Miss Roko once said that the incarnation of the Water God in the human world, the Tsukihara Society of Lord Miyazaki Magus, is located in the area under the jurisdiction of the society. ”

‘ Moreover, you helped us undo the seal on the Water God’s Chains and reactivated the Heart of the Sea that was created by imitating the Heart of God. No matter how I look at it, you should be connected to the Water God.

In fact, Vivian and the wolf cub had already vaguely expected this, but it was only after what Maggie had said that they were completely sure.

“This... This, wow! Could it be that my master is really...Is it really the Water God, Lord Water God?”

Even Maggie herself was shocked by the evidence that Vivian had listed.

She first revealed a look of surprise.

“So I’m that powerful? To be valued by the Water God as a disciple, hmph hmph...Hahaha! I really have the potential to become the greatest astrologer in the world! “Hmph...”

“Hmph hmph...Uh...”

But soon, Lady Maggie’s surprise turned into shock.

“Wait! Bad...This is bad! This is bad! It was over!

Then I’m done for! Why did Lord Water God want to grab me back? I...What did

I do wrong? I, I kept calling her an old woman. I... I...”

“No, I have to quickly divine for myself...Damn it! Why couldn’t astrologers divine their own fate? Which damn senior set this rule? Damn it!

“I have to hurry and do something...That’s right! Exorcism Talisman, Exorcism Powder. A treasure that can hide one’s aura...”

After hearing the news, the astrologer girl looked as if she was facing a great enemy. After greeting Vivian, she was a little confused and ran back to her cabin.

“This... What’s wrong with her?” Zhao Jie, who had come over to bid farewell to the little girl, had a strange expression on his face when he saw this.

The little girl shook her head at Uncle Guili.

Seeing that the Astorokis had finally arrived at the Thousand Islands, Zhao Jie, with a completely different attitude, once again came to Vivian.

“Miss Vivian, this time...I really don’t know what to say. I, Zhao Jie, owe you my life! Please make a wish. Before I leave the Thousand Islands, I, Zhao Jie, will do my best to fulfill it for you!”

“No, there’s really no need, Mr. Zhao Jie...Eh? Did you just say that you want to leave the Thousand Islands?” She waved her hand and changed the topic.

Zhao Jie sighed.

“Yes, after this experience, I’ve finally seen it through. There are many more precious things in this world besides money. Sigh, to be honest, I’m not afraid that you’ll laugh at me if I say it out loud, Miss Vivian...”

“Actually, on the first day on the deck, I deliberately approached you because I felt that you were a big shot who could talk to Miss Luzi. Moreover, Miss Luzi bought a batch of goods in the Flame Domain. I smelled a business opportunity and wanted to find out what this batch of goods was..”

Chapter 490: The Gaze of the God Who Was Again Projected (3)

“But from the looks of it now, sigh, it’s really laughable...You’ve been blinded by money. Even someone like you is scheming.” Zhao Jie raised his head and sighed.

The wolf cub could tell that Uncle Guilie, who had left his hometown, had really let it go. Otherwise, he would not have said all this in front of Vivian.

Zhao Jie’s following words were indeed the same.

‘ Miss Vivian may not understand, but we mortals have only come to a realization after we have passed through the gates of hell. My mind is now filled with my wife and daughter. I... I really miss them so much.’

“So I’ve decided to sell all my assets and businesses in Thousand Islands. Then, with these... Go home! Return to Li.’

“The only thing I can’t let go of in the Thousand Islands now is you, Miss Vivian. I have to repay your kindness. Otherwise, I won’t be able to sleep well every day!”

Zhao Jie said seriously to the little girl, even showing a pleading expression. Guili people were very particular about kindness.

Seeing that her refusal was fruitless, Vivian thought for a moment and changed her words.

“Then, Mr. Zhao Jie, promise me that when you return to Guili, your wife and daughter will definitely have a lot of opinions about you. After all, you haven’t seen each other for so many years.”

“When the time comes, I hope you won’t act on impulse and argue with them. I don’t want this warm reunion to become a bad thing.

“In addition, uh... Let me think. Ah, right, I hope you can remember your enlightenment today and always put your family before money! I especially like to see a happy ending, so Mr. Zhao Jie, if you can give me a happy ending, it will be considered as repaying me!”

Vivian gave Zhao Jie an expectant smile, but Zhao Jie had mixed feelings.

He looked at the little girl in front of him. At this moment, he seemed to understand a little. Why did the dissolute supervising warrior suddenly change his personality? It was as if he had changed into a different person.

Facing such a...Angel? Who wouldn't feel their hearts being cleansed?

“Good! However, Miss Vivian must promise me that if one day you can reach Guili, you must inform me!”

“Good! If there's a chance, definitely!”

In the end, Zhao Jie bowed deeply in the manner of Gui Liren. After cupping his fists at the little girl, he did not disturb her anymore and quickly left.

Vivian also carried the wolf cubs and began to return to the cabin from the deck. She was ready to pack her luggage and get ready to disembark.

But...

When they arrived at the cabin door and were about to open the door in the corridor...

Suddenly!

“Wei...Eh?”

The voice of the astrologer girl, Mei Ji, came from behind.

It looked like he was about to carry his luggage and disembark with Vivian.

However, the words that came out of Maggie's mouth instantly made the wolf cub in Vivian's arms stand on end.

"Strange, Vivian, it seems that suddenly on your body... You've become a little different?"

"Different?"

"Yes, I keep feeling that my destiny has suddenly become very strong. Hmm... Actually, I had this feeling when I first met you on the deck, but it was fleeting. I thought I was wrong.

Mei Ji recalled and said with certainty,

"But now..."

"Vivian, you really seem to be...He's being watched by the gods!"
